At this writing many of L.A.'s best bridge players are sitting at the squared circle in Pittsburgh trying to bring a few of the top honors and the national convention to this city next year; here's hoping that they succeed.

Many bridge hands ago the following hands appeared over the squared tables of the swank GWBA club rooms (by the way, Bridgers, if you haven't been to any of their plays you have missed a real treat). The hands: (we will use them for the quiz of the week). 1. You opened the bid with 1 NT. Partners responded with 2 S. What is your correct re-bid, holding: S. J754 H. A62 D. KQJ C. AJ7. No. 2. Holding this hand, could you open the bidding vulnerable with two?: S. AK732 H. AK83 D. AJ2 C. 2. No. 3. Opponent to your right opens the bidding with 1 C. What action should you take holding: S. K832 H. AQJ32 D. 5 C. KJ4. No. 4. Opponent to your right opened the bidding with 4 H. What action should you take holding S. AKJ6 H. A D. KJ107 C. AQ65. No. 5. The opponent opens the bidding kith 1 H. Your partner Doubles. What action should you take holding: S. A53 H. 74 D. K7 54 C. Q103.

Bridges, if you want to learn how to play winning bridge, attend the classes at the GWBA club rooms, 1054-56 E. 54th st., every Tuesday from 8 to 9 as guests of this paper. Miss Madaline Reeves of St. Louis has been in regular attendance while spending her vacation here. Sorry she will leave us next week to resume her teaching position.

Mexico Is Scene of Ouida Pruitt John Lehman Surprise Elopement

The former Miss Ouida Pruitt, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Bailey, eloped with John Lehman, son of Rev. and Mrs. Paul Lehman. The marriage was recently announced by her parents and took local social circles by surprise.

Several weeks ago while the social set was busy attending wedding fetes for several other leading debs, the very lovely Miss Pruitt did the exciting, and eloped to Mexico. This important step was taken following her graduation from UCLA where she received her teaching degree and announced intentions of doing further work at USC. Her husband is the handsome John Lehman, who saw action overseas before receiving an honorable discharge, was a pre-med student before entering the service. Mrs. Lehman is a member of Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority.

Cocktail Party

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Maupins, 3742 S. Gramercy place, was the scene of a brilliant gathering of friends Sunday afternoon when they opened their house to 157 guests.

The occasion was a cocktail party given in honor of their cousin, Mrs. Edward M. Sneed of Chicago, Ill., wife of the county commissioner.

Local Patrons of the Arts Fete Famed International Conductor

Conductor Rudolph Dunbar was feted with one of the most brilliant affairs of the summer social season, in the form of a garden party given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Alford Dunn and Mr. and Mrs. William Vernon Johnson (nee Freita Shaw) welcoming his arrival in this country, following a tremendous success in London and Paris, where he conducted both the London and Berlin Philharmonic Orchestras and featured much of the music of William Grant Still.

Los Angeles is signally honored, in that Mr. Dunbar's program at the Hollywood Bowl marks the American debut of this great artist as a conductor of a major symphony orchestra. Because the reception given by the Dunns and Johnsons is the only large affair to be given in his honor, all the musicians and patrons of the arts tried to turn out to greet Mr. Dunbar.

Mrs. William Grant Still, wife of the noted composer; Mrs. Isabelle Morse Jones, music editor of the Times; Charles Wakefield Cadman, noted composer; Miss Hedda Brooks, popular pianist; Mme. Caterina Jarbors, opera star; Mrs. Carol Johnson, concert pianist, and Mrs. Jessie Coles Grayson were in the receiving line.

Among the notables in attendance were: Miss Hattie McDaniels; Mr. Hartshorn, head of public school music; Mr. N. Fentaman, noted violinist; Mr. Wonderful Smith, of radio fame; Justa Harristan, noted choir director; Miss Gladys Childress, concert pianist, and many others.

Political Club

A "Get Out the Vote Club" was organized at 438½ E. Adams blvd. Sunday, August 11, where about 50 persons were present.

Plans were mapped for an intensive campaign for registration of non-registered voters with pledges to bring the registration within reach of those who have not registered.

The group plans to call upon the election commissioner to authorize the opening of registration booths throughout the south side, thereby bringing the ballot box within reach of every citizen. The following officers were elected: J. C. Carey, president; S. D. Allen, vice-president; Zenobia James, secty. treas.

Study Club at Y

The Women's Political Study club will hold its monthly council meeting at the 28th st branch of the YMCA August 29 at 1 p.m. All officers and members are requested to be present. The meeting is open to the general public.

Ice-Skater Mabel Fairbanks is considering a Canadian offer to visit that country.

Chicago Girl Wins Renown At Big Business Institute

CHICAGO—More than 500 hard-boiled leaders of the billion-dollar home furnishings industry sat enthralled at a merchandising institute in the Stevens hotel here last week and listened meekly while a young Negro career girl from North Dakota told them what was wrong with their business. And they liked it.

Miss Era Bell Thompson, of Bismarck, was the girl, and she made a national reputation for herself in 30 minutes as the sole colored member of a consumer panel of 12 women selected to represent a cross section of typical low, medium and high income families who want new or replacement furniture and other home furnishings as soon as they are available in the market.

In a three-page article in the August issue of the National Furniture Review, monthly publication of the National Retail Furniture Association which circulates throughout the U. S. and in a dozen foreign countries, Miss Thompson retells dramatically, pungently just what today's women want in goods and services, particularly service, when they go shopping.

"A lot of us never bought furniture before, never took care of a home, for we are marrying for the first time or just coming of age. Some of us have never lived in other than furnished apartments and there are lots of things we need to know. Tell us, for example, about your decorating and home planning services, but do it courteously, willingly," Miss Thompson said in outlining what women expect from present-day sales personnel in contrast to the typical "don't care" attitude exhibited by inexperienced wartime store help."

In the introduction the Review editor explains that Miss Thompson is particularly well qualified both by education and experience to sit on such a consumer panel and discuss with retailers the woman shopper's point of view since she is a college graduate and once owned and operated a retail furniture store in her home city.

Miss Thompson, incidentally, worked her way through both the University of North Dakota and Morningside college, at Sioux City, Iowa. She is unmarried and now lives in Chicago where she is an executive in the placement division of the U. S. Employment Service. She is no novice at writing, either, being the author of American Daughter, published this spring by the University of Chicago press, although the Review article is her first in a national magazine.

Modernettes Slate Cocktail Frolic

The popular Modernettes Social Club has completed plans for its late summer Cocktail Frolic to be held at the Masonic Hall Saturday night from 9 to 1.

This marks the first affair to be staged by the club that was formerly known as the Wee Modernettes. Tickets for the Cocktail party, may be purchased at the home of Clara Stevenson, 5215 McKinley ave.

The Modernettes participate in all functions of the city. They are members of the YWCA, and are planning to establish some type of business in the near future.

Newlyweds Feted by The Bob Browns

The Browns, Evelyn and Bob, were gracious hosts when they opened their home to friends Saturday, August 18, honoring newlyweds Elsie and James Miller. The couple was united in marriage by the Rev. J. G. Anderson of Yuma, Arizona, at the famed Wedding Bell chapel.

Some 60 guests were served cocktails in the gay fiesta atmosphere of the "Brownie Den."

The champagne toast was given at 9 o'clock to the bride and groom. Among those present were: Margaretta and Harry Taylor, Dora Swann, Lillie Smith, George and Eva Barrette, Jimmy Covan, Anna Lawrence, Ruth Williams, Jewel and LaRue Moore, Cornelia and Willis Rogers, Florence Sheppard, Pearl and Douglass Evans, Margariette Brazill, Ted Green, Mary Brewer and Leon and Sidney Curtiss. A delightful evening was enjoyed by all.

Breakfast Given by Mrs. M. V. Gerren

Mrs. Mattie V. Gerren of 744 E. 43rd place entertained with a breakfast, honoring Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Bailey of San Diego, Mrs. Gerren's brother; and cousins, Dr. E. D. Moten and wife of Indianapolis, Ind.; Mrs. Hattie E. Washington of Houston, Texas; Mrs. M. L. Shelton, of Houston, and house guest, Mrs. Mary E. Harris of San Antonio, Texas.

After many years of separation, the family reunion gave way to a perfect morning. The home was beautifully arranged with cut flowers throughout, and the appointed table was covered with an imported French hand embroidered cloth.

Pictures were taken of the group, and a grand time was had by all..

Ward Bond, featured player in Frank Capra's "It's a Wonderful Life," put himself through the University of Southern California by working as an actor during summer vacations.

Buffet Dinner Tendered By Mr. and Mrs. Matlock

The lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Matlock, 819 E. 43rd st., was the scene of a delightful buffet dinner party, Saturday evening. The setting and the flowers were lovely. Mrs. Maude Reese and her sister, Miss Delores C. Cooper, both school teachers, visiting from Beaumont, Texas, were the honored guests.

The visitors have been entertained extensively during their stay here, and also attended the AKA Boule.

Mr. and Mrs. Matlock included as their other guests: Miss Octayia Thornton, visitor from Baton Rouge La., and Messrs. and Mmes. Albert L. Brooks, James Harris, Lloyd B. Johnson, Alvin William Hall, Frank Williams, Husie Williams, Edgar Hampton, John Brackens, Messrs. Freddie Williams, Grant, Miss Georgia Lasher and Mr. James Rowan.

Two Outstanding Women Granted Honorary Membership In A. K. A.

The historic six-day parley of the Alpha Kappa Alpha boule reached a dynamic climax Tuesday night, when the body unanimously voted to open membership to all groups. The significant move, in keeping with the sorority's 1946 boule theme, "One World Challenges AKA," followed an impassioned plea on the part of retiring president, Mrs. Beulah T. Whitby, of Detroit, which highlighted the final session a ta closed membership banquet at the Friday Morning club.

Honorary memberships were granted Mrs. Robert S. Vann, of Pittsburgh, and Mrs. Clarissa Clement, famous American "Mother of 1846."

The Dorie Miller Club No. 1 held its annual tea and installation of officers Sunday, August 4, at the Sojourner Truth Home, 1119 E. Adams blvd.

One of the largest crowds of the season attended the tea and witnessed the installation of officers by Mr. Horace Moore. Mr. Moore was superb in his quiet, masterful handling of the installation ceremonies.

All of the newly installed officers were the incumbents of the preceeding year who were retained for the ensuing year. They were: Mesdames Carrie Williams, presi; Tennie Peoples, vice pres.; Nina Lott, treasurer; Florida Johnson, financial secretary, Mary Lofton, recording secretary; Lillian Blanchette, corresponding sec; Rosetta Dupree, advisor, Maud E. Thomas, chaplain; Little Francine Williams, mascot.

After a beautifully presented program of music and song, given by some of the foremost artists of the city, the festivities were climaxed by a guest hostess' contest, participated in by hostesses from various clubs, churches and organizations, a cash prize to be awarded to the winner. Among the guest hostesses participating in the contest were: Mesdames Gertrude Bryant, Maude Wisenant, Gertrude Baggott, Pauline Wilson, Helen Smith, Ella Browning, E. T. Sanders, Alice Greenwood and Lula Boxie. Mrs. Lula Boxie was awarded the cash prize, having raised more money than any of the other contestants.

Musical Evening

Twenty-five or more friends were invited to the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Porter of 877 Lincoln avenue, Pasadena, last Thursday night to enjoy with them a refreshing, well rendered musical program given by a number of friends who love good music in the home as well as in concert.

Mrs. Fannie Proctor presided as mistress of ceremonies. The program included singing by all of the "Negro National Anthem," with Mrs. Alice Buggs at the piano; prayer by Miss Gertrude Scott; solo by Mrs. Alcenia Tellery, of Detroit; reading by A. L. Porter including an original poem, "Song of the Flowers" and excerpts from his book on Philosophy of Life.

The second part of the program included a solo by Mrs. Lillian Thompson of L. A.; piano selection by Mrs. Alice Buggs, of Pasadena; violin, Mrs. Martha Burgess of Pasadena. Mrs. Cleo Madison, a coming lyric soprano, and sister-in-law of Mrs. Porter, was introduced. Mrs. Madison was a surprise to most of the guests, with her sweet singing and graciousness that thrilled them. She was accompanied by Mrs. Frederico Prudence, a graduate of Spelman College.

Following the program, Mrs. Porter served a delightful repast as they enjoyed sweet reminiscences of yester years.

Ann Brown One of Three Best Dressed Concert Singers

CHICAGO—Charming Marian Anderson and lovely Anne Brown are rated with petite Lily Pons as The Big Three of Fashion on the concert stage in a pictorial feature "Anne Brown Packs For Paris" in the September issue of Ebony.

Miss Brown, whose stage wardrobe for six years was limited to the loud red dress she wore in "Porgy and Bess," is currently touring Europe in a series of concerts. But in private life and for her concert appearances Miss Brown uses two full-size rooms as closets for her wardrobe.

"With statuesque Marian Anderson whose tastes incline to rich embroidery and Lily Pons, a devotee of the perky clothes which only petite women can wear, Anne Brown composes the Big Three of Concert Stage Fashions," the feature declares. Limited by baggage weight restrictions on her flight to Paris, first stop on her tour, Miss Brown chose her wearables with infinite care. However, since she plans to have additional gowns designed for her in the French fashion center, Anne will need even more room for her wardrobe upon her return this fall.

Gay Party Biven Two on Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Baker of 935 E. 52nd street, hosted a birthday party honoring Mrs. Vivian Dumas and Harold Lloyd last Wednesday at their residence. Both had birthdays on Aug. 14. Dancing was enjoyed by the guests and a delicious repast was served in a garden setting before an open hearth.

Arthur Adams Sr. on Needed Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Adams, Sr., prominent citizen of this city, left Wednesday, August 21, for an extended tour of the eastern cities on a well-earned vacation.

KINLOCH'S ☆ KORNER

By Y. S.

Dedicated to the memory of my childhood chum, John Kinloch, who died in the struggle to destroy Fascism.

Dear Friends:

A few nights ago I had the rare privilege of hearing the distinguished Dr. Ruth Benedict, anthropologist from Columbia university in New York. The mention of her name automatically brings to my mind the public affairs pamphlet that she, together with Dr. Gene Wetfish, wrote called The Races of Mankind.

I read this pamphlet before the hotly debated disapproval of this publication came out in congress, resulting in the banning of it for use in the armed forces. If you remember correctly, it was these Southern senators who barked the loudest because of a certain passage reading that Northern Negroes with higher educational opportunities had superior intelligence to Southern whites with less advantages.

The authors explain that "The differences did not arise because people were from the North or the South, or because they were white or black, but because of differences in income, education, cultural advantages, and other opportunities."

Before I delve any farther into The Races of Mankind, I'd like to briefly touch upon the highlights of her talk the other evening. In her discussion of race and minority problems in Europe and the United States, she found that the majorities of people did not object to being near members of the oppressed groups; that is, sitting next to them in public conveyanes; sharing the use of the rest rooms with them, and so on; they didn't object to this as long as they could entertain the thought that they were servants or menial workers.

This is a very serious thing because it means that some prejudiced whites who are willing to accept Negroes, are only willing to accept them in an inferior position. Then, like our southern whites, there are those who are willing for Negroes to have an "equal but separate" opportunity. So Dr. Benedict has come to the conclusion that the prejudice against Negroes is not one of propinquity as much as it is one of class status.

The latter is the one most difficult for whites to accept. And the way in which we must alleviate this evil is by the continued association of intelligent Negroes with intelligent whites, either directly or indirectly. As Alberta Winder wrote last week, we must continue hitting the headlines with the accomplishments of Negroes and getting this material into the hands of groups outside the Negro race.

Shortly after Dr. Benedict spoke, a film, "Brotherhood of Man," was shown. This film was based on The Races of Mankind. Last month's Ebony featured this film and I believe that it would be well for us to go back to this issue and review it.

It shows that all the peoples of the world comprise one race, the human race. They have a common origin, the make-up of the human body. They are much the same with some wide variations in every group.

There are no pure races, as the authors point out. "The movements of peoples over the face of the earth inevitably produce racial mixture and have produced it since before history began. No one has been able to show that this is necessarily bad." This pamphlet further disputes the common argument that certain races are inherently superior over others. People are pretty much the products of their environment.

"Race prejudice is, after all, a determination to keep a people down, and it misuses the label 'inferior' to justify unfairness and injustice," the authors further state.

And neither is civilization developed by any one group or race. All races have contributed to the progress of the human race and the development of culture at different stages in history.

"The United States is the greatest crossroads of the world... people have come here from every race and nation... and have brought with them their own ways" of doing things. Right here in our own country is the best example of all races, nationality, and religious groups contributing to the American culture in the fields of music, art, literature, government, industry, education, and so on.

Why prejudice in any form? Simply because there are a lot of ills in the world and they have to be pinned on somebody; so Negroes get it; Jews get it; Catholics and labor and the poor; and anyone who threatens the secure way the rich and powerful live. Race prejudice is not inevitable and the country that has so ably proved this is Russia.

The Russians simply outlawed race prejudice. "They didn't wait for people's minds to change... They welcomed and honored the... different customs, different arts of the many tribes and countries... The more backward groups were given special aid to help them catch up with the more advanced. Each group was helped to develop its own cultural forms, etc., was encouraged in its national self-development... so that each group became more distinctively itself and at the same time more a part of the whole. The Russians have welcomed cultural differences and they have refused to treat them as inferiorities."

Phyllis Scott.

AYD Adopts Youth Platform For Coming 1946 Elections

Concluding a two day session, the State Council of American Youth for Democracy adopted a youth platform for the coming 1946 elections; condemned the recent lynchings in the South as a "blot on American Democracy," and called on congress to refuse to seat Bilbo as a Senator.

The AYD called on all young people to test candidates for state and national leadership on the following issues: vote for 18 to 21 year olds, Federal and State youth administration, veterans bonus in California, a state minimum wage of 85c, and four year city colleges in every major California city to be established with the aid of state funds. The AYD declared: "the passage of proposition No. 11, the Fair Employment Practices Committee Act will be a great victory for democracy in our state."

The election platform accused Governor Warren of serious neglect of the problems of California's youth, failing to aid in establishing a minimum wage of 85c an hour; failure to expand over-crowded educational institutions; lack of protection to young Negro and Mexican youth against Ku Klux Klan terrorism and police brutality, refusal to support the right of vote for 18 to 21 year olds who served their country during the war.

"Under the leadership of Franklin D. Roosevelt, the youth of America achieved a glimpse of the future they want for themselves and for their country .... a future of peace, greater educational and economic opportunity, and lasting friendship with the youth of other democratic countries," the platform stated.

The AYD urged young voters to support candidates not on the basis of their party affiliation but on the basis of their readiness to fight for the things that young people want and need.

The platform concluded by urging all young veterans and first voters "to register and join forces with labor and other progressive groups for independent political thinking and action. The legacy which Roosevelt left to young Americans was the spirit of progressive democracy, and it is in this spirit that we offer this election program to the young people of California."

Kiddies Talent Shows Success

The juvenile search-for-talent matinees sponsored every Saturday afternoon at the Lincoln theater, designed, to offer an outlet for gifted youngsters up to 10 years of age, are proving distinct hits judging from the number of contestants being entered weekly.

Any child within the age range is eligible to compete, and may register in the Lincoln foyer.

This Saturday the contestants will get the opportunity of appearing on the stage with Lionel Hampton and his band, current Lincoln attraction.

Ohio Singers Here August 29

The Austin Gospel Singers of Toledo, Ohio, will appear for the first time on the West Coast at the Mexican Methodist church, 1715 Santa Ana Boulevard, on Thursday, August 29, at 8:30 p.m.

Dorothy Austin is famous for her gospel song writing, and artistry at the piano. Everyone is urged to hear this talented group. This program will be a benefit for the New Born Community church of which Rev. A. A. Jenkins is pastor.

Gladys Boyd Is First in Hamp's Contest

CLEVELAND, Ohio — Gloria Patricia Boyd of Cleveland, Ohio, was the happy first prize winner of $200 in the "Hey Ba Ba Re-bop" original lyric writing contest, sponsored by Lionel Hampton's "Swing Book", to the tune of "Re Bop". This contest was opened to all contestants wishing to participate since the release of Lionel Hampton's "hit" platter of "Hey Ba Ba Re Bop."

Miss Boyd's background as a songwriter started before graduating from Tennessee State College when she first received her encouragement in lyric writing from the young bandleader, Buddy Johnson and his sister, Ella Johnson.

Training Institute Held in S. Carolina

COLUMBIA, S. C.—Twenty-five youth leaders from Texas, Florida, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Washington, D.C., met at Harbison Junior college at Irmo, South Carolina at the third SNYC (Southern Negro Youth Congress) Leadership Training Institute to study and discuss the major problems facing Negro youth in the South.

Lectures were delivered on Winning the Ballot, Defending Our Civil Rights, World Affairs and the Fight for Peace, Education and the History of the Negro in Politics.

The students, whose average was 18, heard lectures by SNYC staff members, Louis E. Burnham, organizational secretary, James E. Jackson, Jr., director of special projects, Mrs. Edmonia White Grant, director, Race Relations, and others.

"RE BOP" WINNER—Gloria Patricia Boyd of Cleveland, Ohio, was the happy first prize winner of $200 in the recent "Hey Ba Ba Rebop" contest sponsored by Lionel Hampton's "Swing Book." The contest involved the writing of original lyrics. (See story elsewhere in this section).

Florence O'Brien Gets Role In New Technicolor Musical

Honey-voiced Negro actress Florence O'Brien has been signed for the role of "Marie," Lenore Aubert's maid in 20th Century-Fox's technicolor musical, "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now."

Miss O'Brien, who came to the screen in "The Women" following her sensational singing and dancing appearance in both the Broadway and road show company of "Run, L'il Chillun," is also famed for her various performances on the Amos and Andy airshow.

Her last featured role on the 20th Century-Fox lot was as Dooley Wilson's comedy partner in "Stormy Weather."

HONOR LIONEL HAMPTON AT ALABAM FRIDAY

NO FOOLING

By Eddie Barbridge, Theatrical Editor

YES . . . WHY?

You're probably good to your mother,
With a disposition jolly and free,
You're probably good to many, many more,
Why can't you be good to me?

—The Sepia Sage.

YOU SHOULD KNOW

Although the Peoples Independent church was not packed to hear him, those who availed themselves of the opportunity, gave EUGENE GASH, young American concert pianist, a great ovation after every number at his recital last Thursday night, sponsored by the Cosmos Club. Gash was compelled to do two encores before the audience allowed him to call it quits. He is a great artist and will undoubtedly go places in his chosen field . . . AVON LONG does a specialty in the new Twentieth Century-Fox film "Centennial Summer" and goes over very well . . . The new 1946 "Shuffle Along" is causing bubbles of enthusiasm to rise from NOBLE SISSLE, lyrics; EUBIE BLAKE, music, and FLOURNOY MILLER, book. There'll be new material incorporated, new jokes, songs, dances, costumes and scenery in the revival. PERRY WATKINS will design the scenery. 1921 was the year when "Shuffle Along" became the first all-Negro show to be presented on New York's Broadway.

NASH SINGERS CLICK

Mascagni's one-act opera "Cavaleria Rusticana" was presented last week by Luvenia Nash and her group, known as the Nash Singers, at Redlands Bowl and was a distinct success. In the cast were Olga Karma and Julian Oliver, who are not with the group. Others that are members were Margaret Bett, Elise Boone and Le Roi Antoine. Marie Mario Silva, operatic conductor of note, conducted the opera through the courtesy of MGM.

D'D YOU KNOW?

CLARENCE MUSE, Rex Ingram, Ethel Waters and Freddye Washington will head the cast of "Ghosts," a new Ibsen play . . . The NICHOLAS BROTHERS are working their way home to Los Angeles and film assignments by playing in person all over the nation . . . COUNT BASIE has recorded four new sides for Columbia. They are: "Mutton Leg," "Danny Boy," "Stay On It" and "Hob-Nail Boogie" . . . JIMMIE LUNCEFORD, flying bandleader, got a big thrill in flying his own plane from Los Angeles to New York in 12 hours and 35 minutes, a near record . . . BUDDY JOHNSON and band will wax 8 sides for Decca late this month . . . CANADA LEE's "On Whitman Avenue" Broadway play has now passed the mark of 100 performances . . . BILLY ECKSTINE will soon be seen in a musical film featurette titled "Rhythm In A Riff" . . . The MILLS Brothers, back into the Florentine Gardens, scored a sensational success last Sunday night. Cheers and sustained applause greeted every number sung by the popular group . . . Hamp-Tone Records are creating new marks daily in their distribution, according to Mrs. Gladys Hampton, wife of Lionel Hampton, and president of the company. Over 125,000 copies of the first release have been sold . . . JOE SWIFT of Pasadena won $25 in Lionel Hampton's "Hey Ba Ba Rebop" contest. Winner of the first prize of $200 was Gloria Boyd of Cleveland.

GOSSIP LANE

MRS. VIVIAN DEJOIE, wie of C. C. Dejoie, publisher of the Louisiana Weekly, is visiting in Los Angeles with Mrs. Bernardine Webb on North Bonnie Brae street. She was accompanied by her son, Henry Dejoie . . . The parade from the Union station staged Monday at 5 p.m. for bandman LIONEL HAMPTON was a great success. The procession wound up at DYNAMITE JACKSON'S Paradise Lounge where refreshments were served to the paraders. JOE ADAMS, talented young disc jockey served as emcee for the occasion.

My good friend DONALD GOINS, of the "almost in the country" Goins, is quite enthusiastic over the cocktail party his Club 4-7 is giving at 11224 Alvaro street Saturday night from 7 to 1 p. m. Donald says it'll jump and that's good enough for me. Willis Coleman is president of the club.

☆ THEATRES—NIGHT SPOTS ☆

WELCOME HOME TO A STAR—Over 2000 swing fans crowded the Union Station patio and waiting rooms when LIONEL HAMPTON, home boy who made good and one of America's greatest exponents of jazz, arrived in Los Angeles Monday at 6 p. m. Sponsored by the Lincoln theatre a parade was staged through the streets of the eastside of the city, culminating at Dynamite Jackson's Paradise Cocktail Lounge where guests ate and drank their fill and photographers galore shot up rolls of film. The above shot by Jesse Smith shows "Pops" Hampton smiling from the center of the car of honor. The bandleader with his fine orchestra opened a week's engagement at the Lincoln theatre Tuesday.

Record News And Reviews

WOODY HERMAN is currently preparing the musical score for background music in a George Pal Puppetoon cartoon feature which will be titled, "Fairy Tale Fantasy In Swing," to be released this fall in the nation's movie palace.

TOMMY TUCKER's talent search, aimed at discovering new girl vocalists, is now in full swing with the Columbia Record star spending three and four hours every afternoon aditioning hopeful canaries. Tucker, whose own "Three Two Timers" trio recently lost one member, was prompted in his search for new talent by the increased demand for harmony groups with name bands.

Columbia Record star ELLIOT LAWRENCE will be guest star August 23 on the "Jack Smith Show" over CBS from 7:15-7:30 p.m. EDT. PEARL BAILEY appeared on the same network program Tuesday . . . COUNT BASIE has been notified of his election as Number One band favorite in Italy when he took top honors in the first postwar poll conducted by "Musica Jazz" Magazine, foremost Italian musical publication. BENNY GOODMAN was hot on The Count's heels in second position.

La Fitzgerald Is Philly Hit

PHILADELPHIA—Ella Fitzgerald, America's first lady of swing, scored one of the most spectacular hits of her career last Friday night as the headliner of the new show at the Coronet club. A brilliant crowd of headliners in the fields of sports, politics and the entertainment world gave the winsome songstress one of the most tumultous receptions in Quake City history.

Tiny Bradshaw's band, co-stars of the fast moving show, brought down the house also with their bouncy rhythms interspersed with the redhead's dynamic vocals.

Prairie View Co-Eds on Tour

TAMPA, Fla.—The Prairie View Co-Eds began a swing around the Everglades state with their dance engagement at the Cuban Patio here Friday night. The unusual band of girl music makers are under the direction of Will Henry Bennett, who guided them during their years in the Texas College.

COLLEGE PALS, who started singing for fun and now are one of the nation's most popular groups, are the King's Men, stars of their own NBC program Fridays at 8:15 a.m. (PST). Clockwise, the quartet includes Ken Darby, bass; Jon Dodson, 2nd tenor; Bud Linn, 1st tenor, and Rad Robinson, baritone.

That swingsational band that rocks all of Angel City swingdom, the Honeydrippers, will be one of the attractions at the pre-labor day opening of the Finale Club, August 30. If there is such a band that local music lovers would walk a mile to hear, it is that of Joe Liggins. We just know the crowd will all be at the Finale club, after the show, party or dance. If you're not in the mood you'll get in the mood after entering and seeing that groovy atmosphere at the Finale club.

The featured attraction is being kept until last. You won't believe it until you've seen this show for yourselves. The owner of the club, Taylor Cooper, admits himself, that he's "mad" presenting such a terrific show at his after-hour spot. You've been shouting that there's no place to go, nothing to do. Well, believe me, "something is going to start popping. This is the show, this is the band and all you city night-lifers shouldn't miss it for love nor money.

MISS DAVIS SCREAMS

That squeal which interrupted a shot on Stage 6 at Warner Bros. recently came from Bette Davis, who reached for a grape in scene from "Deception." A spider crawled over her finger.

'Monsieur Beaucaire' At Paramount Today

"Monsieur Beaucaire" which opens today at the Paramount Hollywood and Downtown Theatres finds Bob Hope fitted out with knee breeches, a wig, a sword in one hand and a girl on his arm.

Taking what might be termed "Hollywood license" the original Booth Tarkington story has been slightly altered so that Bob is cast as the royal barber who masquerades as a nobleman. His difficulties mount as he finds that the man he is impersonating is supposed to be a great lover and France's best swordsman.

Hollyw'd Stars To Be There

The night of nights is tomorrow, Friday night, at the Club Albam when a host of Hollywood stars, as well as local celebrities and artists will be on hand at the grand homecoming ball honoring Lionel (Re-Bop) Hampton. Besides a brand new floor show with beautiful girls, there will be such stars as The Slim Gaillard Trio, Peggy (Beautiful) Lee, Frank (The Voice) Sinatra, Arthur Duncan young singing and dance artist, the interpretative dance act of Bettye Quincey and Michael, comedians Eddie Green and Mantan Moreland and a host of others.

There will be no raise in prices with the same admission of $1.25 prevailing. There will be no reserve seats, so for choice seats patrons are urged to arrive early. Purchase tickets early at the box office of the Olabam to avoid the rush. Mayor Curtis Mosby will present Hamp with awards and express the public sentiment. Don't misss uch a show honoring a swing great and his band. Don't forget its tomorrow night. Join the crowd at the Club Alabam.

Basil Spears in N. Y. Night Spot

NEW YORK—The "Queen of the Ivories", Basil Spears has been signed for a limited engagement at Jerry Marsh's Cocktail Lounge in Utica, N. Y. Miss Spears will begin her engagement this Monday night.

Erskine Hawkins Sets Precedent

NEW ORLEANS—Erskine Hawkins, the Twentieth Century Gabriel, has been invited to play the grand ball at the annual Mardi Gras festival here next March. This marks the first time that a Negro band has been invited to play this nationally famous affair.

Doings at The LINCOLN

DUKE ON WAY

The one and only Duke Ellington and his great orchestra will top the stage bill at the Lincoln theatre starting Tuesday, August 27. Don't miss the Duke at his very best!

TALENT NIGHTS DUE

Starting Wednesday, September 4, the Lincoln theatre will feature talent nights for grownups. This is not to be confused with the present Kiddies talent nights. The California EAGLE will sponsor one of the nights . . . so don't miss this either!

'King's Den' Is Opened

The "King's Den" of the Club Savoy held an auspicious opening early last week on 103rd street and impressed those who attended with its beauty.

Named after J. D. King, bandleader, currently playing there, the Den is open nightly except Mondays.

Joe Adams, personable radio announcer, served as emcee at the opening which included among guests: Lucky Millinder and wife, Al Katz, Mrs. Wynonie Harris, Teena Dixon, Leon Collins, Joe Liggins, and other stars. Feature attraction at the club is T-Bone Walker, blues singer, along with the Three Chefs, dancers.

Johnson To N. Y. Savoy

NEW YORK—Buddy Johnson has for the second time this year postponed his plans to head for the west coast, and instead will open an indefinite run of at least six weeks at the Savoy Ballroom in Harlem on August 29.

Buddy, who did near record-breaking business in his last engagement at the Savoy, will derive the benefits of three coast-to-coast airshots weekly from the "Home of Happy Feet" via the American Broadcasting company.

'Sugar Chile' a Hit in New Pic

NEW YORK CITY — After a two hour staff showing of the new MGM film "No Leave, No Love," featuring 3s-man Van Johnson, it was unanimously decided that little Sugarchile Robinson, piano wonder, put more into his three minute screen debut than they've seen done in quite some time. Sugarchile, they concluded, has the cute personality of a Shirley Temple (when a starlet) and the adult seriousness of a Margaret O'Brien. You'd believe Sugarchile was a veteran actor to hear him handle his lines.

The scene, however, isn't too becoming as Stephin Fetchit plays his lazy father, a piano mover. Sugar comes to Van Johnson's apartment looking for his dad and you know the story from there—he begins playing. But the little genius' version of "Caldonia" with kicks and all astonishes all in the film and even the critical MGM staff members applaud at the finish. (ENS).

NEGRO JAZZ EXPONENTS ON CONCERT STAGE

Mrs. J.T. Gipson's Candid Comments

"PORTRAIT OF A PLAYBOY"

I've lived my life and had my fun,
I've played the game: I've lost and won.
It matters not what others say,
As all through life I've paid my way.

Friends I've known but none I've had,
To share my luck: the good and bad.
These so-called friends were never around,
To lend me a hand when I was down.

Show me this creature called a sincere friend,
Who'll stick with you through thick and thin.
One who'll lend as quick as borrow
And share your happiness along with your sorrow.

Experience has taught me since I left home,
You travel safe when you travel alone.
No questions asked; no explaining to give,
Just living and loving the life you live!

Loving many, trusting few,
Always paddling your own canoe.
Perhaps you wonder why I talk this way,
Well, a "friend" just stole my girl away.

Phil Moore Writes on Union Jim Crow of Sepia Musicians

CHICAGO—Jim Crow is the off key player in the jazz bands and symphony orchestras in the United States today says band leader Phil Moore in an article "Jim Crow On The Band Stand" in the September issue of Negro Digest.

"There are two musicians' unions in practically every city in the country," explains one-time MGM arranger Moore. One of these locals is white and one is colored. These two locals get along swell as long as they operate in their own zones.

"But the zones are set up by the white locals."

An employer who has an exclusive contract with the white local must clear a colored musician through the white local. Moore charges that this practice has caused the present deplorable dearth of good paying jobs for Negro musicians. The writer declares:

"Out of more than 20,000 Negro musicians in the nation, not one is working with a symphony orchestra; only two work with a movie company; and only two class "A" night clubs will hire Negro bands."

Sheldon Leonard, featured in Frank Capra's "It's a Wonderful Life," does a switch and plays a sympathetic role. Leonard usually is cast as the villain of the piece.

Gash Thrills Angelenos in Piano Recital

The piano recital of Eugene Gash last Thursday night at the People's Independent Church of Christ was a genuine dyed-in-the-wool thrill for persons attending. The young American concert pianist in his Los Angeles debut showed complete mastery of the numbers which he played before an appreciative audience, which gave him a stirring ovation after each selection. So well was he received that at the conclusion of the concert he was forced to do two encores and even then no one stirred until Joe Oliver, Jr., president of the Cosmos Club, which sponsored the appearance here of the talented artist, announced that the recital was over.

Gash displayed a wonderful touch. Even in his most intricate fingering he slurred no notes whatever, bringing forth clear, ringing tones from the Baldwin grand piano. The pianist won his audience with the rendition of his first selection and thereafter held them spellbound throughout the rest of the performance.

Oliver introduced the guest, Cosmos members served as ushers and the entire affair was splendidly conducted.

BOWL SOLOIST—As one of the features of annual Viennese night at Hollywood Bowl on Saturday, August 24, John Carter, Metropolitan Opera tenor, will sing.

Dunbar To Conduct at Bowl Tonite

Dunbar, who will be the second Negro to conduct in Hollywood Bowl, has chosen for one of his presentations, "The Afro-American Symphony," by William Grant Still, famous composer who was the first Negro to conduct at the Bowl.

During the war, Dunbar was an accredited war correspondent after having been the London correspondent for the Associated Negro Press.

He has conducted symphony orchestras and has given concerts in most of the principal cities of Europe. After one time Dunbar was named the conductor-in-chief of the Berlin Philharmonic orchestra.

Dunbar, who is not yet 40, went to New York when he was 12, where he studied composition and clarinet at the Institute of Musical Art. Later he went to Paris, Leipsig and Vienna to continue his studies. In Paris he studied with Paul Vidal at the National Conservatory of Music, and with Phillips Gaubert. He studied conducting with the famed Felix von Weingartner. When he went to London he gave several clarinet recitals and became London Editor o fthe ANP.

Dunbar who is a composer of some note, is also author of the authoratative book, "Treaties On Clarinet Playing," which is now in its sixth edition.

Stage Door — By Carrie Miller

That in its quest for the Mason-Dixon "gold-market" it subtly shares the blame for the lynch-attitude of Southern mobs towards Negro neighbors because of bowing to white theater-owners there who refuse to show any films with Sepia roles other than typical "Uncle Tom" and "Aunt Jemima" characters, completely superstitious, eye-rolling, guffawing fools, while the few RARE instances of decent Negro acting and portrayals NEVER hit THEIR screens!

A book may be read by 1,000 . . . a play seen by 10,000 . . . but FILMS reach hundreds of thousands INCLUDING the rural Southerner "in town" on Sat. evening with his "corn-likker," shotgun and "white-is-right skin" . . . It is such adolescent minded, uneducated characters who leave such theatres impressed that the films seen present TRUTHFUL FACT instead of SUPERIMPOSED FICTION!! Unless Hollywood remedies this situation of "handkerchief-head" portrayals, it needn't expect even big-shot Southerners to ask for better films as they are too interested in keeping their own gold-tinted thrones supported by poor-whites fighting poor-blacks!!

It deals with the Negro's labor problems, etc., and the glorious memory of a dead hero son who fought on Iwo Jima!

LILLETTE THOMAS and DOROTHY DONEGAN shared piano spotlights in the Chicago Annual "Bud Billiken Benefit" and critics there think Lillette is really a find. Remember she played Hollywood's "Swanee Inn" not long ago and the Eagle ran the story!!

Hallowed Portals Invaded

CHICAGO.—Negroes are spearheading the unique invasion jazz is making on hallowed stages where once only Toscanini and Caruso dared tread, says a pictorial feature "Jazz Concerts" in the September issue of Ebony.

Top impresario of concertized jazz according to the article, is jittery young Norman Granz whose Jazz at the Philharmonic presentations are a success at the box office and in the critics' columns. Specializing in Negro jazz talent, Granz is making a highly successful tour of the nation with a varying roster of show stopping headliners, most of whom are colored.

Granz claims he presents concertized jazz purely to make money. But he firmly believes that jazz has a real part to play in the fight against race prejudice and continually makes his troupe of top-flight musicians available for progressive causes.

Duke Ellington, greatest of all jazz musicians began the trend toward concertized jazz with his Carnegie Hall concerts. But no single orchestra can boast a line-up of solo talent like this one currently featured by Granz:

Lucky Millinder Has Toured Million Miles

STOCKTON, Calif.—Dynamaestro Lucky Millinder and his nomadic crew of music makers have clicked off one million miles of travel since organizing eleven years ago in New York City. Millinder has meticulously kept a record of travel from the first road trip that the band ever attempted just six weeks after their first engagement at the Savoy Ballroom in Harlem. The millionth mile was clicked off at a point just six miles outside this town.

By a rather strange coincidence, his first theatre date after completing a million travel miles was at the Million Dollar theatre in Los Angeles.

JOHN THOMAS VS. FRANKIE MOORE

EAGLE SPORTS

A PROGRESSIVE NEWSPAPER FOR PROGRESSIVE PEOPLE

16—The California Eagle, Thursday, August 22, 1946 This paper composed, stereotyped, and printed by union labor only.

Local Lightweight To Fight Tuesday

John Thomas, leading west coast challenger for the world's lightweight title, will seek sweet revenge when he tangles with Frankie Moore, the scourge of northern California lighties, in the 10-round main event at the Olympic auditorium Tuesday night, August 27. Moore knocked out Bobby Yeager, stablemate of Thomas, last week at Oakland, and John will be seeking a decisive win over the visiting fighter.

In his last local appearance, Moore was robbed when Enrique Bolanos received a "gift" decision over him after the Oakland boy had pounded the daylights out of him for 10 hectic rounds.

Thomas hasn't lost a fight in ages but he will have to step fast to offset the challenge of the hard-punching kid from the Bay area.

Matchmaker Babe McCoy has arranged an excellent card of preliminary bouts to precede the main event.

BOXING BRIEFS

BOBBY YEAGER, Los Angeles lightweight, was knocked out in the fourth round of a scheduled 10-round main event at Civic auditorium in Oakland last Wednesday night, after having Moore on the canvas for a nine count.

RAND JACKSON has been placed on the retired and unavailable list by the State Athletic commission of California on account of defective vision. His brother, Johnny Jackson, lost his sight completely while following a boxing career.

MURRAY (Utah)—Mrs. Cecile Dempsey, 87, mother of Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, died here last Thursday. Dempsey was at the bedside when she passed.

JOE LOUIS is already down to 209 pounds for his fight with Tami Mauriello at Yankee Stadium on Sept. 6. Hundreds of holes of golf has kept the champ's weight at a low figure and will tend to lessen his training grind for the forthcoming contest.

SAN JOSE—Tuesday night Jackie McCoy, 124, Los Angeles, drew with Speedy Cabanella, 125, Manila, in the 10-round main event. Wilford Scott, 140, Los Angeles, was knocked out in the seventh round of the scheduled 8-round semi-windup by Fenlio Guerrero, 143½, San Jose.

Joe Louis Referees D. C. Bout

WASHINGTON, D. C. (NNPA).—Joe Louis, the heavyweight champion, who was here last Friday to make a personal appearance and referree the feature bout of the amateur boxing show at Griffith Stadium that night for the benefit of the Junior Police and Citizens Corps, appeared not in the least bothered about his title fight with Tami Mauriello in Yankee Staudium September 18.

Louis, nattily dressed in a brown sport suit, a panama hat, and red and white bow tie, stepped off a plane at the National Airport here at 12:05 p.m., last Friday.

Billy Smith Keeps Title

Billy Smith, 168½, of Oakland, retained his California state lightweight championship, after a furious 12-round mix with Bobby Zander, 172, at the Olympic Tuesday night before 8500 fans. However, many of the persons who sat in on the fight figured that Zander had won, if not that, considered that a draw would have been a fair verdict for both boys.

Smith blasted Zander to the canvas with a right for a five count in the second heat, the only knockdown during the bout, but Bobby came up fighting and more than held his own throughout the rest of the battle.

Results of the four-rounders—Henry Rich, 163, dec. Emery Jackson, 156; Earl Maynard, 150, t.k.o. (2) over Romero Lopez, 128; Owen Smith, 170, dec. Shorty Morgan, 169; Bob Taylor, 174, dec. Bob Hawkins, 175.

Over 65,000 fans saw Sammy Hanks win the 250-lap Gold Cup midget auto race at the Los Angeles Coliseum last Sunday.

Enviable Record Compiled By Hi School Hurling Ace

CHICAGO—One of the best pitchers seen in high school baseball since Bob Feller was grabbed by the Cleveland Indians is Gene Richardson of San Diego, California, declares a pictorial feature "Player of the Year" in the September issues of Ebony.

In the Southern California 3-game championship playoffs, the article states, Richardson yielded no earned runs and struck out 54 batters in 27 innings.

Selected as player of the year for 1946 in Southern California High schools, Richardson is a 5-foot 10-inch lefthander, 18 years old and weighs 165.

His best pitches are a quick-breaking drop, a change of pace curve, and a deceptive fast ball. Winning 14 out of 15 starts this season, Gene's only loss was chalked up to errors and the resulting unearned runs.

Exceptionally cool under fire, the youthful southpaw fields his position well and has good control. Gene has never hurled a no-hitter but has several one and two-hitters to his credit. In the final game of the championship series the only hit off school boy Gene was a scratch single that fast fielding could have snuffed out.

. . . On the Baseball Front

CHICAGO—Back from a sensational tour of the East, where the fans went wild over them, the Indianapolis Clowns are ready for resumption of Negro American League competition with the Chicago American Giants and the Kansas City Monarchs.

They meet the American Giants in a series of games highlighted by a doubleheader at Comiskey Park, Sunday, August 25, and a night game at the same place August 28, and then swing into action against the Monarchs on August 30.

COLUMBUS, O.—W. S. Welch's Cincinnati Crescents move into Red Bird Stadium here Sunday afternoon, August 25, for a doubleheader with the Havana La Palomas of Cuba, augmented by a personal appearance of track champion Jesse Owens.

The Crescents and La Palomas will hook up for a series of games that will take them to Nashville, Chattanooga, Terre Haute and other cities. The presence of home run hitting Luscious Easter will be a magnet at the gate. At last reports, the big first-baseman had cracked out 45 for the Crescents.

Buddy Young in Grid Workout

CHAMPAIGN, (Ill.) — Claude (Buddy Young was among the 250 football candidates at the University of Illinois as they reported to Coach Ray Eliot early this week to start practice. Buddy was at right half.

It was announced early this week that a monster boxing show for the benefit of West View Hospital would be staged indoors featuring John Thomas versus California Jackie Wilson in the 10-round main event on September 28. Dynamite Jackson, genial business man and the only licensed Negro referee in the state, has been appointed by the Athletic commission as referee; his first major assignment.

East Topples West 6-3 Before 16,000

By GEORGE LYLE, Jr.

WASHINGTON, (NNPA)—Paced by the no-hit, no-run hurling of Barney Brown, southpaw ace of the Philly Stars, the East took a 6-3 game from the West in the annual all-star game played at Griffith Stadium here last Thursday night before 16,632.

Brown's performance was the outstanding piece of work in the game, which saw aces of the Negro American league opposing their Eastern rivals, the Negro National league, as he faced only nine batters in the three innings that he worked on the mound.

His mates, however, proceeded to work on Dan Bankhead, fireball pitcher from the Memphis Red Sox who has compiled an outstanding record in the west, and two runs were scored in the opening frame.

The superiority of the East over the West was demonstrated in all departments as they hit four opposing hurlers for 11 safe blows while the visitors were able to contact for only 6.

This marked the first time that the game was played in the East and all indications are that it will prove an annual affair with Philadelphia or New York getting next year's contest.

Horses, Horses That Is, Son!

LEXINGTON (Ky.)—Col. E. R. Bradley, nationally-known horseman, who died at his Idle Hour farm here last Thursday, was laid to rest Monday. Eight Negro servants bore the casket, 17 close friends were honorary pallbearers. Thus untill he was lowered into his grave the colonel received his full quota of service and his faithful "boys" were with him to the end.

British Tennis Stars in Nat. Net Tournament

WILBERFORCE, Ohio—A feature attraction at the American Tennis Association National Tournament being held at Wilberforce University Aug. 19-24, will be the appearance of two former British net stars.

Charles Hare, former British Davis Cup luminary, and his wife, Mary Hardwick, former British Women's singles champion will play exhibition matches Friday, Aug. 23. Mr. Hare will play the best A. T. A. Men's singles star. Miss Hardwick will play the best A. T. A. Women's singles player. Then Hare and Hardwick will combine to play the A. T. A. mixed doubles champions.

Sugar Robinson Flattens Servo

ALBANY, N. Y.—In a tune-up bout for his coming welterweight championship fight with Marty Servo early in September Ray (Sugar) Robinson turned on the heat here last Thursday night and knocked out Vinnie Vines of Schenectady in the sixth session.

Robinson is almost a sure bet to win the championship which he has been stalking for over 3 years.

Fisk Appoints Bell as Coach

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Julian Bell has been appointed instructor according to an announcement today by Dean A. A. Taylor, of the Interim Administrative Committee. His duties, which he assumes at the opening of the fall semester next month, will also include coaching in the major competitive sports.

Washington, Strode Go To Chi With L. A. Rams

Kenny Washington, Los Angeles Rams quarterback, and Woody Strode, an end on the same team, departed with the pro grid aggregation for Chicago Monday to engage in a contest against the College All-Stars on Soldier Field Friday night.

There were 40 picked Rams boarding the Santa Fe Chief at noon Monday. They arrive in Chicago Wednesday in time to get a workout at Soldier Field. Immediately after the All-Star clash the Rams will return here for a game against the Washington Redskins at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum on September 6.

Walcott Chills Gomez in Third

NEW YORK—Jersey Joe Walcott, 191¾, of Camden, N. J., fighting in the style which has made him a great drawing card in recent months, knocked out Tommy Gomez, 182½, of Port Tampa, Fla., in 1m. 21s. of the third round of the scheduled 10-round main event at Madison Square Garden last Friday night.

Culbertson Is Loser to Bean In Novice Meet

George Culbertson, clever Sepian amateur boxer representing the Pasadena Arena, counterpunched his way to a decision over Ed Schildmeyer of the Orange A. C. last week in the first night of the Jeffries Amateur tournament at Hollywood Legion Stadium but bowed in defeat in the finals of the heavyweight class to Willie Bean of the Southwest Arena.

Culbertson is a protege of Jackie Wilson.

LAYIN' IT ON THE LINE

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

ON THE BASEBALL SITUATION

Much has been said about Negro baseball players being stolen from the Negro American and National leagues by white teams, about lots of players going to Mexico voluntarily to play in leagues below the border. In this writer's humble opinion professional baseball whether played by black, white, yellow or red is still a job to the player. So if you're working as an office boy, do you want to starve slowly for the rest of your days or do you aspire to be president of the firm? We can liken the Negro leagues to small business. Up until a few years ago when games such as the East-West classic started pulling the boys out of the red after they were practically hanging on the ropes near the end of the season, these teams were operating on a shoe-string and sometimes the string became sadly frayed and threatened to break at any minute. Naturally the guys who pulled what crowds the games attracted started deserting the ranks and looking for more moola. The answer for some was work down Mexico way. Others traveled to Cuba and sought work. Then the white major leagues opened the door slightly this season and naturally the boys who were called, answered immediately. As we pointed out earlier in this soliloquy, to the boys in uniform playing baseball it is a job. People get paid for working and most of us are plenty ambitious to make more money. The only loyalty the guys who run Negro leagues pledge allegiance to can be found in the serious face of George Washington on a dollar bill. So why do they yelp every time a man leaves their leagues to play ball for a salary they cannot afford to pay? The manner in which our Negro leagues are conducted these days is far from orderly so I'd hardly call it organized baseball. It is my firm opinion that since the race is seeking equal opportunities in all fields these days that there shouldn't be any Negro American and National leagues. That was okay some years ago when we couldn't do any better but now it would be far better if the teams that make up the leagues simply barnstormed the nation from coast to coast, admitted plenty promising youngsters fresh from college teams or what have you, and tried to develop Negro players for possible berths on major league teams. Then we could say this or that man plays in the American or National league, not the Negro American, Negro National, white American or white National leagues. The time for squabbling is over, the time for progressive work for the betterment of the entire race is here. Nothing ever was advanced when there was a lack of unity. Instead of pulling against each other for personal gain let us get together for the common good of all.

ON THE BOXING SITUATION

Many persons have said that Joe Louis is now too old to fight, that he should hang up his gloves for good. Evidently the guys that say this haven't followed Joe's record very closely. Except for the time when Max Schmeling caught the Bomber off base the champion hasn't exerted himself very much over the period he has held the title. Most of Joe's opponents have been knocked kicking early, before Joe had time to work up a sweat. If the fighting son of the Barrows of Detroit had been used as a punching bag over this same period of time, if his eyes were surmounted with thick scar tissue, if his legs were so far gone that he could carcely evade a punch, we'd be the first to say it's time to retire. However, none of this is true in Joe's case. His legs are okay. He never did move too fast with his pedal extremities anyway, relying more on lightning-like punches to cut his opponents down as he slowly stalked them around the ring. The clearness of his skin today and his bright, unscarred eyes are mute testimony that nobody has punched him around. So the Brown Bomber has quite a few more fights left in him and it would be downright silly to suggest that he is through. Of course, Joe himself has said recently that he may retire soon. He has plenty new business investments that he may want to attend to personally. But if he retires it won't be because he can't go on fighting. It will be for the sole reason that he thinks he has made himself comfortable and is secure financially for the rest of his life and doesn't have to use his fists again except in personal combat.

ON THE FOOTBALL SITUATION

Next month the thud of feet against the pigskin will be heard again all over the nation and the eyes of the race will particularly be on Kenny Washington and Woody Strode as they do their stuff with the world pro champions, the Los Angeles Rams. Just now Kenny's leg which he twisted in some manner while practicing with the Rams is being favored by the coaches of the Rams. They want to be sure that it will be in good shape when the season officially gets underway. Woody Strode, according to reports, has been sensational in workouts and showed plenty speed. He'll be right in there pitching, we are almost sure, when the season starts. For both boys we predict a good year. They'll have the co-operation of some of the best players in the nation and if you think this isn't necessary, ask any coach. No star can shine without much needed help from a strong line. We are certain that Washington and Strode will be able to hold their own when playing against the cream of the nation's pro gridders during the season and we wish them all the luck in the world.

THE FRUIT OF UNCEASING LABOR

★ Between 1911 and 1935, a brief span of twenty-five years, extraordinary progress was made in public health. According to figures released by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, the duration of human life during this period was extended by almost fourteen years. It is all the more remarkable in the light of the history of this period, which included the first World War, the worst epidemic in recent history, and America's most severe depression.

Many agencies have contributed to make America a more healthful place in which to live. Not the least of these are scientific medicine and pharmacy, which work unceasingly for better methods of prevention and treatment of disease.

Medrano, Jackson Bout Is Called "No Contest"

Bobby Jackson, 127½, and Al Medrano, 128½, put on a boxing exhibition scheduled for 10 rounds and the bout was halted in the eighth round last Friday night at Hollywood Stadium. Referee Charley Randolph claimed that Medrano failed to give his best. Purses of both fighters were held up pending an investigation by the State Athletic Commission but Jackson will probably get his.

Jimmy Shans, 142, scored a handy decision over Morris Corona, 143, in the 6-round semi-windup. In two of the fours, Alex Childs, 151, technically stopped Gene Loughridge, 152, and Wilson Mackey, 159, nodded Johnny Hunt, 159.

ON THE TURF

By Geo. A. Ramsey

HIPODROMO DE TIJUANA — The largest crowd of the stake season viewed a great race program here last Sunday. General Manager Agustin Silveyra offered as the feature attraction the Nevada handicap at 5½ furlongs. The race was very exciting. Four horses hit the charmed wire of Judge James J. Murphy's at almost the same time, only noses apart, and probably the nearest thing to a 4-horse dead-heat the fans of the Hipodromo will ever witness. The race was won by the longshot Par Play, with the favorite Johnny X, second, and Dinkum Third. The winner paid $23.60 and the time was 1:05 1-5.

In the secondary feature at one mile, Out O' War, shipped from Del Mar, was the winner. He was coupled with Tricky Marge and they ran one-two, being odds on favorites, paying $3.20 to win and $3.40 to place.

Longshot players also had another good day, scoring with Whee Tuffy at $33.80; Paul D. at $17.00; Par Play at $23.60; and Crystal Lil at $50.60. The Quinela backers received $199.40 when Mission Step finished second to the latter. The daily-double rewarded it's backers $39.20 when Vickie Ellen won the second and the favorite Valdina Lois won the third.

The best the form players could do was to hit 4 out of 12 races.

This Sunday the management offers another card of 12 races starting at 12:30 p.m. with two feature attractions. The main event will be "The Lepo" at 7 furlongs with an added value of $2,000. The supporting attraction will be "The Kahaki" at one mile and 70 yards.

DEL MAR

All records were broken here last Saturday when over $1,000,000 passed through the mutuels. The crowd was the largest in the history of the seaside course. Until next week, so long, George.

Woody Strode Plays as Blues Defeat Golds

Compton college field was the scene last Wednesday night as the Los Angeles Rams played an intrasquad game featuring the Hardy Golds against the Waterfield Blues, with the Blues downing their opponents rather handily, 35-7.

Woody Strode, at right end for the Golds, wasnt' given much of an opportunity to display his wares but played a good brand of football, snagging a pass at one point in the game. Kenny Washington, his fellow sepian, wasn't in the game, favoring an injured leg which is being given plenty time to heal by Ram officials.

Wesley Mouzon Kayoes 'Bobcat'

PHILADELPHIA—Wesley Mouzon, 137, knocked out Bob Montgomery, recognized in New York State as the world's lightweight champion, in 1m. 49s. of the second round of a scheduled 12-round non-title fight Monday night at Shibe Park before 14,639 fans, to provide a major boxing upset.

Both boys hail from Philadelphia and Mouzon is managed by Tom Montgomery, a brother of the champ. The receipts were $68,794.

Midgets Vie in Burbank Stakes

The 30-lap Burbank sweepstakes, bringing together the 12 leading night speedway daredevils of the Pacific Coast, will be the speed headliner Thursday night, Aug. 22, when the flying thunderbugs return to their home base at Gilmore Stadium, only major stadium built exclusively for the midget car racing.

Chavez, Bernal Battle Friday

Fabela Chavez, classy battler, tangles with Lou Bernal in the 10-round main event at Hollywood Legion Stadium Friday night. The former stopped Freddy Taylor in 8 rounds and decisioned Al Escobar in two bouts at the Legion while Bernal holds a kayo over Mike Belloise and a decision victory over Roscoe Scally.

DIRECTOR VACATIONS

Completing his directorial assignment on Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Sea of Grass," Elia Kazan flew to New York to begin preparations for a new motion picture and to discuss plans for a new Broadway show. The actor-director-producer is accompanied by his family.

RED'S POEM HIT

Red Skelton has received more than one thousand requests for copies of his poem, "The Delinquent Kid," which he read over the air on one of his recent radio programs. The poem, which Skelton wrote in collaboration with Gene Fowler, tells a story of a child's problems.

Sheriffs' Rodeo Here Sunday

Climaxing weeks of preparation, everything is in readiness to make the Sheriffs' big rodeo on Sunday afternoon, August 25, at the Coliseum, the most spectacular thrill-packed show of its kind ever to be staged on the west coast.

Republic star Roy Rogers, the King of Cowboys, and his wonder horse, Trigger, known as the smartest horse in the movies," will head the great roster of noted performers. Universal star, glamorous Yvonne de Carlo, who will reign as Queen of the Rodeo and head the procession of celebrities from the many studios who will take part in this great event. Gregory Peck, star of Selznick Pictures, will be on hand to award trophies to contest winners.

At the personal invitation of Sheriff Eugene W. Biscailuz, the finest trick riders and ropers from the National Charro Association of Mexico City are flying here to participate in "friendly across-the-border" competition with our American cowboys for the first time.

More than 700 of the most colorful western horses and riders will take part in the grand entry parade, opening festivities of the day.

Tickets are now available at any sheriff sub-station or at the Southern California Music company ticket office, 737 South Hill street. All proceeds of the show go to the Los Angeles County Sheriffs' Relief Association.

JUDY IN CELLOPHANE

Judy Garland wears cellophane gloves to protect her hands when gardening. The M-G-M star, soon to be seen in "Till The Clouds Roll By," believes these gloves to kill two birds with one stone, for they are specially treated with a hand-cream, so the gloves give a beauty treatment while they protect the hands.

Fiery Cross Burned On Tugalo Campus

JACKSON, Miss.— (NNPA) —The fiery cross, symbol of the Ku Klux Klan, was burned on the campus of Tugaloo college at Tugaloo, Miss., near here, on the night of August 13, J. H. Owens, a faculty member, revealed last Friday.

He said four or five figures, unhooded and undraped, stood nearby and watched during the ceremony.

The cross was lit at 11 p. m. and burned for two hours, casting a bright glow over the campus and the homes of faculty members.

Contests Claim For Support of Child 'Not His'

William Hamlett, prominent businessman of 750 East 31st st., has filed an action in superior court asking that the courts declare he is not the father of a 3½-year-old daughter of Mrs. Marthey Smith, of 1648 East Imperial highway.

Hamlett, 52, through attorney Thomas L. Griffith, protested to the courts that Mrs. Smith, 25, had gone to the Failure to Provide division of the district attorney's office, and named him as the father of her daughter, Frances Smith.

In addition, Hamlett states, he was then asked to support the child, which he claims was actually fathered by one Bill Johnson, who he says was married to Mrs. Smith at the time the child was born.

Hamlett admits in the adjudication of paternity request that he had relations with the defendant, Mrs. Smith, in 1939, but not since that time.

Samoans Get Taste Of U.S. 'Democracy'

HONOLULU—Before the Pacific war was won, the people of the U. S. possession of Samoa, now under naval administration, were segregated from white people in a jim-crow section in theatres. Now that the navy's personnel has been increased, the natives aren't allowed in white movie houses at all.

This is the only result the natives of the island have seen from the victory which was supposed to liberate them, according to Lawrence M. Coleman, head of the Honolulu Asamoa Civil Assn. In a statement to the Star-Bulletin, Coleman accused naval administrators of holding back social progress and urged that Samoa and other U. S. bases be transferred to civilian rule.

GROWING BUSINESS—One of the fastest growing business operated by a race man is that of the EDWARD'S TRANSFER, 1401 East 53rd street. As you see above on one of its fine trucks, the phone number to call for service is ADams 8958.

Council Votes Pay Rise for Maintenance Workers; Union To Press for Negro Foremen

The long cherished goal of civil service workers to receive wages commensurate with those of workers in private industry was a step nearer this week as the United Public Workers of America (CIO) pressured the city council into granting a new wage scale to city maintenance and public work employes.

The council move, voted in an 11-4 decision, was hailed by the UPWA's 3500 members, half of whom are Negroes, as the greatest victory of their union. Rubin Kaufman, international representative, immediately called upon the union to get behind the organizational drive to line up 10,00 members by the end of the year.

Only a veto by Mayor Fletcher Bowron can now deprive some 700 workers affected by the council's action from the new wage scale which will give them parity with AFL building trades workers doing the same jobs.

"We call on the mayor to sustain the majority will of the council and allow this just act to become law," stated Kaufman. "The workers are only receiving their just rights, for the city charter decrees that they must be paid the same wage scales as workers in private employment."

The council's action will mean approximately $1,000,000 more in wages, it was disclosed, all of which will be divided between low-paid employes.

One of the most gratifying wage raises, Kaufman said, was the inclusion of a a wage differential for refuse collectors, for which they have been asking for 27 years. The added pay for the men is due to the dangers from acident and disease they encounter, and Kaufman said, "The CIO is happy that it was able to help these men get their just money."

Kaufman said that the next fight of his union will be to break Jim Crow in city civil service. He pointed out that there is now not a single Negro foreman in the city, although some departments are exclusively staffed by Negro employes. "This must, and will, be eliminated," he said.

"I was waitin' for a streetcar."

That was the explanation of Perry Lolow, waiter, of 683 East 48th st., who complained to police late last week that while waiting for a streetcar at the corner of Fifth and Towne sts. he fell asleep. When he woke up, Lolow stated, his 1¼ carat diamond ring had been taken from his finger by a slick thief. He valued it at over $400.

"First To Fight" won the La Jolla Handicap last Sunday at Del Mar race track.

Hollyw'd Fashion Revue Will Be Staged Aug. 28

Climaxing a series of events sponsored by the Deborah Circle of Hamilton Methodist church will be a Hollywood Fashion Revue, Friday evening, August 30, 1946 at the Masonic Temple, 50th and Central avenue.

Under the chairmanship of Miss Dorothy B. Washington the Fashion Revue is scheduled to be one of the most outstanding shows of the season. Lending every effort to make this event an overwhelming success are the city's most popular younger set, who as models will show what Mi-lady will be wearing during the coming season. Not to be left out or outdone will be the kiddies section which will be carried out in a "Back-to-School" scene.

Admission to the affair is fifty cents. Proceeds from the show will go toward the building of the Samuel M. Beane Memorial Recreational center.

Postpone Victory Convention Of New Farmers of America

WASHINGTON, D. C. (NNPA)—W. T. Spanton, chief of the Agricultural Education Service of the U. S. Office of Education, announced last Friday that the Victory Convention of the New Farmers of America, scheduled to be held at Southern University in Baton Rouge, La., on August 25-28, has been postponed due to the many polio cases there.

The New Farmers of America is a national organization of 25,000 Negro students studying agriculture in the United States under the sponsorship of the Office of Education.

In recognition of individual achievement records of its members the NFA progressively issued "degrees." At present there at 14,337 boys holding the Farm Hand degree; 6,257 holding the Improved Farmer degree; and 430 holding the Modern Farmer degrees.

In order to qualify for the Improved Farmer degree a student must have earned and banked $25; the Modern Farmer is required to have $100 in the bank; and the superior farmer must have earned and banked at least $300.

Highlight of the convention was to have been the award of the H. O. Sargent Award to Eldridge J. Magee of Franklinton, La.

Magee completed eight years of vocational agriculture training at the Washington Parish Training school; and since beginning to farm as an independent farmer he has purchased and improved a 64-acre farm with crops valued at $1,522.

The Sargent Award is made yearly by the NFA to the most successful farmer student of vocational agriculture on the basis of his farming record and leadership activities since leaving school.

The award was named for Dr. H. O. Sargent, former agent for the Office of Education, who was in charge of vocational training in agriculture for colored people for 19 years.

Bowen Members Hear Report on Bishops' Meet

Last Sunday afternoon a report was given members and friends of Bowen Memorial Methodist church by its delegate to the Bishops' Conference with returned veterans held at Columbus, Ohio. A thousand churches, of which Bowen was one, were invited to send one delegate to the conference, which was designed to acquaint the Methodist Church with the plight of returnees in the hope of making cooperative plans by which their problems will be reduced. Bowen's representative was David Webb, president of the Methodist Youth Council of the church.

Discuss Negro Returnee

Prominent among the topics discussed was the mistreatment of the Negro returnee to all parts of the country including California, where, despite his brilliant war record, he is still suffering from the housing problems of all veterans plus the added one of restrictive covenants and of job discrimination in USES offices and discriminatory counsel by Veterans Administration counselors.

To insure highlighting this topic, declared Webb, the first speaker on the opening session's program was Richard T. Murphy, a white veteran from Des Moines, and the second was Charles H. Weston Jr. of Houston, Texas, who discussed the topic "The Veteran" from their different points of view.

Bishops Robert N. Brooks, Alexander P. Shaw and Edward W. Kelly were the Negro bishops on the program of the conference.

Girls Report

Etheldra Stanbrough, Angilee Johnson and Alice Serville also made reports of a week's Youth Conference sponsored by the Methodist Church at Camp Radford, situated in Bear Valley near Big Bear Lake.

Will Honor Prof. R. L. Hatter

The Victory Baptist Church at 48th and McKinley will honor Professor R. L. Hatter in an appreciation service for his two years of work as the director of music at 4 p.m., Sunday, August 25.

This splendid young man has helped in every way to make the music department of this church one of the most outstanding in this city.

At present he is director-tenor of the choir and also superintendent of the Sunday school. Many outstanding artists will appear on this program; Rev. Eugene Smallwood, Rev. Earl Pleasant, the Victory Baptist trio, and other singers. Rev. Arthur A. Peters is the minister of the church.

From Sunday, Aug. 18, to Sunday, Aug. 25, McCoy Memorial Baptist church, 802 E. 46th St., honored the pastorate of Rev. Ernest A. Anderson and his wife, with a third annual appreciation program. The following appreciation programs were and are being presented:

Sunday night, Aug. 18: Gospel Choir with Mrs. M. Jones, president, and Mrs. R. Green, directress; Monday night, August 19, Pastors Aid with Mrs. Cora Alexander, president, at Second Baptist Church, Long Beach, Rev. H. B. Charles, pastor; Tuesday night, August 20, the Usher Board and Ex-Servicemen's Club, W. M. Moore and Owens, presidents, Victory Baptist Church, Rev. A. A. Peters, pastor. Wednesday night, August 21, Bible Study and Community Prayer Band, with D. D. Williams and Velma Rivers, presidents. Thursday night, August 22, Missionary Society and Circles with Marie Anderson, president, at Village Baptist Church, Rev. L. M. Curtis, pastor. Friday night, August 23, Sunday School and B.T.U. with Mrs. L. F. Moore and W. C. Thompson, Bethel Church of Christ, Bishop Washington. Sunday morning, August 25, Youth Choir, with Leonard Evans, president, and Willa J. Winston, directress. Sunday, 3 p.m., Deacons and Trustees and Brotherhood with Deacons C. A. McMullen, Bogan and Makle, Zion Hill Baptist Church, Rev. Grant Harris, pastor. Sunday night, August 25, Deaconess, Sisterhood and Businessmen with Mother Winston and Irene Jackson.

GREETINGS

We, the Deacon Board of the McCoy Memorial Baptist Church, hereby give greetings to our beloved pastor, who has rendered such loyal and faithful service.

We, the Board, are 100% for this great man of God, and the wonderful program he has brought, and is bringing us.

We have been able to beautify our edifice to the extent of $35,000 and over 800 members have been added, a great number of them as candidates for baptism.

Therefore, we the Deacon Board of the McCoy Memorial Baptist Church, pray that God will bless him, that he may reach the mark of the high calling through Jesus Christ.

D. McMullen, Chairman.

They that wait upon the Lord, shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; they shall walk, and not faint.

Rev. Anderson states: "By waiting on God, He has undertaken to lead on to higher heights and deeper depth. We glory in the fact that with God on our side, we have been able to do the unusual. The support that I received from the official family, as well as the entire constituency, made it possible for me to be the pastor of one of the fastest-growing churches on the West Coast. May divine Providence ever overshadow the flock over which God has made your humble servant overseer.

This week shall go down in the history of the McCoy Memorial Baptist Church, as well as in the memory of every one of its members and friends, as one of the most enjoyable episodes in recent years.

Yes, friends, we would that you had been there to join us in the beginning of this glorious worship, however, we still have the rest of the week.

Now if you're in for a treat, and a lot of spiritual fuss, then I will like to make this statement complete; by inviting you to worship with us.

—E. A. Anderson, Minister.

Quartette Will Sing Here Sun.

The Volunteers invite the public to hear The Enterprise Recording artists, a magnificent male quartette under the direction of Norman Brooks at the Macedonia Baptist church, 114th st. and Graham ave., on Sunday, August 25, at 7:45 p.m. This group will present a medley of Negro spirituals under the auspices of the pastor's aid, Rev. M. Harley Duvall, pastor.

Steadfastness is a noble quality, but, unguided by knowledge or humility, it becomes rashness, or obstinacy.—Swartz.

Sunday School Lesson

By REV. IKE EVANS, D.D.

Rev. Evans is president of the Bronzeville Downtown Ministers Union.

Subject: Jesus and Pure Living. Devotional Reading, Proverbs 2:10-22. Motto Text, Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life. Proverbs 4:23.

Lesson Text and Outline, Exodus 20:14, Proverbs 4:14-23, Matthew 5:8, Philippians 4:8.

14. Thou shalt not commit adultery.

14. Enter not into the path of the wicked, and go not in the way of evil men.

15. Avoid it, pass not by it, turn from it, and pass away.

16. For they sleep not, except they have done mischief, and their sleep is taken away, unless they cause some to fall.

17. For they eat the bread of wickedness, and drink the wine of violence.

18. But the path of the just is as the shining light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day.

19. The way of the wicked is as darkness: they know not at what they stumble.

20. My son, attend to my words; incline thine ear unto my sayings.

21. Let them not depart from thine eyes; keep them in the midst of thine heart.

22. For they are life unto those that find them, and health to all flesh.

23. Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life.

8. Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.

8. Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if be any praise, think on these there be any virtue, and if there things.

COMMENTS

1. The seventh commandment concerns our own and our neighbor's chastity. Our chastity should be as dear to us as our lives, and we should be as much afraid of that which defiles the body as of that which destroys it.

2. We must take heed of the ways of sin and avoid them, everything that looks like sin and leads to sin. In order to do this we must keep out of the ways of sinners, and have no fellowship with them. For fear of falling into wicked courses, we must shun wicked company.

3. Purity in the heart was blessed by Jesus. To be pure in heart is to have crystal clearness in the fountain out which are the issues of life. Of course, none can attain unto such purity except through the purifying grace of God.

4. We should regard the truth in our words and engagements, and to decency and becomingness in our behavior. The apostle would have the Christians learn any thing which was good of their heathen neighbors, imitate them in what is truly excellent among them, and let not them outdo you in any instance of goodness. Virtue has its praise and will have. We should walk in all ways of virtue.

World Youth Leaders to Speak in South

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—The Southern Negro Youth Congress announced this week that youth leaders from Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Soviet Union, China, India and Africa, and a representative of the World Federation of Democratic Youth would participate in the South Youth Legislature to be held in Columbia, South Carolina, October 18, 19 and 20.

Big Revival

Rev. McWiggins

A big revival is now on at Third Baptist church, 1210 E. 41st street, by the famous national evangelist, Rev. McWiggins, from Shreveport, La. Everyone is invited to come out and witness this service every evening at 8 p. m. Rev. George E. Anderson, pastor.

It is wonderful what strength of purpose and boldness and energy of will are roused by the assurance that we are doing our duty.—Scott.

The firm, without pliancy, and the pliant, without firmness, resemble vessels without water, and water without vessels.—Lavater.

AME Zion Church to Observe Its 150th Birthday in Sept.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — (NNPA) —In the year 1796 a group of Negroes, who were members of the John Street Methodist church, revolted at the idea of being called "niggers" to come to the Holy Alter for communion after the white folks had communed.

As they walked down from the balcony to the street, they decided "We are now going to worship God under our own vine and fig tree, where there shall be no more discrimination or segregation." Out of this beginning has grown a church of 500,000 members, 51 bishops, of whom 41 are deceased, and church property worth 15 million dollars.

Because of this accomplishment, the A.M.E. Zion Church's 150 years of existence will be celebrated at Mother Zion Church in New York City September 7-22.

At Carnegie Hall during the celebration there will be a choir of a thousand voices coming from all parts of the United States, and there will be another service at Madison Square Garden attended by 10,000 Zionites.

Wesley Moves To Vernon Ave.

Wesley Methodist church, 8th and San Julian sts., which has been sold for industrial purposes, was deconsecrated and vacated Sunday, August 18.

The deconsecration rites were performed by the pastor, Dr. E. W. Rakestraw, and Dr. Calvin Holman, superintendent of the Los Angeles district of the Methodist church.

The church is now located in their church building at 1029 East Vernon ave., which has been used for 11 years as a community center. The auditorium has been remodeled and enlarged to accommodate the congregation until building restrictions are lifted and a new church erected.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NNPA)—The Bishops' Council of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, holding a special session here last Thursday at the offices of the financial secretary, put Bishop David H. Sims, of Philadelphia, back in complete charge of the denomination's first diocese.

Under the decisons of the bishops, Bishop R. R. Wright Jr., was relieved of his assignment as "associate bishop" of the diocese.

The arrangement by which Bishop Wright became associate bishop of the first diocese with power to supervise the New York annual conference was adopted by the Bishops' Council at a meeting in Kansas City, Kansas, in June.

Representative of virtually every district in the church were in attendance. The largest delegation came from the first diocese and consisted of both pastors and laymen.

For years, the New York annual conference has been a trouble spot in the first diocese with occasional resort to the courts to settle church disputes.

The trouble reached its height after the last session of the New York annual conference, at which Bishop Sims transferred Rev. Jacob A. Portlock from the pastorate of Bethel A.M.E. church and Rev. Chester Clark from the pastorate of Emanuel church.

The bishops, meeting in New York for a session of the Foreign Mission Board, heard a statement of grievances, and subsequently when the Bishop's Council met at Kansas City in June assigned Bishop Wright as "associate bishop," to assist Bishop Sims and to supervise the New York Annual Conference.

Court action followed with the followers of Bishop Sims securing a temporary injunction restraining Bishop Wright from taking any official action in the New York conference and left the Bethel church in charge of Bishop Sims' appointee.

Bishops attending the Council's meeting included: Bishops W. A. Fountain, senior bishop; R. R. Wright Jr., David H. Sims, D. Ward Nichols, S. L. Green, George W. Baber, J. H. Clayborn, M. H. Davis, H. Y. Tookes, J. A. Gregg, A. J. Allen and F. M. Reid. Absent were: Bishops Noah W Williams, G. B. Young, and Reverdy C. Ransom.

Rev. Turpeau Called To Father's Bedside

Rev. D. DeWitt Turpean, Jr., minister of Hamilton Methodist church, was called to the bedside of his father, Dr. D. D. Turpeau, Sr., member of the Ohio state legislature, in Cincinnati, Ohio, last week. Rev. DeWitt had gone by plane to deliver the baccalaureate sermon for the summer graduating class of Sam Houston college when he received the message.

Rev. Russell Re-Elected

Rev. Clayton D. Russell of Independent Church, 18th and Paloma, was re-elected as national president of the National Council of Community churches for the next two years.

A few days ago he led a delegation of 500 churchmen, ministers, and laymen to Washington to join a picket line before the White House to protest and get action on the lynch terror developed in the South against Negroes.

Russell's report to the conference on social action through the community churches was overwhelmingly received; and the program of action outlined for the churches role in the protection of the civil rights of Negroes and all minorities was adopted.

L. A. Preachers Program Sunday

The Los Angeles Preachers Teaching and Training class will have its second monthly program at the Greater Metropolitan church, 4356 Woodlawn ave., beginning at 3 p.m., August 25.

Officials of the class are Rev. E. C. Johnson, pres., Edgar Reynolds, rec. sec., and Dr. G. H. Washington, Jr., teacher.

Obituary

Our hearts have been saddened by the passing of a dear friend and neighbor, Mrs. Emma Storey Duncan, who so peacefully answered the call at 9:30 p.m. July 28.

"She has gone from our midst, but shall not be forgotten. Her kindness and her beautiful christian life, made her an outstanding figure in our community. All through the years the gracious hospitality of her home was shared by many; for she was happiest, when making others happy. Her bread cast upon the waters brought abundant returns, for during her long illness she was showered with gifts, cards, and flowers, and messages of cheer and good will from far and near. She loved friends and friends loved her, and her good deeds are stamped indelibly upon the minds of all who knew her. She loved her church and never failed through the years to lend her support. She has lived a full and useful life and our loss is heaven's gain, and we are blessed with a divine hope of a happy reunion with our loved ones, in that fair land that lies beyond the boundaries of time.

"Death is the gate to endless joy,
We too must enter there,
God our Father will lead the way,
To mansions bright and fair."

The immediate family wish to express their sincere gratitude, for the many beautiful floral offerings, and expressions of sympathy and regret deeply the omission of some addresses.

—A FRIEND.

Baha'i Lecture

"Government Looks Ahead" is the subject to be discussed by Virginia Foster at Los Angeles Baha'i headquarters, 331 South New Hampshire ave., next Sunday, August 25, at 3 p.m.

Christian Science Lesson Topic 'Mind'

"Mind" will be the Sunday Lesson-Sermon subject in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. The Golden Text is from Isaiah: "The Lord of hosts hath sworn, saying, Surely as I have thought, so shall it come to pass; and as I have purposed, so shall it stand."

A Scriptural citation from Luke relates the experience of "a man full of leprosy: who seeing Jesus fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. And he put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will: be thou clean. And immediately the leprosy departed from him. And he charged him to tell no man: . . . But so much the more went there a fame abroad of him: and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed by him of their infirmities."

Mary Baker Eddy says in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures:" "Truth is God's remedy for error of every kind, and Truth destroys only what is untrue. Hence the fact that, to-day, as yesterday, Christ casts out evils and heals the sick." "Immortal Mind feeds the body with supernal freshness and fairness, supplying it with beautiful images of thought and destroying the woes of sense which each day brings to a nearer tomb."

8000 Acclaim Garner Singers

The George Garner Singers made their initial appearance in Southern California last Saturday evening before an audience of more than 8000 people in the Tabernacle at Lynwood, California. So successful was their appearance that they were immediately signed for a second engagement for the annual assembly at the Adventist church.

The former Blue Jacket choir of the Great Lakes Naval training base plan to continue their musical careers. As a musical ensemble they have chosen the renowned musical name of George Garner, Frank Roane, noted baritone, is the soloist of the group. Cosby, Moesby, Randolph, Jones, Trice, Smith, Downing, and Hall complete the major ensemble.

NOTICE TO PROSPECTIVE PURCHASERS

Prospective purchasers are cautioned that property contained in this notice may be encumbered with bonds and assessments which may not be discharageable by tax sale. Information as to such liens should be obtained from the City Treasurer wherein the property is located and/or from the appropriate County, City or District office in which the records of such liens are kept.

In order to meet the requirements of the Federal Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act, purchasers of tax delinquent property will be required to satisfy the Tax Collector (by affidavit or otherwise) that the property is not owned and occupied for dwelling, professional, business, or agricultural purposes by a person in the military service or his dependents or employees.

Property purchased shall be paid for in full, with cash, at time of sale; Cashier's Checks, Certified Checks, or Bank Money Orders will be accepted in lieu of cash, provided they are made payable to H. L. BYRAM, County Tax Collector.

Each minimum bid will be increased sufficiently to defray the proportionate cost of publishing this notice.

Dated this 22nd day of August, 1946.
H. L. BYRAM,
Tax Collector.

Sets Friendship Week Oct. 20-26 For S. F. Valley

The week of October 20 has been officially designated as Interracial Friendship Week, according to an announcement made yesterday by Dr. Martin Luther Long, chairman of the San Fernando Valley Council on Race Relations.

The board of the Council is officially designating the week of October 20 as Interracial Friendship Week followed the recommendation of the 600 Valley citizens who attended the mass meeting on racial problems held in Burbank High school last month.

"It is our hope," said Dr. Long, "that every fraternal, civic and veterans organization in the Valley, and that every church and school will plan some recognition of Friendship Week. One of the most critical problems facing America today is the problem of interracial tensions. We must face this issue squarely. We must solve it. An America, divided on the home front can never hope to furnish leadership to the world."

The CRR is planning the appointment of committees in all Valley communities to cooperate with existing organizations in the development of programs for Friendship Week. Dr. Long, pastor of the First Baptist church of Burbank, has just returned from the east and has again resumed active direction of the Council.

Hollywood's most famous feathered thespian, Jimmy the Raven, has his 3000th screen role in Frank Capra's "It's a Wonderful Life."

ONLY A TREE

If you will notice, trees are very much like people. Unless disease or accidents befall them they grow straight and tall and beautiful.

So it is with human lives. We are all meant to be strong and true, but bad habits and evil associates oftimes cause us to become "crooked" if this habit is followed for any length of time. Thus we are unable to enjoy as much of life as our straight, upright associates.

A great deal of thought should be given to our lives and how we are living it, whether the twig is being bent or whether it is being allowed to grow straight and strong!

E.E.—Dear Sir: I am sending for the wonderful Prayer and Mediation Combination that my friend has been telling me about. She also told me that by sending for this product I automatically become a member of your prayer circle, and I am a firm believer in prayer. You have answered several questions for me and I have found your advice both helpful and true. Thanks for a prompt reply.

A.L.J.—Will I get the money my son told me about when he was home?

Ans.—My Psycho-Mentalist Crystal reveals that your son has made arrangements for you to receive an allotment and in the event you haven't received it within the next two weeks, I suggest you contact the Red Cross in your vicinity.

TILLY.—When will I get the package?

Ans.—It appears to me that this package is now overdue, and I suggest your making inquiries at the main post office at your earliest convenience regarding this matter.

L.F.—Is my husband true to me?

Ans.—A careful analysis of your question indicates that your husband loves you dearly and is indeed true to you. I suggest you dismiss your doubts and suspicions at once, or you will make yourself miserable and make both of you unhappy.

C.E.—Dear Prof. Herman: I read your column in The California EAGLE every week and don't miss a single question or answer. I find your answers so helpful and note you don't hold back the truth! Will you answer this question for me. Will my husband and I go back together?

Ans.—Concentrating upon your problem I find that you and your husband have been separated for quite sometime, but due to the fact that you are expecting a baby and you are still very much in love with him, you wish a reconciliation. I see no reason why this cannot be arranged; don't let foolish pride keep you apart and unhappy.

E.S.—Do you think I will be successful?

Ans.—Probing into the matter I find that you have written a poem and sent it away to be published. If the firm is a reliable one, I see no reason why you should not have this poem set to music as they have suggested. I vision great things in the future for you in this field.

L.B.—Will he marry me?

Ans.—Because of your condition, I suggest that you have your mother talk to this boy at once. Taking everything into consideration I am sure he will do what is right.

Mrs. R.W.—Can you tell me anything about the person I am interested in? Should I move to better my conditions? Will I get the job that I have applied for?

Ans.—Only one question is answered in the column. I recommend your writing in for a private reply so that I might be able to help you solve your problems.

Oakland Couple Appeal Ruling in Covenant Case

OAKLAND—A superior court decision upholding the legality of a restrictive covenant on the property of John and Eleanora Young will be appealed to the California supreme court, it was announced yesterday by the law firm of Gladstein, Anderson, Resner, Sawyer and Edises.

The covenant was upheld by Judge Leon Gray. Pending a decision on the appeal by the state's highest court, the Youngs cannot be forced to move from their property at 1062 57th st.

About 20 restrictive covenant cases, including the famous Laws case, are now before the state supreme court for decision. It is probable they will all be decided at once.

SOLID

AS THE ROCK OF GIBRALTAR

That's an old saying that pays tribute to the lofty, fortified rock and town on the south coast of Spain that has been three times besieged and still remains impregnable. The simile has been shortened to just "Solid", but it still means Dependable—Reputable—Trustworthy.

DOCTORS' PHARMACY IS SOLID

It's Dependable, Reputable, Trustworthy

Expert pharmacists, with years of experience and training behind them, treat every prescription with careful expertness.

Educational Institute on Aug. 25 To Feature Elks Buffalo Parley

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NNPA)—The Elks Department of Education will hold an educational institute in Buffalo on August 26, in connection with the annual grand lodge of the Improved Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks of the World which will convene in that city August 25 to 30, William C. Hueston, commissioner of education of the Elks, announced yesterday.

Attending this institute, Hueston said, will be all of the regional, state and local educational chairmen from Elk lodges all over the country. Members of the Elks Board of Education, which is headed by J. Finley Wilson, grand exalted ruler of the Elks, also will be in attendance.

The institute, Hueston disclosed, will be instructed by Dr. Ambrose Caliver, a specialist in Negro education in the United States office of education.

Hueston said the institute will deal with adult education and its findings will be reported to the Elks grand lodge, which is expected to take affirmative steps toward reducing illiteracy among colored people throughout the country.

"We intend to make adult education a long time Elks program to the point that we accept, as our objective that all Elks shall be literate, and, second, while helping ourselves, we intend to use our strength to help others."

Hueston said the Elks have helped 56 young people through colleges by giving them scholarships, about 75 per cent of which were full time scholarships and the other 25 per cent partial scholarships.

Truman Undecided on All-Negro VA Hospital

WASHINGTON, D. C. (NNPA)—President Truman is still withholding his approval of a site in Mississippi for construction of an all-Negro hospital, General Omar N. Bradley, administrator of Veterans Affairs, disclosed yesterday.

Asked whether Mound Bayou or McComb, Mississippi, was included in a list of 55 veteran hospital sites approved by the President, General Bradley replied that neither of the Mississippi towns had yet been approved as a site for the all-Negro hospital the Veterans Administration proposes to build. He added that the matter was still under advisement.

Bilbo in Secret Talk With Top Man in VA

WASHINGTON, D.C.—(NNPA)—Senator Theodore Bilbo, of Mississippi, was a caller on General Omar N. Bradley, veterans administrator last Friday.

Senator Bilbo was not listed on the general's official list of callers and upon his departure the Veterans' administration declined to comment on the matter discussed by the senator with the VA head.

General Bradley's office said any comment on the business discussed would have to come from Senator Bilbo. The senator could not be reached for a statement.

Gets 1-10 Years in 'Cuss Word' Slaying

Willie Lockett, charged by police with the "Cuss Word" slaying of attractive Mrs. Florence Jackson last month in a hotel hallway at 411½ South Central ave., has been sentenced to San Quentin for from 1-10 years for manslaughter.

His attorney, Earl Broady, presented the guilty plea to superior court judge William R. McKay Monday, and it was accepted by the district attorney's office.

Lockett admitted shooting the woman during a quarrel with her husband and brother-in-law over the use of profane language.

Dr. Ruth Benedict Talks on Minorities

The National Citizens Political Action Committee presented Dr. Ruth Benedict, noted anthropologist from Columbia University and co-author of the pamphlet, The Races of Mankind, in an informal talk last Friday evening in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Philip M. Lovell, 4616 Dundee dr.

The current brazen lynchings in the South and the renewed nationwide activity of the Ku Klux Klan were discussed by Peter De Sylva, film actor, and Averill Berman, noted radio commentator. A film, "The Brotherhood of Man," inspired by Dr. Benedict's writings, was previewed.

Having studied minority problems in America and Europe, Dr. Benedict declared that race relations on the whole have greatly improved, and that racial prejudice in the United States is more or less based upon status quo rather than propinquity. However, the most outstanding example to the solution of its racial problems has been Russia, where discrimination has been outlawed.

Dr. Benedict also delivered a short talk before the congregation of Independent church last Sunday.

Says Legion Group Aided Hotel Jimcro

Atty. Townsend Reveals Substitution of Room Reservations in 'Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO—Cancellation by San Francisco hotels of advance reservations for its Negro delegates was condemned in a resolution adopted by the state convention of the Ameircan Legion here this week. The resolution instructed the Legion housing committee to "accord the same housing privileges to all American Legionaires regardless of race, creed or color" at future conventions.

The hotels guilty of discrimination were the Olympic hotel, located on Turk st., the Mark Twain hotel, 345 Taylor st., and the Oxford hotel, 16 Turk st.

The Negro delegates affected, all of whom had paid in advance for their hotel reservations, were Edison McDaniels and Hamilton Ponder, from the Edgar Allen Ponder Post No. 665, Riverside, Nathaniel Finney and an unidentified comrade from Merced Post No. 83, Merced; and five delegates from the Ben Bowie Post No. 228, Los Angeles, Paul Smith, Augustus Moody, Henry Green, DeSoto Wyatt and Leslie J. Holmes.

Santa Ana Pastor Took Cue From Ass'd Farmers: Condemned by Citizens

SANTA ANA, Calif.—A Santa Ana Negro minister this week had won the acclaim of local anti-Negro groups but found himself under fire from Negro citizens of this city, including most of the members of his congregation.

He is Rev. Edward C. Thornton of the Second Baptist church. Taking his cue from the notoriously anti-labor, anti-Negro Associated Farmers, one of the most reactionary outfits in the state, Rev. Thornton denounced a mass meeting held at the Ebell club here under the auspices of the local branch of the NAACP, at which speakers included several labor and veteran group leaders.

The day before the rally, the Santa Ana Register, a white daily not noted for its interest in the Negro people, carried a front page story in which it quoted an attack on the NAACP by George A. Graham, Associated Farmers secretary.

Proceeding on the favorite assumption of enemies of the Negro people that any group which fights against jimcrow oppression must be "Commu-

On The Sidewalk

By C. A. B.

HOW much longer will the Negro people be duped and fooled by their traducers and persecutors?

From every quarter Negroes are cautioned to stay away from such organizations as the C.I.O., the Political Action Committee, the A.Y.D., the Screen Actors Guild, and every other organization considered liberal. All of which are considered Communistically inspired by the reactionary politicians.

I AM asking a pointed question and I invite a frank, unprejudiced answer from those, or some one of the protectorate who advise us to stay away from the liberals—What is the connection between the "Women of the Pacific," the Ku Klux Klan, Gerald L. K. Smith, the Associated Farmers and the murders of an unknown Negro in Magee, Miss. on Aug. 19; James Walker Jr. in Elks, S. C., Aug. 12; John C. Jones, veteran, in Minden, La. Aug. 8; J. C. Farmer, veteran, Bailey, N. C. Aug. 3.

The riot in Athens, Ala. in which hundreds of Negroes, many of them aged, were beaten by a white mob Aug. 10; John J. Gilbert, shot to death in Gordon, Ga., Aug 3; four Negroes shot down in cold blood in Monroe, Ga., July 25; Harrison Johnson shot to death in Eatonton, Ga., July 30; Leon McTatie whipped to death and thrown in a bayou in Lexington, Miss., July 31; Etoy Fletcher, veteran, flogged to death because he dared to register to vote at Brandon, Miss., June 6.

Allan Leftridge and Frank Glenn, soldiers, killed by military police in France, May 22; Ferguson brothers, veterans, killed by police in Freeport, L. I., April 9; George Collins, sailor, killed by police in McAllister, Okla., April 7.

Roit in Columbia, Tenn., Feb. 24, when police attacked and killed many Negroes; Issac Woodard, veteran, whose eyes were gouged out by police in Aiken, S. C., Feb. 13; St. Claire Pressley, soldier, killed by police Nov. 17, at Johnsonville, S. C.; Jesse James Payne shot to death in Madison, Fla., Oct. 11; Sam McFadden, aged farmer, beaten and drowned in Branford, Fla., Sept. 21; Moses Green, 51, shot down in cold blood on his farm by a sheriff in Ellender, S. C. Sept. 8.

WITH but three exceptions, all of these lynch crimes were committed in 1946.

Now, let's examine some records—The labor organizations, C.I.O. and progressive A.F.L. locals have fought for equal wages and working conditions for Negroes. Such was not the case before Negro integration into labor unions and this means raising the economic standard of Negroes.

At Santa Ana last Sunday the N.A.A.C.P. held a mass meeting protesting lynching in the South. The fact that officers of the Association invited Averil Berman, popular, outspoken young radio commentator of Los Angeles to speak, and because Berman exposed some of the political schemes used by reactionaries to keep minorities in their "places," the Associated Farmers used the Fullerton Tribune, Anaheim Bulletin and the Santa Ana Register to blast the meeting, accusing it of being Communistically controlled.

More than that, this reactionary element, bent upon keeping the little people in their place, especially the Negroes who have been poor and easy tools for political use, drafted Rev. Edward C. Thornton, pastor of the Second Baptist church of Santa Ana, to be the voice of the people to denounce what they termed "Red" or Communistic influence.

IN the newspapers, Rev. Thornton said that "we colored people have enjoyed very fine acceptance in Orange county and we are proud of our standing here."

It seems that Rev. Thornton meant this as a slap at Berman's declaration that "residents of Santa Ana do not allow the colored people freedom in the county."

It is alleged that when questioned about this statement in the newspapers, Rev. Thornton admitted that his financial support came mainly from the white folk.

WELL, it seems to me that this is selling not only religion cheap, but also his people.

What happened at Santa Ana last Sunday is the new pattern being fashioned for Negroes all over the nation.

Negroes and other gullible Americans are advised to stay away from Communists. They are never told why they should. Nor, seemingly, do they ask.

Well then, just what is the definition of a Communist? I am unable to quote the Marxist definition, but it seems to me that according to the classification of the "big boys," and even some of the lesser fry, anyone who fights for his rights and the rights of others under the law is a full-blooded, genuine Communist.

I also notice that the people constantly waving the [illegible] and raising the danger signal against subversive

ATTENTION, MR. RASMUSSEN AND GENTLEMEN OF THE CITY COUNCIL—Maybe this will refresh your memory. This is only a part of the crowd of 1500 public workers who crowded the council chambers on Feb. 25, 1946. Then, you voted unanimously to have the Public Works and Personnel Committees study the salary proposals made and to report their findings to the council within two weeks. You also voted unanimously to make any wage adjustments retroactive to Feb. 25. You later accepted these facts and those brought to you by H. J. Cortelyou, director of the Bureau of Engineers. Remember?

Maintenance Workers Meet Tonight to Map Fight on Mayor's Veto of Pay Raise

By LEW GARRETT

Union leaders of the United Public Workers of America, representing 1500 city refuse and street maintenance workers, were battling to keep their rank and file from hitting the bricks in a wildcat strike this week after the enraged workers heard that Mayor Bowron had vetoed their long-awaited wage raise passed August 15 by the city council.

International representative Rubin Kaufman asked the men to await the proper time for action. He immediately called several mass meetings, one for tonight (Aug. 29), at CIO headquarters, to "lay plans for any PLANS TRIP EAST—Mrs. Mary Taylor, daughter of the late Peter and Kitty Royster of Oxford, N. C., plans an eastern trip. Stopping in New York to visit Rev. and Mrs. Adam Powell Sr., and her uncle, Rev. W. P. Hays, pastor of Mt. Olive Baptist church, she will head toward Philadelphia to visit Attorney and Mrs. Alexander, and her cousins, Dr. Peter and Russell Lewis. Continuing her journey to Baltimore, she will stop with Dr. W. T. Colman for an indefinite stay. Mrs. Taylor, a member of the North Carolina Songbirds, has been in California for three years. She will return in the fall.

Judge Jefferson Speaks Sunday at First A.M.E.

The problem of juvenile delinquency will be discussed by Judge Edwin Jefferson at the First A. M. E. church, 801 Towne ave., Sunday afternoon, Sept. 1, at 5 o'clock. The meeting is arranged jointly by the Progressive Club of the church and the OES Committee of Electa Chapter.

The meeting is open to the public who are cordially invited to attend.

Sen. Pepper to Speak at Bowl Night of Sept. 2

Senator Claude Pepper, (D. Fla.) who recently blasted the "conservative policies" of the leadership of the Democratic party will make one of his rare West Coast personal appearances on Labor Day evening, Sept. 2, at the Hollywood Bowl, sponsored by the Hollywood Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions.

As an additional feature the only Hollywood Bowl performance this season of the brilliant Tschaikowsky's First Piano Concerto will be given by Arthur Rubinstein.

Frank Sinatra will also appear in person singing some of his most famous ballads. Gregory Peck, Vincent Price and Alfred Drake will make personal appearances in "The Lonesome Train", written by Earl Robinson and Millard Lampell.

The Hollywood Bowl Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Franz Waxman, will supply the musical background for the program. Dr. Hugo Strelitzer's 100-voice chorus will be heard in "The Lonesome Train," and Charles Lewin, long-time associate of Norman Corwin, will direct the work.

DAYTON, Ohio—(NNPA)—The city has arranged the purchase of 28 lots on the west side to construct a series of federal housing units for Negro war veterans, City Manager Fred Eichelberger told the weekly commission meeting last Wednesday.

Fight Dixie Lynch Terror! Rush Funds Now to the NAACP!

NEW YORK—The national office of the NAACP, facing tremendous additional expenses in connection with the current wave of lynch terror in the South, this week issued an urgent appeal for contributions.

One of the many tasks facing the organization is the transportation from the South of key witnesses in several lynchings. Since these witnesses are unwilling to return to the South or risk punitive measures against their families, several families must be brought north, and supported until they can find employment.

The NAACP also has sent several investigators into the danger areas. These men are risking their lives, must be furnished with sufficient funds to enable them to travel around freely, make a quick get-away, if necessary.

Rally Tonight to Protest British Palestine Rule

Bartley C. Crum, member of the Anglo-American Committee of Inquiry on Palestine, will fly here from Washington to address a mass meeting at Olympic auditorium tonight (August 29).

The meeting, beginning at 8 o'clock, has been called to protest the current British terroristic measures in Palestine. It will be under the auspices of more than 600 civic, labor, fraternal and veteran groups.

Other speakers will be Father George H. Dunne, professor of political science at Loyola university; Rabbi Max Naussbaum of Temple Israel, Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, editor of The EAGLE, and other leading figures. Eddie Cantor will be chairman.

Crum created a sensation last week with charges that state department officials were obstructing official American policy on Palestine.

Council Backs Bowron's 'Soak Poor' Program

The City Council this week backed up Mayor Bowron's "Soak the Poor" tax program by again pouring on another boost in city tax rates, this time bouncing the property levy to an alltime high of $1,9051, 5½ cents per $100 assessed valuation higher thn at any time in local history.

The tax boost follows the recent half-cent sales tax and business taxes which the mayor called for early this year. It also is a slap in the face of local civil service employes who saw the council sustain a veto of the mayor the day before denying some of the lowest paid city workers a small wage increase.

Fighting the people's fight and vehemently opposing the tax raise were councilmen G. Vernon Bennett, Harold Henry, John R. Roden and P. P. Christensen. All blasted the mid-fiscal year tax raise, and some opined that maybe the voters "would see some of us don't have a chance to raise taxes after the next election."

Bennett was especially bitter about the move in the face of the mayor's veto of the wage raises, and Henry stated that this city now has the highest per capita tax rates in the U.S., with "certainly not that much benefit accruing from them."

Georgia Planter Arrested; Held Five in Peonage

ATLANTA, Ga. — FBI agents yesterday arrested a wealthy white 65-year-old farmer on a charge of holding five Negroes in peonage on his farm near Atlanta.

Henry King, acting agent in charge of the Atlanta FBI office, said the farmer, Roswell Pierce Biggers, was released on $4000 bond after a hearing before U. S. Commissioner David J. Meyerhardt.

Biggers will face a federal grand jury in U. S. district court here in October. It is the second time Biggers has been charged with peonage. He first was indicted in 1916, but his hearing ended in a mistrial and he was acquitted later.

The present complaint charges Biggers specifically with "[illegible] son (one of the five peonage victims) to be arrested and returned

New Eyewitness Of Blow Torch Lynching Found

NEW YORK—An NAACP investigator has located an eyewitness who can furnish positive identification of 14 members of the Minden, Louisiana mob, three of them deputy sheriffs, who on August 4 chopped off the hands of John Jones, Negro veteran, with a meat cleaver, burned him to a crisp with a blow torch and shot and left for dead Jones' 13-year-old cousin, Albert Harris Jr.

This development was announced this week by the national office of the NAACP which also reported that young Harris, sought by the NAACP as an eyewitness, had disappeared, together with his father between Minden, La., and Texarkana, Texas.

In addition to the new eyewitness, several other key witnesses have been found who are willing to testify if they can be assured transportation to New York for themselves and their families, and support until they can be found employment since they could not return to the South.

Swift action is necessary, however, and the NAACP has issued an urgent appeal for funds.

Late News

SHANGHAI—A reliable non-American diplomatic source said this week the Chiang Kai-shek regime was considering asking the U. S. or the United Nations to take over administration of the disputed areas of China in which civil war is going on. The "disputed areas" are controlled by progressive forces, including the Communists, who are opposed to Chiang's feudal landlord regime.

Lynwood Citizens Score Use of School Property To Promote Covenants

Citizens of Lynwood this week continued their fight against the invasion of their community by the restrictive covenant racket by vigorously protesting the use of school property by racist outfits like the Lynwood Property Owners Association.

As reported exclusively in last week's California EAGLE progressive Lynwood citizens had helped an attempt by the association to organize Lynwood for restrictive covenants at a meeting held in the Woodrow Wilson public school by a small group calling themselves the Lynwood Property Owners Assn.

Following the meeting at the school, citizens opposed to property restrictions as unconstitutional and un-American, organized themselves into the 69th assembly district National Citizens Political Action Committtee. A delegation from this group then visited a meeting of the Lynwood board of education to protest the use of school property for the purpose of promoting race hatred, racial exclusiveness and disunity.

The delegates, all Lynwood residents, had previously called on Superintendent of Schools McCall, who referred the protestants to the board. As McCall predicted, the board referred the matter to the county counsel for a ruling. The delegation based their protest on two grounds:

1. Race restrictive covenants are inimical to democracy.
2. In opening a meeting at Woodrow Wilson school on August 19, the LPOA failed to call for the Salute to the Flag and the Pledge of Allegiance, as required by California public school regulations.

The board was asked to deny future permits to the LPOA or similar racist organizations.

activities never include the organization known as Women of the Pacific. This group of subversives is circulating, all over Los Angeles, a little booklet telling people to defeat the Fair Employment Practics proposition which will be on the November ballot, and which was initiated by the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt in an effort to break down discrimination in industry.

THE Women of the Pacific, conspirators and would-be assassins of the proposed State F.E.P.C., have gone to a lot of pains and expense in an analysis of the proposed law that would tax the imagination to interpret, but which, in language and tone, has a definite appeal to prejudice.

Subversive? Not one charge of leading or inspiring a lynch mob has been placed against these so-called Communists!

AND the only charge that can be registered against the C.I.O. and the Political Action Committee is that these organizations are trying to put in action the Democracy that the Associated Farmers, the Ku Klux Klan, the Southern lynchers, the Hearst-McCormick newspapers are out to kill.

Along this same line, we find in this State, Republicans who, for 16 years, refused to send our friend and racial kin, Fredrick Roberts to congress. Now, because Helen Douglas has fearlessly defended our rights in the 79th congress against attacks made by Bilbo, Rankin, Eastland and many Republicans, they now tell us that because he is an intelligent, experienced Negro, we should defeat Congresswoman Douglas in the November election and send our own "Fred" to congress.

Bottler to Write On Fraternal Groups for Eagle

S. C. Bottler, whimsical wordsmith of "Postscripts," will come to the California EAGLE in the next edition with his "California Caravan," a column expressly devoted to lodges and like organizations.

S. C. BOTTLER

S. C. Bottler was recently appointed to head the new public relations office of the most worshipful sovereign Grand Lodge of California Masons by Grand Master George R. Vaughns. He

He is well qualified to fill both these positions with a wealthy background of experience in the journalistic field and public relations work. He started his journalistic career with the San Clemente Herald as an associate editor and manager of the printing department. Later, as secretary to a wealthy San Clemente resident, he traveled around the world and attended the Sarbonne university at Paris, France, majoring in languages for 2½ years.

Bottler is now manager and personnel director of a large westside apartment on an exclusive chain of hotel-apartments.

He recently married the prominent young Santa Monican, Mary Elizabeth Norment. His unique style will be a welcome addition to EAGLE readers.

LEAVES FOR V. I.

COLUMBUS, Ohio—Capt. Dudley W. Stevenson, provost marshall and chief of security and intelligence at Lockbourne army air base, left this week for Separation Center at Ft. Geo. G. Meade, Maryland. Following his separation from the service, Capt. Stevenson will assume command of the police department at St. Thomas, Virgin Islands.

Rift in Wesley Church Widens; New Suit Filed

The fight between the Wesley Methodist church congregation on one side and Rev. E. W. Rakestraw and the board of trustees on the other got started all over again this week in superior court, as Attorney Walter L. Gordon withdrew the original suit filed six weeks ago, and instituted a new action.

Named as defendants in the new legal filing were the pastor, and board of trustee members Lorenzo Bowdoin, Robert Holmes, B. H. Pryor, E. T. Trunel, A. C. Wright, R. N. Johnson, P. J. Daniel, Henry Simpson and J. A. Warren.

It was alleged by the complainants, all of whom claim to be old members of the church, that the trustees and Rev. Rakestraw took advantage of the street car strike several months ago to push through a vote for sale of the church for $40,000, while most of the congregation was homebound.

The plaintiffs also claim that the church is worth twice that amount, and no proper notice of the election was made. Rev. Rakestraw, shortly after the first suit was filed, termed the rebels as merely a "small group of crackpots."

Named as plaintiffs in the action were Ralph Johnson, Rhonnie Goodwin, Eli Wells, Walter Coleman, William H. Stevens and G. W. Patterson.

It was believed the new action was filed and the old one dismissed in order to name additional defendants and broaden the allegations.

Two Whites Jailed in Shooting Which Set Off Wild Manhunt in Miss.

JACKSON, Miss. (NNPA)—H. J. Sullivan, 69 year old white Smith county farmer, is being held on charges of assault and battery with intent to kill in connection with the shooting of four peace officers August 18.

Sullivan's farm is near the spot where a quartet of policemen were brought down by a hail of fire from guns allegedly wielded by 15 Negroes. The officers had gone to the spot after it had been reported that colored persons were driving up and down a state highway shooting into passing cars.

The shooting subsequently set off a lurid two-day manhunt in which state police and some 300 volunteer possemen took par. It ended only after all the Negroes allegedly involved had been jailed.

Herbert H. Sullivan, 19-year-old nephew of Sullivan, also is being held in the Hinds county jail on unspecified charges, police said.

Smith county sheriff George C. Hawkins declined to reveal what charges were to be filed against members of the Negro Craft and Cooper families.

The federal government has been asked to ascertain how the members of the two families came into possession of army rifles and tracer ammunition with which they held out against the posse for two days.

The last two of the men were rounded up last Tuesday when Garfield and Bill Craft, each recently discharged from the army, came out of Sullivan Hollow swamp and surrendered to Constable Alex Sullivan, who took them to the Hinds county jail at Jackson.

The two gave up after a futile search by hundreds of armed deputies and possemen, presumably in response to an appeal from their mother, Mrs. Rachel Craft, who went into the swamp looking for them.

Another of the woman's sons, Johnny Craft, an ex-marine, appeared at the county jail in Jackson early August 20 and gave up. He had slipped through the heavy cordon and hitchhiked to Jackson.

The arrest of Bill and Garfield Craft swelled to 14 the number of Negroes held at Jackson either for alleged connection with the trouble or as material witnesses.

Knocks Down Girl Who Rejected Demand She Prostitute for Him

GOOD OLD BROOKLYN-WHERE EVERYONE BEATS THE HEAT WITH A

GALLO WINE GLACIER

Naturally, the Gallo "Glacier" is so icy and so cold that parlors turn into igloos.

So they're sending St. Bernards to rescue these snow-bound Gallo "Glacier" lovers.

Many cases of frost-bite (and a few cases of St. Bernard bite) have been reported but no one has complained of the heat.

Watts Man Held For Assault On Woman Friend

James Berry, 34, was held to answer in municipal court on a criminal assault charge after police stated he attacked Mrs. Esther Gutierrez, 24, of Watts, several weeks ago in his car after ordering her husband, Louis, to "keep walking."

In the hearing it was intimated by Berry's attorney, Gladys Root, that Gutierrez had been intimate with a girl friend of the defendant. It was admitted that Berry and Mrs. Gutierrez had been friends for a considerable length of time. Another defendant implicated in the rape, 16 years old, was referred to juvenile authorities according to his attorney, James Reese. Berry lives at 10817 E. 114th st.

BATAVIA—The Dutch government information service confirmed yesterday that 200 Indosenians had been killed two days ago in another battle with Dutch marines.

Jimcrow Philosophy Sets off Fatal Battle Between GIs in Italy

LEGHORN, Italy—Resentment by white GIs over the fraternization of Italian girls with tan Yanks was the witches' brew which led to a two-hour machine gun and rifle battle between Negro GIs on one hand, and white American GIs and Italian police, on the other hand, in the ruins of a bomb-wrecked cathedral here.

Italian police announced that four Negroes were killed. American military authorities said one Negro soldier was killed, two white soldiers and two Italian civilians wounded.

One white American soldier and two other Italian civilians also were "badly beaten," army authorities said.

The Italian police claimed that when they tried to stop the soldiers from fighting, the Negro GIs opened fire on them.

The Italian police returned the fire and the Negroes withdrew from the carnival to the ruins of a nearby cathedral where they fought the police for two hours, using rifles against the machine guns of the Carabinieri.

Fire Wrecks Victory Market

Aided by a brisk afternoon breeze, a fire swept through the Victory Market, No. 3, at 5502 Long Beach blvd., Tuesday afternoon and left in its wake an estimated $10,000 damages.

Theodore Albritton, one of the directors of the Victory Markets, said that the blaze was caused by a passerby who might have discarded a lighted match or cigarette into a pile of trash at the rear of the store.

Emerson Caldwell, store manager, stated that he was busy at the front of the store when the blaze started shortly after 3 p.m. but that a man from across the street saw the fire at the rear and called his attention to it.

However, it is alleged that three unidentified men stood and watched the trash burning near the building without warning the occupants of the store.

The fire, which destroyed most of the stock and fixtures in the store, apparently got a good start in the generator room where it did considerable damage before spreading to the store proper. The generator room is to the rear and not on line with the main part of the building and the fire could not be noticed from the front.

The fire department arrived on the scene shortly after the alarm went in, but the damage had been done.

Albritton said that it was a total loss, although a few items may be salvageable and the canned goods may be sold at a reduced price.

Rev. Clayton Russell, who has not yet returned to the city from the conference of Community Churches of America in Baltimore, could not be reached.

L.A. Musician Gets Bid to Study in Paris; Audition Here Sept. 8

Chester Harris, recently discharged from the armed forces where he served in the European theatre, has received an invitation to study two years at the Paris Conservatory of Music in Paris, France.

Harris, one of many musicians to give up his career to enter the armed services, gave a concert to 20,000 GI's aboard the "Queen Elizabeth" while going overseas. He repeated his performances through England, France, and Germany, playing the organ for army chaplains.

He organized a 50-voice GI chorus, which gave to France its first Easter Sunrise service. Appearing at the service was Madam M. Lhaste, soprano, of the Conservatory of Music in Reims, France, who sang "Inflammation" by Rossini.

His chorus gave a magnificent concert in the old cathedral in Reims where Harris played one of the largest pipe organs in the world.

On Sunday, Sept. 8, at 4 p.m., at the Patriotic Hall, Harris will audition with Sally Stephen, soprano, in a concert. His buddies will be in charge as Voc. Society II. Reservations will be sold Saturday, Sept. 7, at the box office of the Patriotic Hall.

Father Dunne To Address Big Anti-Bias Meet

Father George Dunne, Loyola university, will be principal speaker at a mass anti-restrictive covenant meeting slated by the Home Protective Association, 8 o'clock Friday evening, September 6, at Carver junior high school, Vernon and McKinley.

Climaxing the program will be a call to those assembled to join in a pledge against restrictive covenants.

Among the many guest artists to be presented will be Betty Wyckoff, Los Angeles Youth Project, in a skit entitled "Co-operative Jive"; and Gloria Moore, singing "They Threw the Book at Me." Several Mexican dances will also be featured.

This program is one of the many sponsored by the Home Protective Association in its effort to point out the dangers of restrictive covenants to the democratic way of life.

A capacity house of 2,000 is expected. All are welcome. There will be no charge for admission.

Prominent Persons At FEPC Luncheon

The luncheon given last Saturday at the Crystal Center, 4818 S. Avalon blvd., by the FEPC fund-raising committee headed by Mrs. Gus Hawkins, set a successful precedent in the drive to raise funds to finance a program of voter education in behalf of the FEPC proposition to be voted on in November.

Mrs. A. C. Billbrew, who has been in the East for the past few years where she presented an extravaganza of Negro history in Philadelphia, was mistress of ceremonies and chairman of the panel.

Those who participated on the panel were: Mrs. Cobb, representing the housewives; Mrs. Mary Holmes, the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Co.; Marjorie Gordon Giles, real estate; Film Star Louise Beavers, Hollywood; Mrs. C. A. Bass, editor of the California EAGLE, civic life; Mrs. Maurine Phoney, education; Mrs. Faye Allen, education; Dr. Selby Robinson, the medical profession; Mrs. Betty Hill, political study clubs; and Mrs. V. Shortridge, the church.

All spoke on the urgent need of a Fair Employment Practices Commission in the state of California.

WASHINGTON — Manufacturers' ceiling prices for newsprint sold in the United States have been increased $7 per ton, the OPA announced yesterday. The new ceiling price for standard newsprint paper delivered to 38 "port" cities will be $74 per ton. There are different ceilings for deliveries in ten specified zones of the country.

Two Local Leaders Will Head Chest Fund Drive in Community

Mrs. C. A. Troy, 1438 East 57th st., has been named by Mrs. Maynard Toll, city residential chairman of the Los Angeles Community Chest, to again head the coming campaign in South Park.

Mrs. Troy served as local chairman last year when residents of this area were among the first in the city to surpass their campaign quota.

In the Adams-Central district, the united appeal for 152 causes will be led by Mrs. Josephine Brown, 643 East Santa Barbara, who last year served with Mrs. Troy as special gifts chairman. Veteran of many Chest campaigns, Mrs. Brown will be serving as district chairman for the first time.

Both Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Troy are now completing their top leadership organization for the campaign, and making plans for recruiting volunteer workers for the house-to-house canvass, scheduled for this fall.

Ninety-five agencies, supplying the health, welfare and youth guidance needs of all Los Angeles and supported by local contributions to the Chest, are included in the coming appeal, along with the USO, which continues to function for men still in service, and foreign relief agencies.

This combined campaign is designed to fill the needs of all 152 agencies at one time, rather than through separate campaigns for each organization.

Members of the speakers bureau of the Chest, now numbering approximately 600 men and women, will have a rally and instruction meeting this evening, August 29, at seven o'clock, in the auditorium studio, Radio Station KFI, 141 North Vermont avenue.

Rally Tonight to Press Fight On Police Brutality

Citizens of East Los Angeles and surrounding communities will meet tonight in a mass rally protesting the fatal shooting last month of 13-year-old Eugene C. Montenegro Jr., a young Mexican boy, the Civil Rights Congress announced yesterday.

The death of young Montenegro, which has created alarm and protest throughout the city, has been investigated by the district attorney's office at the request of the Civil Rights Congress, and is now being sent to the grand jury for a possible comprehensive hearing on police brutality.

Speakers at the meeting, which will be held at the Casa del Mexicano, 3800 Brooklyn ave., include Armando Davila, first vice-president of the Latin American Civil Action Committee, Guy Endore, noted author, and Jaime Gonzales, who will act as chairman.

Endore, who has made a personal investigation of the case, will report on the contradictory evidence presented to the coroner's jury, and the dangers to all people inherent in the incident.

The Civil Rights Congress, which is sponsoring the meeting, will continue to press for a complete investigation by the grand jury, it disclosed, and attempt to obtain consideration at the same time of other flagrant violations of constitutional rights against the Negro and Mexican people.

An added attraction at the rally will be a special performance by the Rose Hill Singers, a group of young people of Mexican descent who have a repertory of native and folk numbers.

Pasadena Raid Nets 37 Crap Shooters

Pasadena police, making one of their frequent visits to 897 N. Fair Oaks avenue, pulled in a prize haul late last week when they collared 37 men shooting craps, and took them all to the pokey.

The "morning after" police reported all but two had paid their $10 bail, equivalent to a fine, and gone free. The pair, both of whom described themselves as "heavy losers," decided to wait out a jail stay rather than invest any more money in their gambol, police said. The Fair Oaks address, a store, has been raided several times recently on similar charges.

Wealthy Hubby 'Cruel'; Woman Asks Divorce

Attractive Mrs. Belle Myers, 28, of 1333½ East 45th street, has filed a divorce action against her husband, Archie Myers, 38, according to her attorney, Walter L. Gordon, Jr.

The couple were married Jan. 2 of this year, and Mrs. Myers charges cruelty on the part of her wealthy spouse. Myers, a successful businessman, has numerous savings accounts, his wife charges, and she asks monthly support from him, although they have no children. She asked the court to prevent Myers from inflicting bodily harm upon her.

Millions Die From Constipation

"Constipation is one of the greatest causes of disease, misery, inefficiency and premature senility, and should be most earnestly combated," says Dr. Kellogg of Battle Creek Sanitarium fame.

"Every case of constipation is curable, but not by means of any panacea. Each case must be studied and individual conditions must be dealt with in an intelligent and rational manner.

"A coated tongue, a sallow complexion, dark circles around the eyes, appearance of brown spots upon the hands or other parts (the so-called liver spots), offensive breath and perspiration, the discharge of foul-smelling gases from the bowels, putrid stools, a thin, inelastic, parchment-like skin, dullness of mind, mental irritability or depression without cause, cold hands and feet, chronic headache, arthritis, neuritis, rheumatism, asthma, pains around the heart—these and a score of other symptoms which might be mentioned are certain indications of chronic poisoning.

"A thorough cleansing of the colon, removing the cause, may prevent more serious conditions, such as hardening of the arteries, Bright's disease with albumen and casts in the urine or apoplexy with paralysis. Phenomenal results are obtained when the cause is removed."

Professor Arnold Ehret says, "Every disease, no matter what name it is known by medical science, is constipation—a clogging up of the entire pipe system of the human body. Any special symptom is therefore merely an extraordinary local constipation by more accumulated mucus at this particular place. Special accumulation points are the tongue, the stomach, and particularly the entire digestive tract. This last is the real and deeper cause of bowel constipation. The average person has as much as 10 pounds of uneliminated feces in the bowels continually poisoning the blood stream and the entire system. Think of it!

"Every sick person has a more or less mucus-clogged system, such mucus being derived from undigested and uneliminated, unnatural food substances, accumulated from childhood on.

"Remember," says Ehret, "your constitutional encumbrances throughout the entire system are the source of every disease; the greatest, most harmful source of lowered vitality, imperfect health, lack of strength and endurance and any and all imperfect conditions. All have their source in the colon, never perfectly emptied since birth."

Daniel C. Munro, M. D., Medical Director of exclusive Lake Placid Club, says, "If I were to write the story of all the cases in which colonic irrigations seem to lift the patient from the very jaws of death, it would fill volumes."

Residents of Los Angeles are fortunate in having the New Yorker—a haven for those who suffer, where the cause may be removed. New Yorker specializes in thoroughly cleansing and eliminating from the colon all waste matter causing toxic poisons. Rid yourself of toxic poisons. If suffering come to our office at once. Get relief from constipation. Go to the New Yorker for a thorough cleansing of the large intestine or colon. Single treatments, $3.00. Treatments at office only. No medicines or drugs. THE FRUIT OF UNCEASING LABOR

★ Between 1911 and 1935, a brief span of twenty-five years, extraordinary progress was made in public health. According to figures released by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, the duration of human life during this period was extended by almost fourteen years. It is all the more remarkable in the light of the history of this period, which included the first World War, the worst epidemic in recent history, and America's most severe depression.

Many agencies have contributed to make America a more healthful place in which to live. Not the least of these are scientific medicine and pharmacy, which work unceasingly for better methods of prevention and treatment of disease.

Steeped in southern tradition, the navy apparently was unwilling to exonerate Rollins of all charges preferred against him. The court-martial which tried him found him not guilty of lascivious conduct with Mrs. Sima, but found him guilty of committing adultery with her on the same evidence which it disbelieved in the other serious charge.

The theft conviction was based on Rollins' admission that he took a bottle of whisky from the officers' mess weekly because he felt he was "justified in doing so" since he worked long hours.

The court-martial which tried Rollins imposed a six-year prison term and a dishonorable discharge but the reviewing authority reduced the sentence.

Rollins' sentence was announced during the trial of the elder Sima accused of perjury, extortion, gambling, neglect of duty and violation of several navy regulations.

The younger Sima was convicted of taking his wife to the quarters of Rollins but his sentence was later remitted.

Santa Ana Pastor

nists." Graham had classified the NAACP as "decidedly pink," said "the American Veterans Committee is regarded with suspicion because of certain definite left-wing tendencies"—meaning, probably the AVC's championship of the Negro vote, its firm stand against discrimination.

Two days later, and one day after the meeting, Graham's nonsensical charges were, echoed, parrot-like, by Rev. Thornton, even to the extent of asserting that "Reds" and other "agitators" had infiltrated the ranks of the NAACP. A story, quoting his slander, appeared on the front page of The Register, under the heading, "Minister Charges Colored People Here Duped Into CIO-Sponsored Meeting." (What Thornton had said was that the NAACP meeting "appeared to be sponsored by the CIO for the advancement of their Political Action Committee." But what's a little discrepancy between reactionary bedfellows?)

One of Thornton's main peeves was his assertion that he had been displaced as a scheduled speaker by Averell Berman, CIO leader, "against our wishes."

Thornton said he "had learned today" that Berman had a "long record of pink activity," and as "proof" advanced Berman's connection with the National Citizens Political Action Committee, the International Workers, and the American Youth for Democracy—all organizations active in the fight against lynching, the Ku Klux Klan, restrictive covenants and other evils. Berman is a member of the Hollywood Independent Committee of the Arts and Sciences.

The pastor gave an inkling of what he considered "agitation" when he denied a statement he says Berman made at the meeting, to the effect that Negroes in Santa Ana county did not enjoy equal rights and full freedom. That, whined Thornton, is "categorically untrue," and "designed to inspire class distinction."

The meeting, held to protest the lynch terror in the South was attended by 300 persons, mostly Negroes.

Thornton's action is understandable in the light of his own alleged admission that he receives most of his suport from the white folk. In this connection too, can be understood his fantastic claim that he speaks for "90 percent of the colored people of this county." On the basis of that assertion, the Associated Farmers outfit no doubt considers Thornton quite a valuable ally, to use a conservative term.

It will be interesting to note the "Farmers" reaction to the wave of protest now flooding this county, in which practically all Negro citizens have joined in condemning Thornton's attack on the NAACP, and the labor and veteran allies of the Negro people.

Attorney Townsend Reveals

Townsend told the Eagle that George Burleson, adjutant of Ben Bowie Post No. 228, Los Angeles, had received on August by mail from Hibbard receipts for room reservations at the Oxford hotel, but two days later had received another communication from Hibbard enclosing five new receipts, assigning all five of the Los Angeles delegates to the Scaggs hotel, a Negro hotel at 1715 Webster st. The second communication requested Burleson to destroy the previous receipts or disregard them, stated "There was a mistake as to the first and previous assignment of reservations."

Investigation by Townsend revealed that the Scaggs hotel was not even registered with the Convention Housing Committee.

The delegates, many of them World War II veterans, more progressive than the Legion Old Guard, not only repudiated the hotel discrimination, but passed resolutions supporting the FEPC proposition which will be placed before the voters in November, denounced lynching, the Ku Klux Klan, restrictive covenants, and called for remedial legislation.

Another resolution called for federal investigation and arrest of "the perpetrators of the crimes attacks against Negro veterans in the South.

It is understood that all resolutions on behalf of minority groups will be presented by the state Legion at the National Legion Convention which meets in San Francisco on September 29.

eventuality." Workers were asked to bring their wives.

The city council sustained the mayor's veto, 8-5, in a stormy session Monday morning. Pleading for the CIO-sponsored wage raises were councilmen G. Vernon Bennett and John R. Roden. Bennett termed the mayor's 4000-word veto message as full of misrepresentations, and robbing the workers of their rights — equal pay with workers employed in private industry.

"I had hoped the mayor would go along with the 11 majority members of the council," stated Bennett, and he blasted the mayor's hints that the council had merely passed the ordinance for "political" reasons" and left the mayor holding the bag by vetoing the measure.

The mayor's message was bitter and lambasted the CIO and the city council. Bennett was equally caustic. He said, "We have a surplus of $17,000,000 in the city treasury, because we approved taxes asked for by the mayor. I thought that money would go for higher salaries for city employes. If I had known the mayor would veto higher salaries, I wouldn't have voted for the new taxes."

The mayor acknowledged he had been "deluged with petitions and telegrams from CIO members" asking him to uphold the wage raise. He stated they made no affect upon him, as he saw no reason to give special consideration to an employ because he belonged to a labor union. UPWA headquarters announced they were being swamped with calls from CIO locals promising "100 per cent cooperation in any action you may take against the reactionary stand of Bowron.

McCoy Memorial Baptist Church

Celebrates Pastor and Wife's Third Anniversary

AUGUST 18th TO AUGUST 25th

McCoy's Deacon Board, together with all auxiliaries, leaders and members, just closed a Mammoth Celebration in honor of our beloved pastor and wife on his three years work as Pastor and Leader of this great church.

Beginning Sunday, August 18, through 25—the entire church responded to the program in one of the most comprehensive manners that has ever been exhibited by evangelistic minded people. There was an extraordinary spirit of love and fellowship that prevailed in the actions of every member and friend. The reaction of all guest churches, and businessmen was unexcelled. For never before in the history of our church, did the different auxiliaries, members and friends work so diligently together, to put a program over in such a colossal way.

Sunday, August 25, marked the closing of the Third Annual Anniversary of the Pastorate of Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Anderson. A magnificent program sponsored by the Deaconess, Sisterhood, and Businessmen closed the week-old affair.

The organizations, and their guest churches rendered unsurpassed services, which was witnessed by our members, friends and many of the prominent citizens of the city. The businessmen of the city, representing their business firms, gave speeches of gratitude in honoring our pastor. Mrs. S. P. Johnson, of Connor-Johnson Mortuary, was master-of-ceremonies for the businessmen on their night.

Now, we must take time out to offer our appreciation and thanks to you, who made this event possible: First to the Deacon and Trustee Board with C. A. McMullen, chairman of the Deacon Board, and Bro. W. J. Bogan, chairman of the Trustee Board; the Brotherhood, Guy Mackey, President, for their wonderful attitude toward the pastor and his program.

The decoration committee, with Mrs. Letha McMullen, Mrs. Carrie Jackson, Drucilla Campbell, and Mrs. Dixie Reed, played an important role in the program. The church had one of the most beautiful array of flowers the eyes could behold.

The publicity committee with Herbert Miller, chairman; Mrs. Leola Douglas, co-chairman; Aaron Bryant and Bernadene High, secretaries; Mrs. Velma Rivers and Mims Hackett for their splendid work in getting out such lovely souvenir booklets for the pastor's anniversary.

EDITORIALS AND COMMENTS

Not Only Pass It But Make It Work

An editorial in the Los Angeles Times, last Sunday, condemns the initiative measure for a Fair Employment Practices Commission, to be voted on in November, in honied words that contain a virulent poison hidden within their depths.

They are words of double meaning. For they speak fair of a right of a trial by jury, of independence, of America's love of freedom—and then tell you in subtle language that these privileges of American life will be taken away from us through the enactment of a Fair Employment Practices Act!

"Proponents will hail it as a virtual emancipation proclamation for the downtrodden and for those suffering from oppression and injustice caused by religious bigotry and racial intolerance," says the editorial.

"Opponents will seek to show that the act will create new evils and increase and intensify those now in existence."

Pretending then to view the subject dispassionately, the writer of the editorial, Kyle Palmer, proceeds to tear to bits any sympathy towards the measure, which he might have built up in the beginning of his article, by adroitly undermining the very arguments he had unconsciously advanced in its favor. He lines up with those whom he had described as its enemies, "inspired by selfish and possibly by cunning and venal considerations."

"The act," declares Mr. Palmer, "represents a definite and upon the part of some of its backers, a calcualted step towards totalitarianism."

That antiquated and outworn nineteenth century term! It seems as though every effort for the benefits of mankind is described by every educated moron with some such term as totalitarianism! Totalitarianism, in the best sense of the term, means simply cooperation, all working together for the comon good. With such a definition in mind we hope the F.E.P.C. will contribute much toward the cooperation of all—black and white, Jew and Gentile, Protestant and Catholic.

"Undeniably," admits Mr. Palmer, "discrimination is practiced by some employers and by some labor unions."

The law, however, in Mr. Palmer's opinion, should not step in to right these wrongs. Just how these discriminatory practices can be broken up if not done legally, Mr. Palmer does not say. Like so many who pick flaws in what his fellowmen are attempting, he offers nothing in return for what he would discard.

We believe the people of California will see clearly the great need for an F.E.P.C. act, and will not heed such double words like those of the editorial in the Sunday Times but will vote a resounding YES for the F.E.P.C. in November. The F.E.P.C. MUST pass!

What Hurts A Part Hurts the Whole

Let the people speak at the great mass demonstration Thursday evening.

Arrangements have been completed for Los Angeles' first Palestine big protest meeting. At this meeting not only the Jewish people, but all who believe in freedom, should lift their voices so high against Great Britain's brazen attempt to divide, rule, or ruin Palestine, that they may be heard all over the land.

Let's make it clear to our government that we want no part in Britain's plan to partition Palestine. And more than that, that we are opposed to furnishing any support to the British Empire to be used against the Jews and Arabs.

Let these people work out their own destiny, and then there will be peace in Palestine.

Every Day Is Labor Day

We must dedicate ourselves to Labor's cause.

Labor Day, 1946, should mark a new era for Negro peoples in the field of labor.

This year has been marked by an extensive and intensive racial strife, the like of which we have not seen in decades.

The Fascist merchants and Manufacturing Association and kindred organizations would have us believe that labor is responsible for the mass lynchings and other acts of terror directed against Negro war veterans. But we know that the CIO and many of the Progressive A. F. L. locals have penetrated the deep South with a new determination to organize white and Negro labor. Not as white on one side and Negroes on the other, but as American workers.

The people who laid the foundation for a democratic nation—the people who fought two wars to make Democracy work all over the world—these are the people who are in the labor unions urging others to unite with them in creating that new world for the workingman.

We, the Negro people, are beginning to realize that our hope for permanent, lasting freedom is anchored in labor. And that Labor has stretched its hand across the chasm of racial bias and welcomed us into its ranks. Every day should be Labor Day for us.

Elliott Roosevelt Tells All

Elliott Roosevelt's comprehensive story of his father's clashes with Churchill and Stalin during the war as well as the prewar period proves conclusively that President Franklin D. Roosevelt was always on the side of the plain people.

"I think I speak as America's president when I say that America won't help England in this war simply so that she will be able to run roughshod over colonial peoples." These words were spoken by the late President Roosevelt just before his meeting with Churchill. This was one of the blocks in Mr. Roosevelt's platform for peace.

The path to peace charted by Mr. Roosevelt has been deliberately forsaken.

Churchill Needed American Troops

Father continued: "The Prime Minister is coming here tomorrow—although I doubt that he'll show it—because he knows that without America, England can't stay in the war."

I whistled. I'd seen the May blitz, which blanketed most British industrial centers, but I hadn't realized their plight was as serious as all that. And with the Russians retreating steadily across the steppes . . .

"Of course," he went on, "Churchill's greatest concern is how soon we will be in the war. He knows very well that so long as the American effort is confined to production, it will only keep England in. He knows that to mount an offensive he needs American troops.

"Watch and see if the P. M. doesn't start off by demanding that we immediately declare war against the Nazis."

I think Father was really rehearsing himself in a way, for the conversations, priming himself for Churchill's requests.

"Another thing," he said. "The British Empire is at stake here. It's something that's not generally known, but British bankers and German bankers have had world trade pretty well sewn up in their pockets for a long time, despite the fact that Germany lost the last war. Well, now, that's not so good for American trade, is it?" He turned to one side and cocked an eyebrow at me.

"We Won't Be a Good-Time Charlie"

"But there's another angle. We've got to make clear to the British from the very outset that we don't intend to be simply a good-time Charlie who can be used to help the British Empire out of a tight spot, and then be forgotten forever.

"I think," I said carefully, "that I can see there will be a little fur flying here and there, in the next few days."

"We'll see," said my father. "We'll see."

We were all on deck next morning to watch the Prince of Wales slide in and drop anchor, and a few hours later the P. M. came aboard. It was the first time they had seen each other since 1919, but soon they were calling each other "Franklin" and "Winston."

It was at this time that we learned there were Ministry of Information officials present with notebooks and cameras. General Hap Arnold slipped in back of me to whisper that we'd damn well better get some cameramen abroad in a hurry. And I sent our pilot back in the Grumman to get a couple of Army photographers so that our press would have at least some service on the conference.

After lunch, I joined Father and the P. M. in the captain's cabin. They were sitting opposite each other, politely sparring.

"My information, Franklin, is that the temper of the American people is in our favor. That, in fact, they are ready to join the issue." The P. M. was moving cautiously.

"You can find counter-indications," drily.

"But the debate on Lend-Lease . . ."

"If you are deeply interested in American opinion, Winston, I recommend you read the Congressional Record every day."

Two ideas were clashing head-on. The P.M. clearly was motivated by one governing thought, that we should declare war on Nazi Germany straightaway. The President was thinking of public opinion, American politics, all the intangibles that lead to action and at once betray it. At length, after draining his glass, the P. M. heaved himself to his feet to return to the Prince of Wales.

That afternoon, the Chiefs of Staff worked over their agenda: production, priorities, shipping—material, men and money—the three musts of modern war.

After the meeting, I was lighting a cigaret for an American Navy officer.

"Love us!" he murmured. "All they want is our birthright!"

There was a formal dinner on the Augusta that Saturday night, and as the evening wore on toward midnight I saw Father in a new role. My experience had been that he dominated every gathering he was part of; not because he insisted on it so much as that it always seemed his natural due.

But not tonight. Tonight, Father just listened. Somebody else was holding the audience, holding it with grand, rolling, periodic speeches that were always ripe and fruity to the point where it seemed you'd be able to take his sentences and squeeze them until the juice ran out.

Father Just Drew Him Out

Winston Churchill held every one of us, that night—and he was conscious every second of the time that he was holding us. All that Father did was to throw in an occasional question—just drawing him out, drawing him out.

Churchill r'ared back in his chair, he slewed his cigar around and always at a jaunty angle, he hunched his shoulders forward like a bull, his hands slashed the air expressively, his eyes flashed. He held us enthralled even when we inclined to disagree.

He told us the course of the war. He told of battle after battle, lost; "but Britain always wins the wars!" He told us, with a fair show of frankness, just how close to defeat his countrymen had come. For a time his talk was colored with an insistent note of pleading: "It's your only chance! You've got to come in! If you don't declare war—declare war! I say, without waiting for them to strike the first blow—they'll strike it after we've gone under, and their first blow will be their last blow as well!"

But even while his listeners could detect the underlying appeal, his whole bearing gave the impression of an indomitable force that would do all right, thank you, even if we didn't heed his warning.

Now and then, Father would ask a question.

"The Russians?"

"The Russians!" There was an edge of contempt in his voice, and then he seemed to catch himself. "Of course, they're much stronger than we ever dared to hope. But no one can tell how much longer . . ."

Clearly Churchill put little or no credence in Russia's ability to halt the Nazi invasion. And there were no "ifs." He had the dice in his hand, that August night, and he was casting for heavy stakes. He was anxious to make clear to us that the lion's share of Lend-Lease should go to the British Lion; that any aid to the Soviets was simply to temporize, and eventually to lose. And that led him all the more certainly to his one final conclusion:

"The Americans must come in at our side! You must come in, if you are to survive."

And Father listened, intently, now and then rubbing his eyes fiddling, with his pincenez, doodling on the tablecloth. But never an aye, nay or maybe came from the Americans sitting around that smoke-filled cabin.

It was like a second round, between friendly adversaries. It came to no decision, but there was no one in that crowd who felt like yelling for a better scrap. All of us wanted both of them to win.

The Irony of It All!!

The Air Is Choked With Lies

By WILLIAM L. PATTERSON

American imperialism has forced the Yugoslavian government to eat humble pie. Marshal Tito has been compelled to appease the fascist-minded clique who run the state department and the Big Business monopolists who today through Hoover, Vandenberg, Connally, Dulles and Byrnes dictate the foreign policy of this country.

The Third World War draws closer. Encouraged by this victory, American imperialism will get even tougher. Only the people can save the situation and they can save it only if they are clear. Therein lies the gravest danger. We are not clear as to what is going on. We are confused. Everywhere the big papers distort the news. The air is choked with lies.

Radio commentators shout that the radicals of America took Tito's side. "They deserted their country and supported a foreign government. Our government needs the support of the people". But facts are stubborn things. Is this OUR government?

American planes violated international law. They are being flown over Yugoslavian territory without the consent of that people. They act as spies mapping the Yugoslavian border, photographing Yugoslavian fortifications, threafening the lives and sovereign rights of the courageous people of that heroic little country.

Why!

Because Yugoslavia is an outpost of the new democracy growing and developing in Eastern Europe. Because Tito and the people have punished the fascist landlords who betrayed them to Hitler and given their land to the landless peasants.

American imperialists, fearful of this democratic upsurge, have and continue to interfere in Yugoslavia, Poland, Roumania, Bulgaria, Finland.

Jimmy Byrnes, representative of the Southern lynch landlords who have robbed poor whites and poorer blacks alike of their land, is ordered — "stop the spread of this people's movement". Senator Vandenberg, who speaks for the billionaire banking mobsters who have robbed and are robbing the American farmers of their land so outrageously, through mortgage foreclosures, and the manuvering of farm product prices is ordered — "stop this movement of the people".

Russia, with its people's government, is charged with inspiring it all. But—American imperialism dominates the economic life of South America. Where the people resist, Yankee-dollar imperialism provokes an uprising, changes governments, puts its puppets into power. That historical fact stands forth almost unmistakably clear. Is Russia in that picture?

American imperialism holds the Spanish Butcher Franco, Hitler's butcher, in power. Franco is supplied with goods and money. The Spanish people's movement is stifled. Is Russia responsible for that?

American troops are in 56 countries. Are they protecting your interests? They have incited civil war in China; American imperialists supply Chinese reaction with guns, ammunition and military advisers.

Is all this our (yours and mine) foreign policy, or is this the foreign policy of men who are out to dominate and subjugate the world—your enemy and mine. What does it mean in terms of rising prices here at home? How is this linked with the drive against the trade unions, the terror against the Negro people, the super-exploitation of the Southern states which have become a prison house for American masses? You must find the answer to these questions.

Big Three Unity as expressed in the Roosevelt foreign policy has gone by the boards. No shred of the Roosevelt Economic Bill of Rights is left. We have no housing program. The veterans of World War II are being forgotten. We are being robbed of our meager savings by price increases. Is Russia responsible for all that? There is a fierce and terrible campaign on to kindle a hatred of Russia. That is imperialism's road to a third World War. Your eyes are being drawn from the robbers and robbery at home. Yugoslavia is not your enemy or mine. Russia is not the enemy. Surely we will, we must learn something from the rise of fascism in Germany. The people must be aroused and clarified.

W. J. Wheaton Says

The political cauldron has ceased simmering and come to the boiling point and unless there is some spirited stirring it will boil over and there will be some badly-scalded aspirants when the votes are tabulated in November. Never before has there been evidenced such an independent trend.

Political experts are nonplussed and their predictions carry little weight. Candidates for office are being tabbed for what they have accomplished, not for the label they are stamped with. Partisanship is thrown to the winds and unless the candidate has shown a disposition to subordinate self to the welfare of the whole people, that candidate is doomed to disappointment.

The party in power is usually blamed for whatever happens during its tenure. The Democratic party is now in the majority and whatever happens, for good or for ill, is laid to its credit or discredit. This tendency to blame the ruling party is being exploited to the full by the Republican strategists who would have us forget their responsibility in unholy alliance with the Southern Democrats for the defeat of FEPC, the anti-lynching and anti-poll tax bills. The recent outbreaks in the South in which racial minorities have suffered—all these things happening in the South, stronghold of the Democratic party—have placed that party, as the saying goes, "on the spot."

The arts and sayings of the Bilbos and Talmadges have nullified the work of decent Southerners like Gov. Arnall of Georgia. Unless the party repudiates the apostles of racial and religious intolerance, it will suffer a defeat, a debacle in the November elections from which it will take years to recover.

The Democratic party still has a chance. It is in power. Should it show that it is sincere in its effort to outlaw lynching, give factual evidence that it not only intends to ferret out the criminals but bring them to justice, the Democratic party can redeem itself, continue the progressive trend inaugurated by the late leader, President Franklin D. Roosevelt. To effect this, it must subordinate its political hold on the feudal South to the championship of constituted law, the upholding of the rights of all citizens. It is up to President Truman to see that the Department of Justice does not shirk its duty to uphold the law.

We were not surprised when Republican Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York whitewashed the shooting of two Negro vets in Freeport, Long Island. The Republican party long has been strong on promises to the Negro people, short on performance.

Dewey comes up for re-election this November. He is also an aspirant to the presidency. New York's minority group voters will no doubt let Dewey know how they feel about his performance o nthe Freeport case.

"What have you done and what can we expect of you," will be the criterion by which the voters, especially minority group voters, will judge the candidates this November. "Will you back up those who place human value above all else?" "Will you support such measures of human interest as may be put forward by such representatives in congress as Helen Gahagan Douglas and Frank R. Havenner?" If so, you can have our votes, and the vote of every decent citizen who has the welfare and progress of this nation at heart.

It is up to us, the men and women who cast the votes, to see that those who represent us are men and women of courage and integrity. To that end we must, all of us, work and be vigilant.

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By Martinez Hewlett

After taking a terrible beating in the City Council and weathering the storm for over six months, the Warburton Resolution to raise the scale of pay, institute a 40-hour week and pay overtime at time and a half for city maintenance workers and refuse collectors, was vetoed by Mayor Bowron on Monday and lost, when the City Council upheld the mayor's veto in an 8-5 vote.

The mayor gave a few very weak reasons for his veto and even hinted that certain members of the council were trying to make him look bad.

Well, after this latest act on his part, I'm afraid that he has committed political suicide, not to mention the fact that a lot of people who were depending on him have lost faith in the good mayor.

Mayor Bowron said that adoption of the resolution would be unfair to other employes of the city. What other employes? Didn't the mayor authorize salary increases in his and other offices in the City Hall? And didn't these increases go to individuals who already made four and five hundred dollars per month? And if I remember correctly, these raises weren't a paltry 15 or 20 dollars but were from 100 to 150 dollars.

While these high salaried raises were taking place the mayor was also busy creating new jobs, like the first assistant to the second assistant of the city attorney, or some such drivel, where the position paid three times as much as the highest paid refuse collector makes per month.

In his 4000-word veto message the mayor said a few other things. He said that the adoption of the resolution would increase the expense to the city, provide for payment of time and on half for overtime, which was "not the policy of the city," that the present financial condition of the city would not justify the additional expenditure and that if the pay increases were granted, it would start an inflationary spiral.

As far as increasing the expense of the city, I say—So what? He has increased the revenue anyway.

Now for this archaic policy of compensating time worked overtime with time off. This, of course, is what the mayor refers to, when he says that paying time and one-half for overtime is not the policy of the city. So a guy works 10 or maybe 12 hours overtime. He doesn't get a dime for it, yet he has to put in overtime work. All he gets for his added sweat is time off. This would be nice if he had a little extra cash to take his family out to the beach or go on a little trip or even to spend his time with a nice hobby. But he doesn't have any extra cash. He's so underpaid now that he can hardly make ends meet.

So we find the city worker spending his earned off-time waiting to go back to work. What a system!

Ah, the present financial condition of the City—We heard all about the new taxes and the $17,000,000 surplus in the city treasury, Mr. Mayor.

The mayor's last reason for his veto, although it left a slight anti-laborish taste in my mouth, was the least logical. He said that he saw no reason for giving the workers special consideration because they belonged to the CIO.

Well now, according to the city charter, city workers are to be paid the prevailing wage of those doing comparable work in private industry. The increases recommended by the resolution were based upon the rates paid by the Associated General Contractors, not the CIO.

The city in the past has based its pay schedules on the rates set by the AGC. The resolution contained the AGC rates for 1945-46, but since then the AGC has given another raise, which went into effect in July.

It seems that the mayor has vetoed a wage increase, which the AGC (the accepted authority) has since changed to an even higher scale.

Rep. Patterson Seeks To Outlaw Hate Cults

Introduction by Congressman Ellis E. Patterson of a bill outlawing "anti-Semitism and hatred of members of any race or religious because of race, creed or color," was announced here yesterday by the Los Angeles chapter of the American Jewish Labor Council.

In a letter to Dr. Sanford Goldner, president of the local chapter, Congressman Patterson said:

"I have introduced this bill after hearing men like Bilbo and Rankin and others in congress, where such activities should be in disgrace and are a disgrace. I have introduced this bill because there seems to be no way to stop race-baiting except to make it illegal."

Commending the work of the American Jewish Labor Council, Patterson declared:

"I want to commend the American Jewish Labor Council for its notable work in stamping out racial and religious prejudice in this nation. I was happy to collaborate with them in drawing up this piece of legislation."

Plans are under way for a mass meeting on Thursday, September 12, at which Congressman Patterson and others will speak on "The Jewish Crisis in Europe and Palestine."

THINGS I SEE

By Marian Inglewood

The majority of folks in the East seem just as complacent and indifferent concerning the things of our government as any of us in California. They think and plan and talk about everything else under the sun—crops, business, home, washing, cooking, the high cost of living, rent, prices, the movies, comics, church, Sunday school, the new car their neighbors got, the new radio—anything and everything except politics. That manifestly does not interest anyone. It simply isn't good form to be interested in politics. Except, of course to lambast the government, especially the Democrats, the same as the people of California do.

But it never once seems to enter their heads that this is their government—our government—and that we, all of us, are responsible for our government. They know, of course, that under our constitution and our form of government we the people of the United States of America can have anything at all we really want. ANYTHING. I we just want it badly enough to work for it, and to keep on working for it until we get it. But they know that only as a theory of government. As something they have read in a book. And then forgotten.

"Well, it's our economic system," I told a man who was complaining bitterly about the high prices. "You see we have the private-profit system and we boast so much about our 'free enterprise' here in America. That means that anyone can have perfect freedom to make all the money, all the profit he possibly can out of other human beings. Out of their desires and necessities, especially out of their necessities."

That held him for a while, for he above all things would resent any thought of changing our economic system.

They complain about taxes. Same as they do in California. But no one seems to realize that taxes are also an integral part of our private-profit system, and if we want to preserve the "blessing" of having a few families own and control the greater part of the wealth of the land—wealth accrued from the labor of working people—then we'll have to submit to the inconvenience of paying taxes to preserve that "blessing."

The racial question is a witches' brew. In Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, a group of Negro youths recently beat up two policemen. In line with the shooting-op of white motorists by a Negro family in Mississippi. The exact reverse of the normal order of things.

Of course they were "regrettable incidents." (Isn't that the way Governor-elect Talmadge of Georgia described the recent lynching of four Negroes in his state?)

People in Harrisburg have expressed their horror, and leaders of both Negroes and whites have voiced their disapproval.

But——

Deep down in my soul I am glad. Wickedly glad. It sort of makes up in a small measure for the shooting in the back of that little Mexican boy by a deputy sheriff in Los Angeles.

The worm is beginning to turn at last. We are learning the hard way that the fair promises of a new and better world, for which we fought in the war just ended, will become realities only through our own efforts. How steep, how long, how hard that hill is which we shall have to climb, only God in Heaven knows.

It will still cost blood and sweat and tears. It may cost lives. The pathway will become rougher, the road thornier as we approach our goal. But shall we flinch because of this, when that goal still gleams before us although farther away than we had hoped?

We would not be worthy of those dead who died in Europe, in Okinawa, in Guadalcanal, if we were not willing to continue their fight for the freedom of the world from Fascism. The Armageddon of that fight may be in America.

Fight legally. In the courts. Through the ballot. But make it plain to our enemies that we intend to figtht. And fight hard.

The GOP and the FEPC

By PETTIS PERRY

It has been more than a month now since the 1946 state conventions of the Republican and Democratic parties of California were held. Since that time, many of my friends and acquaintances have asked me why it is that the Republican party at its convention did not see fit to pass a resolution or make as part of its platform a fighting program for the passage of FEPC?

I am sorry that I am not the best qualified to answer this question, on the contrary, this question has raised a number of questions in my mind; therefore, I must pose the above question along with my own. Why is it that Governor Warren of California, and leader of the state organization of the Republican party did not push this question, or did Warren raise this question of making an all out fight to mobilize California's voters to go to the polls to vote FEPC? Did you, Senator Knowland, attempt to push this issue in the state convention? If so, what happened, what was the attitude of your party collegues; did they support you or not?

A question to the Negro delegates who attended the state convention. We have a right to know, did you speak out for FEPC, if so, what happened? Did you find support for it in the ranks of the Republican party, if so, why is it that such a proposal was not made a part of the state platform of the Republican party? If you did not get support for such a proposal why is it that up until now you have not fulfilled your duty and explained this to the Negro people. These are very serious questions. We must not tolerate fence straddling on this important issue.

I urge the Negro people to place these questions before all supporters of the Republican party and their candidates and demand an answer from them. This is especially serious when we see the increased flagrant discrimination against the Negro and other minority groups. Remember when these leaders appear before your organization to ask your support for their candidate they must not be permitted to side-step these questions. I certainly would like to know the opinion of Fred Roberts, B. B. Bratton, Mrs. Betty Hill and a number of the other Republican leaders, both black and white.

You must, at the same time, demand of the candidates of the Democratic party, that, since their convention did go on record for FEPC, that we expect an aggressive fight on their part for the passage of a Fair Employment Practices Act for California.

On second thought, another question occurs to me, that is, how is it that Warren, Knowland and the whole Republican party of California have not repudiated the Chamber of Commerce and the Women of the Pacific, both of whom are at this very moment engaged in an all out fight to defeat FEPC? These groups, year after year, are the supporters of the Republican party and year after year show themselves as the outspoken reactionary forces in California, anti-labor and now with their anti-Negro and all other minority propaganda against FEPC.

A LAYMAN'S VIEW

By Leon W. Steward

WEST VIEW HOSPITAL IN PROSPECT FOR L. A.

Does Los Angeles need additional hospital beds? Ask the man that needs one. Ask this one who only a year ago witnessed a tragedy he will never forget right here in Los Angeles, where many of us smugly feel that Fascists reside only in Mississippi—not in Sunny California.

Our relative was seriously ill and the doctors ordered hospitalization. A special hospital was suggested. It was contacted and told the story. "Yes, we have a room, bring her out." The ambulance came and she was delivered to the hospital and to the room. After about an hour her husband was told, "this is going to cost you considerable money." "Money is no object in such a case," he replied. After a while the official returned and whined "You know, that room had been promised an out-of-town patient and we have had a telephone message that that patient is now in town and enroute to the hospital. We must have the room." After some words that are not pertiment to this story, the patient was rushed to another small sanitorium where she died after a few hours. The end. Now, you tell your story, we are sure you have one revealing the need of a hospital which promises to be "open to every race, creed, and color in the finest tradition of American democracy."

WEST VIEW IS BORN

Twenty-five Negro doctors and denists became tired of stories like the one above. They became fed up with delivering their patients to private hospitals and turning them over to white doctors and to a system that forced them into expensive private rooms simply because they were not caucasians. They knew that they could not readily follow up the work of doctors who would not even permit them to see the operation and do a good post-operation job. In fact they often lost the patient entirely. So they got together a year ago and incorporated as the West View Hospital, Inc., a non-profit organization. They then went into their own pockets and dug up $25,000 and purchased the entire six lots on the east side of Main st. between 53rd and 54th sts. On this land they envisaged a hospital which could accomodate 300 beds at an ultimate cost of a million dollars. They then engaged Paul R. Williams, noted architect, who designed the hospital. They enlisted a large number of community leaders to form the Community Advisory Board. And thus was West View Hospital born.

THEIR MODEL

The new hospital will be modeled after the People's Hospital of St. Louis, which has 108 beds and 20 bassinets, is owned, controlled and operated by the People's Hospital Association, a non-profit organization. The board of the St. Louis hospital is composed of 21 persons, Negro and white. It has a mixed hospital staff, the acting staff predominatly Negro and the consulting staff predominantly white. It is a member of the St. Louis Community Chest, which underwrites its operating deficit. It is a member of the St. Louis Hospital Council, Missouri Hospital Association and the Social Planning Council. its overall cost for 1945 was $6.20 per day. Operating cost was $5.62 per day.

We phoned the Community Chest and were told "West View Hospital is a sound project, greatly needed and worth the support of the people." We inquired of Dr. D. A. Hawkins, its dynamic president about its immediate plans. He informed us that an intensive educational and fund raising movement will be underway September 15 in order to get the people of its immediate service area conscious of and in support of the hospital. He pointed out that the hospital project needs more tangible good will from this area and believes it prospects will be even brighter than at present when more people know the story and see the opportunity to solve a great community problem.

SIGNIFICANT OPPORTUNITIES

A speakers bureau of qualified medical men and laymen is already to serve groups interested in learning more about West View Hospital. These groups might consider either a ward bed at $155, a minor surgical room at 1200, a technical laboratory at $2500, a sterilizing room at $3000 or a surgical room at $5000, as a fitting expression of their interest in the hurried completion of this most urgently needed utility. We individuals might well make it a point to supply your current social, sporting and cultural needs by supporting all of the projects which will soon be advertised as West View Hospital Benefits. Among them are a prize fight of high calibre, a social event and a deluxe musical concert. However should you want your name among those who are making possible this million dollar interracial health center, sign a pledge card so that your amount can be more nearly as large as you would like, or just mail your check to West View Hospital, Inc. 5334 S. Main street or telephone CEntury 2-6717.

This project is indeed a challenge to every man, woman and child in its service area and to every intelligent citizen in Los Angeles. Maybe YOUR life will depend on a first class hospital devoid of racial restrictions some day.

From an Indian's Standpoint

By DALJIT SINGH SADHARIA

TURMOIL IN INDIA

A great wave of unrest and violence is sweeping over the vast Indian peninsula. The tragic riots and murders in all the principal cities of the land threaten to plunge India into the whirlpool of civil war if irresponsible and reactionary forces secure the upperhand in Indian politics and governmental affairs.

The stormy winds are let loose upon one-fifth of the human race. The entire fabric of Indian society and politics is upheaving with the force of an avalanche from one end of the country to the other, and there is not the least hope of a peaceful and friendly solution of the Indian constitutional problem. It is no use to cry peace when there is no peace. The four quarters of the vast and ancient center of races and cultures is thrown into the ocean of world politics, and every wind that blows agitates its bark. India is indeed exposed to most formidable dangers from without; within its elements are equally in violent commotion.

The real reason of the gathering storm is undoubtedly the eternal and mortal conflict between the Hindus and the Moslems, caused and intensified by the divide and rule formula of the British raj. The murderous enmity between the two factions has subsisted ever since the excursions and invasions of Muslim freebooters who burst upon India in the tenth century like a swarm of locusts after they had successfully overrun the fairest portions of the Byzantine and Persian empires. For over a period of three centuries the Mohammedans continued their efforts to conquer India by all the means in their power, but their efforts were frustrated by the valiant Rajputs, who closed their ranks against a foreign foe. But in the 15th century the famous Baber founded the Moghul empire at the expense of glorious and ancient Hindu kingdoms and ruling dynasties, which lasted for over two centuries. The empire founded by Baber collapsed like a house of cards in the hands of a fanatical Aurengzeb, who put the Hindu race to fire and sword as Nero, a ferocious Roman emperor did the early Christians.

It is the old memory of the Moghul empire that agitates the Indian Muslims, who dream of the restoration of Muslim religion and power at the point of the bayonet. But the Hindus are equally determined to resist the efforts of the Muslims to bring about the same status quo which existed in the time of Muslim ascendency and power. The Muslim League, the greatest militant organization of Muslim Indians, has declared a holy war against the Hindu race and religion, and is at present throwing a monkey-wrench into the working of the Indian political machine. The Parkistan of the League is the destruction of the Hindus as a race and history, and there is no question that all Hindus will perish to a man before they yield an inch of Indian ground to alien nationalists of the Muslim world.

The difficulty between the two communities cannot be resolved by soft words and phrases, but by blood and iron. The Russian Bolshevik methods which unified the greatest land area of the globe will prove most useful in building India into a nation.

Exploding a Myth

By LEW GARRETT

The Number One Myth now being foisted off on the American public via all the big-business-controlled outlets of propaganda goes something like this:

"It doesn't do the worker any good to get higher wages. Because higher wages mean higher prices, so he doesn't gain a thing."

"Nuts!"

And the reason for the answer should be 100 percent clear to every citizen voter to enable him or her to analyze the present plight of labor caused by removal of the OPA and refusal of profit-intoxicated business to grant decent wages.

Big business, and most smaller businesses, can give substantial wage raises to workers without raising prices, because:

Removal of most of the wartime surplus profit taxes and opening of loopholes in most of the other tax schedules to the benefit of big business interests means approximately a 100 percent increase in profits for business over 1945 profits without the expenditure of a dime.

And, remember, 1945 was the most profitable year for business in the history of the U. S.

Technological developments during the war mean that in every basic industry each worker can produce a great deal more than before the war. That means he earns more money for his employer—money that should, at least in part, go to the worker.

Advances during World War I. according to government figures, enabled the worker to produce approximately ½ more than in pre-war days. There is every reason to think that the second world war saw even greater technological advances.

A heavy sellers' market means greater profits to business with far less expenditures. Goods no longer stand on shelves, they are grabbed immediately by a consumer goods-starved public. This rapid turnover decreases overhead and personnel requirements.

But perhaps the best reason that workers deserve higher wages without price increases is that while business has enjoyed its greatest profits in history because of a world war in which millions have died, workers have seen their earnings shrink and shrink in real value as price rises left wage gains far in the rear.

There is no reason why all the sacrifices of the war must be borne by working men and women. Let the employers reap but a fair profit—if that can be called a sacrifice — to enable the 60,000,000 workers to a decent standard of living.

Will Discuss Ownership of Ocean Property

By William Mells Watson

Dear Folks, listen:

Do you know where as much as one inch of land, ocean frontage, is owned and controlled by a member of the black race anywhere between San Diego and Seattle?

Just think of it for a moment. Why, years ago we—, yes, but do we own it now? It is sad, isn't it? And just what are you willing to do about it, Mr. and Mrs. Westerner?

Government figures show that more than 133,000 colored people are now living in Los Angeles, and probably a quarter of a million in all within one hundred miles of this city. But not one drop of Pacific water is yours. So what?

Any suggestions? Sure, dozens of them:

One hundred of us working together could change all this. What do you say? Shall we sit down and talk it over? Or are you interested? Can you spare an hour Saturday night, September 7? Or at least write a note that you are in line with the majority's plans, if any.

This is your problem, so let's tackle it now.

We can meet wherever you say. You are welcome to use my office, 2100 Central avenue, PR. 5983, Saturday night, September 7, 8 o'clock sharp.—(Adv.)

WHAT'S DOING IN THE SOCIAL SET

By JESSIE MAE BROWN

A WANING SUMMER finds the local realm of women bidding adieu to a grand member of the Fourth Estate, Helen Chappel Smith, and a popular religious social worker, Ella K. Mays. Both have been leaders in their respective fields, and are leaving behind imprints of very earnest and constructive work. Helen, who has scribed in local papers for the past eight years, editing the EAGLE's social section in her initial stages as a local newspaper woman, has written her last column of social news. Along with her family, she will leave, shortly, for Vermont, to take up permanent residence, rest a bit, and then try a more serious phase of the newspaper game. Angelenos hate to see the "Chatter and News" lady go, so, many are the social gatherings that have been given in her honor before her departure.

Jessie Mae Brown

On Monday afternoon, Maude W. Foster's homey abode was the scene of a pleasant chatty luncheon, with some 20 or more of Helen's friends in attendance, eager to engage in a nostalgic interlude of "remember when." Jeanne Parrish, wearing a very smart "Page Boy" suit, couldn't quite bring herself to say "goodby"; Lillyan Townsend, Thelma Venerable, Rosa Cobbs, Jay Fairchild, looking very chic in late summer garb, added much to the chatter; Esther Griffith and Eva and Ella Woods, were fashionably late arrivals, Lorenza Jordan Cole, and daughter, Yvonne, were in attendance with the charming Delta visitor, Mrs. Senior, of Ohio; Blanche Groggs, just back from Frisco, Grace Fisher Atkins, Venna Hickman, Lou Boswell and a host of others completed the party. Hoping that she will find Vermont an interesting place in which to live, I join the others in wishing Helen bon voyage, looking forward to her return visit to the city next summer, when Zeta Phi Beta sorority holds its national convention here.

Saturday evening at 8:30, Ella Mays will entrain, along with her husband, Rev. Horace Mays, for Philadelphia. For the past year she has been very active as director of religious activities at Second Baptist church, and acting director of the "Henderson Community Center." On Tuesday night her many friends, including a large group of youth workers, feted her with a farewell social. For ten months, she and her husband will reside on the campus of the Eastern Baptist Theological seminary. While her husband works toward his D.R.E., she plans to rekindle old friendships in Philadelphia, before returning to L. A. next July.

INTERESTING BITS

Serving as a prelude to a gay evening at the Meadowbrook, popular Gloria Howard entertained a small party, with an early supper that was complete with candle light and dinner music. Included were: Andre Von, R. B. Porter, Gloria Bunch, Adelia and Lister Leonard, LeFrance Brown, and Yours Truly. Tripping the light fantastics to the rhythm of Duke Ellington's orchestra topped the evening, and the singing of Al Hibler made it complete. So happens that Adelia and Lister are old friends of Hibler's, so it was the natural thing for the king of song to spend off time at our table along with Duke and other members of the orchestra. A very interesting evening.

On Saturday night, Rose King had a few friends in at her South Los Angeles home, to greet three charming debs from Chicago . . . Sunday found Yours Truly spending a very pleasing day at the beach along with a perfect group of Younger Setters. Johnny Luke, assisted by Norman Houston, put the collapsible rubber boat together that Johnny brought from Germany. After two or three hours' labor, the boat wouldn't sail. Stella Estes was there with George Sturdivant; Samuel Strain escorted Margurite Lewis. Gloria and Nat Shaw, Wallace Decuir and a very studious C. C. deb, and many another enjoyed the day swimming and picnicking. . . . My chum Friday did a good job of keeping the social events of Sunday covered. The shower given for Corine Jones and Ballinger Kemp Sunday afternoon by Ethel and Ed. Atkinson was well attended and the popular twosome was showered with plenty goods for the pantry. The Doll League Charity Club met and planned to serve as hostesses at the EAGLE promotional tea on Sept. 8. Marian Martel and Frank Strange were wed in a beautiful all-white ceremony. Rosalie Walker made a beautiful bride in her wedding at Casa Rafael. Rev. and Mrs. Lloyd Galloway were "at home" from 4 to 6, and the birthday party honoring Lanecia Boggs was cancelled until a later date.

CUPID'S CORNER

Late summer weddings and nuptial parties are crowding the social calendar. The marriage of Miss Corine Jones, daughter of Atty. and Mrs. Clarence Jones and Ballinger Kemp, son of Mrs. Edith Kemp, has inspired many courtesies. The wedding, which will be of interest to Southland society, will be performed promptly at 4 p. m. Sunday at the St. Philips Episcopal church. One of the bride's sisters, Mrs. Edith Boyd, will not be able to make the trip from N. Y. for the ceremony. However, she will arrive shortly after to visit with the family and old friends. Mrs. Gwen Simmons, the bride's other sister, will serve as matron of honor. Other members of the bridal party will include: Joyce Steward, Mabel Renfro, Henriella Kingi and Jean Watkins. Wallace Decuir will be best man, and ushers will be Eugene Johnson, Joe Oliver, Edwin Sneed and Arnim Lipscomb of New York.

The bridal dinner will be help Saturday night, at the home of the groom's mother, Mrs. Edith Kamp.

Another wedding of interest was held on August 26, in Columbus, Ohio, when Captain Edward L. Toppins, of San Francisco, and Miss Lucille Broak, of Cleveland, recited vows in a military wedding. His sisters, Henrietta Whitby, Naomi Davis Provost and Delphine Toppins, attended the ceremony along with their mother, Mrs. E. Davis.

The wedding reception for the former Edna Robinson and John C. Azora will be held Sunday from 4 to 7 in the evening at the family residence.

Miss Jessie Arnold of Pasadena entertained her club members, "The Fine Melloneers," last Tuesday. This meeting will long be remembered, for the gay deb very cleverly included in the minutes the announcement of her engagement to Robert R. Johnson. The couple plan to wed in December.

EVENTS

The Crop 'n' Tail Riding club members will take over at Jenkins' Ranch over the Labor Day week-end. Moonlight rides and swimming will highlight the trip. . . . Rosalie Smith's semi-formal party is set for Friday night. By the way, Felix and Symanthia Williams have scheduled the same night for their wedding reception over in Pasadena. . . . Pi Chapter of Deltas are holding their progressive dinner. . . . Saturday night, the Royal Dragons will be hosts at the Elks auditorium, while the popular "Turn About Club" will carry on with their fine cocktail party at Alpha Bowling club. According to Lou Boswell, Mel Temple Blocker and the rset of the members, it will be "the affair."

WELL! WELL! WELL!

Atty. Martha Malone Williams is really "living" and won't be back in L. A. until Sept. 3. Her latest jottings were from Canada, having spent some time in N. Y., D. C. and other gay points East. . . . Albert McNeil writes from Detroit that the Negro Musicians' Convention was tops. . . . L. A.'s Mildred Blount is now vacationing in the nation's capital.

Sis Russell is on the go again. . . . Sorry to hear that James Stacher is on the sick list. . . . The "Conservative Dukes" announce their pre-fall dance at Alpha Bowling on September 6. Leon Jones is president. Fay Hopkins is vacationing in Mexico. . . . The brief stopover of Col. B. O. Davis, Jr., created much excitement in L. A. He visited with Mrs. Mamie Anderson, Rochester's better half, at their beautiful estate and also Mrs. Hortense Graham and husband. He plans a return to the Angel City with a good vacation in mind. Making the deadline. . . . 'TIL NEXT WEEK.

MR. AND MRS. TADASHI KINGI were honored with a reception Sunday afternoon between the hours of 3 to 7 at the lovely home of their aunt, Mrs. Bernice Barnum. The popular young couple recently eloped to Las Vegas, Nevada. The bride is the former Dolores McDaniel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McDaniel. (See story.)—Jesse Smith photo.

Mr. and Mrs. Tadashi Kingi, nee Dolores McDaniel, received Sunday between the hours of 3 and 7 p. m. at a reception, occasioned by their recent elopement to Las Vagas, Nevada. The affair was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Bernice Barnum, local school principal.

The bride received in a beautiful white gown that featured a bouffant skirt with three quarter length sleeves. She wore an orchid corsage. Her mother, Mrs. Fred McDaniel, wore a lace gown over taffeta slip, the bride groom's mother, Mrs. Kingi, wore blue. The bride's cousin, Geraldine Barnum assisted in the receiving line, and her aunt Mrs. Bernice Barnum assisted the guests to the line. Audrey Cloyd assisted at the door.

Both of the bride's grandmothers were present. Mrs. Susie E. Webb, pioneer resident of the city, and Mrs. Ruby McDaniel.

Both young people attended Manual Arts High school. The groom is a member of the U. S. armed forces.

Kiddie Party

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Lumas of 3663 So. Van Ness honored their two children Sonny and Janet with a joint birthday party Sunday afternoon.

The little host and hostess greeted a large number of their little friends, who enjoyed ice cream and cake after playing many games that are popular with the youngsters.

Lone Wolf Club Elects Officers

The "Lone Wolf club" had its annual election of officers at the YMCA on August 7. The newly elected officers are: President, Mr. Palmer P. Lampkins; vice president, Mr. James A. Thorpe; secretary, Mr. Lemuel Anderson; treasurer, Mr. James S. Harris; business manager, Mr. Edward Smith; sergeant-at-arms, Mr. Rudolph E. Manning; corresponding secretary, Mr. Alfred L. Martin; club critic, Mr. Sullivan W. Jackson; chairman of auditors, Mr. Charles R. Mattlock; chairman of investigation, Mr. Kay M. Reins; reporter, Mr. Usher W. Crawford.

On August 21, the club had its first meeting, with the new officers presiding. The president discussed the duties that the officers and members should perform. The president also brought in helpful ideas for discussion to enhance the social activities of the club. The club also commended the outgoing president, r. Sullivan Jackson, for his untiring efforts during the war.

Toledo Delta Feted By Pi Chapter

Friday evening Pi chapter of Delta Sigma Theta sorority was honored by Soror Senior of Toledo, Ohio. She is an active Delta and organizor of Delta interest groups in the Midwest. She presented some very interesting and promising ideas to the enthusiastic members.

At this meeting, plans were completed for the Progressive Dinner on August 30. Entrees will be served at 2035 W. 29th st. from 7 to 8, followed by dinner at 2198 W. 29th pl. from 8 to 10. Tickets for the Cocktail Dance which follows the dinner will be available by all Pi chapter members. This affair will be one of the outstanding events to terminate the summer season.

Betty Gipson, presiding, led the meeting in completing plans for the Rush affairs which will take place early in September. The group intends to entertain all enthusiastic girls new on campus.

Soror Faye Hopkins, president, left Saturday morning for Mexico City where she will spend the rest of the summer vacation. She will return to UCLA in September.

Marcilyn Cobbs, who was recently initiated into the sorority, informed the group that she is going to attend Howard university this fall. She is anxious to meet her sorors on Howard's campus.

The Deltas of Los Angeles are anticipating a very active program for the coming season.

Southlanders, from social, civic and religious realms will be listed among the hundreds in attendance at the well planned "Coffee," being staged on the morning and afternoon of Septem 8, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. by the South Western Region of the National Association of Colored Graduate Nurses. The affair will be held in the palatial setting of the Westchester pl. home of Dr. and Mrs. Hardiman, and the public is invited to attend.

Marking a first effort on the part of the South Western Region, which includes Oklahoma, Texas, Arizona, New Mexico and California, headed by Mrs. Ferrel Connor, regional president, the nurses expect this affair to go over in a big way, making their initial contribution to the re-regional fund a mammoth one. The South Western Region is the 6th region of the National to be formed. It was organized during the conference held here April 18-19 and 20. All proceeds will be used to carry on the work of the region. Contributions for the effort will be sent from all the other states represented in the region.

OUTSTANDING PROGRAM

Headed by the very capable Mrs. Ruth Douglas R. N. and regional treasurer, a program has been planned that will feature outstanding members of the film colony as well as civic leaders. The speaker of the morning will be Assemblyman Gus Hawkins, who will base his speech on a phase of health. The response will be given by Ferrell Connor, who will link present day nursing with the natural community trend. Clarence Muse will be M.C., and breakfast music will be played throughout. Among the race notables to appear will be Lena Horn, Carlton Moss, Wonderful Smith, Eddy Green, Caleb Peterson, and Armon D. Wilson.

Assisting Mrs. Douglass with the program will be Ann Johnson, chairman of hostesses, Emma Bristow, Fay Wilson, local president, registration. Mrs. Hardiman and Hattie McDaniel, of stage and screen will pour.

The affair is scheduled to be the finest of the season, and the proceeds will go for a very worthy cause.

The association of Graduate Colored Nurses was organized in 1908 in New York, with the purpose of assisting in the promotion of opportunities for nursing services and to help improve the present opportunities to encourage the Negro nurse t prepare for these opportunitie and to make her conscious of he share in improving the health c Negroes and to work for the im provement of the educationa standards of Negro nurses a recommended for all nurses.

Many persons will be ending their summer trips to the beach, desert, and resorts with the Labor Day holiday. Be careful!!! California has the highest death toll in the country. So let's drive with more care than usual because there are more cars on the road than in a number of years. Nough said.

One of the most gala affairs of the summer was given by Mr. and Mrs. Carrington Viser at the home of Lee and Helen Holloway. More than 100 persons gathered throughout the evening on the beautiful grounds of the Holloways for a wonderful time. Some of those partaking of the delicious barbeque were Mrs. Zepher Ramsey, Mr. and Mrs. James Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nelson, Mrs. Margaret James, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Benson, Mrs. Gertrude Sims, Susie Riley, Miss Leonadis Simmons of New York and her mother, Mrs. Mable Simmons, and Rochelle Vaughn. From Los Angeles, Miss Emma Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. King Spencer and Mrs. Ida Hudson were there. Many many more enjoyed the food, games and the chattering throughout the night.

Back from Chicago is Mrs. Elizabeth Armstrong where she visited her daughter and her new twin granddaughters. . . . Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Abbot Jones were showered with presents by their friends at their reception. . . . Invitations to Kathryn Ann Shepard and John Ray's wedding, which will take place late in Sept. are out. . . . Barbara and her mother, Mrs. Ruby Durham, arrived safely in Chicago, their first stop before going on to Kansas. . . . Mrs. Paullyn Garner is spending a very enjoyable summer on a concert tour in the East and Canada. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Bryant and daughter, Wanda, are having a grand time up North where they are visiting the Harts, formerly of Pasadena.

Paullyn Garner, Symanthia Williams and Delores Carroll were among the thousands who were on hand to watch Leopold Stokowski conduct the Hollywood Bowl Symphony and the winners of the NBC's Young Artist Competition auditions, Lillian Magidow and John Arnold Ford. It was indeed a musical treat. . . . "Up in Central Park," opens Sunday at the Bowl with the original New York cast. . . . By the way you should see Delores Carroll she needs is a feather in her after her vacation at Elsinore. All hair and an Indian she would be. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Felix Williams have set their reception date for Sept. 8.

Mary Scott was the hostess and Symanthia Williams was the honoree guest at a lovely linen shower. I got there too late to play "Put and Take," but they tell me that they had fun. Bernice Gordon, Juanita James and her sister, Ruth, Audrey Boyking, Lucille and Anna Harrison, Barbara Jones, Erma Bryant, and Barbara George and several others showered Sy with lovely gifts.

Lional Hampton is back in good ole Sunny California and friends and fans at the Union Station. His opening at the new Lincoln theatre jumped as usual. Flying home, always brings down the house and Red and Curly were entertaining. The skating tap dancer was quite unique. Caught sight of Juanita Carruethers, Bernard and Alyce Harris Calivin Burch, Thomas Kelly and Creola Anderson enjoying the show to the utmost.

Mrs. Ruth Washington was hostess at a delicious dinner for her sister, Mrs. Martha Anderson, from Chicago, Mrs. Pearl M. Woods, her cousin from St. Louis, and a friend, Mrs. Hudie Dunnings from Camden, Ark. Some of the guests were Mrs. Mae Moore, Mrs. Thelma Hall, Mrs. Verdie Moellete, all of Los Angeles, Mrs. Josephine Mike, Elsie Mae Gibbs, Edna Johnson, Margie Benson, Lois Bland, Cordillia Scott, Eva Roberts, Isabelle Marshall and Elizabeth Smith.

Mrs. Washington was hostess at a breakfast for friends of hers, Mrs. Beck and daughter Vivian from Nashville, Tenn., who were here for the AKA Boule. That's all for now.

It affords any teacher great pleasure when any one of his students acquits himself with ability to the extent he wins acclaim, honor, and award for withstanding the barrage of the world's best opponents, and emerging from the field of battle with head bloody, but unbowed, holding high the torch of Victory! I refer to none other than the old stalwarts of The Golden West Bridge Assn. who participated in the National Bridge Tournament held in Pittsburgh, Pa., by the American Bridge Assn. from the 18th to 24th of this month. Mrs. Mae Denton and J. D. Dunn won second place in the Masters open pair. (Mrs. Louisa Roan and Mrs. Mae Denton 3rd in Womens pair.) (Mrs. Beatrice Reeves and Mrs. Viola Henry 2nd in Womens pair.) The above feats are more than commendable; and I for one haven't any buttons left on my vest.

L. A. Bridgers you too can learn to play winning bridge by attending our classes every Tuesday nite from 7:30 p.m. until 8:30 at the swank GWBA Club Rooms, 1054-56 E. 54th st. We instruct you to use the rule of X Plus 1, 2-3, 4-5-6, 11, 8, and the intricacies of the rule of Q92. These classes are for beginners and advanced players.

Miss Jessica Mae Blount, graduate of the Monrovia Duarte Arcadia High school, has matriculated, and will enter Bishop college, Marshall, Texas this coming month, where she will take up training as a missionary worker.

Miss Blount has held the position of leader of the W. W. Guild activities in the Tri-County District Association for the past three years, and she has endeared herself in the hearts of the members of the Association, both old and young.

At the last session of the Tri-County Baptist Association, she was given a scholarship of $50 preparatory to her matriculation at Bishop college. The Woman's Convention of the Western Baptist State Convention, under the leadership of Mrs. Blanche Carter, has awarded Miss Blount a Scholarship of $250, that she may further prepare herself for the thing which seems to be her life's work.

Among the many contestants for the scholarship award, in the Western Baptist State convention, Miss Blount was the unanimous choice of the Scholarship Committee, chaired by Mrs. S. A. Reed.

JESSICA MAE BLOUNT, a 1946 graduate of the Monrovia Duarte Arcadia High school, has matriculated and will enter Bishop college, Marshall, Texas, this coming month. She will take up training as a missionary worker.

Miss Walls is teacher of mathematics and counsellor of girls in Phillis Wheatley High school, Houston, Texas.

Centenarian Celebrates Birthday With Four Generations on Sunday

Mrs. Josephine Harbert Berry is celebrating her 100th birthday, August 29. This aged citizen formerly lived in Los Angeles, but now resides in Monrovia, with her daughter, Mrs. Alta Onley.

Mrs. Harbert Berry, the daughter of a slave, was born in Hollow Springs, Mississippi, August 29, 1845. Her family moved to Texas when she was five years old.

She was married to Charles Berry in 1861 in Lockhart, Texas where her 11 children were born, of which 3 daughters and 3 sons are still living.

A mammoth 100th celebration will be held at South Park Sunday, Sept. 1, so that her 25 odd west coast relatives consisting of 3 children, 10 grandchildren, 10 great-grandchildren, 1 great-great-grandchild, and 1 great-great-great-grandchild, and her many friends might enjoy this momentous occasion with her.

Scattered throughout the states in the union, Mrs. Berry has 31 grandchildren, 36 great-grandchildren, 7 great-great-grandchildren, 1 great-great-great-grandchild, making a total of 75 in all.

Sprites Sponsor Musical Contest

Los Angeles will be privileged to hear the most outstanding artists of the city in a musical contest to be presented at Independent church, September 22, from 4 to 6 p. m. It is being given by the Sprites Club, interest group of the Delta Sigma Theta sorority.

Appearing on the program will be representatives from churches, sororities, fraternities, and musical organizations.

Mrs. Faustina N. Johnson is mistress of ceremonies for this musical.

J. C. Hendersons Celebrate 18th Wedding Anniversary

About 200 friends were present Sunday afternoon to wish the John C. Hendersons, 2939 Budlong avenue, many happy returns of the day, as they celebrated their 18th wedding anniversary. Mrs. Henderson was attractively attired in a beautiful white dinner gown, while the receiving hostesses wore afternoon gowns of vari-colored hues.

Among the several hostesses were three of Mrs. Hendersons sisters who journeyed to Los Angeles especially to attend the anniversary celebration. They were Mesdames Helen James, of New York City, Hortense Diggs, of Dallas, Texas, and Juanita Furlow, of Tulare, California. The other hostesses were Mesdames Alveretta Parker, Faye McGriff, Trulie Newsome, of Los Angeles, and Anne T. Stone of Pasadena.

☆ Youth Activities Throughout The Nation ☆

Edited by Yvonne Shepherd

KINLOCH'S ☆ KORNER

By Y. S.

Dedicated to the memory of my childhood chum, John Kinloch, who died in the struggle to destroy Fascism.

Dear Chum!

It's great to be back in L. A. again after over a month in New York. A wonderful, delicious month of being lazy. Of sightseeing in the old home town . . . just as if I had never lived there practically all my life. Swimming at beautiful Orchard Beach. Trying out all the amusements at the world-famous Coney Island. All of them, that is, with the exception of the terrifying parachute jump.

Yes, chum, it's time to roll up my sleeves again and dig in. But you know, you really must forgive me for indulging in a bit of day-dreaming this week.

It was grand, stretching out on the beaches, watching black bodies, brown bodies, white bodies, mingling, forgetful of skin colorings and inconsequential racial differences in the quest for fun, relaxation . . . and experiencing a renewed conviction of the oneness of humanity.

And riding over New York's great bridges . . . the Tri-Borough and the George Washington . . . and the dirty, beloved Brooklyn Bridge leading to the land of "Dem Bums." Brooklyn. A strange, queer land that begets in the bosoms of its children a fierce, burning sense of loyalty and love. A land where it is virtual heresy to cast a glance of admiration in a direction of any baseball team other than the Dodgers.

The wonderful, gratifying sight of lower Manhattan being stripped of some of its blighted, delapidated tenements to make way for large, spacious government housing projects. Old rat-ridden hovels being demolished to make way for the new.

And the Bowery where the so-called bums and hoboes have been stirred by a feeling of internationalism. It was there, in the heart of the Bowery, that the "human derelicts" recently held a convention, object of which was to launch a campaign to secure clothing for shipment to the hoboes and bums of other lands.

Chinatown and the famous Rice Bowl cafe and a table bending under the weight of rich, sumptuous Chinese dishes. And the waiter who informed a party that the cost of living had gone up, so he would appreciate a tip equal to 15% of the bill.

The Great White Way — Broadway — teeming with humanity practically 24 hours a day. And its lights making it look like a scene from the fairy tales. Animated cartoons . . . and the news flashing around The Times building in lights.

Uptown Manhattan to the magnificent Cathedral Church of St. John the Divine which has been under construction for the past 50 years, and which, according to plan, will take another 50 years to complete.

And Harlem. A little noisier, a little dirtier, a little more overcrowded, but a place you can never forget. Its inhabitants striving to lift their heads above the noise, the dirt and the squalor.

A vicious, mud-slinging campaign being waged against a great, militant Negro leader, Representative Adam Clayton Powell. A drive into which reactionaries are pouring an incredible amount of wealth, for beneath the expensive campaign literature, bogus "rewards," lies, expensive sound truck equipment, and the support of leading fascist metropolitan dailies . . . beneath all this can be heard the metalic clink of coins.

Lewishom Stadium with its background of the medieval-looking City College and its Greek coliseum splendor. "The Stadium," where young Phyllipa Duke Schuyler recently appeared as guest soloist with the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra . . . where thousands thronged in an all-out demonstration for Isaac Woodard, Negro veteran, whose eyes were gouged out by policemen in the South.

New York . . . where car dealers tell you confidently that they are getting $900 to $1200 over the ceiling price for cars. Try to get one—as we did—and you'll know it's true.

Yes, chum, that is New York today. A bit different from the days when you lived there, but essentially the same.

Then there was the return trip by plane—after waiting 11 days for cancellations. A trip on which hours flew as Michael Frome, reporter on The Washington Post, and yours truly tried to convince the pretty stewardess that Russia is not the big, bad, bogey that the imperialists and native fascists within our nation are trying to make us believe.

Before we were finished, half the occupants of the plane were engaged in what might mildly be termed a "spirited debate."

Yes, chum, it was swell. But there is work to be done now, so it's time to forget the recent past and go forward. Time to dig in, even as thousands of other young people throughout Los Angeles are doing, in the struggle to win freedom, security and peace.

Your chum,

YVONNE.

AYD Launches National Fund Drive; Sets Goal at $35,000

American Youth for Democracy, a nation-wide progressive organization of young workers, veterans and students, has launched a $35,000 National Expansion Fund Drive to raise money to maintain and expand the organization throughout the nation. Eleven thousand dollars has been set as the goal in California.

Nationally, $5000 will be sought for a special fund to aid the youth of Spain in their fight against the Fascist regime of Dictator Franco.

Forty AYD clubs throughout California are planning intensive activities to achieve goals set for themselves in the drive. The campaign to raise $5500, one-half the total California quota, among the AYD clubs has already begun.

Appealing to the public to assist in the expansion efforts, the AYD is asking the progressive adult community to raise the other $5500. The drive for this money will commence on September 1.

Residents of Northern California should send contributions to Barbara Gould, c/o AYD, 216 Market street, San Francisco. Those living in Southern California should send money to Kenneth Van Leuven, c/o AYD, 408 S. Spring street, Los Angeles.

Pilgrim House Culminates Its Outing Program

The outing program of Pilgrim House culminated last week with the sending of 27 Boy Scouts to Camp Pepperdine, 100 miles from Los Angeles, in charge of Scout Master Arthur J. Bacon, Jr. In addition, under the leadership of Miss Helen Henry, 5 girls have gone to the Congregational and Presbyterian conference camps.

Citizens in Watts Aiding Youngsters

The United Christian Youth Workers were instrumental in helping to send 31 boys and 13 girls from the Watts Community to the mountains on summer vacations. Next summer they plan to send even more youngsters to camp.

Other constructive things are being planned for young people of this community by representatives from some of the leading churches of Watts and surrounding communities.

Coed Co-operates

EVANSTON, ILL.—Enlisting the aids of two workmen, this Northwestern University beauty takes no chances of having her vacation spoiled. Weed-No-More, sudden death for poison ivy and ragweed, is a new discovery developed from 2, 4-Dicholorophenoxy-acetic acid. Sprayed on poisonous weeds, it quickly makes favorite areas safe for play.

Honor Graduate Of Tuskegee to Attend N. Y. U.

TUSKEGEE INSTITUTE, Ala.—Melvin James Lacy, a graduate with high honors in the Class of 1941, Tuskegee Institute, will enter the New York university School of Education in September, 1946, under the provisions of the G. I. Bill of Rights. Lacy is a veteran of World War 2 and served as a noncommissioned officer for two and a half years in the ETO. He was a member of the 41st Engineer General Service Regiment, the 415 Port Company, and the 430th Engineer Dump Truck Company.

While overseas Lacy was sent to school at Schrivenham American university, Schrivenham, England, by the army where he continued graduate study in the field of Education Administration. He is presently a member of the faculty at Tuskegee Institute and serves as a General Office Assistant in President Patterson's office.

$25,000 Given to Negro Quadruplets

PORTLAND, Ore.—A milk company, wishing to use pictures of four quadruplets recently born to Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Tigner, a Portland Negro family, opened a $25,000 bank account for the quads Tuesday.

2 Youth Groups Unite to Fight Discrimination

A parade of "bathing beauties" walked a picket line Saturday, Aug. 24 from 2 to 4 p. m., at Bimini Baths in protest of the policy of discrimination against Negro youth practiced by the Bimini Baths Investment corporation, owners of the pool. The line was "manned" by feminine members of American youth for Democracy, national inter-racial youth organization, who donned latest styles in bathing suits and carried signs reading, "We won't swim at Bimini."

AYD, whtich is sponsoring the picket line in cooperation with the Inter-racial Friendship Council, urges youth of Los Angeles to join the picket line in front of Bimini Baths, located at 180 Bimini place, near First and Vermont.

Both groups plan to picket the establishment until the management changes its policy. Special leaflets were passed out Saturday to the hundreds of people attracted by the demonstration.

Student Vets at Fisk U. to Have New Dormitories

NASHVILLE, Tennessee.—Construction has been starte on two dormitories for student veterans at fisk university, it was announced this week by John H. Sweitzer, superintendent of buildings and grounds at Fisk. The dwellings, which are expected to be completed in early October, will be located at r12-18 avenue North.

The two units, provided by the Federal Public Housing Authority, consist of a two story building which will accommodate 38 men, and a single-story dormitory with space for 16 men.

USO Seeks Women For Cannery Work

An emergency appeal for 100 women cannery workers to process the peach crop was issued yesterday by Walter O. Christian, manager of the Los Angeles United States Employment Service offices.

The women are needed to slice, halve, grade, and fill cans. No experience is necessary. Top wages are being paid for this type of work and those working on a piece work basis make especially good salaries as they gain experience, according to Christian.

The women will work a nine-hour swing shift every evening, but will be paid time and a quarter for everything over eight hours daily, and time and a half for everything over 48 hours a week.

Orders are for out-of-town plants, but a bus will take workers directly to the job from the USES office at Eighth and San Pedro sts. every afternoon at 5 and bring them back to Los Angeles after the evening's work is done. Round trip bus fare is 50c.

Phil Carter Engaged To Promote New Book

Whittlesey House of the McGraw-Hill Book Co., New York publishers, has engaged Phil Carter to execute a special exploitation campaign on their recently released book, Our Son Pablo by Alvin and Darley Gordon.

Carter recently returned from New York where he did a similar job for Harcourt Brace on Black Metropolis by Horace Cayton and St. Clair Drake. Also while there he directed publicity for the National and New York Urban Leagues' fund raising drives. Previous to going to New York last fall, Carter was a member of the publicity staffs at Warner Bros. and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios in Hollywood.

ASBURY PARK, N. J.—A special meeting of the Board of Education here will be called within two weeks to act on the request of several mothers who have demanded separation of boys and girls in the Bangs ave. grammar school. The mothers have also asked for Wassermann tests for the pupils, "regardless of race, color or grade."

The school was formerly divided into two parts—one portion for white students—the other for Negroes. On April 9, the board voted unanimously for the integration of classes to end discrimination.

White mothers bitterly opposed the move at the time. The latest move by those advocating segregation based on sex was seen as an attempt to isolate white girls from Negro boys. They also hope that the results of the Wassermann tests may lead to a renewal of the racial segregation, although a state law bars it.

Thomasina Talley In Piano Recital

Thomasina Talley, nationally known concert pianist, evoked sustained applause from an appreciative audience by her playing at the beautiful Berkshire Museum in Pittsfield, Massachusetts on Thursday evening, August 15. Miss Talley was presented by the Thursday Evening Club of Pittsfield, of which Miss L. A. Pierce is president.

Commenting on Miss Talley's recital in the Berkshire Evening Eagle, Jay C. Rosenfeld, eminent music critic, said in part:

". . . She showed comprehension of the music of her choice. . . . but was most at home in those selections where a sense of reposeful and delicate shading were appropriate. . . She showed considerable reflective and poetic attributes in the French pieces, and pleasant rhythmic spirit in the Gershwin sketches. . ."

The audience showed its appreciation for the artist by calling Miss Halley back for six encores, including selections from Brahms, Guion, Dett, Prokofieff, and Debussy.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.—During the school year 1945-46, 1,221 persons studied at Lincoln university, according to figures compiled in the registrar's office.

Popular Youth Leader Leaves For Rest Cure

James Stasher, well-known local youth worker, left Monday afternoon for Pottinger's Sanatorium, Monrovia, for a rest cure. It is believed that he may remain there for six months.

Vice-president of the Thaddeus Stevens club of AYD, Stasher was also affiliated with the Los Angeles Youth Council, and served as secretary of the County Board of AYD.

Prior to his departure, a farewell party was given in his honor Saturday evening at the home of Edgar and Myrtle Miller, 608 E. 122nd st.

Among those present to wish Stasher a speedy rest cure were Joe Dials, Bill Love, Marcelyn Coleman, Ike Adams, Boit Thomas, and June and Irene Woods of Washington, D. C.

Debate Site of UCLA Med School

The decision of the Board of Regents of the University of California as to the location of the proposed UCLA Medical school is being eargerly awaited by educational and professional medical circles.

Controversy as to the proposed site of the building has been carried on ever since a special session of the state legislature, at the beginning of the year, authorized the establishment in Southern California of a state medical school and appropriated $7,000,000 for the purpose.

One group wants the university medical center located right on the Westwood campus, and the other wants it near existing hospital facilities in the Sunset-Vermont area.

Everything is in readiness for the Eastside's "Area III Carnival Capers," to be staged Friday, September 13, at Central Playground.

On that date there will be presented an evening of activity featuring almost every conceivable type of entertainment. There will be opened at 4 p. m. a room filled with exhibits of arts and crafts showing the work done by the youth of the area during the summer. There will be a great side show, "The House of Mystery," that will combine some of the unbelievable wonders of New York's famed Coney Island with our own Long Beach Amusement Pier. There will be many free attractions — swimming and diving exhibitions by crack male experts as well as lovely female aquatic stars.

In addition to all of these attractions, Mrs. Alma Hightower has accepted an invitation to be on hand with her talented Youth Band. Giving it a true carnival atmosphere will be the gaily decorated hot dog, pop corn and soft drink stands, and a big-time barker will announce the various features to be found within the "House of Mystery."

Two snappy programs will be presented in the evening and a big dance will follow the second one.

"This is something new, different, breathtaking and big," says Central Playgrounds' Director Carl Gross Sr., "and it represents the combined efforts of various youth serving agencies—public and private—at work in what the Youth Project terms Area III."

Lionel Barrymore, who heads the cast of featured players in Liberty Films' Frank Capra production, "It's a Wonderful Life," is a member of the Society of American Florists.

3-Day Exhibition Of Hobby Artists Slated This Week

Certificates of commendation will be awarded best children's and adult's groups entries in the hobby artists exhibit scheduled at the Barnsdall Playground Arts and Crafts center Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The exhibit will feature examples of paintings, sculpture and handicrafts.

George Hjelte, superintendent of the Los Angeles city recreation department, said 500 exhibits will be on display in this fifth annual exhibition.

Youngsters Can View Films of Soapbox Derby

Next Sunday, newsreel motion pictures of the finals of the National Soapbox Derby held in Akron, Ohio, will be shown at Warner's Forum theater.

The new national champion, Gilbert Klecan of San Diego, will be seen on the films as he whips down the throng-packed Derby Downs race course.

A four-year scholarship to any college or university has been awarded the 14-year-old boy for his victory. David Smith, the Los Angeles area entrant, won two of the five final heats.

THIS MAY BE NEWS

A chorus line of 10 chickadees are being selected for film work in Eddie Green's forthcoming flicker, "Mr. Adam's Bomb." . . . The Delta Rhythm Boys have closed at the Chanticleer club in D. C. and will open a week's engagement at the Howard theatre in the Capitol. The group recently recorded two sides for Decca, viz; "Walk It Off" and "My Buddy's Chick." . . . Duke Ellington is scheduled to switch to Musicraft records on November 1. . . . Herbie Fields has signed with Victor. . . . Herald Pictures, Inc., is the latest film company incorporated to make all-Negro flickers which promoters claim to be deluxe. $50,000 will be spent to make each picture the publicity man enthusiastically claims. Considering that $5,000,000 was the cost for the British film, "Caeser and Cleopatra," $50,000 would scarcely seem adequate for a "deluxe" picture. That amount is barely enough to pay the actors salaries. No, it seems that deluxe all-Negro pictures are still just a dream and that Herald Pictures will not contribute much to the cause. Sure, the films they make may be better than those in the past but that doesn't constitute much of an effort. The ones in the past have been super-lousy. The new ones may just be classed as lousy. See what I mean?

He's interesting top flight musicians in investing money in the project which should bring forth results because their bands will play the club when it is opened. . . . ELLA FITZGERALD, first lady of swing, has selected Dizzy Gillespie as the number one band leader of 1946. . . . TINY BRADSHAW will play the Senior Prom in June, 1947 at the University of Pennsylvania. This marks a stride forward in the breakdown of racial prejudice in American schools. No Negro band has ever been engaged to play a Senior Prom in any major white college or university.

Nat Burbridge (that's my brother) and his wife, Yvonne, stopped over here from San Francisco last Saturday and Sunday enroute to New Orleans to visit relatives. While here they went to Meadowbrook to hear the Duke but only got as far as the parking lot where an attendant refused to let them park, saying that there weren't any reservations in the club. Meanwhile many Nordics were getting places to park and flowing into the club. Truly Hollywood is little Dixie. . . . Met William Grant Still, the great Negro composer, at his home Sunday. Club De Liso Opens Saturday

Club De Liso. That's the new magic name for after hours entertainment, the new name for fine quality foods with excellent service, and the new name for dawn dancing, in the city of the Angels. Located where Central avenue joins 33rd street, in the heart of the eastside business section, Club De Liso, the "dream" spot of Leon King and Mike Thompson, will open Saturday, Aug. 31.

Notables of Hollywood and the local business world will be on hand with scores of celebrated names to make Club De Liso opening one of the most brilliant witnessed here on the eastside in years. (See advertisement in this section for further details.)

Bowl Audience Also Hears Nash Singers, Wm. Gillespie

Designed to acquaint the public with the work of Negro composers and artists, the first Hollywood Bowl presentation of its kind which featured Rudolph Dunbar, noted director from Paris, in his American debut, the Luvenia Nash singers and William Gillespie, baritone, was a decided success last Thursday night.

Dunbar was best in conducting William Grant Still's "Afro-American" symphony and the "Oberon" overture. Dunbar also conducted the "Adagio for Strings," by Barber and the "Festival" Overture of William Schuman, both with a feeling for his work and strict adherence to the scores.

William Gillespie sang "Old Man River," with feeling and received an ovation for his rendition of Schubert's "Serenade" while the Nash Singers went over well in their rendition of a series of spirituals and an excerpt from "Cavalleria Rusticana," an Italian opera. They received tremendous applause and were encored at the conclusion of their presentations.

It was an auspicious event in the enlightening of the world to the artistry of Negroes in the concert field. The audience seemed to find favor with the entire program and it is to be hoped that next season's "Symphonies under the Stars" will also include a night when Negro concert artists can again be heard.

Re-Opening of Finale Club Is Postponed

By GERTRUDE GIPSON

We're sorry but it's just one of those things. As you know Taylor Cooper was supposed to reopen his fine Finale Club at 230½ E. First street in Downtown Los Angeles Friday night. Well, the Fire Department can be meanies at times so they stepped in and told Taylor that he couldn't open until he complied with a new fire ordinance.

To prove that he means to give the town one of the finest after hours spots in the nation, Taylor is going ahead with his plans towards that end. You just keep on watching the columns of this paper for the new opening date and by all means when you learn it, hustle on down to the Finale, listen to some swell music, dig a great show and treat yourself to sum super food.

IN BROADWAY MUSICAL — The vivacious Valaida Snow, who will be remembered by West Coast entertainment seekers for her many stellar performances, has been signed for an important starring role in "Happy Days," a new musical comedy which will be lavishly produced at a cost of $150,000 for an opening on Broadway Oct. 5 in New York City. Miss Snow will co-star with Bob Kennedy, who starred in "Oklahoma."

Bob Hope in Paramount Comedy Film

BOB HOPE

"Monsieur Beaucaire" is a hilarious version of Booth Tarkington's story which Tarkington readers will probably never recognize.

Will Represent Flower Shop in Beauty Contest

Miss Ann Bell Proctor will represent Helen Jane's Flower Shop of 1110 E. 43rd street, in the contest to decide "Miss Bronze America of 1946," it was announced this week by Mrs. Helen Alberga of that business establishment.

This flower shop has made exceptional advances in the few months since its opening. They were awarded a trophy for second prize from the Five and Over Charity club at their spring floral exhibit.

Floral decorations for social, business, church and fraternal groups are specialties of the Helen Jane Flower Shop. Most recent were the Crop 'n' Tail, the Los Angeles Golondrinas and AKA sorority formals, the latter at the Pasadena Civic auditorium.

Joe Liggins Back on Job

After an illness that cancelled his tour and brought him home to Los Angeles from Tampa, Florida, Joe Liggins, leader of the sensational Honey Drippers has fully recovered.

He spent a month at Murray's Ranch then went to work and put his men into shape, including (Little) Willie Jackson, Alto, baritone and clarinet player who underwent a tonsil operation.

The fine composer and arranger came up with three tunes which will make juke box history; The "Drippers Boogie," part one and two, which riffs and rides all the way, "Tanya," a groovy number that features James Jackson, tenor man; also "Breaking My Heart," featuring Joe Liggins himself on the vocal.

All numbers are to be released soon on exclusive records.

The orchestra played before packed houses at the Million Dollar, and Lincoln Theaters in Los Angeles and then did a turn away crowd at the Cotton Club Homecoming dance in San Diego, where his parents reside.

New 'Hamp-Tone' Discs Coming Up

Lionel Hampton's new tune "The Pencil Broke and That's All She Wrote" is scheduled for an early Decca and Hamp-Tone release following in the wake of the sensational success of the hepcat chant "Hey Ba Ba Re-bop." This new hit is expected to stimulate a new heat wave among Hampton fans.

"A Time to Kill" went before the cameras Monday.

Marva Louis In Film Role

NEW YORK—Marva Louis, ex-wife of Joe Louis, the heavyweight champion, has been signed to star in her first motion picture, according to an announcement made by Arthur Leonard, vice-President of Herald Pictures, Inc.

Babe Wallace, remembered with Lena Horne in "Stormy Weather" and Sheila Guyse, of the late "Memphis Bound," starring Bill Robinson, will be in the supporting cast. Also signed to date, by the Moe Gale agency, is "Slam" Stewart and his recording trio and the comedy team of Patterson & Jackson.

Marva Louis, at present in Chicago, will arrive in New York City early in September to start off-studio rehearsals.

Mary Lou Williams Signed by Victor

Mary Lou Williams, the Number One female jazz musician of the music world, has been signed to an exclusive RCA Victo rrecording contract, it was announced today by J. W. Murray, vice president in charge of RCA Victor Record Activities.

Hampton Feted At Homecoming Ball at Alabam

The Club Alabam was packed to the rafters last Friday night when Mayor Curtis Mosby and members of the committee, Gertrude Gipson and Herman Hill, presented Lionel Hampton, "King of the Vibes," with a 22-inch trophy in recognition of his contribution to swing, at the Homecoming Ball. On hand to help in entertaining the Hamp on, his night were numerous guests artists and celebraties. Slim Gaillard, Eddie (Duffy's Tavern) Green, and Bill Anson of KFWB.

The dancing of Quincey and Michael, Arthur Duncan, and a bit of jamming by the Lionel Hampton sextette and other swing greats was very entertaining. Lionel and members of his swingsational band were served with a dutch dinner and a variety of drinks.

Lionel Hampton in accepting the trophy said, "This really makes me feel as though I have accomplished something and I am very grateful and appreciative to all of you for everything. I really feel as though I have proved an asset to my home town."

Beulah Bondi, who portrays Jimmy Stewart's mother in Frank Capra's "It's a Wonderful Life." also enacted his mother in the Capra production, "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington."

Jimmy Stewart will vacation off the coast of Mexico on a deep sea fishing trip upon the completion of his starring role in Frank Capra's "It's a Wonderful Life."

One of the most potable events in California entertainment history will take place Saturday evening, September 7, when famed Broadway producer, Michael Todd brings to the Holywood Bowl his widely acclaimed musical comedy "Up In Central Park."

All Thrifty Drug Stores are making available to their customers 8500 seats each night starting Sunday, September 8 through Friday, September 13, at reduced rates. These reduced price tickets will enable all Thrifty patrons to buy $1.20 regular priced tickets at 50c plus 20c federal tax, offering them unprecedented savings on one of the biggest Broadway musical comedies yet to come to this city.

There is no charge for these tickets. They are available to anyone who asks for them at any Thrifty Drug store. These special half-price Thrifty Drug store tickets will be available starting Monday, September 2.

Despite the fact that it was an extraordinarily lavish production as originally presented on Broadway, Producer Todd is rescaling the show to an even greater size to fulfill the requirements of the huge Bowl. An entirely new production concept has been devised which demands the construction of the largest stage sets ever to be used for a theatrical attraction. The show will play in the Bowl for 22 consecutive nights in the longest engagement ever attempted there.

"Up In Central Park," recognized as one of the most successful stage hits of the past decade, played for almost two years on Broadway where it grossed over $4,000,000. For its Bowl debut, the show will be augmented to include 300 singers, dancers, and unusual specialty entertainers. It tells the colorful and exciting story of the New York newspaperman who exposed the notorious Boss Tweed Ring in 1870, and has a musical score written by Sigmund Romberg.

Comedy Playing United Artists

Something new is being offered by Abbott and Costello, something gay and riotously brand new in "Time of Their Lives" now playing at the United Artists Theatre, 933 So. Broadway, downtown Los Angeles. "The Dark Horse" is the second feature with Phillip Terry and Ann Savage.

La Fairbanks On Ice' Revue

By DOLORES CALVIN

NEW YORK CITY (Calvin's News Service)—Mabel Fairbanks, the darling of the ice and the only recognized Negro girl ice skater, has just been signed as a feature in the new revue "Hollywood On Ice," which premiers at Long Beach, California, October 12. Rehearsals begin September 10. The announcement was made by the Petroff Productions, 6636 Hollywood Blvd., sponsors of the lavish show. The news came as a complete surprise, though the Petroff Productions had been negotiating for some time to get Miss Fairbanks' services.

Tickets for the Jackie Wilson-John Thomas, California welterweight championship bout on September 28, went on sale early this week, the Olympic auditorium announced.

Prices are from $2 to $10 plus tax. Net proceeds of the title clash will be donated to the West View Interracial hospital association's building fund.

The fight looms as one of the biggest naturals in California ring history and a cinch sellout. Both principals rank high as world title contenders in their respective divisions. Wilson holds the state welter crown while his classy opponent is king of the 135-pounders in California.

At the same time the Olympic management announced the ticket sale, Dr. L. W. Shumate, member of the association's fight committee revealed that tickets for the raffle of a brand new 1946 Buick four-door sedan would also go on sale this week.

Tickets are $1.00 and will be on sale at the Olympic, various eastside drug stores and at the association's headquarters at 5334 S. Main st. The car will be on exhibit at various fight clubs in the southland before Sept. 28.

The car will be raffled off the night of the fight. Harpo Marx, a member of the hospital's Community Advisory Board secured the prize through the courtesy of C. S. (Sea Biscuit) Howard, California Buick dealer and noted sportsman.

SAMMY BAUGH, Washington Redskin pro footballer in 1945 attempted 182 passes, completed 128. Baugh fights a passing duel with former UCLA star Bob Waterfield of the Rams when the two ace passers meet in the Coliseum September 6, Los Angeles Times charity football game.

LAYIN' IT ON THE LINE

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

SPORTS FRAPPE

From Mexico we learn that two jumpers from Negro leagues have showed up there for work. They are "Bus" Clarkson, former Wilberforce great, who jumped the Philly Stars and his teammate Joe Fillmore. "Bus" is a member of the Vera Cruz Blues now and Joe does his stuff with the Mexico City nin. Ed Stone, outfielder of the Philly Stars, who failed to report this season, has left the Torreon club to play with Monterrey, third place club. Mexico City is in second place and the Blues are camping in the cellar.

DOWN THE LINE

Kenny Washington may see plenty of action in the September 6 grid tussle between the L. A. Rams and Washington Redskins. Kenny didn't get much of a chance to display his wares in the Rams' game against the College All-Stars at Chi last week but while he was in he did no 12 yards right through center on one play, which isn't bad at all. . . . Wesley Mouzon ,the lad who recently chilled Bob Montgomery, and Danny Kapilow may meet in Madison Square Garden in November. Kapilow boasts of a previous victory over Mouzon. . . . I' mturning the rest of this column over to John M. Lee who will tell you his views on Jersey Joe Walcott, the buy the boys are trying to ballyhoo into a fight with Joe Louis. Here it is:

"The 17 to 5 odds on the recent Jersey Joe Wolcott-Tommy Gomez match at Madison Square Garden doesn't indicate the true level of the match any more than does Jersey Joe's two and a fraction round knock-out victory indicate that he should be matched with champion Joe Louis. Gomez lost because Walcott is the more experienced ring-master, which is a good and sufficient reason for the victor or the loser.

Walcott is an old hand at this box-fighting business. He has long been the hero of a fable that is going the rounds in which it is alleged he once knocked Joe Louis kicking in a practice session. There have been plenty denials of this story, and the general tendency is not to believe it, but Walcott was dismissed from the Louis camp, and this could easily have been the reason.

Following the Walcott-Gomez fight there was a lot of talk about matching Walcott with Louis after the Mauriello set-to. Admittedly there is a scarcity of real material to pit against the champ, but there is no reason to push Walcott to the top of the list without having him first try to eliminate some of the other contenders. Nat Rogers, Twentieth Century Sport Club matchmaker, suggested that Walcott do battle with Joe Baski as a prelude to the championship shot, but Vic Marsillo, who brought Walcott out of the latest of his many retirements, rebelled, stating that Jersey Joe has already polished off Baski.

There is good common sense behind the suggestion that Walcott meet the contenders. In this way he would establish an indisputable claim to the championship shot, and the match would draw a healthy gate. The danger in leaving the elimination to Joe Louis is present in the fact that there would be few fans who would be interested in a fight between the champ and any of the present contenders. Joe would be fighting his head off and getting little in return."

JOHN THOMAS-JACKIE WILSON

The Thomas-Wilson match billed for September 28 at the Olympic for the benefit of West View Hospital may be for a good cause but we still don't like it. Both boys are West Coast leaders in their divisions, Thomas as the lightweight kingpin and Jackie as the welterweight threat for the title. As Bert Lewis, manager of Thomas, says, while marking time until he gets a shot at the title, John, his missus and the Thomas kiddies still have to break bread three times a day so Johnny has to follow his profession to keep the larder full. Unfortunately when you get to the top of the heap you have to fight every inch of the way to stay there. No easy opponents can be selected because nobody will show up to watch Thomas make a dunce out of a poor fighter. From the standpoint of a good fight it will be that all right. There won't be much weight difference. John will add a few pounds, Wilson will shed a few. It is the reputations of the two we're thinking about. Both are our favorite battlers. In this bout neither has a thing to gain but Thomas can lose prestige if defeated and so can Wilson, if he loses. As we said above, we just don't like it, but the match is made so our opinion doesn't count. Can we say, the best of luck to both boys? Sounds strange, doesn't it?

CHICAGO—Distinguished from all but a few pugilists both white and Negro, Harry "Black Panther" Wills is an ex-boxer who not only isn't broke but makes over $25,000 yearly says a photo-profile in the September issue of Negro picture magzine Ebony.

The colorful ex-boxer, denied a championship fight with Jack Dempsey which most experts concede he would have won, is a real estate man without an office, the article states. He owns two profit-making Harlem apartment houses and two big country estates.

Val Verde Plans Gala Labor Day

SAUGUS, Calif.—Leon Perdue, director of Val Verde Playground, announced this week that on Labor Day the usual large program of entertainment is in store for the many persons who will visit this popular summer resort. Games and contests with prizes and favors for all winners will be awarded. A great many forms of contests will be offered. A few are as follows:

Baby contests, always a favorite with the parents, with a prize for the fattest, youngest, the most toothsome, the deepest dimple, and the largest for its age.

For those who like table tennis there will be a progressive contest; a bean guessing contest for those who know so much; a prize for the oldest mother, if she will admit it; a prize for the youngest married couple.

Johnny Haynes To Meet Payne

Johnny "Junior" Haynes, who has knocked out nine of his last eleven opponents, will toe the mark with "Rusty" Payne, the San Diego pride, in the main event at the Olympic Tuesday night, Sept. 3.

It may be for 10 rounds, and it may be for 12.

The State Atheltic Commission has been requested to recognize this as a state heavyweight title fight, inasmuch as Big Boy Bray, last occupant of the throne, has been out of action for about four years.

Payne will be spotting Junior quite a few pounds; he weighs about 185, against Junior's 215 or 220.

Fabela Chavez Wallops Bernal

Fabela Chavez, 130, won his third main event at Hollywood last Friday night when he pounded out a unanimous 10-round decision over Lou Bernal, 127, before a large crowd.

Jimmy Martin, 171, kayoed Willie Johnson, 169, in the third heat of the scheduled six-round semi-windup.

Sugar Robinson Training Hard

New Coach at Winston-Salem

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.—Winston-Salem Teachers College announced this week the appointment as Head Coach of Clarence "Big House" Gaines, former Morgan star and "All American" selection for 1943 and 1944, and formerly assistant coach at Teachers College last season.

John Thomas Easily Beats Frank Moore

Showing the remarkable boxing ability that has made him the outstanding challenger for the world's lightweight crown, John Thomas, 138½, scored an easy 10-round triumph of Frankie Moore, 135½, of Oakland, Tuesday night at the Olympic, winning every round.

A crowd of 9500 fans saw Thomas keep in close and pepper Moore with every punch in the fistic book to win going away. Moore's vaunted hard right hand punch could well have been in a sling for all the good it did him, for Thomas handcuffed this weapon throughout while he shook the visitor up repeatedly.

ON THE TURF

By Geo. A. Ramsey

HIPODROMO DE TIJUANA—Hats off to little apprentice jockey F. Novello, who scored on six winners last Sunday, nearly tying the record of eight the afternoon H. S. Jones rode to set a world record. Vigoroso threw him in the eighth race at the starting gate, but ace starter Wesley Neary gave him first aid and the game youngster again mounted his steed to the cheers of the crowd. Vigoroso won and paid $9.40 straight.

The feature race of the day, the Knobbie allowance, was won by Valdina Peer, owned by E. Forest, popular Negro sportsman, and trained by O. Jackson, another Negro. Valdina Peer came through on the rail to score by seven lengths, paying $8.20 and Market Street went home celebrating the victory.

In the secondary feature, the Bolanos, Valiant Kate, after laying close to the pace, took command at the eighth-mile pole to win handily, paying $10.

General Manager Agustin Silveyra announced for this Sunday two feature attractions to support the 12-race program arranged by presiding stewart and racing director Judge James J. Murphy. The first will be the Labor Day handicap at one flat mile for a purse of $2,500 added. The secondary event will be the "El Cairo" at 5½ furlongs.

The daily double paid $136.20 while the Quinela paid $32.60. The longest-price winner of the day was the first starter, Betsy Linda, in the third, paying $45.20, while the shortest-price winner was Bar Edythe, also a first starter, who paid $2.80. So until this Sunday when another program of 12 races will be staged at the border course, so long and keep smiling, George.

Racquet Club Tennis Meet Starts Aug. 31

The Angel City Racquet club wishes again to remind the public of its annual and most attractive event of each year held on the Ross Snyder Playground courts, 41st street and Compton ave., the Pacific Coast tennis championship, Aug. 31-Sept. 1-2.

Entrants of the tournament this year are expected to be greater than last year with participants from northern, eastern, and some southern organizations.

HONOLULU BOUND — Joe Louis, heavyweight champion, has been signed to fight in Honolulu after his bout with Tami Mauriello, it was announced late last week by Leo Leavitt, promoter. No date or opponent have been selected thus far.

Wiley Wildcats Start Training Grind Sept. 2

By Kerven Carter

MARSHALL, Texas—The Wiley Wildcats will hold their nintial 1946 football practice on Labor Day, Monday, September 2, when more than 50 candidates are expected to report to Coach Fred Long. The national champion Wildcats are expected to field another fine team this fall, but there is little likelihood that they will equal last year's amazing record of 359 points to opponents 19 in 10 games played.

Reginald Siki Subdues Fraley

Reginald Siki, Sepia wrestler who is undefeated in local rings to date, won another bout last Wednesday night when he applied a shoulder-pin to subdue Pat Fraley at the Olympic auditorium. Primo Carnera scored over Tommy O'Toole in his Los Angeles debut in the main event. 10,000 fans saw the contests.

BOXING BRIEFS

Light-Heavies to Vie in 10-Rounder

Kenny Watkins, clever and highly-regarded Los Angeles middleweight, will put on extra poundage to meet Jack Chase, former holder of both the middleweight and light-heavyweight California state titles, in the 10-round main event at Hollywood Legion stadium Friday night.

Plenty fur is expected to fly in this fourth meeting of the two boys, who will be fighting closer to the middleweight class than that of light heavies. Watkins has won over Chase twice while Jack nabbed a decision in their last battle. Kenny is a stablemate of John Thomas, highly-ranked local lightweight.

Matchmaker Charley McDonald has arranged an excellent brace of preliminary bouts to round out the card.

McDaniels Is New Net Singles Champ

A wire from Hazel Shumate of the Angel City Racquet club announced Tuesday that Jimmie McDaniels, local net star, had won the men's singles at the National tennis tournament which closed recently at Wilberforce university. McDaniels also teamed with Slick Stocks to win the men's doubles.

Roumainia Peters won the women's singles and Peters and Peters, the women's doubles. Stewart and Washington, teamed to win the mixed doubles and Clyde Freeman was the junior boy's singles champ.

McDaniels, according to reports, played heads-up tennis throughout the tourney and emerged the winner over the cream of the nation's net stars.

NATIONAL CHAMP—Jimmie McDaniels, Los Angeles tennis ace, won the men's singles in the recent national net tourney at Wilberforce and later teamed with Slick Stocks to annex the men's doubles.

Connecticut in Appointment of Negro Referee

HARTFORD, Conn.—(CNS)—For the first time in the state of Connecticut, a Negro, 29-year-old George M. Fitch, has been appointed to the State Atheltic commission's staff of referees.

Beginning his ring career 12 years ago, Fitch has had 65 bouts as a professional and lost only 10. At one time, he was Joe Louis' favorite sparring mate and helped Joe prepare for Billy Conn. More recently Fitch worked with Louis at Pompton Lakes, New Jersey, where the champ is in training for Tami Mauriello.

Appointed by Commissioner William J. Prince, he was sworn in at the State Capitol by Attorney General William L. Hadden.

Rams Downed By All-Stars

SOLDIER FIELD, CHICAGO—The Los Angeles Rams, pro football team, was downed 16 to 0 by the College All-Stars before 97,380 fans here last Friday night. Although favored in the betting, the Rams showed lack of training and will have to step on it for their Sept. 6 tilt against the Washington Redskins in Los Angeles.

Sepians Kenny Washington and Woody Strode both gave good accounts of themselves as new Rams.

. . . On the Baseball Front

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—The Mound City is awaiting eagerly and impatiently the huge baseball treat in store Friday night (August 30) when the Kansas City Monarchs and Indianapolis Clowns, both highly popular here, take over Sportsman's Park for a Negro American League doubleheader.

With Leroy ("Satchel") Paige slated to pitch one of the games for the Monarchs, it is quite likely that the Sportsman's Park crowd of 31,000 that saw the Clowns defeat the Birmingham Black Barons here last year will be eclipsed. A packed house is a possibility.

JOE LOUIS took a six mile hike and boxed with four sparring partners Tuesday at Pompton Lakes, N. J., in preparation for his championship bout against Tami Mauriello on Sept. 18.

Negro Driver To Compete at Coliseum Sat.

Rajo Jack, Negro speed ace, whose sensational auto race driving performances are known the world over, has been signed to compete at the Los Angeles Coliseum this Saturday night during the midget auto race program, it was announced today.

The 6 foot, one inch tall speedway ace has appeared at Ascot, Mines Field, Oakland, Yakima, Fresno, San Diego, Vancouver and Victoria, Canada, Southern Ascot and many other auto tracks. It is believed he will drive at Indianapolis next year.

Qualifying starts at 6:30 p. m. at the Coliseum, with regular races beginning at 8:30 p. m. General admission is $1.25, with reserved seats available for $2.50. Reservations are being taken at RIchmond 6391.

Jess Hutten Shoots a 78

Jess Hutten, president of the Cosmopolitan Golf Club and Commander of the Benjamin J. Bowie Post of the American Legion, competing in the Department golf tournament, in San Francisco during the recent convention scored a 78 to finish in fourth place.

SAN DIEGO—The 22nd Annual Conference of the Southern California District of The African Methodist Episcopal Church, will convene in the Bethel, A.M.E. church, 31st, and "K" sts., San Diego, Tuesday, September 3, 9 a.m., through Sunday, September 8. Rev. Noah W. Williams, Bishop of the 5th Episcopal District will preside and Rev. Alfred K. Quinn, will act as host.

A record number of delegates and visitors are expected in attendance. Dennis V. Allen, president of the San Diego Race Relations Society, is chairman of the reception and entertainment committee, and announces the following as some of the feature entertainments planned for the delegates: An introductory reception, Tuesday evening Sept. 3, a steamer excursion tour over San Diego bay, including visits to U. S. Naval Training Stations and battleships, an old-time barbecue, a formal banquet in the gold room of the U. S. Grant Hotel, Third and Broadway. All the foregoing will be free to all delegates. Formal dress will be required for admittance to the formal banquet.

Little 4 year old Judy Spain, evangelist singer, will appear on the Smith Jubilee Singers program at the Elks Temple on Central ave., Friday night, Aug. 30 at 8 p. m. and Sept. 1 when the Smith Jubilee Singers will compete with the Blue Jay Singers from Birmingham, Alabama, in a concert of song. The Biggers Business college is sponsoring the Smith Singers.

Besides her evangelistic ability Judy can sing, play the piano, recite, and act. She will also appear at the Harmony Baptist church Sunday evening at 8 p.m. at 41st and S. San Pedro. The public is invited to attend these services.

'Volunteers' Capture Hearts of Vast Throng at Trinity Church

"The Volunteers," Trinity Baptist church's own acapella male quartette, made its debut last Sunday night at the church before a capacity throng, and captured the hearts of all present from the first to their last number. From the very first it was evident that their home church meant to demonstrate her ardent affection and enthusiastic encouragement. They were applauded warmly and forced to accept numerous "calls". They were most generous in responding with encore numbers. The spontaneity of the applause must have inspired them to do their best; but apart from the audience response, their execution was almost faultless and deserves more than passing mention.

From a musical point of view, they revealed earnest and sincere technical and spiritual preparation. The smooth, even rhythm and sweet tonal quality of their harmony was captivating and each number seemed like a quiet heart-to-heart communion of kindred spirits. Their selection of numbers was excellent, and sufficiently varied to keep the audience pleasantly entertained but deeply moved. One could not escape the spiritual depth of their offering and when the pastor extended an invitation for church membership, the response was sincere and gratifying.

"The Volunteers" do something to you and for you—and you go away, not without a lingering wish that you might hear them again. The personnel of the quartette, all active members of Trinity Baptist church, are: Norman Brooks, Frederick P. Torrence, Raymond Cook and James Booker. Norman Brooks arranges their numbers and directs the group. He possesses a rare tenor voice and takes most of the leads. James Booker did one lead very acceptably.

Mrs. Betty Henderson, business manager, is a charming mistress of ceremonies, and added to the sincerity and dignity of the program.

Porters Guests At Bowen Sun.

The Los Angeles division of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters will be the special guests of the morning service at the Bowen Memorial Methodist church.

Among the Brotherhood representatives participating in the serives are: L. B. Thompson, president of the L. A. division; Oscar Soares, secretary-treasuerer; Rev. James Bell, Sr., chaplain; and Mrs. Henry Mingleton, president of the L. A. division Ladies Auxilary. Rev. Hamilton Boswell, pastor of Bowen, will deliver the annual Labor Day message.

CORRECTION

In last week's edition, the story which stated "The Volunteers invite the public to hear The Enterprise Recording artists, a magnificent male quartette, under the direction of Norman Brooks," should have read as follows: Come and listen to the Volunteers, the enterprise recording artists, a magnificent male quartette, under the direction of Norman Brooks.

Sunday School Lesson

By REV. IKE EVANS, D.D.

Rev. Evans is the president of the Bronzeville Down-Town Baptist Minister's Union.

Subject: Jesus and the Right Use of Property. Devotional reading, Psalm 104:24.34. Motto Text: Matthew 6:20-21. Lesson Text and Outline, Exodus 10:15; Prov-

REV. IKE EVANS

INTRODUCTION—Five authorities on the right use of property are quoted in our larger lesson. (1) Moses gave the commandment against theft and applied it with legislation against "divers weights" and the removal of a neighbor's landmarks. (2) Agur desired "neither poverty nor riches" with their respective temptations. (3) Micah denounced the taking of houses and lands by oppression and violence. Jesus forbade selfishness in litiagtion and lending, and told us how to lay up treasures in heaven. (5) Paul prayed to God for his readers in a great commercial city "that ye do no evil; but that ye should do that which is honest.

COMMENTS: 1. The eighth commandment concerns our own and our neighbor's wealth, estate, and goods. This commandment forbid us to rob ourselves of what we have by sinful spending, and to rob others in any way.

2. Prosperity makes some people proud and forgetful of God, as if they had no need of Him and were therefore under no obligation to Him, and, therefore they will do nothing for Him. Poverty is a strong temptation to dishonesty, and many are overcome by it, and ready to think it will be their excuse; but it will not bear them out at the bar of God.

Fashion Revue Friday Night, August 30, at Masonic Hall

Final plans have been made for what is to be one of the most outstanding events of the season. A Fashion Revue second to none is to be staged Friday evening August 30, at the Masonic Hall, 1050 E. 50th street, at 8:15 a'clock. The afair is sponsored by Deforah Circle of Hamilton Methodist church.

Just what will be worn by the best dressed woman of L. A. will be shown at the show. A "Back-to-School" scene will also be one of the features on the evening's program. Among the moleds are some of Los Angeles' most popular younger set and prominent young matrons, including Dorothy Mims, noted hat designer; Elsie Deville, Ruth Owens, modiste, Daisy Hudson Brooks, Betty Hudson, Loraine Belle, Hamilton Shirley, Alice Jones, prominent figure in the city's social circle; Alva Reeves, Dorothy Lewis; Nellie Young of Santa Monica and Los Angeles, Meda Ellisa and Martine Redgrey, and others; among the school age models are the Dunlap children.

The program committee chairmaned by Miss Dorothy B. Washington has secured, for the evening's entertainment, some of the city's leading musicians and soloists, among whom are Mrs. Elsie Lee; Eddie Grace Keyes, Concert artist; James C. Morris, Saxophonist; Edith Owens, known to all Los Angeles audiences for her splendid musical renditions; Emma Jean Juniel, concert pianist; Charles Owens, popular soloist.

Mistress of Ceremonies for the evening is none other than the well known and popular Mrs. Lora Allen Lightford.

Proceeds from this affairs will go toward the building fund of the Samuel M. Beane Memorial Recreational Center, to be erected at E. 18th stret and Naomi avenue. This is a great opportunity for each and every one to participate in the curbing of juvenile delinquency in the community. A center where the young of our city can receive wholesome and healthful training by learned instructors. Can we count on your support?

Sweet Chariot Choir Again To Broadcast

After attending the annual camp meeting of Seventh-Day Adventists in Lynwood, the Sweet Chariot Hour choir will resume its weekly broadcasts at the Sunset avenue church, Sunset and Pepper in Pasadena.

Rev. George R. Garner, noted musical director, will be guest conductor on next week's broadcast with some of the Garner Singers augmenting the choir. Preceding the broadcast, there will be Singspiration in which the audience will participate.

The Sweet Chariot Hour, for the past 3½ years, had been broadcasting weekly over station KXLA in Pasadena. This program has the largest interracial audience for its type on the Pacific coast. The broadcast is heard on Saturday, 6:30 p.m. over station KXLA (1110 kcys. on dial). Rev. Owen A. Troy, pastor, is program director. Associated with him is Rev. Harold Lindsey of Los Angeles.

Prospective purchasers are cautioned that property contained in this notice may be encumbered with bonds and assessments which may not be dischargeable by tax sale. Information as to such liens should be obtained from the City Treasurer wherein the property is located and/or from the appropriate County, City or District office in which the records of such liens are kept.

In order to meet the requirements of the Federal Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act, purchasers of tax delinquent property will be required to satisfy the Tax Collector (by affidavit or otherwise) that the property is not owned and occupied for dwelling, professional, business, or agricultural purposes by a person in the military service or his dependents or employees.

Property purchased shall be paid for in full, with cash, at time of sale; Cashier's Checks, Certified Checks, or Bank Money Orders will be accepted in lieu of cash, provided they are made payable to H. L. BYRAM, County Tax Collector.

Each minimum bid will be increased sufficiently to defray the proportionate cost of publishing this notice.

Dated this 22nd day of August, 1946.
H. L. BYRAM,
Tax Collector.
Publish Aug. 22, 29, Sept. 5, 1946.

RESCUED FROM LYNCHERS—Dr. Robert S. Wilkinson (New York) examines half-healed scars left by lynchers' ropes and straps when 17-year-old Albert Harris was flogged by Louisiana mob in attempt to force a confession involving John C. Jones. Jones, a veteran who fought for his country in France, Belgium and Germany, was killed by the mob, whose members used a blow torch and meat cleaver to perform their grisly deed. Young Harris, an eye-witness of the crime, was flown to New York by the NAACP to furnish testimony to the FBI, which will positively implicate several members of the mob.—Our World Photo.

Cafe Proprietor Finds Discrimination Costly

Julian Cangelosi, Italian proprietor of the Pioneer Cafe, 6049 Huntington blvd., will probably think twice before refusing to serve Negroes in the future. His change of attitude will no doubt be greatly influenced by the fact that a judgment for $200 and costs was assessed against him by Superior Judge Caryl M. Sheldon in Dept. 15 of the superior court last Thursday.

The judgment was rendered in favor of Clarence Hill and Eugene Loughridge as a result of discrimination against them when they seated themselves at his counter last August and requested service and were re-

On The Sidewalk

By C. A. B.

I AM USING excerpts from a letter commenting on last week's column, although it is not the policy of this newspaper to publish unsigned letters or comments.

I don't mean to be harsh or unkind, but it does seem to me that individuals who make statements expressing their honest convictions, on matters they believe helpful in the development of the political thinking of the people, would not conceal their identity.

The author of the letter referred to, addressed me: Dear Mrs. Bass:

HAVING been a reader of the EAGLE for many years, I have noted with concern and apprehension your frank and open support of Communism, as well as the actitvities of Soviet Russia.

(Thanks for this favorable comment. I hope never to throw a rock and hide my hand.)

"Now I know that Communism, to the average Negro, means nothing more than a movement which offers him a way out. It is a way of life that allegedly affords him the justice and equality for which he struggles."

Your conception of what Communism offers the Negro throws some light on the subject that I hitherto did not know.

AS A matter of fact, what you see fit to call my support of Communism is, in reality, my support of Democracy. I realize that the Negro, for far too long a time, has been a political football, kicked back and forth by the Republican and Democratic parties. And because he refuses to recognize his roll in the political game, he is the object of scorn and disrespect by his "white supremacy" political bosses.

Your concern anent my political views causes me to come forth with a confesstion I have made previously, and that is that I am a Republican—but not now, because I have faith in the old "elephant's" determination to get his feet on the straight and narrow path that leads to a democratic goal for this nation—a goal envisioned by Franklin Delano Roosevelt, the so-called New Dealer.

My friend, does it mean anything to you that Bilbo, Rankin, Gerald L. K. Smith, the K.K.K. and most of our Republican big shots, including the Negro sycohants, established the precedent that you now follow? The practice of fighting Communism and Soviet Russia!

POLITICALLY, I am concerned with freedom—not for some people, but all the people in the world.

I believe that in the establishment of One World—that world described by Wendell Willkie—we can salvage many good things from what we describe as "our democratic way of life"—and likewise from Russia's Soviet plan.

Think of our present economic plan versus that of Soviet Russia—in this year, 1946, under OPA, there have been four price hikes in cotton goods, the commodity used largely for making clothes for working people. In Russia, on the other hand, clothing costs on the same type of goods have been reduced four times.

The above information was secured from press releases which also report that on the shelves of American warehouses can be found 18 billion dollars worth of cotton cloth.

What is Christianity, I ask?

Jesus said: "Feed my sheep"—not with propaganda that breeds hate of one race or color against another—such as is practiced in Christian America. I feel sure Jesus meant—put clothing on their backs and food in their stomachs.

You say, "May I remind you, however, that our country already has incorporated in its Constitution the 13th, 14th and 15th Amendments which are good enough for anyone—black or white?"

Madam—or Sir—you have opened up so many avenues of thought on the subject that I will have to ask your indulgence until the next issue when I will discuss "Communism vs. Americanism."

"The wheels of fear and intolerance are grinding slowly but surely" in Southern California, and "seeds of disunity are being sown" which threaten the economic welfare of the state, Assemblymen Augustus F. Hawkins, executive director of the California Committee for Fair Employment Practices, declared Tuesday in a noon address before a Town Hall membership meeting at the Biltmore hotel.

"More than a fifth of the veterans applying for jobs are being questioned as to their religion," Hawkins said. "Employment advertisements are discriminatory, and again the United States Employment Service is accepting and filling discriminatory orders."

Speaking on behalf of the California Fair Employment Practices Act, on the November 5 ballot as Proposition No. 11,

FATHER GEORGE DUNNE

Father Dunne Speaks Friday At Mass Rally

Father George Dunne, of Loyola university, will be principal speaker at a mass anti-restrictive covenant meeting slated by the Home Protective Association, 8 o'clock tomorrow evening, at Carver junior high school, Vernon and McKinley.

Among the many guest artists to be presented will be Betty Wyckoff, Los Angeles Youth Project, in a skit entitled "Cooperative Jive;" and Gloria Moore, singing "They Threw the Book at Me." Several Mexican dances will also be featured.

Two-year-old Curtis Cook, son of Mrs. Yvette Cook of 1446 East 23rd st., was rushed to the hospital Sunday after he climbed out of his crib and took a "shot" of camphorated oil. After a workout by nurses at Georgia st. emergency hospital, he was announced as "out of danger."

Cop, Shocked by Brutality Probe, Resigns in Huff

Grab on to something, dear reader, and get out that bottle of smelling salts. This, you will agree, beats even the man bites dog story which harried managin editors, under the needling of circulation departments, long have sought.

Here it comes. Our local police department has discovered by some mysterious legerdemain "sufficient evidence" to warrant trial by a police board of a policeman charged with the unwarranted beating of a civilian.

Got that smelling salts handy? Well, take another whiff. The offending policeman has up and resigned. Cynics around City Hall have it that the surprise was too much for him. Others interpret his resignation as motivated by resentment that the department should even consider calling him on the carpet for indulging in a pasttime heretofore not denied to members of the force.

At that, the accused officer probably would have been treated to a handsome coat of whitewash, as has been police procedure in countless other cases of police brutality. But this particular lawless upholder of law and order was peculiarly sensitive, and resigned.

The sensitive officer was Policeman Elford L. Thomas, a wartime emergency cop. He was accused by John Davis, 32, white,

CIO Bans Long Beach for State Convention, Says Hotel Owners Refuse to Drop Bias

American hotel owners discriminate against Negroes and other minorities? Why, that's just CIO propaganda and "wholly beyond belief," according to David Olmstead, secretary of the Long Beach Hotel Association.

Grievously hurt mentally and, where it hit most, in the pocketbook, Olmstead this week dramatically took issue with the CIO decison not to hold its forthcoming state convention in Long Beach. CIO leaders reported their decision was based on the refusal of leading Long Beach hotel owners to agree to open their establishments to Negro and Mexican delegates. Nothing of the kind, says Olmstead, adding the following unrealistic touch:

"The thing is ridiculous because it is unnecessary that anyone write a letter or agree that they will abide by the laws of this land which say that all men are created free and equal."

Plans of the California CIO Council to hold its 1946 convention in Long Beach have been cancelled after "hotels and restaurants there refused to agree not to discriminate because of race or color against any delegate."

This announcement was made yesterday jointly by State CIO President Morris Zusman, and Secretary Mervyn Rathborne.

Their statement continued, "The principles upon which

Harlem Woman Gets State Dept. Social Study Job

NEW YORK — (NNPA) — Dr. Irene Diggs of 409 Edgecombe ave. will be the first colored woman assigned by the State Department to study social conditions in South American countries, it became known last Monday.

Dr. Diggs, who has served for nine years as research assistant to Dr. W. E. B. DuBois, author and lecturer on racial problems, left yesterday for Montevideo, Uruguay, by plane. She said she would apply herself primarily to the history of the descendants of Africans in Uruguay. The assignment poses a research problem, she added, since records have been neglected and none are available in English.

A native of Monmouth, Ill., Dr. Diggs is a graduate of the University of Minnesota, Atlanta university and the University of Havana. She was a Franklin D. Roosevelt fellow of the Institute of International Education at the Cuban institution from 1943 to 1945, and received a doctorate in philosophy and letters.

Nine persons will be assigned to the social study in five South American countries, two each to Argentina, Brazil, Chile and Colombia, and Miss Diggs to Uruguay.

Demands Grand Jury Holds Open Hearings In Cop Killing of Boy

A ctiy-wide drive among all progressive organizations was being pushed this week by the Civil Rights Congress to force the county grand jury, now probing the shooting of 13 year old Eugene Montenegro by a deputy sheriff, to hold open hearings on that case and others involving police brutality.

The campaign for open hearings followed closely the action of the grand jury's criminal complaint committee in handing over evidence in the Montenegro case to the jury as a whole. This will take place Sept. 10 in a star chamber session, at which time the voluminous evidence that has been gathered in the Montenegro case will be sifted.

Tuesday morning a delegation from the Civil Rights Congress, headed by chairman Mrs. Ruth Slade; Mrs. Anthonett Montenegro, mother of the slain Mexican lad, and attorney Richard Ibanez, handed three new and important documents to Arthur Veitch, secretary of the jury.

'Sugar Hill' Cases Slated For Hearing on Oct. 2; No Date on Laws' Appeal

The issue of democracy vs. restrictive covenants moved closer to a decision as the state supreme court this week set October 2 as the date for hearing arguments in the "Sugar Hill" cases. Also slated for argument on that same date is another appeal involving the right of Hobart Sanders, local businessman, to occupy property he owns on East 55th st.

It is anticipated that the court will also take up the famous Henry Laws appeal, financed by the Homeowners Protective Association, early in October.

The "Sugar Hill" case is before the court as the result of an appeal from a decision rendered by Judge Thurmond Clarke holding that enforcement of such covenants is violative of constitutional guarantees.

That was the case in which he declared that "it is time that members of the Negro race be granted their full constitutional rights without evasion" and dismissed the cases, involving more than 40 parcels of land, on the motion of attorneys. The Sanders case is also on appeal from one of his decisions refusing enforcement of a similar covenant.

Vigorous support of Judge Clark's position is voiced in a lengthly brief filed by attorneys Loren Miller and Harold J. Sin-

Woman Claims Self-Defense in Spouse Killing

A technicality of the law may allow confessed husband slayer Mrs. Ida King Roberts, 27, to go free for the shooting last Saturday night of Elmer Lee Roberts, 30.

Mrs. Roberts, common law wife of the victim, admitted to police she shot and killed him after he came home and accused her of unfaithfulness. However, only her confession, which contains a self-defense plea, will enable the district attorney's office to convict her.

Because of this, deputy district attorney Don Avery states that no murder charge is contemplated against the woman at this time, "although it must be remembered a murder charge is

With 192 precincts complete out of the state's 206, Bunker, a former senator, was leading by 900 votes.

Demand Senate Refuse to Seat Klansman Bilbo

WASHINGTON — Representatives of three national organizations joined this week with an educator in demanding that the 80th congress refuse to seat Sen. Theodore G. Bilbo, D., Miss., in January, because of his public admission of membership in the Ku Klux Klan.

The four leaders were allotted radio time by the Mutual Broadcasting System, in response to a request by the National Negro Congress, to answer a broadcast Bilbo made over the same network on August 9.

Bilbo's critics were Dr. Max Yergen, national secretary of the NNC; Thomas Richardson, international vice-president of the United Public Workers of America, CIO; Charles H. Houston, chairman of the legal committee of the NAACP, and Dr. Joseph L. Johnson, dean of Howard university school of medicine.

The speakers pointed out that Bilbo's oath, as a senator, to uphold the constitution and laws of the United States, is inconsistent with his membership in the Klan, urged the

OPA Sues E'side Hotel Operators

OPA cracked down on Nell Neil, 1787 Point View st., and Lucille Hall, 545 South Wall st., operators of the Wilmington hotel at the latter address, when attorneys for the agency went into superior court yesterday with the filing of a treble damage suit seeking judgment for $3,512.25 against the landlords.

The suit, in addition to alleging defendants exacted one-third of that amount in overcharges from tenants for occupancy of rooms at the Wall street address, charges they refused to provide receipts for rents paid, failed to comply with record keeping and rent posting requirements of the rent regulation, and, in some instances, neglected to furnish the rent office with complete registration of rental units.

OPA's complaint, prepared by Samuel B. Steinbach, enforcement attorney, cites 14 instances in which tenants are asserted to have been overcharged from $3.00 to $5.50 on weekly rents. In addition to damages the suit seeks a court

San Diego Publishes Survey of Intergroup Relations, Problems

SAN DIEGO—San Diego becomes the first city on the Pacific Coast, and perhaps in the country, to publish a survey of its minority-majority groups as an official document. This was announced yesterday by Laurence I. Hewes, Jr., west coast director of the American Council on Race Relations.

"The City of San Diego and the board of education of San Diego approved, on August 27, by joint concurrent resolution, official publication of the Interracial Survey, Intergroup Relations in San Diego, prepared by the American Council on Race Relations," Hewes stated.

Hewes gave high praise to the courage and intelligence of San Diego officials. Stating that the survey presented some plain and unvarnished factual criticisms of past policies, Hewes said, "We did not attempt to pull any punches—these people seemed to want to know the truth about these aspects of their city—we gave them our findings and suggestions as we saw them. Sometimes, work of this kind remains unpublished through official timidity. This is not the case with San Diego. Our guess is that San Diego is on the way to a modern and progressive adjustment of minority-majority group problems."

Hewes announced that in addition to publishing the survey, the San Diego board of education has accepted the report as a guide to further study and discussion in the community.

"The survey contains specific recommendations for social action," Hewes stated, adding "in adopting the complete report, San Diego becomes the first major community on the Pacific Coast to use a planning approach to minority group problems."

Public Workers Union Starts Sweeping Nation-wide Probe Of Job Bias in Gov't Agencies

WASHINGTON — The first meeting of the Anti-Discrimination Commission, established last month by the international executive board of the United Public Workers of America, was held here this week at the union's international office. The Commission will have two functions: 1. To collect information on the forms and the extent of racial and religious discrimination in the employment practices of government-federal, state and local, and, 2. To make recommendations for union actions to combat such discrimination.

The Commission is composed of four members: UPW Vice-Presidents Thomas Richardson and Arthur Stein and international board members Ewart Guimier, Dorothy Bailey and Albert Scott.

At its meeting this week, the Commission proceeded to the task of securing up-to-date and accurate information on which, it agreed, the union's actions must be based. It sent a questionnaire to each of 500 UPW-CIO locals throughout the country requiring investigation of the actual situation in all sorts of government establishments.

Typical questions from this questionnaire are:

- What is the proportion of Negro (or other minority group) workers in your agency?
- What was the effect of the war period on the hiring of minority group workers?
- What is the effect now in the reconversion period?
- What types of jobs do the minority group workers hold in your agency?
- Do you think that your agency's hiring policy of Negro workers is better or worse than that of a private employer in the community?

The questionnaire also asks for specific typical cases of discrimination, if such have come to the union's attention, and asks the situation with regard to women and veterans. It asks the proportion of minority group workers within the local union.

The Commission asked each local union to appoint an Anti-discrimination Committee, and requested that such committee's first task be the collection of information required in the questionnaire.

The Commission will meet again in approximately two months to evaluate information received and to map union action.

At its meeting here the Commission noted with approval the steps being taken by Secretary of Commerce Wallace to assure Negro workers laid off by the department of commerce the fairest opportunities to remployment elsewhere. The Commission congratulated UPW's Local 3, which brought the workers' problems to the secretary's attention.

"Today there is an increasing amount of public discussion and understanding," said the Commission, "of the need for extending to all Americans equal opportunity for employment and for economic advancement, regardless of race or creed. The war against fascism and Nazism has highlighted the falsehood and the evils which flow from 'master race doctrines. Now, it is becoming increasingly clear that a stable and just peace depends to a very large extent on the ability of all democratic nations to find democratic solutions for the problems of subject peoples and racial minorities. The eyes of the world are on the U.S., who can hardly afford to do less than practice what she preaches about equal opportunity and equal rights for all.

"The governmental agencies of the United States and its subdivisions are certainly one area in which discrimination in employment practices or promotional opportunities must be rapidly eliminated."

Pledges PAC to Aid Election of Progressives

Labor and the "common people" have the power to reverse the reactionary course pursued by the "unlamented 79th congress," CIO Political Action Committee Director Jack Kroll said in a Labor Day message pledging PAC to work for the return to congress of a "militant group of fighting progressives," and the retirement of "congressmen and senators who have spearheaded the reactionary onslaught in brazen violation of the mandate which the people gave them in 1944.

"The issues of the campaign are making themselves felt on the job and in the home of every worker and in the market basket of every worker's wife. It is our task to teach the simple truth that these issues are political issues and can be resolved only by political action. It is our job to bring the record of every congressman to his constituents and to show them how his votes on vital issues are reflected in their daily lives," Kroll said.

Radio Program To Bare Lynch Terror, Bigotry

"It Is Happening Here," a dramatic series of 13-week radio shows sponsored by the Mobilization for Democracy and exposing the activities of some of America's lynch terrorists, anti-Semites and hate-breeders, will go on the air Monday, Sept. 9, on KLAC at 7:05 p.m., it was announced last night by William Bidner, executive director of the Mobilization.

The first program in the series titled "Operation Terror" begins with the dramatization of the mass murder of four Negroes in Georgia. From this point, the story moves swiftly to Isaac Woodward, the Negro G.I. whose eyes were gouged out by a South Carolina policeman, to Macie Snipes, of Taylor County, Georgia, who was killed for having voted for the first time and then to the recent series of Ku Klux Klan incidents which have occurred in Los Angeles.

Attorney General Robert Kenny, honorary chairman of the Mobilization, will present a decisive program of action to the listening audience.

The series was planned by the Mobilization as a method of reaching hundreds of thousands of Los Angeles citizens with a hard-hitting expose of organized bigotry and a concrete program of action to combat it, Bidner told The EAGLE.

Produced with the cooperation of the Hollywood Writers Mobilization, the best of Hollywood talent, including top-flight writers, producers, directors and actors, have offered their services for the productions, Bidner said.

Pepper Blames U. S. Press for New War Drive

By M. HEWLETT

"It's just like getting married," Claude Pepper, progressive senator from Florida, told newsmen at a press conference Sunday when asked to comment on rumors that he might run for president on the Democratic ticket in 1948. "You have to be asked before you can accept."

Pepper answered questions straight-forwardly. Asked if he thought conditions in the South were improving, he said, "the political climate in the South was improving."

"For example," he said, "we have fewer Southern reactionaries and bigots in congress than before. My new colleague in the senate will be much better than the last, who decided not to run for re-election."

He pointed to the growth of industry in the South as an important factor in developing progressive trends in that section. There will be more working men and women to give the liberal movement additional momentum, he said.

On the issue of the franchise, Pepper pointed to the recent elections where Negroes voted in appreciable numbers even though they were subjected to terrorism. He said that he felt that the congress might pass the Anti-Poll tax Bill because "southern liberals were gaining articulation."

The senator spoke informally and at length on the south. He said he saw much hope in the growth of the South and the returned GIs.

The senator placed most of the blame for the growing hostility toward Russia upon the daily press. "This is one of the most vicious propaganda campaigns I have ever witnessed. It is both clever and powerful, designed to discredit the party in power and to confuse the people. If we collaborate with Russia, we are called appeasers and Communists. On the other hand if we do not, we are said to be bungling matters and loosing the peace."

When asked his position on the Trieste issue, Senator Pepper asked, "How would you feel if some foreign power controlled the Chesseapeake Bay and most of the sea surrounding the United States."

A reporter than asked the Senator what was the reaction in Senate regarding the Palestine situation. Senator Pepper said, "The reaction in Washington is shameful. We have washed our hands of the situation and it is both shameful and inhumane to the Jews and to mankind. This policy is a complete turnabout from that in Hungary, Iran, Rumania and other places where it is thought that the Russians exert some influence. Here the U. S. is a crusader but in Palestine it seems that we are afraid to offend our fraternal associate, Great Britain."

Newsmen Subscribe $100 to Fight Klan

Something new in the way of union and management contract negotiations was added recently when several hundred employes, witnessing such talks at the Royal Palms hotel, took time out to collect money to fight the Ku Klux Klan.

During an intermission in the proceedings, George Hutchinson, president of the Los Angeles Newspaper Guild, asked employes of the Herald-Express, currently asking for wage raises in their meeting with management, to kick in with a few coins to help battle the KKK.

In less than five minutes the guild was able to oversubscribe their $100 quota, pledged to fight the hooded native fascists. One of the union members, who works for the Hearst paper, stated: "We have to fight harder than anybody else against fascists at night, after helping them all day."

AFL Dining Car Union Official Warns of Attacks on Wartime Gains of Nation's R.R. Workers

Expressing himself optimistically regarding wage and hour gains made by dining car employes, William E. Pollard, general chairman of Dining Car Employes Union, Locals 582 and 456, AF of L, voiced the forthright warning, however, that railway workers throughout the nation face a struggle in the ensuing year to maintain a status quo in the face of management's indicated program to reduce wages, vacation periods and overtime.

Wm. Pollard

Many of these advances have been made during the war, and history has proven, Pollard pointed out, that, with the return to so-called normalcy, powerful efforts are usually made to destroy such gains.

To this end, Pollard declared that railway labor must further strengthen its bulwarks on all fronts. Commenting further, he said he had strongly recommended that his organization set up a fund to pay benefits during anticipated strikes.

He revealed that nearly 55 percent of the employes in dining car work on west coast systems were union members and that a 100 percent goal had been charted for the future. This, he said, was a far cry from the union's inception and charter membership of 255 in 1926. employes in dining car work on west coast systems were union members and that a 100 percent goal had been charted for the future. This, he said, was a far cry from the union's inception and charter membership of 255 in 1926.

With Big Four

Affiliated with the Hotel and Restaurant Employes International Alliance and Bartenders International League of America, the dining car locals and members of the Joint Council of Dining Car Employes and also the 15th member group of the non-operating 15 Cooperating Railway Labor Organizations.

Local 582, Los Angeles, with an auxiliary in Houston, Texas, and Local 456, Oakland are the key centers of the union which hold contracts with the Southern Pacific Railway's far flung system extending from Portland, Ore., to New Orleans, La; Texas and New Orleans, Western Pacific, San Diego and Arizona Eastern.

Speaking of future aims, Pollard said the locals had a planned program to increase their efficiency by uniting the membership under one union which would serve as the bargaining agent for the three roads concerned. This method instead of having to bargain individually with the management of each carrier is better, he said. He cited Local 351 in Chicago as a model example of the type system union.

Negro dining car stewards within the scope covered by the union's jurisdiction are another prime objective for the future, the official asserted. He said waiters in charge had been in vogue since 1941.

Pollard was high in praise of the new generation of dining car employes who by virtue of "their gentlemanly qualities, ability and appearance were materially aiding the union in raising the standards."

Because of vastly improved working conditions and salary raises, Pollard disclosed that for the first time in history, Negro dining car employes faced competition for their jobs from whites and Filipinos.

In 1937 waiters were paid $62.50 per month; at present the salary for the same job is $163.40. Chef cooks who were once being paid $140 now scale up to $277.

An accelerated program which calls for a district conference every six months, continued stress on employe performance and the pledging of each member to bring in a new one, were plans revealed by the general chairman.

Ranking officer of the west coast dining car workers organization at the age of 30, Pollard came up from the ranks. He began as a bus boy. He became labor conscious while a student at Los Angeles City college. He has held every important job since, as an employe and as a union official.

A man who "goes into brooding moods and doesn't talk for days at a time, then threatens to kill his wife and children" was the way in which Mrs. Frances Pittman, 30, of 1656 East 112th st., Watts, described her husband after he had beaten her Sunday.

Police answered a call at that address and found Mrs. Pittman badly beaten. She said that her husband had "one of his spells" and then threatened her and their children. She says he kicked her out the door and over a four-foot hedge.

White Long Beach Cafe Owner Admits Beating Customer

A white restaurant proprietor was named in a police report as the suspect who beat Dave Young, 27, of 433 Gulf ave., over the head with a club in an altercation in a Long Beach cafe.

Named on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon but not arrested was Norman Bursh, 36, proprietor of a cafe at 117 East 4th st., Long Beach. According to police, Bursh said that he became irate when the alleged victim changed his order from steak to veal cutlets, and in the ensuing argument hit him with a heavy wooden club.

Young besides suffering serious head injuries, paid an 85-cent check.

Seeks to Ease City's Housing Regulations

With real veterans housing bogged down and the city's homeless list still growing, City Councilman Charles A. Allen of the eighth district has asked the city council to toss certain housing restrictions in the ash-can and allow tent cities in local municipal courts.

The action followed protests to other officials upon the scheduled closing of a Hollywood canteen, now occupied by homeless vets, because it is unsafe and not up to the city's housing and fire codes.

Shelley Blasts GOP Red-baiting Attack

SAN FRANCISCO—State Senator John F. Shelley, candidate for lieutenant governor, on returning to San Francisco today from a tour of north coast counties, expressed himself as "amazed" that his opponent, Judge Goodwin Knight, should have lowered the lieutenant governor's campaign before the public to the "level of personalities."

Shelley took prompt and vigorous exception to published statements by Knight calling Shelley a "darling of the left wingers" and a "hand picked candidate of the CIO-PAC."

"Mr. James Roosevelt, chairman of the Democratic state central committee, has declared his approval of the endorsement of Democratic candidates by the American Federation of Labor and the CIO-PAC. I thoroughly agree with Mr. Roosevelt," Shelley said.

"Anybody is a 'left-winger' to the Tory reactionaries of the Republican party who has his feet even an inch off the sacred curbstone of Wall Street," he added.

Hubby 'Cruel,' Nurse Says Asking Divorce

Beulah Smith, 25-year-old nurse at the Angelus hospital, has filed a suit for divorce against her husband, Lloyd Smith, charging extreme cruelty, according to her attorney, Hugh Culler.

Mrs. Smith claims that her husband, a mechanic, has threatened to kill her and attacked her with a gun. She asks that he be forced to move from their home at 482½ East 47th st. He is 35. They have no children.

Files Murder Charge Against Mailman Who Wounded Woman, Killed Baby, Attempted Suicide

A long-delayed murder complaint was sworn out late Wednesday afternoon by the district attorney's office against Joe Thierry, 37-year-old mailman, who is accused of the shotgun murder of a two year old girl, the wounding of her mother, and who then shot himself and almost died.

Thierry has just been released from the jail ward of general hospital, recovering from self-inflicted shotgun wounds. According to his attorney, Crispus Wright, the mailman will be charged with the killing of Judith Carter, 2. Police say he shot the baby and her mother, Mrs. Arma Carter, of 2159 West 28th st., last May 5 when in a jealous rage he fired at the mother, who was holding the child in her arms at the time.

After allegedly killing the baby and wounding the mother, Thierry went to a vacant lot at 412 E. 41st place and shot himself with the gun in the abdomen. Wrighley Field guards raced him to the hospital.

Role of Peacemaker Tough, Man Finds Out

When the "Good Samaritan" tries to stop a stranger from beating his wife, he usually gets into trouble. McHenry Smith, 48, of 631 East 52nd st., is no exception.

Smith, according to police, saw Columbus Jordan, painter, of 2121 East 25th st., slapping his wife, Lola, and tearing her dress. Smith told Jordan to stop, and then, he says, Jordan took out after him with a knife.

After a chase from the Jordan home Smith says he picked up a two-by-four and KOed Jordan with it. The victim, seriously injured, was rushed to the hospital. Smith was arrested and Thursday the DA swore out a complaint charging him with assault with a deadly weapon with the intent to commit murder.

Carpenters Hit RKO Feature As Anti-Labor

A. Bowers, secretary of Local 634, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, AFL, announced this week that his local is on record protesting the further showing of RKO's film "No Place Like Home" on the grounds that it is a vicious anti-labor film.

"This action came about after a delegation from the union viewed the film at the Newsreel theatre. The delegation reported that the film contained several remarks directed against the Carpenter's Union in particular, the assertion that the Brotherhood restricts the amount of lumber cut with an electric saw to that of what a man would ordinarily cut by hand.

In a second resolution the local condemned the recent legislation prohibiting veterans who receive On the Job Training from earning more than $200 per month if married, and more than $175 if single, and demanded the restoration of the original subsidies as provided under the GI bill of rights.

Copies of both resolutions were sent to legislators, the District Council of Carpenters, the Building Trades Council, all affiliated unions and civic and veteran groups.

L. A. Street Workers Vote to Delay Strike; Accept City's Pledge

"Good will and faith in ultimate justice" are the reasons that approximately 1700 members of the city's refuse collection and street maintenance departments have not struck against the mayor's veto of their pay raise, according to their CIO union international officer, Rubin Kaufman.

This was his sharp answer hints in the press that the workers, approximately half of whom are Negroes, are still on the job because they aren't "strong enough" to strike.

Officials of the United Public Workers of America union, to which the men belong, revealed that although at first the overwhelming majority of the workers declared they would not work overtime without time-and-a-half pay—a policy vetoed by the mayor—they changed their mind and decided to take the mayor at his word.

That word is that on Oct. 15, when a new wage study is completed for all city civil service employes, any and all injustices the workers are forced to work under will be rectified.

"We have reminded the mayor," states Kaufman, "that the city charter requires pay to city employes must be equal to that of private employes doing the same work. That is the plan the mayor vetoed, but he has told us justice will prevail October 15."

Charges Randolph's One-Man Control of Council Weakened Fight for FEPC Legislation

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NNPA)—Charging that the summary dismissal of the staff of the National Council for a Permanent Fair Employment Practices Committee without an expression of appreciation violated a fundamental principle of fair employment practices, Miss Sidney Wilkinson, former assistant secretary of the council, last Tuesday asked A. Philip Randolph, co-chairman of the council, whether the organization is now to be used as "a political publicity-getting, money raising device."

In a letter to Randolph, written from Harpursville, New York, Miss Wilkinson states, in part:

"It is regrettable that 'minority' leaders sometimes make it difficult for members of the so-called 'majority' group to actually function in programs which fundamentally benefit all of our fellowmen, for it is also my strong conviction that this is not a minority issue, but one which concerns EVERY American citizen — Jew, Gentile, Negro, white, Mexican, Spanish, and Oriental-American, Protestant and Catholic. Therefore, all Americans must share in the responsibility for securing enactment of a federal FEPC, and no one 'minority' group leader should make the mistake of trying to wage the fight single-handed.

"It would be extremely detrimental—perhaps fatal—to a national (and international) issue of such import as FEPC to deny participation to any organization comprising members of the aforementioned groups. And one cannot expect cooperation from organizations which are not permitted participation in policy decisions. I think you will find this more and more true in the days to come.

"Is it possible that you do not grasp the significance of a truly integrated staff and the strength that arises from an executive committee which is given real opportunity to formulate policy and the authority to carry it out? Is it true that the issue which is national in scope is now to be used by a few organizations simply as a political, publicity-getting, money-raising device?

"Certainly, those of us who care about the solution of the problem of equal job opportunity and recognize its significant relationship to America's role in the international picture must be firm in our determination that the fight be waged by all groups."

Vets Storm City Council, Demand Halt to Permits for Non-Residential Buildings

A little more action and less talk is looked forward to by veterans on the housing problem following a coordinated blast at commercial building and other postwar woes aired this week before the city council.

Representatives of 14 vet groups, labor and churches stormed the council chambers Tuesday morning, waited through two hours of tedious debate over whether or not a request for a hospital survey was a "nefarious Red plot," and then presented the council with a housing resolution and asked for ACTION—specifying the capital letters.

The group was allowed the council floor by councilman John Roden. A resolution was read which decried the lack of housing; divided authority; contractor pressure groups interested only in profit; undermining of health, safety, sanitation, moral and religious security of the city, and demanded:

"That there be created a City Council Veterans' Housing Committee to be composed of one representative each of 14 organizations, and also of labor and the council, and that all applications for all permits for non-residential building be referred to the committee.

"That the committee be empowered to review applications for all non-residential construction permits previously issued, in cases where such construction is not completed... and upon notice... that such construction is non-essential, the Department of Building and Safety shall suspend the permit previously issued."

Councilman Roden asked an immediate vote on the resolution, and stated that veteran housing had become a problem that had to be acted on immediately. Councilman Lloyd Davies objected, however, and demanded it be referred to committee for study.

Rollins MacFadyen, chairman of the American Legion housing committee, was spokesman for the vets. He stated that "commercial building is out of control. It must be halted or else veterans won't get homes.

"Besides the obviously unnecessary cocktail bars and so forth," he stated, "we mean by non-essential building such buildings as may be put off for the time being."

The council chambers were filled with veterans, largest delegation being a group of 25 from the American Veterans Committee, headed by their housing chairman, Don Prell.

He stated, "The time has come when we have to take real and decisive action. The city of Fresno has taken the matter into their own hands, banned non-essential building, and are now constructing veteran homes. This city council will have to do the same."

Decision Friday In West Adams Covenant Case

Boxer Jack Chase's fight to win possession of his West Adams home will go to a decision before Superior Judge Henry Willis Sept. 6, with the judge acting as referee in Chase's most serious battle.

The jurist was originally scheduled to reply last Friday to Attorney John McTernan, representing Chase, asked that a temporary restraining order based on a racial restrictive covenant be quashed. However the lawyer asked a week continuance to further prepare his case.

It is likely that at the hearing the attorney will ask that the entire matter be dismissed on the grounds that such covenants are in violation of the U.S. constitution. Judge Willis' decision will be on an order to show cause to determine whether the original restraining order should be converted into a permanent injunction against Chase.

Supervisors Hike Taxes for County

The county board of supervisors climbed on to the "Higher Taxes" skyrocket this week, seemingly undaunted by warnings that the city council's ride on the same costly vehicle would meet with a smashup come next election day.

The new combined tax load will be approximately $6.42 each $100 assessed valuation for the coming fiscal year of 1946-47. The city council passed a series of "soak-the-poor" taxes last week over the protests of the group's liberal bloc.

The county board set new and higher tax figures on general county tarrifs and the county flood control fees.

Perhaps as a sop to the hard-hit citizens the board agreed to drop any plans for re-introducing the soundly trounced bond proposals on November's ballot. Four bond issues—all defeated August 6—were originally scheduled for the poll test, providing for a court house, maximum security jail, juvenile hall and county incinerators.

No Permit for Gun; Special Cop Jugged

Found guilty of carrying a concealed weapon without proper credentials, special police officer Arva L. Little, 42, of 959 East 52nd place, will be sentenced by municipal court judge Arthur Guerin next month.

Little was arrested last week and found carrying a service revolver. He told arresting officers, "I'm a police officer" but they told the judge his gun permit was unsigned, and anyhow, special officers can only carry guns when actually on duty, they said.

Newsmen Strike L. A. Herald

A strike of 525 Los Angeles Newspaper Guild members at the Los Angeles Evening Herald and Express was called yesterday following expiration of a working contract.

Officials of the CIO union called the walkout after a final negotiation session the night before failed to arrive at a settlement of the Guild's demand for wage increases to meet the rising cost of living.

'Lily White' Project Site of New Housing Authority Office

According to information received this week by The California EAGLE the City Housing Authority plans to establish one of its new area offices at Avalon Gardens, the "lily white" project maintained by the Housing Authority at 88th street and Avalon blvd.

The project which was built with federal funds and which is supposed to be administered without discrimination as to race or color, is in the midst of a section where covenants and restrictions have been strongly enforced against Negroes. The City Housing Authority has capitulated to neighborhood racist outfits and has never permitted a Negro family to rent an apartment in the Avalon Gardens project.

It is understood that the new area includes several larger projects where the majority or a large percentage of the tenants are Negroes and two projects, Lumina Park consisting of 125 trailers, and Avalon Gardens containing 164 apartments, where Negro tenants are not permitted to live. It is at this latter project that the new area supervisor's office is to be located. So far as The EAGLE can learn, no Negro has been assigned to any of the area office staffs and it is probable that the all-white area staffs prefer the atmosphere to be found at projects like Avalon Gardens.

Bilbo's Mouth Is Operated On

NEW ORLEANS—Sen. Theodore G. Bilbo, Mississippi's gift to the nation, underwent an operation here this week for what physicians described as "an inflammation of the mouth," without downing popular speculation as to what caused the alleged inflammation.

'All a Mistake,' He Says to Charge He Set His Girl Afire

"He threw gasoline on me then set a match to it and almost burned me up." This was the charge made against Sidney Bell, shoe repair man of 188½ E. Vernon ave., by his asserted girl friend, Miss Nellie Dorsey of 3216 Hooper ave. last Saturday.

Bell, however, was not apprehended until three days later when he surrendered to officers Toole and Howsley of Newton street station through his attorney Curtis C. Taylor, who represented him at his arraignment in division 4 of the municipal court and arranged bail for his cilent

According to the defendant it was all a mistake, both parties having tasted a little too freely of old John Barleycorn so that neither of them know exactly how the fire started.

According to police if it had not been for the timely aid of other residents of the house the whole place would have caught fire.

Jumps White Sailor Who Tried Steal Car

A Canadian merchant marine sailor has been arrested by police on suspicion of kidnaping and assaulting Hervater Lewis, 32, of 1432 Mazdelena st.

The suspect is Robert McFarlane, white, of the "Noshore." It is alleged that early this week McFarlane opened the door of Lewis' car at Sixth and Main streets as he stopped for a signal. Police say he simulated a gun with a bottle in his pocket, and commanded Lewis to drive with him in the car.

After driving several blocks Lewis says the sailor forced him out of the car. At that time the victim noticed that McFarlane did not actually have a gun, and jumped on him. In the melee Lewis was hit on the head with the bottle, but managed to hold the Canadian until police arrived.

Adams-Central Districts Set-up Completed for Community Fund Drive; More Volunteers Needed

Top campaign organization for the Community Chest appeal in both South Park and Adams-Central is now complete, according to reports from local chairmen.

Mrs. Josephine Brown, Adams-Central chairman, is first in the entire Chest area to report to main headquarters with all top leaders signed up and assigned to territories.

Assisting Mrs. Brown as vice-chairman for special gifts will be Mr. Lonzie L. Jones, 4259 South Central, who served last year as colonel.

Division colonels this year include Milton W. Alleyne, 10612 South Dillion ave.; Mrs. Earle H. Munford, 4808 South Wall, of the Jefferson P-TA; Mrs. U. R. Gray, 786 East 40th pl., Urban League member; Mrs. Chester S. Beize, 893 East 43rd st., also of Jefferson P-TA; Mrs. Gertrude Reese Hicks, 1225 South Wilson pl., active with Sojourner Truth Home; and Mrs. Leola B. Wilson, 722 East 26th st., affiliated with the Eastcide Settlement House.

Territory to be covered by these leaders extends from Main st. to Alameda, and from Pico south to 43rd st.

In South Park, Mrs. C. A. Troy, chairman, will have the aid of Mrs. T. L. Johnson, 1344 East 48th st., who will be serving as special gifts vice-chairman. Her colonels are Mrs. E. Myra Rhetta, 427 East 49th st., and Mrs. J. S. Peach, 1615 East 52nd st., both of whom did outstanding work in the campaign last year.

The South Park area is bounded by 43rd st. on the north, Slauson on the south, Main st. on the west and Alameda on the east.

These leaders, most of whom are volunteers in Community Chest agencies, are now devoting their time to enlisting local men and women to serve as majors and captains for the campaign.

Youth Pleads Guilty of Impairing Minor's Morals

A plea of guilty to contributing to the delinquency of a minor was accepted by Superior Court Judge Samuel Finley last Wednesday morning from Raymond Jones, 26, originally charged with raping a 16 year old girl.

Police arrested Jones after Mildred Hill, 16, of 3680 South St. Andrews place, stated he attacked her after she had accepted a ride in his "Free Cab" on Central ave. near 46th st. last June.

The district attorney seemed unable to uphold the fact that the act of intercourse was forcible. Jones, who lives at 2530 Compton blvd. faces a one year jail sentence on the contributing charge. He was defended by Everette Porter and Crispus Wright.

White Beauty Can't Remember Kidnap Story

Beautiful, red-headed Mrs. Mabel Mae Miller, white drug store clerk who last week told police five Negro men had kidnaped and raped her, suddenly "couldn't remember" when confronted with a district attorney's office investigation this Monday.

Deputy district attorney A. S. Colgrove grilled the attractive young woman for over an hour, and stated that she told him she "could not remember anything after leaving the Central avenue night spot where she last week claimed she was kidnaped."

Her original story told to police was that a Negro special officer separated her from her boy friend, A. W. Box, white, of 706 Oakford drive, after he alleged she and Box were "doing something naughty." She claimed that later a gang of five men forced her into a car, and one of them held her over-night and raped her.

Two men were arrested and held for several days on suspicion of being involved, but after Mrs. Miller's unsatisfactory talk with Colgrove, he stated they would be freed.

Negro Voters Helped Defeat Rep. McGehee

JACKSON, Miss.—(NNPA)—In a district where three fiery crosses have been burned in two weeks, colored voters have contributed to the defeat of Rep. Dan R. McGehee, who for 12 years has represented the Seventh congressional district of Mississippi in congress.

John Bell Williams, 27-year-old one-armed war veteran, defeated the 61-year-old McGehee in a runoff primary, equivalent to election in Mississippi.

McGehee claimed he was the target of opposition from "Negro voters and the CIO-PAC." Williams said McGehee raised the cry of prejudice to "resuscitate a dead political career."

Two White Mississippi Youths Fined $10 Each for Attempted Rape of Minister's Daughters

COLLINS, Miss. (NNPA)—Two white youths charged with attempting to assault two Negro girls and a third accused of pointing a weapon pleaded guilty to lesser charges and were fined $10 and cost each, court records here disclosed this week.

The case was heard late last Wednesday by T. C. Campbell, justice of the peace. O. O. Weathersby, district attorney, said that the girls asked the original complaints be withdrawn so that charges of "creating a family disturbance" could be substituted.

The defendants were Ernest E. McDonald and Jadell Moore originally charged with attempted assault, and Clyde Sellers, earlier charged with pointing a gun.

The three white men were held last Wednesday after an exchange of gunfire which grew out of the alleged attempt to assault two daughters of a colored minister.

Weathersby stated that the alleged attempted attack occurred August 16 while the girls' father, the Rev. Estes Barnes, a Baptist minister, was away on a preaching assignment.

He said the girls reported that they were at home at the time with their 40-year-old aunt when the white youths knocked on the door and said that they were officers.

The girls, 18 and 20 years old, respectively, said they went in different directions with McDonald and Moore, while Sellers remained in the house.

About seven or eight minutes later, the girls added, the father arrived and screams were heard.

Weathersby said that the father opened fire with a shotgun and the white men in return fired into the air, then left.

Sportsman and Wife Held on Opium Charge

James Boyd (Jimmy) Brown, well known Central avenue sportsman, and his beautiful white blonde wife, Mrs. Nancy Brown, were both held to answer in a double-preliminary hearing before Municipal Judge William Byrne, on charges of possession of opium.

The hearing was held in a closed courtroom, as Brown's attorney demanded that the press and spectators be excluded. The bailiff in the master calendar courtroom, where the couple reported for the hearing, stated they seemed nettled when told they must sit together, as they were co-defendants.

It was reported that at the hearing officers A. M. Barr, narcotics sergeant, and state narcotic inspector O. J. Hawkins, told of finding 3½ ounces of opium in the Brown's fireplace at their swank home at 4151 Gamora st.

When officer Barr told on the stand that Brown had admitted to him that he and Nancy were not really married, but they had lived together for over three years, the attractive, shapely blonde said, "Liar, liar" and buried her face in her hands.

Barr told reporters that he and Hawkins raided the house August 10, and when they found the stuff," Brown retorted, "I didn't know it was there. It might belong to anyone."

Barr stated that Brown said Mrs. Brown's" name was really Nancy Houston, and they were not married.

Newsboys Plan to Strike L.A. 'Times'

CIO newsboys, who have earned the gratitude of all minority groups by their refusal to handle papers which slander these groups, this week were planning strike action against the Los Angeles Times.

"We've got the runaround from the Times for nine years, and aren't going to take it much longer," Bill Axelrod, executive officers of the Newsboys Local Industrial Union, CIO, said in asking public support for his union's battle to sign a contract with the Times—open shop citadel of Southern California.

Axelrod stated that The Times has embarked on a program of slashing the already far below standard wages of the newsboys, and has stalled through two years of negotiations without signing a contract. The union, 750 men strong, with over half that number handling The Times, has now called upon The Times management "to get down to brass tacks—or else."

"Ninety percent of the 450 boys who handle the Times also handle The Examiner, in order to make something near a living wage," Axelrod declares. "The Times has demanded that these boys handle only The Times or nothing, thus cutting their subsistandard wages down to the starvation level.

"In addition, The Times refused to give the newsboys a single cent of the raise in the price of the Sunday edition, although this increase has cut the Times' sales about 20 percent. And to top it all off, The Times is now proposing to cut the commission on the daily paper from 2½ cents, which it has been for nine years, to 2 cents, or almost half.

"We are asking every member of the labor movement in Los Angeles, and every fair-minded citizen, to telephone or write The Times, reminding them that they must follow the dictate of the national supreme court, which ordered them to negotiate with us in good faith," Alexrod states.

Court Martial Hands Death Sentence

FURTH, Germany—A nine-man general court martial, headed by Colonel James of Birmingham, Ala., has sentenced Private Hanged for killing two white soldiers C. Devonne of Sampson County, North Carolina, to be hanged last May 10.

Devone and a blond 18-year-old German girl were the only defense witnesses. The girl admitted she had passed part of the night of the shooting in Devone's billet.

Devone went overseas to serve with the 372th quartermaster truck company in the Nuremberg area.

Four Fail to Get Service At Drive-In

A party of four charges discriminatory practices against The Wich Stand, a drive-in located on Figueroa at Florence st. The party, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Alexander, Miss Ola Mae Brown, and James Jacobs, had been out driving and stopped at The Wich Stand for a bite.

The waitress, upon approaching their car and discovering that they were Negroes, abruptly turned away. They then waited 45 minutes while others all around them were being served. Finally both of the men went in to talk with the manager, who gave the excuse that the waitresses were busy.

Two CIO men, who witnessed the incident, expressed their resentment and took the names and addresses of these victims of discrimination. A heated argument ensued between the management and the CIO men, who promised to take the case to the union.

A much distressed waitress returned and angrily threw two menus into the car, saying, "We don't have to serve you if we don't want to" and dashed off.

The party left without being served.

Veterans in Clash With Fascist Group

CHICAGO—Followers of Gerald L. K. Smith, America First leader, brawled with veterans and other groups through the lobbies of two downtown hotels last Thursday night, before police succeeded in quelling a near-riot.

The hotels said they were duped by the America Firsters, who gathered for a meeting under the name of "Independent Republicans of the Midwest."

Boos, jeers and a couple of mild fist fights were exchanged between Smith's opponents and his followers, led by Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling, author of The Red Network, and one of the defendants in last year's mass sedition trial.

Injunction Halts Interference with Japanese Fishermen

In what attorney A. L. Wirin termed a "great victory for civil rights," Superior Judge Henry M. Willis issued a preliminary injunction, preventing the state Fish and Game Commission from taking away fishing rights from 221 alien Japanese in coastal waters.

The commission had ruled that a law forbidding them to issue licenses to persons ineligible for citizenship made it mandatory for them to prevent the Japanese fishermen from working the coastal areas, or bringing their catches ashore.

Attorney Wirin filed the action on behalf of Yoshikazu Tsuchiyama, 57, who represented the plight of 220 other fishermen of Japanese origin. An action asking damages in the amount of $10,000 for injuries done to the fishermen was denied by Judge Willis, and the lawyers stipulated to dismiss it.

Burke's 2nd Trial Postponed to Oct. 7

Joseph Burke, already convicted of murdering Mrs. Jeannie Woods and stuffing her battered body between two buildings on East Santa Barbara avenue, will not face trial for the murder of her 8-months-old baby son until October 7.

Burke was originally scheduled to be tried for the second murder this week, but several witnesses have taken vacations to Mexico, and were unable to appear. Prosecuting district attorney's deputy, J. Miller Leavy, stated that it has been agreed to postpone the trial.

Burke received life imprisonment for the murder of Mrs. Woods, and Leavy states he expects a death penalty in the October trial.

PAC to Hold 2-Day Institute on Political Action Techniques

Plans for a School of Political Action Techniques to be held in Los Angeles, Saturday and Sunday, September 28-29, were announced yesterday by Edward Mosk, chairman of the executive board, National Citizens Political Action Committee, Southern California Chapter. The two-day session will be held in Parkview Manor, 2200 W. 7th st., and will be limited to an enrollment of 500.

The school, which is being conducted by the Southern California Chapter, National Cittizens Political Action Committee, will be modeled on a similar project held at the Willard Hotel in Washington, D.C., last June under the direction of the national office of NCPAC.

Courses will include, "An Analysis of Congressional Districts "Precinct Organization," "How to Canvass," "Financing a Campaign," "Political Speech-Writing and Speech-Making," "Techniques of Dealing with Congress and the State Legislature," and "City and State Government Structure."

Mosk emphasized the independent character of the school. He said:

"This is not a partisan project. The school is for the purpose of training citizen leaders in the technicalities of politics and to provide a knowledge of practical political techniques used and tested in previous campaigns.

"No party platform nor candidate will be exploited, but it is our hope that we can prepare those attending the school to participate more effectively in the coming election and in political life generally, regardless of party affiliation. Enrollment is not restricted to members of the National Citizens Political Action Committee. Any citizen of the United States is eligible for admission."

Under the direction of Carey McWilliams, author and attorney, and Robert E. G. Harris, chief editorial writer for a Los Angeles newspaper, a committee of leading citizens of the Southland is being formed to sponsor the school.

Sees OPA Decision On Rents As Slap at City, County Solons

"That's not news. We've been telling the public that for years."

That was the retort of CIO research director Sanford Goldner as he hailed the decision from Washington of OPA Administrator Paul A. Porter not to raise rents on the grounds that landlords are now making more money than they did during the postwar years.

Porter stated what has been outlined many times in union and pro-OPA group surveys—that lack of vacancies and failure of landlords to make many repairs has left the landlords with healthy profits despite pressure of certain landlord groups to wreck the OPA ceilings on rents.

The union groups also interpreted the report of Porter as an indirect slap at city and state legislative bodies, including the L. A. city council and board of supervisors, who ordered rents raised when the OPA lapsed and it appeared there would be no federal control.

Goldner also stated that Porter's announcement that the OPA will initiate an enforcement drive in the near future is a "step in the right direction" but indicated that even greater forces than the OPA's present staff, under 2000, will be needed to crack down on OPA violators.

Youth Who Saw La. Lynching Just Found

NEW YORK—An intensive search, covering Louisiana, Texas, the Pacific coast and middle-western states by NAACP investigators has just resulted in the finding of Albert Harris and his father, both of whom were viciously beaten by the Minden, La., mob which committed the blowtorch-cleaver lynching of War Veteran John C. Jones, the national office of the NAACP disclosed yesterday.

Young Harris is an eyewitness to the lynching and can positively identify several members of the mob. The youth and his father are expected to arrive in New York by plane Thursday morning. Both are being closely guarded by the NAACP. Young Harris will be placed at the disposal of the Department of Justice after a press interview in the national NAACP office Thursday.

Bosses Prefer AFL, But NLRB Upholds Workers CIO Choice

The Washington offices of the NLRB has ruled out a "backdoor contract" signed between the AFL Metal Trades Council and the O'Keefe & Merritt Manufacturing Co., Los Angeles, the agency ordered the firm to bargain with the CIO Steelworkers, Local 1981.

The board charged that the company violated an NLRB election, won in a 240-101 vote by the CIO, last November. CIO union representative Raymond Colville states that his workers will now demand that the company negotiate a contract with them, as directed by the board.

"These 'backdoor' and 'sweetheart' agreements the AFL is signing with firms all over the country have got to be stopped," Colville stated. "We want to use peaceful means and are counting on the NLRB to enforce its order."

The stove company is now operating under a closed shop contract with the AFL. About 600 workers are now employed, the vast majority of whom belong to the CIO, according to Colville.

Raises In-Law's Rent, Gets Stabbed

An argument over a raise in room rent allegedly led to a serious cutting in which Carl Williams, 34, of 960 South Vignes st. was rushed to General hospital, where he is expected to recover.

Williams assertedly told police that his brother-in-law, Fred Laudrum, 49, of 1551 East 46th st., cut him late last week in a fight over the amount of rent Williams was asked to pay for a room in Laudrum's home. Mrs. Alzada Williams witnessed the near-fatal stabbing in which it is alleged Laudrum slashed the victim's chest with a butcher knife.

Council Cold to CIO Plea for City-Owned Transit System Here

A plea by the CIO Political Action Committee that the city of Los Angeles look into the possibility of junking the system of privately owned public transportation and set up an effficient municipally owned system received a councilmanic cold shoulde, this week.

The PAC's request, dated June 5, also asked that the city councilmen go on record as opposing any fare raises. The council pigeonholed the issue until after the transit lines received the fare raises, and then Tuesday quietly moved to file the entire plea "without prejudice."

Three members of the council—John R. Roden, G. Vernon Bennett and Parley P. Christensen—thought maybe the CIO had something there. That it might be a good idea to investigate the whole thing. But the three "aye" votes lost to the ten "noes" of opposing councilmen — who like things as they are—increased fares and all.

How to build a better breakfast and "sleep-in," too!

The answer – a range with the ⑨ seal

If you start breakfast early because the eggs have to "stand in line" at the frying pan—you need a CP gas range with built-in griddle! There's no waiting here. Those griddles can accommodate a lot of eggs—with plenty of room for the bacon and ham. What's more, everything "comes out even" because the gas flame spreads itself uniformly over the bottom of the griddle. (And that makes it marvelous for pancakes and other griddled foods, too!) Yet quicker cooking is only part of the CP story. These super-modern ranges bring you Certified Performance for everything you cook.

Like a clean kitchen? Of course. You'll be delighted with CP broilers. They're smokeless, an exclusive feature of modern gas ranges. And instantly adjustable top burners prevent boil-overs.

Like a cool kitchen? Naturally. That's one reason CP ovens are scientifically insulated to hold the heat, to save the heat.

Like an attractive kitchen? Who doesn't? The CP gas ranges are the last word in smart design—tasteful, gleaming and practical.

Republican Strategy

The Republicans will soon be out in full force to win the November 5 elections. They will use every means to hoodwink the innocent voter, and make him believe that black is white and vice versa.

Among the means to this end will be:

1. Red baiting. Those who indulge in this political pastime seldom take the pains, however, to tell us why the Reds are so terrible or why we should shun them. They do not tell us of the voting record for the good of the common man, of those whom they dub Reds. They simply shout "Red," and seem to expect that all decent citizens should then listen to their mouthings and turn against their best friends.

When these Red-baiters wave the red flag between Russia and the United States, they do not tell you how the capitalists of this country are trying to shut all water gates to Russia, and to fence Russia in. They never tell how the reactionary representatives in Congress voted to protect the capitalists who own most of the oil in those eastern countries where the disturbances are taking place. Who are these representatives? Check up on them, and you'll find in virtually every case they are Republicans.

2. Winning the solid Negro support.

Republican politicians are whetting their wits to convince us that Rankin and Bilbo, of the deep South, represent the Democratic Party and that therefore we here in Los Angeles, California, should not vote for a Democratic candidate. They will even rattle the dead bones of Abraham Lincoln and tell us that Lincoln, the emancipator of the Negro, is calling to us to vote the Republican ticket. But they will not tell us that the Republican Party of Lincoln's day, with its high ideals, has long since died.

Under the New Deal, which represents the real core of the Democratic Party, more Negroes were benefited than at any time in our history. The Negro people were rescued from abject degrading poverty and given jobs. They were lifted from despair and discouragement and granted new hope. For the first time in the history of the nation Negroes sat with white people behind desks in offices, competently filling clerical positions. Nothing like this ever happened during the almost fifty years of nearly an unbroken reign of Republican power. They, the Republicans, never gave us anything but idle promises, broken as soon as election day was over. The New Deal still holds good for all common people, all minority groups, if we stick together to make it work.

3. Break the backbone of labor.

Here the Red-baiting tactics will come in again. B. Carroll Reece, chairman of the Republican National Committee, has already launched a campaign of Red-baiting. In one of his speeches given before the Negro Elks at Buffalo, N. Y., he said the Democratic Party was controlled by "red-fascists," whatever that means. How anyone can be a Red and a Fascist at the same time ,is beyond reason. Like being a devil and a saint at one and the same time.

Well, according to Chairman Reece, the Labor Unions, especially the CIO, and especially the CIO Policital Action Committee, are dominated by "red-fascists." Yet the CIO, and especially the CIO-PAC, has worked over time in the deep South, trying to organize the share-croppers and the workers of every kind, to bring the benefits of unionism into their bleak lives.

"I am glad to see that a system of labor prevails in New England under which laborers can strike when they want to," said Abraham Lincoln, the present patron saint of the Republican Party although his principles were repudiated by Republican politicians even in his own day.

"The strongest bond of human sympathy outside the family relation should be one uniting all working people of all nations and tongues and kindreds," is another quotation from Honest Abe, which the Republican politicians of today choose to ignore.

If the Republican Party of today were still the party of Abraham Lincoln, The California EAGLE would urge all Negroes and all members of all minority groups to vote for its candidates. But that Party has fallen far below its first great ideals. The ideals of Lincoln have been reborn in the New Deal of our great friend, Franklin Delano Roosevelt. Therefore The California EAGLE shall consistently urge all Americans, Negro and white, to vote for the candidates who follow these ideals.

Child Care Our Responsibility

From all quarter a special appeal is being made to the Board of Education to exert means at its command to maintain the nursery schools.

A brief survey some weeks ago of the nursery school at the East 52nd Street School where Mabel Eldridge is in charge, revealed the important aid the nursery school is to home life. And this is especially true of the Eastside of the city where there are so many working mothers.

It is said that Los Angeles has gone far ahead of most cities in this matter of training pre-school age children. And it is on this assumption that we urge the Board of Education to keep up its good work.

IF?

What a different story the newspapers would have carried if Peter Coleman, who raped and murdered 38-year old Bertha Mehrtens, of Pin Point, Georgia, had been a Negro.

As the story goes the police braved the lynch mob to save Coleman's life.

Certainly we are not advocating lynch murder, but here in the state of Georgia where the record shows that within the past few months at least five Negroes have been lynched by angry mobs—and no commitment of crime had been prove against the suspects!! Always in cases where Negroes are taken from jails and lynched, the sheriff's excuse is that he could not resist the mobs.

Peter Coleman committed one of those unpardonable crimes that would have been laid at the door of the nearest Negro if the white man had not been caught red-handed.

Newspaper stories tell how the police risked their lives at the point of guns in the hands of some one hundred armed persons to save the life of Coleman. He no doubt will be given a fair trial or knowing as we do what happens frequently in "them thar" parts of the good old U.S.A., even this crime can be latched onto a Negro,

On the other hand crime is crime. We contend that if there is law in the land, that law should be administered to all alike. Unless it is, there will be no enduring respect for the law.

Officials like Talmadge as Governor of Georgia, and Bilbo, Senatorial representative of Mississippi, who fail or refuse to uphold the law in their respective states, should not be able to qualify to make the laws that govern the people of this great nation.

If the mob can be stopped in one lynch case, it can be stopped in all lynchings.

More On FDR

Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late President, has written a book on the incidents connected with the meeting of the President with representatives of the other nations when the Atlantic Charter was drafted, the conference in Cairo and Yalta. Elliott was there and saw and heard all. This is the third installment of what happened behind the scenes.

Our Generals Argued There Was Logic In Helping Russia

It was a bit after 11 o'clock Sunday morning when we were piped aboard the British warship. Arrayed around the quarterdeck was the British ship's company; besides them were 250 of our sailors and Marines as well. The ship's pulpit had been draped with American and British colors.

We sang O God, Our Help in Ages Past; Onward Christian Soldiers and Strong to Save. We prayed, "Our Father, Which Art in Heaven, hallowed be Thy name . . . "

The afternoon sessions were something of a breakdown from the ideal unity of the morning. Britain's advocates were again hard as it, trying to convince is to divert more and more supplies to the United Kingdom, and less and less to the Soviet Union. Generals Marshall and King and Arnold continued their insistence that there was logic in giving the Soviets all the help that could be spared. After all, our reasoning ran, the German armies were in Russia; tanks and planes and guns in the hands of the Soviets would mean dead Nazis; all that Lease-Lend would accomplish in Britain, for the moment, would be to build up stock piles.

For myself, I was wondering whether it was the British Empire's purpose to see the Nazis and the Russians cancel each other out, while Britain grew strong.

Meanwhile, Father was going over notes with Sumner Wells. At this stage, we weren't sure what it was about; actually, of course they were working on the Atlantic Charter.

Brandy Made His Tongue Work More Easily

The P. M. returned to the Augusta for dinner that night. This occasion was more intimate; the brass and the braid had departed.

Once again, Churchill was in fine form. The cigars were burned to ashes; the brandy (a whole bottle that night) disappeared steadily. If anything, his mind seemed to work more clearly, his tongue more easily.

But there was a change from the night before. Tonight, there were other men's thoughts being tossed into the kettle, and the kettle began bubbling u pand—once or twice—nearly over. You sensed that two men accustomed to leadership had sparred, had felt each other out, and were now readying themselves for the challenge, each of the other.

A difference was evidenced first, and sharply, over Empire.

Father started it.

"Of course," he remarked, with a sly sort of assurance, "after the war one of the preconditions of any lasting peace will have to be the greatest possible freedom of trade."

The P. M.'s head was lowered; he was watching Father from under his eyebrows.

The P.M. Begins to Look Apopletic

"No artificial barriers," Father pursued. "As few favored economic agreements as possible. Opportunities for expansion. Markets opened for healthy competition." His eyes wandered innocently around the room.

Churchill shifted in his armchair. "The British Empire trade agreements," he began heavily, "are . . . "

Father broke in. "Yes. Those Empire trade agreements are a case in point. It's because of them that the people of India and Africa, of all the colonial Near East and Far East, are still as backward as they are."

Churchill's neck reddened, he crouched forward. "Mr. President, England does not propose for a moment to lose its favored position among the Dominions!"

"You see," Father said slowly, "it is along in here somewhere that there is likely to be some disagreement between you, Winston, and me. I believe that if we are to arrive at a stable peace it must involve the development of backward countries. How can this be done? It can't be done, obviously, by Eighteenth Century methods. Now . . . "

"Who's talking Eighteenth Century methods?" Churchill demanded.

"Whichever of your ministers who recommends a policy that takes wealth in raw materials out of a colonial country but which returns nothing to the people of that country in consideration. Twentieth Century methods include bringing industry to those colonies; increasing the wealth of a people by increasing their standard of living; educating them; bringing them sanitation; making sure that they get a return for the raw wealth of their community."

Around the room, all of us were leaning forward. Hopkins was grinning. Commander Thompson, Churchill's aide, was looking glum and alarmed. The P. M. himself was beginning to look apoplectic.

"You mentioned India," he growled.

"Yes. I can't believe we can fight a war against Fascist slavery, and at the same time not work to free people all over the world from a backward colonial policy."

"There can be no tampering with the Empire's economic agreements," the P.M. growled. "They're the foundation of our greatness."

"The peace," Father said firmly, "cannot include any continued despotism. The structure of the peace demands and will get equality of peoples. Equality of peoples involves the utmost freedom of competitive trade. Will anyone suggest that Germany's attempt to dominate trade in Central Europe was not a major contributing factor to war?"

It was an argument that could have no resolution between these two men. The words went on, but the P.M. began to get a tighter grip on the conversation. He gathered confidence as his voice filled the room, and Commander Thompson's glum, worried look began to disappear. But there was a questinon unanswered here, and it would remain unanswered through the next conference these men would join in, and the next: India-Burma. Having mentioned them, Father would keep prodding, needling. And it was not from perversity, either; it was from conviction. Churchill knew that; that was what worried him most.

Obstacles to Progress

Trail Blazers:
The Story of L. A.'s Simon P. Johnson

By PHYLLIS SCOTT

Simon P. Johnson, local mortician, has achieved a prominent place among the businessmen in the city of Los Angeles. He is the president-manager of the Conner-Johnson Company at 17th and Naomi sts.

SIMON P. JOHNSON

When I went into see Johnson, I was shown into the comfortable waiting room upstairs. I explained that The EAGLE was interested in featuring a column on outstanding local businessmen to encourage the youth to go into business. He chuckled, saying, "I had no hereditary title, no princely fortune, nor military laurels, I simply came up by my own boot straps." Continuing more seriously, "My life has been a life for others and that has been my motto."

Johnson was educated in the public schools of Kansas and came to Los Angeles in 1901 with a family of five. With no job in sight and $56 in debt, he began working as a construction laborer at a wage of $2 per day.

One of the first Negroes to join the ranks of Organized Labor, after working two years on this job, he soon became business manager of his local and held that position until 1927.

Having always been identified with civic and fraternal groups in Los Angeles, he held numerous leading positions. To mention a few, he was elected grand master of Odd Fellows in 1904, resigning after five years to become grand secretary, which job he held for 13 years when his resignation was tendered in Handford, California. For nine years, he was secretary of the Western Baptist State Convention and was president of the State B.T.U., having held this job for three years. He was elected president of the State Sunday School Convention for three years; secretary of the Second Baptist church for nine years; grand worthy patron of the Golden State Grand Chapter of O.E.S. for five years; president of Kansas Missouri State Club for a number of years; joined the Conner-Johnson Company of Funeral Directors in 1918, having been its president for 13 years and still serves as president-manager.

Johnson has always enjoyed working with children, which accounts for his success as the superintendent of Second Baptist church school now serving in his 32nd year. He also served as trustee for more than 14 years in Second Baptist.

W. J. Wheaton Says

The political situation is becoming more and more tense. It has been some years since there has been manifested such interest nationally in a mid-term election. The highlight so far has been the keynote speech delivered by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, widow of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, as temporary chairman of the Democratic State Convention at Albany, N. Y.

It is the first time, to our knowledge, that a woman has been chosen for such an important task. Her effort was a political classic. After reviewing the administration of New York's present governor (Dewey) Mrs. Roosevelt gave a resume of the political and domestic situation of the nation prior to taking over by the Democratic party, and the part played by that party in the restoration of confidence and the abolishment of fear. "The past has gone: We must meet the future with full confidence."

There is a strong rumor that the former "First Lady" will be a candidate for the U. S. Senate. There is no doubt of her ability to fill such position with honor.

All talk to the contrary, James Roosevelt, recently elected chairman of the Democratic State Committee of California, is filling that position in a creditable manner. In fact, he is showing political acumen and strategy the equal of any. There has been a co-ordination for democratic success which bids fair (in spite of the intense rivalry of several candidates) to bring success to the Democratic aspirants for office.

We notice that there is an effort to cause dissension among the minority voters in the fourth congressional district. The five per pan-handlers are out in force and the rift seems to be caused by the appointmnt by Mayo Latham of a "late comer" to position on the city housing com mittee. This minor appointmen has stirred up a tea-pot tempe among the minority leaders the district and threatens to di rupt the solidarity necessary the common interests.

In Franck R. Havenner, th incumbent congressman, the m nority groups have a represent tive whose record in their inte ests is unimpeachable. It will too bad should petty grievanc be allowed to endanger the r turn of Franck Havenner to C gress. It is alleged that rece comers in the fourth have bee imported to use certain strateg ...so old that the veriest tyro political maneuvering should u derstand. The tools of the "D vide and Conquer" clique a doing their best to accomplis the deed, and we are informe that they represent themselv as "leaders of their people. While these two minority cam are fighting like two tomca with their tails tied and throw over the clothesline, the force inimical to their interests a viewing the contest and smilin and as contented as Pussy C who has just swallowed the c nary.

There is one group: The Carp Diems who will never be foole by the machinations and fa representations of the demagog Those young women are too a tute, too interested in the we fare of the people as a whole be beguiled with sugar-coate politics. It would be well for th fly-by-night political clubs, tha are as numerous as the leaves the "Green Bay Tree," to take leaf from the ledger of the Carp Diems and subordinate their sel ish aims to the welfare of th community and the distri wherein they reside.

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By Martinez Hewlett

I wonder how certain AFL leaders feel now that the CIO has proven beyond a doubt that the AFL needs its help and what is more, offers this aid with no strings attached?

Recently the CIO Committee For Maritime Unity threw its full weight behind the AFL's Sailors Union of the Pacific in protesting the Wage Stagilization Board's denial of pay increases to the sailors.

But of course Harry Lundeberg, president of the Sailors Union, might say that this help is not needed since his friends, the Pacific American Shipowners Association, have also asked the WSB to reconsider its denial of the wage increases.

Lundeberg is the fellow who spoke so loud and so long against the CIO at the recent anti-Communist rally held in Wilmington.

Meanwhile members of the SUP began voting last week along the Pacific coast on whether or not to go on strike.

While we're in a somewhat nautical vein and also on the subject of CIO-AFL unity, it seems as if the AFL will have to, out of necessity, work closely with the CIO in the fishermen strike.

At this writing the AFL fishermen are on strike and since they have won support from the AFL cannery workers, CIO boats will be tied up as long as the strike lasts.

Then too, with CIO Fisherme Union officials and members u der indictment in a federal cou on charges "of conspiracy" in a anti-trust action, the CIO Fishe men may stage a protest strik

For the AFL strike to be effe tive as well as successful the will need all of the CIO suppo they can get.

These facts demonstrate th all labor is as one. What hur the CIO, hurts the AFL and vi versa.

All working people must lea that there is only one lab movement. Members of the AF must not listen to fascist-minde groups who try to undermine th labor movement by attackir the CIO because of its liber policies. They should, howeve see that their unions institu such policies to further the cau of labor unity, thereby forgir a truly great American lab movement.

It has become only too appa ent that strong forces are co stantly seeking to destroy the l bor movement, the strongest bu wark of democracy in the worl And although these forces ma start by destroying the CIO, yo can bet that the AFL will n be spared. Fascism cannot thriv with a labor movement in i midst, no matter how reactio ary the labor movement may b

Every worker should pledg be he CIO, AFL or independen that there is only one lab movement and that it is h bounden duty as a worker promote the cause of all labo thereby assuring his own we fare and livelihood.

Money Talks in Court

By LEW GARRETT

"One hundred dollars or 20 days."

Sitting in courtrooms as a newspaper reporter for a good many years I have heard that sentence drone out from a hundred judges on a thousand occasions. The figures are different, but the meaning is always something like this:

"Okay, sucker, if you happen to be lucky and have a hundred bucks or a friend with a hundred bucks—get outa here. Otherwise—up to the lockup!"

Or I have sat in the arraignment division of the courts and heard the judge say:

"Bail is set at $1000."

Again the figures vary, but the meaning is the same. "You got the dough to go bail? Or a friend with the dough? No? Okay, bud, upstairs to the city's free hotel."

And everytime I hear the words and see the victim with maybe a patch in his pants, hiking up to the jail after a pair of handcuffs have been securely snapped on by a cop, I wonder: "Is this what is meant by equality?"

Bail and fines have been among our institutions for a long time and no single outcry will erase them. I have no answer to the questions as to their substitutes. But I do know that democracy is not served by the jailing of a poor man and the freeing of a more lucky guy—on the basis of how much mone each has in his poke.

I am reminded of two richly clad brothers who appeared i court recently, on charges bilking and robbing scores veterans by gypping them in gigantic used car racket. Th DA's office says they got ov a million dollars—clear—fro their little scheme. The cour haven't decided if they are i nocent or guilty as yet—but o justice allows bail of perha one-twentieth of what they a accused of stealing to free the until their sentencing perha six or eight months later.

This may be fair—they are a sumed innocent until prove guilty. But so were the s young Mexican-American youth I recently saw jailed and tri on charges of raping a whi woman. They were freed a months later when a court di covered that the entire char was a phony. But unfortunate most of the boys had no b bank account—saved from gy ping veterans in used car sal or otherwise—so they sat o their time awaiting trial in t pokey.

Monetary bail and moneta fines are a problem-child of t courts in a democracy. They a a challenge to the leaders shelved because of the difficu solution. Justice demands answer.

THINGS I SEE

By Marian Inglewood

Thousands marching. Bands playing. Flags flying. Banners carried proudly aloft. But no tanks, no jeeps, no guns, no cannon, no boys in uniform carrying rifles ready to kill. For it was an army of peace, an army of working people marching through the streets of Los Angeles and through the streets of all the cities of America last Monday. It was the army with banners calculated to strike greater terror into the hearts of the capitalistic rulers of the world than any army mustered on the field of battle.

This army of working people has made great strides forward during the last few years. Indeed, compared to the thousands of years which mark the span of life of our civilization, it is little more than a baby. The very first labor legislation in the world intended to regulate working conditions in factories, was adopted by the parliament of England in 1802. Just about a century and a half ago. It prohibited the binding out of pauper children under nine years of age to cotton factories, and made the working hours for all children under nine to be only twelve hours per day!

Can you imagine that! But that was only the very first step of this lusty workingman's youngster. About thirty years later England had advanced so far that she prohibited the employment of all children under nine, for any number of hours per day.

Along about the same time the working people of American began organizing and to strike for higher wages. The first strike of organized labor was that of the Philadelphia printers. They asked a minimum wage of six dollars per week! A few years later the journeymen carpenters of Philadelphia demanded a 12-hour day with additional pay for overtime! Their wages then were $1.25 for a day of 15 or 16 hours!

The merchants and the master workmen were the capitalists then. The merchants sold the goods and the master workmen hired the laborers out of whose labor the profits were sweated. Workshops became sweatshops employing women and children for only a few cents per day. In the shoe industry women received from 8c or 9c to 50c per day. In the cotton factories they received $2.19 per week; seamstresses, $1.25 per week. Children in factories, 9 and 10 years of age, were working 12 and 14 hours per day. No chance to go to school.

Against these intolerable conditions workmen, both men and women, organized themselves into unions. They demanded better working conditions, higher wages, free public schools for their children. The merchants and master workmen united against the unions. They said labor unions were "subversive" to the best interests of the country. Ministers of the churches joined with them. They said children of the poor people didn't need any education. That the devil always found mischief for idle hands to do, and if working people had too much idle time on their hands, the country would simply go to the dogs.

They followed the same line of argument the reactionary and non-thinking people do today. But the working people kept fighting on. They finally won the twelve-hour day. Then they began organizing and striking for the ten-hour day. And for free public schools.

The Workingman's Party, the first of its kind in the world, was organized in 1828. It had for its platform: free education, abolition of imprisonment for debt, (men and women were often imprisoned for a debt as little as $20) the ten-hour day, and higher wages.

The party died after a few years, but by continued and persistent agitation the working people won our free public school system and abolition of imprisonment for debt. The ten-hour day came, too. Finally. That stayed with us a long, long time. You needn't be so very old to remember the days when a man worked ten hours a day at ten cents an hour. The eight-hour day has come only in comparative recent years.

And with the advent of the eight-hour day, and all the other emoluments that accompany it, Organized Labor has at last come into its birthright. The birthright of power that comes through justice and truth, through fighting for the rights of others as well as for one's self.

This birthright must never be sold. But using it the working people of the world will grow mightier and more powerful. And the thousands marching on Labor Day, and every day of the year, shall go forward to that new world already begun to create and which please God, we shall continue to build until it becomes that City Beautiful of glorious vision.

A DISASTROUS OUTING

By J. OTWAY PURYEAR, M.D.

A group of men reeently went on a fishing trip and came back with one of the worst hard luck stories I ever heard.

Fish? They did not even have a chance to catch any fish. Almost the moment they landed at their destination, a small cabin in the woods near a stream, things began to happen that wrecked their plans for a quiet, peaceful week-end.

Sad as their story was, I think it bears repeating to show what can be done when emergencies arise on a summer outing.

First of all, young Billy Turner, who accompanied his father, decided to go wading before supper—and stepped on a broken bottle. The cut on his foot was not deep and after it had been washed with cool, fresh water, his father painted it with iodine and bandaged it with a clean cloth. Fortunately, Billy's mother had insisted that the men take along a "first aid kit," which included iodine and bandages.

Billy felt hampered by the bandaged foot, but after all it was not a bad cut and there was nothing to worry about as long as the wound and the area around it were kept clean until the cut healed.

After the flurry of excitement about Billy, two of the men went out to gather wood to build a fire to cook supper. One of them got a deep splinter in his finger. The splinter broke off and became imbedded under the skin.

It was Billy's turn to come to the rescue now. He had often seen his mother remove splinters. He asked for a needle, but of course no one had thought of bringing along a needle. Turner took out his pocket knife and Billy said it would do but it must be so clean there could be no possibility the finger would become infected when the skin was broken in removing the splinter. To sterilize the knife, the blade was held over a flame for several minutes. Billy told his father he must be careful not to touch the point of the blade which was to be used to take out the splinter. Finally, the splinter was out, the iodine was taken out again and the finger painted with it.

All went well for the rest of the evening and the next morning the men got out their fishing lines and started through the woods to reach the part of the stream where there were supposed to be a lot of fish.

Well, things really did happen then. Somebody suggested a short cut through rather thick brush. Turner put out his hand to push back a bush and something struck his arm. Yes, it was a snake, a rattlesnake at that, and Turner had been bitten in the arm.

The men acted quickly. Two of them carried Turner to a clearing and laid him flat on his back while another tore a piece off his shirt to tie around his arm. The bandage was tied slightly above the place where the bite was and was made tight enough to stop the flow of blood in the veins.

Then the pocket knife was again sterilized over a lighted stick and two gashes were cut, croswise, at the place where the snake had struck. One of the men drew Turner's arm to his mouth and sucked out as much of the poisoned blood as he could, spitting it out immediately. By this time, Billy had run to the cabin and returned with the bottle of iodine. The iodine was applied to the wound after it had been allowed to bleed freely.

Somebody said what Turner needed was a drink. It was lucky for Turner, however, that no one had a bottle of whiskey. A stimulating drink would have hurt him, not helped him.

As soon as possible, the men carried Turner back to the car, which was near the cabin, and the fishing party returned to town. They brought Turner to my office immediately. I gave him a serum, which is good for snake bites, and took other steps to clean the wound and drain out the poison and put him to bed.

It was not until much later that day that we heard the whole story about the many mishaps on the fishing trip. When I did hear it, I was proud of the way Billy and the men had kept their heads in the various emergencies. They had acted promptly and wisely in each case, with the result that no injury proved serious. They had acted particularly wisely in tying the tight bandage around Turner's arm and in rushing him back to town. A snake bite is nothing to fool around with—the victim should have medical care as quickly as possible.

A LAYMAN'S VIEW

By Leon W. Steward

THE MOVIE AND OTHER ANGLES AS DUNBAR CONDUCTS

Yes, we were among that number of people who were not too much disappointed to learn that Dorothy Manor would not sing and who continued on to Hollywood Bowl a couple of weeks ago. We were as interested in observing the injection of a black man in the Hollywood conductor's stand and the accompanying reactions thereto. We were also interested to see local talent displayed in the famous bowl of bowls, and we are always ready to travel for to enjoy good music. However, this piece is more about the first of our three admitted impelling motives for attending the affair sans the famous song bird and less about the other two. Well, on with the tale!

The concert had not begun before we were informed that the British government had arranged for movie shots of the great experiment—a black man before an American (major) orchestra in Hollywood Bowl. And no sooner had Rudolph Dunbar gotten under way than the movie lights and cameras began to flicker on. Our informant further informed us that this film will be sent to the far corners of the British Empire for the comfort, we take it, of the hapless dark people under the giant paw of the British lion. What a notion? "Look see, ye dusky sons of Briton, even, in UNdemocratic America a British colonial has high status." Or, maybe: "Our lending cousins aren't so bad to their colored people; see how well our own Dunbar has been treated in exclusive Hollywood bowl?" If these ideas of why Britain desires these movies are not correct pray tell us just what they are wanted for. Surely it is about time that that famous oppressor of peoples and despoiler of their riches try propaganda rather than bullets to soften their hearts toward the British movement. Behold — Indonesia-Palestine. Nevertheless, we would like to see the reactions of those oppressed Britains in black when "shots" of audience-reactions which were taken toward the close of the intermission period — while some applauded and many others walked up and down the aisles with their backs to the musicians, reach their eyes. "Strange people, those Americans — damn strange" perhaps they'll say. And they will not be a wit wrong either from where we sit.

We can say, as far as we are concerned, Dunbar, a skilled conductor, did a good job under very trying circumstances. We won't go into that, many others have already done so.

The Nash Singers

The Nash Singers did a splendid piece of service very well. Had they not suddenly decided that they needed two-piano accompaniment for their Italian opera number, and if they had not taken the assignment on such short notice they doubtless would have done excellently. . . And so far as Gallespie is concerned, we liked his voice but we feel that he was done an injustice to be given the jump from the informal radio to the concert stage on short notice. Knowledge of music and the technique of concert singing are not necessary to bring one to this opinion.

Time (9/2) devotes more than a full column to "Debut in the Bowl" which begins "Almost everything went wrong at Hollywood Bowl. Soprano Dorothy Manor, guest star, cancelled her engagement because her mother had pust died. A substitute chorus was ill-prepared, and a pinch-hitting baritone had to fall back on "Od Man River." So the U.S. debut last week of a talented Negro conductor, Rudolph Dunbar, 39, was a grim experience for every one but him."

Asks Aid for Growing Struggles Of 8,000,000 S. Africa Natives

NEW YORK—American press accounts of the African mine workers' strike in South Africa during the week of August 12 were described as "fragmentary and wholly inadequate" by the Council on African Affairs in a statement issued yesterday.

Air mail reports sent to the Council from South Africa during the period of the strike revealed, it was said, that at least 30 Africans lost their lives and hundreds were seriously injured during the suppression of the strike by the police.

On the second day of the strike in which two-thirds of the 300,000 South African gold mine workers participated, the headquarters of the African Mine Workers Union in Johannesburg was raided, its documents and membership records were confiscated, and the president of the Union, J. B. Marks, an African, was arrested. Widespread arrests of other leaders and supporters of the strike also occurred, it was reported, and even printers of strike leaflets were caught in the dragnet.

It is clearly apparent from the facts, the Council on African Affairs stated, that "the police action in crushing the strike represented the government working hand in glove with the wealthy mine owners and operators to keep the workers in continued servitude."

" demand of all sections of African labor in the Union of South Africa for a decent living wage—$2 a day minimum is the common demand—reflects the desperate condition of poverty and hunger resulting from the government's elaborate discriminatory legislation enacted during the past three decades to insure 'white supremacy' and a ready supply of 'cheap black labor,'" the Council's statement continued.

Another manifestation of the people's current desperate struggle against their oppressors in South Africa, it was said, is the nation-wide campaign against the pass laws, which has now reached the point where Africans are openly burning their passes and advocating defiance of the laws. Still another manifestation is the passive resistance campaign of the Indian people in protest against the "ghetto law" recently enacted against them.

The Council on African Affairs noted that there was promising evidence that these various forms of mass struggle were being consciously linked together and coordinated.

"But to win their fight," the statement declared, "these people require the help of the outside world. They must be supported by the United Nations, by the World Federation of Trade Unions, and by progressive forces, particularly in the United States and Great Britain. If such support is not forthcoming, South Africa will unquestionably have to be reckoned with as a stronghold of fascism and imperialist reaction, endangering the security and peace of the whole world."

The Council called upon Americans to protest to the Minister of the Union of South Africa in Washington, D. C., against the continuation of the pass system and the denial of trade union rights and decent living wages to African workers; and to urge President Truman and the U. S. state department to give full support to the Indian government's petition to the United Nations protesting against the South African government's discrimination."

Negro Girl Gets Interviewer Job With Red Cross

Serving as a paid caseworker in the home service department of the Los Angeles Red Cross chapter today is Miss Evangeline Woodfolk of 2650 Van Buren place, named to this position this week by Chapter Manager Bowen McCoy.

A graduate of West Virginia State college, where she received her bachelor of science degree in 1933, Miss Woodfolk for two years took graduate work at the Atlanta School of Social Work, majoring in social service.

Prior to joining the Red Cross, Miss Woodfolk served five years as a caseworker for the Department of Public Assistance in Farrell, Pa., and for two years was serving in the same capacity for the Department of Public Welfare, children's division, in Baltimore, Md.

With the Red Cross the talented Miss Woodfolk will interview returning veterans and assist them in filing for claims, benefits and financial assistance.

The caseload in the Los Angeles Red Cross' home service department has trebled as far as the work among veterans is concerned, a recent survey revealed.

The Singing Measure

The Bilbo-Bonic Plague

The Bilbo-bonic plague
Swept through each southern town
With many cherished norms
In terror trodden down:
The white man and the black
In mutual horror pay,
Sliding into the graves
That they dug yesterday.

From Mississippi north,
Out of the spotted South,
The Bilbo-bonic plague
Became a foaming mouth
And from the Senate floor,
Eight hours and in dismay,
A vast automaton
Against the OPA.

For private enterprise,
And prices unrestrained,
'Gainst Yanks with skins of black
As mudsills crushed and brained.
The Bilbo-bonic plague
Rolled like long freights of cars
Or leagues of centipedes.
Lynch ropes and prison bars.

Oh, false democracy
Was what encouraged talk
Whilst better senators
Kept going for a walk.
"For white supremacy,
And cash!" so we were told
But, please, Almighty God,
Free men, also, were sold!

The Bilbo-bonic plague
Oft fired the South in glee,
From Mississippi north
And over Tennessee.
From east to west the cry,
"Damnation, death and woe
Till God must intervene
To let His people go!"

The Deep South

For the NNPA News Service

There comes a time when fire must be fought with fire. There comes a time whe nviewing with alarm, castigation, threats at the big gate, being right and praying without action will not win vital battles—to say nothing of a mighty victory.

Intolerance against minority groups is being furthered by organized and well financed groups, including so-called religious, civic, racist, commercial and industrial organizations. Day and night, through every channel of communication and by every means of spreading propaganda, this foul business of spreading intolerance is being carried on.

For upwards of 15 years Adlph Hitler carried on such a campaign from his base of operations in Germany. Huge sums of money and millions of man-hours of planning and working, with each Nazi indoctrinated with the myth of race supremacy, went into building the German war machine. Although Germany in the end, was defeated, the efficiency of Hitler's war machine proved that scientific methods and day to day energy must be used to get things done and create a certain state of mind in people.

Hitler intensified the spirit of combat into the Germans of the post World War I period to carry the banner of Nazism down the corridors of Europe. Fifteen million graves mark the Nazis' trail. This figure represents the toll in lives in the European country that the German armies invaded. The soul of his effort to conquer the world was intolerance. He went about the business of spreading propaganda, dividing and conquering much the same as a big concern, prosecutes a national or international advertising campaign. He sought to poison the minds of the suspecting as well as the unsuspecting.

Hitler's disciples are busy today broadening the basis of his discipleship within the so-called democracies. The world is headed for another war unless enlightened people everywhere organize to combat the spread of intolerance just as religiously as the great Protestant denominations prosecute their programs of the Christian religion. Incidentally, if the Christian Church emphasized the religion preached by Jesus Christ and accelerated its program to meet the needs of the time in which we live, there would be no more formidable force in combatting the spread of intolerance.

I make the practical suggestion that federated clubs, fraternal orders, religious and business organizations, Greek letter societies and other well-intentioned groups in each community sponsor essay contests at various levels, offering very attractive awards to participants, on this subject: "How to Combat Intolerance."

In the meantime, newspapers, the radio and other means of communication should be urged by sponsoring groups to carry on an educational campaign designed to stop the spread of intolerance and promote tolerance and goodwill everywhere.

Interested persons could meet in every community. The community groups when very well organized over a state area would federate themselves into a state organization, and later the state organization could federate itself into a national organization, and the national organization into an international organization. By this method there would be a host of people the world over preaching tolerance instead of hate.

Tolerance is furthered best by placing a high premium on the ability to appreciate the contributions others make to the sum total of what gives all a richer and fuller life. We do a little of this sort of thing in times of war and afterwards we slip back into the business of building another war encouraging the spread of intolerance by commission of omission.

The Ku Klux Klan, the Talmadgeites and the Bilboites are organized. They have plans and they work to further their plans. Like an iceberg only one third of their effort is evident by what they say. Their millions of fellow travelers bore from within thousands of innocent fronts. This sort of fire must be dealt with by fire, before it's too late.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Mrs. Bass:

The very warm thanks of the local branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is herewith sent you for the very splendid cooperation you gave to the recent membership drive. By this time you know that the drive was the greatest in the history of the local branch.

The executive board wants you to know that in a large degree your very fine cooperation contributed immeasurably to the success of this campaign.

Please be assured that you have our continued goodwill and best wishes in any effort you may deem advisable to prosecute for the betterment of mankind.

With kindest personal regards, I am,

Yours, truly,

Thomas L. Griffith, Jr.,
President

CHARLES H. BYNUM

Noted Educator Coming Here to Help Combat Infantile Paralysis

Infantile paralysis is maintaining its upward trend in Los Angeles despite the efforts of the city and county health departments, backed up by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, the Red Cross and the Sister Kenny Foundation.

Because of the seriousness of the malady and its increased incidence, the National Foundation is having one of its leading national authorities, Charles H. Bynum, come to Los Angeles and assist in the fight against the disease.

Bynum will be in Los Angeles Sept. 7 through the 11th and is scheduled to speak over the Sweet Chariot Hour radio program on Saturday, Sept. 7, at 6:30 p. m., station KXLA—1100 kilocycles—and on Sunday morning, Sept. 8, eleven o'clock, at the Independent Church of Christ, 18th and Paloma sts. Every person interested in his health and in that of his neighbor is urged to hear this brilliant speaker as he tells citizens what they can do to help prevent infantile paralysis.

Groups interested in asking questions or in having Bynum address them can reach him through Dr. Ruth Temple's office, CE. 2-9081, or by contacting other members of the committee of welcome, Mrs. Jessie Terry, Mrs. Vivian Temple Johnson, Mrs. Geneva M. Davis, Mrs. Mayola Williams, Norman O. Houston, George A. Beavers Jr., Rev. O. A. Troy, and Stewart Meacham.

Bynum is a noted educator, who earned his master's degree at the University of Pennsylvania, has done additional work at the Universities of Minnesota and Southern California, and served as dean of Texas college, Tyler, Texas.

FBI Silent on Report Georgia Lynchers Known

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NNPA)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation this week declined to comment on reports that the names of some members of the mob who massacred two couples near Monroe, Georgia, July 25, were known to its investigators.

A spokesman for the FBI said as a matter of policy it will not comment on pending investigations. As an indication that the FBI is still seeking a solution to the crime, the spokesman pointed to the concentration of FBI agents at Monroe.

Concerning the mysterious resignation of John Trost, who was the special agent in charge of the Atlanta office of the FBI and was in charge of the Monroe lynchings, the spokesman said he resigned his position to return to Wisconsin and engage in the practice of law there, adding that "that's all there was to it."

After the FBI decided upon a full-scale investigation of the Georgia lynchings, it was said, a special branch office was set up at Monroe with Charles E. Weeks, a New Orleans special agent, in charge.

Federal Court Upholds Georgia Ballot System

ATLANTA—A three-judge federal bench yesterday upheld the the feudal-like Georgia system of nominating state officials by county units instead of by popular vote.

The tribunal denied an injunction in a suit seeking to void the county unit system as unconstitutional and to cancel the July 17 primary in which Eugene Talmadge, hate peddlar, was nominated governor.

Talmadge trailed James V. Carmichael in popular votes but won on unit votes.

The decision will be appealed to the U. S. supreme court.

Atty. Townsend to Speak Tuesday Nite

Vince Monroe Townsend Jr., president and western director of the Elks Civil Liberties League, will address a public affairs forum at the Embassy hall, 842 South Grand ave., Tuesday evening, Sept. 10, at 7:30 o'clock.

Townsend will speak on restrictive covenants and the FEPC.

U. S. Barring March of Peoples Toward Democracy, Pepper Declares

Let me thank HICCASP for lifting me, even if it be but for fleeting hours, into this heavenly place. Hardly is even Florida better. Lest some of you may have feared, from the picture you saw in the Times, that in my infancy I had had the misfortune to suffer some deformity, let me assure you that so far as I can tell I am a normal person, and while not handsome, I am healthy.

This day is dedicated to the honor of labor—recognition of the nobility of work and workers. But above all else it is a time of tribute to man rather than to man's material world. I would like to spend my words in praise of those, who by the sweat of their brow, have made our world the good earth, but my concern for man's very security is so solemn that I must speak about my fears and hopes for man's future rather than in commendation for his past.

All these lesser things that make up the mixture of our daily lives—wages, hours, working conditions—are dependent upon the kind of world we live in. Whether we can pursue our daily tasks in undisturbed quiet where our duties are, or whether we are torn from our normal ways and thrust into the ordeal and anguish of desperate combat with all of man's weapons of terror and death; whether we dwell in our several places of comfort and safety or whether we cringe in the slimy mud, or crouch in dark cellars, or hide like hunted beasts in holes; whether we are blasted to pieces, choked by strangling gas or stricken down by raging virus—all this depends on whether we live in a world at peace or war.

Today I must tell you that your fears are well-founded. Small and half-seeing men at home and abroad are hurtling us, mistake by mistake, error by error, toward the certain and unspeakable horror of war. We may pray "Father, forgive them for they know not what they do," but we cannot hold them unaccountable for our destiny or doom.

In a little cottage on a hill in the deep south, on the 12th of April, 1945, a great light which had illuminated the path of mankind at last flickered and went out. Since then, the world has groped in darkness, searching for the paths of peace and progress. The unity, painfully achieved by Franklin D. Roosevelt in wa rand victory, has been lost in peace. The foundations he so firmly laid have been overturned and shattered, and the structure which he so bravely built has crumbled and lies today a broken ruin, a sad reminder of the majesty it once possessed.

This land, which God has blessed with liberty unexcelled, is no longer the crusading champion of the oppressed, but the unsentimental defender of old tyrannies and imperial oppression. The great voice of the people which might have toppled the towers of tyranny, like the trumpets of Joshua the walls of Jerrico, has been spent in petty squabbles and in forgoing the links of the world's newest imperialism — Pax Americanna.

Our voice which in its natural role is the voice of the rights of man— the voice of the American and the French Revolutions — has taken on more the harsh, unmoved tones of repression shockingly like the voice of the holy alliance. This nation, 3000 miles from Europe's old quarrels, has allowed itself to descend from its Olympian detachment and disinterestedness into a "fraternal association" with the makers of those old quarrels and conflicts. And the assumption repeatedly declared by Senators who are their country's representatives, that we have sunken to the level of a western European state, taking the place of a defeated Germany and a weakened France in the perpetuation of western Europe's old struggles, to isolate the people of old Russia within the confines of western European imperialism, goes mostly unchallenged.

People fearing the poisoned arrows of prejudice and propaganda — even people in high places — have been almost afraid to say that that assumption is false; that our duty to avoid isolation like a plague does not lead us into a fraternal association with any power to exploit jointly with them the oil of the middle East; to preserve to them their old mastery of subject peoples; to share with them exclusive control and domination of the Meditehhanean; to keep Russia locked in the black isolation of the Black Sea; to perpetuate western European domination of the Danube, or of the Balkans; to construct another cordon sanitaire around the Soviet Union, or to retain for our joint selves the supreme mastery over every ocean and sea, over every passageway between every ocean and sea, and over every strategic base on the face of the globe.

Even public men have too long remained silent when they saw the policy which has ever been in the hearts of the people of our land—the policy of the good neighbor—become the policy of imeprialism, smacking again of all the implications of that aggression offensive to American sentiment, once cloaked under the dictum of an American President called "manifest destiny." I nthis sovereignty of the people —the people who pay with their own blood and treasure the cost of war—it is the duty of the people to speak out for peace as fearlessly as their danger demands. Let the people say to those in authority that the American people are not partners of Communism, Socialism or Toryism anywhere in the world, and that we want, not less, but more, democracy everywhere as the basis of peace in the world; that we condemn alike the aggression of any power upon any people, and that as we are not rightly in league with any old empires we are not partners in crime with any new; that they demand that we hearken back to the oracles of our past and array ourselves, not with the oppressors of mankind, but that we take up again our historic role of emancipators; that instead of throwing our might and strength across the path of surging democracy—of the peoples of the world who are clamoring out of their holes and cellars, out of their jails and chains, out of all their bonds to new freedoms and satisfactions of the body, the mind and the spirit — that we shall become the helping friend of this tattered army; that instead of holding down, we want to help up people overywhere who want not only political but economic independence.

Let the people tell these military dreamers and these new emperors that they are expected to carry out their orders and not to assume, from their white horses, to lead us into an ideological world-shaking war which would not only destroy the very democracy which we cherish, but threatens the survival of the race itself. Let the people excoriate with their rebuke those who threaten our peace by telling us day by day that we must, while we can, go drop our atomic bomb upon some other people in another Hitler blitzkreig. Let the people demand that we, the melting pot of all races and all lands, be the understanding leader through which all peoples and nations can work together for peace and well-being. Let the people demand that international confidence be restored, that faith and trust be revived so that the atomic bomb shall no longer be a Damoclean sword over the heads of any people. Yes, let the people demand, in the United States, Great Britain and the Soviet Union, that their leaders, laying aside all lesser demands, shall assemble together and remain together until in the spirit of Christianity and democracy they can rebuild those enduring foundations of peace which Franklin D. Roosevelt laid with his own trowel and hand. There can be peace if we shall but determine to have it.

And let the people be no less certain that democracy prevails in our own land! How much longer shall we deny to the laborer, wherever he works, his just hire? How much longer shall we let the breadwinner, disable, remain, destitute? How much longer shall we daily pay a tragic toll in life, in health and in achievement for our neglect to make a doctor, a hospital, a nurse, a laboratory, a dentist available to every ill man, woman and child? How much longer shall we tolerate illiteracy and ignorance in a sovereign citizen for lack of teacher or schaal? How much longer shall we wait to open the doors of every training shop, school, college and university to evry boy and girl through a federal-state loan fund, available to him or her upon his or her own note? How much longer shall the family altars of the nation be by the roadside, in the park, in crowded rooms or in hovels? How much longer shall we deny democracy in any part of America because of race or sex? How much longer shall the zallot be conditioned upon the money you have, and civil liberties live under the threat of the mob?

Today the army of democracy stands at Kadesh Barnea, where the children of Israel paused in their pilgramage out of the slavery of Egypt on their way to the promised land. At Kadesh Barnea the children of Israel made their choice— whether to go forward into the promised land against the giants who were the sons of Anak, or whether to wander aimlessly in the anguish of the wilderness. The number who died — all who suffered — grew out of the decision they made to go backward and not forward.

We, too, have a choice to make today. We can make the world the best world man has ever known, with all science its obedient servant, or the icy or our spirit behind our minds will make our creations our masters to destroy us. We can lift our leaders out of the garments of petty politics and enrobe them with the raiment of political and social generalship. We can so pull down the sovereignty of nations and build up the fraternity of peoples that the human race shall become the human family. We can have peace on earth — goodwill among men. We can have prosperity — the good life —for nearly all.

Or, spurning this choice, we can deepen the chasms which divide us; fatten the monsters of selfishness and hate. We can let the blessings of science become our curse and eventually our destroyer. We can waste the wealth which is ours—the prosperity which we enjoy, and sink back into the morass of depression and despair. All as we choose our course.

Our histors — our dead — look down upon us and remind us of all they have paid for this right of choice which we possess. All the immeasurable future beckons us on. Let us, with the wisdom and character of the man-gods we are, make the right choice, and God helping us, our leaders not failing us, enter into the rich green valleys of peace and plenty for ourselves and for mankind.

Friends' Conference Condemns State Courts' Role in Enforcing Racial Restrictions on Property

PASADENA—Racial restrictions on property and the practice of state courts in upholding these private agreements were vigorously condemned in a resolution unanimously adopted by the conference of the Pacific Coast Association of Friends (Quakers) held at the Pacific Oaks Friends school here. The conference was the 16th annual gathering of friends from Arizona, California, Oregon, Washington, British Columbia and Hawaii. The resolution follows:

We believe it to be a fundamental right of all of God's children to have opportunity to live and use property free from restrictions imposed because of race or color.

The use of restrictive racial covenants prohibits many minority individuals from finding a place to live in accordance with their economic status and personal choice. Instead, it forces and confines such persons into overcrowded, substandard areas, with all of the attendant social costs. The whole community suffers because this kind of segregated housing arrests the capacities of human beings for full moral, physical, and spiritual growth as children of God.

The presence of covenants creates frustration in persons who want to live normal lives, and they create fear in those who impose covenants on their fellow men. This frustration and fear lead to ever-increasing tension and threatened and actual physical violence.

Therefore we strongly disapprove of restrictive racial covenants or agreements restricting ownership or occupancy of real property.

★ Between 1911 and 1935, a brief span of twenty-five years, extraordinary progress was made in public health. According to figures released by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, the duration of human life during this period was extended by almost fourteen years. It is all the more remarkable in the light of the history of this period, which included the first World War, the worst epidemic in recent history, and America's most severe depression.

Many agencies have contributed to make America a more healthful place in which to live. Not the least of these are scientific medicine and pharmacy, which work unceasingly for better methods of prevention and treatment of disease.

NEGRO TROOPS
The success of the 16th Port's operations at Le Havre cannot be chronicled faithfully without special recognition of the loyal and indefatigable contributions of the attached Negro troops. Negro port battalions, amphibian truck companies and similar units literally carried the supply battle on their backs during the grim, grueling days when the armies were calling for more and more of everything.

This striking wood engraving highlights the account on Negro troops in "Supply Front", the story of the 16th Major Port at Le Havre, France. (Drawing by 8th Massacre Office, U.S.M.C., from Public Relations Division, War Department.)

WHAT'S DOING IN THE SOCIAL SET

By JESSIE MAE BROWN

THERE IS NOTHING FINER than a gracious host and hostess. This week we proudly cite Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Jenkins for the perfect Labor Day weekend party at their ranch in Corona, Calif. Some 30 or more guests enjoyed a three-day round of swimming in the ranch pool, riding horseback in the rugged Corona Hills, dining in grand ranch style on food fit for a king, prepared by the Jenkins' pride and joy (ranch cook) Queen Watkins, and enjoying nature in her rarest, by sleeping out of doors. Among those present were members of the Lacormon Riding Club, Crop 'n' Tail Riding Club, Mr. and Mrs. Till Toms of San Francisco, Mrs. Velva L. Forward, visiting from Dallas, Texas, Atty, and Mrs. H. L. Richardson, Dr. David B. Pace of St. Louis, Mo., Junius Hanazawa, Cliff and Bessy Wilson, Ish and Nancy Evans, Major Curtis W. Carpenteer, Wilbert Winston, Alice Dickinson, Wince and Marguerite King, Florence "Muggins" Houstan, Frances Garland, Atty. and Mrs. M. Kay Grubbs, and, of course, the prominent riding instructor, E. B. Green.

IN THE MOVIES

Highlighting the week-end, the group took part in a western film, written by Alma Collins and Jane Criner. Ruth Cage was official director, while Arthur Houston and Mrs. Toms shot the scenes with their 16mm. cameras. More fun, watching Marie Jenkins play the part of the heroine on her gaited horse, while E. B. Green was the bandit, and J. Jenkins, the hero. Till Toms starred in the final scene as the sheriff. Maethilde Kenner, Paulette Dejoie, Marcella Monroe, Jewell Lockett, and Vaino Hassen added glamour to the scene, while the rest of the rough riders played the parts of vigilantes.

Another interesting spot on the week-end program was the horse show held Sunday evening in the Jenkins' riding ring. Arthur Houston won the cup for outstanding horsemanship, while Maethilde Kenner took the lead over the women riders. The week-end was completed with a trip to Lake Elsinore on Labor Day. Thelma Houston enjoyed a spin around the lake in Sam Taylor's new speed boat, while Marcell Richardson and others enjoyed swimming. While at Elsinore noted Alphonsine Paltron, Maurice Page and the Mrs., the Herndon brothers, Honora Carey, Audrey Jones and many another. Before returning to the Jenkins ranch for the grand finale, the party visited Dr. King's hill-top ranch, a short distance from Lake Elsinore.

The perfect week-end was brought to a close with dinner at the Jenkins, complete with closing speeches and camp songs. Hortense and Billy Graham joined the party at this point along with Mr. and Mrs. Allister Ward. Believe me, it was a grand party.

LOCAL SCENE

The annual Pacific Coast Championship tennis matches were played off at Ross Snyder's Playground over the week-end. The Angel City's Jimmy McDaniels, recent Wilberforce champion, gave up his Pacific Coast championship to "School Boy" Harold Mitchell, of Oakland, along with it went the perpetual trophy that both have been working toward for the past three years. Eline Thornton won women's singles from Gwen McDaniels. Eloise Thornton and Jeanette Washington won women's doubles, and the men's doubled will be played off on Sunday morning at 9 o'clock. Young Betty Lewis, recent Jeff High grad, won the girls' singles, while Albert Hicks and Bill Lewis showed excellent form in playing doubles.

The Angel City Racquet club is proud of the success of its players, who have been winning titles over the country. The membership is growing with young and older players. This year's championship matches marked a definite return to peace-time tennis schedules.

Rosalia Safford Smith greeted a group of her friends at Alpha Bowling club last Friday evening, when she honored her brother, Bill Saffold, with a "Welcome Home" party. The affair was semi-formal, and the hostess was outstanding in a white gown featuring an off-shoulder neckline trimmed with ostrich feathers. Jackie Bunch was on the scene with her constant escort, Harrison Bailey. Paulyn Garner, back in the swing of things, greeted old friends. "Sis" Taylor Russell and Rip were looking the perfect couple with some pleasant chatter about the Russell heir. Gathered around the punch bowl were: Nita Hippard and Artist Grant, Lane Cleaves, Norma McDaniel, Marian and Wini Allen, Mildred and Austin Burchett, and a host of others. Annette Marshall and Bill Taylor were there, making it a perfect evening.

My Girl Friday covered the Royal Dragon Prom, that held sway at the Elks Ballroom Saturday night. Marking the 10th annual affair to be given by this popular men's club, she rated it as one of the best, and mentions sighting Jessie McDaniels in an eye-catching hat, Wyletta Harpole, looking very chic in a sport outfit, Evelyn Brown, in a stunning white suit, Emma Manuel, wearing a dress that featured the new balloon sleeves; wives of the Royal Dragon members looking extra lovely, and the umpteen friends who filled the Elks Ballroom to capacity. She also mentions in the little black book, that Virgil Benson was host to an after party that was one big round of fund that went on and on.

On the same night, the Turn Abouts gave their Benefit Cocktail party that we have been hearing chatter about weeks in advance. The college group was on hand to swell the club fund, for sending underprivileged children to late summer camps. My girl Friday chalked this up as a very successful venture, put on by a very charming group of young women.

Her Sunday notes began and ended with a vivid description of Corine Jones and Ballinger Kemps wedding. She described Corine as one of the most beautiful brides of the season (see story and pictures in this section).

ON THE CALENDAR

Dr. and Mrs. William E. Bailey will be receiving hundreds of friends on Sunday, September 15, at the wedding reception honoring their daughter Ouida Pruitt Lehman and her husband John. The formal affair will be held between the hours of three and six o'clock at the family home on S. Hobart blvd.

Sunday from 3 to 6, Lou Boswell will play hostess at a lingerie shower honoring brid-elect Barbara McMorris, who will become Mrs. William Faulkner this month.

On Sunday morning, Sept. 8, between the hours of 10 and 2 p. m. the Western Regional Nurses will hostess a "coffee" at the Hardimon residence. A grand program has been planned and the public is invited.

EAGLE TEA

You will be able to meet the EAGLE staff on Sunday evening at a Twilight Promotional Tea, starting promptly at 5 o'clock and ending at 8. Sid Dones' hill-top home, located at 2045 S. Hobart, will be the setting, and the popular Doll League club members will act as hostesses. A star-studded program will be presented, with Joe Adams as emcee. Yours Truly will be looking for you along with the other EAGLE writers, so don't forget to red-letter Sunday, Sept. 8, as a must.

WELL! WELL! WELL!

A very interesting letter comes from Gwen Harris, now vacationing in different parts of the East. Her last stop was Chicago, and the local deb is finding everything in perfect condition. Next week she will head for K. C. After that stop all roads will lead to sunny Cal. . . . Another card from Sara Lumpkin postmarked N.Y. Believe me, she is really having a grand time. . . . Gilbert Allen dropped by the EAGLE office one day last week. After completing two years at Samuel Houston college as a music instructor, he's in love with the college, and will return to carry on his work. . . . Jackie Dickerson will attend college in Colorado this semester. . . . Marcelyn Cobbs soon departs for Howard university. . . . Making the deadline . . . and hoping to see you at the EAGLE Promotional Tea Sunday evening. . . . 'TIL NEXT WEEK.

SUNDAY'S BRIDE—Clara Jones became the b ide of Ballinger Kemp, Jr., in formal ceremony Sunday at St. Phillips Episcopal church. The lovely bride is the daughter of Atty. and Mrs. Clarence Jones. Her beautiful gown featured a flowing train, and was made of traditional white satin. The gown was worn by her two sisters in their weddings. (See story.)

ON last Sunday, September 1, St. Phillips Episcopal church was the setting for the beautiful formal wedding of Miss Clara Corine Jones to Mr. Ballinger Gardner Kemp.

In a candlelight ceremony, with Father Alfred Norman officiating, the popular young couple recited their vows in a double ring ceremony before a fern-banked altar flanked with candles and tall baskets of white dahlias, asters and gladioli. The aisle was roped in white silk cord to the foot of the sanctuary and candles along the bridal aisle were lighted promptly at four o'clock by the church acolytes in their red robes and white lace cottas. Mr. James Patton sang "Oh Perfect Love." Then to the strains of the time honored wedding march, the bridal party entered the capacity filled church.

Ushers Edwin Sneed, Arnold Lipscomb, Eugene Johnson Jr., Joe Oliver, John Simmons, Robert Boswell and best man Wallace De Cuir were followed by the lovely bridesmaids, Misses Joyce Stewart, Mabel Renfro, Jean Watkins and Mesdames Henriella Kingi and Gwendolyn Simmons.

The bridesmaids wore maize satin gowns with lace overblouses of basque style with peplumed trains falling over skirts drawn to back fullness. Tiny buttons from neck to waist trimmed the overblouse, and their large picture hats were crownless lace edged with satin. Matching lace gloves and pom pom dahlia bouquets finished a picture-pretty ensemble. The matron of honor, Mrs. John Simmons, sister of the bride, wore the same style and shade except that her hat was of bonnet style with scalloped satin brim and she carried yellow roses.

Master John F. Simmons Jr., small ringbearer in white satin, followed by little Miss Marcella Kingi, dressed in yellow bouffant net and carrying a basket of rose petals, preceded the beautiful bride, who entered on the arm of her father.

She wore the traditional heavy ivory satin gown which was worn by her two sisters, Mrs. John Simmons and Mrs. Edward Boyd. It was full skirted with a long train. The long sleeved basque waist had a round yoke of net trimmed in tiny seed pearls and had a fingertip veil of tulle. She carried a white prayer book and a spray of green orchids and white ribbon. She was give nin marriage by her father, Atty. Clarence Jones.

GARDEN RECEPTION

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Simmons of West 28th st. The many exquisite and useful gifts were displayed at the Simmons home, where the large living room was banked with greenery, large white dahlias, and gladioli against a mirrored wall which formed the background where the bridal couple received the congratulations of hundreds of their friends. The artistic flower arrangements were by Mrs. Leonora Greene.

The Simmons garden was lovely with soft lights and flowers, a dance pavilion and string quartette. The wedding cake was cut under an arch garlanded with flowers and wedding bells, where champagne punch and individual ice cream cakes were served.

The bride's mother was stunning in soft pink georgette crepe with fabric roses. She wore a small, crownless, feathered hat and fuchsia accessories. The groom's mother was charming in dusty rose silk jersey, a velvet flowered hat and white gloves.

ON HONEYMOON

The bride, Miss Clara Corine Jones, daughter of the prominent Atty. and Mrs. Clarence A. Jones, is a well-known and popular young school teacher, a graduate of UCLA, a member of the Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority and the Phi Delphians.

The groom, Ballinger Gardner Kemp, is a member of one of Los Angeles' best known families. His mother, Mrs. Edith Kemp, was the wife of the late Ballinger Kemp, well known sportsman who was a leader in the early Los Angeles tennis circle. Young Kemp is a student at USC, a member of the Cosmos Club, and is field executive for the Boy Scouts of America.

The bride and groom left for an undisclosed destination on their honeymoon. The new Mrs. Kemp's traveling costume was a golden beige suit with brown accessories. They will be at home to their many friends in their new apartment at 922 East 42nd place after September 25th.

The many out of town guests present included Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Thompson, well known San Diegans who are grandparents of the groom.

Nurses to Hostess Regional Benefit Sunday Morning

'DENA CHIT-CHAT

By

JOHNETTA ARMSTRONG

Labor Day has come and gone and with it the last summer holiday of the year. Thousands crowded the beaches, parks, mountains and resorts. Val Verde jumped as usual and many Pasadenans made their last trip of the year to that resort. Mrs. Mims, Mary and Michael Mims spent an enjoyable pre-Labor Day week at this play spot . . . In the spring young people's fancy and thoughts turn to love, but in the fall their thoughts turn to the reopening of school. All about us we see evidences of this fact, especially the stores with their colorful display of college fashions.

After a couple of years West Campus of Pasadena Jr. college is opening again with a new name. John Muir Jr. college and is entirely separated from Pasadena Jr. college, East Campus. This is going to make quite a bit of rivalry in our hamlet. Most of the boys seem to have picked John Muir, so it seems that this will have the better football team. We will see.

Off to school is my sister-in-law Patricia Armstrong, in Louisiana. Doris Banks has also left to live with her sister and attend school in Texas. Jessica Mae Blount is likewise going to Texas to attend school, at Bishop college where she will continue her chosen field, a missionary worker. Peggy Cuoton and Barbara James will be leaving shortly for Wilberforce, in Ohio.

La Casita Del Arroyo was the scene of one of the most fashionable bridge luncheons in a long time. The Merry Numbers were hostess to 100 or more women of Pasadena and Los Angeles. Some of the club members are Mrs. Gertrude Gordon, Anna Mae Woods, Attorney Zepher Ramsey, Mrs. Elizabeth Armstrong, Maude Crowder, Enola Crawford, Louise La Grand and Alberta Davis. Some of the women present dressed in the latest of fashions were Mrs. Lucille Bowlin, Mrs. Connie Washington, Mrs. Pecolia Coleman, who has moved to Fontana to live on the ranch, Dr. Edna Griffin, Mrs. Ruth Viser, Mrs. Vivian McRiley, Martha Blue, Laura Bailey, Bessie Railsback, Fay Brooks, Ernestine Cole and many others.

The C.Y.A.A. of the A.M.E. Zion church gave a delicious turkey (Installation) dinner, at the Masonic Hall of Pasadena. The new officers William Stewart Armstrong, pres., Louise Williams, vice pres., Ellie Baker, sec., Mrs. Vickers, treas., and Marion House, chaplain. Pearl Washington, Mr. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Buchanan, Grant Cole, Mr. Rufus Bias, Lois Devines and others were present to wish this organization and its officers well.

Naomi Bowins' home was the scene and the members of the Andaconda club gave the party. It was really a gay evening and Brenda Ballard, her fiancee, Peggy and Lorraine Cuoton, Bill Irving, Chester and Alvin Johnson, Aletha Carey, Bump Cunningham, Doris Prince, Arthur Callier and oodles of others had a great time.

Now for some news from the young, young set, and I do mean young. Donald and Barbara Craig gave their son, Butch, a birthday party for his four long years. Ice cream, cake and all the other treats that go along with birthday parties, were enjoyed by the children and their parents. Clara Stewart and her two sons, Minnie Terrell and George, the Penn Boys, Patsey Jones and her two children, Freda Riddle, her child, Marie Morrow and Valetta, Fern Bigsbee, her child, Lewel Larry and her son and daughter, Bobby and Carolyn were all on hand to make Butch's birthday a happy one. Sandra Craig, little Butch's sister, looked on and thought that one day soon her day would be coming along.

Connie Washington is back from a three week vacation in Chicago and surrounding points. She had a wonderful time taking in all the latest plays, stage shows, parties and dances. She says that the stage play, "Come On Up and Ring Twice," is a scream. She also paid a visit to Dot Mims and said that she is doing well . . . Dr. Bowlin, prominent physician of this city and his son Brandon, will arrive home this week in time for Brandon to get settled before school. They flew to the West Indies to see Dr. Bowlin's mother who has been ill . . .

Received a card from Jeanne Morrow and she said that they were leaving New York, where she and her family had had a wonderful time and they were en route to the Windy City before turning their eyes toward home . . . Jessica Blount was given a farewell party that she should long remember while at Bishop. Our well wishes go with her. . . . Also off to school, but not as a student, is Lexie N. Anthony, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Anthony. She left Sunday for Phoenix, Ariz., to become sec. to the principals of the Dunbar and Booker T. Washington schools. She carries with her the well wishes of her friends and family.

Mrs. Corina B. Hicks left Monday evening for San Jose, Calif., to attend the Federation of Women's Clubs meeting. . . . Rev. E. C. Walkins, pastor of Randolph A. M. E. Zion church, Sunset and Hammond, and wife, Mrs. Roberta Walkins, left Labor Day for New York City to attend the Sesqui-Centennial (150 years celebration) of the A. M. E. Zion Connection which convenes at the mother Zion church Sept. 8 to 22. They were accompanied by Mesdames Easter Mae Davis and Pearl Washington, church representatives. Rev. and Mrs. Walkins will visit Philadelphia, Washington, D. C., Chicago; and Mrs. Walkins will visit her home in Kentucky. Miss Marion Howse, who is also a church representative, will leave Sept. 6. . . . Mrs. E. Moore left for Texas to attend the funeral of her sister. She was accompanied by Mrs. Madeline Franklin. Our heartfelt sympathies go with them.

Mabel Duncan gave a party for her friend, Shirley Ann Powell, who is leaving for her home, Chicago. Alva Rae Neblett, M. L. Jackson, Don Mims, Sonny Mims, Thelma Jackson and many others were noted throughout the evening. . . . Noted Phillippa Jones and Ivan Houston at one of the super markets shopping. Well, that's all for now.

—Hasta Luego.

We, the Bridgers of Los Angeles, bow before the shrine of the winners, and still champions of The GWBA, who showed their metal at the American Bridge Assn., and won a number of the top honors along with bringing the convention to our fair city next year.

Last week I published the events they won in, which was not complete so here are the additional wins: J. D. Dunn and Mrs. Louisa Roan, Dr. A. I. Wallace and Mrs. Mae Denton won 1st place in the mixed team of four. The above gave our entrees 3 seconds, and 1 first; that is indeed a worthy record.

Chicago Socialites Pay First Visit to Coast

Numerous southland hostesses vied for the pleasure of entertaining the Rodney Spencer Lambs of Chicago during the past week. Here for a brief stay as the house guests of Mrs. Mabel Norman Prince of Westminster avenue, Venice, the Lambs were feted Sunday by Mrs. Prince at the home of the Dr. J. G. Selbys, 3668 Third avenue, Venice.

Fifty charmingly gowned ladies responded to invitations to meet the honorees, Mrs. Laura Lamb, Mrs. Irma Waller of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Mike Sneed, wife of Cook County's only Negro Commissioner.

Later the Albert Reeds of 4156 Zamora avenue set covers for 25 honoring the Rodney Spencer Lambs at midnight supper and cocktails.

Noon buffet was chosen by the Austin Richardsons of 242 West 45th street as their compliment to their cousins, the Lambs. Horace and Gladys Miland of 258 East 47th street arranged supper and a Hollywood Bowl party. Informal supper and an "at home" was planned for the Lambs by Silas and Elizabeth White followed by barbecue at the hilltop retreat, "La Siesta" of the William Arthur Alexanders and Mrs. Jessie Hawkins of Highland Park. The Lambs leave this week for Denver, Colorado, where they will be house guests of the H. L. McCains, Denver pioneer residents.

Waitress Injured; Balked at Paying Customers' Bills

Waitress Alberta Jones doesn't mind serving hamburgers at a malt shop at 240 North Bonnie Brae avenue, but the customers are supposed to pay for them—not her.

That's what she told hospital attendants who were patching her up after she allegedly was shoved through a plate glass window Saturday when she remonstrated with a pair of men who she says were buying the wimpy-food and putting it on her credit.

She said that Claude Sims, 24, of 1123 East 10th street, and Fad Cole, 23, of 45 South Hewitt, purchased the hamburgers and put them on her check, and when she went outside to ask how come they shoved her through the window. Both men were arrested.

Savannah Teacher Earns M. A. Degree

NEW YORK—Miss Matella Maree, a teacher at the Paulsen school in Savannah, Georgia, earned her master's degree in Curriculum and Teaching from Columbia university this summer, and was cited for her excellent work in her field.

While in the city, studying Miss Maree was active with some of her Zeta Phi Beta sorors. She also visited nearby cities—Philadelphia visiting with her sister, Mrs. Lillian Frances; and her cousin Virginia Butler in Providence, Rhode Island.

Traveling back to Savannah in time for the opening of her school, she stopped in Baltimore and Washington, D. C. to chat with Zetas and friends.

Screen Notables Take Part in Benefit for 'Ladies in White'

Serving a two-fold purpose, the benefit "coffee" for the Southwest Region of Colored Graduated Nurses, slated for Sunday morning, September 8, 10 a.m., at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Hardison, 1232 Westchester place, will acquaint the layman with the part he should play in the local health program, and will augment a fund for this youngest region of the National Association of Colored Graduate Nurses.

Assemblyman Augustus Hawkins is slated to take part on the serious side of the program, as speaker of the morning. His brief remarks will cover "Lay Participation in Public Health Programs." Mrs. Ferrol Bobo Connor, president of the region, will give the response to Assemblyman Hawkins' address. Mrs. Connor, who will represent Negro nurses, through the western region, at the American Nurses Association, when it convenes in Atlantic City on September 23, is prepared to give pointers on the nurses program that will prove valuable to the general public.

Hattie McDaniel to Pour

Holding a sincere interest in the efforts of local Negro nurses, Miss Hattie McDaniel, of radio and screen, will do her part by presiding at the pouring of coffee. She will be assisted by Mrs. Georgia Hardimon. The hundreds who are expected to attend the affair will be entertained throughout the morning by the clever announcing of Mr. Clarence Muse, another film and radio personality. Mr. Muse will flavor his announcing with historical facts taken from the nurses' official 10-year report. Mr. Edward Jordan will play breakfast music throughout.

The lady behind the entire program is Mrs. Ruth Douglass, general chairman of the "coffee" and regional treasurer. After weeks of untiring work, she is certain that the public will rally to the cause, by attending the first benefit to be given by the Western Region. All proceeds will be used to swell the regional fund that will finance regional health programs.

HATTIE McDANIEL will take part in the Nurses' "Coffee" by pouring throughout the affair. She will be assisted by Mrs. Georgia Hardimon. The movie actress has a deep interest in the problems of the Negro Nurse.

DR. A. T. KING ENDS VACATION

Dr. A. Thomas King, chiropractor, and staff returned to the office after a two month's vacation. One of the high lights of Dr. King's vacation itinerary included the National Naturopathic convention in San Francisco, where he took post graduate courses in the latest technique in drugless methods.

Dr. King has been practicing since 1932, and is celebrating his fifth anniversary at his present location. His office is one of the finest in the city.

ANNUAL L. A. JOVIAL PICNIC IS SOCIAL HIGHLIGHT EVENT

More than 200 friends were in attendance at La Jovial Girls annual picnic held Sunday, September 1, at picturesque Griffith Park. As in past years, the affair was an overwhelming success, with a well planned program holding sway.

Untiring efforts in planning the picnic were exercised by Mrs. Ruth Buttler, president, Mrs. Thelma Lester, social committee chairman, Mrs. Grace La Vagine, business manager, and Mrs. Aletta Adkins, program chairman. Useful prizes were given winners of the various games. Highlight of the games played was the "All American" game, baseball. Mr. Paul La Vagine, was captain of one team and Mr. Eugene Ware captain of the other.

The picnic was climaxed by a complete ham luncheon with all the trimmings.

Mrs. Shryver Joins Staff of Women's Group

WASHINGTON — Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune, president of the National Council of Negro Women, today announced the addition of a public relations secretary to the Council staff. Mrs. Katherine Shryver, formerly executive secretary of the National Committee to Abolish the Poll Tax, will fill the new position.

"We welcome Kit Shryver," said Mrs. Bethune. "We have the conviction of her sincere genuine interest in freedom and justice for all mankind. Her work for a free vote has brought her into valuable contact with most of the organizations active in the fight for democracy and peace. The NCNW has as its basic plank, a better understanding among all women and a unity of purpose and action in the affairs of democratic living."

Mrs. Shryver said, "My work against the poll tax led me to the realization that the Negro people are the staunchest allies of those who would build a better world. As for women—when women see a job to be done, nothing can stop them. Negro women know democracy's tragic shortcomings and its limitless possibilities. What better set-up for getting things done, especially under the progressive leadrship of Mary McLod eBthune, a fighter from the word go."

In her work with the anti-poll tax committee, Mrs. Shryver directed an organization that has broad national support—church, labor, Negro, civic, women's groups. She also worked directly with congressmen and senators in pushing for the federal bill to abolish the poll tax, which passed the house but was blocked in the senate.

San Gabriel Fiesta Gets Going Tonight

Historic moments in California history will be re-lived in San Gabriel during a five day festival commemorating the 175th anniversary of the founding of San Gabriel Mission.

The celebration will start tonight, Sept. 5, at 8:30 in the Mission Bowl with the crowning of Rachael Reinoso as fiesta queen. A program of dances and songs will be dedicated to her majesty by Raul de Ramirez troupe of entertainers. The grand fiesta ball, under the direction of Don Ricardo and his NBC orchestra, will be held in the Mission patio from 9 p.m. to 12:30 a.m.

Various other events will take place during the fiesta.

COUTURSTAT

By Grace Fisher Atkins

Mrs. Helen Chappelle Smith was the object of a lovely lawn and garden party planned by Mrs. Maude White at 1531 West 31st st. Again fashions were in full swing. All of the guests were attractively gowned. The guest of honor who leaves the southwest was indeed ready for the formal eastern summer with her black sheer.

Two girls who happen to be twin sisters are daring designers also. With no instruction or previous preparation, the Woods sisters, Ella and Eva, drape and design some of the most exciting creations attempted.

At Maude's delightful garden the two girls wore individual creations. Ella draped an exquisite pure dye silk print in folds about the hipe line. The turquoise and rust leaves against the brown-black background gave a full suggestion of the coming fall season. The touch of white within the curled leaves and the short sleeves upheld too the summer breezes.

Eva designed and made a completely summer acetate two-pieced dress. With a white background nd aqua figured the cool breezes from the waving shade of garden trees gave an influence of complete relaxation and leisure.

Mrs. Blanche Groggs brought up the suggestion of fall again in a smooth black satin. Her gracious smile, for which Blanche is noted, emphasized the highlights in the shine of the soft material. . .

The charming hostess continued late summer tendencies by means of a full length extension of an aqua and rust flower. This life-like print stood alone in the foreground of a black linen-like fabric. This arrangement could not have been more agective had it been stemmed in a vase.

Space does not permit the description of the human flowers who adorned the corner garden luncheon last Monday afternoon.

☆ Youth Activities Throughout The Nation ☆

Edited by Yvonne Shepherd

KINLOCH'S ☆ KORNER

By Y. S.

Dedicated to the memory of my childhood chum; John Kinloch, who died in the struggle to destroy Fascism.

Dear Chum:

This past week has been one in which the young people of Los Angeles have been virtually up to their necks in activity. There was the terrifically successful Palestine meeting Thursday evening at the Olympic auditorium. A meeting to which young people of all races, creeds and national origins turned out to protest the current British terroristic measures in Palestine. And where they heard such top-notch speakers as Rabbi Max Nausbaum, Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, Eddie Cantor and Bartley Crum.

Then there was the picketing at Bimini Baths Saturday. And the Labor Day parades Monday, climaxed by the excellent program at Hollywood Bowl where Senator Claude Pepper appeared as principal speaker.

Yes, chum, the young people have been busy.

However, as active as they have been, still, in the back of the minds of most of them are thoughts of the approaching Southern Youth Legislature, being held under the auspices of the Southern Negro Youth Congress.

Lately, newspapers throughout the nation have been publicizing the youth confab slated October 18-20 in Columbia, S. C. Despite all this, however, I am a bit afraid that not too much is known about the background of this splendid organization.

The Southern Negro Youth Congress has been a militant organization since 1937. Today, the SNYC is not only the Southern youth's own representative instrument, but it is one of the foremost progressive youth organizations in the nation.

You know, chum, the most admirable feature about the SNYC is that its objectives are crystal clear. They are the simple aims of the vast majority of American citizens.

SNYC fights for education, jobs, peace and franchise. It organizes the youth into action councils which circulate petitions, holds mass educational meetings on all current issues which affect the well-being of Negroes, works to strengthen the bonds between the organized labor movement and the fight of Negroes for security and full citizenship.

Although the Southern Negro Youth Congress has achieved an excellent record in its fight for equality of job opportunity, suffrage rights, defense of civil liberties for the youth, particularly of the South, one of its most important contributions has been the welding together of a fighting alliance between Negro youth and the underprivileged white youth of the country.

The reason for SNYC's existence, chum, may be summed up thusly:

It seeks to unite the young generation in a militant crusade to realize in our time the goal of "Free Citizens in a Free South in a Free World."

That sounds fine, doesn't it, chum? Free citizens. A free South. A free world.

Well, we can have it. But it takes work, chum. Hard, back-breaking work. Sweat. Even a few tears mixed in. And then some more hard work.

But more than this, it means sacrifice.

Sacrifice such as the talented and courageous young men and women who lead SNYC have made. It means forsaking more remunerative private careers to devote their energies fully to the cause of the liberation of their generation from the penury of a Jim Crow existence. It means living and working in the very heart of the South.

Of this much, however, those young people can be certain. Their sacrifices . . . their hard work has not been in vain, for they have risen above all discouragements, setbacks and triumphs as the beloved young leaders of the new South. They have conquered the hearts of those who seek freedom for all mankind—and the hate and fear of those who would enslave the peoples of the world.

Added to this, chum, SNYC has brought to the Negro youth of the South a better understanding of world relationships in the fight for democracy, principally through its participation in the World Youth Conference which emphasized the global character of the fight for freedom and democracy.

So you see, chum, although the youth of this city are tied up in local activities, their thoughts still linger on the approaching youth legislature.

This meeting which is to dramatize the determination of the Southern Negro to come into his heritage of full citizenship rights NOW. To which more than 1,000 delegates are expected to assemble from all over the nation to give a militant answer to the KKK and white supremacy terrorists who have been perpetrating an unrestrained orgy of lynch assaults upon the lives and liberties of Southern Negroes for the past several months.

Thus, to the leaders of SNYC—particularly Esther Cooper, Louis Burnham and James Jackson—the young people of Los Angeles send greetings across the miles. And congratulations on calling a conference which is destined to exert a lasting influence upon the lives of all American citizens . . . and other enslaved, oppressed peoples throughout the world.

Your chum. YVONNE.

Carnival Capers Offers Day of Entertainment

Those persons who think Friday the 13th is an unlucky day are in for a big surprise when the 13th of September brings the "Area III Carnival Capers" to Central Playground.

The carnival committee deliberately intends to make it a lucky date for the hundreds of children—and grown-ups too—who plan to attend this gala show. Mr. Carl Gross, director of Central Playground and general chairman of the carnival, states that over 1600 prizes have been purchased and will wind up in the hands of those who patronize the various concessions.

One of the feature attractions is "The House of Mystery." There will be hot music by Mrs. Alma Hightower's Youth Band, two big shows to be staged in the playground gymnasium, free exhibits of arts and crafts, balloons, games, dancing and refreshments—all designed to produce a delightfully enjoyable "back to school" party.

Rep. Powell to Speak at Youth Confab Oct. 18

COLUMBIA, S. C.—The keynote address of the seventh annual conference of the Southern Negro Youth congress scheduled Oct. 18-20, will be delivered by Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. of New York, according to a recent announcement from Louis E. Burham SNYC organization secretary.

Congressman Powell will be introduced by John H. McCray, state chairman of the Progressive Democratic party of South Carolina, Burnham said.

WINS POST—John T. Fields, who was recently appointed training officer at Veterans Administration guidance center, Fisk U. A native of Helena, Arkansas, he attended Colgate university and Tennessee A. and I. State college, and is a veteran of World War II.

Intercollegiate Athletic Meet To Be Held Friday at Fisk U.

The Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference will meet at Fisk university tomorrow (Friday) September 6, it was announced this week by R. S. Darnaby, secretary of the conference. The university will also be host on Saturday, September 7, to the 23rd annual meeting of the Southern Coaches and Officials Association, a part of the S.I.A.C.

Comprising 15 colleges of Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina, Florida, and Louisiana, the conference will meet to discuss procedures and schedules for the major competitive intercollegiate sports during the forthcoming school year. Approximately 50 representatives of the various institutions are expected to attend.

Of particular interest this fall will be the return to intercollegiate football of LeMoyne College, Memphis, Tennessee; South Carolina State A. and M. College, Orangeburg; Ft. Valley State Teachers College, Ft. Valley, Georgia; and Fisk University.

Teenage Girl Turns Table on White Kidnaper

Margie Goldsmith, 13, grabbed the knife from a sadist who kidnaped her and drove her off in a black sedan, and managed to escape uninjured.

The young girl, who lives with her parents at 2303 Lincoln Park ave., told police that an unknown white man forced her into his car at the intersection of Fifth st. and Larchmont ave. while she was waiting for a street car.

She stated the man held a knife at her throat, and drove to Riverside dr. At that point the girl said she grabbed the knife and stabbed the man in the arm, escaping when he brought the automobile to a stop.

The girl described her assailant as 30 years old and about six feet tall.

SOCIABLE

Barbara Stanwyck, starring with Errol Flynn in "Cry Wolf" at Warner Bros., has been reporting for work a half hour ahead of schedule each morning for coffee with the stage crew.

Senior Scouts Plan Swim Meet

Senior Scouts of the Los Angeles Area Council will hold a Swim Meet at the Los Angeles high school plunge, Saturday, September 14 7:00 p. m.

Judges for the events will be furnished by the committee of the Southern Pacific A. A. U. with Fred Bietz in charge. Events of the meet are open to Sea Scouts, Air Scouts and Explorer Scouts and include relays, cross chest carry, medley relays, and diving.

Members of Scout Troops, Cub Packs, and their families have been invited by local district leaders to attend the Senior Scout meet. There is no admission charge for the affair.

Class Schedule Changes at Brooklyn College Is Opposed By Mayor O'Dwyer, Students

BROOKLYN, N. Y.—Mayor O'Dwyer has asked that the Board of Higher Education of New York reconsider a class schedule change due to go into effect this fall at Brooklyn college. Many of the undergraduate body have expressed the opinion that the proposed change will not be in the best interests of most of them.

A large majority of the Negroes attending the college are of the belief that the pending program would cut down the number of Negroes at the institution.

Student leaders assert the old program, which confined most elective courses to morning hours, allowed the student body to work part time while the new schedule will force many to leave school or give up their jobs.

According to the Mayor's letter, the change is not in accord with the spirit in which the municipal colleges have been set up. General policy maintains that these schools should offer students a complete college education and at the same time, allow them to work outside if their financial condition necessitated it. Colleges should do everything in their power to aid the students achieve these aims, he added.

The majority of classes will meet weekly from 7 to 10 and they all offer college credit. Registration begins Sept. 10 and classes will start Sept. 16.

Class Discussions On Race Relations Ruffles Tempers

NEW YORK—Each summer Columbia university's Foundations class, based on the teaching of democratic ideal, become the battleground of heated debates as northerns and southerners discuss face relations in the United States as a detriment to democracy.

Claiming that "northern intervention" is the reason many things are kept from the Negro, the southerners insist that 90% of the southern white population are "good" and want to see Negroes get a fair deal.

What the southerners failed to answer, however, was how the last Alabama outbreak occurred despite the absence of "northern influence."

COCKTAILS FOR YOU

Lionel (Pops) Hampton certainly did enjoy a swell homecoming this trip. Met at the station and paraded through the streets, he has received one honor after another since being here. One was the Homecoming ball given in his honor during which time he was presented with a beautiful trophy for his contribution to swing. Pops really has something on the ball and we're all for him out here in sunny California. One of his most constant attendants was radio announcer Joe Adams, who safely conducted the maestro through most of the ordeals, such as cocktail parties, the parade, the ball, etc. If you don't think a celebrity needs protection when in the public eye just try being one for a day . . . Speaking of the current crooners, Joe Adams is threatening daily to end the reign of Frank Sinatra and Bing Crosby by unleashing his platinum-trimmed voice on the unsuspecting public. When and if he does we'll try to scoop the other weeklies so that you can beat the rest of the mob to the record stores to purchase his first disc . . . Flo Hawkins, wife of bandleader Erskine Hawkins, is a recent addition to the stage world and is currently appearing as a principal in the summer stock version of the Broadway hit "Deep Are the Roots."

THE GOSSIP MART

ALVAH MOORE has recently returned after an extended trip to the east. She will attend school this fall. . . . The California EAGLE's promotional tea at the home of Sid Dones on So. Hobart Sunday muchly talked about. A very representative crowd is expected . . . JUNE and GENE HILYARD celebrated their fifth wedding anniversary Labor Day and had plenty fun. They are one of the nicest couples I know . . . MARCELLINE BRAXTON, one of So. Berendo's finest people . . . YVONNE SHEPHERD back in town after a pleasant vacation in New York City. Her mother, who resides in New York, came here with her to purchase a home for the Shepherd tribe. She and Mr Shepherd will then move to L. A. . . . LUCY McLAIN has moved from Santa Monica to the eastside of L. A. . . . The HEWLETT brothers, Martin and Rene, now building an addition to their home on West 37th Place. The reason? Wives of both are awaiting new arrivals from the stork . . . EUGENE GASH scheduled to make another appearance here for the benefit of the Community Chest. He's the great concert pianist that scored heavily here at Independent church recently. . . . Lovely just to look at . . . JANE CRINER, who pops into the EAGLE office every once in awhile (but not enough) to buzz society ed, Jessie Mae Brown . . . Everybody slowly getting back into shape after a hectic 3-day holiday.

SHORT THEATRICALS

ELLA FITZERALD scored a stunning success at the Earle theatre in Philly singing "Stone Cold Dead In The Market" . . . Did you know that MACEO SHEFFIELD whom you see calmly shooting pictures around town as a press photog used to chase burglars as a policeman, used to fly a plane and shoot commercial pictures from the air also played big parts in all-Negro pictures? Well, he 'did . . . TINY BRADSHAW was married to Blanche Simon in Philly on August 24. The pair flew to Atlantic City for a three-day honeymoon following the ceremony . . . LUCKY MILLINDER is slated to make a short subject film titled, "Intolerance is an Octopus," which will be distributed from Hollywood. The picture will deal with intolerance and is being made to create better feeling among the many races of the world . . . WILLIE BRYANT emceed the opening of Joe Louis' New York restaurant and club Wednesday night. Many notables attended the opening . . . DEEK WATSON and his Brown Dots were well applauded during their opening at the exclusive Surf Club in Wildwood, N. J.

LATE FLASHES

Columbia Records has released four sides by the Charioteers, namely "Ole Buttermilk Sky," "On The Wrong Side Of You," "On The Boardwalk in Atlantic City" and "You Make Me Feel So Young." . . . COUNT BASIE celebrated his fortieth birthday and his tenth anniversary as a bandleader recently . . . CAB CALLOWAY and Frank Sinatra are planning to establish a radio scholarship in N. Y. colleges for undergraduate hopefuls . . . NAT (KING) COLE and confederates wowed a big dance crowd at Convention hall in Atlantic City last Saturday night and in the same town, BILLY DANIELS, "The Voice of 52nd Street," drew press raves for his fine showing at the Paradise club . . . PAUL ROBESON has just been signed by Keystone Records . . . LIONEL HAMPTON and ART TATUM due spots in the Dorsey Brothers' film . . . DOROTHY DANDRIDGE, stage and screen star, was the sweet and personable honoree at a press party given in her honor at the Memo club Monday night by Sepia Hollywood magazine through MRS. LILLIAN CUMBER, its publisher. Press representatives turned out enmasse.

La Fitzgerald Rocks Philly With New Song

PHILADELPHIA—Philadelphia is being rocked by the Calypsonian tempos of "Stone Cold Dead in the Market" as sung by the Queen of Swing, Ella Fitzgerald, from the stage of the Earle Theatre. Ella headlines the new all-colored show which is currently playing to capacity audiences at the famous downtown vaudeville house.

Cootie Williams Blows Out Bias

MYRTLE BEACH, S. C.—The growl trumpet of Cootie Williams blew over another tradition last week when he opened a limited engagement at the Ocean Forest Hotel, Myrtle Beach, S. C., with his famous band, when he and his band members were accorded every privilege.

Donna Reed, starred in Frank Capra's Liberty Film, "It's a Wonderful Life," collects records and early books on the theater for a hobby.

Roy Milton Off On Long Tour

With flashlight bulbs popping and pandemonium reigning in general, hundreds of dyed-in-the-wool swing addicts, including numerous celebrities, jammed Central avenue's Elks Hall last Thursday night to bid farewell to one of Los Angele's most popular young maestros — ace drummer man Roy Milton.

Milton and his sensational six-piece orchestra — the unit that has zoomed to the top on wings of the juke box favorite, "Red Light,"—left Friday for an extended tour of the South and Midwest, a tour that will end up two months hence at the Apollo theatre in New York.

Dorothy Dandridge Is Feted at Press Party

honor of beautiful and vivacious Dorothy Dandridge, stage and screen star.

After a delicious dinner, punctuated by lots of sparkling burgundy wine, Mrs. Cumber introduced Miss Dandridge to the gathering and she made a pretty little speech to members of the fourth estate, receiving an enthusiastic round of applause.

Miss Dandridge was last featured in the Warner Bros. picture, "Pillow To Post" which starred Ida Lupino. She expects to leave for New York City in about six weeks where she will fill several night club committments.

Attending the party were: Mrs. Gertrude Gipson and Eddie Burbridge of the California EAGLE, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hill, Miss Lillian Lomax, Lawrence LaMar, Edward Robinson, Leon Hardwick, Jimmie Smith. Miss Melba Foppe, Harry LeVette, Francis Waller, Jr., Bettye Martina, well-known dancer; Sidney Hazeur, Hyman Getzoff, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Jenkins, Charles Russell, Theodora Dorsey, Hugh F. Warner and others.

Flashlights popped all over the Memo as photogs took the golden opportunity to shoot the lovely Miss Dandridge from all angles with different press representatives.

THE DISC
By Joseph L. Wooton

Within the army's overseas pattern, men with a bend of musical genius contributed heavily to the further appreciation of serious music.

Names like Lawrence Winsonant, Negro baritone, now "Larry Winters," to a host of theatre goers who have seen Broadway's current former G.I. musical, "Call Me Mister."

Mare Blitzstein, brilliant composer whose famed All-Negro chorus of over 100 G.I's gave a brilliant Easter Morning recital in the Westminister Abbey in 1944. Later, Blitzstein's "Air Bourne" symphony written while in the Army had its premier at New York's City Center.

Schumann: Der Nussbaum (The Nut Tree); Stille Tranen (Hidden Tears); Marian Anderson, Contralto with Franz Rupp at the piano.

Marian Anderson is as usual the gracious full-toned contralto in her Victor recording of De Nussbaum. In Stille Tranen, a barely noticeable lack of directness forms the basis of comparison between the two sides. Perhaps Miss Anderson was sensitive, at the time of the recording with the knowledge this melancholy song reminds that Schuman eventually went mad.

12-inch Record ..... Victor
Go Down Moses, Balm in Gilead. By An' By, Sometime I Feel Like a Motherless Child, John Henry, Water Boy, Nobody Knows de Trouble I've Seen, and Joshia Fit the Battle of Jericho, by Paul Robeson, bass-baritone, with piano and vocal accompaniment by Lawrence Brown. —Columbia

This delightful group of spirituals does not come off as well as might be expected from an album of such obvious importance.

In this reviewer's opinion, recording engineers had a lot of difficulty coping with the range and timbre of the Robeson, bass-baritone voice. They achieved actually, a harsh or hard quality that does not do justice to one of the world's greatest concert artists. To these deficiencies, add Lawrence Brown's teaming up with Robeson to make some sides a duet. This is ill-advised and results in a distraction from the feature of the album.

In spite of these production deficiencies, a Robeson recording is a rare and precious element to be preserved until the end of time. Therefore a collector's item.

Robert Stack, Liberty Films' player, holds the world's record long run skeet championship for 364 straight hits, set in 1937.

Hamp-Tone Spins Eight New Sides

NEW YORK—Hamp-Tone Records, through Mrs. Gladys Hampton, wife of bandleader Llonel Hampton, announced the waxing of several new discs under the Hamp-Tone label.

They are "Burma Road Blues," written by "Pops" Hampton himself and recorded on two sides by Roy Milton's Sextet with Roy on the vocals; "Star Time" and "Four Squares Only" by the Gladys Hampton Quartet featuring Herbie Fields; "Evening Breeze" and "Your Guess Is as Good as Mine," two sides vocalized by Herb Jeffries and "Gate Serene Blues" and "Jenny," the first waxed by Herbie Fields and the latter by Arnett Cobbs, both backed by the Hamp-Tone All Stars.

Virginia Patten, Liberty Film's starlet featured in Frank Capra's "It's a Wonderful Life," has invented a plastic table for use in swimming pools.

AVA GARDNER brings a vivid new glamor thrill to the screen in Mark Hellinger's Universal production, "The Killers," Ernest Hemingway story, in which she gives one of the season's outstanding performances opposite Hollywood's sensational movie newcomer, Burt Lancaster.

GIPSONETTE

Oh, yes, it's over now and you are gone,
And well I know you'll not be back again.
And it's not strange that I can carry on,
Because you see there isn't any pain.
Instead, there's just a vacant, lonely space—
Where once, I still recall, I felt your throb.
And so I'll let the hands of time erase,
The ever bitter mem'ry of my sob.
The sob I had to voice to feel you go,
To feel the awful tugging and the ache —
The endless seconds' pain, so tensely slow.
And then the end, the ever-silent break—
And know I know for once the awful truth,
I'll never more be bothered by that tooth!

JUST DATA, BUT WHAT'S THE MATTA WITH DATA: Understand that maestro Lucky Millinder is dickering with the idea of opening a new night-club with only big-time bands headlining the show (Joe Louis is for the idea 100%. . . . Next time you see Junius Hanazaba, ask him to say "sugar for you. . . . Jeanie Herndon the west-side cutie says "that compliments are like perfume to be inhaled, not swallowed." . . . Enjoyed Duke Ellington's show at the Lincoln last week but we have seen his shows much better; very little effort seemingly was exhibited by the band crew . . . with the exception of Oscar Pettiford who "always works." Believe me, he plays a whole lotta bass fiddle. . . . That "gorjus beauty" who flew in from Frisco upsetting everybody, (ask Chuck Anderson) was our pretty cousin, Velma Miles. . . . Aha! Governor Earl Warren dropped in at one of our services at church Sunday at Zion Hill with his attractive wife, and was served communion by a visiting Negro minister from TEXAS. Wouldn't Bilbo and Rankin or Governor Talmadge from Georgia like that? . . . Due to some new fire ordinance Taylor Cooper will not open his Finale Club as scheduled but watch this column for opening date. . . . Caught a glimpse of Phil Carter in town whom we left doing great in the Big Apple. . . . Madeline Green, pretty vocalist with Lionel Hampton, when watching the act of Nadajan, at the Alabam, remarked, "I've seen a lotta acts in show business but never one like Nadajan." . . . When the Club De Liso opens on Sept. 13 your handsome host will be Randolph (Rocky) Taylor. . . . The press dinner Lil Green Cumber had for pert and pretty Dorothy Dandridge at the Memo Monday night was awful great! . . . Atty. Adams and wife, by the time this is published, should be well on their way back to the Windy City. . . . Cute Lena Logan says, "I don't know why I have a champagne taste with a beer income." . . . The Black Flamingo is to re-open with a new name, new ownership and new management, the club is to be a strict membership club with only "professional men" heading the list. . . . C. T. Webb told us that the reason woman's mind is cleaner than a man's is, cause she changes it oftener. . . . The reason you see shapely Hera Evans so happy these days is because handsome hubby Al Evans, Jr., is on the way home from abroad. . . . Podden me for pointing but wasn't that Harold Sinclair (of Leroy and Sinclair) we saw doin' the spots on our side of town the other ayem? . . . SUDDEN THOUGHT: When my life is through, and the angels ask me to recall the "thrill" of them all, I'll recall that heartwarming smile of Randy's. . . . See Wynonnie "Mr. Blues" Harris back in the city after a successful tour east. . . . PRIVATE NOTES FROM A NEWSGIRL'S FILE

The Eagle staff will be lookin' for you at its Twilight promotional tea, in order that you might meet "The Eagle Staff" at 2045 South Hobart from 5 until 8 p.m. Sunday. . . . Wanna make "Chuck Anderson" real angry? Call him Charles (Ain't I devilish today?) . . . The cute red-head sis of Harriett Wadely has joined her here on the coast. . . . J. D. Crawford informs us on Christmas day he will "tie the knot." Gee, whiz! fella; we don't know whether to extend our congrats or our regrets. . . . Don't know what you think about it but the attitude of some of the avenue waitresses so turns my stomach. . . . IN FEWER WORDS: Early to bed—early to rise—and your gal goes out with the other guys. . . . Heard that Steve Lockett was causing "Ah's and Oh's from all the femme passerby's on the stem. . . . Bettie Scott says that the "modern girl adores spinning wheels but wants four of them and a spare." . . . William Dyer, Jr., we understand, has quite a bit to do with the Club Zanzibar . . . he has also gone in for promoting. . . . The Three Rockets are rating raves aplenty from all reports from the east where they are touring with the band of Erskine Hawkins. . . . Don Walker is often called the Post-Office playboy. . . . whatta they mean, Don? . . . When Nat Cole spent his four days vacationing from the Big Apple and the Kraft show, most of his time was spent with Nadine (that's his wife), in their hew be-yoo-ti-ful home. . . . Eddie Burbridge (Eagle Staff) says "A woman looks on a secret in two ways, either it is not worth keeping, or it is too good to be kept." . . . Well, as the saying goes, "The pencil broke and that's all she wrote."

Fair in San Fernando Opens Saturday Morn

SPECIAL TO THE CALIFORNIA EAGLE

All roads in San Fernando Valley will lead to the 5-H Ranch at 8358 San Fernando Road in Roscoe over the week-end, for on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, with fanfare and trumpets, the first horse show will open the San Fernando Valley County Fair, which will continue through Monday evening.

Following the pattern of country fairs, beloved of this nation, the San Fernando Valley Country Fair will have an added attraction in the famous cowboy and movie stars and in the Army Air Force weapons of victory.

Farm families in the valley will take part in the Fair with entries of prize farm animals, handicraft, vegetables, fruits, preserves, bread, farm machinery and farm implements.

Of course a mid-way, with merry-go-round, ferris wheel, hot dogs, dart games, shooting gallery and all manner of fun will be opened with the Fair on Saturday morning and closed with it Monday night.

Diz Gillespie Accorded Honor

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Dizzy Gillespie, the trumpet playing maestro, has just received an unparalleled honor in the annals of jazz history from the Smithsonian Institute.

C. G. Abbot, secretary of the famed institute, has requested Dizzy Gillespie and his orchestra to make a special record demonstrating the "Be Bop" style. This recording will be preserved in the musical archives of the Smithsonian Institute.

Claudia McNeil Held at Small's

NEW YORK—The new Harlem phrase "Good Deal, McNeil" seems to fit in songstress Claudia McNeil's case. When she opened at Small's Paradise in Harlem early in August her contract was made for only one week. Later boss Ed Smalls extended it for three more weeks. Now Claudia has been asked to stay on indefinitely at this famous Harlem rendezvous.

T-Bone Walker in Brilliant New Revue on Lincoln Stage

An all-star stage show, headed by the inimitable T-Bone Walker, favorite singer and long one of the country's leading exponents of the blues type of vocalizing, is headlining the current attraction now being held at the Lincoln Theatre.

Co-starring with Walker is Hadda Brooks, sensational boogie woogie pianist, whose riffing is proving a show-stopper.

Others who are drawing plenty of raves are the versatile Trenier Twins, singers; and Floyd Ray and his ever-popular orchestra.

Two first-run films are featured on the screen — "Smoky," starring Fred MacMurray, and "The Stranger," starring Orson Welles and Edward G. Robinson.

Prices have been reduced, it was announced this week. From 1-6 p.m., admission is 40 cents; 85 cents thereafter.

Amateur Nights also have returned to the Lincoln with the first having been staged Wednesday night. Each week hereafter, Wednesday nights will be known as Amateur Nights.

Billy Eckstine and his orchestra will come to the Lincoln stage for an engagement beginning Sept. 17, to be followed by Dinah Washington and an all-star revue on Oct. 1. Beginning Oct. 15, Count Basie and his ork will take over for a week.

Veteran Groups Back Greyhound Proposition

SACRAMENTO — Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan revealed today that the official argument in favor of Proposition 2 on the November ballot—state-supervised greyhound racing—bears the signatures of Charles P. Ash, commander of the California Department, Veterans of Foreign Wars; Lloyd E. Oleson, commander of the California Department, Disabled American Veterans, and Dr. John L. Murphy, past commander of Zane Irwin Post 93 of the American Legion.

Proposition 2 sets up a veterans fund in the State Department of Veterans Affairs into which 4 per cent of track wagers would be paid to finance veterans' welfare and rehabilitation services. County and district agricultural associations also would benefit.

The official statement, signed by the three veteran leaders, declares that greyhound racing in the state would make available at least $2,000,000 annually for veterans' welfare and rehabilitation services, obviating the need for state tax support, which now inadequately finances these services.

With "It's a Wonderful Life," James Stewart becomes the first actor to star in three Frank Capra productions.

Joe Louis Club Opens in N. Y.

NEW YORK — Champion Joe Louis had bandleader Willie Bryant acting as emcee at the opening of his new restaurant and club on West 125th st. last night (Wednesday). The champ asked Willie to M.C. the opening proceedings, commenting "What kind of opening would it be without the 'Clown Prince of Swing' kibitzing with the guests?" Many of the notables of show business attended the opening of the club.

Primo Carnera, former world's heavy champ, has been granted a license to wrestle by the State Athletic Commission.

Cootie and Hawkins Jam At Carnegie

NEW YORK—The two kings of the trumpet, Cootie Williams and Erskine Hawkins got together on the stage of Carnegie Hall recently for a jam session that will never be forgotten in the annals of jazz. The maestros met on the stage of this hall of music to pay tribute to the amateur swingsters of the nation unearthed by the Look Magazine amateur jazz band contest. This contest was conducted by Look Magazine in an effort to find the outstanding instrumentalists among the young swingsters of America and give them the chance to crack into the tough field of professional music.

At the close of the ceremonies Mrs. Florence Hawkins, wife of Erskine Hawkins, and Mrs. Catherine Williams, wife of Cootie Williams, presented a beautiful gold statuette to the officials of Look Magazine to present in the names of Cootie Williams and Erskine Hawkins to the two outstanding trumpeters unearthed by this contest.

ALL FOR DUNNE

Because white happens to be a very distracting color to Irene Dunne, all workmen on "Life With Father" at Warner Bros., are wearing blue shirts! A flubbed line in this Technicolor comedy-classic would cost plenty.

WASHINGTON, STRODE PLAY FRIDAY

LAYIN' IT ON THE LINE

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

A FEW FLIPOVERS

The eyes of the Negro population will be on Kenny Washington and Woody Strode when these two gentlemen take the field with the Los Angeles Rams pro football team Friday night against the Washington Redskins. This is a charity game insofar as receipts are concerned but the Rams and Redskins will be out for blood; we mean each other's blood. It was these same two teams that tied up for the National football championship last season with the Rams emerging the victors by a 15-14 score. This season's pro football prospects are exceedingly bright and the college teams will have to step on it to beat the pros in drawing power. It was a fine gesture when the Rams signed Washington and Strode and we're all for them but both will have to play a stellar brand of football to see action with this high-powered team. Fans are fickle beings and that's why we say they'll be watching Kenny and Woody with all eyes in Friday's game as a sort of guide for the coming regular pro season. We hope both stand out and we have enough confidence in them to believe that they will.

SAYS GEORGE LYLE, JR., FOR NNPA

"Speaking of interracial sports teams, there has been formed recently a basketball league which will operate in a number of cities on the Eastern Seaboard.

Eddie Gottlief, who will coach the Philadelphia team, will be overlooking a good bet if he fails to sign Zack Clayton, a local boy who made good with such teams as the Rens and Tatie Cooper's Bears and was reputedly the highest paid colored player in pro basketball last season ($700 a month). He played with Abe Saperstein's Globetrotters last season.

Zack is now a Philadelphia fireman and should be available for duty with the new combination.

Other cities in the loop could bargain for the services of stellar performers like Dolly King, former Long Island University captain; Pop Gates of the Rens and the peerless "Puggy" Bell, a trio of players who would be an asset to any quintet.

NEW TENNIS STAR

Reports have reached this desk that George Stewart, Panamanian racket swinger is one of the hottest to be seen in many years. He had little trouble in winning the New York Open match several weeks ago and went to the semi-finals of the Nationals at Wilberforce where he bowed to Lloyd Scott, defending champion.

Thus Stewart, a newcomer on the tennis scene, joins those others of his compatriots who have carved a niche in the world of sports. They include the baseball sensations Frank "Junior" Austin, 1944 batting champion of the Negro National League, currently with the Philly Stars and Pat Scantlebury of the New York Cubans.

NEWARK EAGLES CLICKING

Speaking of baseball, it seems that the Newark Eagles, under the guidance of Raleigh "Blis" Mackay, have at last come through with a pennant for their owners Abe and Effa Manley.

Sparked by veterans Lenny Pearson, Monty Irvin, Johnny Davis, Bob Harvey, "Lasses" Ruffin and Pat Patterson, the rookies on the club have rounded into a well-balanced, hard-playing organization.

The return of hurlers Leon Day and Max Manning from the armed forces have made the Eagles invincible, and their convincing 12-4 win recently over the seven-time winners, the Grays, left no doubt in the minds of the beholders that the Eagles had arrived.

A lot of credit must be given Mackey for the way he has brought them along, but credit also should be given to the playing of the rookies, Larry Doby and Jimmy Wilkes who have done a heap of ball-playing.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL

The collegiate football picture is a little cloudy at this writing but with the return of many men from the armed forces the loop teams should put on some thrillers for the fans this season. — Thanks, George, old chap.

Fabela Chavez Vs. Trigo Tues.

Fabela Chavez, fine looking fight prospect, will battle Mario Trigo in the 10-round main event at the Olympic Tuesday night, Sept. 9, it was announced Wednesday.

Chavez has been a sensation in all bouts here and Trigo is fast coming up, having advanced from the prelim ranks to this important main event clash.

John Thomas has Swept West Coast; Facing Lack of Suitable Opponents

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

Just as it is with every fighter that is so good that he is in a class by himself, John Thomas, leading challenger for the world's lightweight crown, is fast running out of opponents on the West Coast and it is becoming extremely hard to induce easterners to come here and try their luck against the boxing wizard.

There is only one fair opponent left in Southern California and that is Enrique Bolanos, the former Mexico City bell-hop. The Mexican youth has established himself on the coast as a great drawing card and a match between him and Thomas would pack any arena, in or outdoors. George Parnassus, wily Greek, manager of Bolanos, has been holding out on the weight problem. Bert Lewis, mentor for Thomas, says his boy will make 137 for the Mexican fighter and nothing less. Parnassus probably wants John to make 135. However, it isn't a championship fight and we see no reason why this difficulty cannot be ironed out.

Bob Montgomery has been considered as an opponent for Thomas here but we understand that he has turned down an offer. The "Bobcat" holds the New York state version of the world's lightweight title. Recently Wesley Mouzon, a 19-year old upstart from Philadelphia, knocked Bob kicking in a non-title brawl. For that reason he should be glad to get out of the east until the disgrace wears off.

Ike Williams, the NBA lightweight champion, is giving a good imitation of an ostrich in hiding from Thomas. He has been signed to meet John but evidently is holding out for more money. In view of the fast that he was offered $30,000 to get in the ring with the West Coast ace we can't see any other reason for his holding out except the almost obvious certainty that he will drop the crown.

While all these behind the scenes operations go on matches that can be made are being worked on but as aforesaid Thomas has beaten everybody in his weight on the West Coast and it is becoming very hard to makes matches for him. Last week his class was clearly demonstrated when he won every round of a 10-round bout to defeat the hardhitting Frankie Moore of Oakland, a boy who had knocked out Chalky Wright and John's stablemate, Bobby Yeager. Against Thomas he looked like a rank amateur. There you have the picture.

NEW YORK—Elmer (Violent) Ray stepped into the heavyweight picture with a bang last Wednesday night by knocking out Lee Savold in 1:39 of the second round before 15,000 fans at Ebbets field in Brooklyn.

Ray slapped Savold to the canvas for a six count in the second and when he arose staggered him with a series of hooks to the head. He then blasted a terrific right uppercut to the chin and Savold was through for the evening. He hit the deck on his face, his mouthpiece falling into the resin, and took the full count.

The victor also took the first round by a large margin, rocking Savold with hard hooks to the head and staggering him with straight lefts to the chin.

Bobby Yeager Seeks Revenge

Seeking revenge for a recent knockout suffered at the hands of Frankie Moore in Oakland, Bobby Yeager, stablemate of John Thomas, will meet Moore again in a 10-round main event bout at Hollywood Legion Stadium Friday night, Sept. 20.

Writers to Probe Opposition To Jackson as Ref of Bout

It was announced in this newspaper some time ago that Dynamite Jackson, only licensed Negro boxing referee in the state of California, would be appointed as referee for the coming bout between John Thomas and California Jackie Wilson for the benefit of West View hospital on September 28 at the Olympic.

Last weekend it was revealed that pressure is being brought to bear to get some other referee besides Jackson, with some of the older referees protesting.

Local sports writers are arranging a meeting with the State Athletic commission in an effort to assure Jackson of refereeing the fight. Thus far he has not been assigned to either the Olympic or Hollywood arenas and it is felt that a worthwhile assignment is overdue.

BOXING BRIEFS

DESPITE RUMORS to the contrary Billy Conn has announced that he will fight again. Some guys never know when they've gotten enough.

THE CITY of Oakland, finding it hard to believe that JOHN THOMAS easily beat their pride, Frankie Moore, is negotiating for a return match in that town between the two boys. John did it here, he'll do it there.

JERSEY JOE WALCOTT was set back many months in his quest for a title bout with Joe Louis due to his defeat by Joey Maxim.

SAN DIEGO—Gene Felton, 187, Long Beach, defeated Kid Hermosillo, 177, Sonora, Mex., by a technical kayo in the ninth round of a scheduled 10-rounder here last Friday night.

JIMMY COLEMAN, 158, scored a 4-round t.ko. over Max Hutchins, 159, in the scheduled 10-round main event at Ocean Park arena Monday night. Pee Wee Swingler, 125½, nodded Ramon Alva, 129½, in the semi-windup.

NEW YORK—The N. Y. boxing commission Tuesday took the world's welterweight crown away from Marty Servo for refusing to go through with a scheduled title defense against Ray (Sugar) Robinson at Yankee Stadium Friday night. A tournament will be started this fall to determine a successor.

Joe Louis confirmed the report that he is co-chairman of the Isaac Woodard Benefit Rally committee.

RACE DRIVER—Rajo Jack, ace Negro midget auto race pilot, will attempt to qualify during the time trials at 6:30 at the Coliseum Saturday. If he is successful he will then be eligible for the heat and final races. The regular racing events begin at 8:30 p. m.

Jack in Coliseum Midget Races Sat.

Rajo Jack, whose sensational speedway exploits are known the nation over, makes his second appearance in a midget auto when he races Saturday night at the Los Angeles Coliseum, it was learned Wednesday.

Saturday night, the Negro ace opposes such noted midget auto drivers as Duke (Rocket) Nalon, Ed Haddad, Johnny McDowell, Danny Oakes, Harry McQuinn, Joe Garson, Sam Hanks, Henry Banks, Bob Pankratz, Perry Grimm and others.

Time trials start 6:30 p. m., with regular racing events beginning at 8:30 p. m. General admission is $1.25.

Major Jones to Fight Here Fri.

Major Jones, who created quite a stir in local boxing circles a couple of years ago, until it was discovered that he was only 16 years of age, is back again and will battle Don Lee of Nebraska in the 10-round main event at Hollywood Legion stadium Friday night. Jones has won 23 out of 24 pro fights and was the national A.A.U. champ of 1944.

Watkins Gets Freak Decision

Kenny Watkins, 161, received a freak 10-round decision over Jack Chase, 164, in the 10-round main event at Hollywood Legion Stadium last Friday night because Judge Mushy Callahan failed to add his card correctly. Chase was rightly ahead on points. As far as we know at press time the decision has not yet been reversed.

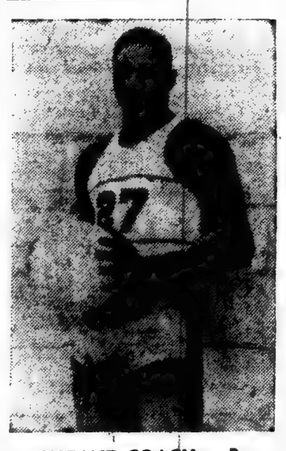
Lincoln Gridders To Report Sept. 9

LINCOLN UNIVERSITY, Pa.—Candidates for the Lincoln university football team will report to coach Manny Rivero for annual pre-season training starting Sept. 9. Seventy aspirants, including eight lettermen from last year, have been asked to be on hand. Included in the group will be about 30 freshmen and 12 pre-war lettermen.



..ASSISTANT COACH—Perry Honey, past Lincoln cage and grid star, has returned from the Navy to assist Lincoln's coaching staff and physical education faculty.

Walcott Has Title Hopes Rudely Upset

CAMDEN, N. J.—Jersey Joe Walcott, Merchantville, N. J., heavyweight, had his championship hopes rudely set back last Wednesday night when Joey Maxim, Cleveland Italian, won a 10-round decision before 15,000 fans at Camden ball park.

Walcott injured both hands in the second round, fracturing the right hand and dislocating a knuckle in the left. The score of rounds was five for Maxim, three for Walcott and two even.

KWKW Will Air Nat. Net Meet

KWKW of Pasadena will broadcast the National Tennis championships from Forest Hills, L. I., Sept. 7 and 8, for two hours each day from 11 a. m. until 1 p. m.

Johnny Haynes Kayoes Payne

Johnny Haynes, 223, leading West Coast contender for the world's heavyweight crown, knocked out Cullen (Rusty) Payne, 182, of San Diego, in the third round of the scheduled 12-round elimination bout for the state heavyweight title, before a comparatively small crowd at the Olympic, Tuesday night.

After 2m. 10s. of fighting in the third stanza Haynes caught Payne with a lusty left hook to the head to terminate the bout.

James J. Washington, 165, survived a first round knockdown to pound out a decision over Gunnar Mitchell, 164½, in the six-round semi-windup.

Preliminary results: John Gardes, 165, t.k.o. (3) over Marshall Nance, 163; Jack Glover, 205, k.o. (4) over Austin O'Jibway, 212; Billy King, 157, decisioned Jay Wall, 155½, and Eddie Warren, 128, decisioned Al Salazar, 126½.

INKED BY BULLDOGS—Clem Hooks, stellar end, has been signed for play this season with the Los Angeles Bulldogs pro grid team, coach Bill Sargent revealed last Thursday. The Bulldogs open Sept. 20 in Honolulu.

Clark to Play Wiley College In Homecoming

MARSHALL, Texas—Clark University of Atlanta, Georgia, will be the Wildcats' opponents in the annual Wiley College Homecoming that will be staged here on Saturday, December 7. Contracts covering a two-year home and home agreement are to be signed within the next few days according to an announcement made by Coach Fred Long of the Wildcats.

Clark is one of the consistently strong elevens of the SIAC and Coach Long certainly picked out a treat for the Wiley fans when he selected the Atlanta school for the Wiley Homecoming. The December fray will mark the first visit of any Clark gridiron aggregation into this section of the country and a large crowd is certain to be on hand to welcome Coach McPherson's great team at Wiley Field.

Midget Autos In 50-Lap Race

Fifty laps will be the main event distance Thursday night, Sept. 5, when the flying thunderbugs move into the fifth month of the 1946 night speedway season at Gilmore Stadium.

The extra distance race has been sanctioned by the United Racing Association.

Hold Your Bonds

Rams Are Set for Redskins

The big game which has been on the fire for months will come hot off the griddle Friday night at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum when the two top pro football teams of the nation, the Los Angeles Rams (national champs of 1945) and the Washington Redskins (runner-ups), tangle in the L.A. Times charity game before an estimated crowd of over 100,000 fans.

Of interest to Negro fans will be the appearance of Kenny Washington and Woody Strode, both former UCLA stars, in Ram uniforms. Kenny may start at the quarterback position while Strode will probably see plenty of action at end.

When Kenny played for UCLA he scaled 190 pounds. He now weighs around 205 and expects to tip the beam at an even 200 when he takes the field for the pro season.

The charities that benefit from this game are all worthwhile and fans are urged to attend the game and in this way help to put the program over with a bang. This game will be a replay of the 1945 world championship between the same two teams which the Rams won, 15-14.

Buddy Young Is Grid Game Star

CAMPAIGN, Ill.—Claude (Buddy) Young, Illinois' grid star, scored twice last Saturday as the Illini varsity defeated the B team, 41-6, in a 60-minute scrimmage.

Paul Patterson U.C.L.A. Gridman

Paul Patterson, former running mate of Buddy Young at Illinois University, has enrolled at U.C.L.A. and has started practice with the varsity football team.

Patterson is rated almost as fast as Young and is expected to add much to the Bruins grid team this season.

"You're as young as you feel" says Charles Winninger, who is now completing his 56th year in show business at M-G-M.

THE REALM OF RELIGION

Funeral Service for Reverend A. J. Twyne

Final service for Rev. Arthur J. Twyne, pastor of the stitute of Religious Science, 4814 South Avalon, was ld in the Ivory chapel of People's Funeral Home last hursday morning with Dr. Frederick W. Bayles of the stitute of Religious Science officiating.

Mrs. Cora Ball Moten, a life- g friend of the deceased, read e obituary. Solos were rendered the Revs. George R. Garner d A. A. Peters, and Roberta on. Cremation was in Rose- le Cemetery.

Rev. Mr. Twyne died suddenly a heart attack Sunday eve- g, August 25, while he was iting for a bus at Washington d Western. He had just left the dding reception for Mr. and s. Julius C. Brown (Mrs. Mo- 's daughter) at the Villa Ar- gton.

The minister, a native St. Lou- n, had lived in Los Angeles 17 years, having come here m Chicago where he was well- own for his work in churches ich stressed community serv- . He was 59 years of age.

ANTI-BILBO CAMPAIGN

At the time of his death he had gun work on a campaign for unseating of Senator Bilbo ough organizing groups oughout the country to press enforcement of the United tes Code which includes a law inst offending the elective nchise and civil rights.

Already two church groups, e in Glendale and one in Los geles, have drafted resolutions and letters to push the movement. John Dehner, news commentator, provided Rev. Mr. Twyne with the full text of the law so that persons interested could intelligently demand of their congressional and senatorial representatives the removal of Bilbo on grounds of his admitted Klan membership.

A deputy from the coroner's office informed his family of his death at approximately 10 p.m. in their home at 1932 S. Hobart boulevard. Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Janie Dixon Twyne whom he married in Kansas City, Mo., 38 years ago; his daughter, Mrs. Lavinia Hylton; son-in-law, Wallace Hylton; a grandson, Arthur Hylton; two brothers, Thos. and Harry. His son, J. Arthur Twyne II, a talented musician well-known in entertainment and motion picture circles, preceded the minister in death by approximately two years.

MINISTERS' WIVES CLOSE SEASON WITH FETE

The Interdenominal Ministers Wives Council of Los Angeles closed a very successful season of religious, social, and charitable activities last Wednesday. They met at the spacious home of the president, Eujetta A. Ross, on Micholtorena st. A bevy of smartly-dressed ladies enjoyed a sumptious repast served by the co-hostesses, and participated in an afternoon of educational and recreational activities.

Among the many outstanding events of the season was a breakfast at Clifton's to members and friends of the council on August 14.

After a rest period embracing the month of September, the council looks forward to reopening in October when their annual open house and interracial fellowship will be held. The theme for this event will be: Spiritual Resources for World Reconstruction.

Church Leaders Urged to Help Labor, Migrants

PETERSBURG, Va. — Church leaders can play an important role in the community in promoting better labor-management relations, Miss Opal Gooden of the United States Department of Labor's division of labor standards told a group of ministers attending the third annual conference of Virginia Negro Colleges on Rural Life at Virginia State college here.

"One o fthe most important problems demanding the attention of religious leaders is that of improving the working and living conditions of migratory workers who harvest the crops," the Labor Department spokesman said. "From 700,000 to 1,500,000 workers each year follow the crops from south to north. Without their work we would lose most of our annual harvest of fruits and vegetables. These workers should receive fair wages, sanitary and health facilities, proper schools and churches. Most of all they should not be treated as outcasts by the communities in which they temporarily live."

The Conference of Negro Rural Colleges on Rural Life was organized in 1943 and one of its chief activities is the summer school for ministers. Dr. Harry W. Roberts of Virginia State college is director. Virginia institutions cooperating with the conference besides the state college include Bishop Payne Divinity school, Hampton institute, St. Paul's Polytechnic institute, Virginia Theological seminary and college, and Virginia Union university.

Sister Rosetta Tharpe, Mme. M. Knight Due Here

Sister Rosetta Tharpe Allen (better known as Sister Rosetta Tharpe) has been playing to a capacity audience for the past two weeks in various cities throughout the West.

Her current new singing discovery, Mme. Marie Knight, known as the lady with the golden voice from Los Angeles, has received much publicity for her melodious voice in singing heart-felt spirituals, and soul-stirring numbers which would appeal to the most lowly.

Too much emphasis could never be placed upon Sister Tharpe for her famous guitar playing and choice of selections which have made her famous all over the country.

Their tour at present is as follows:

Sept. 8—Oklahoma City, Okla.
Sept. 9-15—State and cities in Texas.
Sept. 16—Tulsa, Okla.
Sept. 17—Muskogee, Okla.
Sept. 18—Tulsa, Okla.
Sept. 22—New Orleans, La.
Sept. 25—Columbia, S. C.
Sept. 26—Asheville, N. C.
Sept. 27—Greenville, S. C.
Sept. 29—St. Laula, Mo.
Sept. 30—Kansas City, Mo.
October 2—Topeka, Kansas.
October 27—Chicago, Ill.

The western states will be pleased to know that the Allen Artists bureau, 307 Lenox ave., suite 209, in New York 27, N. Y., which serves as their booking agents, are readying for bookings for the famous group singers from December 1 through 17 in the state and cities of California. They have already been booked by the Rev. L. B. Brown of Los Angeles for December 5, 6, 8, 9 and 10. If interested in other dates leading to the 5th and after the 11th, write, wire, or phone the Allen Artists bureau, 307 Lenox ave., Suite 209, New York 27, N. Y., or telephone Monument 2-6322.

Sunday School Lesson

By REV. IKE EVANS, D.D.

Rev. Evans is the president of the Bronxeville Down Town Baptist Minister's Union.

Subject: Jesus and Sincerity of Speech, Devotional Reading, Ephesians 4:25-32. Motto Text: Ephesians 4:25. Lesson Text and Outline, Exdous 20:16; Proverbs 26: 23-28; Matthew 26:69-75.

INTRODUCTION

Truth and sincerity of speech are required by the ninth commandment, and a further statute against raising a false report or signing up to be an unrighteous witness. Solomon denounces the "liar, deceiver, and talebearer" as a mad man who casteth firebrands, arrows and death. While Satan was sifting him as wheat, Peter in his darkest hour denied his Lord, but his sin was forsaken and forgiven as strikingly shown in his courageous stand for Christ in his defense before Sanhedrin.

COMMENTS

1. The ninth commandment concerns our own and our neighbor's good name. Speaking falsely in any matter, lying, equivocating, and way devising and designing to deceive our neighbor. Speaking unjustly against our neighbor, to prejudice of his reputation; and in any way to endeavoring to raise our own reputation upon the ruin of our neighbor's.

2. There is cause to complain, not only of the want of sincerity in men's profession of friendship, and that they do not love so well as they pretend nor will serve their friends so much as they promise, but, which is much worse, of the wicked designs in the profession of friendship, and the making of it subscrvient of the most malicious intentions.

3. Bad company is to many occasion of sin; and those who needlessly thrust themselves into it, go upon the deveil's ground, venture into his crowds, and may expect either to be tempted and ensnared. He that would keep God's commandments and his own coveriant, must say to evildoers, depart from me. Cursing and swearing suffice to prove a man no disciple of Christ; for it is the language of His enemies thus to take his name in vain.

Christian Science Lesson Subject 'Man'

"Lo, this only have I found, that God hath made man upright." This declaration from Ecclesiastes will be the Golden Text of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Man" in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

The Lesson-Sermon includes these Bible selections from Isaiah: "I am the Lord, and there is none else, . . . I have made the earth, and created man upon it: I, even my hands, have stretched out the heavens, and all their host have I commanded. I have raised him up in righteousness, and I will direct all his ways." "I have created him for my glory, I have formed him; yea, I have made him. . . . Ye are my witnesses, saith the Lord, and my servant whom I have chosen."

Mary Baker Eddy writes in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures:". "The Scriptures inform us that man is made in the image and likeness of God. Matter is not that likeness. The likeness of Spirit cannot be so unlike Spirit. Man is spiritual and perfect; and because he is spiritual and perfect, he must be so understood in Christian Science."

Hawkins declared that "a disproportionate large number of jobs below $40 a week are going to members of minority groups," and called attention to the fact that southern states practicing discrimination have an average per capita income of less than $300 annually, in contrast to an average over $800 in those northern states which practice discrimination the least.

"A University of Chicago study estimates the costs of intolerance exceeds 15 billions a year," Hawkins said.

Hawkins said that fair employment practices acts are already law in New York, New Jersey, Indiana and Wisconsin, and that in New York "of 500 cases all were settled by conference and conciliation, without formal hearings or any penalties."

Procedure of the proposed 5-man commission to be appointed by the governor would be the same as the procedure of the FCC, the ICC, NLRB, the State Board of Equalization and the State Railroad Commission, Hawkins said.

Answering recent attacks in the jury press on FEPC, he declared that "Proposition Number 11 does not make the discriminatory practices themselves a crime, and no one is accused by the commission in any hearing of a crime. Any misdemeanor that results comes only from subsequent violation of the order of the courts. Hence FEPC hearings in no way impair the right of jury trial.

"Judicial review is provided for. The procedure is historically and legally in the American tradition. It will be oppressive only to those whose sole motive is to defeat the democratic rights guaranteed to people.

"Arguments that prejudice cannot be eliminated by law is a false issue. Prejudice is an opinion, which cannot be removed by law. But discrimination is a physical act of prejudice and clearly a fit subject for legislation."

"We need both education and legislation. Even the Te nCommandments must be enforced by law."

A State Fair Employment Practices Act is backed by the Southern California convention of the Methodist Church, the Los Angeles city council and board of supervisors, the National Conference of Christians and Jews and many other organizations, Hawkins said.

"U. S. army Fact Sheet 64 points out that a native fascist is one who pits race against race and creed, and who practices intolerance and bigotry," he declared.

"We say flatly that the man who excludes a Negro from privilege of this democracy, who sets up barriers against a human being because of his race and creed, is a Nazi and a bigotry."

senate to refuse to seat him despite his re-election in a campaign featured by incitement of violence against Negro voters, preachment of 'white supremacy' as against American traditions of racial equality.

"We must never forget that the Negro serves the same function for Senator Bilbo and the reactionary forces which are using him that the Jews in Germany served for Hitler," said Yergan. "The Negro is simply the first victim on Bilbo's list. After that he will proceed to attack the Jews, the Catholics, Organized Labor, and finally just as Hitler took away the rights of Aryan Germans, Bilbo if not checked would take away the civil rights from the very white people he screams about so much. America would have Bilboism in place of the constitution."

Richardson described Bilboism as a "cancer." Its insidious growth, he said, "has already ensiaved the white as well as the Negro population of Mississippi. It must be rooted out before it spreads further and destroys the entire nation."

Bilbo said in his August 9 broadcast that he was a member of Klan No. 40 in Mississippi.

"Other Klansmen have slipped into the senate unnoticed," Houston said, "but Bilbo is out in front parading in his nightshirt."

fused. They immediately employed Attorney Curtis C. Taylor who filed a complaint for damages.

Cangelosi denied the charges and hired counsel to defend him. The matter was tried before Judge Sheldon who sat without a jury, and although Cangelosi put up the usual defense of "too busy" and "the Plaintiffs were impatient and wouldn't wait" the evidence was overwhelmingly in favor of the two men and the judge ruled that there was unjust discrimination and ordered judgment in their favor for $100 each and costs.

Attorney Calvin W. Murdock representing Attorney Taylor tried the case.

'Sugar Hill' Cases Slated For Hearing On Oct. 2

clair, who are representing most of the defendants. Citing the Charter of the United Nations and the Act of Chapultepec, the brief asserts that the public policy of the state is opposed to enforcement of race restrictive covenants and that there has been a decided change in public policy since the first case was decided in 1919.

The brief also appeals to the guarantees of both the state and federal constitutions and makes the point that enforcement of the covenant would deprive Negro home owners of their property without due process of law and would deny them equal protection of the law as provided in the 14th Amendment and similar clauses in the state constiution.

Technical insufficiencies in the agreement itself and in the pleadings are also pointed to by the attorneys as justification for the decision and as reasons why Judge Clarke should be upheld.

The state supreme court now has decisions pending in 12 other cases that were argued last June but attorneys said that they did not expect a decision in those matters until after arguments are heard in the Sugar Hill case.

Defendants in the Sugar Hill cases include such prominent figures as Hattie McDaniels, Louise Beavers, Juan Tizol and Ethel Waters and a long list of business and professional men, including Horace Clark and Blaine Venerable, hotel owners; Dr. J. A. Somerville, Dr. Wm. E. Bailey and Dr. W. Clyde Allen.

order prohibiting a continuation of alleged violations.

Named as defendant in another OPA suit was Mrs. Elizabeth West who rents rooms at 241 East Adams, and allegedly had squeezed hundreds of dollars of over-OPA ceilings from 13 victims.

Mrs. West was sued by OPA for $2477.25 in a superior court action. Attorney Robert S. Burns signed the complaint.

Demands Grand Jury Hold Open Hearings In Cop Killing of Boy

noted author Guy Endore of the coroner's inquest hearing which freed deputy H. H. Hodges of responsibility in the killing. Also presented was a letter from the parents of the victim asking for an open grand jury hearing and an outline of events in the case.

The action in scheduling the Sept. 10 hearing before the jury was regarded as a victory inasmuch as CRC spokesmen previously stated they feared the grand jury would attempt to drop the entire matter. At the hearing next week no witnesses will be heard, but the written testimony will be analyzed.

The three documents presented Tuesday included some sensational charges, including one that district attorney's office investigator Harry Dean, assigned to the case, hinted to neighbors of the slain boy that "he might be like the Degnan slayer" and warned them to refrain from talking about the affair in public.

It was also alleged the coroner's jury failed to hear most of the real evidence in the case, and that there was much doubt if young Eugene Montenegro had actually engaged in any wrong when he was shot in the back by the officer "on the line of duty."

Petitions bearing thousands of names asking that the slaying of the young Mexican-American boy be more thoroughly investigated without racial discrimination are piling up in the CRC office, according to Mrs. Slade, who says they will be forwarded to the grand jury.

"We urge that all organizations and individuals interested in justice and the ending of such horrible police brutality in this and all cases immediately write, phone or wire the grand jury demanding open hearings," Mrs. Slade declared.

CIO is built have dictated striking Long Beach off the list of acceptable places to hold conventions of the State CIO, so long as the discriminatory state of affairs remains in effect in public lodging and eating places there.

"This action is not discriminatory against Long Beach — the same decision will be made with respect to any community, large or small, whose hotels and restaurants refuse to give positive guarantees that they will treat all guests and customers alike, irrespective of skin pigmentation or national background."

Zusman and Rathborne outlined as follows the background of the decision to cancel the Long Beach convention plans:

"We met with city officials and hotel managers in Long Beach and made clear to them that our decision with regard to Long Beach as a convention place would be made in part on whether we got guarantee that no delegate would suffer discrimination because of race, color or creed in hotels and public places.

"Last week hotel managers of Long Beach held a meeting in which they refused to give any such guarantee and openly stated they would not permit Negro and Mexican delegates in the leading hotels, or allow them to use the public eating places in these establishments."

The CIO officers' statement pointed out that between 600 and 700 delegates usually attend State CIO conventions.

Date for this year's convention is Thursday, December 12 thru Sunday, December 15.

In the event no place in California can be found which will permit a convention to be held without discrimination, the California CIO may be obliged to hold its 1946 convention in some other state or in Mexico.

never outlawed by the statutes," he added.

Mrs. Roberts was arrested when the man with whom she had lived for one year at 1103 East 29th st. was found dead at that address about midnight, with a bullet through his head. Describing the fatal shooting the woman stated:

"I was in bed, and had just come home from a union meeting. He came home and pulled the covers off of me and asked me where the hell I had been all evening.

"He said 'I'm gonna kill you' and dragged me over to a drawer. He opened it and there was a gun inside, but I beat him to it and grabbed the gun and shot him."

She claimed in earlier statements Roberts had an ice pick or knife in his hand, but neither was found. A coroner's jury Tuesday morning called the shooting homicide and recommended she be held, but the technicality has prevented the district attorney's office from filing charges.

Hearing this she only stated, "I didn't mean to shoot him."

5420 S. Western ave. of brutality in making an arrest on August 21.

Davis, whose injuries kept him in General hospital two and a half days, intends to seek a criminal complaint from the district attorney's office, charging Thomas with assault with a deadly weapon. Davis said the policeman beat him over the head with a blackjack and pistol.

The police department version, added to a growing collection of fairy tales authored by arresting policemen, has it that Davis was arrested on a drunk charge at Fifth and Main sts., that he attempted to escape and—an unfamiliar admission—that Thomas beat him over the head.

Greater Cornerstone Baptist Church Celebrating 10th Anniversary

THE BEAUTIFUL CHURCH LOCATED AT 1428 EAST 14TH STREET

On Sunday afternoon, August 25, members of the Greater Cornerstone Baptist church, 1020 E. 14th st., heard a report on the history and progress of the church. The text of the address delivered at the historical service follows:

"We come to you this Sunday afternoon with humble hearts filled with gratitude, pride and appreciation. Gratitude toward God for the accomplishments of our pastor. Pride because of the astounding success of these accomplishments. Appreciation, for we do appreciate his firm, clean leadership.

"In speaking of the history and progress of this church, we are reminded of the History of God's chosen leaders. To my right we can see the likeness of Rev. Redd who was the founder of the Cornerstone Baptist church, 30 years ago. We shall term him as the Moses of our beginning. He was chosen and ordained by God to lead his people from darkness into the marvelous light of knowledge and truth. And like the Moses of old, he led them through many hardships and trials.

"It was not the perogative of God that Rev. Redd lead Cornerstone to this greatness of today, therefore, after a period of time, God called him from labor to reward. He left a remnant of his followers behind, who fell under the leadership, for a short period of time, of ministers such as Rev. Gipson, Payne, Peterson, McElroy and T. Patton.

"Of these ministers chosen by the people, none were God's choice to lead Cornerstone to its present greatness. The faithful few, discouraged and spiritually hungry, cried out unto God for a Leader, and upon the 20th day of August, 1936, God answered their prayers and sent two of his servants, Deacons D. C. Cook and N. Malone down into an oil soaked cluttered can yard, and they brought forth from there a man whom we may term as a modern Joshua; a man chosen by God to lead Cornerstone to its present greatness.

"We know that he told God that the job was too la rge for his knowledge of his work, but we feel that God must have whispered to him, as he told Joshua of old, "Be strong as I was with Moses so will I will be with thee. I will not fail thee nor forsake thee. Only be thou strong and very courageous that thou mayest observe to do according to all the law which Moses my servant commanded thee. Turn not from it to the right hand or to the left, that thou mayest prosper whithersoever thou goest."

REV. DAVID C. AUSTIN

"Therefore, our pastor, with his faithful wife, Sister Elizabeth Austin, by his side, and God's Holy Bible in his hand, took over God's program in that little house converted into a church on E. 14th st. The condition of the church, to us, was one subject to pity. Broken windows, dirty walls, a few folding chairs, insufficient lighting equipment and 12 bewildered, discouraged members. But to Pastor Austin, it was God's house, God's people, and he had been chosen to be their leader and shepherd.

"God knew his heart, he knew he was humble, and when he say how Pastor Austin cherished that little church, loved, protected and defended those few members, He blessed him and gave him a vision and a program.

Yes, Pastor Austin had a vision. There were many who laughed at him, there were many who scorned him; but he kept humble, kept crying out to men to repent and be saved.

Then one day, after 9 years of prayers, heartache and tears, God moved on his throne and opened the windows of heaven and poured his long-promised blessing on Cornerstone. He gave us a new building and a new name, "The Greater Cornerstone."

"He blessed us with an increase from 12 members to 1519. We have received from August 1945 to August, 1946, 416 by Christian Example, 78 by Baptism, 3 by letter. We have lost by death, 5. We have raised the amount of $21,443.30. We have given to the sick and distressed $804.70. We have given to visiting ministers $343.54. We have 16 well-organized departments and a Junior church. We have an estimated property value of $35,000.00. Improvements, new rest rooms, and new furniture has been paid for in cash amounting to $15,214.50.

"We are indeed proud of our record, and Pastor Austin is striving daily to carry us to greater heights.

"We pause to say that this day would have been perfect if our own Sister Austin could have been here to take her rightful place beside our Pastor. We cannot forget that she has been the unseen, earthly strength to our pastor. And has given him encouragement and consolation when we least suspected that he needed it. If it is God's will, we pray that Mother Austin will be back with us again.

"In conclusion, we say to our pastor, Many, many more happy and successful anniversaries we pray shall be yours thru the help of God."

CIO Takes Up Fight to Open Press Galleries of Congress To Reporters of Negro Press

WASHINGTON, D. C. (NNPA)—The fight for admission of qualified Negro newspaper men to the congressional press galleries will be carried directly to President Truman by the Congress of Industrial Organizations, George L. P. Weaver, director of the National CIO Committee to Abolish Discrimination, said here yesterday.

Weaver made his statement after Lowell Lomax, Afro-American reporter, had appeared before the CIO Committee and brought to its attention the barring of colored newspaper men from the Congressional press galleries. Lomax represented the American Newspaper Guild before the CIO Committee at the request of Milton Murray, international president of the Guild.

In taking up the fight, Weaver said, his committee is performing one of its main functions—that of fighting discrimination.

Among CIO officials attending the conference which heard Lomax's presentation of the case were James B. Carey, chairman of the anti-discrimination committee and secretary-treasurer of the CIO; Willard S. Townsend, president of the United Transport Workers and secretary of the committee; Harry Read, representative of the American Newspaper Guild and member of the committee; James J. Leary, secretary-treasurer of the International Union of Mill and Smelter Workers; Boyd Wilson, international representative of the United Steel Workers, and William H. Oliver, co-director of hte United Automobile Workers Fair Practice and Discrimination Department.

Phone Co. Lists New Emergency Number

Remember this number.

Starting yesterday this is the new emergency telephone number that may be dialed on all telephones in Los Angeles and nearby cities served by the Southern California Telephone Co.

This new number will receive immediate attention in dial central offices of the telphone co.

Emergencies are classified as calls to the police, the fire department, the sheriff's office, or for an ambulance. Only calls for operator assistance in getting connections to these services should be made by dialing the 116 emergency number.

This is the procedure that the telephone company recommends in an emergency: dial 116 and when the operator answers say: "I want to report a fire," or "I want a policeman," or "I want the sheriff," or "I want an ambulance." Give the operator the address and the name of the city or town where the emergency exists, and she will attempt to connect you with the proper service.

Even while putting through your call, she asks for your number and other information and makes a record of it. This often helps when callers must leave the telephone because of the mergency, or bcome unable to talk for any rason. The operator summons her supervisor so that she will have assistance if needed.

One Killed in Wild Man Hunt In Mississippi

MAGEE, Miss.—One man was reported killed in a legalized lyneh hunt conducted by more than 150 whites, deputized by the sheriffs of Simpson and Smith counties to run down a group of 14 Negroes who allegedly ambushed and wounded four white men.

Another Negro, L. T. Hubbard, was wounded and seized near the home of the Craft family where the alleged ambush is supposed to have occurred. Also captured were W. O. Craft and Albert Craft Jr., brothers, and five Cooper brothers, J. W., Oliver, Horace, Lee and Luther.

Bloodhounds led the posse into Sullivan's Hollow.

Sheriff George C. Hawkins of Smith county, said Johnny and Garfield Craft still were in the swamp along with several other fugitives.

The posse was formed after a deputy sheriff, a city marshal and two special deputies were allegedly struck by shotgun charges as they approached the home of the Craft family to investigate a report that a Negro had fired on a white motorist in a dispute.

Restrictors Get Court Setback; Plan New Move

Racial restrictive covenants received another judicial body blow in court this week when Municipal Judge May Lehay inferred ownership rights to Henry Hutchens who one year ago purchased a home at 220 W. 56th street, a district described as "restricted."

Attorney Crispus Wright declared that Hutchens has been separated from his family because of housing difficulties, and has for months been trying to evict Clyde K. Lowrey, who rents the house. Wright stated that Lowrey refused to move, or to pay the $30 per month rent, on the grounds Hutchens was a Negro and had no right to possession. Lowrey denies this.

In the decision Judge Lehay granted Hutchens a judgment of $90 for back rent, and also declared him to be the legal owner. Attorney Wright immediately stated he would file a Writ of Possession and see that Hutchens is reunited with his family in the home he legally purchased.

However it appears likely another court battle will result if Hutchens attempts to move into the home, when Lowrey moves out, as neighbors have obtained an injunction against any "non-Caucasian" residents.

Attorney J. L. Feinfeld, who obtained the injunction and defended Lowrey, asserted that, "The case isn't any victory for Negroes, and it doesn't even involve restrictive covenants. Mr. Lowrey just neglected to pay his rent, and has to move. But the neighbors won't let a Negro move in—we have a permanent injunction."

Wright states that "restrictive covenants are a thing of the past, and we welcome any opportunity to go to court and prove it."

HAPPINESS

Our sense of value and standard of living are so confused that we underestimate the real meaning of happiness. Outward and external things so abound in our life that instead of nurturing the true source of happiness, we tend to make these our direct aim.

So, we end up looking for happiness in the possession of the external — in money, a good time, somebody to lean on, etc. We are impatient, hurried and fretful because we do not find happiness where we look for it. The trouble lies in the fact that we are looking for it in the wrong places . . . and we are forgetting that to experience true happiness, we must help others to be happy also!

B.L.C.D.—Dear Prof. Herman: I am a reader of your column and find it interesting. Enclosed you will find a clipping of this feature along with my question for the column. Will my husband always continue the course he is going?

Ans.—Concentrating upon your question, I am of the opinion that your husband doesn't mean to embarrass you, but he isn't very thoughtful and consequently does these things without thinking. I suggest that you have someone that he knows and respects highly, talk to him and I am sure you will notice a change in his actions. I would be glad to help you further, if you will write in for a private reply.

G.E. — What happened to my aunt's money?

Ans.—A careful analysis of your question indicates that your aunt had this money hid under her trunk. She made the mistake of letting too many people know she had it there. One of the people in the house took this money.

C.C.—Will I marry the person in Detroit that I am in love with?

Ans.—Your Lucky Stars and Guiding Planet indicate marriage for you within the next four months. It will in all probability be the young man you are now in love with.

R.T.—Will my luck change?

Ans.—According to your Zodiacal Sign your luck is destined to show a change that will bring about an increase in your business. Don't lose courage, for better times are ahead for you.

D.W.—Dear Sir: Just a short note to thank you for sending me that wonderful book. I am getting great consolation from reading it, thanks ever so much for what you have done for me. My friend is also writing for this book With God All Things Are Possible. Enclosed please find money order to cover it.

P.S.—Does this man mean me any good?

Ans.—Since this man has a wife, and there is a possibility of his returning to her, I recommend your spending your time with someone else. I do not vision any future with this man, as he is not the type to take responsibilities seriously.

A.H.—Would obtaining my Horoscope help me determine my future occupation?

Ans.—Yes, your Horoscope will aid you because it contains information that will guide you in making decisions regarding any matters that govern your life. I suggest you send for one at your earliest convenience.

H.H.—Will I be successful in opening up a business of my own? Will my sister help me with the housework? Does my uncle intend to help me with this business?

Ans.—Only one question is answered in the column, I suggest you write in for a private reply.

ATLANTA, Ga. — (NNPA) — Governor Ellis Arnall has been asked by C. A. Scott, editor and general manager of the Atlanta Daily World, to establish a Negro unit of the Georgia national guard as a means of assuring colored people of security in Georgia. Scott sent a similar request to Major General Butler B. Miltonberger, chief of the national guard bureau, war department, Washington, D. C., "because the federal government has a responsibility in this matter."

Dear Prof. Herman: I have finished reading your wonderful book With God All Things Are Possible and I must say, Prof. Herman, that it has really proven helpful to me. I found the solution to my problems right in the book. I have told some friends about the book, so enclosed you will find an order for another book for a friend of mine.

B. G.—Will I be able to carry out my plans?

Ans.—After a careful study of your problem, my friend, I find that you will be successful in completing your college studies and accomplish your desire to become a doctor.

L. F.—I am so worried, Prof. Herman. I want to know is my husband true to me?

Ans.—Concentrating upon your questions, it is indicated that your husband is indeed true to you, and you should dismiss your unfair suspicions from your mind. Do not believe any idle gossip you may hear, but have trust and confidence in your husband.

M. J.—Why didn't he write?

Ans.—Probing into the matter, it is revealed to me that your husband has been extremely busy these past weeks and has not had time to write like he wants to. I find that you will hear from your husband within the coming week.

Dear Sir: Through the use of your products and your helpful advice, I have found happiness at last. You know, Prof. Herman, before I wrote to you, I was on the verge of a nervous breakdown, but after receiving your first letter, I began to hope again. Now I realize that life holds something for me and I have you to thank for it, Prof. Herman.

J. R.—Does he love me?

Ans.—It is revealed to me that your boy friend loves you, my friend, and through your own efforts, you can hold his love and interest and find happiness.

A. T.—Will he marry me?

Ans.—Your lucky stars and guiding planet indicate that marriage will be the result of your relationship with Bill, and your future marriage will be a successful one.

N. T.—What shall I do?

Ans.—According to your Zodiacal Sign, you should formulate your plans for the future, and follow them carefully in order to better your conditions. You will find that everything will go all right for you and you will successfully complete your plans to buy a home. Have confidence within yourself that you will accomplish your desires.

MOVES TO FORT VALLEY—Dr. Marian Wilson Starling, who will go to Fort Valley State college as associate professor of English this fall. Shriners' Conclave Hears Plea For Federal Anti-Bias Legislation

Philadelphia—(NNPA) — More than 8000 delegates to the convention of the Ancient Egyptian Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine heard Senator Francis J. Myers, of Philadelphia, urge federal laws to prevent racial and religious discrimination.

"We can't legislate human conduct, but we can enact and enforce laws which insure the rights of all people as citizens," Myers declared.

An eloquent plea for a federal anti-lynching law to protect "the rights and lives of the humblest citizen of this land," was voiced by John Wesley Dobbs, Atlanta, Ga., a past potentate. Citing the share of Negroes in building America, Dobbs came up with some interesting statistics.

"There were black seamen with Columbus in 1492," he said. "We didn't come here on the Mayflower, but we beat it by a year—20 black men landed in Jamestown, Va., in 1619. The black man has been here a long time."

4 Negro Units With 2nd Armored Division

CAMP HOOD, Texas—The following Negro units are assigned to the second armored ("Hell on Wheels") division:

614th tank destroyer battalion,
169th engineer combat battalion,
3824th transportation truck company.
696th ordnance ammunition company.

Mayor Bowron Urges Welcome For Nisei

Mayor Fletcher Bowron has called upon the citizens of Los Angeles to forget any hatred of the Japanese people formulated during the war, and accept them as good citizens.

"We have spoken of the Japanese in terms of hate," the mayor declared. "The war is over. We will no longer hate the Japanese. We have crushed the power of Japan, but Los Angeles as the center of the largest concentration of Japanese-Americans will welcome back the Japanese, remindful that it was a Japanese-American army unit that showed in Italy by deeds of daring, of bravery, that Japanese can be and are good Americans, and we will accept them as such as they return to Los Angeles."

The statement was made as the United States navy presented a gift of a Japanese fighter airplane to the city.

Dr. Robinson Leads Fight at Louisville Convention for Compulsory Health Insurance

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (NNPA) — Hottest issue of the convention of the National Medical Assn. is the question of compulsory health insurance—chief bone of contention today among American doctors.

Six speakers urged various forms of federal health plans during the Public Health Day session at Central High school.

Dr. W. Montague Cobo, president of the Medico-Chirurgical Society of the District of Columbia, said his group is "backing to the hilt" Association president Dr. I. E. Robinson, Los Angeles, in supporting the Wagner-Murray-Dingell bill and compulsory health insurance.

Dr. Cobb charged that the Chicago Physicians Association, which opposed compulsory legislation, "has become the unwilling stooge of the American Association." (The A.M.A opposes compulsory health legislation.)

Added support for Dr. Robinson came from the National Negro Dental Association, meeting at Madison Junior High school.

"We have unanimously adopted a recommendation in favor of compulsory health insurance," said Dean Russell A. Dixon, Howard university, Washington, D.C. More than 600 dentists attended last Wednesday's meetings.

From the first speech last Wednesday morning through that of United States Surgeon General Dr. Thomas Parran last Wednesday night, ran a theme of federal aid for a national health program.

Every speaker criticized inadequate hospitals, racially discriminatory rules in hospitals and medical schools, and low income as the causes of high death and disease rates among colored people.

Three-fourths of the United States' population, and 98 percent of the colored population, are unable to afford adequate medical care, Dr. George D. Cannon, secretary of the Physician's Forum, New York, charged.

In a withering blast against opponents of national compulsory health insurance, Dr. Cannon declared that "medical care is not a luxury whose availability should depend on the patient's ability to buy it."

"Families in the lower income groups, and especially Negro families, suffer at least twice as much illness and are in much greater need of medical care than the higher income group," he asserted.

As advantages of a national health plan he cited greater financial security for the doctor; availability of special skills and equipment when needed rather than when the patient is able to pay for them; reduction of intense financial competition in urban medicine, and the encouragement of group medicine, which is "more efficient and less costly than individual practice."

The chairman of the Physicians Forum, New York, Dr. Ernest P. Boaz, asserted that the layman has a definite right to intervene in determining the direction of the national health program.

"He pays the bills and is entitled to determine the kind of medical care he wants," Dr. Boaz said. "Of course, in the strictly professional and technical aspects of the problem he must yield to the knowledge of the physician as expert adviser, but the layman is quite competent to decide whether or not he wishes to correct the gross inequalities in the distribution of medical care that exists today."

Dr. Harry Becker, consultant of medical care for the United States Children's Bureau, added his voice for compulsory health insurance.

"The health status of American children, like their education, is the concern and responsibility of the government," he said.

Dr. Milton Roemer, associate in medical care with the United States Public Health Service, outlined recent health legislation and said it points toward an over-all governmental program for medical care "available to all, regardless of race, creed or economic status."

"The protection of property and the education and good health of the people are obligations of the state," Dr. Walter J. Hughes of the North Carolina Board of Health declared, adding that "More Negro doctors should be trained.

Dr. Moses K. Clayborne, of Johnstown, Pennsylvania, denounced the national health program bill and said that a nationwide program of voluntary health insurance (such ar that now sponsored by the A.M.A. and the Kentucky State Medical Society) is the better method.

The N. M. A.'s distinguished service award, presented annually to the outstanding Negro physician in the United States was made to Dr. John P. Turner, police surgeon of Philadelphia.

ON THE TURF

By
Geo. A. Ramsey

With more than 12,000 lovers of the sport of kings on hand the largest crowd in many months attended the 12-race program here last Sunday. The card offered was one of the best of the summer season and three invaders from Del Mar and other points captured the feature events.

The Labor Day handicap at one mile was won by Seal Rock, claimed at Del Mar for $5,000. In the secondary feature, Dunkum turned back the favored Cargo Ship to spoil a well-planned coup.

The longshot players started off with a good start when Sha-Bar from the Del Mar course crossed the charmed circle of Judge Murphy's by two lengths to pay $23.60 for $2. All Black, also from the seaside course, scored in the third race to pay $10.00. This was the second half of the daily double which rewarded its backers of Acosta, winner of the second event, and All Black, $80.40.

In the fifth, Royal Cynic, another Del Mar horse, won like a good thing, paying $4.20. Al Bargello took the fourth and Gallant One the eighth. Six public favorites won.

The quiniela lucky holders received $90.40 when the hot favorite, Pacifier, won, with the field horse Warawood finishing second.

This Sunday another fine card of 12 races will be offered with two big feature attractions, the "La Independencia Handicap" at one mile and a sixteenth with a purse of $3,000 added. The secondary attraction will be "The Calexico" at six furlongs. Until then, so long, George.

MONTREAL—Johnny Greco won the Canadian welterweight championship last Wednesday night by hammering out a 10-round nod over Dave Castilloux, who has held the crown for five years.

West View Hospital Benefit Officials Seek Aid of Press

Aimed to stimulate interest and further create a public consciousness of the dire need for additional hospital facilities in Los Angeles, the West View Hospital association is planning to host members of the city's press at a buffet-cocktail party in the near future.

The gathering will also serve to acquaint the fourth estaters with details of the John Thomas-Jackie Wilson state welter championship bout, September 29, of which a share of the proceeds will be given the association's building fund.

As an added source of revenue, the West View group is raffling off a 1946 four-door Buick sedan the evening of the fight.

Although pledges of support and assistance to the projected hospital have been gratifying, the association is concerned with making the general public West View conscious.

To this end the cooperation of the press and radio are earnestly sought.

A speakers bureau is being set up to tour the southland, and appear before church, civic and social organizations of the various races to "sell" the project.

Mass Pilgrimage to Washington, Sept. 23

Thousands of Delegates To Go From Rallies to Be Held Throughout U.S.

NEW YORK—Paul Robeson, chairman of the American Crusade to End Lynching, yesterday announced a series of nationwide activities in support of a proposed pilgrimage to Washington, D. C. on September 23 to dramatize the demand of labor, civic and religious groups throughout the country for federal action to wipe out lynching, and punishment of the lynchers.

Robeson at the same time announced a list of additional signers to the call for the pilgrimage and a program of action in Washington, as well as activities on a nationwide scale in support of the pilgrimage. Included in the latter are:

- An outdoor rally at State and Madison sts., Chicago, Ill., on Sept. 16, with Canada Lee, famous actor, as the main speaker. Chicago, Robeson said, was planning to send 500 persons on the Washington pilgrimage.
- Mass rally in Philadelphia Sept. 15 to spur campaign to send over 500 persons from that city.
- Big Harlem (New York) rally at Salem M. E. church, Sept. 15, as part of a drive to send over 1000 from Harlem.
- A series of radio broadcasts

Teenage Boy Seized in Lynch Threat; Thrown From Speeding Auto

Venice, Calif., had a grim example of fascist bestiality last weekend when a gang of white hoodlums accompanied by a drunken white girl, cowardly attacked a group of Negro youngsters, beat up two of the children, threw one youngster from a fast-moving car, and wound up their orgy of race hatred and violence by striking down parents who attempted to defend their children.

Among the injured were Oscar Wallace, a ship fitter at the navy drydocks, who lives at 678 San Juan st., his stepsons, Rio and Clifton Alexander, and Mrs. Belle McClendon and her son, James, of 685 Westminister st.

Wallace, whose head was battered and bleeding from the crushing blows of a baseball bat, was taken to Santa Monica hospital for treatment last Saturday evening after lodging a complaint in the Venice police station.

A delegation of 19 Negro and white citizens of Venice who visited the police department Monday to protest the outrage were promised full cooperation in the prosecution of the hoodlums, and the protection of Ne-

Hits Hypocrisy Of United States At Peace Parley

NEW YORK—American delegates at the Paris peace conference who have been criticizing the treatment of minorities in European countries were advised this week to "face the facts and abandon double talk" about "the assimilation rather than the perpetuation of [illegible] minorities."

The advice was given by Clark Foreman of Atlanta, president of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare. Foreman spoke before the New York City Committee of the conference at the

By C. A. B.

COMMENTING further on the letter discussed in this column last week, the author stated that our Constitution has incorporated within it the 13th, 14th, and 15th amendments, "which are good enough for anyone, black or white."

Well, all right. Here is the first part of the 13th amendment: Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude—shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction.

But how about the sharecroppers of the South? Those wretched creatures who work and sweat from morning to night as hard as any slave ever did, who by every trickery and device are constantly placed in debt to their "masters," and who therefore are bound body and soul to the white owner of the plantation until that debt is paid?

You remember the Negro sharecropper who moved from Texas and came to Arizona? Only to be captured, beaten up, and returned to his "owner?" He was a tall, strong, husky man. The misery of his life, the suffering he was forced to undergo, finally unsettled his mind. The last we heard of him he was in an institution for the insane.

Other sharecroppers have tried the same means of escape. Under the same hardships and difficulties as any slave escaped in the underground railroad of slavery days.

Are such men as these free? Or are they still slaves? And you think we should sit still with our hands folded in our laps and permit such things to pass unnoticed? If we do anything to destroy this evil, we are Communists. In your opinion.

HERE is the 14th amendment: All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

I ask you if restrictive covenants, written into the deeds of certain properties in South Pasadena and in Los Angeles, and in all parts of the State of California, declaring that none other than Caucasians may purchase or live in certain sections, do not abridge the privileges of some citizens of the United States?

And I ask you again, if Veteran John C. Jones, lynched by a blood-thirsty mob in Minden, La., a month ago, was not deprived of his life without due process of law?

And all the other Negroes, a thousand and more within the last few years, who were beaten and shot and burned—were they not deprived of their lives without due process of law? Yet we must say or do nothing about it! If we utter but a peep of protest, we are Communists.

AND the 15th amendment says this: The right of the citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude.

Typical of what is taking place in Georgia, Texas, and in practically all of the Southern States, is what happened a few days ago to Roy Fletcher, veteran of Jackson, Mississippi, when he attempted to register to vote. He was flogged unmercifully by a group of white men, and fiery crosses flared to intimidate colored voters.

Do you know that ten million citizens in the United States, six million white persons and four million black persons, are denied freedom of the ballot? Read the history of the poll tax. If this is good enough for you, madam or sir, it certainly is not good enough for me.

Our Constitution and Amendments are good — on paper. But not in practice

UNDER them we find intimidation, opression, slavery, even murder! These are the henious crimes that people, such as you, allow to go unpunished. Unchallenged. Crimes that you are oft-time guilty of committing. Why? Because the victims of these acts of terror are members of a racial or religious or national minority group!

Is this your Americanism? Basic ideals which you hastily pitch overboard where non-Caucasians are involved!

It is not so . . . in Russia. For there, in the Union of the Soviet Socialist Republics, the people have more than a Constitution. More than Amendments. They have real enforcement of the laws that govern their land. Their basic principle of the equality of all men is not the exclusive right of one racial group or another. Or one religion or another. Their principles are the common rights of all kind as such are enjoyed by all.

Again I find myself limited for time and space. So I shall have to do a little more research and tell you what they say happens to all the people living in the U.S.S.R.

G. L. K. Smith Returns to Los Angeles to Lead Fight On FEPC, Rep. Helen Douglas

Gerald L. K. Smith, the nation's number one fascist and leader of the American First party is back in Los Angeles. Radio commentators reported late last week that Smith had returned here to lead the campaign of local reactionaries to defeat Proposition 11 (FEPC) on the November ballot and is seeking re-election in the 14th congressional district.

Rep. Douglas is one of the main targets of current Republican election campaign propaganda which brands as "Communistic" her courageous espousal of human and minority rights, international good will and peace in the 79th congress.

Assemblyman Gus Haskins yesterday called on all "true Americans to halt Smith's drive to promote fascism in America." "Smith," he said, "is here to master-mind the campaign against Proposition 11 and to rally all the forces of race and religious hatred against it."

Smith has created many fascist "front organizations" in the cities he has visited. On his last visit to Los Angeles, he was presented by an organization supposedly consisting of clergymen, but most of the city's clergy

Delegation Visits Bowron to Protest Closing Down of Ramona Gardens Playground

Mayor Fletcher Bowron's office appeared weakening against terrific community pressure this week as a delegation of indignant mothers, with their children, stormed his office to violently protest the closing of the Ramona Gardens playground.

The delegation of six women, their children, and spokeswoman Ethel Holt, with her five children, backed up by the American Veterans Committee, American Legion, Red Cross, PTA, CIO PAC, and other groups, failed to see the mayor Tuesday morning, but talked frankly to councilman Parley Parker Christensen and the mayor's public relations expert, Dave Apter.

The protest was over the closing of the playground, only one scheduled to be discontinued Sept. 16, allegedly due to "lack of funds."

Mrs. Holt pointed out that the playground was the only after-school recreational area for the children in the project, and stated that it was the parents' chief hope against juvenile delinquency. Another leader, Ed Nossoff, stated, "The struggle against juvenile delinquency in our area is tough enough without the discontinuance of the only playground in the area. We won't have our children running

Unkissed Bride Asks Court for Annulment

Charging that her husband had never lived with her and she was and still is a "kissless bride," beautiful Mrs. Lucille Campbell, 21, of 4210 Hooper ave., has asked for an annulment of her marriage to William Campbell, 26, of San Francisco, according to her attorney, Walter L. Gordon.

The complaint states the couple have not lived together since their marriage last year and Campbell fraudulently misrepresented his attentions to win her hand.

Kidnaped Boy Found; Maid Held by FBI

TERRE HAUTE, Ind.—Mildred Everett, a 22 year old maid described variously as "white" and "light colored," was arrested here this week for the kidnaping last week of a white child in Kansas City. Miss Everett, now in the custody of the FBI, was discovered in the home of Ben Bailey, who had hired her to keep house for him and his seven children.

Chief of Detectives Robert Vance quoted the maid as saying she stole the child because she wanted one of her own. The child, three year old Madeline Tobias, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Tobias, of Kansas City, was found unharmed, happily playing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Omar Funkhouser, who told

Senate Group To Investigate Bilbo Election

WASHINGTON — The senate campaign expenditures investigating committee this week agreed to investigate the Mississippi primary campaign of Senator Theodore G. Bilbo.

The committee acted on sworn charges that Bilbo had sought to keep Negroes from voting. The committee also received a complaint filed by Ross Collins, one of the unsuccessful candidates for Bilbo's seat, that Bilbo had accepted $25,000 from a Mississippi war contractor several years ago.

Senator Allen J. Ellender, Democrat of Louisiana, committee chairman, said investigators would be sent into Mississippi "as soon as competent personnel could be employed," and the committee would decide later whether to hold public hearings

Civic, Labor Leaders Blast So. Pacific Jim Crow Policy As NNC Calls for Stern Fight

Aroused over the frank admission of Southern Pacific railroad officials last week that it is their policy to seat Negro passengers leaving Los Angeles for the South in a special segregate car, the National Negro Congress immediately swung into action to organize a protest movement.

Five minutes after a complaint of the railroad's Jim Crow policy reached the EAGLE office, Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, editor-publisher of EAGLE and chairman of the NNC investigated the report, started the ball rolling. When she inquired if it was S. P.'s policy to segregate Negroes, company officials hastily said they did not consider it segregation.

"Our only wish is to make traveling as convenient and comfortable for our Negro pas-

San Pedro Man Shot by Police

A white policeman shot and seriously wounded Leo Baker, 45, of 1059 Rubicon Court, San Pedro, after officers answered a call in that neighborhood in which a woman said the victim threatened her with a gun.

Officer Julius R. Riskey, 26, of 305 N. Bellflower, states that he and his partner, Officer Cluberton, received the call from Mrs. Sue Archilque. They rushed to her home at 1013 Rubicon Court, San Pedro, and she told them Baker said he was going to kill

Aliso Village Tenants Squelch Racist Incident; Vote Support of FEPC

"The House We Live In'—Aliso Village—has no room in it for those who are guilty of racial or religious prejudice."

Thus declared a lead story in the September issue of The Aliso Villager in reporting a recent case of anti-Semitism in the famous housing project. The sentiment expressed in that story was backed to the hilt by speakers and auditors at a meeting Monday night in the Community Hall of the project.

Called to discuss race relations at the project in the light of an incident on last August 5 when one tenant called another "a dirty Jew," the meeting went on record in favor of the passage of Proposition 11 (FEPC) on the November ballot, and adopted resolutions protesting the closing of three Eastside care centers, and the recent authorization by the Board of Education for the use of Polytechnic high school for two meetings for Gerald L. K. Smith, notorious hate-peddler.

Held under the auspices of the Aliso Village Residents Council, which also publishes the monthly Aliso Villager, the meeting was addressed by Rabbi Pressman of Congregational Sinai; Isaac Laidley, a Negro tenant, Hy Sunshine, former manager of the project now at the Banning Homes, and James A. Cleary, new project manager. Milton Shields, editor of The Aliso Villager, chaired the meeting. Present at the speakers table was Jesus Lozano, president of the Council.

Rabbi Pressman pointed out that the search for tolerance and liberty led to the settlement of this country, warned against those powerful financial interests which seek to pit one group against another, retard social progress.

Pointing the lesson of unity during the war, he said the need to get together was as vital now as then, this time for the purpose attaining adequate and decent housing, universal education, equality of economic opportunities, with jobs for all rather than a dog fight for jobs.

In a short farewell address, Sunshine pointed out that public housing has in many cases shown there is no fundamental basis for racial and religious prejudices, segregation. The meeting itself, in which Negroes, Mexicans, Jews and Caucasians participated in a full spirit of equality and fraternity was a demonstration of the truth of his remark.

The program closed with a lively discussion from the floor in which tenants joined freely in offering suggestions and resolutions aimed at undemocratic racist practices.

INDICTED—Curtis Mosby, owner of several night spots along Central avenue, last weekend was indicted by a Federal Grand Jury on three counts for concealing assets when he filed a bankruptcy writ in the federal courts. Mosby faces a possible sentence of 15 years, five on each count.

Roxborough to Receive Parole

LANSING, Mich. (NNPA)—The Michigan Parole Board announced last Friday that John Roxborough, former manager of heavyweight champion Joe Louis will be released on parole from the southern Michigan state prison October 4.

Roxborough, who was convicted on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice in connection with the operation of the ten-million-dollar-a-year numbers racket in Detroit, will be placed on probation for 18 months.

He was sentenced to a term of from 2½ to 5 years and entered the state prison at Jackson in November, 1944.

Many AFL Units Endorsing FEPC

SAN FRANCISCO—The number of AFL bodies in northern California that already have endorsed Proposition 11, the state Fair Employment Practices Act on the November ballot, is "quite encouraging," George Walsh, regional secretary of the California Committee for FEP, said yesterday.

"The recent State Federation of Labor convention in San Francisco, and at least three Central Labor Councils, one district council, and nine AFL local unions in northern California" have endorsed the FEPC act, Walsh said.

The convention adopted a resolution which puts the state AFL on record for "active support" to Proposition 11, and urged affiliates to adopt similar resolutions and to take steps to "insure passage of such legislation."

Many industries "discriminate against capable working men and women because of religion, color or nationality," the resolution declared, and "this undemocratic procedure tends to separate working people and puts a weapon in the hands of employers."

Such discrimination, the resolution said, "continues here at home the policies of the Hitlerites, by denying certain citizens the right to work, life and the pursuit of happiness through security of employment under trade union agreements."

The resolution was introduced into the convention by Clarence Brown of the Dining Car Cooks and Waiters Union No. 582, Los Angeles.

Radio Poll 8-3 Against Byrnes' Chinese Policy

WASHINGTON—The result of a nationwide radio poll showing the American people to be 8-3 in favor of withdrawal of American marines from China was hailed this week by the National Committee to Win the Peace as a strong indication of the desire of the American people "to return to the democratic foreign policy of Franklin Roosevelt."

The poll was conducted by the American Broadcasting Company following one of its "Question for America" programs. Letters, postcards and phone calls from cities throughout the nation brought in the following results, announced by ABC only in ratios:

	YES
East Coast	4-1
Midwest	5-2
South	2-1
Far West	2-1
Over-all summary	8-3

Commenting on the poll, the National Committee to Win the Peace declared, "The American people do not want the present U. S. government's policy of one-sided intervention in behalf of the warring Kuomintang faction. They want our troops home from China and a return to the democratic foreign policy of Franklin Roosevelt."

The committee has launched a national campaign to rally public sentiment behind its drive to "Bring Our Troops Home From China." Paul Robeson, noted singer, and Brigadier General Evans F. Carlson, famed marine leader of Carlson's Raiders, are heading the drive.

Mobilization Sat., Sunday To Aid Registration

A precinct by precinct mobilization to see that Eastside residents are registered so they can vote for Proposition Number 11 on the November 5 ballot is planned for this weekend by the Eastside Committee for FEPC, it was announced by Augustus F. Hawkins.

Hawkins is chairman of the newly formed committee, which is campaigning on behalf of the Fair Employment Practices Act which would set up a state agency to prevent an deliminate discrimination in hiring because of race, color or religion.

Donald Derrick is secretary of the committee and Dr. H. C. Hudson is head of the speakers bureau.

"Registration of every citizen is vital if we are to assure passage of the FEPC Act—and we must pass the act if we are to have economic prosperity for all the people as well as members of minority groups in the crucial years ahead," Hawkins said.

The committee will concentrate on precinct organization to get voters registered, contacting local organiations to obtain endorsements, and stimulating county-wide support for Proposition 11, Hawkins said.

At its last meeting the committee named a subcommittee headed by E. W. Fisher to contact CIO workers and leaders and a similar committee headed by Arthur Patterson to contact AFL unions in regard to supporting the measure.

A mass meeting is planned for an early date.

All those interested in volunteering to assist the committee are urge dto contact Hawkins at the Southern California Committee for Fair Employment Practice headquarters, Room 911 Spring Arcade Building, Phone TU. 4078 or VA. 5029.

Angel's Island, in San Francisco Bay, was urged as the site of permanent United Nations headquarters yesterday by Will Rogers, Jr. in a telegram to Trygyne Lie, secretary-general of the UN.

$112,000 of Needed $150,000 Subscribed to Fed. Bank Project In 10-Day Whirlwind Campaign

Local business and professional figures, along with housewives and numerous other private citizens, have subscribed a total of $112,000 of the $150,000 necessary before a charter will be granted the newly planned Federal Savings and Loan Association of Los Angeles.

This amount marks the result of a concentrated effort on the part of the organizers during the last 10 days, highlighted by a rousing civic banquet at the Villa Arlington last Thursday evening.

Principal speaker at the affair was William Moseley Jones, president of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of East Los Angeles, who discussed thrift and home financing.

Jones was accompanied by Judge E. P. Wood and Hugh R. McNeil, other officials of the financial institution.

Others who spoke in the interest of the widely discussed Negro-controlled financial institution at Thursday's affair were Norman O. Houston, and Edgar Johnson, officials of the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company; H. A. Howard, chairman, and Atty. Thomas L. Griffith, vice chairman of the organizing committee.

Original charter applicants are Norman Houston, S. P. Johnson, Atty. Leonard Richardson, Dr. Warner Wright, Mrs. Zella M. Taylor, Attty. Thomas Griffith Jr., Albert Maddox, Earl Grant, H. A. Howard and the late William Nickerson, Jr.

"The manner in which subscribers are signing up gives us great satisfaction," said Howard this week. "The fact that we already have more than $111,000 after only a few days' effort gives us cause to believe that we will hit the $200,000 mark before deadline time. This is a community interest project and we're pleased that the community has responded so highly. The association is entirely mutual, not promotional, and we hope it will set a mark that will increase the prestige of Negro business throughout the country."

The organizing committee has proposed that the new project be named the Broadway Federal Savings and Loan Association of Los Angeles, paying three percent annual interest on loans.

A total of 114 subscribers already have listed their names. At least 150 names are necessary. Prospective subscribers are asked to contact any of the three temporary officers of the organizing committee for further details: H. A. Howard, chairman, 3208 So. Central, Adams 8504; Atty. Thomas L. Griffith, 1105 E. Vernon ave., Century 29078; or Zella M. Taylor, 4272 S. Central, Adams 13751.

White Virginian Hits Jim Crow Unions, Lynching

RICHMOND, Va.—(NNPA)—Describing himself as the only candidate for the U. S. senate in the November election "who can and will think and speak free from the shackles of party discipline," Howard H. Carwile, white Richmond independent, called last Monday night for "rank-and-file, non-Jim Crow, democratically-controll labor unions."

In a radio address over station WRNL, Carwile declared that any labor union "which tolerates segregated locals and race discriminations is worse than the Ku Klux Klan," and outlined these further labor planks:

Opposition to all state and federal laws designed to limit or restrict the right to strike and picket, as well as opposition to the incorporation of labor unions.

Support for the 65-cents-an-hour minimum wage bill, the national health act, a permanent Fair Employment Practices Committee, and a federal anti-lynching bill.

Opposition to peacetime conscription and belief that American soldiers in all parts of the world should "be brought home at once."

Carwile also declared police justices were "crucifying the state and federal constitutions by brazenly convicting poor people on arbitrary charges of vagrancy," and charged that a drive in Richmond against "vagrancy" was nothing but a "dastardly design to force the workers to choose between a sweat shop and jail."

An NLRB election has been scheduled for workers at the Grand Central Air Terminal, Glendale, to decide whether they wish to be represented by a union. They will be asked in the vote, the date for which has not yet been set, whether they prefer the CIO International Union of Auto, Aircraft and Agricultural Implement Workers or no union.

Board Orders 3 Care Centers Closed; Ignores Parents' Pleas

The Los Angeles Board of Education turned a cold shoulder to the pleas of a delegation representing the people of the Eastside district when it refused to consider its recent order for the closing of three extended day centers in the Eastside district.

Vierling Kersey, superintendant of schools, reported that the committee which had been appointed to reconsider the matter upheld the board's first decision. He asserted that the space now being used by the extended day care centers in the three schools affected would be needed for regular class room instruction.

He told the delegation that depending on findings of the adult division, Micheltorena center may be kept open by using evening class space.

The delegation, headed by Mrs. Myrtle Rohrer, president of the Parent's Council, refused to accept the reasons given by the Board as valid.

Numerous speakers from civic and veterans organizations as well as the Housing Authority pointed out that the discontinuance of these extended day care centers would work a hardship on the parents of the children as well as add to the juvenile deliquency rate in the community.

A spokesman for the Board told the delegation that the children would be provided for at other neighboring schools but as yet no plan of transfer has been made.

Mrs. Rohrer retorted that these other schools were already overcrowded and that there were long waiting lists in existence. The board asserted this "was contrary to the facts which they had."

Some of the parents affected pointed out that such transfers would entail transportation problems as well as the danger of traffic hazards.

Mrs. Rohrer told an EAGLE reporter that the closing of these extended day care centers, which care for children from 5 to 14 years allow these children to be away from supervision during the period between school closing and the time the parent finishes his or her day's work.

Gets 1-10 Years in Screwdriver Slaying Of Gas Station Man

A prison sentence of from one to ten years was given Ross Lee Washington, confessed screwdriver killer of William Morgan, white service station operator, by Superior Court Judge William R. McKay Tuesday.

The judge denied a motion for a new trial by Attorney Crispus Wright and stated he thought the manslaughter verdict was fair to Washington. The victim died of wounds at his gas station at 9779 West Pico blvd., last month. Washington said that Morgan started for a gun, and he stabbed him in the heart to save his own life.

FBI Nabs Last Of Trio Who Robbed Bank

R. B. Hood, special agent in charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Los Angeles, announced yesterday the arrest last Sunday night of Ebb Grant on a charge of bank robbery.

The West Oakland, Calif., branch No. 550 of the Bank of America was held up by three Negro bandits August 27, who made their escape with $5002 in loot. Two of the bandits, Fred Alonzo Dudley and Adolph Ernest Frazier, were apprehended by the Oakland police department on August 27 and 28, respectively and the loot was recovered.

In making his getaway, Grant received a bullet wound in his left shoulder in a gun battle with Oakland police officers.

Late Sunday night, two special agents of the FBI located Grant at 534 South Main street in Los Angeles in the Toyland Arcade, where he was operating an amusement machine.

Grant had in his possession the lead bullet which he personally had extracted from his left shoulder following the gun battle with the Oakland police. He had treated the wound himself. He hid out for several days in the Bay area and came to Los Angeles by bus on September 2. He had procured employment at a local drug store at Hollywood and Vine streets as a dishwasher and commenced working there September 6.

Grant with the other two men are wanted in the San Francisco area for several robberies and kidnapings. He has served a term for armed robbery in the Michigan state penitentiary from February, 1938, to February, 1943. He is 31 years old and came to California from Detroit in 1943. He was employed for a time at the Mare Island shipyard.

The use of food as a weapon to force Yugoslavia to bow to U. S. demands on that country was urged this week by Senator William F. Knowland, who called upon the UNRRA to halt shipments to the Balkan country.

So. Pasadena for 'Whites Only,' Says City Mgr. Telling of Racial Bars

Existence of a typical fascist set-up in South Pasadena in which anti-democratic practices are actively enforced by the city government was revealed this week when South Pasadena's city manager, Frank Clough, admitted that since 1941 the city has been writing restrictive covenants into the deeds of all property obtained by the city through delinquent taxes. Clough boasted:

"We do not have any Negroes nor do we have any other non-Caucasian people in South Pasadena. To insure the continuance of this policy, several years ago the city council instructed the city attorney to draw up a restrictive clause and insert it into all properties coming into the possession of the city."

Asked if the South Pasadena city council had passed an ordinance barring minority groups, Clough said:

"No, the council simply decided to bow to public demand for keeping the city an exclusive white community and sent a memo to the city attorney and the city manager."

Clough elaborated:

"A citizens' organization known as the South Pasadenans and headed by some prominent persons was active several years ago and arranged to insert a restrictive clause in the property deeds of about 85 percent of all the land in the city.

"There was a fee of $5 for the recording and for operating expenses of the group," he added. "Ted Johnson, who works in the Security First National Bank, Los Angeles headquarters, and Roy Crocker, an attorney, were among the list of presidents of the South Pasadenans.

American citizens not within the privileged color classification are permitted to work in South Pasadena and may live in the city only if they are "strictly in the capacity of servants" of the privileged caste.

Negroes and other minority group members may work in South Pasadena only "during reasonable business hours" in areas zoned for business "but not otherwise."

Army Fears 30,000 Shortage, But Still Wants No Negroes

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NNPA)—The induction of 17 Negro youths, who had been ordered to report to the District of Columbia selective service headquarters for induction into the army this month, has been cancelled, District selective service headquarters announced yesterday.

The 17 youths were to be a part of the 500 colored men who had been called for induction this month before the army announced that it was accepting no more Negroes until the number of colored soldiers now on duty be reduced to the percentage in the army that colored people represent in the general population.

Meanwhile, national selective service officials are discussing a possible shortage of 30,000 men by next March 1.

Seeks Abolition Of Church Jim Crow As Tending To Promote Bigoted Cults

By JAMES L. HICKS
NNPA Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Abolition of discrimination in churches, elimination of undemocratic restrictions in real estate covenants, and greater emphasis on religious philosophy in schools were advocated by the Council of Social Agencies of the District of Columbia in a report on religious relations here.

The committee on religious relations, an interracial group composed of Jews, Catholics, and Protestant members of the Council, charged that race segregation in the churches is inconsistent with Christian principles. It called for the removal of racial barriers in all congregations so that any person "regardless of race and color may affiliate with the faith or particular church of his choice or neighborhood."

It found that the practice of segregation by many Washington churches has tended to encourage the development of special cults with narrow principles, which thrive on discrimination and "are a source of bigotry."

"Our investigation," the committee stated, "indicates the steady increase of such cults in Washington." It added that 262 such cults already existed here.

Washington, the committee reported, is fortunate in that the number of overt incidents of anti-Semitism has not been as great as in some other large cities in the country.

"But there have been manifestations, largely in the public schools, in real estate ownership, residence restriction, employment discrimination and sporadic organized movements," it reported.

The committee saw in restrictive real estat ecovenants against racial or religious groups, a violation of democratic principles and charged that such practices negate the principle of "the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man" and adds to racial tensions. It recommended discouragement of such practices.

Springfield, Mass.; Detroit, Philadelphia, and Wilmington, Delaware, were cited as communities that are approaching the problem of intolerance and the development of brotherhood through the public schools.

Local repercussions arising from national expressions of inter-faith disagreement were found in Washington by the committee. The effect of such statements can be moderated by inter-faith consideration on the commu...y level, it was declared.

The Religious Relations Committee was headed by Colonel W. O. Tufts, and the survey was conducted by Walted Davidson and Efi Cooper. Rev. Robert W. Brooks, pastor of Lincoln Congregational church, and Rev. Stephen G. Spotswood, pastor of John Wesley A.M.E. Zion church, were members of the committee.

Verdict of Coroner's Jury in Montenegro Slaying Riddled in Document Handed Grand Jury

When the county grand jury holds its hearings on the shooting of 13 year old Eugene Montenegro by a deputy sheriff in the near future, there will be read into evidence a sensational document delivered to them this week.

It is a 39-page study of the coroner's inquest which decided that deputy H. H. Hodges was justified in killing the boy while he was allegedly escaping from the home of Mr. and Mrs. McPherson of 6037 E. Ferguson dr., East Los Angeles.

The study was prepared by Guy Endore, screen writer, for the Civil Rights Congress, and given to the grand jury by Mrs. Ruth Slade, chairman of the group. In its 39 pages it rips apart the procedure, intent and conclusion of the quasi-legal body, described as "eight decrepit and disinterested old men apparently specially selected."

"The transcript says that it was the jury who found this verdict and that the coroner merely approved it," Endore writes. "But that is just a formula. Actually the coroner handed down the verdict and the jury, not a single member of which so much as opened his mouth during the entire proceedings, agreed like so many sheep."

The story of deputy Hodges that he saw Eugene in the house and then shot him as he ran away outside was subjected to scrutiny by Endore, who concludes after minute examination of the facts that:

- Either Hodges shot the wrong person, an innocent boy, or;
- That Hodges is incompetent and or a murderer.

"Both innocent and competent, that Deputy Sheriff Hodges certainly can't be," declares Endore. "The corpse of the 13-year-old boy rules that out. But he might very well be both a murderer AND incompetent. Either one or both together."

This decision is based upon evidence brought out at the inquest, but, according to Endore, not even questioned by the "eight decrepit old men," or the coroner's deputy.

The evidence, in small part, is that the descriptions of the only two witnesses to see the alleged thief in the house were as follows:

Donald F. Kennedy, neighbor of the McPhersons: A young fellow about 18 years of age, rangy build and about five feet 11 inches tall, wearing a dark jacket.

Deputy Hodges: A man, needing a shave, a man with whiskers, a man about five feet ten, nine or ten, about 19 or 20 years old."

And, adds Endore, what is the description of Eugene, shot in the back and killed by Hodges near the McPherson home?

It is that of a boy, 13 years old, wearing a sweater, and FIVE FEET, THREE INCHES tall.

This is but one of dozens of points brought out by Endore. Entered as evidence it will be read by the grand jury. Presented with the document by Endore by Mrs. Slade were petitions bearing thousands of signatures asking for a thorough and open investigation.

Californian Killed In Elko Plane Crash

NEW YORK — (NNPA) — The list of victims in the crash of one of its planes at Elko, Nev., last Thursday, released by the Trans-Luxury Airlines, showed that one of them was a colored woman.

She was Mrs. Clara Leonard Cross, 35, of Darien Conn. She was identified in Darien as the wife of Steward William McKinley Cross, Mare Island, Calif.

The plane had left New York last Wednesday morning and was due to arrive in San Francisco at 3:45 a.m., Pacific standard time. The crash occurred about 2 a.m., PST.

Hearing Oct. 1 on Vets' Petition For Franchise to Operate Cabs

Based upon a notice recently received from the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation of the City of Los Angeles, California, byt the Eastside Veterans Taxicab Association, hearing on the petition of this organization for a franchise to operate taxicabs in the City of Los Angeles will be had before that body on October 1 at 10 a.m.

The Eastside Veterans Taxicab Association is composed of veterans of World War II. The organization had its beginning during the recent street car strike, which it was demonstrated that there is public need for additional taxicab service in the City of Los Angeles, and the Eastside in particular.

Andrew Willis, the president of this new organization, has stated that his company is in progress of being incorporated under the laws of the State of California and will have their main office in Los Angeles. He further stated that should his firm be successful in securing a franchise from the city, his company plans to cooperate with the city officials in every particular in giving to taxicab users and the citizens of Los Angeles an unexcelled taxicab service.

This will afford to every one who desires to enjoy this new service an opportunity to make known their wish in this regard at the public meeting of the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation, which will be heard in Room 187, City Hall, on October 1, at 10 a.m.

The organization has retained Attorney Marshall Denton Jr., to represent them in connection with their application for a franchise.

SEOUL, Korea—Three Korean newspapers that have been critical of American occupation policy in Korea were raided and shut down this week by American military police on the grounds they "were endangering the security of the U. S. army forces in Korea."

VA Disallows Pension Claim Of Blinded Vet

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NNPA)—The Veterans Administration has disallowed a claim for $240 a month service-connected disability pension filed by Isaac Woodard, World War II veteran who was blinded by a white policeman on the day of his discharge, it was learned here yesterday.

Although the VA refused to comment on the case, it was learned that Woodard has filed a second claim asking for a non-service connected disability pension which, if granted, will allow him $60 a month.

Woodard's first claim for a pension was based on the fact that he received the beating which resulted in his blindness on February 12, the same day he received his army discharge.

Official records show that Woodard was paid by the army for the day February 12. This led some people interested in his case to contend that he was still in the army on that day and, therefore, blinded while in the service and entitled to a service-connected disability pension.

Since the VA has disallowed the "service connected" claim Woodard's only recourse is to the law overning non-service connected disabilities.

Under this law Woodard can only receive $60 a month until he is 65 years old and will not be permitted to have an outside income to exceed $2,500 per year, the limit permitted to be earned by married men receiving such a pension.

A VA official pointed out that it is important to Woodard just how the money recently raised at a New York benefit show is turned over to him.

It should be determined, the official said, whether or not it would be better to give it to him in a lump sum thereby disqualifying him for a pension this year or whether to place it in a bank and allot him $2400 a year, an income which would permit him to receive the pension at the same time.

Held on Matron's Charge of Assault

Houston Thompson, 29, of 1329 E. Washington blvd., has been arrested and charged with criminal assault on attractive Mrs. Frances Martin, 23, of 1018 E. 42nd st.

Mrs. Martin told police that she and her girlfriend, Miss Nettie Duncan, who lives at the Riverside drive housing project, accepted Thompson's offer to drive them home from a Central avenue cafe. She says he drove Miss Duncan home, and then parked his car and forced his attentions on her.

Hits Speedy Acquittal Of Klan Leader

The speedy acquittal last week of Ray John Schneider, Ku Klux Klan kleagle, following his arrest when a loaded .38-acilber revolver and a billy-club were found in his possession, brought sharp criticism yesterday from the Mobilization for Democracy. Schneider was found not guilty by Superior Judge Raymond McIntosh, who heard the case for approximately ten minutes and deliberated one minute and 40 seconds.

"The complete whitewash of Ray John Schneider indicates carelessness by the district attorney's office which is the direct opposite of the seriousness with which all decent-minded citizens of Los Angeles regard the Klan," declared William Bidnar, executive secretary of the Mobilization.

"The fact that Deputy District Attorney George Johnson asked only about five questions of Schneider and his only defense witness, ex-Chief of Police Cecil Duischeal, and that there were no people's witnesses at all shows a complete disregard of the seriousness of Klan activities.

"Obviously Mr. Johnson had not even bothered to determine whether an honorary captaincy given Schneider in 1934 to act as a strikebreaker can legitimatel- entitle such a shady, dangerous character to carry around a loaded .38-caliber revolver and a billy-club found on him when arrested.

"The people of this city must, therefore let the district attorney's office know in no uncertain terms that if Klan activities continue in this area, that office will bear no little responsibility because of the flagrant whitewash that has taken place in the Schneider case.

District Attorney is Fred Howser, Republican candidate for state attorney general.

WRIGHT FIELD, DAYTON, O.—Three hundred army air force officers have been selected for specialized graduate training in some of the nation's leading universities, air material command officials announced yesterday.

Angelenos Plays Leading Role At Montgomery Convention of Knights & Daughters of Tabor

MONTGOMERY, Ala.—A colorful street parade led by the Raven's crack drill team of Greenville, Mississippi, was one of the features of the 17th Triennial Grand Session of the International Order of Twelve of the Knights and Daughters of Tabor of the World, held here at the Mt. Zion A. M. E. church, corner of Holt and Stone sts. Delegations from California to Virginia were in attendance.

One of the chief speakers at the convention was Daughter Mabel B. Gray, of Los Angeles, who responded to the welcome speech of Sir H. Stoudemire, master of ceremonies. Presiding was Sir P. M. Smith, international chief grand mentor of the world, Mound Bayou, Miss., with Sir W. L. Martin, international chief grand scribe, Los Angeles, at the desk.

In his opening remarks, Smith pointed to the phenomenal growth of the order, its predominance among Negro fraternal orders in the state of Mississippi.

"There" he said, "we have built an organization of more than 45,000 members, with more than $383,000 assets and a business of more than $3,500,000. We are the very proud sole owners of a modern hospital at Mound Bayou, an all-Negro town if you please, which we built and equipped at a cost of more than $100,000. Like other similar orders we pay death benefits, but we cater to saving lives. We stress life and life more abundantly."

Officers elected were: Sir P. M. Smith, I.C.G.M., Mound Bayou, Mississippi; Dtr. Mabel G. Gray, I.G.H.P., Los Angeles, California; Sir Wm. A. Walters, I.V.G.M., Newport News, Va.; Sir W. L. Martin, I.C.G.S., Los Angeles, California; Sir P. A. Howard, I.C.G.T., Montgomery, Alabama; Dtr. Rebecca Green, I.V.G.P., Montgomery, Alabama; Dtr. Ethel Thomas, I.G.R., St. Louis, Mo.; Sir G. L. Brown, I.G.P.P., Opelika, Alabama; Dtr. R. O. Ellsworth, I.G.Q.M., St. Louis, Mo.; Sir J. W. Brown, I.C.G.O., Memphis, Tennessee; Dtr. Katie Ailis, I.G.Ps., Mound Bayou, Mississippi; Dtr. L. L. D. Garner, I.G.I. St., Greenville, Mississippi. Appointed: Sir Winfield Sims, I.G.D.M., Clarksdale, Mississippi; Sir Wm. Johnson, I.G.C.B., Vicksburg, Mississippi.

Most eminent authorities contend that 90 per cent of all chronic diseases are due in most cases to pollution of the blood stream by improper function of the colon, over-taxed kidneys, etc. In most cases a functional disorder causes congestion. To get at the very bottom and basic efforts of all branches of healing, I have installed the new Tox-Eliminator. Tox-Eliminator treatments, by removing the disease producing materials at their foundation in the colon, enable the body to stop further damage and rebuild damaged parts, restoring them to normal. Causes of irritation and numerous infections are removed. Tox-Eliminator treatments are pleasant and not embarrassing. They have no disagreeable features whatsoever, nothing that might offend a person of the most fstidious taste and sensitiveness.

THIS NATURAL DRUGLESS THERAPY ACCOMPLISHES THE FOLLOWING

1—Cleanses colon thoroughly and in a harmless manner.
2—Massages the bowel and gives necessary tone to tissues involved.
3—Purifies the blood stream; proved by microscopic examination after treatments.
4—Relieves rheumatic, arthritic and neuritic pain often in one treatment.
5—Reduces hypertension, or high blood pressure, thus easing the work of the heart and freeing the walls of its cells, and the brain from undue strain.
6—Indicates to patients what foods to avoid, to insure maximum efficiency in digestion.
7—Lessens the burden on the liver and kidneys.
8 Re-establishes a normal peristalsis or natural muscular activity of the intestines.
9—Improves sinus and antrum complications in a few treatments.
10—Insures a good complexion by eliminating causes of poor complexion from the bowels.
11—Assists in preventing the hardening of the arteries by minimizing the deposits of calcium and magnesium salts on arterial walls.

If you are sick, if the orthodox treatments and medicines are costing you money and getting you nowhere, take advantage of the opportunity by getting the most scientific method of treatment available.

VISITING DOCTOR TO MAKE EXAMINATIONS ON ABOVE DATES ONLY

This specialist has been engaged for this clinic and is an expert in the manipulation of the Tox-Eliminator. He is a member of the clinical staff of the Tox-Eliminator Company and will assist in the proceedings during this week... As we can handle only a limited number of consultations and treatments per day it is necessary that appointments be made in advance. We suggest that you make your appointment as early as possible as all available consultation periods will be filled within a short time... Take advantage of this opportunity of getting at the bottom of your trouble... A small charge will be made for any X-Ray picture found necessary. NURSE IN ATTENDANCE

Gunman Kidnaps, Threatens OPA Investigator of Used Car Racket

A gunman kidnaped and threatened the life of an OPA investigator in mid-afternoon in the heart of Hollywood, because of the OPA worker's probing into racketeering by used car dealers.

Victim of the Hollywood gang-type "ride" was working in the OPA price-control office at 6341/2 S. Alvardo. He told police that Monday afternoon, while driving his car in Hollywood, a man jumped from a sedan at the intersection of LaBrea and Beverly blvd., and forced his way into his car.

Krone states the unknown kidnapper pulled a foreign-make gun from a shoulder-holster, and ordered him to "Keep driving, straight ahead."

After a block of silence, the man, described as freckled, about 31, and five feet nine inches tall, snapped at Krone:

"You've been fooling around here for quite some time, and we don't like it. You better start leaving the used car dealers alone or you're liable to get hurt."

At Sunset blvd. and Highland ave. the man ordered Krone to halt, leaped from the car, and dissappeared. Krone immediately notified police, who have not yet apprehended the kidnaper.

Women Jurors Free Elderly Man Accused By 16-Yr. Old Girl

After four hours of deliberation, an all-white, all-woman jury returned a "not guilty" verdict late last week, freeing 69 year old Ben Amos, who was charged with the raping of a 16 year old girl.

The two-day trial, held before superior court Judge Elmer Heald, heard sensational testimony in which attorney Walter L. Gordon Jr. cast such doubt on the background and past activities of the girl, Freddie Jean Drayer, that the jury refused to convict the elderly defendant.

Amos, who lives at 9538 Beach st., stated that the girl's charge was a "confounded lie" and that he had not gotten into bed with her against her will and completed a sexual act. The girl is said to be pregnant, and denies relations with any other man.

Gordon told the jury that in his mind the testimony proved that the girl's story was false, and that she had a similar experience with another man in Texas. It was also admitted that she had written to Amos, purportedly on the advice of her mother, asking for money.

Jobs of Locked Out Vets Await AFL Word

Veterans locked out of the local breweries because they refuse to change their union affiliation are awaiting a decision from the AFL as to whether they will be allowed to go back to work pending settlement of the jurisdictional dispute.

The vets, who worked at the plants before they went into service, state they balk at joining the AFL following the Teamsters alleged "backdoor" agreement with managements. Employers signed with the teamsters, even though the CIO won the NLRB election held to determine a bargaining agent.

The CIO has stated it will withdraw pickets to allow the vets to go back to work, if they are not forced to join the AFL. The latter organization has not yet replied.

Racists Start Fist Fight in Chinese Cafe

A fight in an East Fifth street Chinese cafe ended with police taking Mrs. Clotal Butler, 25, of 709 East 6th st., to the hospital, and arresting Mrs. Katherine Sullivan, 38, white, who lives at a downtown hotel.

Mrs. Butler said she was eating in the cafe when two white women and two white men, objecting to her presence, made remarks, and one of the women spat at her. When she objected, the white woman stated, "No nigger will tell me what to do."

Mrs. Butler then said she objected to this name-calling, and a fist fight ensued. The white woman then left, and shortly came back with Mrs. Sullivan, who had a knife. In the battle that followed Mrs. Sullivan allegedly cut the victim, and then smashed her with tableware, before police broke it up and arrested Mrs. Sullivan.

Tells His Sweetie of Other Girls, Now He Needs Hospital Care

The next time Albert Hudson, 31, of 11213 Compton avenue, talks to his girl friend, he'll include in the conversation only safe topics such as football, movies or the high cost of living. He won't talk about other girls, because:

He tried that early this week. Whereupon his girl friend, who he refuses to identify, screamed at him: "You dirty double-timer." She then whipped out a knife, he states, and started cutting. As a result Hudson landed in the Georgia Street Emergency Hospital, with serious wounds on his body and hands.

'Parade of Stars' at Shrine Aud. Sept. 18

A literal cavalcade of stage, screen, and radio celebrities is rapidly joining the "Parade of Stars," scheduled at the Shrine auditorium, Wednesday evening, September 18.

"An outstanding show for a notable cause" is the promise of A. Barenfeld, local manufacturer who is staging the event in cooperation with the Loe Angeles Council of Pioneer Women. Benefits derived will go to the Pioneer Women's Palestinian child rescue and building fund program.

Eddie Cantor will emcee the evening's entertainment, aided by George Jessel.

Rep. Patterson to Broadcast on FEPC

Congressman Ellis Patterson this week announced that as a result of the flood of mail he has received commenting on his radio reports heard regularly over station KFWB, he will devote all future Friday evening broadcasts to answering his correspondence.

Letters from his listeners were first received when Congressman Patterson discussed the presence of U.S. marines in China. Since then, on his Monday, Wednesday, Friday 8:45 p.m. broadcast Patterson has covered other local and world wide issues.

The current meat crisis, inflation, and the Fair Employment Practice Act which comes up for the consideration of California voters November 5, under Proposition No. 11, are some of the topics Rep. Patterson will discuss during the next week.

Thirty Attendants Needed by Hospital

Combat Expert Seeks Job As Personal Agent

An expert on jui-jitsu and one of the foremost exponents of the art of self-defense and hand-to-hand combat is Gunnery Sgt. Arvin L. Ghazlo, who is now stationed in New Bern, N. C., as chief of the Negro detachment of the Cherry Point Provost Marshall department.

Sgt. Ghazlo expects to be discharged from the marines soon and is desirous of a position as protective agent. He has served in this capacity to many of America's notables.

Any agency that requires the services of Sgt. Ghazlo as a personal protective agent may contact the office of the California EAGLE at 4071 South Central avenue, Los Angeles 11, Calif.

LATL to Give Awards On No Accident Day

Thirteen is considered an unlucky number and, when the thirteenth of the month falls on a Friday, superstitious folk take extra precautions and make sure that their rabbit foot is in an outside pocket.

But, in defense of these "old wives tales," Friday, September 13, has been designated as No ccident Day by the Greater Los Angeles Chapter National Safety Council and the traffic educational unit of the Los Angeles police department who, in cooperation with the Los Angeles Transit Lines, will try to make the 13th unlucky for accidents.

The Los Angeles Transit Lines announced that, in observance of the day, it will present bronze safety awards and Certificates of Merit to 518 of its operators who have each operated safely more than 25,000 miles. This represent a total of approximately 13,000,000 miles over which 117,000,000 Angelenos were safely carried, and is a part of a new program of safety awards by which it is possible for a man to receive a diamond-set pin after completing 125,000 safe miles.

Representatives of the Safety Council and the Police department will take part in the presentation ceremony.

E'side Artists' Work To Be on Exhibit at PAC Dance Sat. Nite

An exhibit and sale of paintings, photographs, and ceramics by Eastside artists will be a major attraction at the City Terrace P.A.C. dance, Saturday evening, September 14, at the Folks House playground, 4018 City Terrace drive.

Edith Miller, who is in charge of the exhibit announces that many of the art pieces will be reasonably priced. Some of the artists who will be exhibiting are Norma Robinson, Max Cossak, James Herson, Parquerette Samuels, Edith Miller, Jane Calander, Emaline Stickgold, Ruth Jacobsen Saturensky, Sara Gorelick, Max Alpher, Ruth Crankle, and Irwin Hammer.

Coordinating Group To Combat Covenants Holds Meeting Tonite

A coordinating council to combat restrictive covenants in Los Angeles has been formed under the leadership of the Civil Rights Congress. The group, already composed of delegates from some 15 community organizations and committees which have as their objective the outlawing of restrictive covenants, has had two meetings. The next meeting of the group will be this evening, September 12, eight o'clock, at the YMCA, 1006 E. 28th st., Room A.

The council urges all unaffiliated groups to join now, and cooperate in the campaign against restrictive covenants. Petitions are available at the Civil Rights Congress office, 326 W. 3rd st., Room 313.

Housing Available Now for Laborers

Housing for railroad track laborers is now available in out-of-town areas according to Arthur Volbrecht, manager of the USES labor office at 8th and San Pedro Sts.

Living accommodations for single men are provided free of charge in bunk houses or tents, Volbrecht said. In some areas, houses are furnished for families. Transportation will be furnished to the job sites, and board can be obtained at reasonable rates at the mess halls.

Urging men interested in section jobs to apply at 8th and San Pedro, or their nearest USES office, Volbrecht said the recently granted wage increases for track laborers makes these positions especially attractive at the present time. No experience is necessary, he added.

Jewish Exhibit Set For Week of Sept. 15

The Soto-Michigan Jewish Community Center has arranged for a showing of the photographic exhibit "The Jew in American Life" during open house week, September 15-21 in room 201, Center building.

"The Jew in American Life" is a factual exhibit which visually presents the answer to many prevailing misconceptions about American Jews. The placards, containing photographs with brief, easily read texts, emphasize the contemporary participation of the Jews in American life as well as their notable contributions in the past to American history and traditions.

The Hour of Achievement

When you strive to learn all you can, there are few things that are impossible to your diligence and skill. In all labor there is profit. I am glad I took the advice of a friend by going to the Bigger's Business college. There, I've gleaned the knowledge that I didn't possess. Shorthand, typing, and bookkeeping have aided much to my increased capabilities. I believe that every ambitious person should strive to develop his talent. With our modern institutions and our very capable professors to instruct all, everyone should strive to reach his hour of achievement.

It would be wonderful if we could remember that we have only 24 hours a day income from God. And the wonderful thing about this income is that we can save it by only spending it in the manner which I have already mentioned, striving to improve ourselves. We can do this by attending the Biggers Business college, of which I am a student, two hours daily; or attending some similar institution. There is nothing more gratifying than self-approval. By embracing these opportunities one can reach great heights.

In order to do this we must of necessity raise the level of our capacity to think, which is one of the greatest results of education. Through a greater thinking capacity we can more optimistically look into the future and plan to do bigger and better things. I can see myself, at times, sitting at a typewriter working very rapidly with the greatest of ease.

Then I look back at the past and can see how much progress I have thus made. I'm glad that I took the advice of my friend before it was too late in life for me to take advantage of such an opportunity.

Though it is popularly said that it is never too late to do a good thing, our class motto is "To the victor belongs the spoils." And we are the victors, as I know that you, too, can be. I know of no better way than by enrolling now in the Biggers Business college.

Everyone knows how difficult it is to climb a steep hill. But upon reaching the top we can proudly look back and be glad of the effort we expended in reaching the goal. My classmates and I have enjoyed many congenial moments together and I have met friends with whom I share common interests.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. — (NNPA) —Ground will be broken this week for a new subdivision for Negro veterans here, and contract for construction of 66 duplex dwellings and a store on the site will be awarded also this week, John Leland, local real estate operator, announced yesterday. Cost of the project, which has been approved for financing by the Federal Housing Administration, was set at approximately $550,000.

loose on the streets, and the mayor had better realize it."

After the talks, Apter stated that he believed the mayor would make an effort to see that additional funds are procured to keep the playground operating. He acknowledged the need for the recreational area in the district.

Included in the delegation was Mrs. Grace Bederio, with her five children. Hre husband was killed by the Japanese in the Philippines during the invasion. "Is a playground too much to ask for our children?" she asked.

Civic, Labor Leaders Blast So. Pacific Jim Crow Policy As NNC Calls for Stiff Fight

sengers," company officials asserted, claiming that S. P. had provided a "special coach" for its colored clientel "to save them" the "embarrassment and inconvenience" of being segregated east of El Paso.

In mobilizing the citizens of the community into action, NNC got statements of the reaction of prominent civic, church and youth leaders. Rev. Clayton D. Russell, Independent Church of Christ, and president of the Victory Committee declared:

"This policy of Jim Crow has to be crushed. And right now! We cannot let Southern Pacific bring Georgia's customs to California. This, in my opinion, is a direct violation of the recent ruling of the U. S. supreme court which prohibits segregation of races on buses operating in interstate commerce. I am calling upon the citizens of Los Angeles and the leading organizations of the community to marshall their forces, now."

Norman O. Houston, president Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Co:

"The Southern Pacific doesn't have to worry about Negroes being embarrassed or inconvenienced. What we, the Negro people want—and demand—are the full privileges granted to the citizens of California."

Don Derricks, United Negro and Allied Veterans of America:

"The young men and women of Los Angeles who gave so valiantly of their strength and their lives in the war just ended are not going to stand by idly and watch anyone bring their fascist ideologies here. We have to nip this thing in the bud."

Rev. H. Boswell, Bowen Memorial Methodist church:

"The Negro people of Los Angeles must not allow further inroads to be made on their rights and privileges as citizens of this state. This form of discrimination will spread if we don't act immediately."

IKE ADAMS, NAACP Youth Council:

"This Jim Crow development is only part of a larger pattern which becomes clearer each day as reactionary elements within our city strive to crush minority groups. Knowing this, we must see to it that not only this discrimination is stopped, but that all attempts to deprive any peoples of their rights is met by organized resistance."

Phil Connelly, CIO leader:

"I want to assure the people of this city that organized labor will throw all its forces into this fight. We are fighting Jim Crow in the very heart of the South. We cannot let it spring up here."

The National Negro Congress is planning to hold an emergency meeting where a clear-cut course of action will be mapped out to wage an effective fight in wiping out Jim.

Negro Musicians for which, as state organizer, she at one time formed a chapter of musicians in Los Angeles.

In her particular interest in the advancement of women, she is active with the Metropolitan Los Angeles Council of the National Council of Negro Women, Civil Service and Professional Women, and Women in Government which is a state-wide organiaztion of high-ranking California women officials.

Mrs. Harang has pioneered the way in civil service for her contemporaries since 1927 in San Diego, Calif., her family residence; in San Pedro, Calif., with the U. S. government, then later in Los Angeles when she was the first Negro stenographic appointee in the county assessor's office. She has advanced in her civil service career through courage, stamina and efficiency to secretarial work in th County Department of Institutions, and most recently as secretary to the California Fish and Game Commission and to Congressman George P. Miller, who at that time was the chief executive officer of the Fish and Game Commission.

She is the wife of Reginald W. Harang, member of an old New Orleans family. Harange is supervising clerk in charge of the superior court files in the county clerk's office. He is the first Negro to hold such a position in Los Angeles and is a popular member of the Pacific Town Club and of the Phi Beta Sigma fraternity. Both are communicants of St. Philip's Episcopal church where Harang lends his voice in service to the choir.

While officers asked Mrs. Archilque to swear out a complaint, Baker came back with a gun, according to the officers.

"I headed for the police car," stated Riskey in his official report of the shooting, "and was going to call for assistance and suspect (Baker) then fired a shot at me. He then immediately turned and pointed the gun at my partner, officer Cluberton, and stated:

"'You're next, you ————,' as he turned on my partner I fired a shot which struck the suspect on the right side of the chest. He then got up and staggered into his home and fell on the daybed in his front room."

Officer Riskey asserted Baker was "very intoxicated." As an aftermath of the shooting Baker was stated in police reports to be under suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder for firing the shot at the policeman.

Long Beach Has Discussion On School Problems

An inspiring meeting was held in the Nursery School auditorium recently with the Cub Scouts opening the meeting with the presentation of the colors.

H. O. Sibrie, president of the Tenant's Council, presented Lionless Helen Chandler Ryan, community organizer, who had a very interesting program outlined.

Discussion centered on educational problems from kindergarten to junior high school. Some of the speakers were: Mrs. Elizabeth Hudson, the only woman member of the Long Beach Board of Education, George L. Geiger, principal of Garfield Elementary school, Dr. Harold Brooks, principal of Washington Junior high school; Dr. A. Edward Adams, head of the New Stevens Junior high school, Lenard Hardie, head of the Long Beach Adula Educational Project; Dr. James Houloose, M. D. head of the health dept.; Raymond C. Peterson, representing the attendance dept.; Miss Onnis Fletcher, and Miss Ethel Bevan, representing the Social Welfare League, Miss Bourne, representing the City Library and Walter Burrell, representing the City Recreation Commission, and Messrs Peterson, Dawson, Brady and Mrs. Molino representing FPHA.

Other community leagues were introduced including Mesdames: Annie Hall and Agnes M. Smith, leaders in the Girl Scout movement; Mrs. Annabelle Cobb, Dean Mother of the Cub Scouts; McCall Smith, Scoutmaster; W. O. Hall Jr., Asst. Scoutmaster and Rev. James of the St. Mark Baptist church was also present.

The meeting closed with refreshments and everyone went home with a clearer understanding of the undertakings of the school curriculum.

Ancrum's Store Has Reopened

Ancrum's Ready-to-Wear store has reopened. Mrs. Ancrum has recently returned from the East, after having been called home to Detroit upon the death of her husband.

Mrs. Ancrum is the mother of Timmie Rogers, dancer of stage and screen, comedian and song writer. Timmie is now playing an engagement at Cafe Society, New York. He gave two parties for his mother while she was in New York and old friends were very glad to see her.

Mrs. Ancrum visited Canada, Asbury PJark, N. Y., and Kansas City. She returned to L. A., August 30. Friends and customers are glad to see Mrs. Ancrum back in business after a much needed rest. Her store opens at 9 a. m. and closes at 7 p. m., Thursdays. On Saturdays, store hours are from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

By Monday evening, four arrests had been made in which the police detained Richard Shepherd, 19 year old youth, who is reported to have made a confession.

According to eye witnesses and reports given an EAGLE representative, the first attack was directed against a group of Negro boys who were playing near Clark's Grocery store, Westminister and Broadway, while waiting for friends to join them for the movies.

"We were just playing around," Clifton Alexander is reported to have told his step-father, "when some white men pulled up and said: 'Go ahead niggers, fight'!"

When the youngsters refused to fight among themselves for the edification of the white sadists, some of the men got out of the car and viciously kicked 15-year old Rio Alexander. A white clerk from the grocery store broke up the fight. The attackers drove away.

Fifteen minutes later, the same boys were again attacked by an enlarged gang. Eddie Muldrow, 15, who recognized the men, ran into his home at 525 Westminister, and was pursued by a man who kicked open the door and entered the house, retreating only when confronted by Eddie and his mother.

In the meantime the hoodlums, catching 13-year old Clifton Alexander, brutally beat the child, threw him in a car and drove down some streets in the Negro community holding his limp body in the air shouting, "We've got a ————and we're gonna lynch him."

Two white women who called out protests were cursed and threatened and Clifton was thrown from the fast-moving car. Picked up in a semi-conscious state by a white woman, the youngster suffered lacerations contusions and backsprain.

When the boys told their parents of the fight, their mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wallace, went to the grocery store to learn the facts. They were reassured by the white men in the store that the boys had committed no nuisance but had been attacked without provocation.

As they left the store, a group of men on motorcycles came up, dismounted, and attacked Mr. and Mrs. Wallace, the two boys, Rio and Clifton, and Mrs. Belle McClendon and her son, James. More white men drove up in cars and a free-for-all began. Unarmed, but trying to protect his wife, Wallace was struck over the head with a baseball bat. Seemingly satisfied by the sight of blood, the white ruffians turned tail and fled.

The EAGLE learned that on his present visit, Smith will be presented by the California National Association, which already has made a bid to the board of education for use of the Polytechnic high school auditorium for a Smith meeting.

It was also learned that Vierling Kersey, superintendent of public schools, received permission to grant the request after it had been handled as a routine matter by he board of education.

Without mentioning his name, Foreman made reference to a dispatch from Paris which quoted Lieut. Gen. W. Bedell Smith as saying, "It is difficult for a citizen of the United States to understand the desire to perpetuate racial minorities rather than absorb them."

"We approve heartily the stand which our delegation takes in Paris with respect to other minority groups," Foreman said. "We only wish that the same amount of effort and leadership could be given to solve our minority problems in this country.

"If the elections recently held in the South had been watched by U. S. government officials as those in some European countries, and if all the people over 21 had been allowed to vote, the South would have far better representation in congress and our government would be better prepared to solve the problems which face us at home and abroad."

Foreman also made reference to charges of racial discrimination made to President Truman by Charles G. Bolt, president of the American Veterans, Inc. "With conditions of veterans and racial minorities, especially Negroes, being what they are," Foreman asked that "charity begin at home, if we are to bring our domestic and foreign policies into harmony."

THE MANTLE OF LEADERSHIP SLIPPED FROM BRITISH SHOULDERS

It was after 2 a.m. when finally the British party said their good-nights. I helped Father to his cabin.

"A real old Tory, isn't he," Father grinned. 'A real old Tory, of the old school. Oh," he smiled, "I'll be able to work with him. Don't worry about that. We'll get along."

"So long as you keep off the subject of India," I said.

"Mmm, I don't know. I think we'll talk some more about India, before we're through. And Burma. And Indo-China. And Indonesia. And all the African colonies. And Egypt and Palestine. We'll talk about 'em all. Don't forget one thing. Winnie has one supreme mission in life, but only one. His one big job is to see that Britain survives this war. His mind is perfect for that of a war leader. But will Winston Churchill lead England after the war? It would never work."

Around 11 the next morning, the P.M. came to the Augusta again. He was with Father for two hours, and his business was the Charter. I was in and out of the cabin, wondering how Churchill would square the Charter with the things he'd been saying the night before. I guess he was wondering, too.

It ought to be set down that Sumner Welles was the man who worked hardest on the Charter. It certainly isn't his fault, nor Father's, that it hasn't been better lived up to.

That night, the P.M. was back with us for dinner. This time our dinner was really informal; only Harry Hopkins, Franklin, Jr., and I were with them.

Gradually, very gradually, the mantle of leadership was slipping from British shoulders to American. We saw it, when, late in the evening, there came one flash of the argument that had held us hushed the night before. In a sense, it was to be the valedictory of Churchill's outspoken Toryism, as far as Father was concerned.

Churchill had got up to walk about the room. At length, he paused in front of Father, looking at him, and then he brandished a stubby forefinger under Father's nose.

"Mr. President!" he cried. "I believe you are trying to do away with the British Empire. Every idea you entertain about the structure of the post-war world demonstrates it. But in spite of that"—and his forefinger waved—"in spite of that, we know that you constitute our only hope. And"—his voice sank dramatically—"you know that we know it. You know that we know that without America, the Empire won't stand."

Churchill admitted, in that moment, that he knew the peace could only be won according to precepts which the United States of America would lay down. He was acknowledging that British colonial policy would be a dead duck, and British attempts to dominate world trade would be a dead duck, and British ambitions to play off the U.S.R.R. against the U.S.A. would be a dead duck.

Or would have been, if Father had lived.

TIME WAS AN IMPORTANT ELEMENT IN THE GAMBLE THEY TOOK

Just before 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, the Prince of Wales headed back for the wars. I was at Father's side, his arm on mine, as the British warship put out to sea.

The weather was thick there was no chance for flying. Eventually, Lord Beaverbrook and I were set ashore, he to return to Washington on Lend-Lease business and I to return to my survey work.

"The Beaver" and I began our trip on a train that was a real antique, and our uncomfortable ride didn't sit well with my astonishing little companion. When a trainman made an understandable error, "the Beaver" let him have it for nearly three minutes in a wonderfully shrill voice, interlacing his choicer comments with some of the more pungent Anglo-Saxon four-letter words. That trainman must have either been a philosopher or deaf, to have taken such abuse.

Whenever I wasn't distracted by these pyrotechnics, I was trying to assay the significance of the last few days. I was impressed by the record of those days then, and I still am today. American destiny was in firm hands, in the hands of men who had striven and were still striving to keep our country at peace, no matter what the means, while still protecting the longest-range national interest.

Time was still an important element, in the gamble the President and his Chiefs of Staff made that August in the harbor at Argentia. As we know today, time was running out, and at a rate almost too fast for our production quotas to keep pace with it.

In America, there was still a marked complacency — a complacency fed by an important section of the American press: the Hearst papers, the Washington Times-Herald, the Chicago Tribune, and the Scripps-Howard papers. Sometimes in unison, sometimes in harmony, they sang a sweet siren's song of indifference, placidity, passivity.

And the tempo of our times is still such that our opinions are not keyed to history but to headlines. They are molded by scare print on the pages of newspapers—certain newspapers often irresponsible in the past and therefore doubly to be doubted in the tremulous period ahead of us.

ROOSEVELT AND WELLES WERE VERY PROUD OF THE CHARTER

By 2:30 p.m. the next day, everybody had reached final agreements on the joint statements that were to be issued. The work of the conference was over, and I knew that Welles and Father were proud.

It would be announced by the President and the Prime Minister on behalf of the United States and the United Kingdom:

1. That their countries seek no aggrandizement, territorial or other.

2. That they desire to seek no territorial changes that do not accord with the freely expressed wishes of the peoples concerned.

3. That they respect the rights of all peoples to choose the form of government under which they will live. . . .

4. That they will endeavor . . . to further the enjoyment of all states . . . of access to the trade and raw materials of the world. . . .

5. That they desire to bring about the fullest collaboration between all nations in the economic field with the object of securing . . . improved labor standards, economic adjustment and social security.

6. That . . . they hope to see established a peace . . . [such] that all men in all the lands may live out their lives in freedom from want and fear.

7. That such a peace should enable all men to traverse the high seas and oceans without hindrance.

8. That they believe that all nations of the world must come to the abandonment of the use of force. Since no future peace can be maintained if . . . armaments continue to be employed by nations which threaten aggression outside their frontiers, they believe, pending the establishment of a wider and permanent system of general security, that the disarmament of such nations is essential. They will likewise aid and encourage all other practicable measures which will lighten . . . the crushing burden of armaments.

This statement seems to me to have a peculiar and bitter historic interest especially in the light of the later violations of it.

Leaving the first two points aside, we pause at the third to reflect on the peoples of Java and Indonesia. Pass over the fourth, its mysteries are too deep. The fifth constitutes a pious echo of our once-high hopes. The sixth still waits, at this writing, on the morrow. The seventh seems safe, at the moment.

The last is especially cogent today. It should be drummed into the ears of men like Major General Groves, whose insistence on an ever-growing stockpile of atom bombs seems increasingly to be taking the place of a mature and clear American foreign policy.

Gerald L. K. Smith Comes to Town

After being jailed in Chicago, pushed around and out of many of the metropolitan cities of the nation, Gerald L. K. Smith puts out his shingle announcing another series of talks in Los Angeles.

If preaching a doctrine of hate against Jews and Negroes is not subversive, then we would like to know what is!

Our worthy Board of Education, it is understood, has granted the use of Polly Hi to the Smith followers—and this despite the fact that an aggregation of the minorities of this city met the Board on the occasion of that other visit by Smith, and demanded that he be denied the use of one of our schools because of his race-baiting speeches.

Fellow citizens, what are we going to do about this?

Who is running this city, the people who pay the taxes or the people who receive them?

"THERE'S NO PLACE FOR THIS"

Solving the Housing Situation

The World War vets of England, instead of waiting quietly until Parliament, the Prime Minister, the King, or somebody gets around to building homes for them, have masterfully taken the responsibility upon themselves and are solving their own housing problems.

They have taken over some of London's swankiest apartment houses, that were renting to lords and ladies, and have settled down in them to keep house for themselves. The apartments were vacant, awaiting their former aristocratic tenants' return from vacations.

"But," said the husky Britons of World War II, "what the bloody blazes! we fought this war, didn't we? Fought it for just such blokes as lives in these houses. They're empty. We need homes. So why shouldn't we take over?"

What about America? Here our people are living in huts, in garages without floors and windows, in tents, in positive squalor. We are all frightened almost to death of that dread disease, polio, but at the same time we are doing everything to encourage its spread by the unsanitary conditions of the poorer sections of the city, especially here on the East Side.

There are empty mansions in Los Angeles—in Beverly Hills, in Hollywood, on Sugar Hill. Why are they not turned over to our war veterans? To the people who haven't even a sheep stable in which to stay for the night? We wouldn't want our war vets to take matters into their own hands, as their English buddies did—but at the same time, why shouldn't they?

Stop Lynching!

The 84th anniversary of President Abraham Lincoln's signing of the Emancipation Proclamation was hailed by a group of the nation's most prominent citizens.

The group headed by Paul Robeson and which includes Professor Albert Einstein, Lena Horne, Bartley Crum, Dr. D. V. Jemison, Lloyd K. Garrison, Reid Robinson, and Robert W. Kenny, is headed for the nation's capital in Washington, D. C.

It is believed that such a cross-section of American first rate citizens will impress Washington that an all-out high is being waged not only to save Negroes from the lynch mob, but also to clean the blood-stained face of America from the scorn and disrespect of some Europeans.

President Truman should be called upon by such a delegation and told to speak out in open court on lynching. Likewise the Department of Justice should do its duty without reservation in the matter of bringing to justice people who take the law in their own hands in both Mississippi and in California.

Lynching must be stopped, and until it is there will be no Democracy.

Democracy cannot be talked into effective action, and action alone will bring it into fruition.

Brazil Food Riots vs. American Race Riots

Down in Brazil the people are breaking into shops and marching through the streets shouting for more food. Prices in some cases have gone up 300 per cent. Many merchants, it was believed, were keeping food on their shelves for higher prices. These merchants were made to feel the general indignation of the public, and although they clanged shut their emergency doors and window coverings, in most cases it was too late and the angry mobs stormed through and helped themselves.

Martial law has been proclaimed and the cities of Rio de Janerio and Sao Paulo, where most of the rioting occurred, are now quite under military rule.

In the United States of America we are not suffering at present for food, even though prices are sky-rocketing. But there is a different kind of rioting going on in America. Under cover, as it were, but none the less deadly.

It is that of race rioting. Recently a little Negro boy in Venice was beaten unconscious by a gang of white hoodlums who must be relatives of the lynchers of Georgia and Mississippi. He and two of his little companions, as we understand the story, were simuly strolling along the street, punching and hitting each other in fun; when a car drove up to the curb and a white man ordered them to fight in earnest. Frightened, two of them ran away, but the third ran into a nearby store where he was set upon by the gangsters in the car and beaten unconscious. A Negro man who came to the assistance of the children was also set upon and beaten.

In Europe the mobsters who helped Hitler spread his race hatred poison will soon be sentenced to death. And all the world will honor the judges who will pronounce the verdict. The criminals will be justly punished, it will say.

Here in America we are sitting on top of a powder keg of racial hatred and bitterness that may blow us higher than an atom bomb. But we complacently look the other way whenever an "unfortunate incident" occurs.

What is it going to take to arouse us? Will we wait until the chains of Hitlerism, of race riots, of race murders and lynchings, are brought to our very doors and thrown into our laps?

Incidents of the kind that happened in Venice should arouse every red-blooded American in the vicinity. The perpetrators of that crime should be tracked down mercilessly and no quarter be shown when they are brought to justice.

Martial law was proclaimed in Brazil following the rioting for food. What's the matter with having a little of that same kind of law for the localities where race hatreds and beatings are popping up? If the police departments of those towns cannot or will not cope with the situation, the State can and should.

The Road to Health

By ARTHUR C. FALLS, M.D.

HEALTHY SCHOOL DAYS

Within a short time, young boys and girls throughout the country will be returning to school or will be entering the first grade. Their success in their studies will depend to a great extent upon their health at the beginning of school.

To explain what I mean, let me tell you a story about two little girls who started school the same year.

Eva and Laura were normal children. They had lived next door to each other all their lives and were fast friends. Both were excited about being 6 years old and ready for school.

Most people thought that Laura was a little brighter than Eva and would do better in school. Eva was kind of slow and deliberate, and people said she would not be able to keep up with Laura, who had a quick mind.

Actually, however, there was not as much difference between Eva and Laura as there was between their parents. Eva's mother believed that doctors ought to be called on to keep people well, not just to pull them out of an illness. Laura's mother thought this was all foolishness. She never could see any sense in calling the doctor unless somebody in the family was very ill.

Eva was taken to the doctor at regular intervals for a physical examination and her mother insisted, up to the time the child entered school, that she rest every afternoon. The mother planned her meals carefully so that Eva got plenty of milk and fresh vegetables and fruits in her diet. She would not permit her daughter to spoil her appetite by eating sweets between meals.

By the time Eva was 4 years old, she had had injections to protect her from diphtheria. Not that there was a diphtheria epidemic in our town at that time, but just to be sure that Eva would never catch this disease which can be so harmful to children.

Of course, both Eva and Laura were vaccinated against smallpox before they started school. Laura's mother didn't even see any point in this, but the school authorities were firm and so Laura was vaccinated.

Evetrything went fine with both girls during the first few weeks of school. Then one child in the class came to school with a cold and soon two-thirds of the children had colds. Laura was one of the first to catch cold. It was so bad that she had to stay home for several days. Eva was one of the few children in the class who did not catch cold.

When Laura came back to school, she had lost a good deal of her pep and got tired easily. Then one day Laura complained of aching pains and of being chilly, then hot. Her mother kept her home and sent for the doctor. It developed that the child had diphtheria. She was very ill and it was two months before the doctor said she could go back to school. By this time, she had fallen so far behind in her school wor kthat her mother decided to keep her at home for the rest of the term.

And so Eva, the slow child, got ahead of Laura, the quick one, in school. Eva was not absent a day that first year and got among the highest grades in her class.

I know that Eva was no "smarter" than Laura. Her one advantage over Laura was her health. Her mother saw to it that she kept well. She didn't "just hope" her daughter would not be sick. She took her to the doctor at least once a year for a physical check-up, she let her take injections to protect her from contagious diseases and she gave her wholesome, nourishing food.

All mothers should be sure that their children are healthy before school stars. A healthy beginning in school will help the child get the most out of school and will decerase the chances he or she will miss many school days because of illness.

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By LEW GARRETT
(Guest Columnist)

A lot of people who are interested in labor are constantly asking, "When are the CIO and AFL going to get together and become one unified group?"

It would be cheerful to reply, "Any day now." But it would also be burying one's head in the sands and refusing to see the facts of life. The realistic answer is that the two giants of labor aren't going to merge in the foreseeable future.

That is guaranteed by the cleavage in ideology between the AFL and CIO. The AFL is a group that allows itself to support such politicians as Warren, Nye and McClanahan; welcome John L. Lewis into its ranks with open arms; allows Jim Crow auxiliary unions, and signs "backdoor" and "sweetheart" agreements with employers such as has recently occured in the breweries and canneries of California.

With such national policies as these the AFL just won't mix with the CIO and its militant Political Action Committee, banning of racial prejudice, and truculent fights for civil rights.

But below the top leadership of the AFL, in the rank and file, are signs of a vast longing to cooperate and win the fights of labor together with the CIO. The local strike against the Herald-Express, with the AFL printing trades craft unions fighting shoulder-to-shoulder with the CIO Newspaper Guild, has put Hearst on the outside looking in. He had counted on disunity, but what he got was the bitter dose of the AFL and CIO marching hand in hand to win wages and better working conditions.

Contrast this, however, to the waterfront strike which finds Harry Lundberg, secretary of the AFL Sailors Union of the Pacific, arrogantly refusing help from the CIO Committee for Maritime Unity. The CMU, setting aside past differences, offers a friendly hand to their brother seamen, but Lundberg, because of his hatred and jealously of Harry Bridges, slaps it down.

It is to be hoped that national leaders of both unions will take careful note of both of these actions. Logical conclusion can only be that the Printing Trades and Newspaper Guild, in marching together, go "furthest the fastest." If such action is duplicated elsewhere, then the way toward eventual harmony between the AFL and CIO will be cleared, and the time when both join together as one and fight the battles of labor hand in hand will be only a matter of time.

'Burn the Books'

Our latest invitation to medieval decadence fulminates obscenely from the Hearst press. "Burn the Books." From initial ranting over filth and salaciousness the gamut has been run; the mental processes of the native fascist minds find the same level of those of their comrades abroad.

One of Hearst's favorite group of fledglings proposes that tomes not to their taste—and therefore filthy and un-American—be the fuel for celebrant conflagrations throughout our land. The idea, hardly original, is front-page stuff for the Hearstian editors.

Start out with Memoirs of Hecate County. Throw the opposition off the track by branding the innocent books as sexful, sinful and a menace to our youth. Add the works of Thomas Wolfe, Joris Huysmans, James Huneker, Whitman, Steinbeck, Dos Passos, Joyce. Toss Strange Fruit to the roaring tongues of flame. Seize the pornography of Aldous Huxley, D. H. Lawrence, Baudelaire, Flaubert, Heine. The works of Havelock Ellis and Freud pile high on the satanic torch.

Now, quickly, while the mob spirit lynches freedom and reason, sacrifice the real victim. Into the flames with every word and voice that dares to challenge the master's voice and master's race. Wrest from the libraries their subversive works by Voltaire, Marx, Darwin, Socrates; burn the blasphemies of Paine, Veblen, Lincoln, Roosevelt—did they not preach equality and champion the oppressed?

This orgy, conceived in fear and sired by hate, may reach but one conclusion in its circuit of oppression. The final book to feed the flame of hate can be but one:

"Whosoever shall do the will of God, the same is my brother, and my sister, and mother." The words of Jesus in the Book of Mark cannot be left to challenge a doctrine of intolerance in a dark world of hate and suffering.

The fires have burned in other lands; in many ages have the books piled high, been sacrificed on the altars of reaction. Ours is a free country, but the symptoms of slavery may be bought each morning for a nickel.

To fight for freedom with a gun against a foreign army is far easier a task than this fight against the home-bred foe. But this is our post-war test. This is the good fight to prove the righteousness of our bloody battles against fascism abroad. To lose it will be to hand the final victory to Hitler, Mussolini, and to all of their kind that went before them.

Say You Saw It In The Eagle

THINGS I SEE

By Marian Inglewood

The unsigned letter written to The California Eagle by "A Sincere Reader" recently, in which the letter deplored the Eagle's "frank and open support of Communism" is intriguing. It is so evidently honest and sincere. But it is the honesty and sincerity of an uninformed indivjdual.

Communism, according to the 1945 edition of Webster's New International Dictionary, is "a system of social organization in which goods are held in common." A second definition says, "any theory or system of social organization involving common ownership of the agents of production and some approach to the equal distribution of the products of industry."

Now what, I ask you is the matter with that?

This system of "social organization in which goods are held in common" was the social organization of the very first Christians. You read in your Bible "They had all things in common.—Neither was there any among them that lacked."

This social organization of the first disciples of Jesus continued as far as the fourth Christian century. Then, surrounded as they were by the private-profit system, they gradually yielded to the love of money and to self-interest, and the church, too, became a part of the capitalist system.

It is so today. And as the Pharisees of Jesus' day opposed Him and His teachings concerning the establishment of the Kingdom of Heaven upon earth, so the religious leaders of today are opposing anything and everything that looks toward the coming of that Kingdom when all things shall be held in common again. You know and all your friends know, surely, that when His Kingdom comes we won't have an economic system in which a few at the top revel in wealth they cannot spend while millions at the bottom die of slow starvation. No, we shall have Communism then, pure Communism, and even the animals will have freedom from want and freedom from fear.

You said "Communistic Russia was cradled in atheism:" Well, now, there can be two opinions on that, you know. The Russian people½ it is true, opposed the Greek Orthodox Catholic Church because that church in Russia worked hand and glove with the czarist regime to oppress the Russians. And when they had their revolution and overthrew their government, as we did in 1776, the Greek Orthodox church as part of that government, went with it. But Communism, a social organization, per se, has nothing whatever to do with religion. Had the established church been a bulwark of defense for the common people, as it should have been, it would doubtless have been honored and glorified in the chaos that followed.

Anyway the churches were not destroyed, as some people would have us believe. They are used for hospitals, schools, libraries, etc. Some are still used for church services, if the people want to worship there. And some people say there is more of God, the God of the Bible, in Russia today than in all the rest of the world put together. God has been waiting all these thousands of years for His church to do something about bringing the Kingdom of Heaven to earth. It has done nothing. Therefore He had to look to some nation that would. Russia was that nation.

Then here is the climax to your letter. You say that Communistic Russia represents the land of Magog as described in the 38th chapter of Ezekial. "All Bible students," you say, "believing in prophecy are agreed on this identification without controversy." The Scripture here referred to states, "I am against thee, O Gog:" Then you draw the conclusion taht God is against Communism, per se, and declare that "Negroes and all right-thinking people should stay away from a movement that God in no certain terms declares He is against."

This would be a laugh. Really. If it were not so tragic. For thousands, even millions of earnest-minded Christians are being deceived by this palpable lie concocted by some private-profit seeking "Bible student" as a mere "guess" at first, and then spread to a gossipy bit of rumor spreads.

Almost 2000 years ago "Bible students" had decided exactly how the Messiah should come. When He came as a carpenter, a workingman, and not as they had decided He would they crucified Him.

Are you in the same boat? A few did not follow those teachings of the "Bible students" of long ago. Many today do not believe your Magog doctrine. Among these churches every Negro can be proud to say the Negro churches lead. Why do you believe it? Have you ever tried coming to Jesus by night as Nicodemus did, concerning the question of Communism, the Gog and Magog theory, the establishment of the Kingdom of Heaven upon earth? Try it. Try it for a month, at least. See what happens.

The Dynamic Hampton ---Idea Man Of Swing

Lionel Hampton or "Hamp" as his friends call him is a great man, not only a great musician but a man of ideas and vision. Perhaps when you see him "blowing his top," so to speak, before his vibraharp, his eyes, his mouth open, sweat rolling from his brow, you think of him as a musician, with that personal magnetism which can drive people into a frenzy, but one whose only role is to play music. He is all of this and more, of course,—a fine musician and a versatile one. He can play any instrument in the band. Few are aware of this talent, as usually his showmanship takes the form of beating his beloved drums or his vibraharp.

Only his intimate friends realize that he is fairly seething with ideas which burst forth volcano-like, and that he has a wide-awake far-seeing mind. Here again Lionel's genius comes to the fore in always selecting that individual best equipped to carry out his ideas. It would be hardly possible otherwise for him to direct his orchestra and manage several enterprises on the side.

Because of this uncanny insight about his associates, he has been able to establish a thriving publishing house, Tempo and Swing, which owns all of the songs he has made possible, including Flying Home. Then with Tempo and Swing on its feet, Lionel succeeded in having copies of his Lionel Hampton Swing Book published, an innovation in the field in that it is the first of its kind possessing popular appeal. It contains pictures of most swing stars of yesterday and today, articles, poems, jive talk, and it was a complete sell-out. This book appeared miraculously in spite of paper and printing empasses, at the present time, engravings are being held for a reprint, and a publishing house in Great Britain has secured its exclusive rights in several European countries pending a change in the paper situation.

Hamp-Tone Records Company, of which Mrs. Gladys Hampton is president, is another Hampton dream.

Hamp Tone Records affiliated with Musicraft Records has sold over 150,000 records and has made phenomenal strides in its month of existence. Lionel's big dream is to discover new and young talent. That Hampton, like the old maestros of Storyville Jazz days, is a great inspiration to youth may be seen by his young discovery, Johnny Griffin, the 17 year old alto saxophonist from DuSable high school in Chicago who has become such a favorite, Wini Brown, sensational throaty-voiced young high school graduate, also from Chicago, and the Hampton youth music clubs formed by his young fans.

The young adore Hamp as he has that spirit which appeals to them; the old love him because he makes them young. He has been acclaimed for instance by the Washington, D. C. Commission of Junior Police for his work in alleviating juvenile delinquency—and others have saluted him for his efforts in building interracial goodwill and harmony.

To recapture a little of his childhood, we heard an old friend of his say, "Lionel was always a mischievous, engaging little boy whom you could refuse nothing." Lionel tells about his childish escapades in Louisville and Birmingham with a distinct relish. But his interest in music began here in Chicago when he was about ten. He used to listen to Carroll Dickerson's band rehearse afternoons at the Grand Terrace by climbing up into an open window to watch them perform. Here he would beat on the window sill with his fingers and here was born the desire to be a drummer. This ambition was furthered by the Sisters of St. Elizabeth's Catholic school which he attended after leaving Doolittle Elementary school. He was greatly encouraged by Sister Theresa, his favorite—who even now treasures a childhood snapshot of Lionel, and was persuaded to part with it only because his wife Gladys wanted it—and he always visits Sister Theresa when in Chicago. The story is told that she found him drumming on his desk in the sedate school, and he remarked that he wanted to be a drummer.

"Then don't be just a drummer," she said, and of course he became one of the great. Lionel says, "We sure had a good time at St. Elizabeth's, the bunch of us; we were really bad." But the sisters adore him.

Lionel played bass drums in the Chicago Defender band under the tutelage of Major N. Clark Smith. The African rhythm beat of Lionel's orchestra may have had its origin in Major Smith's music as he picked up the rhythm during his travels in Africa with President Teddy Roosevelt.

Many fail to realize that his sweet music is as lovely as his "jump" music is lively. But his "jump" music has the day. "Flying Home" has changed several times, each time becoming more of a jump; "Air Mail Special" raises everyone out of their seats as does "Hamp's Boogie," and his latest chant "Hey Ba Ba Rebop" has taken the nation by storm. It has had rooms and cocktails named for it at both The Aquarium in New York and The Band Box in Chicago and has become a national "by-word" —on the lips of everyone.

He has a certain mystical power over audiences, leading his band with his feet, making little shuffling steps and invariably ending by jumping into the air. He has "that beat" and as he says it "that swing." He also has a natural husky singing voice that "sends."

"Hamp is like a little boy in his enthusiasm, excitement, and joy of living which seems contagious to all who meet him. He doesn't like aeroplanes, loves to sleep in drawing rooms on trains, and incidentally, he is one of those persons who can relax completely after giving his work all he possesses. This in itself is God's gift to the great.

Lionel's dynamic exciting personality keeps his band refreshed. This is the quality that makes them popular. They sincerely love their music and in turn, this spirit spreads to the audiences which has a startling effect upon people they are electrified by the spectacle and the power of this band and by the personality of the leader.

Lionel captures the imagination and drives his audiences practically insane, but in spite of acclaim he rides this wave of popularity modestly always seeming a little amazed at his success as the "hero" of the swing world and always looking ahead to some dream of his that he must accomplish even while he has attained the heights to which he is destined. He is tireless, fearless and forever changing—the spirit of youth and excitement.

From an Indian's Standpoint

By DALJIT SINGH SADHARIA

NEHRU LEADS INDIA

The installation of Jawahar Lall Nehru as minister-president of foreign affairs for all India marks a turning point in the political history of India and Asia. After more than 300 years of subjection to an alien power and an oppressive race, India emerges as an independent nation with immense possibilities of future development. Though British imperialism still is a controlling power in the land and will remain for some time to come, the Indian nationalist leaders will find some way to terminate the evil and criminal connection with alien despotism that has bloodsucked their beloved country without the least regard to human decency and justice.

Jawahar Lall Nehru hails from a prominent Kashmiri Brahman family of culture and wealth. His father, the famous Moti Lall Nehru, played an important part in Indian politics and law long before he emerged as a dominant personality in Indian thought and life along with Mahatma Gandhi and the late C. R. Das. His death came as a sudden shock to the Indian people and left a void in Indian politics which has not been filled by any other Indian leader up to the present. A leader of men, he rose to the height of his profession and power in the land. After joining Mahatma Gandhi in his crusade to drive the hated British imperialism out of India by boycotting everything British, he gave up his princely income at the Allahabad bar and his accumulated wealth for the service of his country. At the time of his death in 1930, his funeral was attended by more than three million people, who mourned him as their father.

Jawahar Lall Nehru has inherited the qualities of his remarkable father and embodies many other besides which have made him the foremost power in the land. He is one of the greatest constitutional lawyers and political writers in all India. John Gunther, the brilliant American foreign correspondent and publicist, tells us that there are only half a dozen men who can write the English language as well as Nehru, and there are few writers who can excel Nehru in the choice of his words to express the finer shades of thought and meaning. Certainly the writings of Nehru bear out the judgment of Gunther, and those who find it hard to understand the complexities of Indian politics and revolution should not fail to read the autobiography of this remarkable son of Mother India. This brilliantly-written book gives an insight into the social and political life of India in a superb prose that carries the reader along.

It is therefore a matter of great satisfaction and pride that a man of great qualities of head and heart should come to preside over Indian affairs when India is slowly emerging from the night of alien subjection and is aspiring to claim a brilliant role in the politics and life of Asia. Nehru will not waver to lead his country in these times of storm and stress, in this age of world conflict and revolution, to the heights of power and glory. He cannot be swayed to and fro by any bribes of money and power at the hands of British imperialism to sacrifice the interests of his beloved land in whose service he has grown gray. He will display his qualities to the best advantage since he is loved and worshiped by the teeming millions who look to him for relief and amelioration.

The Singing Measure

Every group should have mouthpieces,
In fair proportions to its size,
That will acclaim the group's progress
And then inspire all men to rise.

For true record of endeavors;
When official, not otherwise,
Honest support for the worthy
Exposing fakes and their disguise.

To lift high a civic standard,
And help dispose of harmful flaws,
The EAGLE takes a liberal stand
And supports any worthy cause.

Not a selfish fight for prestige,
Or for degrees from any school,
But an effort to establish;
Principles of the Golden Rule.

They that crave for information,
Need not through many volumes seek,
The California EAGLE gives
National history for each week.

A LAYMAN'S VIEW

By Leon W. Steward

TO MR. VAN NOSTRAND REGARDING FEPA

We are informed that you are the public relations director of the Merchants and Manufacturers Association, which to many of us is a so-called "authors and finishers" of the pattern designed to keep the poor poor, the black apart and in menial places and the rich rich and in control. We therefore are not at all surprised to learn that you were chosen to take the negative—and that you gave a very emphatic negative—in a recent Town Hall debate on the subject, "Should Ballot Proposition No. 11, the Fair Employment Practice Act, Be Passed." Such indeed is consistency. However, although we are confident that you do not really need this information which we are about to give you and the readers of this very unprofessional column—to prove the shameful sham of your arguments as reported in the Los Angeles Times of last Tuesday, we shall proceed to get it off our chest.

ANENT INTOLERANCE

Despite the great field of intolerance which your organization has dispatched you to defend on that very platform, you have the temerity to seek your illustrations among a few Jews who discriminate against Jews and a few backward and misguided Negroes who even yet would seek escape from the stigma which fascist whites have tried to put on blacks by trying to discriminate against their own who are more nearly black. By this you are really illustrating the effects of your cruel pattern upon those whom it would subjugate. But thanks to time, educational processes and various pressures this type of discrimination is passing out of the picture. Not so with the enemies of social and economic democracy in our fair nation who oppose FEPC and with no more reason than is expressed in your argument and those given in the letter and folder issued by the "Women of the Pacific," which indeed reflect a degeneracy we are not ready to ascribe to American women.

HOLDING WAR TIME GAINS?

The report quotes you as saying "We have made great progress during the war in the matter of discrimination and are holding most of our gains." Yes, thanks to a wartime FEPC, we, against the same stubborn opposition of the same enemies of the proposed Act, made some progress against discrimination. BUT with a reported 90 to 95 per cent of all requests to USES for help reading "white only" and the fact that college trained Negroes with service as officers in the South Pacific are being offered dishwashing jobs and your own position regarding a state FEPC makes it seem little likely any of the gains are seriously being held to by the employer groups which you represent. We would seriously question your percentages. They are tricky. Employment of a man is one thing and employment of one according to his training and ability is another. That is what FEPC is about.

THINK IN SOUND TERMS

So you wish us to quit "this stupid business of attempting to legislate for classes and groups and start thinking in the sound and solid terms of American individual freedom and opportunity." Sure, you are right. Even your own organization should stop seeking to affect legislation in favor of their class and group. And this act to protect the individual's chances for freedom and opportunity to enter and advance in any field for which they have aptitude and training should be advocated, supported and passed by every right-thinking, square-shooting, decent-minded red-blooded American regardless of party or status.

Pray tell us, what charges of "jealousy, hearsay or deliberate persecution" could easily convict the kind of employer who is worthy of the support of the American public? How would any "honest, sincere, worker of a majority group" be threatened by a law which has no desire to displace any worker?

It indeed is designed to give the employer the best possible worker for any place which might become vacant for any reason. This worked, as you are reported as saying, during the war. Why would it not work during reconversion and peace times? Now, Mr. Van Nostrand, you certainly have our sympathy for having to defend such an undemocratic position. We cannot believe that you do not understand the proposed act and its purpose. We feel certain that you were taught to play the game square when you were a lad at your father's knee and you know well that all this act asks of your employers is that they play a square game and keep abreast with their nation's desire to win the world to a square way of dealing with the weak. They can not do either by fighting against a democratic America.

Trail Blazers:

Norman O. Houston

By PHYLLIS SCOTT

"My identification with business is not accidental, I planned it at the age of 12," said Norman Houston, president of the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Co., in his office this week.

A busy but cooperative interview, we were discussing the new fields that are now being opened to Negroes due to the tremendous demands of World War II—higher, and more specialized training. Recognizing training and ability as the primal factors in moving ahead. Houston has found that as Negroes "mount the ladder," discrimination lessens. There seems to be a breakening down at the top level.

I found Norman Houston to be a serious thinker as well as a dilligent worker. Commenting on the problems of the Negro, he declared that we are short on program in immediate, medium, and long range objectives. Very little thought is given to long range objectives.

Later, I was shown into the office of Leonard Grimes, public relations assistant and USC student, to get other data.

Houston is a native of California, and was graduated from the Berkeley campus of the University of California majoring in business administration. He entered the insurance business in 1917 at San Francisco with the Board of Fire Underwriters of the Pacific.

In 1925 he was a co-organizer of the Golden State with the late William Nickerson Jr. Houston took charge of raising funds for the proposed insurance company and is given proper share of the credit for bringing Golden State into being. For 20 years he has served as secretary-treasurer and was elected to the presidency in November, 1945.

Not so generally known, however, is the fact that he took time out from his insurance career for one year during 1924 to assist in the organization of the Liberty Savings and Loan Association.

Norman O. Houston belongs to many civic and fraternal organizations. Leonard Grimes very ably summed it up when he said that Houston can be found serving on most committees in the defense of minorities.

Briefly, a few from the long list, reads: member of board of directors, L. A. chapter of American Red Cross; California Youth Committee apopinted by Gov. Warren; national board of directors of NAACP; chairman of board of YMCA; State Athletic Commission; and board of directors of Pacific Coast Council on Interracial Education. Included are his social clubs: Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity; chairman of board of Pacific Town Club; and Cosmopolitan Golf Club.

Houston is the father of two sons, Ivan J., studying at the University of California on the Berkeley campus, and Norman B., studying at UCLA, and one daughter. The boys are majoring in business administration, having been exposed to business at very tender ages. As a result they decided to choose business as their careers.

The Houstons enjoy their comfortable home, one of the show places of Los Angeles, at 2211 South Hobart.

The Common Defense

THE ISSUE—PAST AND PRESENT

If we want a word which describes American society — its aim and goal and practice—we have it in the word "all." From the Code of Rhode Island, 1647: "All men may walk as their conscience persuade them, everyone in the name of his God." From the Declaration of Independence, 1776, and Lincoln's Gettysburg address, 1863: "All men are created equal." From the Virginia Declaration of Rights, 1776: "All men are equally entitled to the free exercise of religion, according to the dictates of conscience." From the Virginia Act for Establishing Religious Freedom, 1786: "All men shall be free to profess, and by argument to maintain, their opinions in matters of religion." From the Pledge to the Flag: "With liberty and justice for all."

No matter how we look at it —no matter how some people may wish it were otherwise—the undeniable significance of Americanism is, and must always remain, its passion for justice for all, without respect to race, class, national origin or religion. As Charnwood once wrote with celar insight into what we are after in America, "the founders of the United States did deliberately aspire to found a commonwealth in which common men and women should count for more than elsewhere."

We have striven, we still strive, to create here a society that includes all. that excludes none. It is the most difficult of all social goals to achieve—yet the most worthwhile.

"Courage, then, my countrymen!" cried Samuel Adams a lon gtime ago, "our contest is not only whether we ourselves shall be free, but whether there shall be left to mankind an asylum on earth for civil and religious liberty."

That was the issue in America 170 years ago. That is the issue today.

PULPIT VOICE

By Hamilton T. Boswell

For the past six months the Pulpit Voice has been silent. Silence, someone has said, is often good wisdom. That is there are times when silence is the best course of action to take. Today there are many who watch the horizon of things to come in silence. When they will break the silence which holds many in a treacherous suspense; time and eternity alone can only mark. The Pulpit Voice breaks its silence in the belief that silence today is not wisdom but a luxury. There is the need for more of us to speak, especially if that admonition is in the name of the Lord. In a day such as ours we are troubled unless we know we dwell in the secret place of the Most High. In the hope of doing good this column returns.

In the past it was deeply appreciated that many followed the Pulpit Voice. Your kind letters and inquiries have given me new inspiration to write this column again. It will be appreciated to have your interest and support as this column begins anew.

Shreveport Visitor Given Gay Farewell Party Here

Mrs. Ethel Bryant of 920 Kenneth ave., Shreveport, La., visited her sister, Mrs. Claudia Jackson of 357 E. Jefferson blvd., Los Angeles. Their first reunion in 28 years, they spent an enjoyable time together.

While here, she also visited Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Harris and Mrs. Dixie Perry of 2217 W. 31st st.

A number of friends gathered at Mrs. Jackson's home for a going away party in honor of her sister, Ethel Bryant. During the evening entertainment was presented. Mrs. Roxie Compton of 1618 E. Santa Barbara, sang; Mrs. Jackson played and sang spirituals; and to the delight of everyone, she sang and played some Spanish numbers to the accompaniment of a guitar.

Mrs. Bryant returned home, stopping off in Dallas to visit her mother and sister there.

Fall Program for Settlement Keynotes 'Set-Up' Conference

The Eastside Settlement House opens its Fall program with a "Set-Up" conference for the staff and board members of the Eastside Settlement House, Monday and Tuesday, September 16 and 17 at 10 a.m. There will be four outstanding speakers heard during the conference. Monday at 2 p.m. Mr. Gerald E. Allen, director Special Service Unit, Los Angeles Youth Project, will speak on the following subject: "Standards and Criteria for Measuring Settlement House Program. Mr. Allen was director of Settlement House work in New York City and the Settlement is very fortunate to have him present this subject. Mr. Randolph W. Carter of All Nations Foundation will present the following subject on Tuesday afternoon at 2 p.m.: "Relationship of Board and Staff in Group work program."

The morning programs will place emphasis on staff responsibility to Settlement House program. Monday morning at 10, Miss Doris Ewell, will speak on "Settlement House Program," Miss Ewell is at Homer Toberman Settlement House, San Pedro. Tuesday morning at 10 Mr. Joseph Blake will speak on Settlement House program, treating his subject from the point of view of the Group worker in the Settlement House program.

This program is being presented particularly for board and staff members and should prove of real interest to all Eastside Settlement House members and friends.

There will be a "White House Products" demonstration at the Eastside Settlement House Thursday, September 26 at 2 p.m. Mrs. Ethel Holt, a member of the board is sponsoring the program and there will be barbecueing going on in the backyard at the same time. All members and friends are expected during the day.

Mrs. Hilda Ross Robinson, group worker has returned to work after a three week vacation. The Youth of the Settlement House welcome Mrs. Robinson, and hope she has enjoyed a rest before starting a heavy Fall program.

State Federation Meeting in San Jose last week was attended by President Mrs. Leola Wilson, other board members attending: Mattie Austin and Claudia Whitmore, chaplain. All of them report a profitable and inspiring session.

The Teenage Club of Eastside Settlement House gave a surprise party for the President, Ramona Carey, Monday night. It was Ramona's birthday and the Club planned and carried out a very beautiful party with the help of Mrs. H. Robinson, the Group worker.

Vassie D. Wright Attends American Woodman Confab

Mrs. Vassie D. Wright of 3439 5th ave. returned to the city Friday, after a month's vacation. Mrs. Wright was one of the delegates to the American Woodman convention which convened in Denver, Colorado, in August, Mrs. Wright's home town.

While in Denver, she was the guest of relatives and friends. The Denverite was honored by numerous social events during her stay. Before returning to Los Angeles, she visited relatives in Kansas City, Mo. Mrs. Wright is the clerk and financial secretary of Second Baptist church.

St. John Hears Rev. Peterson

St. John was blessed with a mighty spiritual outpour all day last Sunday. Truly, the Lord is with us for He "showed us a sign." Our minister, Rev. J. Sydell Peterson preached until the hearts of men were pricked and convicted of their sins.

We are looking forward to greeting all members, friends and well-wishers on next Sunday morning. We will be disappointed not to see you there.

Our choir is singing beautifully; our pastor is preaching powerfully; come and become spiritually refreshed. Be with us Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m. on September 15, at which time The Volunteers will be singing for us. You will want to hear these famous songbirds from Trinity Baptist Church.

There is always something worthwhile going on at St. John, 1319 E. 22nd st.

Annual Garden Tea

Sunday, August 25, from 3 to 7 p. m. the St. John Bosco Guild, a social club of St. Patrick's church, sponsored a garden tea party on the rectory's lawn, an annual affair. The attendance was most encouraging. Much credit is to be given to all that entertained the many visitors with vocal and instrumental music. Madame Caterino Jarboro, well known artist, was present. Miss Celine Coleman and Mrs. Josephine Brown were joint coordinators of the afternoon program. The main attraction of the day was the public crowning of the Parish King and Queen.

For two and a half months previous to the even, some 18 girls and seven boys canvassed votes from among their relatives, friends and neighbors. As to be expected girl contestants showed a very high degree of zeal and eagerness. At 6 o'clock winners of the popularity contest were officially enthroned. Albert Vendange Jr., was crowned by Rev. Reynold Bergamo, pastor of St. Patrick's church. Ida Prade was crowned by Mrs. Ruth Berteaux, president of the sponsoring club. Close runner-ups for kingship were Frederick Johnson and Percy Williams; for the queenship in order of merit were: Joan Southern, Gloria Castron, Cecilia Davis and Doris Colly.

Proceeds of the tea as well as the returns of the contest go exclusively towards the new school fund.

LES FEMME AJOURD-HUI SET FOR 'CLAIR DE LUNE' FETE

Clair de Lune (by the light of the moon) is the theme chosen by the Les Femme Adjourd-Hui Club for their benefit party being staged at 2460 South St. Andrews place from 8 to 12 o'clock.

Saturday evening, September 14, is the date selected, for on that evening it has been forecast the moon will be at its fullest. The occasion will be quite a festive Garden Gala, with painted lanterns and flood lights adding color to the atmosphere. The tennis court will be transformed into a ballroom for moonlight dancing, and a moonlit cocktail and champagne bar for refreshments will be available. There'll be "A sure to come true" Wishing Well for those who care to wish for the future.

Club sponsor, Miss Hattie McDaniels will be present along with many other guest stars. Many surprises will be in store with guaranteed entertainment for all.

All proceeds go to the organizations philanthropic fund.

"Come be our star," said the talent scout to Eskimo Moe. So, Moe came out of the frozen North and joined the circus.

Then, sizzling heat waves hit Moe like a kick on the shins. "I quit," he said, dreaming of his pet iceberg. "You can't quit," said the manager. "Icebergs," said Moe and started to pack his parkas.

Then the manager mixed that new icy cold drink — the Gallo Wine "Glacier." "I stay," said Moe as he took a sip of its frosty goodness.

Now when it's hot, Moe just sips a Gallo Wine "Glacier" and forgets the heat. If you don't think it's the finest summer drink, just eskimo.

Jeff Adult Evening School Opens New Term On August 16

Mr. Robert H. Presley opens his evening school program at 6:30 p. m. next Monday. As usual, Mr. Presley, principal, expects with certainty a larger enrollment than the previous term. The philosophy that "thoughts are things" has been proven by the success of the adult program at Jefferson. Each consecutive semester more persons have received diplomas from high school. More students have obtained jobs, and more homes have been improved by the study and information obtained through the adult school instruction.

The summer canning program grew to larger proportions than ever before. The summer classes were comprehensive and exact.

Enrollment for the fall term begins at 6 p. m. Monday, September 16. As usual, many classes will have limited numbers.

The clothing department has a slight change in schedule. It will be as follows:

Costume Design—Monday and Thursday, Room 133, Mrs. Athins.

Dressmaking—Tuesday, Room 133, Mrs. Porter.

Power Sewing—Monday through Thursday, Room 131, Mrs. Pulliam.

Tailoring—To be arranged.

Tailoing is the new course added to the clothing department. The teacher will be announced in next week's issue of the California EAGLE.

Come, bring your friends and learn. The reward is golden.

Volunteers Sing At St. John Sun.

The Volunteers will be appearing in a concert on Sunday, September 15, 7:30 p.m., at the St. John Baptist church, 1319 E. 22nd st. Come early to get a seat.

This famous aggregation will thrill your heart. If you enjoy good singing, don't miss the Volunteers, Sunday night at 7:30 on September 15 at 1319 E. 22nd st.

WHAT'S DOING IN THE SOCIAL SET

By JESSIE MAE BROWN

THE DOLL LEAGUE Charity Club, Inc., one of the best known for its achievements, will start the new season with a fabulous and exciting formal ball, developed from an elaborate story book theme that has been a dream of the group for several years. I chatted with the Leaguers Sunday evening while they assisted with The EAGLE promotional tea, noting their enthusiasm to be quite high over the "Story Book Ball," that holds the date of Sept. 28 on the social calendar. Special emphasis is being placed on the "Introduction," so you may rest assured, the gowns worn by the members when they take their bows, will give milady a few glittering ideas on what will be the latest thing to wear during the formal season, for the Doll Leaguers graciously hold the pinnacle of being among the best dressed women in Los Angeles. With the glamour of it all, the girls still haven't forgotten their purpose, so this year they are asking each couple bidden, to bring a doll, to be given away to underprivileged children at the club's annual Christmas party. The very unique invitations go into the mail on Friday the 13th to be received by many a top notch Angeleno.

Jessie Mae Brown

The September 28 date is definitely red lettered, for sharing the spotlight with the Doll Leaguers, will be the much talked of Westview Hospital benefit fight, between John Thomas and Jackie Wilson, at the Olympic auditorium. Dame Society is sure to be on hand, lending support to this worthy cause. Drs. Arthur Mitchell, Wells Ford, Lincoln Shumate, John Coleman, and other active members of the Westview board, including the very earnest worker, Jimmy Robinson, are sure this match will take its place among the bigger affairs given to swell the building fund.

BRIGHTER FUTURE

The series of EAGLE promotionals got underway with a grand starter Sunday evening with the initial Twilight Tea, staged at Sidney Dones' hill top manse. The members of the staff had a grand time meeting "John Public" in the formal manner. Joe Adams did a good job of M.C.ing, Lionell Hampton stepped from his role of musician to speaker, pledging his full support to The EAGLE, along with Clarence Muse and other notables. By the way, Art Duncan, the Pasadena crooner, held up the musical end of the program in grand style. At the close of the tea, the Doll League members and The EAGLE staff were guests of Mr. Dones at an after party held in the smart Rumpus Room of the Dones' abode.

The Western Region of Colored Graduate Nurses is proud over the success of the benefit "coffee," held Sunday morning and afternoon in the gardens of the Hardimon's Westchester place home. Many a person attended the gathering and enjoyed listening to Assemblyman Gus Hawkins and the regional president, Ferrel Bobo Connor, deliver timely addresses. Ruth Douglass, program chairman, looked very charming in an early Fall suit of a rich blue velvet. Surrounding the lavish buffet table where Miss Hattie McDaniel poured coffee, were Josephine Brown, Grace Fisher Atkins, Eddy Mae Armstrong, Fannie DeMan, Frances Smith, Hariette Wadley, Ruth Ball and a host of others.

HERE AND THERE

As summer parties fade into obscurity a... books loom in view, we find the college set very busy preparing to enter SC, UCLA, CC or some other school of higher learning. The popular Elizabeth Garrott planed out Sunday afternoon for N. Y., where she will register at Julliard School of Music. Her departure occasioned several farewell parties that reached a climax on Saturday night when her many friends partied till the wee hours wishing her a successful trip and an interesting year at Julliard... This week-end will find Marcelyn Cobbs, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. P. Price Cobbs, the gay honoree at farewell gatherings hostessed by Jackie Dickerson and Yvonne Cole respectively on Friday and Saturday. The deb plans to get a taste of real campus life. The lovely Gwen Taylor, June graduate of City college, will depart Los Angeles on the 20th, to complete her studies at Howard U. A member of the Phraterie interest group to AKA sorority at C.C., she plans to be... e a member of Howard's Alpha chapter of the sorority. Gwen ...Pyrom Taylor's sis and daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Taylor... Mel...nia White started her studies at Fisk university during the summer session. She writes of having a wonderful time, and that she is still taking her pre-medical course. While mentioning local coeds for school, L.A. is also welcoming several who plan to study here. From Lincoln university in Jeff City, Missouri, comes popular Iretha Simons, Harlette Wadley's sister, to take up studies at one of the local universities. She was honored with a luncheon on Saturday afternoon by her sister. Several younger set members were among those present.

Bioletta Thomas, recent SC graduate, is now a member of the school's biological staff. Bioletta is listed among the honor grads, and completed the four year course in three...

Another sign of the opening of school is the activity in the ranks of Greek letter organizations. Before long, the new students will be "rushed" in grand style. By the way, the annual Kappa "Black and White," rumored to be held in November this year, is already the talk of the campus up Berkeley way. Recent northern vacationers return to L. A. with info that the Bay region Greeks plan to attend the affair in large numbers this year. Here's hoping the Kappas will find a larger hall in which to give the affair, for the guest list was much larger than the grand ole Elks could hold last year.

Invites are out for the Clair De Lune cocktail party, to be given by Les Femmes Aumord-Hui on Saturday evening, Sept. 14. Emma Adams, club's publicity chairman mentioned to your scribe that dancing and cocktail sipping will hold sway from 8 to 12. Honorine Cochee is president and Willetta Harpole is vice.

WELL! WELL! WELL!

Marcella Monroe leaves on vacation in N. Y. by plane tomorrow afternoon. She plans stopovers in Chicago and Detroit... Catherine Garcia, popular club worker, left via plane Sunday for a two week visit in N.Y. with relatives... Veneta Hayden is vacationing in Chicago and writes of having the grand ole time. Walter Daniels will probably be back before this gets in print, but he jotted a note about having a wonderful time in Cleveland and Detroit, contrasting the local debs with the Easterners... Toussaint Jennings has returned from the national YMCA convention... Out at Billy Bergs t'other night with friends, found Eddy Haywood's piano artistry still holding the customers in line regardless of the new addition to the size of the place...

The Favorette Social club is giving its annual installation dance at Alpha Bowling club on Sept. 21... At Eadward's House of Charm last week Alice Keys was the center of attraction with a purple coiffieur created by Mr. Deason. Believe it or not, the purple hair looked good on Miss Keys... Howard Grant will be back in L.A. on the 15th, finally getting a discharge from the army... Maxine Clark and Paul Beck are still the popular couple... Charlotte Preston finds medical social work interesting at the general hospital, and recently took steps toward becoming a supervisor... Making deadline... TLL NEXT WEEK.

NEWLY WEDS—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Strange make a handsome picture in their wedding finery. The lovely bride is the former Marion Martel, daughter of Mr. Everett Cox. Her wedding gown was a beautiful creation of tiered tulle featuring long sleeves and her bouquet was of white orchids and stefenotis. The couple were married in a double ring ceremony officiated by Rev. Frederick Jordon. (See story).

STRANGE-MARTEL WEDDING AT HISTORICAL 8TH AND TOWNE WAS BEAUTIFUL CEREMONY

In a nuptial ceremony performed at historical 8th and Towne First A.M.E. church, Miss Marion Martel, daughter of Mr. Everett Cox, became the bride of Frank Strange, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Strange Sr. on Sunday, August 25.

The church was beautifully decorated in astors and gladoli and the couple spoke their vows at the altar, beneath a floral arch. Rev. Frederick Jordon officiated. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a beautiful gown of white tulle, featuring a tiered skirt with long sleeves. She wore a finger tip veil of tulle caught by a tiny pearl trimmed coronet, and a single strand of pearls. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and stefenotis.

The bride chose Wilma Fox Hill to be her matorn of honr; Regina Mingleton to be her maid of honor, and others in the wedding party were Lois Fox, Doris Colley, Beverly Bowman, Virgie Afner, bridesmaids; Donna Jean, Adrienne Armstone, flower girls; Michael Armstone, ringbearer; Art Strange, best man; Bill Hill, Charles Colley, Calvin Thierry, ushers.

OUT OF TOWN GUESTS

A reception followed in the garden's of the bride's home at 1260 E. 45th st. Receiving were Mrs. Hattie Johnson, bride's grandmother, from Lake Charles, La., charming in a pale blue crepe gown; the groom's mother, Mrs. Frank Strange, lovelly in a pink crepe gown. Out of town guests included: Mrs. Effie Cox, aunt of the bride, from Lake Chrales, La., Mrs. Clarence Woodruff, aunt of the groom, from Chicago, Ill. Hostesses at the reception were Misses Gwendolyn Taylor, Myrtle Kenzie, Mildred Gauthier and Ruth Wilkins. A host of friends attended the reception and showered the couple with many gifts.

The bridal dinner was held at the bride's home preceding the wedding day. The bride's maids were presented with identification bracelets, and the ushers were presented with cigarette lighters, gifts of the bride and groom. The newly married couple are at home to friends at 1260 E. 45th st.

PARLIAMENTARY LAW CLASS SLATED BY OLYMPIA P.T.A.

Thirty-six members of the Olympia Council PTA attended the council board meeting, which was held recently at the Exposition Park picnic grounds. Following the meeting, which was conducted by Mrs. Fred Shuey, president, a picnic lunch was enjoyed by all.

At the meeting plans were made for the parliamentary law classes, which are to be held at the Liberty Blvd. school, beginning Sept. 23, from 9:30 to 11:30, with Mrs. J. L. Kierstead, Tenth district parliamentarian, in charge.

Olympia Council PTA members who took advantage of a tour through a paper factory recently, learning how paper was made, and its many uses, were: Mesdames Forrest Young, Washington High; E. J. Stephens, Horace Mann; Frank Peterson, L. B. Moll, Carmelita Junior High; Effie Walker, Fremont High; E. F. Durrig, M. C. Banks, Fred Shuey, South Gate High; and Mrs. E. W. L. A. Visitor Widely Feted

Miss Carrie L. Burney, Wichita school teacher, has returned home after spending a pleasant vacation with relatives and friends who extended many social courtesies during her stay in Los Angeles.

Among those entertaining were Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Alfanta who took her on a sight-seeing trip to Forest Lawn, the beaches and Fontana; Mr. and Mrs. John Lawrie, who entertained with a garden barbecue; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bradley, a brunch; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bland, a lovely luncheon; Sgt. and Mrs. William Powell, a sight-seeing trip ending with outdoor supper in Fern Dale; her nieces and nephews, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Pickett, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Evans hosted a gay theatre party ending with dinner at the Crystal Tea Room.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyman H. Burney, brother and sister-in-law honored her with a cocktail party for 36 guests, a tour of China City, Olvert street and dinner at the Golden Pheasant.

BUFFET SUPPER FOR NEWLY WEDS

Mr. and Mrs. Detreville Austin of E. 23rd st. were hosts at their charming home Thursday, Sept. 5, honoring the newlyweds, Elsie E. and James H. Miller. An informal buffet supper was prepared by one of S. P.'s finest chefs between here and Chicago, Mr. Joe Rutledge.

Other guests who enjoyed the Austins' hospitality were Miss Loretta Franklin and Mr. Johnny Sneed.

Popular Radio Man Plays Rancho Host

Sunday, Sept. 1, found Dorothy and Dutch Austin, Loretta Franklin and John Sneed guests of radio star Fred Skinner at his beautiful Spanish Rancho in Fontana. Mrs. Marjorie Skinner, attractive wife of the famed piano player and singer, made a pleasant hostess.

At the Rodeo Mr. Skinner received three prizes for his horses entered in the show. Dancing and horseback riding completed the evening.

With an eye to the possibility that Los Angeles will play host to the national conclave of Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity during the summer of 1947, the wives of the local Kappa men have been set up as a chapter of the national Silhouettes. The Silhouettes will be on hand to entertain the wives of the visiting Kappa men. This group of women will function along civic lines as well as the social background to the fraternity. They have as their sponsor Harold S. Adams, chairman of the Silhouette committee of Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity. Other members on the committee are Don Walker, John Brewer and Roscoe Beck.

The Silhouettes have elected the following members to serve their group as officers: president, Mrs. Frank Le Vigne; vice-president, Mrs. David Williams; secretary, Mrs. Harold S. Adams; treasurer, Mrs. Alvin Brownlee; chaplain, Mrs. Leslie Holt; and program director, Mrs. John Randolph.

The program committee selected to assist the chairman, Mrs. Randolph, is as follows: Mesdames J. S. Hunnicutt, Donald Walker, Emmett Ashford, John Brewer, Alpheus Brewer, Harold Adams and Herbert Gleed.

All wives of local Kappa Alpha Psi men are eligible for membership. Meetings will be held the last Wednesday of each month preceding the first Monday in the month meeting of the fraternity steering committee. The date that the group picture of the Silhouette members will be taken will be announced at the next meeting.

HUNDREDS of friends of the California EAGLE were in attendance at the Twilight Promotional Tea, held Sunday evening Sept. 8, at the residence of Mr. Sidney P. Dones, 2045 S. Hobart.

Between the hours of 5 and 8 p. m., the members of the editorial and circulation departments of the paper greeted the friends who witnessed a well-rounded program complete with several speeches on the progress of the California EAGLE, the County's oldest Negro weekly.

AMONG those appearing on programs were: Lionel Hampton, Art Duncan, and Clarence Muse.

Striving to build a bigger and better paper, the staff of the California EAGLE is planning to stage other promotional affairs in the near future.

JOHNETTA ARMSTRONG

Standing in the midst of ovely flowers in the chapel-like living room were the smiling and happy Mr. and Mrs. Felix Williams at the reception given for them by Mrs. Elizabeth Hester, the bride's mother. Symanthia looked very charming in a white off-the-shoulder taffeta formal and held a bouquet of fall flowers and gardenias. Noted throughout the afternoon were many friends of the couple from Los Angeles and Pasadena. Among those seen in the garden were Ann Cunningham, Mable Renfro, who will be taking her vows next month. Bernice Gordon, Paullyn Garner, who looked very chic in a stunning black suit and a very colorful floral hat, Jennard Porter was with her; Robert Farlice, a neighbor, Jackie Banks, in a lovely gray suit and black accessories and who will also be middle-asiling it next month, Louise and Steve Mack, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Farlice, Josie Mack, in one of the most clever gray tuxedo furs I've seen in a long time, Frances Swift, and Agnes Johnson were there.

Chatted with Gloria Bunch and R. B. Porter, Betty Brown and Bill Duncan who seem to be twosoming it quite a bit. Jackie Bunch and Harrison Bailey who seem to be taking on where they left off before the war. Also, Jackie isn't going back to Samuel Houston. Mr. and Mrs. Blake were there and they said that Rae and Rufus Blake are fine. Sammy Strange, Fred Valentine, who just arrived from a vacation in Texas and many many more were present to shower this couple with gifts.

September seems to be the month of weddings and receptions. Come this Sunday Merlene Eleanor Ballard and George W. Chandler will take their vows at 4:30, at the First A.M.E. church. Merlene has chosen Lorraine Cuoton, Bernda Ballard, her sister, Anna Bell Worrill, Mary Scott, Ruby King and her other sister Euvalda Morris to be in the bridal party. On the 22nd Mr. and Mrs. William W. Perry are giving a reception for Barbara Adelaide (nee) Reynolds and their new son Henry Wakens Dillard who were married the 25th of August. They are very fortunate to have a house to move into and they will be "At Home" to their friends after October 1, 1027 Kirkwood ave.

Well, well, well, I'm just a little bit late but I'm sure that there must be some of my readers who don't know it yet. Freddy Ward is now Mrs. James Felton. They went to Las Vegas, Nevada, and were married on August 17. They are now making their home in an apartment in Los Angeles. Congratulations.

Back from a short vacation in San Francisco are Snookie McAfee and her cousin Pearl McAfee. They had a very enjoyable time. Noted Pearl in one of the latest things in fall suits. . . . Mrs. Helen Moore is back in town after a summer long vacation in the East. She said that she had a grand time, but of course sunny California is still the best. . . Barbara Durham and her mother Mrs. Ruby Durham are going to cut their trip short. They didn't like the big dirty cities of the Middle West. In town last week was Alva Jean Adams.

It's a girl for Caldonia and Walter Westbrook. This makes them have two darling daughters. Sorry to hear that Alberta Davis is in the hospital having undergone a major operation. . . Hurry up and get well. Jesse Arnold is now recuperating from an oral extraction. She will be getting married in December.

Aster Lee Bowles and Ernestine Prather were hostess at a lingerie shower for Catherine Sheppard who has set the date for late this month. Sorry that I didn't make it.

Winding up the summer dances last week was the Elk's Dance at the Civic auditorium. Some of those seen throughout the evening were Timothy Harrison, Othella Lamb, Bobby and Betty Jones, Elbie Hickambottom, Harold Williams, Aaron Fairfax, Elizabeth and Alfred Williams. Having a grand time as usual Bump Cunningham, Chester Johnson, Babe Herd, Anna Harrison, David Scott and many more. Eddie Martin and his quintet furnished the music and the dance jumped in the good old way.

Mrs. Anna Mae Woods entertained the Zodiac Bridge Club last week and she also has as her house guest Mrs. Gladyse White Davis of Baltimore, Maryland. . . . Stand by for some exciting news from the Club Echo, which is to happen later on this month. Mrs. Eugenia Peters and Mrs. Gladys Douglas were taken as new members last week. Remember that this club is purely a charitable organization and when they give something support them 100 percent.

Quite a few Pasadenans of the younger set made their way over to Gwendolyn Munford's party she gave for her school friend. Abbey Jones is entering San Jose State this semester. Speaking of schools, school is starting Monday so make the most of the last week-end of freedom.

WEDDING PARTY—A colorful background of pink and blue brocaded taffeta gowns worn by the lovely maids and matron made a perfect scene for the Walker-Turner wedding held recently in the gardens of the Casa Rafael. Left to right: Mr. Philip W. Walker, Mrs. Elizabeth Turner, Mrs. Annie Walker, the bride and bridegroom, Charles Schaeffer, Rosemary Robinson, Arleen Holt, Thomas Winn, Harriet Kelley, Philip Walker Jr., Anita Turner, George Strode, Arleigh Maddocks, Arthur Watts, Dorothy Locke, Sidney Bruce Smith, ring bearer, Marleen Arthur and Rita Rucker, flower girls.

OLD TRADITION of cutting the wedding cake is recognized by the lovely bride, the former Miss Rosalie Walker and her husband, W. Emory Turner, following their wedding ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip W. Walker. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Turner. Father H. Randolph Moore officiated the double ring ceremony.

Thomas Clarks Return Home After Extensive Vacation Trip

Just returning from an extensive vacation are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clarke, Jr., and children, Helen and Tommy. Visiting Boulder Dam, Salt Lake City, and Denver, they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Thalley, owner of the Sharp Shop, men's clothing store. Parties and sightseeing trips were planned in their honor.

In Chicago as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Wigley and their sons, they were lavishly entertained by relatives, friends, and former schoolmates. Continuing into Springfield to visit Lincoln's tomb, they journeyed on to Topeka, Kan., stopping off with Mr. and Mrs. Boliver Watkins, prominent resident of that city.

Wichita, Guthrie and Oklahoma City were the next stops on the map that they covered, visiting parents, relatives and friend ing parents, relatives and friends.

Cocktail Party for Vacationer

Cocktails, followed by a buffet supper and bridge, was the program when Mrs. C. C. Mack entertained informally last Saturday evening at her East 42nd place apartment.

The party was given in honor of Mrs. Helen Dixon of Dallas, Texas, who was visiting relatives here.

Those attending this lovely affair were Mmes. Ernestine Mitchell, Geneive Brown Wilburn, Eula Hawkins, Ella Washington, Cecil Lee, Effie Polk Girls, W. E. Simms of Langston, Oklahoma, and Miss Ida Lee Freeling.

'Town and Country' Is Scene Of Luncheon for Mrs. Holman

The prominent Mrs. Byron Holeman of Memphis, Tenn., and her two sons, Robert and Byron Jr., were highly feted while visiting in the Angel City.

Mrs. John F. Brown, of 3707 Cimmaron st., entertained at the "Town and Country," honoring the visitor and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Joseph Ligon of Santa Monica. This luncheon served as a grand reunion, for Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Holeman were college classmates at Mary Holmes seminary in West Point, Mississippi, and had not seen each other for 25 years.

Billy Anderson, son of Eddy "Rochester" Anderson honored the Holeman boys with a swimming party at the Anderson estate on Saturday.

The trio departed for home on Sunday morning in order for Byron Jr. and Robert to enter school on time. Upon graduating from high school, Byron Jr. plans to enter Maherry Medical school. While in the city, they were house guests of Mrs. Joseph Ligon.

Florida Teachers Leave California

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Ferguson left this week to return to their teaching positions on the staff of Florida Normal college at St. Augustine, Florida. For the past three weeks they have been the guests of their daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Harold S. Adams and family.

While in California, the Fergusons made a flying trip to San Francisco to visit friends and relatives in the bay area. En route home they will make a brief stop-over in Chicago with another daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James S. Peters and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson plan to return next summer to continue work on their doctorate degrees at the University of Southern California.

Lilac Girls

The Lilac Girls Club held its last meeting at the home of Mrs. Myrtle Robinson with all members present. Following a delightful repast served by the hostess, bridge was played. The final scores showed Mrs. Ella Cotton, 1st; Mrs. Francis Fox, 2nd; Mrs. Anna Washington, 3rd.

Mrs. Freda Nolte will be hostess to the next meeting.

Doll League Will Sponsor Story Book Ball at Elks on Sept. 28

The Doll League Charity Club, Inc., met at the home of Marguerite Singleton, recently and final plans for their "Story Book Ball" were made at this meeting.

The Doll Leaguers are excited and enthused over the plans for this affair, as it will be a dream come true for the members.

Miss Laura Slayton, sponsor and founder of the club, brought the idea of the "Story Book Ball" before the club some years ago, but due to the war and other conditions it has been postponed from time to time.

The leaguers felt the ball would be one of the first things they'd carry out in their post-war plans.

While the Doll Leaguers were making plans for their ball, they never once forgot the purpose of the club, which is charity.

Each year the club has given toys to underprivileged children at Christmas-time. This year they're asking each couple that attends the ball to bring a doll, which in turn will be given with many other toys to the children.

The affair will be held at the Elks' Ballroom.

Invitations will be in the mail by September 13.

Morrows Return to Crown City From Eastern Trip

At Pasadena, following an extensive motor trip which covered about 8000 miles, are Mrs. Cora L. Morrow, Los Angeles public school teacher and Pasadena musician, with her family, Jeanne, Gwendolyn and George Morrow.

Mrs. Morrow and Jeanne renewed old friendships in Missouri, Kentucky, Virginia, Washington, D. C., New York, Chicago and Kansas, while Gwendolyn, a recent graduate from Pasadena Junior college, was enjoying her maiden trip out of the state.

George, recently returned from Japan, arrived back in Pasadena in time to receive a belated diploma from high school and complete arrangements to enter Pasadena Junior college this season.

Tuskegee Alumni of L. A. Meet

The first meeting of the 1946-47 schedule of the Los Angeles chapter of the Tuskegee Institute Alumni association was held recently at the Wadsworth street C.M.E. church with the president Frank Godden in the chair, assisted by the vice-president Jack Jones.

Highlights of the meeting included the report that was sent to the regional meeting of the alumni being held in Detroit this month. Also presented for its final reading and adoption was the constitution for the local chapter.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Ferguson, formerly of Tuskegee institute, and now instructors at Florida Normal college at St. Augustine, Florida, were presented to the members. Both made brief remarks to the alumni association. Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson are visiting in Los Angeles as guests of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold S. Adams.

Plans for the next meeting will center around the celebration to be planned in connection with the presentation of the Booker T. Washington stamp. Members who are financial will receive their memberships cards that have been printed with the Tuskegee insignia at the next meeting, which will be held the last Thursday in September at the Phillips C.M.E. church, 43rd & Wadsworth sts.

Kellar in 4th ave.

The Collins plan to plane back to New Orleans after enjoying a pleasant stay in the City of the Angels.

W. E. Turners 'At Home' Following Smart Formal Wedding at Rafaels

A throng of friends and relatives gathered in the beautiful gardens of Ralph Porter's Casa Rafael on Sunday, August 25, at 6:30 p.m. to witness the impressive candlelight ceremony uniting Miss Rosalie Walker and Mr. W. Emory Turner.

BRIDE FOLLOWS TRADITION

In a breath-taking setting of white gladioli and tapering candles the bride was beautiful in a traditional white satin gown featuring a sweetheart neckline embraidered in seed pearls, an extremely full skirt with a long sweeping train. The bridal veil was of tulle, held in place by a coronet thickly studded with seed pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of orchids and gardenias.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Philip W. Walker. Father H. Randolph Moore officiated in the double ring ceremony under an arbor of white gladioli. The bridal hymns were sung from the balcony by Miss Althea Warren, "O Promise Me" preceding the ceremony, and Miss Annie Laurie, "Thank God for a Garden," following the ceremony.

Ushers Thomas Winn, Philip Walker Jr., George Strode, Arthur Watts and best man Charles Schaeffer were followed by the lovely bridesmaids, Misses Harriet Kelley, Anita Turner, Arleigh Maddocks, Dorothy Locke, Mrs. Arleen Holt, matron of honor, and Rosemary Robinson, maid of honor.

The bridesmaids wore striking gowns of ice blue brocaded taffeta featuring full skirts and peplums with contrasting long gloves of pink. The maid and matron of honor wore pink gowns of the same design with matching gloves. They carried bouquets of pink roses and wore lovely pearl necklaces, the gift of the bride to her bridesmaids.

Little Miss Rita Rucker, and Miss Marleen Arthur served as flower girls. They wore long white embroidered taffeta dresses and carried tiny nosegays of pink roses. Master Sidney Bruce Smith served as ring bearer in a suit of white satin.

MANY ATTEND RECEPTION

Following the ceremony the reception was held at the Casa Rafael. Receiving were the bride's mother, Mrs. Annie L. Walker, who was stunning in a pale blue gown, and the groom's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Turner, who was very charming in a white crepe gown. The wide array of handsome gifts were displayed in the patio. The bridal couple received the congratulations of hundreds of their friends in the large flower bedecked living room. The guests enjoyed punch and cake in the garden. The punch was served from a bowl tarved from ice, featuring two doves at the top. Music for the evening was furnished by Miss Joella Hardiman, violinist, and Mrs. Blackwell, pianist.

Hostesses for the reception included Sydnetta Smith, Bessie W. Dones, Alberta Joyce, Donzella Coulter, Dorothy Washington, Gloria Ford and Thais Hoffman.

The bride, formerly Miss Rosalie Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip W. Walker, is a junior at UCLA. She is a member of Delta Sigma Theta sorority. The bridegroom, Emory Turner, is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Turner. He was educated in Austin, Texas, and served 4½ years in the army as a technical sergeant.

The popular couple will be at home to their many friends at 3007½ South Kenwood.

Assisting the hostess were: Mr. Lloyd Johnson, Mrs. Hortense Johnson, Mrs. Rosa B. Green, Mr. Allen C. Woodward Sr., Mrs. Dollie Glover, Mrs. Hattie Bell and Mr. Walter Marshall.

Among the many guests were Mesdames Etta Thompson, Essie Harrison, Beatrice Dotson, Mary Lue Ludd, Lucille L. Smith, E. W. Williams, Herbert Jenkins, Juinata Wilson, Helen Woodward, Wm. V. Johnson, Madge Jones, Ruth Jarvis, S. G. Barnes, Ella Taylor, Estelle Lewis, Hattie Lee Bell, Mable Haward, Elsia Thompson, H. Jenkins, Chas. Dunn, Geo. E. Johnson, M. L. Andrews, Edward Ringold, Brown, L. Guidry, W. McKnight, Messrs. Leo Draper, J. A. James, Lloyd B. Johnson, Chas. Dunn, and a host of others.

Detroiters Visit Reatives Here

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt Johnson of 4073 So. Central ave. were all smiles last Sunday morning when Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Davenport and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wheeler alighted from their six-passenger Mercury in front of their door.

The visitors are all residents of Detroit, Michigan. Mrs. Davenport is the mother of Mrs. Johnson, and Mr. Wheeler, her uncle.

Mr. Davenport is a millright construction employe of the Ford Motor company and Mr. Wheeler is a Detroit street car conductor with a 29-year service record.

Theodore Johnson, who came to Los Angeles a few months ago from Norfolk Journal Guide, is in charge of the California EAGLE printing department.

Many social courtesies are being extended the visitors.

Many at Gala Birthday Celebration

A host of friends gathered at the home of Mr. Vernon B. Bostic Saturday night to celebrate the birthday of his son-in-law, Mr. Lymon L. Smith. A delicious Spanish dinner was served.

Among those who enjoyed the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. William Singleton, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. David Cunningham, Mr. Clarence Dienn, Mr. Harland Osbourne, Mr. Sidney P. Dones, Mr. Purty and Mr. Victor Bostic.

Mrs. Luishia Taylor is visiting the city from Omaha, Nebraska. She is staying at 1831 W. 36th st. with relatives.

Marylou Roberson Hostess to Delta

The fall season of the year's activities of Nu Sigma Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta sorority opened with a meeting at the home of Soror Marylou Roberson. Soror Tycine Webb, president, took charge of the session which covered many items in connection with the program for the forthcoming year.

Soror Marylou Roberson, who gave a report to the sorority as the result of having been a delegate to the recent regional conference, was also elected chairman of a committee to publish a handbook of Delta women now located in Greater Los Angeles.

Dr. Charles H. Bynum of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, whose wife is a prominent Texas Delta, gave a lecture to the members of the sorority on the detection and prevention of polio.

A representative of the National Council of Negro Women was presented to the group in interest of the scheduled program that will be given by the Council when they present the noted pianist, Lorenza Jordan Cole, in recital on the 13th of October.

A recognition program is being planned for the two recently appointed school principals who are Deltas—sorors Vassie Brown and Edna Cohen. Soror Iva Washington gave a detailed report of the Delta library project at Pilgrim House. The meeting closed with the introduction of visiting sorority members from out of state. The place of the next meeting will be the home of Soror Ida Bowman.

Couple Entertain

The West 25th st. home of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe D. Lewis here has been the center of much entertainment for the past few weeks, when many friends and relatives have gathered on various occasions.

Attending the national convention of the Pentecostal Assemblies of the World which met here August 23-September 1, were Elder and Mrs. W. L. Young, of Cambridge and Steubenville, Ohio, and Mrs. Geneva Free, president of the Franklin County Republican Women's Club, Columbus, Ohio. Mrs. Young and Mrs. Free are sisters of Mrs. Lewis. The Ohioans, who are also enjoying a brief vacation, have been feted at many places of interest in the Angel City.

Mrs. Lewis, with Mrs. Georgia Goode, who is taking up residence in Los Angeles, from Columbus, were hostesses last week at an informal supper in honor of Bishop and Mrs. Karl F. Smith and other Ohio delegates to the PAW convention.

Dr. and Mrs. A. F. Hale, vacationing from St. Louis, Missouri, were also recent visitors at the home of the Lewises.

COUTURSTAT

By Grace Fisher Atkins

Mrs. Lucille Pulliam, Jefferson Evening's power sewing teacher, will open classes at Wadsworth street school during the day beginning with the regular fall semester. Registration for this class will begin at 9 p. m. in Room 24 across from the office of the school. Mothers may come and bring their sewing problems. With the high costs for clothing this class will serve the community exceedingly well. This clasc is in addition to the regular evening classes at Jefferson Adult Evening school.

Mrs. Mingnon Cabell is the new "find" of Mr. Robert H. Presley's staff survey. Speaking of personality, in the costume sense of the term, Mrs. Cabell has it. If you want to sing the "movie way," come and bring your friends to this charming class.

Miss Grace January, hailing from Houston, Texas, is the newest discovery for the developing Couturstat Corporation. Beautiful, petite, attractive and charming, this talented "demoiselle" may soon be associated with the staff of the photo-mathematical clothing organization.

In the line of workmanship and technique Miss January proves skill as shown in the soft and "cleanly-cut" garments. Her name as first in the months of the yea. may well be extended as also first in quality of production.

How is the Couturstat gown shop of exclusive photographic apparel progressing? This is the frequent question asked by many persons. Customers are anxious to know when their fall wardrobe will be started. Workers are eager to get the "go" signal.

Well, here is the answer. Being that the shop is to be located in a new home location of the founder of the corporation, there was much planning required that was necessary before the shop could be developed. That is the answer. However, actual work will be started Friday, September 13. Sewing is to go into action on that day, tomorrow. Fortunately, we Courturstats are not superstitious.

KINLOCH'S ☆ KORNER

By Y. S.

Dedicated to the memory of my childhood chum, John Kinloch, who died in the struggle to destroy Fascism.

Dear Chum:

During the past weeks, people all over the world have been viewing the violence in Palestine with a queasy feeling in the pit of their innards. The volcanic situation in Palestine which has been brewing down through the decades—which has shot forth sparks of danger—is blowing up in the face of the world. Erupting.

Violence, once again, rocks Palestine. A violence which inevitably grows in intensity as an imperialist-minded nation tries to stamp it out under the crushing weight of its iron heel.

But you know something, chum? That heel doesn't carry as much weight as it once did. Slowly . . . inevitably, despite the blasting billows of smoke and fire, the people of the world are beginning to see the total picture.

However, we cannot deceive ourselves. We must face facts.

There are still too many Americans into whom the poisonous fluid of anti-Semitism has been pumped so long, and so consistently, that we are saturated with it. That at the word "Jew," visibly bristle in antagonism.

Unfortunately, chum, even Negroes have also swallowed this line. Too often, even as we writhed in the chains of slavery, we joined our oppressors in heaping scorn, ridicule and hate upon the people of the Jewish faith. Like children, who have felt the sting of the whip, we have been guilty of helping our oppressors swing slashing blows at the Jews.

However, the time has now come, chum, when we—the Negro people—are beginning to see things a bit more clearly. When we realize that the oppressed people throughout the world must fight together—or go under. When we know that the Jews' fight for Palestine is part of the whole fight being waged by all enslaved people.

Recently, here in Los Angeles, over 8,000 people poured into the Olympic auditorium to protest the British Palestine rule. And it was there that they heard a message, from the awakened Negro people, to all the oppressed peoples of the world—particularly the Jews. A message voiced by Charlotta A. Bass, editor-publisher of the EAGLE, who said:

"I shall try to speak not as Charlotta Bass, but as a spokesman, however inadequate, for my people—the Negro people of the United States, and speaking for them, I should like to address my words first to the Jewish people in this great audience and to their representatives and organizations.

"A special bond unites our two peoples in a unique way among all the brotherhood of the oppressed. We owe to you and to your traditions and to the great history of your Testament, a tremendous debt. When our struggle was the hardest, when our outlook was the darkest, we found in the pages of your poets and prophets and leaders the inspiration to carry on our good fight for freedom.

"We saw in your bondage in Egypt land, in your oppression under the great empires of the Tigris-Euphrates, a parallel to our own enslavement, so that when we sang out 'Moses-Moses' in our spirituals we had also in our hearts, Nat Turner, or Frederick Douglas. When we spoke of Daniel, we understood well his den of Lions, for we lived ourselves in fear and horror. We knew on another continent the reality of Goliath, Nebuchodnezzar, and had our own Babylons and Ninevehs.

"We made our own battle songs out of the struggles of your people, singing with new voices and new accents and new harmonies, till we summed it all up in the great cry that rang from Maryland to Texas—'Let my people go!'

"It is well, therefore, for me, a Negro, and you, a Jew, and you other Americans to heed those voices shouting the same hopes in so many tongues. To take heed and add our voices to the chorus, seeing each people's enslavement as the enslavement of ourselves. And it is well for us to learn to know the world's jailers and their mercelaries in whatever form they appear. For so often it is so easy to see the jailer across the sea and miss the jailer in our midst.

"For we have them too, and they must be fought—yes, even when they speak fine words about the rights of small nations. There is one people by which those fine words can be judged. And that is the people for whom we meet here tonight.

"We are met to champion the just cause of one special spot on the earth's face, Palestine—of one specially oppressed people, the Jews—not forgetting for a moment that this is part of the world-wide fight.

"We see today in Europe a people, the Jewish people, who have lived through such horrors as no other people in world history in so short a space of time. We see them begging only for a chance to start life afresh on new fresh soil in new worlds. And we see them ruthlessly barred from their historic homeland. Barred from Argentina, which prefers to welcome Nordic quisling fascists to 'improve' and 'purify' their race. And our own country? Our own America? Quotas. Red tape. Prejudice. Our country which for all our loss of youth has suffered least of any in this war—our country, too, puts up the bars. And the English 'gentleman' Bevin, of the Labor Party, has challenged us to take them down.

"Let us take up that challenge, I say. Let us accept gratefully these people who felt fascism first and bitterest and hardest. Let us break down those bars and tear through that red tape! Let us give our hand to these brothers from across the seas—who, having seen the ultimate horror come to them, will join us as allies here in the good old fight for our own freedom—for it is not here yet and what we have can still be taken from us—and for the freedom of all the oppressed peoples of the world!

"'Let my people go!' How those words are rising now again all about us from the farthest, strangest areas of the earth. From Africa, the birthplace of my people; from your promised land of Judea which is still just a promise; from the barbed-wire camps of Europe where the jailer has changed his uniform and language but not his heart.

"And now I raise my voice to all colonial oppressed peoples in India, Indonesia, Africa, China, to ally themselves, strongly and tightly, with the Jewish people in this common war against imperialist slavery."

You know, chum, I believe that when Charlotta Bass spoke, she was the voice of all the peoples of the world—young and old—who are indivisibly united by the bonds of a common goal—the ultimate realization of freedom, security and peace.

Your chum,
Yvonne.

Treswell Club, AYD, Holds Big FEPC Meet

The Treswell club of American Youth for Democracy held an FEPC meeting Tuesday evening at the St. John's Methodist church, 10003 Wilmington, with Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, editor-publisher of the EAGLE, and Don Wheeldin, AVC, as guest speakers.

Mrs. Bass urged those assembled to do all in their power to help put FEPC across, pointing out that it was the responsibility of each individual to bring the campaign for a state FEPC to a successful conclusion.

Wheeldin told the young audience that they must plan a course of action, including a house-to-house canvass, urging citizens of the community to get out and vote in the November election.

Charles Bruck, County AYD, also spoke. Two resolutions were introduced and adopted.

Lincoln Student Wins Scholarship

Archie R. Young, 18, freshman student at Lincoln university, Pennsylvania, has received a chemistry scholarship from the Coca-Cola Company in the amount of $500. Administered through the New York Community Trust, the funds are made available for study at Lincoln university for the forthcoming year.

The oldest of three children, Young lives with his parents in Camden, New Jersey. He graduated from Woodrow Wilson high school in June, 1944, at the age of 16.

Jimmy Stewart portrays the president of a small-town building and loan company in "It's a Wonderful Life."

City Sponsors Music Contest For Talented Young Composers

Youthful composers in the city of Los Angeles between the ages of 14 and 21 are being offered an excellent opportunity to present their musical creations in a city-wide music composition contest being sponsored by the Bureau of Music, department of the Municipal Art Commission of this city. The contest is part of the Music Bureau's plan to extend the interest in music to all parts of the city and to men, women and children of all ages.

Cash prizes will be awarded each first place winner and honorable mention certificates for second best work in each of three classifications — orchestral compositions, choral work and vocal solo.

The cash prizes to be given for each of these works is $250 for the best composition for full orchestra with a possible premiere presentation of the work during 1947 Music Week celebration. A $150 prize for the choral work and $100 for the vocal solo. Honorable mention certificates also will be given in each of the three divisions.

Full information concerning the contest may be secured by calling City Hall, Bureau of Music. The contest closes December 1, 1946.

CHICAGO, Illinois—HELPING YOUNGSTERS—In keeping with the belief that organized labor has a definite responsibility to become an integral force in community betterment, generosity of the All Chicago Council, UTSE-CIO, gave a number of underprivileged city kids an enjoyable two weeks at Camp Pottowatamie, Indiana, this summer. International President Willard S. Townsend here presents a check to Golden B. Darby, director of the South Side Community Committee in the presence of a dozen or more boys at the UTSE-CIO Center, 3452 South State Street, Chicago, Illinois.

L. A. County Symphonic Band to Audition Young Music Students

A plan to give young music students an opportunity to appear as soloists with the Los Angeles County Symphonic Band is announced by the Los Angeles Musicians' Association and the County Band director, Arthur Babich.

Speaking on a plan to select school-age soloists who will appear with the band, Babich said: "After suitable auditions have been held, it is proposed to select the best youth instrumental soloists of school age to appear with the band during its fall season of concerts in Los Angeles county.

"Entry blanks and a list of rules and regulations may be obtained by writing Room 401, Musicians' Building, 1417 Georgia street, Los Angeles 15," Babich said.

Social Workers Offered Rating Without Exam.

Until January 1, 1947 most social workers in California are eligible to receive the certificate, Registered Social Worker (RSW), without examination. Application should be made to the state board of social work examiners, 126 Post st., San Francisco 8, according to Miss Zdenka Buben, director of the bureau of medical social service of Los Angeles county health department.

Applicants for RSW before January 1 must register with the state board or have practiced full-time social work in California for at least three of the past five years. Provided the above qualifications are met, anyone in military service or related war activities is not required to file for a certificate until six months after discharge or termination of employment.

Individuals having resided in the state for one year and who are presently engaged in social work for compensation, but cannot meet the qualifications, may receive certificates by passing an examination given by the board. One state-wide examination has been scheduled for September 14 and another for some time in December. In Los Angeles the September examination will be held at 813 South Hill st.

WINS SCHOLARSHIP—Mamie Ruth Butler, Texas student, who recently won a journalism scholarship to Lincoln U.

Youth League to Sponsor Jubilee

The famous Smith Jubilee Singers of St. Louis, Mo., are being presented in an evening of jubilee Sunday afternoon, September 22, at 3 p. m. by the Youth League of Second Baptist church. Also featured on the program are the Smart Set Jubilee Singers, former Louisiana State champions of Jubilee.

Anticipating a record crowd, Youth League President Ike Adams urges the church membership to turn out en masse promptly at 3 o'clock to greet the overflow crowd of visitors.

2-Day Confab on Childhood And Youth Slated Sept, 30

Plans for the Third Biennial Conference on Childhood and Youth are now in their final stages, according to Leonard K. Firestone, chairman of the Citizens Sponsoring Committee for the two-day session which will open September 30 at the Ambassador Hotel.

Out-of-town experts who have been invited to speak at the conference include Dr. James S. Plant, head of Juvenile Bureau of Essex County, N. J., and Dr. Peter H. Odegard, president of Reed College, Portland. These authorities on youth and youth problems will present their findings to more than 1,200 delegates selected by business and labor, churches, schools, PTA, public and private health and welfare agencies, and other organizations dealing with youth.

Many delegates have already registered from the Eastside area.

Featured will be a panel discussion by 15 boys and girls from public schools, who will present their own views of current needs.

Organizations interested in sending delegates to the conference may contact Miss Archer, 729 South Figueroa, Michigan 8821.

ART EXHIBIT AT PEC

An art sale and exhibit will be presented by the art classes of the People's Educational Center, 1717 North Vine street, September 16 through October 6.

THE REALM OF RELIGION

Baptists Re-elect Dr. Jemison, Other Officers; Urge Senate to Expel Bilbo, Outlaw Ku Klux Klan

ATLANTA, Ga.—(NNPA)—Dr. D. V. Jemison of Selma, Alabama, president, and the entire slate of incumbent officials of the National Baptist Convention, Inc., in annual session here, were reelected by acclamatio last Wednesday afternoon following the reading of Dr. Jemison's sixth annual message.

The convention, meeting at the City auditorium, heard Dr. Jemison's message read by the Rev. J. C. Washington, of Alabama.

Dr. Jemison challenged America and the world to fairer treatment of colored peoples, pointing to the recent massacre of four persons near Monroe, Georgia, recently, as a blot on the nation and as a reason some delegates may have refrained from coming to the convention here.

In his message Dr. Jemison called for even-handed justice in the courts, anti-lyching, fair employment practice and anti-poll tax legislation, equal educational opportunities, the abolition of the Jim Crow system on public carriers, full recognition of Negro womanhood, and the right to vote.

The message brought a great ovation for Dr. Jemison. As soon as the ovatior had subsided, the Rev. J. C. Austin, of Chicago, moved that the rules be suspended and that Dr. Jamison be reelected by acclamation. The motion was seconded by the Rev. M. W. Whitt, of Alabama, and passed.

The Rev. J. W. Tate, of New York, then offered a motion that all officers of the convention be reelected by acclamation. This motion was seconded by the Rev. Calvin Perkins, of Mississippi, and also passed.

The officers reelected, besides Dr. Jemison, include Dr. J. M. Nabrit, secretary; Dr. T. S. Harten, regional vice-president-at-large; B J. Perkins, treasurer and Roland Smith, satistician.

The convention voted to add $5,000 to rewards offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of members of the mob which lynched four persons near Monroe, Georgia, July 13.

The convention, in annual session, elected the Rev. Pius Barbour of Chester, Pennsylvania, editor of the National Bapist Voice, as its delegates to the World Bapist Alliance next year in Copenhagen.

At its opening session, September 3, the convention passed resolutions calling for a federal anti-lynching law, the expulsion of Senator Theodore G. Bilbo, Democrat, of Mississippi, from the United States Senate, and the outlawing of the Ku Klux Klan.

The resolutions represent the convention's first organized move in the South to add several hundred thousand signatures to a petition requesting President Truman to call a special session of Congress for accomplishment of these ends.

By automobile, bus, train and plane, Baptists from all parts of the United States and from foreign countries steamed into the city. It was estimated that 25,000 Baptists were in attendance.

Gospel Quartette Sings in Bay Area

SAN FRANCISCO—The Gospel Six quartette, under the management of M. J. Levy, rendered beautiful selections in song at The Divine Pentecostal Holiness temple, 1827 Sutter st. in San Francisco, during their Sunday morning worship hour. After the service chicken dinners were served free of charge.

The cooperation of 10,000 men and women is urgently needed and they ask those that can and will, to do their share. The suggested scriptures to be read include: Psalms 68:31; Isaiah 19:19; Psalms 72:9; Zechariah 3:10; Psalms 44:20, 21, 22.

Rev. Henderson Back in Pulpit

Dr. J. Raymond Henderson, Minister in Second Baptist church will return to his pulpit Sunday, September 15, after an absence of several weeks on vacation. While away he attended the National Baptist Convention. Dr. Henderson will deliver the morning message.

Rev. Herbert A. Foster also returns from attending the convention, and will deliver the evening message.

We welcome visitors and friends to worship at Second Baptist.

Providence Bapt. Seminary Re-opens

The Providence Baptist Theological Seminary begins its fall term Monday, September 16, 8 p.m., at the Galilee Baptist church, 23rd and Stanford, under the pastorage of Rev. Wilhite.

The Alumni Association class of 1946 will present a gala opening for the class of 1947. A grand musical program is on the agenda of the 1946 class for November.

The faculty and student body invite their friends and fellow-students who are working on degrees and doctorates in theological studies. For further information call the president, Dr. Brown, at PA-3435.

He that doth live at home, and learns to know
God and himself, needeth no farther go.

Rev. F. L. Taylor Of Providence Returns Soon

Rev. F. L. Taylor, pastor of the Providence Baptist Church, 507 E. 35th St., and also moderator of the Los Angeles Baptist District association, spent an enjoyable vacation in several southern and eastern cities. His first stop, after leaving Los Angeles, August 14, was in Dallas, Texas, where he was the guest of Dr. B. R. Riley and Dr. T. M. Chambers; Dr. Riley acting as the host. From there he visited his cousin, Mrs. Bertha Jones, and her friendly husband, Julius Jones of Hot Springs, Arkansas. After a short visit in Arkansas, Rev. Taylor continued his vacation in Memphis, Tennessee. In Memphis he was the guest of Dr. Roy D. Morrison the host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Fotte and Mr. and Mrs. E. Lattimer.

His visit in the south was terminated with his attending the National Baptist Convention, U.S.A. Inc., which convened at Atlanta, Georgia. Leaving the convention Rev. Taylor will make his return trip via Chicago, Illinois to visit relatives and friends; the host and hostess Mr. and Mrs. C. Arthur Lynch and Bert. Mr. Lynch is the nephew of Rev. Taylor and they were reared together as brothers.

He will return to occupy his pulpit Sunday, September 15. The

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Charles D. Conner who passed September 19, 1932.

May this world be blest with more like you.
It is not the great, but small things we do
That count in life to the weary and oppressed;
I appreciate all, for you did your best
And now that you have left this world of sorrow
Your monument stands as a beacon light for today and tomorrow.

And may God look down and say "Well Done" to thee,
For as you did unto others, you did unto me.
Lovingly,
Nell.

Opportunity Baptist Church Holds Services in New Spot

E. D. Smallwood, pastor of the Opportunity Baptist church, announces the new location of the church at 1250 E. 34th st., where the first services were held Sunday. The Metropolitan Prayer Band contributed to the success of the first service with the help of members, friends and visitors.

Professor Leonard Avery was the organist; Marion Lawson and Roberta Morgan were the pianists. The public is invited to attend the Sunday school service through the morning worship hour, and the BYPU meeting through the evening service.

Fifty young boys and girls, between the ages of 12-18, who are interested in singing, are wanted to organize an interdenominational group. This will be a great opportunity to learn how to sing gospel songs with vocal instructions free. It doesn't matter to which church the young people belong, for this will not interfere with the regular church worship. However, it is necessary that you belong to some church. This group will be directed by E. D. Smallwood and has a very prosperous future including radio work. Call E. D. Smallwood between 8-10:30 a.m.

Pledges New Haitian Gov't to Social Justice

PHILADELPHIA—Social justice is assured by the newly-elected government of Haiti, Dr. Caston Woel, Haitian consul general in this country, declared here last night.

He spoke at a dinner in Kugler's Broad and Chestnut streets restaurant, at which Raymond Pace Alexander, attorney, presided.

Among other Haiti officials at the dinner was Senator Max Hudicourt, head of the Popular Democratic Party in Haiti, who said that imperialism has hindered Haitian development since 1915.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The death of another baby at Freedmen's hospital last Tuesday brought the death toll in the hospital's diarrhea epidemic to six, but hospital officials expressed confidence that the peak of the epidemic has passed.

Announcement Due Today on Return Of USES to States

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NNPA)—The Labor Department said yesterday that complete plans for the return of the United States Employment Service to the states would be announced soon.

The announcement came after it was learned that strong recommendations regarding the protection of the interests of minority groups had been made to the secretary of labor by labor leaders and the department was asked whether or not the recommendations would be accepted.

No genuine observer can decide otherwise than that the homes of a nation are the bulwarks of personal and national safety.—Holland.

Sunday School Lesson

By REV. IKE EVANS, D.D.

Rev. Evans is president of the Bronzeville Downtown Baptist Minister's Union.

Subject: Jesus and Covetousness. Devotional reading, Luke 12:16-21; 1 Timothy 6:8. Motto Text, Proverbs 11:28. Lesson Text and Outline, Exodus 20:17; Proverbs 11:23-24; Luke 12:13-21.

INTRODUCTION

Covetousness is forbidden in the tenth commandment. Solomon declared that it tends to poverty rather than to riches. Jesus pictured its penalty in the parable of the foolish planter. Everybody is enjoined to be content with what they have and to let their conversation be without covetousness.

COMMENTS

1. The tenth commandment strikes at the root: Thou shalt not covet. This commandment forbids all inordinate desire of having that which will be a gratification to ourselves. "O that such a man's house were mine! Such a man's wife mine! Such a man's estate mine!" This is certainly the language of envy at our neighbor's lot, and these are the sins principally forbidden. God gave us all to see our face in the glass of this law, and to lay our hearts under the government of it.

2. The righteous would have good, only good; all they desire is that it may go well with them; they wish no hurt to any, but happiness to all; as to themselves, their desire is not to gratify any evil lust, but to obtain the favor of a good God. The wicked would have wrath; they desire the weeful day. That God's judgment may gratify their passion and revenge, may remove those that stand in their way. They expect and desire mischief to others, but it shall return upon themselves.

3. The application that was made to Christ, very unseasonably, by one of his hearers, desiring him to interpose between him and his brother in a matter that concerned the estate of the family. The nature and constitution of Christ's kingdom is a spiritual kingdom, and not of this world.

If a man will be a disciple of Christ, and expects that in consideration of this Christ should give him his brother's estate, he is mistaken; the rewards of Christ's disciples are of another nature.

BALTIMORE, Md.—(NNPA)—The lone Negro youth scheduled to be inducted into the army at Fort Meade last Tuesday was exempt under a blanket war department order cancelling all inductions and enlistments of Negroes indefinitely, Col. LAST RITES OF CHICAGOAN HELD IN L. A.

FUNERAL SERVICE at Conner-Johnson Funeral Home for Mrs. Margaret Dunmore, with Rev. Sylvester D. Kelly officiating. —Photo by Kathryne Freeman.

Friends and relatives of Mrs. Margaret Dunmore paid their last respects to her September 6 at the Conner-Johnson Funeral Home.

Mrs. Dunmore, wife of George Dunmore who is employed by the movie industry of Hollywood, had lived in Los Angeles for about three years after leaving Chicago, Ill., where she had made her home for 25 years. Mrs. Dunmore is originally from Lost Creek, Indiana.

Throughout her life she was a

faithful church worker, first in Indiana, then in Chicago at the Second Baptist church. At the time of her death she was a member of Second Baptist church, 24th and Griffith, in Los Angeles.

She leaves behind a husband, a son, two sisters and a niece.

Officiating at the service in the absence of Dr. J. Raymond Henderson, pastor of Second Baptist, was Rev. Sylvester A. Kelly, young L. A. minister, also of Second Baptist. It was said that in spite of his youth, Rev. Kelly delivered the eulogy exceptionally well.

Mrs. Dunmore was laid to rest in the Rosedale Cemetery.

The first indication of domestic happiness is the love of one's home.—Montlosier.

Christian Science Lesson Text 'Substance'

"Substance" will be the subject of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. This verse from Isaiah will be the Golden Text: "Wisdom and knowledge shall be the stability of thy times, and strength of salvation: the fear of the Lord is his treasure."

This incident which took place at Jacob's well is told in John's Gospel: "There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water: Jesus saith unto her, Give me to drink.' She replied, "How is it that thou, being a Jew, askest drink of me, which am a woman of Samaria? . . . Jesus answered . . . If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee living water, . . . Whosoever drinketh of this water shall thirst again: But whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up unto everlasting life."

In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy writes, "Things spiritual and eternal are substantial. Things material and temporal are insubstantial."

Dr. Canady at Convention of Psychologists

PHILADELPHIA — (NNPA) — Negro psychologists took an active part in the 54th annual convention of the American Psychological Association at the University of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Herman G. Canady, head of the psychology department, West Virginia State college, attended not only the regular sessions, but also functioned as a member of the Representative Council, one of the important governing boards of the association.

Dr. Canady recently contributed chapters to two books: Twentieth Century Psychology and Psychology for the Armed Services. In addition he has contributed many articles to psychological magazines.

The others who attended were Dr. James Bayton, Morgan State college; Drs. Francis S. Sumner and Martin D. Jenkins, Howard university; Prof. S. O. Roberts, Fisk, and Miss Astrea Campbell, whose institution was not learned.

Home is the dearest spot on earth, and it should be the center, though not the boundary, of the affections.—Mary Baker Eddy.

1st AME Church, Pasadena, Ends Quarterly Conference

The fourth quarterly conference at the First AME church in Pasadena closed Sunday, August 18. Presiding Elder H. M. Davis delivered the two sermons for that day.

The subject at the morning service was "Senke Bitten," and the evening message was "What Seek Ye." The former pastor, Rev. J. M. Brown, and his wife, worshiped with the congregation.

Presiding Elder Davis chaired the meeting held Monday evening at 8 p. m. The conference was regularly organized with the largest number present for the year.

All the church departments reported in full. Rev. Frank A. Harris, pastor, felt assured of sufficient funds to meet all his claims at the annual conference at San Diego last week.

Judy Spain to Appear Sunday

Four year old Judy Spain will appear Sunday, September 15, 3 p.m. at the Methodist church, 351 W. 9th st. in San Pedro. Appearing with Judy will be the Golden Gate Gospel singers.

Rev. Phillip N. Moore, minister, conducts a weekly broadcast over station KFSG on Monday evenings at 11.

Organ Guild of Independent to Give Tea Sept. 15

The Organ Guild of the People's Independent Church of Christ will temporarily place you in Cairo, as you attend the Egyptian tea Sunday, September 15, at the residence of Mrs. Ethel Shevair, 1476 W. 37th pl., from 3 to 6 p.m. Fatima (Mrs. Gwendolyn Sanders) will present her harem troupe in a short but fascinating program from 5 to 5:30 p.m.

Art work of all kinds may be yours for a small sum. Come see Egyptian attired ladies.

To reach Mrs. Shevair's residence, take Jefferson bus, get off at Exposition and Halldale and walk one block north.

Mrs. Madia Bonner, president; Mrs. Fannie E. Benjamin, adviser.

Dixie Racists Out to 'Get' Negro War Vets

(Editor's Note: Ollie Harrington, former war correspondent, now NAACP public relations director, rushed to Monroe, Georgia, a few hours after news of the barbaric massacre of two Negro women and their husbands reached the national office in New York. Harrington lived for several days in the area among the terrorized Negro citizens. In order to protect the people and their families with whom he talked from the lynch menace and from the Monroe lynchers who are still at large, some of the facts in his story have been deliberately shuffled around.)

By OLLIE HARRINGTON

MONROE, Georgia—Two women and their husbands, their bodies literally torn to shreds by hundreds of bullets fired by a white mob of local executioners, now lie buried not far from this town. Some of the idiotically grinning murderers are probably even now slowly chewing their tobacco in the shade of the trees in front of Monroe's courthouse. They sit hunched in little groups on the benches in the courthouse square, silently watching strangers on the town's main street. Their eyes balefully follow a couple of Negro children who furtively move along the street carrying heavy bundles of wash. Some hitch their thumbs into their galluses and spit a long brown stream into the well-kept courthouse lawn.

Talmadge's Visit

According to local rumor, it was behind this same courthouse that their rabid leader, Gene Talmadge, sat in a parked car with "old man Hester" when the mob was planning to lynch Malcolm, who had beaten and cut young Hester. The white farmer had been cut following a dispute over his persistent advances to Mrs. Malcolm. That was on July 14. Talmadge is said to have been seen with Hester's father on July 15.

It is quite obvious that a lynching at that time would have seriously injured Talmadge's chances in the July 17 primaries. A lynching after the primaries would only serve as a dread warning to Georgia's Negroes. It is also significant that the only witness who could have accused the ranting governor-elect's "white supremacy" boys of willingness to discard that Nazi theory for a bit of lusty adventure, Mrs. Malcolm, was also put out of the way.

To reach the main street of Monroe's Negro section you leave the paved sidewalks and step into a hard-backed, red mud alley which falls tortuously past a mule stable, a few dung-splattered huts, past the ugly rear of a movie house with a tiny doorway under a neon sign which spells out in red light, "Colored Entrance." Here, also, is Dan Young's funeral parlor, where they tried to sew three of the victims together so that the shattered flesh would fit the pine boxes. A young student undertaker worked all night in an attempt to build a new face on what was left of one woman's head. Her arm had been wrenched and twisted behind her back until it snapped by one of the cursing murderers when he dragged her beside her bound brother and husband.

Terror Stalks Negroes

Next door to the undertaker is a miserable clap-board room where soda pop, pork chops and fish sandwiches are sold. Then there is a beauty parlor and beyond that another restaurant. The town's young Negroes stand about in front of these buildings, their only recreation a checker game where the players and watchers change endlessly through the day. No one talks much here. They turn their eyes blankly away and there seems to be an ominous hush about the place. Children in patched, heavy work clothes walk silently by, eyes averted.

They brought the smashed bodies here and a nation's shock was focused on this spot until they had been carried away and buried. But the terror remained. The terror stands silently beside the young men playing checkers and those who sit in the restaurant staring at the floor. Almost all of them wear heavy army shoes; some still wear their khaki shirts and fatigue caps.

One of them finally sat down beside me, a luke-warm cup of grape juice clutched in his battle-scarred hand. "Didn't I see you on the Anzio beachhead?" he asked. Then, reassured, he began to talk and to America's undying shame the terror began to reveal itself, first slowly and then quickly as the burning words fell from his lips. And I realized that horrible as the quadruple lynching had been I had found that which was infinitely more horrible. For the four bodies had been buried, but these veterans who are slowly being lynched are not yet buried.

"Exterminating Us"

"They're exterminating us," he said. "They're killing Negro vets, and we don't have nothing to fight back with but our bare hands. In Italy and Germany we knew which way they were coming, but here . . ." and he spread out his hands, palms upturned. I asked him, "Why don't you leave?" And he answered, "My mother is here and my three kid brothers and my self on them. They need us to baby sister. They'd take it out work their farms and they need us over at the saw mills and the cotton mills."

I talked with other Negro vets and the story was the same. "I'm in the 52-20 club", said one. "Twenty bucks a week from the folks over at the unemployed place. But those white folks burn up over havin' to give us that 20 bucks, and one fine day the cops will grab me and haul me to the jailhouse. They'll say I was drunk and one of them farmers will go my bond for about three or four hundred and I'll have to go over on his place and work it out. If they want you to work for them that's the way they get you".

'Wait 'til We Get You Home'

Another vet said, "I had a cracker lieutenant over in France, and he saw me in town with some French people one day. Then he said to me, 'You g——— niggers are too upitty. But wait 'til we get you back home. We're gonna put you back in your place". This vet used to work for some 'nice' people here in Monroe before the war. Every day after school he'd go to their home to clean, water the lawn and serve their food for the princely sum of three or four dollars a week.

When he returned from overseas they sent word for him to come back to work immediately. When he tried to put them off he discovered that they had gone to the bank to check on his account. One of the bank clerks for whom he caddied on the country club golf links before the war met him on the street and told him that he understood "he was in trouble". The white folks were checking up on his bank account, and so of course he must have been stealing money from their house. He was expecting the police to pick him up for 'being drunk', and then he'd have to go to work for the 'nice' white folks.

He told me of his 'buddy' who had been smashed in the face by one of Monroe's policemen a few weeks ago. The Negro youth had picked himself up from the sidewalk and grabbing the policeman's club with one hand had smashed his nose with the other. "He had to get out of town", said the veteran, "but they went to his house and dragged his brothe.. of. to jail". Other vets disappeared around primary time, but their whereabouts are unknown. Their families sit and wait for news. But there is no news.

From reliable informants in other parts of Georgia I have heard the same story. Negro veterans, freshly home from Europe and the Pacific where they fought to stem Hitlerism, have returned to a home where the same racial philosophy is deeply rooted in "white supremacy". They constitute the great threat to these southern racists. They've been in an army where they were allowed to a limited degree to feel that they were men. They cannot be tolerated in the South. They must either be 'put in their place' or they fall under the guns of the police, the deputies, trolley conductors, bus drivers and civilians.

Thus the South is a huge concentration camp with death coming a bit slower than it did at Belsen and Dachau, but to Negro vets who think they can vote, or pick their jobs, or even dare discuss rate of pay, death must come just as surely. One veteran said, "I know they're going to get me sooner or later, but I've got a pistol and three cartridges. That'll make four of us in hell together. My mother tells me to be careful and good, and she tells me to pray. But she don't understand. The days of Tom are gone."

POWER OF THOUGHT

Dan Seymour, weighty actor featured in "Cloak and Dagger," claims that he lost 120 pounds in less than two years simply by "thinking thin!" he weighed 345 pounds when he started to think about it.

Bradford Shows the Way

By Tocsin

Against a dynamite laden background of international misunderstanding and domestic class and racial strife over the past fortnight, Bradford, Pa., stood out in sharp relief as a bright spot in the course of current world history. As a host city for the 22nd Annual Convention of the International Association of Y's Mens Clubs, this little northeastern Pennsylvania town of 18,000 hospitable people became common ground for men of good will from the far corners of the earth and of various racial stocks.

Chinese, Negroes, Caucasians, Japanese, men and women from Chunking to Catalina, Delhi to Denver, Shanghai to Montevideo, and Honolulu to Hollywood were eating, nging, wise-cracking, elating, singing, wice-cracking, sleeping under the same roof, and building the firm foundation for true brotherhood that must be the basis for lasting world peace.

A Negro, Toussaint L'Ouverture Jennings, of Los Angeles, sang the opening solo of the convention. A Chinese, William Yinson Lee ,of Shanghai, delivered the reply to Mayor Hugh Ryan's welcome address. A Japanese, scholarly Rev. Harry S. Komura, of Honolulu, led the first devotional service. Toussaint Jennings gave thanks at the California Breakfast for the international officers, placed in the sack race, played on the California team, sang on every program and sang the closing two solos of the convention at the Penn-hills Country Club.

The hotel accommodations of the Negro, Chinese, and Japanese delegates were among the best rooms of the largest hotel in the city. The service was excellent and the hospitality of the people of Bradford unsurpassed. An excellent lesson to delegates from other sections of the country was the sight of a Negro technician right by the speakers table of every luncheon session, at the controls of his own public address system which the Bradford Y's mens club had hired. No one mentioned it but the picture was enough.

The Negro delegates were attending their first international convention and they knew the responsibility that lay on their shoulders. They represented not only themselves or their respective clubs but, in the eyes of many, the entire Negro race. I am happy and proud to report that, to a man, the fellows clicked. The personality of Seattle's handsome Nathan Johnson, the wit and sagacity of Jersey City's David Smith, Robert Green, and Tom Wise, plus the small but ever earnest efforts of your correspondent, Toussaint Jennings, of Los Angeles, won friends from all over the world and every section of the United States and Canada.

A Negro was on every program of the convention and in every game or sporting event. Men from Texas, Mississippi, Tennessee, and everywhere, sought us out, shook hands enthusiastically, assuring us how they enjoyed meeting us and our participation in the various programs. I am the proud possessor of a cigarette lighter bearing the International Y's mens insignia presented to me in appreciation of my part in putting the convention over. Everybody wanted to treat us and we responded with treats in kind.

Y's mens clubs are service clubs similar to Rotary, Lions, or Kiwanis clubs with the exception that the Y's mens club are service clubs of the YMCA. They have four major fields of endeavor: Boys Work, Young Mens Work, World Outlook and New YMCA member counseling. At present there are 286 clubs in the world.brary. Of these there are 6 Negro clubs: Los Angeles 28th st., the first Negro club, and Seattle, Jersey City, Toledo, Detroit, and Duarte, Calif. The goal set by the convention is 500 clubs by next year. The next convention will be at Toledo celebrating the 25th anniversary, and the "Golden State in '48."

The California delegation, 62 strong, was the life of the convention, I sang lead in a quartet organized and coached by Jay Lockner on our trip across the country. At Chicago I had a chance to point out to the California delegation the evils of race restriction. As we passed through one of the worst tenement slum areas of Chicago we saw Negroes occupying houses that looked as though they would collapse any moment. I pointed out that many of these people were paying higher rents than many of the delegates paid to rent decent middle class homes but that these unfortunate people were victims of vicious race restrictive convenants which prevented their moving to healthier and more desirable locations even though many of them had the money to buy their own homes. I emphasized that the owners of these tenement slums were among the loudest of the restrictive covenant proponents.

Jay Lockner, our quartet leader and coach, seemingly just a happy-go-lucky fellow, delivered an unscheduled address on our moral responsibility with the atomic bomb and on racial tolerance and understanding that was one of the highlights, if not the highlight of the convention. He praised the Chinese, Japanese, and Negro delegates for their contribution to the success of the convention and you could hear the sincerety in his voice. He soundly scored these people with nations of racial superiority and stated in no uncertain terms that such people had nothing on the ball individually and had nothing else to boast about.

Bradford Y's men's club did a magnificent job toward attaining that goal set by Secretary-Treasurer Henry Grimes of International, a world which is Democracy in which all peoples as common children under the Fatherhood of God, may become a genuine Brotherhood of Man, and may live together in liberty and freedom, under law, in eternal peace.

Sends Race Relations Libraries to Army Posts

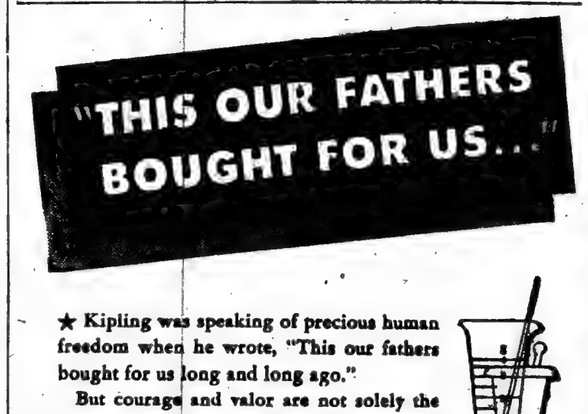
WASHINGTON, D. C.—A small set of books, referred to as a "Race Relations Library," and designed to increase understanding of minority persons and grup, is being distributed by the Julius Rosenwald Fund, Chicago, Illinois, to army posts and general hospitals in the continental United States.

Sent upon request of special service officers, the books are offered free of charge, with the suggestion that they be placed in libraries for leisure-time reading or used at the discretion of theinstallation commander.

Selected books are:

Brown Americans, Edwin R. Embree; Thirteen Against the Odds, Edwin R. Embree; Primer for White Folks, Bucklin Moon; Brothers Under the Skin, Carey McWilliams; Probing our Prejudices, Hortense Powdermaker; The Negro in American life, John Becker; One Nation, Walter Etegner; In a Minor Key: Negro Youth in Story and Fact, Ira De A. Reid.

Several pamphlets, carrying the title of Americans All, published by the Anti-Defamation League, and ABC's of Scapegoating, published by Roosevelt College, Chicago, complete the library.



★ Kipling was speaking of precious human freedom when he wrote, "This our fathers bought for us long and long ago."

But courage and valor are not solely the virtues of brave fighting men in combat. It took no less courage for men like Pasteur, Lister, Koch, and hosts of others to struggle for scientific truth against cries of heresy from the ignorant and the superstitious. Inspired by the example of these great men, your physician battles the same foes today. At his side is the pharmacist, always eager to carry the fight to the enemy.

We invite you to visit our complete prescription department. We are prescription specialists.

2 Arrested on White Girl's Accusation of Kidnaping, Attack

A white secretary who "accepted a ride with two Negro men" at the intersection of Normandie avenue and Jefferson, told police last weekend she had been taken to the Baldwin Hills and "forced to submit."

Arrested by police who allegedly captured the men while they were engaged in acts with the woman, Nancy Simpson of 811 South Bronson ave., were Add W. Wilson, 23, 1410 W. 36th place, and Homer Carter, 25, of 282 W. Jefferson.

Miss Simpson said she knew Wilson "slightly" and he offered to drive her to a friend's home, but that he took her into the hills instead. She says she tried to escape from the car, but couldn't. Both men deny they committed any act against the girl's will.

Woman Says She Was Kidnaped, Drugged, 'Perhaps Attacked'

An attractive 21-year-old woman told police Monday morning that she had been kidnaped, drugged and perhaps raped by a man who forced her to accompany him at Third st. and Central ave. Sunday.

The alleged victim was Hattie Gray, of 623 E. Washington blvd. She said the man, whose identity was withheld by police, forced her to his room and then made her take a pill. When she awoke hours later she said that her clothes were disarranged and she believes she may have been attacked.

Then, when she tried to flee, she stated: "The man made me drink some bad-tasting stuff. I got dizzy and fell on the bed. The next thing I remember was when I awoke. I don't know what he did to me."

Irate Roomer Sets Fire to His Landlady

The housing crisis produced another casualty early this week when Mrs. Nellie Lilley, 35, of 4216 Hooper street, told police she was set on fire by an irate roomer when she told him to move.

According to officers, Mrs. Lilley rented a room to Sidney Bell, 65, and Sunday she told him he would have to move. She said he replied, "Alright, I'll show you I am a man."

He left his room and returned a few minutes later with a can of gasoline. She said he poured the gasoline over her head and set fire to it. An ambulance arrived to find Mrs. Lilley suffering from third degree burns. She was rushed to the general hospital, where attendants say she will recover.

Bell has not been apprehended by police. Officers say the fire spread from Mrs. Lilley's hair to furniture and caused $300 damage.

WOUNDED

Thirty years ago, Raymond Massey, now with Joan Crawford and Van Heflin in "Possessed" at Warner Bros., was wounded at Ypres. He was a gunner in the Canadian artillery.

Witchhunters Turn Fire on Text Books

The state's professional witchhunters, evidently encouraged by initial successes of the Hearst campaign against "smutty" books, leveled off at a proposed textbook — Building America — at a meeting of the State Board of Education here.

The educational tome—a reading of which proves it to be about as Communistic as a 1904 edition of the Sears Roebuck catalog—was branded as "Filthy Red Propaganda" and "Subversive" by the following "experts" on Americanism:

Mrs. Adelle Cox, president of the fascist "We, The Mothers Mobilize for America;" San Francisco attorney Aaron Sargent; Florence Theele of the "All American committee;" Mrs. Maxwell Williams, DAR; and Ralph R. Allen, Pasadena chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution.

Board members listened to numerous tirades against the book, which has been proposed as a text in public schools. The local hearing was held prior to actual voting on acceptance of the book in Sacramento next month.

Sargeant, spokesman for the protesting delegation, called on the Board to "bury this book." He stated, "It is designed to make Communistic propaganda mills out of our schools."

He stated unless the Board complies with the wishes of the delegation, "every force at our command" would be brought to see that the book was barred or at least its "Communistic" parts deleted.

Mrs. Cox recently hit the press with a bombast at a local Russian delegation which she imagined were mapping local water works for the war between the USSR and U.S. which she feels is imminent. It later developed the Russians had been invited to this nation by the State department, after our scientists had visited Moscow on a similar mission.

Jones Held in Fatal Fist Fight

The question of "who struck the first blow" appeared as the primary issue as Johnny Jones, 22, of 1217 South Central ave. was held to answer by municipal court judge William Byrne for the brutal slaying of Woodrow T. Brown.

Brown was found dead on the sidewalk on 11th st. near Central ave. last week, and was allegedly killed in a fist-fight with Jones. In court Jones sat silently as both prosecution and defense attempted to place blame for the fatal battle.

Two witnesses, Helen Marshall of 1217 South Central ave. and Henry Jimerson of 1516 21st st. told of the fight, in which police charge Jones knocked the victim to the ground and then kicked hm to death.

In a statement to the police Jones is said to have sworn: "He (Brown) said, 'I don't like your looks,' then he went in his pocket, I jumps off and he struck at me but I ducked then I struck him and he staggered then he hit me and knocked my shoulder out of place.

"I straightened up and struck him again and that is when he fell—I might have kicked him—I don't know."

Police to Enforce L. A. Street Clean Up

Police will "see to it" that Los Angeles streets are kept clean.

Following instructions by Chief of Police C. B. Horrall, police officers in Los Angeles will strictly enforce city ordinances legislated for cleanliness, as an aid in the local "clean up" campaign.

All vehicles used to transport dead animals, market refuse, garbage or any offensive substance must be covered, and no such loaded vehicle must stand longer than is necessary for loading or unloading, or be in an offensive condition.

ABC CLUB WINS WILMINGTON SOFTBALL AWARD

LAYIN' IT ON THE LINE

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

WEST VIEW BENEFIT BOUT IS A MUST

West View Hospital officials are to be congratulated upon making the match between John Thomas and Jackie Wilson. The match, a 12-round affair, will be fought on Saturday, Sept. 28, at the Olympic auditorium. Plans are afoot to bill it as a match for the state welterweight title which Jackie holds. The cause is a good one and we personally urge all who read this to attend. Even if you've never seen a boxing match before, make this your first one. We really need that hospital on the seatside of L. A., although it isn't being built only to serve that side of town but Los Angeles in general and every race that resides in it. West View will be an institution where your own doctor, regardless of color, will be welcomed and allowed to use all the facilities of the hospital. If an illness hits you or your family you'll be served with courtesy at West View and get expert attention from the leading physicians of the city. Now you can see why it is very necessary that you attend that fight on Sept. 28. You'll not only see a grand battle but you'll be helping a cause which has been organized for your own welfare and that of your families.

TWO WELTERWEIGHT TITLES

With New York State having vacated the welterweight title because Marty Servo refused ot go through with his scheduled fight with challenger Ray (Sugar) Robinson it begins to look like there'll be two welterweight champions, muddling that division in the same way that the lightweight crown is messed up. All this because thus far the National Boxing Association has not declared the title vacant and still recognizes Servo as champion. New York will hold a tournament and pick as their champion the winner. Meanwhile "Sugar" Robinson marks time just as he has done for years while awaiting a chance at the title. All we can say is that it is a blankety-blank shame. Rumor has it that Al Weill, manager of Servo, had made a deal to give Beau Jack a shot at the title in Washington providing that he could get a piece of Jack if he wins the title (and we believe Jack would), thereby enabling Weill to get a percentage from all of the Beau's future earnings. This is a fine kettle of fish and we hope it doesn't come off as planned. We are beginning to believe that there is a clique in the east whose power is tremendous with activities stretching like giant tendrils all over the United States, sucking up world boxing titles and using them to suit the purposes of its members. Too much dorty work has been going on at the crossroads lately to be placed under the classification of coincidence. You have only to review the muddle of the lightweight title and the apparent inability over a period of years to match the NBA champion with the New York State titleholder. Just now Ike Williams is the NBA crown wearer and Bob Montgomery, the New York champ. If Ike Williams could travel overseas thousands of miles to meet Ronnie James, the British champ, how is it that he and the Bobcat can't get together in these United States? And why mess up the welterweight title also? That's rubbing it in.

A FEW CRACKERS OUT OF THE BARREL

The Los Angeles Rams pro grid team meets the New York Giants in N. Y. on November 10 ... Howard University's Bisons are girding for a great football season and rumor has it that they have the material with which turn out a splendid team this fall ... The Philly Eagles pro gridders take on the Chicago Bears at Municipal stadium Friday night (Sept. 13) in a game sponsored by the Philadelphia Inquirer in that city ... The Los Angeles Autocrats Athletic club, according to Martinez Hewlett, secretary, will field a team this season in recreational football. The club is closing a spirited baseball season which found them on the winning side of the ledger.

A TELEGRAM OF APPRECIATION

The following telegram which speaks for itself was recently sent to Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers baseball club by the Grand Lodge of the Improved, Benevolent, Protective Order of Elks of the World:

The Hon. Branch Rickey
Brooklyn Ball Club
Brooklyn, N. Y.:

In convention assembled, the Grand Lodge of the Improved, Benevolent, Protective Order of Elks of the World, representing one-half million American citizens, directed that this message of gratitude and appreciation be immediately dispatched to you for your courage and beneficence in opening the door of sportsmanship to the youth of America without distinction of race or color. Your name will always be revered by the colored people of America for your persistent attitude of fairness and justice. Yours has been the opportunity of pioneering in the great labors of equality for all the people of our country. Our gratitude is inexpressible.

Miller Whiffs 16 In Playoff Game

Behind the one-hit pitching of Tommy Miller, ABC softballers recently snatched the Wilmington Class AA trophy from the Marinetel Radio team, 3-2, in an extra-inning game at Banning Park in the Harbor district.

Miller struck out 16 in the second round playoff tilt which gave Jimmy Small's ABC club the loop title.

In the 4th frame, Gatlin doubled and Hart rapped out a single to set the stage for Ray Tave's single that brought Gatlin and Hart home to give the ABC squad a 2-0 lead.

Camirillo and Medina scored for Marinetel Radio on punch singles by their mates in the sixth to tie the count.

In the overtime frame Gatlin tripled on Monzee's error and came home for the final tally on Brewer's booming safety over shortstop.

Considered the strongest nine in the Harbor district, Jimmy Small's San Pedro club has been ably tutored by Robey Hawkins, assisted by Tim Goosby and "Dee" Clark. Harrison Clark, team captain, by his sterling all around ball, and the other unsung heroes of the team showed a world of class by copping the large gold trophy from the fast scrappy teams in the Wilmington league.

Chavez Wins Over Trigo

Fabela Chavez, 130½, scored a close 10-round decision over Mario Trigo, 130½, a 6-to-1 underdog, at the Olympic Tuesday night before a crowd of 9000 fans.

Trigo was floored for a two-count in the sixth round but arose to give a good account of himself during the rest of the battle.

Emery Jackson, 160, survived a knockdown in the second heat to score a six-round decision over Henry Rich, 163½, in the semi-windup.

Results of the four-rounders:
Peewee Swingler, 125, k.o.'ed in third Ramon Alva, 129½; Billy McClure, 185, k.o.'ed in the third Hardy Williams, 209; Jesse Hall, 186, k.o.'ed in first Billy Brown, 185, and Red Terry, 159½, k.o.'ed in the fourth Jimmy Burkes, 154.

BOXING BRIEFS

FRED WERMY, 1946 Golden Gloves champ, defeated Willie Bean in four rounds last Wednesday night in the amateur main event at Pasadena arena.

SAN FRANCISCO — Georgie Duke, 153, Petaluma, won a 10-round decision over Gene Cartwright, 157, San Francisco, last Friday night.

SAN DIEGO—Eddie Hudson, 133, Los Angeles, scored a technical kayo in the fifth round of a scheduled 10-rounder over Julio Franco, 140, Los Angeles, last Friday night.

Ike Williams Kayoes British Champ in 9th

CARDIFF (Wales) — Ike Williams, 134¾, American NBA lightweight champion, knocked out Ronnie James, 134¼, British titleholder, in the ninth round of their scheduled 15-round title bout last Wednesday night.

Williams was overweight two hours before the official weighing in but managed to take off one pound and 10 ounces by strenuous exercise.

HAROLD DADE, 126½, unanimously outpointed Juan Leanos, 130½, Mexico, in 10 rounds at Ocean Park arena Monday night.

McDaniels Wins California Eagle Trophy as Mixed Double Finalist

Jimmie McDaniels, national tennis champion, added another trophy to his growing collection when he was presented with the beautiful California EAGLE gold trophy given through its publisher, Charlotta A. Bass, as one of the winners of the mixed doubles in the Angel City Racquet club tournament.

McDaniels partner was Eoline Thornton and the pair defeated Eleese Thornton and James (Slick) Stocks. Mrs. Josephine Brown made the presentation at Ross Synder playground.

K. C. Royals to Play Major Leaguers at Wrigley Field

With Chet Brewer's Kansas City Royals and Buzz Mackey's Newark Eagles packed with headliners from the National and American Negro baseball leagues, the two clubs are expected to make quite a splash in Winter league games at Wrigley Field, Los Angeles; at the Coast League park at San Diego, and at Recreation Park in Long Beach.

Brewer's strong squad will lead off against the Long Beach Rockets at Recreation Park, Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 21 and 22, and later will meet fast major and minor league opposition at Wrigley Field. Pitching stars of the Royals include Gentry Jessup and Bill McCoy of the Chicago American Giants, Dan Bankhead of the Memphis Red Sox, John Williams of the Indianapolis Clowns, and Ace Newberry of the Birmingham Black Barons.

Mackey's Eagles will play their "home" games at Lane Field, San Diego. Pitching staff of this team stars "Groundhog" Thompson, southpaw of the New York Black Yankees. Other featured Eagle players are Murry Watkins, Lonnie Pearson, John Davis, Buzz Mackey and Sammy Hughes, all of the Newark Eagles; Tommy Butts and Sammy Hughes of the Baltimore Elites; Jerry Benjamin, Sammy Bankhead and Barney Brown, all of the Homestead Grays, and Lloyd Bassett of the Birmingham Black Barons.

Fresno Boasts Ace Negro Back In Jack Kelley

FRESNO, Calif.—Jimmy Bradshaw, Fresno State College head football coach, put 65 Bulldog candidates through a stiff drill on the opening day of a week's pre-season football camp at the Pogonip Country Club near Santa Cruz last weekend.

Leading backs at the drill were Jackie Fellows, All-American halfback of the Bulldog eleven in 1942; Mickey Masini, fullback also of the 1942 FSC squad; Jack Kelley, ace Negro halfback of the 1042 and 1945 Bulldog elevens; and Jack Seiferling, former Lodi High School star.

It is expected that late arrivals may boost the number of squad members at Santa Cruz to seventy.

Assisting Bradshaw with his coaching duties are R. O. (Corky) Courtright; Alvin "Pix" Pierson; Jim Molich and Bob Burgess.

Cecil Hudson Nods Sherrer

MILWAUKEE — Cecil Hudson, 150, Los Angeles, scored a 10-round decision over Jimmy Sherrer, 149½, Milwaukee, at the Auditorium last Thursday night.

Hudson, who has been going great guns in the east since embarking on a tour last year, disdained Sherrer's attempts to outbox him and put on a slugging splurge, winning the unanimous nod of the judges and referee over the hometown boy.

Baby Joe Gans Visits in L. A.

Baby Joe Gans, whose name will bring exciting memories to local fight fans, who saw him back at the Olympic and the old Vernon arena in the 20's, is here visiting his old home for a brief two weeks vacation. Since retirement he has been living in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, where he operates the fine Urban League gymnasium, which he started as an aid to the juvenile delinquency problem. Gans, who was accompanied by his wife, is visiting his mother in W. 35th street.

New Head Coach For Claflin '11'

ORANGEBURG, S. C. — Leon Elam, famed Morehouse and Michigan University fullback will be head coach at Claflin College, Orangeburg, South Carolina, in 1946.

Elite Giants Take Bushwicks

BROOKLYN (NNPA)—Tallying three times in the ninth, the Baltimore Elite Giants of the Negro National League defeated the Bushwicks, 8-5, at Dexter Park last Friday night.

Major Jones Outclasses Lee

Major Jones, 147, Kansas City boxing master, thoroughly outclassed Don Lee, 148, of Nebraska, to gain an easy 10-round decision in the main event at Hollywood Legion Stadium last Friday night.

Jones rocked Lee time and again with stiff punches to the body and head but the rugged Nebraskan refused to go down.

In two 6-rounders, Morris Corona, 144, received a gift decision over Jimmy Shans, 141½; and Nick Diaz, 130, beat Bernardo Ramirez, 132.

In the 4-round prelims, Fred Aguilar, 133, nodded Art Diaz, 135; and Benny O'Neil, 127½, decisioned Eddie Warren, 123.

Carnera Pins Reginald Siki

Reginald Siki, Negro wrestler, found Primo Carnera, boxer-turned-wrestler, too heavy to cope with last Wednesday night at the Olympic and as a result lost the no time limit one fall match. Siki cleverly broke many of Carnera's holds but when the Italian started rough tactics and punched him around a bit the Sepian was soon pinned.

Rams Beat Redskins

With a crowd of 68,188 looking on, the Los Angeles Rams pro football team, defeated the Washington Redskins last Friday night in a thrilling contest at the Coliseum. The final score after a seesaw game was 16-14 and the game was featured by a 45-yard field boal booted by Bob de Lauer of the Rams in the fourth quarter.

Bob Waterfield was the big gun for the Rams on offense. Kenny Washington and Woody Strode, Negro members of the Rams team, saw little action. Kenny tossed one incomplete pass and Strode was in and out of the game, being used principally on defense while in action.

Barnum to Test Bolanos Tues.

Joey Barnum, a kid who was developed by Mike Hirsch's Ocean Park arena, but who attained nation-wide fame on his recent eastern trip, will square off with Eurique Bolanos, idol of Mexican fans, in the 10-round feature at the Olympic Tuesday night, Sept. 17.

In Chicago, Barnum boxed a 10-round draw with Willie Joyce, the same Joyce who holds three decisions over Ike Williams.

Barnum also holds a decision over Nicholas Moran, scored a few months before Nick Moran battled to a draw with John Thomas.

Since his title fight with Williams, Bolanos has knocked out Pittsburgh Jackie Wilson and Kaos Spencer, and decisioned Frankie Moore.

Jimmy Coleman Vs. Jack Chase In Legion Bout

JIMMY COLEMAN

The semifinal will bring together Bob Castro and Edgar Robinson in a rematch of a recent thriller staged at the same arena.

Matchmaker Charley McDonald also announced that there will be several red-hot prelims.

Contracts Signed by Louis, Mauriello for Title Battle

NEW YORK—(NNPA)—The heavyweight title bout between Joe Louis and Tami Mauriello became official last Friday when the champion and challenger signed their contract for the Boxing Commission and posted $5000 appearance forfeits. Louis is to get 40 per cent, Mauriello 15 per cent of the net.

Although he is favored to retain his title at the odds of 1 to 9, with virtually the same odds that he will score a knockout in his twenty-third defense, Louis took the precaution of signing a private agreement for a return bout if he loses his crown at the Yankee Stadium Sept. 18.

Bernie Docusen Defeats Rubio

NEW YORK—Bernie Docusen, 143½, flashy New Orleans welterweight, scored an 8-round decision over Norman Rubio, 147½, here last Friday night at Madison Square Garden before a slim crowd of 6568 patrons, who contributed to a gross gate of $19,294.

Riding Clubs Buy 9 Horses

The Boots and Saddle and the Buckaroos, recently organized riding clubs, have purchased nine horses for the use of the combined members and also leased a stable at 2300 Imperial highway for their headquarters. As soon as possible enough mounts for each member will be added to the present string. There are 35 members in the combined clubs.

The Boots and Saddle club held a barn dance last month at 49th and Wall streets and a sunstantial amount of money was raised.

Miss Olivia Chelette was host to the Boots and Saddle club last Tuesday ond on the 17 of September, Miss Anna May Rogers will entertain the club.

LES ARTERBRIDGE, 160, decisioned Ralph Lee, 158, in a semi-windup bout at the Whittier Boulevard Arena Monday night.

BILLY ECKSTINE HEADS FOR LINCOLN STAGE

NO FOOLING

By Eddie Burbridge, Theatrical Editor

DOTS & DASHES

ETTA MOTEN will top the cast of "Lysistrata," a Greek play, headed for an opening on New York's Broadway Oct. 12. Included in the cast are Rex Ingram, Fredi Washington, Leigh Whipper, Lou Swarz and Bootsie Davis . . . Press representatives will gather at the Club DeLisa here tonight (Thursday) for a party staged in their honor by the management. ART DUNCAN, who sang at the California EAGLE'S twilight tea last Sunday evening, is fast gaining favor as one of L.A.'s finest entertainers. The kid has loads of personality. . . COUNT BASIE'S disc of "High Tide" and "Lazy Lady Blues" has gone over the 600,000 mark in sales in less than 2 months. BILLY ECKSTINE, young, bandleader, who opens for two weeks at the Lincoln theatre here on Sept. 17 will get the lucrative sum of $8500 for his work. . . ELLA FITZGERALD, "first lady of song," this week announced the details of a long range fund raising campaign to aid the families of lynch victims. A major benefit will be staged at a New York theatre early next year as the first of a series of such events. . . . MABEL FAIRBANKS, Sepia ice skating star, began rehearsals this week for the new show, "Hollywood on Ice," at Lake Arrowhead's Blue Jay rink, a luxurious mountain resort. . . . Despite the fact that bandleader ANDY KIRK is suing the trio maestro NAT COLE for $2000, both boys say they are still great friends. Well! Well! . . . FRANK SINATRA is back on the air over CBS with his program "Songs by Sinatra" every Wednesday. Alex Stordahl conducts the ork and the Pied Pipers also pipe. . . . The local Hidden Talent club admitted a number of new members recently when KITTY BILLIBREW and GENERAL WHITE were signed for overseas work with a USO show unit. GENE KRUPA, ace drummer man, Babe Wallace, Sheilia Guyse, Slam Stewart and trio, Patterson and Jackson and Sid Catlin's band have been added to the cast of "Boy! What A Girl," the new film which will star MARVA LOUIS. . . JACK (the bear) PARKER, who subbed for Oscar Moore when he was ill has been retained by Nat (King) Cole for one-night stands, making the famous trio a quartet for awhile. . . PHIL MOORE'S latest zany song hit is "Hokey Mokey Poke, Skee De Wah de Squatch." Ye Gods, where did Phil dig up that title? . . . KING COLE has recorded his special Xmas disc for the 1946 Yule season for Capitol records. The trio was backed by a string section in making this one. There were a dozen violins, violas and cellos to place the brilliant trio in a jeweled setting. The Cole aggregation goes into the N. Y. Paramount theatre in 30 days. . . . TIMMIE ROGERS is well regarded in comedy circles, using a clean, fresh brand of humor.

GOSSIP LANE

AL EVANS, JR., back from the high seas and wife, Hera, happy about the whole thing. . . . HERBERT COLLINS and wife, Florestine, well-known photogs of New Orleans, vacationing here and stopping at the George A. Kellars in 4th avenue. . . Cute as a bug, escaped from a rug, is SHIRLEY SPENCER, pal of REBECCA BROWN . . . LIONEL (P BROWN . . . LIONEL (POPS) HAMPTON, personable bandleader, was one of the guests at the EAGLE'S twilight tea last Sunday . . . Announcer JOE ADAMS going around looking mysterious concerning a new recording. Our guess is that he sang on it. . . ALLEGRETTO ALEXANDER, well-known pianist-composer, who directed the Xavier University band at New Orleans for several years, is in L. A. vacationing. . . CLIFF THOMAS is rumored again under matrimonial control. . . Who is this fine doll from Minneapolis the Hilyards have been yapping about? . . . TANYA, Earl Griffin's wife, our idea of a perfect picture in a perfect mounting.

Judy Carol Is Back in Gotham

By FLOYD SNELSON

NEW YORK—The beautiful and talented Judy Carol arrived in Gotham Sunday via the Santa Fe Chief and 20th Century transcontinental express from Los Angeles, to fill eastern and European engagements.

This is her first time back east from the west coast since her vocal tour with Lucky Millinder and his famous band, when her recording was made of "Don't Cry, Baby" and "Just Can't See for Lookin'," three years ago.

Her latest songs currently hitting the juke boxes with the Mellotones (known as the "Basin Street Boys") entitled "Changes" and "Dardin'" are a sensation. Judy is well known vocalist once with Count Basie and Duke Ellington orchestras. She also played in the motion picture "Stormy Weather" and was star of the Duke Ellington revue "Jump for Joy."

TOGETHER AGAIN! Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall once more join forces in Warner Bros. screen version of the Raymond Chandler novel, "THE BIG SLEEP" starting Wednesday, September 18th, at Warners Hollywood, Downtown and Wiltern theatres. Tense, taut and dramatic, "THE BIG SLEEP" with Bogart and Bacall is filled with excitement and thrills.

Bronze Balladier Opens on Sept. 17

Billy Eckstine, the phenomenal bronze balladier, will get the record high fee of $8500 weekly for a two-week engagement at the Lincoln theatre, starting Sept. 17.

Billy, who has just embarked upon his third year as a band-leader, has been signed for the two-week Lincoln date at the highest price ever paid a young band and at considerably more money than most established names command for theatre bookings.

Billy Eckstine

Feeling that two weeks of stage work by the Sepia singing idol will still be insufficient to take care of the demands of Billy's fan following, the management of the Million Dollar theatre has contracted the Eckstine band to play the week beginning October 8 at that house.

Maestro Eckstine, who has captivated audiences at the Swing Club in Oakland for the past 5 weeks, wound up his stay at that popular spot Tuesday and heads out on a week of California one-night dance dates before taking to the Lincoln theatre stage.

A sensation in other sections of the country, Eckstine was regarded as an unknown quantity as a box office attraction on the west coast prior to his arrival here in late July. Young America's new singing idol erased all doubts, however, by taking California audiences by storm in his initial local appearances.

Judging from the demands for the Eckstine band's services in west coast theatres, ballrooms and niteries, Billy will remain here until after the first of 1947, with a very strong possibility that he and the band will make at least one feature musical picture this fall.

Caleb Peterson Plays The Law In Stage Play

Caleb Peterson, who plays the important role of Detective Anderson in "The Bat" at the Musart theatre, has appeared in several recent motion pictures. They are: "Till the End of Time," "Till the Clouds Roll By" and "The Negro Sailor," a United States Navy short.

Mr. Peterson also gained much recognition in his role of "Othello," which he played before a distinguished audience at the Biltmore theatre, Los Angeles.

"The Bat," with a prominent all-Negro cast, is one of the greatest mystery comedies ever presented on the stage, and should prove one of the more important box office attractions in this city, as it has general appeal to all ages and is one of the cleanest plays ever written.

Other principal roles in this Jack Present-Harry Zevin production of "The Bat" are played by Larry Harrison, Jimmy Davis, Malcolm C. Wells, Smoki Whitfield, Charlotte Williams, Anita Turner, and Elmo Mackey.

Hamp-Tone Disc 'That's All She Wrote' Is Hit

Lionel Hampton's new tune, "The Pencil Broke and That's All She Wrote," is scheduled for an early Decca and Hamp-Tone release following in the wake of the sensational success of the hepcat chant, "Hey Ba Ba Re-hop." This new hit is expected to stimulate a new heat wave among Hampton fans.

Music observers predict that this ditty will skyrocket to fame immediately.

Lionel Hampton, commenting on this number, stated: "I am formulating a contest similar to the 'Hey Ba Ba Rebop' contest for this number. The idea of this contest will be to have each contestant write in at least 250 words telling what she was writing when the pencil broke." Put your thinking cap on now and watch the Negro newspapers for the opening date of the contest.

Doings at The LINCOLN

The Lincoln stage show this week has an international flavor: Wynonie "Mr. Blues" Harris sings good old American blues, Joe Wong is China's Ambassador of mirth, and Coolie Burke gives out with some torrid Afro-Cuban rhythms. Ginger Rogers, on the screen in "Heartbeat" scatters the spicy atmosphere of "Gay Ol' Paris."

Amateur night—on Wednesdays at the Lincoln are all reet! Beside cash prizes there's a chance for winners to do their stuff behind the footlights professionally.

When Billy Eckstine sings "A Cottage For Sale," starting Sept. 17, when he makes his first L. A. stage appearance, plenty of chicks are going to need swoon shots.

October will bring some real "biggies" to ye Lincoln. Dinah Washington opens Oct. 1 and Count Basie will make his first L. A. appearance in many moons; Ella Fitzgerald will come along at the end of the month and she will sing "Stone Cold Dead" even if it has been closed out on the major networks.

★AMUSEMENTS★

Lionel Hampton a Hit At Trianon Ballroom

Following a sensational, record-breaking one-week stay on the stage of the Lincoln Theatre and at the Orpheum Theatre in San Diego, madcap Lionel Hampton and his hard-working musicians recently opened a four-weeks engagement at the Trianon Ballroom and great ovations greet them nightly.

"Hamp's Boogie Woogie," "Flyin' Home," and "Hey Ba Ba Rebop," the orchestra's most popular offerings, are getting their full share of applause, and singers Madeline Green and Wini Brown and funsters, dancers, Red and Curley, all are in the floor show at the Trianon each night.

During the popular and personable Hampton's Trianon engagement ,his music will be broadcast nightly.

After their Trianon stay, Hampton has a brand new "surprise package" all ready for presentation at the Million Dollar theatre.

NEW YORK—Dardanelle, the lovely young singer, pianist and vibraharpist who captured New York a little over a year ago when she started a long term engagement at the Copacabana, smart East Side night club, has been signed to record with her trio for RCA Victor, it was announced today by Eli Oberstein, head of Artists and Repertoire for the company.

Signed with her group to alternate on the Copa bandstand with the Phil Moore Four and later with the King Cole Trio, Dardanelle's group was pitted against two of the best known and musically finest instrumental groups in the country. The merit of the trio was readily proved when those who came to hear Moore and King Cole stayed on for set after set to hear the young Southern lovely with her drawling vocals and infectious piano and vibraharp. Her contract at the Copa was extended from six weeks to nine months!

Besides her playing prowess, Dardanelle is a competent arranger and composer. She has arranged for such bands as Lionel Hampton and Ray McKinley and even composed the theme song which the McKinley band originally used.

We really did appreciate the lovely compliment paid us on our column from the popular and charming Mrs. Conner of Conner and Johnson Funeral Home. . . . Looking as attractive as ever was pretty Junatia Moore Berry at Sam Taylor's the other A.M. . . . Sid Dones (uh,huh our unc) is readying himself for another one of those South American trips, that's what I say about having so much $$$$$. . Dropped in at the Club De Lisa; I guess it was cause things are still getting organized but anyway there are a few things that should be changed, we'll explain a little later. . . . The set-up is nice, the entertainment fair, the capable emceeing of Jimmy Young helps to shove things along. . . With a little more organization the place should be a natural! ! . . . Just in case you might wanta know (those of you who are always interested in somebody else's business) Donald Walker has a new love! !—know who? his pretty petite wife, Julia Mitchell Walker. They are our example of a happy married couple. . . . Someone wanted to know who gave us this mad eye-brow arch . . . well his name is William Love . . . and he's handsome, too (you're welcome, Bill). . . . Saw cute Della Miles the other noon hour in the Memo causin' an upset with her cute walk. . . Willie Smith, we understand, is contemplating heading his own band. . . . J. D. Crawford is in a complete daze . . . her name is Vera (I fooled you, didn't I, Jay?) . . . FLASH! ! ! And this time it's true Roy Loggins Jr. will officially announce his engagement to Yvonne Crosely on the first of October, but since he wanted to give us the scoop first we had to verify it by phoning Yvonne and she says it's the real thing. Congrats, Roy. . . .

THE WEEKLY NEWSREEL

Tiny Bradshaw married pretty Blanche Simon after quite a long "courtship" . . . Van Williams says I'm sorry but "she has to be yellow, mellow and fine." . . . Here on the vacation list is Ella D. Carraway, the guest of the Byrds, Alma and Sidney. . . . Have you ever noticed the startling attractiveness of Rene Johnson, wife of Johnson of the famed Golden Gate Quartette. . . The Flennoy Trio appear at the newly organized Flamingo Club. . . . Aside to Herman Harrison: WE still think you are one of L.A.'s No. 1 playboys and awful sharp at that. . . . We noticed that Mack Pinkston has changed his location or is that the same one? . . . Shapely Marie Arbuckle (she's the daughter of Flo Washington) walked into the Downbeat the other even'g and the temp upped 30 degrees. . . . Who's the tall, tan and fine speciman of man that has a certain little newsgirl in a whirl (and that's unusual) . . . Corrine Ashby, popular wife of Irving Ashby, is back from her frantic vacation east. . . . Our Sis informs us ((that there are no dangerous women, just susceptible men" . . . Erskine Hawkins' attractive wife Flo has decided to display her talent in "Deep Are The Roots" . . . Who was that female entertainer that remarked to her girl friend in the Last Word the other even'g, "I didn't have a rag when I married him, now that's ALL I have." . . . Sure hope that Jimmy Basquette's wife is feeling much better now, she was stricken with polio. . . . CLOSING THAWT: A man may be so totally lost to hope that he will refuse to believe that he can ever do or be anything, but few ever get so far down that they can't imagine some woman might be in love with them. . . .

Notables Attend Swanky Playspot

By Carrie Miller
(Special to EAGLE)

NEW YORK:—One of the greatest spectacles of opening a new playspot took place September 4, between 3 and 6 p.m. when sportwriters, columnists and radio personalities officially opened the swank Joe Louis Restaurant on West 125th St., in the heart of Harlem. Crowds of spectators thronged the streets near to the place to glimpse the many celebrities entering to christen this new enterprise and photographers and autograph hounds had a field day.

Upon entering the new club, which was built from the ground and the scene of many building craftsmen less than six months ago, your reporter saw the finished product in breath-taking decorations. With a white, blue and gray color motif, the interior is a symphony of modern furnishings, upholstered in white and blue leather. The walls for the most part are plain with two particular panels set off strikingly by specially designed murals.

Joe Louis

Depicting such personalities as Paul Robeson, Marion Anderson and other outstanding Negro contributors to all walks of artistic and sports life, the murals were created around the idea of L. Brooks and white "idea man" of designs.

An unusual feature in bars is the fact that the entertainment stage is set on a raised dais in the middle of an oval bar. The place can amply accommodate close to 500 persons including the service staff.

On hand to greet the newsmen and women from publications in all parts of the United States, was the beloved Bill Robinson, who acted as master of ceremonies, to introduce Joe Louis.

Seen among the many guests were Roy Wilkins, editor of Crisis Magazine; George Schuyler New York editor of the Pittsburgh Courier; Bill Chase of New York Amsterdam News; Lillian Walcott, also of the Courier; Fredi Washington of the People's Voice; Moulton Powell of P.M.; Mike Jacobs, prize fight promoter; Mickey Walker, retired boxer; Floyd Snelson, feature writer; Danton Walker of New York Daily News; Jinx Falkenburg of radio and debutant fame; Congressman Adam C. Powell and Mrs. Hazel Scott Powell; Al Monroe of the Chicago Defender; Charlie Glenn, manager of the Joe Louis Chicago "Rhumboogie" Cafe; Conchita Nakatani of the Philadelphia office of the Pittsburgh Courier; Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Miller, owners and Joseph Lewis, manager of Bob's Cocktail Lounge, New York; Mr. Arthur Patterson of Pittsburgh; Mrs. Ida Davis of Washington, D. C.; George Williams, owner of "George's Restaurant"; Patterson and Jackson, entertainment stars; "Big Time Crip," and many, many more that space here cannot permit listing.

With opening dinner-plate prices in the evening ranging from $50 to $100 per plate the event proved a huge success as those present, public and notables alike, enjoyed this new enterprise employing a host of Harlemites and bearing the name of their champion in the ring and out, Joe Louis.

Effie Smith Wows Patrons At Club DeLisa

Excellently prepared foods vied sharply with a fine talent show for attention and applause from the crowds who have been attending the nightly shows and dancing at beautiful Club De Lisa since its opening last Thursday night. The ultra swank club located at Central avenue at 33rd street, looms as topping anything of its kind in the far west.

Effie Smith, billed Queen of Blues, sings her numbers with a soothing warmth of feeling ifi a truly regal fashion to top the current show at the Club De Lisa emceed by Jimmy Young. Art Duncan, youthful sond-and-dance sensation, and others also please audiences.

The Children's Film Library

NEW YORK—Eric Johnston announced this week the motion picture industry is making immediately available to exhibitors all over the country a special series of feature films designed for showing to children on Saturday morning theatre programs.

Crowd Expected to Attend Dance at Elks Tonite Given by Calif. Eagle-Clover Club

A great crowd of dance fans are expected to crowd the Elks Ballroom tonight (Thursday) for the monster benefit dance bing staged by the Clover Club and the California EAGLE featuring the sizzling swing music of Pete Collins and His Orchestra with Bobby Pittmen and the Four Bullets.

You can still save money by purchasing tickets at the Nordoni Bates Music store, 41st and So. Central. Advance ducats are $1.20, including tax while the general admission price is $1.50 at the door, including tax.

This dance is being staged as a benefit for the promotion of the California EAGLE and the Clover Club. It is part of a series of promotional ventures being put on by the EAGLE. The first of the series was in the form of a twilight promotional tea held last Sunday afternoon at the home of Sidney P. Dones, on South Hobart blvd., and termed a huge success. Tonight's affair is expected to prove equally successful. With the fine music of Pete Collins on tap and entertainment by Bobby Pittmen and the Four Bullets, a splendid night of fun is indicated.

Enough electricity to light a city of 5,000 population was used to film wintry night scenes in Frank Capra's "It's a Wonderful Life," which stars James Stewart and Donna Reed.

CROWD PLEASER—Joe Liggins, who sprung to fame with his juke box favorite, "The Honeydripper," is holding his own in the musical world with new recordings and currently is wowing swing fans at a Central avenue nightery.

Omaha Night At El Capitan Club

Tuesday night, September 17, will be Omaha Night at the El Capitan Club Cafe, 1536 West Jefferson blvd. All persons from Omaha and their friends are cordially invited to participate in this celebration, honoring former Omahans, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Rice, who will be your hostess and host for that night. Come one, come all. Manager, Thomas Dyson. Proprietors, J. C. Carey and O. S. Allen.

Sepia Swing Fans Invited To Panama Club

Paul Lewes and His Brown Bombers of Rhythm will play a sensational engagement at the downtown Panama Club, 527 S. Main street, between 5th and 6th streets, opening on Sept. 15 (Sunday), and sepia socialites are especially invited to enjoy the hospitality and atmosphere of the club during his engagement.

Paul Lewes, the talented maestro, is king of the drums and plays in his own inimitable style. The band features hot swing music but includes sweet and sentimental music in its programs also. Each band member is an artist. The pleasing vocalist with the band is Leona Hemingway, who sings both in re-bop and sentimental style.

All sepians from Central avenue to Western are expected to crowd into the Panama Club starting Sunday to hear Paul Lewes and His Brown Bombers of Rhythm. Don't miss it. Join the crowd and be thrilled.

AMERICAN MUSIC . . . JAZZ ! !

Is the kind of Art that will last as long as the Rocky Mts. cast their fierce beauty on Deal Valley and be just as gloomy or breath-taking. It's been a long cry from when LOUIS ARMSTRONG marched along New Orleans streets with KING OLIVER, to the Re-bop issue of DIZZY GILLESPIE or the "Vout-a-reeny" of SLIM GAILLARD . . . Only here lately with the past 15 years has America awakened to the fact that a great deal of culture lay right within its own borders through the BESSIE SMITHS, DUKE ELLINGTONS, and GEORGE GERSHWINS. Witness the fact that Europe was paying tribute AND big cash for U. S. Jazz Artists plus recognizing Jazz as a true and sincere Art form. At last we wake up and one can hardly get into CARNEGIE HALL-N.Y., THE HOLLYWOOD BOWL, or Chi's ORCHESTRAL HALL, without hearing the muted tones of a REX STEWART trumpet or tones . . . thus places that only permitted the greats of Jazz to grace the footlights are now bidding high, wide and handsome for the talents of a NORMAN GRANZ. To the average purchaser of recordings this means that YOU probably have the most authentic set of American music you'll ever find, right underneath your phonograph! (pause for breath)

Now, that certain agencies have taken to hiding the news of goings on from news-reporters, I venture that one, the FREDERICKS BROS AGENCY, is about to drop its band-policy and go all out for Acts and small combos. (low whisper) since they've signed such newcomers of fame as LILLETTE!!

Here in N. Y. EARLY HINES played to standing room only. Upsets the maidens nightly when he turns out of his hilltop home for the Zanzibar Club so dapper . . . Lester Young is leaping in Philly!'

'TIS AUTUMN ! !

And Mother Nature is going all out with clear, crisp days and that technicolored blue in the skies you often see on Hollywood screens!!! . . .

The Afro-Cuban find, MACHITO, has Broadway swooning and next thing you know, Hollywood will do the "Saludos Amigos" version of the Stork Club if Latin talent keeps a-coming on like it is!! . . .

Watch for a new song-hit to burst forth in tribute to the wedding of "Gravel Gertie" . . . and already folks here are wishing more DUKE ELLINGTON platters were forthcoming!!!

EDDIE WHITFIELD, well known in the East for his jokes and dancing talent, is now sponsoring dances that keep folks on their ears as they gather to the tunes of the bands he provides!!! . . . and there's a new talent-scout radio program in which you and I can apply and become booking agents, in N. Y. the mad-idea place. Well, guess I get to the . . .

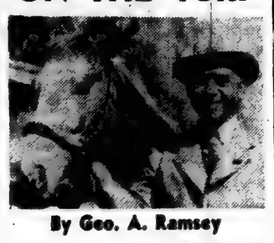
ON THE TURF



By Geo. A. Ramsey

HIPODROMO DE TIJUANA—A crowd of about 6000 fans watched the favorite Bunny Hollow win the feature attraction here last Sunday. It was the El Centro handicap at 5½ furlongs and the speedy filly won by a half length over the second choice Zacpet. Dinkum finished third. The winner paid $3.00 for the two dollar mutuel, and the time was 1:04 2/5.

The secondary feature was won by Miss Lynn. She had enough at the finish to stall off the bold bid of the favorite Seal Rock. The winner paid $17 for two.

Only three public choices won out of the 12 race program, and two of them were odds on.

The longshot players had nearly a field day. The longest price was Flashy Miss in the last race, paying $67.80. Eagle Parade, owned by the Negro sportsman E. Forest and trained by M. Julian, scored a mild upset in the fifth race. Opening on the morning line at 20 to 1 and backed down in the mutuels to 5 to 1, Eagle Parade made every post a winning one to score by a head, paying in the mutuels $13.20.

Daily-double backers of Agent Jim in the second and Top Tar, winner of the third, received $40.60 and the Quiniela paid $100.20 when Flashy Miss won and In a Flash finished second. months. It will be featured by the Autumn handicap at 7 furlongs with an added value of $3,000, and the Playfair at one flat mile.

NEWARK—(NNPA)—The Newark Eagles won their first Negro National League championship last Wednesday night as they slaughtered the second-place Cuban Stars at Ruppert Stadium, 17-5.

By clinching the league championship, the Eagles earned the right tomeet the Kansas City Monarchs, winners of the Negro American League title in a world's series to determine the championship of Negro baseball for 1946.

★ SPORT NOTES ★

THE NBC Tuesday ruled that Marty Servo is still the world's welterweight champion despite the fact that the New York commission recently stripped him of the title for refusing to go through with a fight with Ray (Sugar) Robinson. However, the association also ruled that Servo must fight Robinson by Dec. 1.

AUTHORITY

One of the things that we must watch is our attitude towards our fellow-men, when given any type of authority. For we have the tendency to become proud and domineering when given responsibilities with the power to criticise, hire and discharge.

The temptation to lord it over our fellow beings is merely a human weakness. Humility is a precious virtue, gathered by much hardship and frequent errors in judgment. And above all man must not forget the infinite authority of God while considering his relations with his co-workers.

Dear Prof. Herman: I have a problem that is just about driving me mad. Perhaps because I have tried to keep from telling anyone about it, the whole situation has become unbearable. So I am asking your advice. Is my husband in love with this woman he has been seen with?

Ans.—Upon giving your question careful thought and consideration many things appear to me. I would, however, rather answer your question privately and suggest you write me at your earliest opportunity.

E. W.—Will I ever be able to complete my course of study?

Ans.—You have made many sacrifices in the last few years to be able to accomplish as much as you have. I see no reason to stop now, by all means keep right on with your course until you have completed it.

J. T.—What will become of him?

Ans. It appears to me that you are wondering what will become of your son, if you are no longer able to take care of him. Have no fear, in the event something should happen, his father will assume all responsibility and carry out your wishes expertly.

Y. J.—Does he love me? Will I finish school this fall? Does my parents approve of him?

Ans.—Only one question is answered in the column, I suggest you write in for a private reply.

T. T.—Dear Sir: I have been using your Prayer and Mediation Combination for the past month and get a great deal of consolation from it. Joining your Prayer Band, has also helped me. Now I would like to send for the book With God All Things are Possible, inclosed please find remittance for same. Thanks again.

T. U.—What happened to my rings?

Ans.—Concentrating upon your question I find that you put your rings in the pocket of your apron when you were washing the dishes. When you finished you simply took the apron off and placed it in the dirty clothes hamper. If you will look through these things you will find your rings.

W. I.—Should I consult a doctor about my condition?

Ans.—It seems a sensible thing to do, and at once! You have suffered a long time and should have made up your mind to do this a long time ago.

R. R.—Because of the nature of your question I am not printing it. I suggest you write in for a private reply and I will be more than glad to help you.

Knifes Friend for 'Messing' With Wife

One man was jailed and another in a serious condition at General hospital in a wild knife fight over Walter Little's charge that his friend was "messin' around with my wife, Evelyn."

Little, 49, of 3227 Calloway drive, was arrested for the cutting of A. J. Fullwood, mechanic, 38, of 3219 Calloway drive. According to police, Little entered Fullwood's house and told him he was sore over the alleged "affair" with Mrs. Little.

Fullwood denied the charge, but after one thing led to another police say Fullwood was cut in the chest and Little on the arm. Both are under suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon.

PRINCETON, N. J.—An overwhelming majority of American parents agree that public school teachers do a good job, and are paid too little for it, according to a coast to coast poll conducted recently by the American (Gallup) Institute of Public Opinion.

USES Jimcrow Placed on Lap Of President

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NNPA)—The NAACP and the Washington Urban League this week denied what they termed "the inference" of the District of Columbia office of the United States Employment Service that they had approved the segregation policies of the local office.

In a joint statement, the Urban League and the NAACP said both organizations had "vigorously opposed" the segregation policy of the local USES office. That policy, however, has been not only approved but championed by the District of Columbia Building Trades Council of the AFL, in sharp contrast to the campaign of the CIO to force abolition of the policy.

Meantime, Harry B. Mitchell, president of the U. S. Civil Service Commission, admits that the commission, to whom the CIO has appealed on several occasions, is powerless to stop the USES from practicing discrimination in referring job applicants to vacancies in federal agencies.

In an interview in his office, Mitchell said President Truman is the only man who can actually order the agency to cease its discrimination.

Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace recently brought to the personal attention of Secretary of Labor Lewis P. Schwellenbach "the unfortunate segregation practices" which displaced commerce department workers ran into in the USES office. Schwallenbach, however, indicated this week he proposes to do little or nothing toward wiping out such practices.

Replying to Wallace, Secretary Schwellenbach said the problem was "complicated and involved" because the practice of segregating job applicants has been followed in the local USES offices for several years.

In contrast to Schwellenbach's inaction, Wilson Wyatt, national housing expediter, took immediate action in the case of two Commerce Department employes, who had received notices of separation by reason of reduction in force. These two employes, Miss Guilelma Nixon and Miss Geneva Davis, applied for employment at the federal housing administration and got the impression they were not considered because they were colored.

Wyatt immediately investigated the circumstances of their cases, found that an employe in the personnel office of the FHA had implied there were certain positions for which Negro applicants would not be considered, reprimanded the employe, and reaffirmed in writing to all members of the placement section, personnel division, FHA, the policy of non-discrimination in federal employment.

MARTINEZ—The Contra Costa Democratic Central Committee this week announced it unanimously urged a "yes" vote on Proposition 11.

Texas Newsman Taken by Death

Honorable C. N. Love, founder and editor of The Texas Freeman (now merged with The Houston Informer) passed away Tuesday morning, September 10, at his home and birthplace in Houston, Texas, after a long illness. Retiring from active public life in 1931, Editor Love's death removes from the field one of the nation's most prolific writers.

For years his editorial policies were written under the caption, "The Man About Town Knows," with an accompanying cartoon. Dr. Emmett J. Scott was at one time associated with him.

His widow, Mrs. Lilla Love, is the sister of Mrs. Jesse Hood, 1123 E. Adams blvd., and the niece of Mrs. G. S. Johnson, 2901 S. Raymond ave., and Mrs. Eureka Tucker, who has been visiting the city during the year.

Editor Love, without a formal education, was a self-made man and during his lifetime amassed valuable holdings. He astounded all with his remarkable memory and his wealth of knowledge.

Offers His Own Property at Prices Lower Than Any Property in the District!

ACREAGE

$400 is all I want. Big, beautiful, level 5-acre tract on 60 ft. paved Blvd. Main street running through Fontana. All other acreage on the Blvd. selling from $700 to $1000 per acre. My price for these beautiful acres with water stock free, only $400 per acre.

At Fontana on Baseline, a paved Blvd. WITH WATER, LIGHT, GAS AND TELEPHONE. (The same as you would have on Central Ave.) Two big, beautiful acres on a beautiful corner. The total price for these two acres, only $1500.

LAS VEGAS, NEVADA

I have one big 2½ acre tract. Only one. I will sell this 2½ acres at Las Vegas for a total price of $300. Terms $40 cash, bal. $7 per mo. This is an investment. Why not buy this acreage for your boy. It may mean a fortune for him in the next ten years. It is located just two miles out of the city limits of Las Vegas, the wonder city of America.

I am not selling these properties as a Real Estate Broker but as an owner, so I can sell them as cheap as I please.

'Harmony in a Flat' Hailed; Young Artists Win Acclaim

"Harmony in A Flat," a musical revue concerned with the housing shortage, presented by the Intercultural Youth Theater, opened Tuesday evening at Roosevelt high school to a capacity crowd. Thunderous applause was accorded the entire performance.

The overwhelming turnout of citizens of the community is a tribute to the cooperative effort on the part of eastside teenagers.

A preview of composer Earl Robinson's "Tower of Babel" was a special feature of the show.

Associated with the performance is an exceptional group of professional personnel including Paul Gurev, director; Letitia Innes, supervisor of the Youth Theater; Fred Warren, musician and choral director; Jan Holm, and Edith Miller who created costumes and sets; and other well known personalities.

This revue is the second annual performance of the Intercultural Youth Theatre. It was officially sponsored by The Los Angeles Youth Project, The Hollenbeck Council for Youth, and the Soto-Michigan Jewish Community Center, of the Community Chest.

Nation Faces Crisis in Dixie Terror--White

NEW YOR—The current wave of gruesome lynchings in the South faces the American people with a national crisis, Walter White, national secretary of the NAACP, said this week.

White warned that "all signs point to an organized program calling for the extermination of Negroes who dare expect to exercise their rights guaranteed under the federal constitution.

Main target of the lynchers, said White, are the now defenseless Negro veterans "who only a short time ago were protecting our nation with their lives. . . . It becomes increasingly evident that they must soon resort to armed resistance in defense of their very lives."

White commented caustically on the fact that despite frequent appeals by the NAACP and other organizations to the President and the attorney general "not one single member of a lynch mob has ever been even apprehended by either the state or federal law enforcement agencies." Negroes, he said, "particularly the battle-trained veterans, have by this time completely lost faith in their government which leaves them to the mercies of the mob.

"It seems to me," he continued, "that Secretary Byrnes who asserts his determination to secure peace in a free world at the Paris Conference should regard this explosive situation with the gravest concern if he is to convince delegates from other nations of that determination. It is imperative that Mr. Byrnes act immediately to secure peace in the United States."

Held for Murder In Fatal Gunplay

George Washington Jones, 23, this week was held to answer, in municipal court, for the fatal shooting of Charles Johnson, 26-year-old presser, in a gun fight at the Samba theatre-cafe last week.

Johnson died in General hospital after a bullet allegedly fired by Jones, hit him in the head. Police first reported Johnson's name as Jones, but corrected the error when the murder complaint was sworn out.

A trio of witnesses to the gunplay told of Jones' pumping a slug into the victim's head during a violent quarrel over the alleged theft of narcotics.

Jones will be arraigned Sept. 20 in superior court.

GOP to Peddle Red Herring This Fall

If you a prominent Democrat, the Republicans can use you. That is, if you have no scruples as to how you make your money.

GOP strategists around the Knowland headquarters are reported trying to lure some anti-Roosevelt Democrat to go on the air to attack James Roosevelt, state chairman of the Democratic party.

The idea is, so the report says, to say nothing about the campaign or the candidate but to call Roosevelt a "Red," describe the Democratic candidates as the "CIO slate" and hint, not too subtly, that they are blessed by the Communist party or vice versa.

One outstanding Democrat has refused to take the assignment, but the Republicans are reputedly still shopping around.

This, incidentally, is the tactic the GOP has been using against Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas for several weeks now, not daring to attack her outstanding record in congress.

Hospital Aid Red Plot, Says Fascist Leader

The city council, investigating appropriation of a $15,000 fund to survey the present hospital shortage in Southern California, got all fouled up with red-baiting Tuesday, and ended up in a two-hour debate with the witch-hunters working overtime.

It all started when, after short debate over the issue, councilmen allowed Mrs. Adelle Cox, spokesman for "We the Mothers Mobilize for America," a group declared to be friendly to Gerald L. K. Smith and his ilk, to address the body.

Mrs. Cox stated that such a survey smacked of socialized medicine to her, which belonged in "Godless" Russia but not here in our beloved land, and after a "study" of the committee of 250 leading medical and social leaders sponsoring the survey, she said it was a "red-front plot."

Several council members pointed out that Robert L. Smith, spokesman for the group, was hardly a Communist, and the Red charge fell a little short of Harvey S. Mudd, another backer. But hardly had they defended the committee when Mrs. Dorothy Richards, of Earl Craig's "People's Lobby," anti-Semitic group and another friendly to Smith, repeated Mrs. Cox's charge and added a few of her own.

The council finally passed the $15,000 sum, after Mrs. Richards, denied another crack at using up the council's time, called them a "rude bunch" of so-and-sos and stalked back to her seat.

Two Sailors Held for Robbing Benefactor

A pair of sailors, believed by the district attorney's office to be AWOL from their ships, were held for robbing 60-year-old John Woods, refuse collector, after he had befriended them and showed them the way to a USO.

Woods, who lives at 2137 East 111th st., told municipal judge Edwin L. Jefferson that his car had a flat tire late at night several weeks ago, and while he was changing it, three men dressed in sailor's uniforms asked him the way to the USO.

After he had walked several blocks the trio jumped on him, and two he identified as Ulysses Nunn, 20, of the USS Chilto, and Richard Pickle, 19, of the USS Tolovano, took his wallet containing $7 and fled. They were captured soon afterwards and booked on suspicion of robbery.

PTA Leader Asks 'Yes' Vote on 3

Mrs. Rollin Brown of Los Angeles, president of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, declared this week that California's public schools system is threatened with collapse unless strong measures are taken to recruit thousands of new teachers throughout the state.

She urged passage of Proposition 3 in the November general election. This would set a minimum salary of $2400 per year for public school teachers. Proponents of the bill point out that the increase would be financed from state funds which already are adequate for the purpose.

According to the sponsors of Proposition 3, salaries which are more in line with those in other fields would bring into the teaching profession capable men and women who are currently avoiding it in favor of more lucrative work.

Commenting on a recent admission by the State Department of Education that 13 California schools were forced to close during the past year because no teachers were available, Mrs. Brown declared:

"It is not at all inconceivable that the closing of these 13 schools is merely the beginning of a drastic shutdown brought about by a teacher famine which steadily is growing worse.

"The entire voting public—particularly fathers and mothers—must be made aware of the educational blackout faced by our children. We must not force our youngsters to pay the price of our own indifference and neglect."

JOAN CRAWFORD

Then she will go to New York for some shows, some shopping and some "more sleep."

CASANOVA

Bob Hutton is giving his rivals at Warner Bros. something to think about. At the studio cafe last week he hosted not one but three of the reigning Warner beauties—Arlene Dahl, Mary Jane Harker and Suzi Crandall.

17 White Athens Rioters Indicted By Grand Jury

ATHENS, Ala—(NNPA—A special grand jury has returned ten indictments charging 16 whites with undisclosed offenses in connection with a riot here August 10 in which scores of Negro citizens were beaten and the city jail stormed by a youthful mob.

The names of the indicted and the charges will be made public after warrants are served. Sheriff H. G. Garrett was expected to begin serving the warrants immediately.

Estimates of the number participating in the riot ranged as high as 2000 but Frank P. Turner, foreman, said the grand jury found "the number involved was only a small percent of the original number reported."

Turner said the jury questioned 77 witnesses and that its five-day inquiry "covered all phases of the riot."

In restoring order, state highway police arrested nine white persons on charges of unlawful assembly. All were youths ranging rom 18 to 20 with the exception of a 44-year old man. They have not been tried, and county authorities said the charges will be dropped if the grand jury preferred charges of a more serious nature against them.

Solicitor General George C. Johnson asked for trial of the indicted persons "at the earliest possible moment." Judge James H. Crow Jr., who impaneled the jury and called on its members not to "whitewash any condition that may have existed" overruled the solicitor general's request for a special court session to try the cases on the grounds that such an extra expense should not be incurred. He said the indicted persons would be docketed for trial at a court term beginning October 24.

The riot was touched off by a fist fight between two white Limestone County brothers and a Negro war veteran.

Police Hunt Killer

Police homicide detectives are searching for a 25-year-old man described as about average height and weight who a pair of youthful witnesses have named as the man who shot and killed Sam Srabian, white, 48, of 1705 East 4th St.

The same man is also believed to have robbed S. J. Mooshagian, a friend and neighbor of Srabian, of $2500 in postal savings checks earlier last Sunday, the day of the killing.

According to police, Sarabian was found dying with a bullet in his chest near his garage in the rear of his home. Two witnesses, Richard Mena and Joe Vasquez, stated they were playing near the scene of the shooting, and saw a man they said was colored, fleeing from the back yard.

Warns High Speeds Cause Greater Traffic Toll

Excessive speeds are responsible for an alarming increase in traffic deaths and injuries, warned Deputy Chief of Police B. B. Caldwell, director of the traffic bureau, as he reported a Los Angeles traffic toll of 37 dead and 1460 injured during July of 1946.

Two hundred and ninety-five people were killed in traffic in Los Angeles during the first 7 months of 1946—an increase of 24.5% over the same months of last year. Traffic injuries increased 28.1% with a toll of 10,354 for 1946.

Los Angeles police have made 41,012 speed arrests since January 1st of this year in an effort to curb traffic accident deaths and injuries.

Rose St. Hotel Sold to Hill

The Rose Street Hotel properties, comprising 72 rooms located at 130 to 136 Rose street, were sold this week by Charles Solov to Dr. Charles W. Hill.

J. Richard Felton, sales co-ordinator of the C. W. Hill Company, announced that the purchasing of this property conforms with the five-year building and buying plan of this company, which also includes a new five-story modern hotel to be erected on the vacant lot at 519 Stanford avenue as soon as materials are available.

The Rose street properties will be completely reconditioned.

NEW YORK—The Committee for the Nation's Health, spearheading the drive for national health insurance, has pledged itself to fight for free development of consumer sponsored medical health service organizations. The pledge was made yesterday in a message from Dr. Channing Frothingham, national chairman, to Dr. Michael Shadid, temporary chairman of the Cooperative Health Federation of America.

Covenanters Routed in Ocean Park; Jews, Vets Blast Anti-Negro Move

By DAVID GRANT

OCEAN PARK—In the opening round, the promoters of restrictive covenents in Ocean Park took a severe mauling at a meeting they called in the Eagles Hall, which was attended by about 100 people.

The meeting was chaired by one John Bluett for the Property Owners Association," who gave me their address as at a local office building, where on checking I found they were unknown.

The organization had circulated petitions and had even secured the signatures of a few Jews on the pretex of keeping out an influx of "low Negro characters." To the non-Jews the anti-Semitic angle was added to the anti-Negro.

Bluett read the petition, which the signers had been otld orally was to keep a Negro night club out of a residential area. The reading of the text made plain that the purpose was not to keep out night clubs, but against Negro occupancy.

A barrage of questions were thrown at Bluett on this misrepresentation, during which he asserted he was "not intolerant" against the Negro. As "proof" he cited that he had been a policeman with his beat on Central

On The Sidewalk

By C. A. B.

MAYOR Bowron, in a broadcast over KFI last Thursday evening, referred to what he considers "dangerous activities right here in our own community."

He then went on to quote from an article in the Reader's Digest by Dr. George S. Benson, president of Harding College, in which Dr. Benson said if he were a powerful Communist, he would "foment strikes, scatter biased propaganda, boost all wasteful appropriation bills in Congress, teach people to expect something for nothing, and create just as much industrial confusion and uncertainty as possible to the end that the people would lose faith in private enterprise."

Mayor Bowron then added a few things he himself would do in Los Angeles, if he were a "powerful Communist."

"I WOULD be bent," he said, "on creating misunderstanding, seething unrest; I would set class against class, color against color; I would provoke fear by propaganda through stories of horror wrought by an unseen hand and brutality directed against persons of minority groups, especially Negroes . . . I would want turbulance, turmoil, unsettled conditions, prejudice, suspicion, directed at those who represent the government."

I don't pretend to know any of the rules, first hand, governing membership in the Communist Party, but from what I have seen and heard and read, Mayor Bowron, whether you know it or not, you have suggested the type of program for us here, that started Germany on its way to slaughtering part of the human family in the world, and destroying our present civilization.

IF YOU had said, "If I were a Fascist," and then said these things, Mayor Bowron, I would have understood.

You say that "Democracy" is a much-bandied word, and that those who mobilize for "Democracy" are trying to destroy it by instilling prejudice in the minds of people, as well as encouraging bias, resentment and fear. And to accomplish this, they resort to representing as facts those things which are not true.

In the next breath, you tell us, the citizens of this commonwealth, to maintain our self-respect by ignoring Gerald L. K. Smith.

IF I were a Fascist, Mayor Bowron, I would broadcast a speech which would lull the people to sleep to any danger of racism. Racial riots do not come because the people have been aroused by untruths. They come because those who have been downtrodden for years have at last turned upon their persecutors. Because the law enforcement agencies of the city or country have not enforced the law, and have given these downtrodden citizens no protection.

And again, if I were a Fascist, I would try to make the wealthy and middle class citizens, to whom you doubtless address your remarks, believe that anyone striving to lift those citizens in the lower brackets, is trying to overthrow the government.

IF I were a powerful Fascist, Mayor Bowron, I would say, as you say, that strikes are "fomented" by agitators, when in reality, strikes are caused by working people turning at last against intolerable working conditions and wages too low to support a family.

And then, finally, if I were a Fascist, I would wrap myself in the American flag and talk profoundly about the Constitution and "law and order," as you have done. I would speak of Democracy — that much-bandied and much-used word—as if it applied only to those of high degree, as you seem to think it does.

Forgetting all about Jefferson's definition of Democracy, "that ALL men are created equal," and the definition of one greater than Jefferson, "God hath made of ONE blood all nations of men," I would say, if I were a Fascist, as you have said, that those who are working in the cause of real democracy are "boring into the very foundations of democratic government."

YOU condemn the organization known as the Mobilization for Democracy mainly because that organization objects to the use of one of our high schools by Gerald L. K. Smith.

In case you do not know it, Smith is more than a mere rabble-rouser. He is editor of a magazine "The Cross and

MOURN LYNCH VICTIMS—A section of the delegation of ministers and lay delegates to the Biennial Council of the Peoples Church of Christ and Community Center of America which visited the White House and the Department of Justice in Washington, D. Russel, pastor of Peoples Independent church of Los Angeles. (Story on Page 2)

'Let's Get Down to Home Cases,' Says Wallace, Hitting War Drive, Lynchings

NEW YORK—(NNPA)—Although you would never guess it from the reports appearing in the daily press of Henry Wallace's recent speech, the militant secretary of commerce not only blasted as inimical to international goodwill and peace the "get tough with Russia" policy of Secretary of State Byrnes, but sharply assailed lynching and race hatred in this country.

Taking note of the beam in the eyes of those who are hysterically propagandizing about the mote in the eyes of our Russian allies, Wallace cited the mass lynching of two couples near Monroe, Georgia, July 13, as an illustration of the kind of prejudice that fosters war.

Wallace, along with Senator Claude Pepper, (D., Fla.), spoke in Madison Square Garden at an anti-Dewey, anti-Republican rally sponsored jointly by the Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions and the National Citizens Political Action Committee.

In his speech, "The Way to Peace," Wallace warned that British imperialistic policy in the Near East, clashing headlong with Russian retaliation, would lead the U. S. to war unless this country has a clearly defined and realistic policy of its own. "We must not let British balance-of-power manipulations determine whether and when the U. S. gets into war," he said.

Wallace set forth a detailed

Artist Stopped By Cop, Told 'No Negroes' Here

"No Negroes live in this part of the city," was the reason given by a white policeman, Shield No. 180, for holding John Garay of 4314 Crocker st. for 20 minutes at Western ave. and Sixth st. Tuesday night.

Garay, an artist recently from New York and an old friend of Cyril Briggs, Managing Editor of the California EAGLE, was subjected to a search of his person and his car by the officer, who impudently asked him "when were you in jail last?"

When Garay objected to the formulation of the officer's question, pointed out the officer had no right to assume he was a criminal, the officer replied he was "asking the questions."

Further pressed by Garay, he explained his action on the grounds that (1) no Negroes live in that section of the city, (2) that Garay's car had a "foreign" license. Garay, who has been in Los Angeles less than one month, pointed out that he is not obligated, under California law, to change his license until he has been here one year.

The artist was held for 20 minutes while the officer telephoned his superiors for instructions. He was then released, told he would be "checked from now on."

Garay took the shield number of the officer, who had refused to give his name.

BREAK DOWN RACIAL BARS—Misses Ruth Roy and Branda V. Smith (right to left) whose admission as students in the children's hospital has set a new precedent. It is the first time Negro students have crashed the racial bars at that institution. Both young ladies are in Los Angeles to study physical theraphy through scholarships granted by the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis. Receiving B.S. degrees in the department of Physical Education from Xavier university, New Orleans, La., in '45, they are members of the Delta Sigma Theta sorority, and at present are house guests of Mrs. Margaret Edwards and son on E. 32nd st.

Hold Ala. Solon, Two Others, On Peonage Charge

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. — (NNPA) —A representative-elect to the Alabama legislature and three other white men have been arraigned here on federal charges of peonage for allegedly holding a laborer and forcing him to work out a debt.

U. S. Commissioner S. H. Sprott identified the men as Representative-elect R. B. Doughty, of Pickens county; Eddie L. Doughty, William Ambrose and James V. Sanders, all of Reform, Ala.

They were placed under $1000 bond each.

A federal indictment charged that the four transported Willie F. Will from Cordova, in Walker county, to a farm near Reform, where he was held "in a condition of peonage."

The indictment said the detention began "on or about April 7, 1946."

The men were arrested at Reform by U. S. Marshal Murray Hinton and brought here.

Register Today!

The local branch of the NAACP yesterday issued the following call to voters to register:

"Are you a registered voter? If not, register today so you can vote for Proposition No. 11 (FEPC) on Nov. 5.

"Sept. 26 is the last day to register. You are eligible to register if you are 21 years old (or will be by Nov. 5) and if you have lived in California for one year, and in Los Angeles county for 90 days.

"Urge all of your friends to register and be ready to vote for FEPC on Nov. 5."

So. Pacific R. R., Bombarded By Protests, Now Considering Change of Jim Crow Policy

Officials of the Southern Pacific railroad who have been bombarded by protests from all quarters of the city since news of their Jim Crow policy leaked out, this week promised Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, editor-publisher of The EAGLE, and chairman of the local chapter of the National Negro Congree, that they will consider a reversal of their Jim Crow policy, and that a statement will be issued as soon as a decision has been reached.

Under their new policy, Southern Pacific officials have been seating Negro passengers leaving Los Angeles for the South in a special segregated car.

Despite protestations on the part of company officials that their only wish was to make traveling as convenient and comfortable as possible for Negro passengers, the citizens of Los Angeles have made it clear they are determined to put and end to this policy of discrimination.

In Washington, D. C., as a result of recent series of complaints of segregated seating in bus travel between the District of Columbia and Virginia, the local branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is asking that

Girl Attempts To Shield Victor In Fatal Duel

A buxom, sad-eyed sweetheart of a man being tried for murder attempted to shield him in a municipal court preliminary hearing Monday. She was Rose Lee Kirkpatrick, 22, of 236 E. Second st., who told Judge Joseph Chambers her lover had killed her ex-lover in self-defense.

The preliminary was the result of the "love duel" two weeks ago at Second and Main streets in which William L. Blanton, 25, was fatally stabbed. The defendant and alleged killer is Isaac Jackson, 28, rugged laborer, who witnesses say they saw stab to death Blanton, a 235-pound

Mobilization Urges All Citizens to Join Protest Against Hate Peddler

In a dramatic call to action, William R. Bidner, executive director of the Mobilization for Democracy, urged all "alert, democratically-minded citizens," to join the giant demonstration picket line against Gerald L. K. Smith at Polytechnic high school, Washington near Hope st., when Smith speaks there Sunday, Sept. 22, at 2 p.m. The picket line will form at 1:30 p.m.

Last year, the Mobilization organized picket lines 20,000 strong around Smith rallies at the Polytechnic school.

Arrested in Chicago and driven out of New York, Minneapolis and other major cities, Smith is back for a desperate try at Los Angeles again and plans to amalgamate all the local anti-Semitic, race-baiting and red-baiting groups into the "California Committee of Christian Nationalists," according to Bidner. Bidner charged that Smith was in town "chiefly to whip up war hysteria and to utilize the Hitler weapon of anti-Communism to divide the American people."

Smith, in statements made before a five-day convention of

Bout Ends After Two Minutes

NEW YORK—Over 30,000 fight fans packed Madison Square Garden last night (Wednesday) and paid upwards of $350,000 to see Joe Louis, the world's heavyweight champion, dispose of challenger, Tami Mauriello, in 2m. 9s. of the first round of their scheduled 15-round title fight. A crushing right proved to be the finishing blow after a hectic first round brawl.

As the gong sounded Mauriello staggered the champion with a hard blow. Louis retaliating by dropping the challenger for a 9-count with hard lefts and rights to the head. When Mauriello arose he staggered the Brown Bomber again and then the fireworks began. Louis opened up and soon put over his finishing right which put the barroom owner down for the full count.

The champion weighed 211½ to 198½ for Mauriello.

It was a warm night in New York and a particularly warm one for the seeker of the world's heavyweight title. Asked after the fight if Mauriello hurt him, Joe replied that when he was first staggered he thought he was going down. Mauriello said that he got careless. The challenger finished the bout with a bloody face while Joe was unmarked. It was the 23rd successful defense of his title for Joe Louis.

Arthur Donovan was the official referee of the fight. Joe Louis entered the ring an 8 to 1 favorite.

Police Report Threats of New Venice Violence

Police Lt. Howard L. Hentershee, in charge of the Venice sub-station, this week cancelled all vacations and days off for police under his jurisdiction after receiving a series of mysterious telephone calls threatening to "clean out" the Negro community of Venice.

While Hentershee and his men stood on guard against a possible new outbreak of violence, four white men were arrested and charged with kidnaping in connection with the attack on several Negro children and par-

Roosevelt, Gus Hawkins, Mrs. Bass Slated to Address Conference

The Provisional Committee of the Los Angeles Chapter, National Negro Congress, has issued a call to the citizens of Los Angeles to attend a conference and mass meeting at the Elks Temple, 4016 S. Central avenue, Sunday, Sept. 22, where plans will be charted for a full scale drive to wipe out lynch terror against Negro people; break down discrimination in employment through the setting up of a permanent FEPC; outlaw restrictive covenants, drive out the Ku Klux Klan; and mobilize the people of Los Angeles to place before the United States the problems of the American Negro.

CONFERENCE

The conference, which convenes at 1 p.m., will be opened with the reading of a memo from the National Office, followed by delivery of the principal address by John Howard Lawson.

Topic of the panel discussions, slated from 3 to 4 p.m. are FEPC, chaired by Augustus Hawkins; Health and Housing, led by Frank Wilkerson; and Lynch Terror and Police Brutality, chaired by Attorney John McTernan.

From 4 to 5 p.m., panel reports will be given, followed by an election of executive board members of the local chapter of NNC.

MASS MEETING

Following the conference a mass meeting will be held in the Elks Temple at 7:30 p.m., the aim of which is to bring to the people the platform of the National Negro Congress, with a fighting program for the winning of the Fair Employment Act in the state of California and a complete destruction of Jim crowism.

Invited speakers at the mass meeting include Col. James Roosevelt, Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, Phillip M. Connelly; Averill Berman, William Bidner and Albert Decker.

CITIZENS URGED TO ATTEND

Every trade union, church and organization is being called on to participate in the conference and mass meeting. Out of the conference, a permanent organization will be set up whose policy will be to deal solely with the interests of the people. The mass meeting will stress the need for militant action.

Wyatt to Confer With Minority Groups in L. A.

Resolutions to Truman, Senate Blast Lynch Terror, Challenge Election of Bilbo, Rankin of Miss.

The Biennial Council of the Peoples Church of Christ and Community Center of America not only made religious history but gave leadership to the fight against jimcrow oppression and lynch terror in this country. Held in Baltimore, Maryland, last month, the convention, under the leadership of militant Rev. Clayton D. Russell of Los Angeles, rallied its forces for a protest demonstration in the nation's capital and adopted a series of resolutions on lynching, the poll tax, and called upon the 0th congress to refuse to seat Sen. Bilbo and Rep. Rankin of Mississippi.

These documents are of both historic and educational value, and The California EAGLE herewith make them available to our readers.

August 17, 1946

To The Congressmen of The United States
Washington, D. C.

Honorable Sirs:

We, the members of the Biennial Council of the People's Church of Christ and Community Centers of America and Elsewhere, and of voting age, do urge the initiation of action to refuse seats to Senator Bilbo and Rep. Rankin, at the opening session of the 1947 congress because of misconduct during the recent election in Mississippi.

Generally we charge that Rep. Rankin and Sen. Bilbo, in 1946 primary elections of their state, did knowingly and consciously fail to uphold the constitution of the United States which as persons seeking elective office and as governmental officials they had sworn to uphold.

Specifically we charge that Rep. Rankin and Sen. Bilbo did violate Article 15 of the constitution of the United States, when they issued the call for white citizens to keep Negro citizens from the polls during the election.

Article 15 Rights of Suffage

1. The right of the citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by an state on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude.

2. Congress shall have the power to enforce the provision of this article by appropriate legislation.

We further charge that Bilbo and Rankin did create an insurrection and rebellion against the United States and the constitution of the United States when they caled for violence against Negro citizens exercising their duty of franchise and denied to Negro citizens the protection guaranteed all citizens of the United States under the constitution of the United States, consequency violating Article 14, Sections 1 and 3.

Article 14. Protection of All Citizens

1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and of the state wherein they reside. No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of cittizens of the United States: nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Rebellion Against the U. S.

3. No person shall be a senator or representative in congress or elector of President and Vice President or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States who has previously taken an oath as a member of congress or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of a State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any state to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same or give aid or comfort to the enemies thereof. But congress may b ya vote of 2/3 of each house remove such a disability.

And we finally charge that they did incite and create a situation in which citizens, including veterans, have been killed and as such are responsible for an uncontrolled insurrection against Negro cittizens of the United States of America.

All of which makes them unfit to hold the high position of responsibility which they seek in the senate and the house of representatives of the United States of America.

Under the constitution of the United States of America, upon the recommendation of the election committee of either house, the congress of the United States is charged with the duty of judging the qualification of persons elected to congress and either house may refuse to seat any elected person whom judge unfit. By a majority vote or a 2/3 vote the Senate can refuse to seat an elected member or can expel a member already seated.

Art. 1. Sec. 5. Organization of Congress

1. Each house shall be the judge of the elections, returns and qualification of its own members and a majority of each shall constitute a quorum.

2. Each house may determine the rules of its proceeding, punish its members for disorderly behavior and with the concurrence of 2/3 of its members expel a member.

This right and duty of congress has been exercised at various times in the history of our nation. In 1861 and 1862, 16 senators and many members of the house of representatives were removed from their positions.

Respectfully submitted,
Dr. Clayton D. Russell,
National President,
Rev. J. A. Winters,
Chicago, Illinois.
Rev. H. Mansfield Collins,
Los Angeles, California.

United States Dept. of Justice,
Atty. Gen., Thomas Clark,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

It has been called to our attention that more than 5000 known lynchings have occurred in the United States during the past 64 years. Thousands of other lynchings have occurred, of which there is no record.

In the last ten years almost 80 lynchings have been recorded. The most recent travesties on justice are the Georgia, Mississippi and Tennessee atrocities.

We, the ministers and delegates of the Biennial Council of Community and Independent Churches of America and Elsewhere, assembled in Baltimore, Maryland, August 14, 1946, do hereby petition the United States Department of Justice to use all your power to bring to justice these undemocratic, savage, mob-rulers and destroyers of democratic principles.

As church people, representing a body of more than 50,000, we are willing to support you, your workers, and all American citizens in maintaining the "Four Freedoms" and eliminating false barriers of race, creed and color.

We are declaring, this day, for a memorial day for the lynched and a new birthday in the anti-lynching program that must come to fruition in our fair country.

Again, in the name of God and fair play, we urge you to exercise your every power until these lynchers and enemies of our country are brought to justice.

Respectfully submitted,
Dr. Clayton D. Russell,
National President.
Rev. J. A. Winters,
Chicago, Illinois.
Rev. H. Mansfield Collins,
Los Angeles, California.

President of the United States,
Washington, D. C.
Honorable Mr. President:
Greetings:

We, the members of the Biennial Council of the People's Church of Christ and Community Centers of America and Elsewhere, assembled in Baltimore, Maryland, on August 14, to August 18, to hereby urge you in the name of God, justice, and democracy to use your high offices to re-open Fair mployment Practices Petition, to support the anti-poll-tax legislation, and to publicly denounce and support measures to outlaw lynching in the United States of America.

As ministers and Christian workers, we desire that our country shall truly be the "sweet land of liberty, the home of the brave and the land of the free."

We are enclosing, herewith, copies of petitions that we left at the Department of Justice and the office of congress.

Mr. President, we are asking you to support these requests that the Department of Justice bring these Georgia and Mississippi lynchers to justice, and that the 87th Session of the congress refuse to seat Senator Bilbo and Representative Rankin.

Our Council is composed of more than 50,000 members from all over the United States and Canada. This special delegation that came to Washington this morning, composed of ministers and laymen, on behalf of our membership, respectfully submit these requests to you.

Sincerely,
Dr. Clayton D. Russell,
National President.

Knight Backs Warren's Policy

Superior Court Judge Goodwin J. Knight, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, this week declared that he is in close harmony with Gov. Earl Warren on matters of state policy.

Judge Knight is on payless leave from his superior court bench while campaigning for office. He will spend the entire month of September in northern California, and intends to visit all counties in the state before November 5.

Judge Knight was one of three candidates for lieutenant governor in the primaries, and led the field with a total with 684,096 votes. He is the only veteran in the race.

Political observers consider the political harmony between Judge Knight and Governor Warren to be especially important in the current campaign. They point out that the man elected lieutenant governor in November may automatically become governor during the last half of his term, if Warren is nominated for the presidency in 1948.

Knight's opponent is San Francisco labor leader Jack Shelley, who is endorsed by the CIO-PAC. Shelley campaigned in the primaries as a member of the Democratic slate headed by Robert W. Kenny, which opposed Warren's reelection.

The Flag," which is anti-Jewish and anti-Negro, and which advocates white supremacy.

Some of the literature distributed at Smith meetings are his official mouthpiece, "The Cross and The Flag," "The National Forecast," "Everything After Its Kind," and "Divide and Conquer."

IF THERE is any doubt in your mind as to the purpose and intent of these masterpieces of terror strategy, read them.

How can we ignore Smith's presence when we know the object of his mission at this time?

February 8th of this year, Gerald L. K. Smith was arrested on a warrant charging him with disorderly conduct in connection with a riot, staged at a rally he addressed in Chicago.

NO, MAYOR Bowron, we will not ignore Smith. We know why he is here. He has come to destroy the things our sons and brothers and husbands fought to preserve in the war just ended.

Likes Army, Says War Hero in Exclusive Eagle Interview

"I like the U. S. army," S/Sgt. Edward Carter, holder of the Distinguished Service Cross and Purple Heart, told an EAGLE reporter in an exclusive interview this week.

Carter, who won the reputation of being a one-man army through heroic and outstanding action at Speyer, Germany, is the second Negro soldier in America to whom the coveted DSC has been awarded.

"The army's advantages are well above civilian organizations, and it pays off with dividends. In no other job can a man see so clearly the results of his accomplishments," he declared.

Sgt. Carter's career in the army began with his enlistment in September 1941. Going overseas in September of '44 with the quartermaster corps, 56th armored infantry, 12th armored division, 3rd army, Carter, who was then a platoon sergeant, took part in the invasion of southern France, then the Battle of the Bulge, spearheading for Patton all the way through to Rhine.

At Speyer, Germany, his platoon was wiped out. Carter was the only man in his outfit left alive in the town. Armed with only a half dozen hand grenades and one tommy gun, Carter fought his way out of the town. During that day, he was shot eight times, his back was filled with shrapnel, but he killed approximately 50 Germans before reaching the American lines at dusk.

Giving the Americans the disposition of the Germans, he tried to get a group together to go back for the Germans. His commanding officer, knowing that he was wounded, refused to let him go, and ordered him to the ambulance. Wounded as he was, Carter walked two miles to reach the ambulance because the terrain was too rough for Army vehicles.

After a three hour trip by train, Carter finally arrived at the 100th General hospital at Bar le Duc, France.

Sgt. Carter, who is now 30 years old, lives at 816 E. 22nd st., Los Angeles, with his wife, Mildred, and two boys, age 3 and 6.

Carter's father, Edward Carter, was a comedian with the Bert Williams minstrel show. The company tourned India and it was there Edward Carter met and married Ena, an Indian maid in Calcutta. They returned to the States for the birth of Edward Jr.

His parents took their child back to India and he was raised in India and China, attending the Shanghai Military Academy.

In 1931, young Carter joined the Chinese army, which was fighting the Japanese in Shanghai. From 1936 to '38, he fought against Franco and his Axis allies in Spain.

Carter, who was raised as a Buddist, said he "just believes in doing right."

Despite Carter's praise of the army, however, enlistments of Negroes are limited to technical units at this time, in accordance with a policy recently adopted by the army.

Ellis Patterson To Broadcast

Congressman Ellis Patterson and Edward G. Robinson will be heard in a special broadcast over KFWB, 8:45 p. m., Friday, Sept. 20, when they address more than 400 citizens of the 16th district at a dinner at the Beverly Wilshire hotel.

The dinner is being held in honor of Patterson for his 12 years of outstanding service as a public official.

"This public recognition comes at a time when all of us in the community realize the importance of retaining such a people's representative," said Mrs. Julian Sieroty, chairman of the event.

Patterson is being presented as a write-in candidate for re-election as representative in congress by the 16th Congressional District Legislative Council consisting of over 70 civic and community organizations.

Others scheduled to speak at the dinner are Mrs. Sieroty, James Burford, and Graucho Marx.

The council this week endorsed Will Rogers' candidacy for the U. S. Senate. Rogers is opposing Senator Knowland, Republican candidate for re-election.

5000 Delegates Set to Invade Washington in End-Lynching Crusade

(Special to The Eagle)

NEW YORK—Five thousand delegates are expected to invade Washington, D. C. next Monday, Sept. 23, to participate in an Emergency National Anti-Lynching Conference and to inaugurate an American crusade to end lynching.

Mounting support for the action continued pour in this week from Negro and white leaders throughout the country.

Joining with Paul Robeson in launching the crusade are: Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, Jr., John H. H. Sengstacke, Christine S. Smith, Milas S. Stephens, Frank Stanley, N. A. Sweet, William O. Walker, Bishop W. J. Wall, Charles Wesley, Rev. W. H. Jernagin, C. B. Powell, James E. Allen, Charlotta Hawkins Brown, New York Councilman Benjamin E. Davis Jr., C. C. Dejoie, Jr., Dr. DuBois, Bishop J. A. Gregg, Lena Horne, Dr. D. V. Jemison, Dr. Joseph Johnson, Canada Lee, Joe Louis, Dr. Benjamin Mays, Howard Murphy, Orsen Wells, Virginia Bruce, Burgess Meredith, Allan Ladd, Frank Sinatra.

Preceded by a series of mass rallies and radio broadcdsts all over the nation, the program in Washington will consist of a national religious ceremony in commemoration of the lynch victims, an action conference where plans for an intensified 100-day anti-lynch campaign will be worked out, a visit to the White House and the Department of Justice by the delegation of national sponsors, a mass rally at the Lincoln Memorial, with an expected attendance of 50,000 persons.

The National Broadcasting system wil carry a national hook-up on the Crusade at 2:30 standard time, Sept. 23.

Rev. Charles Hill will head the Michigan delegation of 200, with W. O. Walker, publisher of the Cleveland Call-Post, heading the Ohio delegation.

Preceding the pilgrimage to Washington, a series of radio broadcasts will be held on the West Coast, culminating in a mass letter campaign to the White House on Sept. 22 from West Coast residents.

Among the many groups supporting the action is the Jewish War Veterans, whose national commander, Major Maxwell Cohen, issued the following statement this week:

"We join with you in your crusade against this wholly un-American exhibition of frightful savagery by mobs whose very action places them out of the pale of common humanity and whose deeds are subversive of the very institutions under whose protection they owe their existence."

The pedestrian death toll is rising, and traffic reports show that 2 out of 3 fatal accidents involve pedestrians. The average age of the pedestrian killed is 52. These figures clearly indicate the need for added caution on the part of pedestrians as well as drivers.

West Indies Workers in Mighty Rally Blast U. S. Lynch Terror

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad—The place is Trinidad in the British West Indies. The time, Thursday, August 29. A huge outpouring of people, more than 5000 are jammed into Woodford Square. They have been called together by the Negro Welfare Cultural & Social Organization. The meeting is a protest demonstration. They are gathered together to express their burning indignation at the wave of lynchings of Negro people in the United States.

The little handbill, the distribution of which brought together this vast assemblage of workers, students, shopkeepers and professional people, reads like a calendar of horror, Freeport, New York, Birmingham, Alabama, Monroe, Georgia, Columbia, Tennessee, shooting, brutal beating, blinding, massacres.

The story of the Ferguson brothers is related. How they had come together, four Negroes, two in the uniform of their country, another an honorably discharged veteran, the fourth, a civilian, all reunited for the first time since Pearl Harbor, how the color of their skin decided the coffee-pot owners that had no coffee for them, though there was enough of the beverage for the whites who came later; one moment the four brothers are standing unarmed, defenseless, arms upraised, backs to a brick wall, facing a sharp-shooter policeman; a few seconds later Charles Ferguson is on the ground dead; Alfonzo, writhing, fatally shot, and Joseph's shoulder reddening with the blood spurting from a bullet wound. From the thousands assembled in Woodford Square, Trinidad, thousands of miles from Freeport, New York, where the killer still walks the street, with his pistol, cries of horror rise. Soon a great chant rises from their midst, "Death to the lynchers."

The Deweys, Talmadges and Rankins, should be grateful that they were not in Trinidad on August 29. The way in which the more than 5000 voices respond to a resolution, would give them sleepless nights. The speaker's words ring out across the sea of humanity, clear, sharp and burning, "To the New York Committee for Justice in Freeport, we send our greetings, we extend our solidarity to you fighters for freedom, liberty and justice. We feel that if the Negroes of America can fire one bullet for American imperialism, they can fire ten for their own emancipation." His words are taken up with resounding shouts of approval.

The resolution which follows hushes the crowd; they listen intently, eagerly, not wanting to miss a word; "We protest and condemn the cruel Ji mCrow attack that resulted in the cold-blooded murder of the Ferguson brothers, and the high-handed frame-up of another brother to cover up an anti-Negro campaign, launched by the Freeport police and their backers; we view these actions as similar to those committed by Hitler Gestapo, and though the world had fought to be free, abuses and injustices still continue and give birth to the same child, that these acts constitute the sting of American imperialism and unmask the Statue of Liberty, the Bill of Rights and last but not least the Four Freedoms." Then the assembly votes. The roar of approval is followed by the cry again, "Death to the lynchers."

Thus have the good people of Trinidad in the British West Indies, taken their place with the millions of Americans who continue to fight for justice for all people, black and white.

Voters Institute to Be Held Sept. 28-29

The answer to that age-old question of citizen voters, "What can I do about it?"—when discussing the shortcomings of men in public office—will be forthcoming the weekend of September 28-29 when for the first time in California history a school in political action technique will be conducted in Los Angeles.

This school is planned to bring home graphically to the people how they can most effectively help to obtain, and keep, good government. The school will be conducted at the Parkview Manor, 2200 West Seventh st., by the Southern California chapter of the NCPAC, a non-partisan organization formed in 1944 to see that persons, who will face local, national and international issues squarely and honestly, are elected to office.

DR. ROBERT E. LONG of St. Louis, Mo., is visiting Los Angeles for three weeks. He is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Dudley.

WPSC Exec. Council

The monthly executive council meeting of the WPSC will be held at the Recreation Center in Riverside, Calif., corner Parkview and 12th sts., Sept. 26. Luncheon will be served at 12 noon. Session convenes at 1 p. m.

No Shortage of Meat, Townsend Says; Blames 'Strike' of Packers

CHICAGO—In a statement of sympathy and support to approximately 15,000 unemployed Negro and white packing-house workers, Willard S. Townsend, international president of the United Transport Service Employes, CIO, yesterday charged that the Meat Packers Institute of America was conducting a meat strike against the public.

"There is no meat shortage," the Negro labor leader asserted. "Cattlemen have raised the animals, workers stand ready to process them, grocers are eager to serve their customers. The missing link is the uncooperative packer, determined to gain higher profits, and committed to spearhead the fight to kill all controls—the same controls which hold to eight cents school lunches now costing 20 cents."

Townsend accused Secretary of Agriculture Anderson of "selling out" to the packers when Anderson announced higher ceilings on Sept. 7. "Even as Anderson contemplates a further increase to avoid rationing," Townsend said, "packers are hoarding stocks and curtailing pudchase to the point of an artificial 'meat famine!'"

Townsend continued: "The current packers' strike has resulted in one of the heaviest layoffs in history. Men and women, many with over 25 years seniority in the meat processing industry are unemployed for a second time within the year.

"The situation lends impetus to CIO's demands for a guaranteed annual wage," Townsend concluded, "for men and women must eat and pay rent the year around. The guaranteed wage provides a method of assuring workers a steady income throughout the year — and a steady income means steady purchasing power."

Woodard Protest Rally Ocean Park Sept. 29

SANTA MONICA — The local branch of the NAACP will hold a mass meeting Sunday, Sept. 29, at 3 p. m., to protest the inhuman treatment of Isaac Woodard, World War veteran who was blinded by a white South Carolina policeman three hours after receiving his honorary discharge from the army.

The meeting will be held in the Municipal auditorium, Ocean Park.

Schwellenbach Agrees to Drop Segregation in USES, Refuses To Blacklist Biased Employers

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schellenbach yesterday agreed to abolish segregation in the District of Columbia offices of the United States Employment Service but rejected the recommendation of minority group representatives to stop the filling of discriminatory hiring orders when the public employment offices are returned to the states November 15. After that date only the local USES office will be under federal jurisdiction.

Abolition of segregation in the local USES offices was expected to be effected within a fortnight. Administrative procedures involved in making the change prevented the secretary from taking immediate action, it was said.

Schwellenbach's promise to abolish segregation in the local offices came after representatives of minority group organizations and labor unions had held a conference with USES officials and presented him with a six-point program for the protection of minority group interests when the public employment offices are returned to the states.

Other recommendations submitted to Schwellenbach called for refusal to accept discriminatory hiring orders, denial of service to employers submitting such orders, inclusion in state operating plans of policies and procedures to promote the full utilization of minority group workers, assignment of personnel to see that these policies are followed, and equal employment opportunities for all of the agency's employes, regardless of race, creed, color or national origin.

Robert C. Weaver, representing the American Council of Race Relations, acted as spokesman for the group which included Clarence Mitchell, NAACP labor secretary; Will Maslow, American Jewish Congress; Julius Thomas, National Urban League; Frank S. Loescher, American Friends Society; George L. P. Weaver, CIO Anti-Discrimination Committee; Masaosatou Kido, Japanese-American Citizens League; Rev. W. H. Jernagin, Federal Council of Churches; I. M. Ornburn, American Federation of Labor.

Arrested On Charge Of Molesting Child

Leonard Brice, 22, of 3260 Calloway drive, has been arrested by police on suspicion of molesting a 10 year old girl in the 400 block on Crocker st.

Officers picked up Brice following complaints of Mrs. Rosalie Kearny, an apartment house landlady, that a man had committed a morals offense against the young girl. She identified Brice as the offender.

Art Exhibit Slated for NUL Parley

Cash prizes of $225 for outstanding works by Negro artists will be awarded at a special national Negro art exhibition to be held during the 1946 Annual Conference of the National Urban League convening September 25-29 in St. Louis, Lester B. Granger, executive secretary of the League announced this week.

Negro artists in 56 Urban League cities now are competing in preliminary contests, and two paintings will be selected from those submitted in each city for entry in the final contest during the St. Louis conference.

The national exhibition in St. Louis is sponsored jointly by the People's Art Center, an interracial art school serving approximately 1000 children and adult students, and the National Urban League. The Center has been supported by the St. Louis Community Chest since 1943. John T. Clark, executive secretary of the Urban League of St. Louis, is among the leaders who organized the Center, which was established in 1942.

L.A. Red Cross Offers Home Nursing Class

A streamlined, six-lesson course in "Care for the Sick at Home"—a Red Cross home nursing class—is now being held in the Recreation Hall of the Palm Lane Housing Project, 1800 E. 121st street, Compton.

Organized by Mrs. Luther Hartsfield, the class opened last Tuesday (Sept. 17) and sessions will follow every Tuesday and Thursday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock for three consecutive weeks.

Assisted by Mrs. Myrtle Montgomery, of 1842 E. 123rd st., Mrs. Hartsfield is now planning a further series of home nursing classes for women residing in the Palm Lane Housing Project or in the nearby community.

Those wishing to register for future classes are asked to call Mrs. Hartsfield at NEwmark 1-8334, or Mrs. Montgomery at NEvada 6-2541.

RECEIVES C. L. U.—Ernest Shell, director of agencies for the Great Lakes Mutual Life Insurance Company of Detroit, Michigan, recently received the Charter Life Underwriters designation. The C. L. U. designation was conferred upon Shell by the American College of Life Underwriters at its exercises in Cleveland, Ohio.

Hubby Had One Wife Too Many, Mate Says

When Mrs. Edith Bletson discovered that her husband had neglected to shed his first wife when he married her last July she hustled down to Attorney Crispus Wright and asked what to do in such a case.

The lawyer looked into the matter and found out that the husband, Julius C. Bleston, 30, of 521 S. Glass st., had married Minnie Cowens Bletson, 23, in 1942. They came to the parting of the ways a few years later, and Bletson then met and married the attractive Edith, 27.

As a result an annulment complaint was filed this week in superior court, wherein Mrs. Bletson II asks that her marriage be voided, and the first Mrs. Bletson be allowed to have Julius all to herself.

She states she came to that decision after Julius had beaten her up on numerous occasions, tried to break into their apartment on Glass st. after she had discovered he was married and told him to leave, and committed other cruel and inhuman acts.

Sues Minister and Woman for Assault

An $8000 damage suit has been filed in superior court on behalf of John Hoytt of 1323 E. 58th pl. who claims he was attacked and his arm broken by defendants Lillie White of 1316 E. 58th pl. and Rev. White.

According to the complaint, Hoytt was assaulted in front of the Whites' residence on August 10. Besides the $8000, he asks that the defendants be ordered to pay medical bills and court costs.

Asks U. S. Collect $685,305 Back Taxes From Klan

ATLANTA, Ga. — (NNPA) — United States Internal Revenue Collector Marion Allen, of Atlanta, yesterday was urged by the union-sponsored Georgia legislative council to collect $685,305 in back taxes owed Uncle Sam by the Ku Klux Klan.

Kenneth Douty, of Atlanta, secretary of the legislative council, said he had offered Allen "conclusive evidence" of tangible Klan assets that could be attached.

Allen filed a lien against the Klan here several months ago. He claimed at that time that he could not locate any property upon which to levy claims.

Dr. Samuel Green, of Atlanta, the Klan imperial wizard, contended that the present organization, "The Association of Georgia Klans," had no connection with "Ku Klux Klan, Inc.," flourishing hooded order of the 1920s.

Douty offered Allen exhibits showing:

- That the new Klan is using the same printed forms as the old organization, with the new name sometimes rubber-stamped over the old title.
- "Rules and regulations" of the Klan's death benefit association, which he contended paid three death benefits in 1945 and one so far this year.
- Newspaper stories quoting Green that the Klan had 150 "klaverns" operating in Georgia, with 60,000 members. At $10 each, this would mean assets of $600,000.
- Statements that the Klan had signed a contract for robe material with a Griffin, Ga., textile mill.
- Statements that the Klan sold jewelry through the "American Keystone Foundation" at prices ranging from $9 to $1500 for membership pins.
- An assertion that Atlanta Klan Post No. 297 opened an account in the west branch of the First National Bank (Atlanta) in February with a $2000 balance.

3 Divine Followers Appeal Phila. Ruling

PHILADELPHIA — (NNPA) — Three of Father Divine's followers have asked Judge Clare Gerald Fenerty, in Common Pleas Court No. 5, to override the Registration Commission's refusal to enroll them as voters because they would not state their birth names.

Using their "religious" names in the suit were Job Patience, 49, of 972 South Broad st.; Prodigal Son, 42, of 507 South Broad st., who said he served in the army under that name, and Miss Victory Love, of 895 North 41st st., who pointed out her original name had been wished upon her by slave-holders. Judge Fenerty took the case under advisement.

PUBLIC PROTEST

Against GERALD L. K. SMITH

SUNDAY, SEPT. 22—1:30 P. M.

America's No. 1 hate-preacher returns to Los Angeles with dangerous schemes. He wants to band together all the local anti-Semites, Ku Kluxers and race-baiters into the "California Committee of Christian Nationalists." This is a brazenly open Hitler outfit!

One million American soldiers were killed and maimed in World War II. Yet Smith rants for more bloodshed. He says, "I expect a declaration of war within six months." "We'll be on top as soon as we get into war with Russia."

Smith sneers at American democracy. Says Smith, "I have to do your thinking for you . . . you wouldn't know what to think, would you? Elections don't make leaders . . . when chaos comes, I'll be the leader."

Despite the overwhelming indignation of decent-minded residents, the Los Angeles Board of Education has again permitted Smith to use a school building to promote his perverted ideas.

Our schools must be used to teach our children American principles of equality and justice. Protest the use of educational buildings as forums for Smith's poison formulas.

Last year, the Mobilization for Democracy, working with 400 labor, youth, veterans and civic groups, organized tens of thousands of citizens in public rallies against Smith. The people of Los Angeles told Smith in no uncertain terms to get out and stay out of our city! Since then, Smith has been run out of New York . . . Chicago . . . St. Louis . . . Detroit . . . New Orleans.

avenue and his buddy had been a Negro policeman who was a fine fellow. But would he want to associate with him socially? Of course not!

Then the fireworks began in earnest. Members of the local Anti-Defamation League and the B'Nai B'Rith said that their organizations, representing hundreds of property owners would fight with everything they possessed to defeat this attempt at discrimination and would not tolerate any discrimination against Negroes or and other minority group.

A member of the local American Veteran Committee challenged Bluett continuously. The veterans, he said, had fought a war to secure democracy and they would not stand by now and see the Negro pushed around. Other veterans told of having fought with Negroes and lived with them in foxholes—certainly they were good enough to be lived next to now.

Jews arose to tell of street after street in the community where they lived interspersed with Negro neighbors in the most cordial relationship.

Two women spoke defending the proposed discrimination. The first was immediately charged with being anti-Semitic also, and reminded that only a few years ago she had displayed a "No Jews Allowed" sign in her window. The other woman said that the Jews had been the chosen people of God, but because they had sinned, God was now punishing them.

Bluett cut her off at this point and no one came to her defense for the right to finish. At the beginning of the meeting Bluett had tried to cut off the opposition, but the veterans got up and fought for the right of the opposition to be heard.

A Jewish property owner on the executive committee got up and said he had been tricked into the organization.

Communist speakers pointed out that this attempt at discrimination was a part of the fascist pattern — to set one group against the other, as Hitler had done—to stir up racial and religious hatred in order to disunite the people and thus take their minds off the real issues—housing, the rising cost of living an dthe drive for a new world war. Bluett had demanded why one of the previous speakers speakers from another area was so interested in this issue. He got the answer: "The whole world is too small a place to live in as long as there is a single fascist in it. And here is fascism in the making!"

Three social science students from Loyola were present as observers and each one spoke against the policy of discrimination. One naively said that maybe Bluett had been misunderstood and had not intended to discriminate.

Whereupon Bluett said that he also was a good Catholic, Irish, and that he certainly was not discriminating. He was only fighting for the rights of the property owners to prevent Negroes from living next to them. That was his idea of a democratic right.

By now the meeting had become one gigantic wave of protest. Bluett adjourned it, saying that the executive committee of four would consider the proposal voiced by speakers—that they would support a restriction against a night club in the said residential zone but that no mention was to be made of race, color or creed.

After the meeting, in conversation with Bluett, it developed that his personal zeal in the movement—he does not live in the community—was heightened by the fact that he was getting $10 per member, of which they already had 200. He gave his present occupation as "private detective." When told by my wife that racial discrimination by a Catholic was considered an immorality, he definitely disagreed. We have many Negro Catholics, he said, and even have Negro bishops for them. But they stay in their own churches and only in rare cases do they mingle with the whites.

An alerted people for the moment had beaten down a mushrooming fascist move!

Speakers Highlight Wilfandel Meeting

The popular Wilfandel club held its regular meeting in the gardens of Mrs. Hilda Allen's home recently. Of special interest were two guest speakers, Mrs. Henrietta Pelky, head of the AKA Gamma House at the University of Champaign, Illinois, who gave very interesting facts concerning the operation of the house, and Mrs. Edna Over Gray, new supreme basileus of AKA gave some inspiring remarks on "What Our Women Have Done and Are Doing."

A delightful breakfast was served by the hostess.

the "Christian Nationalist" here, has declared that "we'll be on top as soon as we get into war with Russia." Smith also assailed the editor of The California EAGLE, declaring that Charlotte Bass should be drummed out of town.

(His meetings were picketed each night by American Youth for Democracy, American Veterans Committee, International Workers Order and Thursday night by 300 striking Herald-Express workers and other CIO representatives.)

Declaring that all decent-minded citizens have a responsibility to speak out against Smith, Bidner accused Mayor Fletcher Bowron of "defending the right of Gerald L. K. Smith to continue his destructive activities here," following the mayor's attack on the Mobilization for Democracy in a radio broadcast.

The Mayor took exception to the Mobilization's dramatic expose of 27 local Klan incidents presented on the organization's new radio series, "It is Happening Here," Monday night on KLAC and claimed the Mobilization was "undertaking a campaign—to throw fear into the hearts of many persons."

Bidner declared that both President Truman and the FBI have called the attention of the nation to the sharp rise of organized prejudice and intolerance.

"It would have been more fitting," he said, "for Mayor Bowron to use his radio broadcast to expose the incitement activities of Gerald L. K. Smith rather than to give encouragement to that bigot by turning his guns on those people and organizations in this city who are most active in fighting Smith and similar pro-fascists."

scheduled under the mayor's committee's auspices with veterans' organizations, minority group representatives, and building-trade, contracting and material dealers' associations.

McKelsey said one or more public functions will be arranged to provide Wyatt an opportunity to discuss community solutions to the housing crisis with representatives of other Southern California cities, and with state and county officials.

Manufacturing plants, particularly new and reconverted establishments producing materials critically needed in the veterans' emergency housing program, will be inspected by Wyatt October 1. On the same tour Wyatt will inspect housing projects, both publicly and privately constructed.

Later the same day Wyatt will confer with studio executives and producers on the motion picture industry's proposals for assisting the nation in reaching its goal of starting 2,700,000 dwelling units for veterans by Christmas of 1947.

contempt proceedings be brought against the Richmond Greyhound bus lines.

Chief basis for the request for citation for contempt is a set of written regulations issued by the company to its bus drivers, authorizing them to violate the recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States outlawing Jim Crow in Interstate travel.

In Virginia, Southern bus companies are seeking to evade the decision of the United States Supreme Court in the Irene Morgan case declaring invalid a Virginia statute requiring the segregation of whit eand colored passengers traveling interstate in buses.

THE COST OF MEDICAL CARE

That the cost of medical care has risen, no one can deny. But the rise has not been out of proportion to the general advance in the cost of living. At the same time the quality of medical service has been immeasurably improved.

Consider that today your physician has invested from eight to ten years and about ten thousand dollars in his education alone. He has no chance to earn until he is twenty-six or twenty-seven years old. He must have an office in a good neighborhood, good equipment, a car, good clothes.

Pharmacy, too, has stepped up its standards. Almost every state now requires four years of college and a year or two of practice before registration. All this adds up to better medical service for you.

EDITORIALS AND COMMENTS

Make Up Your Mind, Mr. President

It takes courage and a willingness to sacrifice one's self on the altar of public opinion, to speak out crystal clear as did Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Commerce, Friday night, September 13.

Wallace said that "this nation in its desire to keep peace with Russia wanted to meet that nation half way to get cooperation. And he believes we would get cooperation once Russia understood that our primary objective is neither saving the British Empire nor purchasing oil in the Middle East with the lives of American sailors.

"On the part of the United States," Wallace said, "it should be recognized that the United States has no more business in the political affairs of Eastern Europe than Russia has in the political affairs of Latin America, Western Europe, and the United States."

He further said he believed Russian ideas of "social-economic justice" were evidently going to govern a third of the world, and "our ideas of free enterprise democracy most of the rest."

"In the meantime," he said, "Russia and the United States should put the competition between their ideologies on a friendly basis."

And these and other similar statements such as the abolition of race hatreds uttered by Mr. Wallace brought down coals of fire on his head from Democrats and Republicans alike.

Even President Truman who approved the Wallace speech before it was made, ate crow when the big boys howled. He must be still suffering from a communistic attack of indigestion.

We understand why the greedy politicians and big business world rulers screamed displeasure at Wallace's remedy for world economic polio. We know, too, why Gerald L. K. Smith here in California scrambled to his political height and yelled "Truman and Byrnes are all right. Now they are my boys."

But how, Mr. President, could you let your fans down in this case is more than we are able to comprehend.

It is frightening to think that we have reached a place in our history and existence where we cannot face the truth.

Make up your mind, Mr .President, on which side of the fence you are.

Back to School

Boys and girls, and older folks, too, have started back to the readin', writin' and 'rithmetic days this week. The enrollment will run into 600,000 or more, it is estimated, in Los Angeles city and county after each chick and child has been registered.

There are 1237 public schools, and 138 parochial schools. There will also be evening schools for adults, and at the Metropolitan High there will be a day school for adults who are studying for high school diplomas. Something like 20,000 students are expected to come in from the harvest in November, it is estimated, which will bring the city registration up to more than 355,000 in three months.

GI's will be among the thousands who will attend classes. Those who are unable to attend day classes may complete their college education in evening classes.

University College, the evening division of USC, is offering 250 subjects from which to choose either as vocational studies or as hobbies. The GI Bill of Rights grants to ex-service men and women the privileges of study at college, either during the day or in the evening.

Last Call for F.E.P.C.

Just a few more days are left for registration.

The question of making a state F.E.P.C. law should claim the closest attention of the Negro people.

Even though you helped to wrest this nation from the clutches of Germany and Japan, your work is not finished until you help your white believers of Democracy put on the statute books of this state a law which will make it an offense to refuse to hire anyone because of his race, religion, or color.

You who are relaxing now, will wake up suddenly when inflation hits us, and then a depression. For you know the Negro will be the first to be fired. You will be the first to be discriminated against in every walk of labor and business.

Register! ! ! Now! ! ! If you have not already done so, don't let another minute pass without hunting up a registrar and registering.

Get American Troops Out of China

This newspaper has consistently advocated the withdrawal of troops from China.

Now Brigadier General Evans Fordyce Carlson (retired', the man who led the famous Carlson's Raiders against the Japanese, declares that the United States is promoting civil war in China, even more than Chiang Kai-Shek, by lending its support, supplies, and troops to the Kuomintang government.

Together with that great world-renowned artist, Paul Robeson, General Carlson has announced an extraordinary conference on the Chiense issue in San Francisco, October 19 and 20. There the conflicting problems will be studied, and a report sympathetic to the Chinese people will come out of this meeting of master minds.

And while we are on the question of removing troops and supplies from China, we also suggest that Great Britain get her troops out of Palestine and Greece. Let the people in these countries and in India, in every country of the world, settle their own affairs without any outside interference.

Seems strange how extremely interested in the welfare of these European, African, and Asiatic countries England and America have suddenly become! The very people who shouted after World War I, "Why should we care what the people in Europe do?", are leaning over backward now to see that these countries get all the "help" they can absorb.

Can it be it is because the political complexion of Europe has changed? After World War I the capitalists of England and of America were served best by letting Europe muddle along for herself. Now, however, by letting her alone, there is danger of the common people stepping in and taking control of the governments. Communism? Horrible!

No, no, of course that musn't happen. So keep our troops on guard everywhere, say our Capitalist friends. Except, of course, in our own country, where the lynchers are allowed to go free.

But we, the common people of America, say in no uncertain terms, "Get them out! Pronto!"

Postpone Third Bomb Test

President Truman has postponed the third atomic bomb test. He feels enough information can be secured for the time being for study from the two former tests.

The people of the United States, however, and of the world, are not so concerned with atom bomb tests as they are with the establishment of peace in the world.

The idea of a swift and decisive completion of the atom bomb is based on the desire by some people to know the extent of the death-dealing power of the bomb.

But what the majority of the people want to find is the shortest road that leads to peace. They know that the tangled web of confusion cannot be unraveled by atomic bombs. They have learned this much: the atomic bomb destroys.

But people want to live. Not die.

Therefore it was a wise decision to postpone this test.

But could not the time and energy that is being devoted to the atomic bomb test now be used to grant people a little more of life? For example, those lynchers in the South have not yet been apprehended. While they are at large, and while lynching in the South remains unchecked, life for thousands of American citizens is a life of fear; not of the atom bomb.

Only recently a rat was brought into a courtroom as a material witness in a case brought against a man for racing rats and for gambling.

The law enforcement officers seemed to be able to find that type of rat. But to date they haven't found the lynchers in Georgia, nor in Los Angeles the "pranksters" who burned fiery crosses on people's lawns and marked up their sidewalks with the letters KKK.

You Owe It to Yourself

In our opinion, Gerald L. K. Smith's mission to Los Angeles is to defeat the passage of a State Fair Employment Practice Bill.

The only way to curtail Mr. Smith's mission is to vote in the Nov. 5 Primary. But a few days remain in which to register.

Such a law as the F.E.P.C., makes it possible for every citizen to earn a decent living. Voting in this election is a duty you owe yourself.

Perhaps, It Will Come to This Before It Is Stopped!

THINGS I SEE

By Marian Inglewood

Candidates of the Democratic Party have decided to tread the narrow path between Communism, on the one hand, and Fascism on the other, but to have nothing to do with either. Like being between the devil and the deep sea, in the opinion of many people.

In the much discussed preamble to their platform they state: We are resolutely opposed to all forms of totalitarianism, communism or fascism.—We vigorously condemn the totalitarian methods of fascist and communist groups in this country—.

Communism, according to Webster, as we said last week, "is a system of social organization in which goods are held in common." According to the same authority, and also according to the Funk and Wagnall dictionary, fascism is "any strongly centralized autocratic national regime, with severely nationalistic policies, exercising regimentation of industry, commerce, and finance, rigid censorship, and forcible suppression of opposition. It opposes feminism or the doctrine that women are the equal of men, also opposes parliamentary government, and democratic institutions."

Wide apart as the two poles, even by polite definition, are these two economic systems. There surely can be a broad pathway after all leading between the two where the American people can walk safely.

There can be, that is, if the American people are willing to construct such a pathway and if they are permitted to do so by the fascist demagogues of America who oppose the truth that not only are men and women equal but also that greater truth that ALL men of whatever race or color are created equal. And as Webster said, "exercising — the forcible suppression of opposition", such as the horrible lynchings in the South and the KKK activities in Los Angeles.

If you wish to get rid of Communism, said a wise student of human nature one time, give to every human being enough good food to eat, a comfortable home to live in, clothing, a job with decent wages, security against old age and accident and disease, leisure time for play and cultural activities, education,—in short the two freedoms in which America is so woefully lacking—freedom from want and freedom from fear.

That is the surest way to fight Communism. "The only way to beat them," said Dr. E. Stanley Jones, noted missionary, speaking of the Communists, "is to beat them to it."

Will the candidates of the Democratic Party "beat them to it?"

Well, to tell the truth, they aren't making such a very bad beginning.

The first plank in the platform of the Democratic Party of California calls for low-priced homes for veterans and urges "that the resources, the power, and the credit of the State of California be harnessed" to this end. Slum clearance and low rental housing goes hand in hand with this.

Price and rent control, vital necessities to the vast majority of working people, should be continued. And if the Federal OPA is discontinued, says the Democratic platform, the State must take up where the United States leaves off.

Full employment is pledged in no uncertain terms. "Where private enterprise fails to take up the backlog of unemployment, State projects should be instituted to keep all employed."

To have full employment no one can be discriminated against because of race, creed, or color. Therefore the Democratic Party pledges support to both Federal and State legislation for permanent Fair Employment Practices Acts, and urges the adoption of Proposition 11 on the November ballot—the FEPC measures sponsored by Assemblyman Gur Hawkins.

Adequate medical and hospital care is guaranteed to the citizens of the State through a prepaid compulsory health insurance system. This is something all the people of America need badly. How else can we overcome our disgrace as a nation of having 50% of our young men rejected by the army because of physical disabilities?

"Sixty at sixty" is the pledge for aid age assistance—the same pledge given four years ago by the Democratic Party when its candidate for governor was defeated by the present governor, Earl Warren. The old folk of California might have that pension now if they had been wise enough to vote for the Democratic candidates then.

As for labor: "We oppose any legislation which will in any way abridge or weaken the right of labor to organize, bargain collectively, strike, or lawfully picket," says the important labor plank in the platform.

Of course there are other planks, but these are the most important. And what more can you ask in the way of legislation that will "beat the Communists by beating them to it?" Every person of liberal thought should vote for the candidates that uphold this program. Their records prove their progressiveness.

First of all there are our own Gus Hawkins, for General Assembly, and Helen Gahagan Douglas, for Congress, 14th Congressional District. Then for U. S. Senator, Will Rogers, Jr., son of America's best-loved humorist; Lieutenant Governor, John F. Shelley, member of AFL.

PULPIT VOICE

By Hamilton T. Boswell

OUR GOD IS ABLE

A recent report was made of the tragedy which struck a hotel in the city of St. Louis, Missouri. The writer described the fear and panic which engulfed the unfortunate occupants. He wrote that men and women were pulling at windows, jumping from roofs, pulling at every door possible. Every means of escape was taxed to the limit so great was the incessant panic for deliverance.

Our world today is in similar panic and fear. The confusion, suffering, difficulties and chaos with which we are confronted has caused us to make a mad rush for deliverance. Escape from turmoil, war, frustration, exploitation and the host of social maladies are our chief concern. Every possible or suggestive means of escape or deliverance is being tried. People want a way out and the quality, color, moral principle or any other discretion has been disregarded so great is the panic, so pressing is fear.

A returned veteran said recently, "An honest man can't make it today. You have got to be dishonest to live." He was looking hopefully at dishonesty for deliverance. An intruder in a conversation about religion said, "You better forget all about that religious stuff, you better quit finding God and find you an Atom bomb, that's the only way we'll solve this mess." He looks hopefully at violence for deliverance.

American Negroes are looking fondly at South American countries as a possible escape from the injustices of the United States. These would employ geographical escape as a means of deliverance. But amid the despair and discouragement over the utter collapse of justice and ways of peace, who has not wished: "That there was an island somewhere far away from the streets of men where one could escape the sordidness of things entire?"

The emergency at hand has turned the spotlight on religion as a means of deliverance. People are flocking to religion as they flock to the counters of a department store looking for a good bargain. They are seeking a bargain religion. Something that will serve the purpose of being delivered. They will tolerate sham, ignorance, insincerety and immorality from any quack who offers the bargain they seek. They seek not God as an end but will even try God as a means, but it is not God, but deliverance which they seek in panic and fear. There are no bargains in religion.

NO ESCAPE HERE

If we are to be delivered from the problems which beset us, it will not come through these quack and quick cure methods. These may be ways out but they are also ways into greater difficulties. In the St. Louis fire men leaped from windows but plunged to death on the streets below. Their conditions were changed, but hardly improved. The homely sage has said. "It does not pay to jump out of the skillet into the fire." Jesus puts it this way, "For what does it profit a man to gain the world but lose his own soul."

Daniel, the captive, when confronted with an ultimatum from Nebuchadnezzar, demanding him to worship a golden image or else, said with great assurance. "If it be so, Our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace, but if not we will not serve thy gods." In this horrible death-threatening experience, Daniel was able to rely upon a knowledge of God which he had acquired before the emergency at hand. God is able to deliver. As we look at the face of history, there do we see without question that some super power mysterious to behold has channeled the course of history far from the plans or intentions of mortal men. Wars which by materials and force should have belonged to the victims were turned into the hands of underdogs. Slaves that were helpless, by a great faith and patience broke the power of the slavemaster. Deeds which were done for the destructiveness of life have been channeled for the construction of life. These and countless more point to the inconspicious but ever present fact that God does deliver, that God is able to deliver and that even today God is delivering.

But as Daniel infers, but if not, suppose God does not, then what? His answer is that he will not worship the Babylonian diety. He will go down with God. Today, deliverance for us as a people means freedom from want, prejudice, a good house, job, health, freedom of worship and other social freedoms. We may acquire them in our time or we may not. BUT IF NOT—then what? Every one must answer this for himself, I shall ever pray to hold with the spiritual which says: "Done paid my vows to the Lord, and I never will turn back, I will go, I shall go, to see what the end shall be."

W. J. Wheaton Says

If we reverse the old saying, "The calm precedes the storm," Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Public can hope for some relief. The chaotic state of our domestic affairs are certainly not conducive to either our personal or national welfare.

Take the economic situation, for instance. There is no justice for all when, after an increase in wages, manufacturers are allowed to raise the price of their products far above that increase. It is the men and women whose wages are standard who suffer most, and even those who were given the increase find it ephemereal, because of higher prices granted to manufacturers to "equalize" payment of higher wages.

We have come to the conclusion that any group of people who are selected for attack must be of importance. Mr. and Mrs. Negro America should hold their heads high and be proud of the fact that they are selected as the targets for discriminatory acts and victims of jealous hates. It is only jealousy that causes this seeminging antipathy, and a fear of being outstripped in the climb for progressive civilization and a true democracy.

When any people are made, or selected, as special objects of attack they must be of some importance, otherwise they would not be noticed. We believe it was Booker Washington who said "If a man tries to hold me in the gutter he will be obliged to stay there with me." When any community seeks to keep low standards for any group in that locality—economic, educational, or whatever they may endeavor to do to discriminate—that community or locality will also suffer. It will stay in the gutter. That goes for the communities which produce the Bilbos, Talmadges, Rankins and their ilk. Those areas are noted for the lowest standards of literacy in the nation. Poor in mind and body.

It is well that decent men and women of the nation are beginning to take heed and seek means to rid the nation of demagogs who are an onus to the progress and political welfare of the nation. They are inimical to our national economy and detrimental to this government's foreign diplomacy.

Here is another instance of backwardness: In Arkansas, where jealous minds seek to annul a court decision by proposing a divorce from the national Democratic party. After a preamble denouncing the Democratic party, the following statement follows: "Despite its pursuits of policies inimical to the South, its industries and workers, the national Democratic party and its leaders expect the South to remain as the 'me too' vassal of the party and cast its votes for the success of the mongrel national party." It goes on to say the Democratic party is not national when it proposes a platform or sponsors policies objectionable to a great majority of white people."

Of course there are Democrats who believe in the principles of true democracy, and there are Democrats who have no conception of "democracy" who only wear the label.

Then comes the Mississippi "Suh." He would secede and take the state from the union. There are many decent citizens in Mississippi, and they feel the disgrace of such representation. Truly, "The mills of the gods grind slowly but they grind exceedingly fine."

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By LEW GARRETT
(Guest Columnist)

The Titans who control the basic industries of this nation are engaged in one of the greatest blackmail operations in history. Their proposition is this:

We produce on our terms . . . at profits to our liking . . . or we don't produce.

It is time for the public to see the picture of what is happening. It is an unpleasant picture, daubed with greed, avarice and ingratitude. It is the picture of a handful of men grown so strong that it is within their power to decree whether or not the citizens should have houses for their families, own a car, washing machine, or have meat on the dinner table.

Get it straight. Without power to force industry to produce at the ceiling prices set by the government, which means the people, the OPA isn't worth the paper it's written on. Priorities, civilian production regulations, price ceilings . . . all are empty gestures if industry is allowed to thumb its nose at the government and demand their terms, or else.

Meat surpluses and shortages graphically portray the facts. With ceilings removed when the old OPA lapsed, meat flooded the markets, but at prices far above the ability of the working man to pay. With ceilings re-established—even ceilings which provide ample profits—the monopoly-ridden meat industry stopped slaughtering and meat disappeared overnight.

Is this because industry was starved during the war and wants to commence making profits again? Of course not. Higher profits were made during World War II than at any other period in our history. It is merely that industry is in a position to produce or not produce, as it prefers, and therefore can blackjack the nation into bowing to its desires.

This is nothing new. When the war started, industry went on a giant sit-down strike—one that the papers didn't play up in giant headlines, however. The issue was the same—meet our price, or to hell with you, war and all.

Present indications are that industry will win its fight, will get its higher and higher profits, and its uncontrolled inflation. It will also within a few years get a depression that will make 25,000,000 Americans jobless, wreck the nation's economy, and probably the entire financial, social and economic system.

Whatever the products of industry's greed, the important thing is for those who now fight for price controls and production at reasonable profits to keep the issues squarely before the public. When the ultimate price of industry's greed must be paid by all the people, they must know who to blame and what to do.

Fund for Hospital Survey Here Underwritten by City, County, Civic Groups, Beavers Reports

George A. Beavers Jr., vice president, Hospital of the Good Shepherd, Inc., and member of the original committee of the Los Angeles County-wide Hospital Survey, was advised this week by Robert L. Smith, chairman, Administrative Committee of the sponsoring group, that the $75,000 necessary for the conduct of the survey had been completely underwritten.

"The underwriting of the Los Angeles county-wide hospital survey by county, city, and private sources is very encouraging," Beavers said.

"Allocations by the Los Angeles county board of supervisors, and the city council of $30,000, and subscriptions of $45,000 from private sources to finance the cost of the survey mark a significant step in the direction of cooperative action between governmental agencies and civic-minded groups in meeting the needs of the community." "We are interested in the survey," Beavers added, "in order to more fully utilize the opportunity to encourge integration and assure the services of a Class "A" hospital to all citizens. The facts and figures to be collected by the survey is the type of information, planners of the Hospital of the Good Shepherd, Inc., have been interested in making available to various sources of financial support."

California's most destructive timber fire in 1945 was caused by a careless hunter who thought his campfire was out. Play safe —kill your campfire, then bury it.

Rep. Patterson Heads Delegation In Current Meat Shortage Here

Fifty delegates, representing 13 Los Angeles districts and thousands of consumers, this week called on the Wilson Co. and Cudahy plants to protest that the needs of the people were being disregarded "in brazen defiance of the government."

Led by Ellis E. Patterson, write-in candidate for the 16th congressional district, and Averill Berman, radio commentator, the delegation first met with Wilson & Co. spokesman, who blamed live-stock producers and price control for the current meat shortage.

However, the company officials were impressed when Mrs. Claire Hartford, housewife-member of the Los Angeles Consumers League, asserted the scarcity was a form of blackmail" resulting from a united strategy between meat packers and live-stock producers to force elimination of price control.

As officials at Cudahy, the next plant visited, also blamed the O.P.A. for a dearth of meat, Cudahy workers came to the windows and yelled encouragement to the delegates.

"We're with you," they shouted. "Give them hell!"

Copies of their protest were left by the delegates at both plants while duplicates were mailed to Armour & Co. and the Swift Packing Co., the other members of the "Big Four." The giant packing plants were told that "we will see to it that the federal government intervenes to provide the people with meat if the packers cannot and will not fulfill their trust."

Groups represented by the delegation included Consumers of North Hollywood, El Sereno, Westlake, Van Nuys, Beverly-Westwood, Wabash, Brooklyn, City Terrace, Hollywood, 58th A. D., 59th A. D., 63rd A. D., 54th Cong. Dist. and West Olympic.

The recent police traffic safety check revealed that the most common fault was defective lighting on the rear of vehicles, and the second most common fault was defective headlights.

Map Plans for Friendship Week At Meet Tonight

Strategy for Interracial Friendship Week will be mapped at a meeting tonight of the San Fernando Council on Race Relations at the St. Matthews Lutheran church, 11031 Amerillo st., North Hollywood.

Dr. Marion Luther Long of Burbank will chair the session. Dr. Long said 63 organizations have affiliated with the council in its October 2-26 program to emphasize interracial friendship.

A pledge written by Father George Dunne of Loyola university, which is being circulated by the council, reads in part:

- "I believe that all men are created equal.
- "I believe that every form of racial discrimination and segregation is a violation of the most fundamental of all inalienable human rights.
- "I believe that every form of racial discrimination and segregation strikes at the heart of the American way of life.
- "I believe that restrictive covenants are one of the worst forms of racial discrimination and segregation.
- "I therefore repudiate and denounce every form of racial discrimination and segregation and, in particular, restrictive covenants.
- "I therefore pledge myself to refuse to sign any restrictive covenant.
- "I promise to repudiate any covenant which I may heretofore have signed."

War Dept. to Probe Fracas At Florence

FLORENCE, S. C.—(NNPA)—War Department officials yesterday promised an investigation of the circumstances connected with a disturbance here involving civilian, military and railroad police, discharged veterans en route to their homes, and 200 northbound troops.

The disturbance started when two white military policemen, acting on a tip from Fort Bragg, North Carolina, where the men had been earlier discharged, boarded a southbound train to see how the men were behaving and found only one slightly under the weather.

About 200 additional Negro soldiers waiting in the station saw the MP's arrest this soldier and began to grumble.

The MP's saw a Negro sergeant in the crowd and asked him to assist them. He refused, and they arrested him. His arrest caused fighting to break out.

A half hour later a white woman ticket seller got in an argument with a soldier and called over the loud speaker system for the MP's. A fight followed.

A major and a captain attempted to assist the MP's to restore order. The captain was struck in the mouth and knocked down.

H. F. Swilley, a railroad policeman, grabbed a riot gun in his hand and attempted to hold the soldiers at bay. At that moment the city police arrived, surrounded the soldiers and marched about 139 of them off to the local jail.

In a mass trial which lasted 30 minutes, two of the arrested soldiers were fined $100 each or 30 days in jail, two were fined $52 each or 30 days in jail, one $17 or 15 days in jail.

Three of the men refused to pay their fines. The others were marched to the railroad station and put aboard a southbound train.

We have a rather unusual story this week. Unlike most "small - town - girl-makes-good" stories, this one does not end with a stage career, or some dazzling position in the sports profession; but rather with the United Nations Security Council, the highest law-making body in the world.

The heroine of our story is Priscilla McDonald, who left Santa Paula, Calif., and journeyed to the big city to make good. And it is also the story of a proud father, William McDonald, who passed the narative on to us.

This story dates back to 1942 when Priscilla McDonald, like countless other young American women, answered the call to work in the nation's capital doing office work for the war department. She passed a stiff examination at Berkeley, having competed with some of the best and most capable women in the state. For the first time in her life she was leaving her native California for the east.

PRISCILLA McDONALD

If she had any apprehensions about her career in Washington, she never breathed a word of it in her letters to the folk back home. Soon she was rapidly moving ahead in the dynamic activity of the nation's wartime capital.

Throughout most of the war she was with the war shipping administration and later with the OPA in New York City.

But the real climax came when she wrote her father that when the newsreels and national magazines came out with the pictures of the United Nations security council meeting, she would be seen there.

She enclosed in her letters some newspaper pictures of the opening day's session in the early days of the council's meetings at Hunter college. And there Priscilla appeared, the only Negro secretary taking notes on the momentous drama that unfolded at Hunter college. This history-making picture appeared in Life magazine and all the big New York dailies.

And this is why William McDonald, who resides at 1104 New street, in Santa Paula, has more than a little reason to be proud of his daughter.

From the short note written to her father on UN stationery telling of the pictures, Priscilla seemed to be a sort of person that might be found working in any local office.

Priscilla was born in Santa Ana where her father had a restaurant for some 25 years. She spent her junior year of high school at Santa Paula high, and was graduated from Pasadena high school. She has three sisters, who still live in the west.

We feel that this is an especially good story because it captures the whole spirit of the United Nations and of America. For of all the places that we can think of where the small-town-girl-makes-good story should reach its climax, none could be more fitting than the security council chamber of the United Nations—this experiment, that is dedicated to permanent world peace and the rights and privileges of all countries, large and small, and all peoples and races everywhere.

A LAYMAN'S VIEW

By Leon W. Steward

A LESSON FROM LIFE AS SCHOOL OPENS

School bells will have rung again when this column reaches its readers. The children and youths will have again resumed their search for truths, experiences and satisfactions which their parents and teachers will be hoping will lead them to successful living in a world fraught with many dangers and uncertainties.

Under what circumstances will this quest for knowledge and training actually give the desired results? Well, for many years that question has engaged us and many others who have been close enough to children or to youths to hear them express their hopes and dreams and to see them launch their early efforts in quest of "schooling" first, then "education" and finally college and later, careers or as of late — made-work and then war.

From the first day of their first year to that of the sixth year, many fall by the wayside as others continue only to feel that grammar school graduation is indeed enough. However, there are some whose luck in having devoted parents is above the average, who finish junnior high school and a relative few who survive high school. Some time ago we found a statement that read that "of every 100 fifth grade pupils in the United States —63 will complete eighth grade, 13 will go through high school, and two will graduate from college." It further calls attention to the fact that "Who's Who in America". lists more than 20,000 successful living Americans, among whom there are 87 times as many high school graduates and 800 times as many college graduates as there are those who have only grammar school training. This statement was made before the war and long before the depression. What shall be the chances for the untrained man and woman over the years ahead?

WHO SHALL SURVIVE?

We are not certain as to what school courses will best prepare individual young people of today for the immediate future. We are not certain what kind of housing or what kind of job opportunities will add to their chances. We would not chance the guess which community will produce the largest crop of successful young men and women. But we would like to give you a picture which might throw some light on what makes some young people push on long after their first classmates have thrown up the sponge.

MEET THE PULLUMS

For several years in Los Angeles we have heard people discuss "What will become of these newcomers and ourselves when the war is over?" Well, they are still here and so are we and among them are some interesting stories to be found. How does this one strike you? We were passing down East 28th st. near Hooper st., when we had occasion to stop at a small new grocery store. The proprietor met us at the door. He was a fairly young man and was attending college and operating the store —with the assistance of his wife. When we left this is the story he had given us. His name is Felix Orlanda Pullum. He was born and brought up in Alabama as the youngest of three children of Price Pullum, a man who insisted on their going to school and to church, from the very start. He finished Southern Normal high school in 1938 and State Teachers' college in Montgomery, Ala., in 1941, and promptly married a schoolmate, Kathleen Kennedy, and when war clouds spread they promptly went to Kansas City, Kan., to work in a defense plant. After six months there, desiring to reenter college, they moved to Los Angeles in August, 1943, found sleeping quarters, enrolled at First A.M.E. Zion church, Pico and Poloma streets, and entered USC pre-law course. In the meantime the young couple had begun working for the Lockheed war plant.

When the war ended and they faced the need of continuing to work, they moved the house, which they had bought in 1944, back on their lot and erected a store building (30x12 feet) in front of it. As of a week ago Pullum had completed his work at USC and was awaiting graduation day and the day when he can enter law school. In the meantime their store project is succeeding and enjoys the support of the neighborhood due largely to their business ability and the charming personalities of the two real PARTNERS.

The moral of this story is: If they have had the right kind of parents you can send them anywhere and they will solve their problems as the problems arrive. As school opens again let every parent ponder this matter and profit by its message. There are other PULLUMs in this community. As we find them we shall be pleased to bring them to our readers who want aid on insuring their own children's success

ACLU Organ Takes Up Cudgels For Smith; Hits Anti-Covenanters

Gerald L. K. Smith, fascist hate peddlar, had a new champion this week as the Open Forum, official organ of the California branch of the American Civil Liberties Union, took up the cudgels for Smith's "rights" to use tax-supported public schools to spew his racist poison.

The paper also criticized white citizens of nearby Lynwood who, in their opposition to the invasion of their community by the restrictive covenant racket, voiced disapproval of the use of public schools to promote un-American practices. The Lynwood citizens, according to the pontifical Open Forum failed to follow "the hard way of education and democratic processes" in opposing the covenanters.

Any doubt as to what the Open Forum means by the hard way" is dispelled by another ntem in the paper which asserts that "'Fight Fascism' is one of the most deceptive slogans of our day."

The item said it was a "violation of a basic law of our moral universe" to advocate "a considerable measure of forceful restraint" against Fascists. The implication is that citizens should not seek to restrain the Ku Klux Klan and other fascist groups, the fascist lynchers of the South.

But then—the Open Forum is edited by Aaron Allen Heist, who publicly favored the use of public schools by Smith. And on its masthead is the name of Clinton J. Taft, director emeritus of the Southern California branch of the ACLU, who once wrote in Smith's magazine, The Cross and Flag that "we owe a debt of gratitude to Smith" and that opponents should "repent heartily and get down on their marrow bones before this man and ask foregiveness."

"We need more such men," Taft said. "The world languishes for lack of them."

Offers Fellowships For Graduate Work

A series of fellowships for graduate students in philosophy and allied fields at the University of Southern California sponsored by the Olive Hill Foundation, recently was announced by Chancellor Rufus B. Von Klein Smid.

Negotiations have been entered into with the National University of Mexico, which is expected to be the first to send a graduate student on the S. C. plan.

Letters To The Editor

My dear Mrs. Bass:

I plead guilty to unintentional neglect of my California friends. I came East on a lecture tour by which I hoped to aid national unity as my contribution to my country in a crisis.

I was a conscientious objector but felt that activity for better human relations would be really gettin at the root of world difficulty. Arriving here I became active and was asked to become a part of the Intercultural Education Workshop in New York City. My work was considered effective and I've had great experience which I am eager to share through writing and lectures and general helpfulness. A deal of my work was in the New York City schools. This year I decided to write and develop an educational project. The first article which I sent out was received with high commentation and published by "School and Society." It was copied by other journals appeared in November issue 1945. The second appeared in the March 20 issue of the same magazine. I value very highly the comments of this editor, the late W. C. Bagley, an authority on teaching methods. I have other articles some of which I will contribute to the same magazine. I was invited to membership in the society for the advancement of education which publishes the magazine and received letters from East and West.

I am also working on a book which I hope to complete soon.

Dear Friend:

It is vital to our economic welfare that we obtain a State Fair Employment Practice Act in California.

In order to achieve this goal it is necessary that we first of all see that every man and woman in our community become registered to vote.

Plans for doing this and supporting the "Fair Employment Practices" campaign will be discussed this Friday night, September 20 at the YMCA, 1006 East 28th st. The time, 8 p.m.

We urge you and your organization to be present and join us in this vital issue.

Sincerely yours,
Augustus F. Hawkins

British May Discard Bombing of Colonials

NEW DELHI, India—Official reports yesterday said bombing of native villages in Waziristan by British forces has ceased after the reported intervention of Pandit Jawaharial Nehru, head of the new nationalist government.

Official quarters said the whole policy of bombing natives, which has been a long-standing British law-and-order practice in Waziristan and other remote regions along the Northwest frontier, might be reconsidered in order to devise "more satisfactory" methods of disciplining rebellious tribesmen.

(In London, the government's India office said bombing natives was regarded "as the simplest form of retaliation.")

Held on Holdup Charg

An alleged robber who escaped with $190 in cash in a holdup at a cafe at 2417 S. Central ave. last month was held in a municipal court preliminary hearing this week. He was Daniel James, 17, of 152 W. 43rd pl., defended by Attorney Earl Broady.

James was bound over for a superior court trial by Judge Edwin L. Jefferson following his identification by Mrs. Mabel Dorsey, of 811 E. 25th st., a cook at the cafe. She stated that on Aug. 17 James pushed a gun in her ribs and cleaned out the cash register.

Had Pawn Tickets, Held for Robbery

After being picked up with pawn tickets for allegedly stolen goods in his possession, Roy Bishop, 18, of 523 E. 21st st., was held to answer by municipal court judge Edwin L. Jefferson for burglary early this week.

Bishop was charged with the ransacking last August 16 of the home of Mrs. Ada Reed at 1127 E. 27th st. Mrs. Reed reported to police that a burglar jimmied a back window and escaped with jewelry, perfume and a table model radio.

Noted Piano Teacher Will Organize New Beginners Class Fri.

Mrs. Dovie Steward, who opened her unique piano school in Los Angeles a year ago, announced yesterday that new beginners classes will be formed next Tuesday morning and afternoon at her home, 2916 Budlong aye.

Although pupils of any age especially those wishing to begin the study of piano music, are accepted, Mrs. Steward gives special attention to children of three years of age and older. She called attention to the fact that such children who joined her classes a year ago are now reading music, playing the piano and revealing the good effects of eurithmics and ear training.

Mrs. Steward employs the Robyn system of music training, which she studied under its founder at American Conservatory of Music, Chicago, and completed in 1935. She declares the results derived over the past 11 years have been nothing short of remarkable. Two of these years were spent in Chicago, and eight in Denver, Colorado.

Persons desiring information regarding classes may get in touch with Mrs. Steward either at her home address or by telephone (REpublic 7937.

Chiropractic School Has No Race Quotas

DAYTON, Ohio—The Reaver School of Chiropractic, only institution of its kind in America which welcomes Negro and white students alike, on other than a quota basis, is announcing the opening of its mid-fall classes, which begin Monday, November 4.

Specializing in classes in chemistry, physiology, pathology, anatomy, philosophy and chiropractic, the Reaver School is staffed by one of the most capable group of instructors in the country. Heading the staff is Dr. Clarence E. Reaver, graduate of the Palmer School of Chiropractic, Davenport, Iowa, an outstanding authority in the Chiropractic field.

Marine Cooks, Stewards Carrying FEPC-Antilynch Fight to All Ports

SAN FRANCISCO—Support of FEPC, protests against the federal government's failure to stamp out lynching, are being voiced in all ports by members of the National Union of Marine Cooks and Stewards, CIO The Voice, organ of the union, reported this week in a full page play.

"With CIO President Philip Murray," MCS members have "charged that the government's whitewash of the police raid on the Negro people in Columbia, Tenn., has contributed to an increasing wave of attacks on racial minorities the country over," the paper reported.

MCS members have not confined expression of their indignation to protests. They have held educational meetings both on board ship and in port. One such meeting is reported by The Voice as follows:

"At an open-air anti-inflation meeting in San Francisco, August 31, MCS Brother Joe Johnson told his audience: 'This growing economic crisis caused by inflation cannot be separated from racial violence. Demagogs like Rankin, Bilbo, and Talmadge, who represent the employers and the inflationary groups, will seek a scapegoat. As in Germany that scapegoat will be, first, minority racial groups, then labor unions.

"'During periods of economic insecurity, working people are frustrated, bitter, and angry. They know something is wrong. The demagogs are paid to channel the working people's dissatisfaction away from the employers. They want to make the workers fight among themselves."

On FEPC, the paper reports: "San Francisco Agent Frank McCormick called attention to the 'historical use of discrimination by employers in an effort to keep labor from uniting. They want to keep a pool of cheap labor power. They hate FEPC because it prevents their using minority groups as strike-breakers.'"

The MCS is one of the CIO maritime unions now on strike on the west and east coasts.

NEEDLEWORK FOR SCHOOL TIME

School time and needlework time mean just about the same thing. Millions of delightful young hopes for the new world soon will be trekking to opening school doors in thousands of hamlets, towns and cities throughout America. What can be more refreshing and encouraging then to watch those eager hearts and refreshened minds rush forward to search for knowledge? School time should be needlework time for millions of mothers because children's minds freshened by vacationing should be accompanied to school with a refreshened wardrobe.

It is valuable psychology to remember that if you desire your child to make the correct marks in his or her studies it is highly important that you provide him or her with the psychological satisfaction of feeling neatly and correctly dressed. All of this costs plenty of money at the inflationary prices you're expected to pay for ready-made clothes.

There is a way to send your young student to school well-dressed and save at least 50% of the money you would spend for readymade clothes—make them at home yourself. Above you will see what the high school and college Miss is going to wear this term.

Urges Action Conference on Housing Crisis

BERKELEY — Thomas Bolster, Democratic candidate for the state assembly in the 18th district, yesterday urged that a statewide housing conference be held immediately to "work out an over-all plan of action" to meet the drastic housing shortage in California.

Calling for "heroic action by the state government, individual municipalities and the construction industry," Bolster suggested that an impartial party, such as the regional expediter of the National Housing Agency, call such a conference.

"No other state faces such a gigantic task as ours due to to the tremendous influx of population and returning veterans which have poured in during the past few years," the labor-endorsed candidate told a meeting sponsored by the Berkeley chapter of the National Citizens Political Action Committee.

"I believe that such a conference would agree on a program for increased local production of building materials by mass methods, revision of building codes in light of new materials and techniques, establishment of a state housing authority, use of subsidies and tax exemption and an allocation of varied types of construction to those best able to produce in quantity at low costs," Bolster stated.

"Certainly," he continued, "there should be an investigation of monopoly price fixing as a means of assisting the small builders in obtaining materials cheaply to be able to compete with larger operators."

Indian Visitor Sees Country on Road to Early Independence

"India's teeming millions (400,000,000) are pushing toward independence and should achieve complete freedom within 5 to 6 years under the leadership of the All-Indian Congress."

So stated Dr. K. E. Peter, member of the Bangalone City, India, Y's Men's Club and delegate to the International Convention recently held in Bradford, Pennsylvania, in an informative talk to the 28th st. Y's Men's Club at the 28th st. YMCA.

Dr. Peter also presented the following facts on health and educational conditions in India:

- There is only one doctor for every 10,000 persons;
- One nurse for every 9000 persons;
- One hospital bed for every 400 persons, and
- The average life span of Indian is about 26.3 as compared to 65.4 for Americans. In the case of education, only 16% of the total population is literate.

When asked about the exchange of YMCA between India and the United States, Dr. Peter disclosed that a Negro YMCA secretary had been appointed to the staff of the Madras YMCA.

Dr. Peter will leave Southern California for the midwest and the east coast and will continue on to London, England, Switzerland, expecting to return to his Bangalore home by Christmas.

• Dr. Peter's attendance at the convention was made possible by the joint efforts of the 12 Maritimes Region Clubs.

White Foreman Leads Gang in Attack on Youth

NEWPORT NEWS, Virginia — After appealing in vain to the Newport News district attorney and the local FBI for action against his assailants, Edgar Holt, vice president of the Southern Negro Youth Congress, World War II veteran and outstanding young Virginia leader, has filed a damage suit against the Crow Construction Co. and sworn out warrants against the foreman and a dozen other employes of the company.

Holt charges that on July 25, while working on a job for the Crow Construction Company at a former army establishment, Camp Patrick Henry, Virginia, he was brutally and bloodily assaulted without provocation by the foreman and members of a white working crew.

The Crow Construction Company is a notorious anti-union outfit which encourages attitudes of racial hatred on the part of the white workers in order to defeat any efforts toward effective employe unity and organization.

Long Branch NAACP Hears YMCA Leader

In an address to the members and friends of the Long Beach NAACP, Lawrence C. Burr, YMCA leader, challenged the Negro to get a share of the national wealth. He advised investments, even if but five dollars at a time.

Burr, whose appearance on the program was arranged by Mrs. Darthula V. Bouggess, program director of the Long Beach NAACP, spoke on the subject, "World Leadership Comes to America." The meeting was held at the Second Baptist church, corner California and New York sts.

In his address, Burr emphasized the following points: 1. Bankruptcy of the world in moral leadership at the close of World War II. 2. World Leadership an American Obligation. 3. Blocks to World Leadership, and 4, Ways Out.

Burr plans to sail Oct. 7 for Bengal, India, where he will work with the adolescent boys of that country. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Burr, and his aunt, Mrs. D. B. Pettigrew, are making their home in Long Beach.

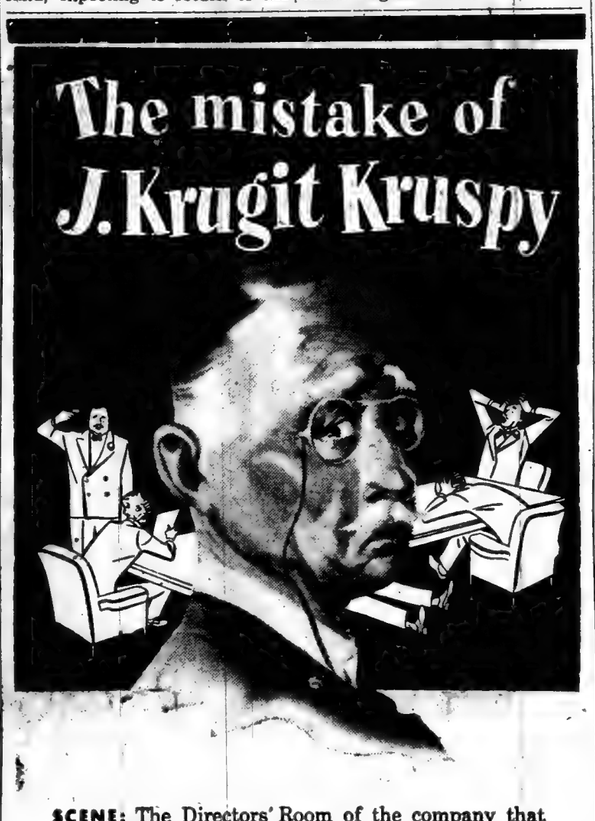
The mistake of J. Krugit Kruspy



SCENE: The Directors' Room of the company that makes Krugit Kruspies—the breakfast food that goes WHOOM

1st DIRECTOR—"Gentlemen, the Krugit Kruspy Company, makers of the breakfast food that goes WHOOM is faced with the greatest disgrace of its history!"

23rd DIRECTOR—"Greater than the time we made a batch of Krugit's Kruspies that didn't go WHOOM .. that only went snap-crackle-pop?"

1st DIRECTOR—"Aye—far greater. Gentlemen, our chairman, J. Krugit Kruspy gave a dinner and didn't serve Gallo Wine."

18th DIRECTOR—"No, no, it can't be true ..." (his voice rises as he hurls himself through the window).

1st DIRECTOR—"Yes, it's true ... in spite of the fact that EVERYONE knows GALLO WINE is made from the world's finest grapes ... in spite of the fact that EVERYONE who appreciates quality appreciates GALLO, he didn't serve GALLO WINE ... Gentlemen, what is your verdict?"

DIRECTORS IN UNISON—"J. Krugit Kruspy, you are OUSTED FROM THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS!"

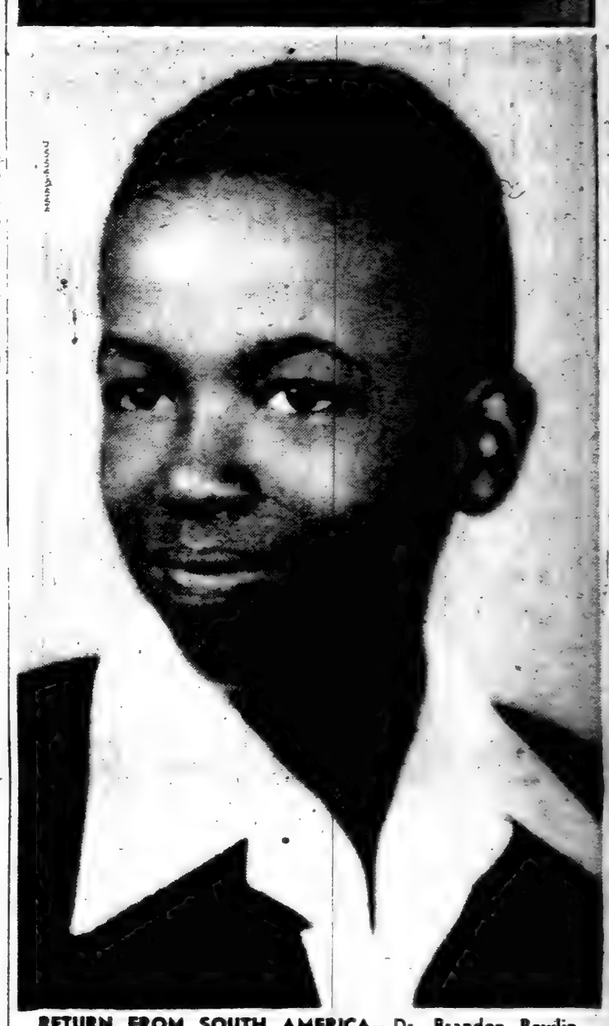
Head of Women's Political Study Club Goes on Tour

Mrs. Betty Hill, executive secretary of the Women's Political Study club of Southern California, left Los Angeles last night (Wednesday) for an extensive tour of northern and central California to correlate state club activities for the November elections.

Before her departure, Mrs. Hill said she would meet with political study clubs in San Francisco, Oakland, San Jose, Fresno and Bakersfield.



RETURN FROM SOUTH AMERICA—Dr. Brandon Bowlin, top, practicing physician of Pasadena, and son, Brandon, Jr., have returned to California after an interesting trip to South America, via Pan American Airlines. The pair visited Trinidad and also Georgetown, among other cities, the latter being the native home of Dr. Brandon. It was the first time young Brandon had visited his father's home and the trip was an interesting one for him. He saw Negroes in many responsible administrative jobs in that country, as judges, teachers, lawyers, etc. It was brought home to him forcibly on the return trip what a great thing equality is, for at Miami, Fla., when the travelers paused to change planes they went to a nearby cafe to eat but were told that they would have to walk 12 miles to the nearest place where they could be served. Both heaved a sigh of relief when sunny Californja hove into sight.

ACCEPTANCE BY REGULAR ARMY RATES THEM AMONG BEST IN NATION

Roy Lee Loggins Jr., Entertains Local College Set At Elaborate Cocktail Party and Buffet Supper

Roy Lee Loggins, Jr., popular Kappa pledge of the Los Angeles City College campus, was host to an elaborate buffet supper and cocktail party last Sunday evening at the Loggins West 37th street home. More than 100 members of the city's "College set" were in attendance with talk of returning to campus and Greek letter doings taking up a goodly part of the evening.

The young president of the Loggins Catering firm greeted friends between the hours of 3 and 11 p.m. Dancing held sway and the lavish buffet table was the constant highlight throughout. Mr. Roy Loggins, Sr., was head bartender, assisted by Jimmie Stevens, while the charming Mrs. Loggins assisted in greeting her son's many friends.

One of the most popular members of the younger set, Roy is reputed to be a leading host. Assisting was the popular C. C. coed, Yvonne Crosley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Crosley of Palm Springs, who is rumored engaged to Roy, Jr.

Among those present were Kappa man Clifton Russel and wife "Sis"; Scroller pledge Edwin Eneed, Scroller LaMar Hill and wife, "Puffy," Kappa Fraters, Vance Jones and Ted Shaffer, Odessa James of the AKA sorority, Alpha man, Harold Faulknes, Bert Kenner and wife, Ruth Kenner of the AKAs, Marilyn Williams Hudson, Pyramid pledge to Delta Sigma Theta, Bobby Jean English, Alpha Phraterie of City college, Rebecca Brown, Ivy pledge to AKA at UCLA, Shirley Spencer, Ivy pledge of UCLA, AKAs Gloria Bunch and Gloria Ford, Cosmos members LeRoy Beavers, R. B. Porter, George Sturdivant, Leonard Beavers and Samuel Strain, Kappa Emmet Ashford, Gertrude Gipson of The EAGLE, Lillian Lomax, Annette Marshall and Bill Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. James Knottingham of New York, Gladys Carter, formerly of Detroit, Don Barksdale of the Alpha fraternity and the Cosmos, Robert Farlice and Butter Ellis of Pasadena, Albert and Camille Vendange, Teddy Loupe, Patsy Hurd, Emmet and Margaret Taber, Milton Hays, Gene Walker, UCLA, Carl Peterson, and a host of others.

Roy enrolled at USC as a major in business law for the Fall semester. Getting back into the swing of things seems to be an easy job for the best dressed man about town who saw action in Italy.

Arthur Loggins, youngest son of the prominent family, was home for the party after serving several months in the merchant marines.

The Loggins Catering firm is one of the most progressive Negro businesses in the city, catering solely to major motion picture studios.

Pruitt-Lehman Reception Is Important Social Event

Mr. and Mrs. John McDavid Lehman were honored with a formal wedding reception Sunday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Bailey, between the hours of three and six. More than 300 friends of the families attended, giving their felicitations.

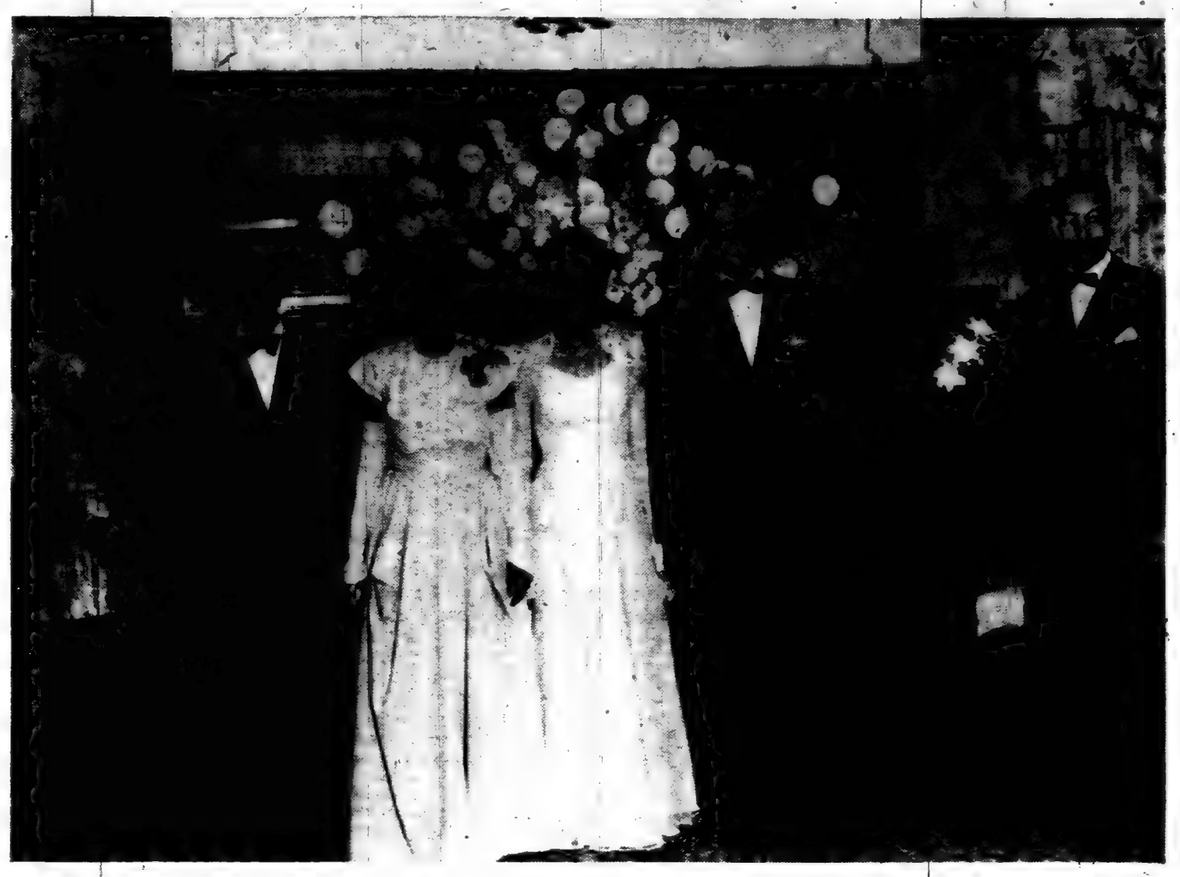
BEAUTIFUL BRIDAL GOWN

Mrs. Lehman, the former Ouida Loretta Pruitt, was lovely in a white wedding gown made of lace and net featuring a sweetheart neckline. She wore a white orchid corsage and her hair was beautifully arranged in a "Grecian" coiffure. The bride's mother, Mrs. W. E. Bailey, received in a gown of delicate pink file with matching gloves and wore a corsage of orchids. The groom's grandmother, Mrs. McDavid, received in a charming gown of black lace with gardenia corsage, and the bride's aunt, Mrs. Ursula Pruitt Murrell, wore a green crepe gown, with scintillating bodice.

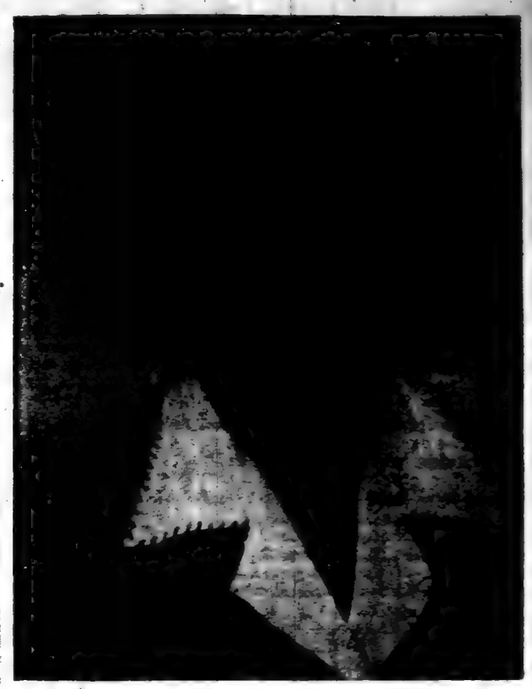
Assisting with the large display of handsome gifts, in three rooms of the hill top home and serving guests in the beautiful gardens were hostesses: Mmes. Portia Lewis, Marcia Portier, Edythe Houston, Mable Mile, Beulah Wyndon, Venye Corporal, Myrtle Dunn, Emily Portwig, Laura Smitherman, E. B. Hudson, Hazel Campbell, Jessel Reid King, Vivian Garrison, Erma Bailey Kennedy, Doris Garrison Booker, Thelma Pruitt, and Misses Grace Davis, Ysabelle Gray, Odessa James, Haroletta Garrison, Ann Cunningham, Mary Lehman, Ethel Lehman, Gloria Ford, Anita Hippard, Janet Bailey, Judith Bailey, Jerry Jean Baldwin, Margaret S. Woods, Ursula J. Pruitt and Loretta Pruitt.

Also assisting were: Mr. O. Reese Corporal, Mr. S. L. Hudson and Mr. L. W. Pruitt.

The bride is a recent graduate of UCLA, receiving her B.A. in education. She is now attending USC, working on another degree. She is a member of the Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority. Her husband, the son of Rev. and Mrs. Paul Lehman, was recently discharged from the armed forces. Before entering, he was a premed student at Los Angeles City college. The couple was wed in Mexico.



RECEIVING LINE—Members of the prominent families of Mr. and Mrs. John Lehman, nee Ouida Pruitt, received hundreds of guests Sunday afternoon at the couple's wedding reception given by the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Bailey. Left to right, Mrs. Ursula Pruitt Murrell, bride's aunt; Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Bailey, bride's parents; Mr. and Mrs. John McDavid Lehman, Mrs. McDavid, groom's grandmother, and Rev. Paul Lehman, groom's father. The reception was held between the hours of 3 and 6 p.m.



ENROUTE TO HOWARD—Lovely Marcelyn Cobbs, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. P. Price Cobbs, departed Tuesday morning for Washington, D. C., where she will enter the famed Howard university. The popular coed attended UCLA, was a student of voice at Gray's conservatory, and served as adviser to one of the junior groups of the YWCA. Miss Cobbs will visit New York and Washington before entering school. Many lovely parties were given in her honor by her friends in the younger social and religious circles of the city. She is a member of Delta Sigma Theta sorority.

New Name Given Teenage Program at Y.W.C.A. as Fall Program Is Launched

Mrs. Inez Allen, director for the teen-age program of the Woodlawn branch Young Women's Christian Association, announced yesterday the adoption of the name Y-Teens for the YWCA program for teen-age girls, formerly called Girl Reserves and Tri-Y.

The changing of the name from Girl Reserve to "Y-Teens" was made official by the national board of the YWCA at its recent meeting held at national headquarters, New York City. This action was taken at the request of many teen-age and adult members in the 325 registered YWCA clubs and 434 community associations where the Girl Reserve program has been sponsored since 1918.

For many years members of the YWCA have felt that the name Girl Reserves did not adequately describe the program the agency offers for teen-age boys and girls. Questionnaires sent to members of local associations showed that many felt that the name Girl Reserves was too difficult to interpret, did not take into consideration the increasing number of boys participating in the program due to increased co-ed activities, and did not indicate a relationship to the YWCA.

In recent years there has been an increased trend to make the program more coeducational. With the advent of teen-age canteens and co-ed clubs, the name Girl Reserves did not adequately describe a program which included boys. Over 50,000 boys are now participating in teen-age activities of the YWCA.

Mrs. Allen explained that a sampling of local association opinion made by the national headquarters this spring revealed that there was an overwhelming support for changing the name.

The new name "Y-Teens" will describe the age group of the program, includes both boys and girls, is applicable to the club, canteen, summer program, conferences and the total program. It is also advantageous in indicating that teen-age members are an active part of the constituency of the YWCA throughout the country.

"Over a half million boys and girls are now participating in the YWCA program for young people through clubs, canteens, camps, conferences and special interest groups in arts and crafts, dramatics, sports, discussions, dancing and outdoor activities," Mrs. Allen said. "The YWCA encourages youth participation and responsibility for planning their own group activities, thereby giving them a real opportunity to develop leadership ability. A strong emphasis in the program is community and world service, again helping youth to take their place as citizens in a democracy," said Mrs. Allen.

The local "Y-Teen" program is carried on in the 16 centers in Greater Los Angeles area and includes a multitude of activities.

Mrs. Allen explained that the new publications, symbols and group insignia would be introduced in the fall.

Mrs. Honore Carey is chairman of the Committee for Teen-Age Program of the Woodlawn branch YWCA. Serving with her as members of the committee are: Mrs. Cornelia Edwards, Mrs. Doris Ennis, Mrs. Blanche Hamilton, Mrs. Betty Hill, Miss Inez Bennett, Mrs. Grace Lee, Mrs. Laura Smitherman, Mrs. Ethel Atkinson, Mrs. Artelia James, Miss Jean Watkins, Miss Ollie V. Greene, Mrs. Corine Jones Kemp, Mrs. Christeole Owens, Mrs. Willa Freeze, Mrs. Hilda Hatcher, Mrs. Emily Portwig and Mrs. A. R. Mosely.

Publisher's Wife Returns to City

Mrs. Fred C. Williams is again at home following a trip to the Atlantic seaboard. Her principal stops on the pleasure tour were in Philadelphia, where she attended the Shrine Convention, and Buffalo for the Elks conclave.

The wife of the former publisher Fred C. Williams now recovering from an operation, also visited the cities of Chicago, New York and Detroit.

Popular Gaylord Club Back in Circulation

One of the smartest dances of the season will be given Sunday, September 29, by the Gaylord's Social Club, at the Masonic Hall, 1050 E. 50th st. from 9 to 1 a.m.

Music will be expertly played by Sammy Franklin and his orchestra. Tickets are on advance sale by club members at 75c. On the night of the dance, tickets will sell for $1.00 at the door.

Popular Matrons Chalk up Success

Mrs. Juanita Holland was hostess to the Popular Matrons at their last regular meeting in the home of Mrs. Leila Brenard.

Reports on the success of the annual barn dance, given last month, were made. A vote of thanks to the many friends who cooperated in making the dance a huge success and an event to be anticipated each year, was recorded.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN LEHMAN cut the cake during their wedding reception Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Lehman is the former Miss Ouida Pruitt, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Bailey. The popular couple took local social circles by surprise when they eloped to Mexico several weeks ago. (See story.)

Dr. Long, is a member of the surgical staff of the Homer Phillips hospital, People's hospital and St. Mary's Infirmary, St. Louis.

Jeff PTA in Readiness for First Regular Meet of Fall

The PTA of Jefferson high school held its second board meeting on August 27 at the home of Mrs. Ira Pulliam, first vice-president. Plans for the ensuing year were discussed. The PTA promises bigger and better things for the forthcoming year. At the end of the meeting everyone enjoyed an informal luncheon.

On August 30 the organization was invited on a tour of one of the city's paper plants. It was most educational, showing the processes which involve the manufacture of paper. After this tour the visitors were served lunch.

With the opening of school, the PTA will hold its board meeting on September 23 at Jefferson at 10 a. m. This will be followed by a regular meeting on September 26 at 2:30 p. m. in the school cafeteria.

Senior Auxilliary of All Nations Hospital in Crown City Meet to Schedule Musical Benefit

The All Nation's Hospital Senior auxiliary held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Ralph Branson.

Miss Marybelle Hill, chairman of the 1946 Spanish Fiesta, recently held in Pasadena, announced that Miss Lorraine Kimp had been chosen queen, to reign over the 1947 fiesta, having won the ticket-selling contest this year.

Mrs. Laura Bailey was selected as chairman of the forthcoming benefit concert to be held October 6 from 3 to 5 in the Gold Room of the Pasadena Civic auditorium, when the Senior auxiliary presents Rocksy and James Horton in a program of mixed classical and folk music. The Hortons are wellknown for their solo work on the radio program "Sweet Chariot Hour", and are singing this benefit concert to assist in the fund raising campaign for building an interracial hospital for all people of low incomes in the Pasadena area.

One of the most beautiful weddings of the season was that of Merlene Eleanor Ballard to George W. Chandler, which took place Sunday afternoon at the A.M.E. church. Merlene looked beautiful in an embroidered satin and net gown and a three-teared illusion veil os she walked down the aisle on the arm of her father, Mr. Porter Ballard. She carried a bouquet of lovely white roses.

The church was unchanged, save for two large baskets of white gladiolas and small bouquets of flowers on the pews of the main aisle. A beautiful background was formed by the girls inthe junior choir of the A.M.E. church which was lovely and unusual. The girls wore formals of pastel and held small bouquets of sweetpeas. Just before the vows were taken, the choir sang "The Lord's Prayer," which set the mood of the afternoon. The bridesmaids were Lorraine Cuoton and Ruby King, dressed in peach, Mary Scott and Anna Bell Worrill, dressed in blue. The dresses were of shoulder, sleeveless gowns of marquesette with matching gloves and crowns. They carried gladioli bouquets. The maid of honor was Brenda Ballard, who wore blue and the bride's other sister, Euvalda Morris, the matron of honor, wore peach marquesette. The flower girl was Nochaz and Master George Johnson was ring bearer. The best man was Walter Worrill, and the ushers were Jimmie Felton, Walter Smith, James Ruffin and Alton Ballard, Merlene's brother. Before the procession, Pauline Evans sang "Yours Is My Heart Alone" and Mansfield Collins sang, "Because." Mrs. V. McRiley played the organ throughout the ceremony.

Mrs. Ballard looked lovely in a beautiful blue formal. Mr. and Mrs. Burch, the groom's mother and step-father, were there. Mr. and Mrs. Reed, the grandparents came down from Oakland to be at the wedding. The new Mr. and Mrs. G. Chandler will leave Friday for Washington D.C., where he will work on his masters at Howard.

At the church and the reception I chatted with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Redding, who still would like to move back over here if they can find a house. Mrs. James Felton, nee Freddy Ward, looking very chic. Mary Collins just back from her trip East, and having proved the old saying, "Absence makes the heart grow fonder," for she and Bill Edson have made up and he will be putting the ring on her finger sometime this winter. Noted Frank Batiste who is back in California to go to Compton J. C. Tom MacGlurland was there, too. Wonder why Jerri Coe sat in one spot all through the reception?? Doris Prince really looked chic in a brown ribbon and rose chapeaux. Talked to Densell Purdue who is the charming receptionist in the office of Dr. Trayler. Remember Connie Williams??? Well, she is back in 'Dena, visiting Densell. We are always speaking of women's fashions. Well, here's a note in men's styles. Bump Cunningham had on a new suit that was very attractive. Cookie Cook, who hasn't been over in quite a long time, was there with Albert Hicks. Symanthia and Felix Williams were present along with Audrey Boykins. Noted Clifford Prince, Lois Prince, Paul Mack, Mrs. Ward, Wilma Lane, Thomas Floyd, Alvin Johnson, Mrs. Alice Buggs and her daughter Jean, who just returned from a trip to Chicago, South Carolina, Boston and other points East. Snookie McAfee, Rev. and Mrs. Robert Hill, Mrs. Dickens, Mr. and Mrs. Durbham, Lucille and Chris Nochaz, Mrs. Cora Morrow, Gwen and Jean, who have just arrived home from the East, and hundreds more were there.

One of the most successful affairs given lately was the Club Ideal's dance at the Masonic hall. Everyone had a wonderful time and Eddie Martin and his Quintet really jumped. Esther and Raymond Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, Dr. and Mrs. English, Louise Acres, Molly Sears and husband, Rose Brown, Arthur Callier, Robert Farlice, Sid and Eleanor Herd, Betty Brown, Bill Duncan, Anna Harrison, Lucille Harrison, Joe Durel, Robby and Betty Jones, Pearl McAfee, Fred Valentine, Marge and Lubie Pais, J. T. Morgan, all seemed to be having a grand time. Penny Lundy seemed to be enjoying herself as were Florene Johnson and Maxine Lundy.

Talked to Carolyn and Bill Hennington and they're going to be lucky and get a house. Aletha Carey certainly looking lovely in her black and yellow flowered dress; she was with Bump. Bernice Cunningham, Butter Ellis, Clifford Valentine, Betty Cunningham, Bernice and Jack Gordon, Ruth and John Anderson, Pete McCullough and Theron Kirk, who I hadn't seen in ages, were there. This club is coming up in the community and everyone is sitting up and taking notice. The officers and members are Winifred Sunday, pres., Myrtle Cunningham, vice-pres., Margaret Clipper, sec., Elizabeth Williams, cor. sec., Emma White, treas., Lillian Brown, bus. mang., Eugenia Peters, historian, Naomi Wilson, sergeant-at-arms, Anita Collier, Harriett Cunningham, Savaletta Gordon, Charleen Martin, Joyce Martin, Ruth Valentine and Jayne Wade.

Shocked and stunned was my mother-in-law, Mrs. Eva Armstrong when her family surprised her with a birthday party. Those present to enjoy the lovely afternoon and dinner were Huelletta Bryant and Wanda, Ida Jackson, Sarah Cole, Grant Cole, Mrs. Moreland, Mrs. Laura Moore, Wyllie and Oscar Armstrong, Ellen House, Willie James and Mary House, Otis and Connie Washington, Ollie Washington, Rev. Heading, Mrs. Savannah Mance, Mrs. Ruffin, Miss Lotty, Miss Robbie Mae coats, Mr. and Mrs. Vickers, Stewart Armstrong, Mrs. Pat Elliott, Ellie Baker, Louise and Horace Williams, Vernon Vickers, Florence and John House, Margie Armstrong and George Davis.

Quite a number of young people were present at Scott's for the debate on Juvenile Delinquency. There were two teams, one from Pasadena and the other from L. A. Those on our team were Ples Griffin, Barbara Dean, and Thelma Jackson. George Morrow sang and Jean Morrow played on the program. Some of those out for the program were Alva Rae Neblett, Jefflyn Brown, Dorothy Edward, James White and many others.

Well, well, here's some good news and it shows that Pasadena is progressing even if it's at a slow pace. Ralph Riddle has been appointed to the Pasadena police force and Ernest Cunningham is to take his place on the force shortly. . . It's a girl for the Edward Johnsons and is Eddie the proud pappa. They have named her Jeniffer. . . It's off again for Mable Renfro. She was ringless at the wedding Sunday. Barbara and Mrs. Durham are back home after a very enjoyable trip to K. C. and Chicago. Babs saw Dot Mims while there and they got to catch up on all the latest news. . . I was quite surprised to learn that Dorcas Gooden and Raymond Robinson have taken up their pre-war romance and are contemplating marriage in a short time. . . Oh yes, Bernard Ballard isn't engaged to anyone. . . Arthur Callier and Herman Sperlock are not going to Samuel Houston. . . Certainly going to miss Symanthia Williams when she and Felix move to L. A. . . . Come Oct. 8, the Fines are going to give a Mexican Fiesta at the Masonic hall. . . Mrs. Gladyse White Davis of Baltimore was entertained by Mrs. Loretta Grant with a lovely luncheon. Some of those present were Connie Washington, Mrs. Anna Mae Woods, Bessie Railsback, Lucille Bowlin, Mrs. Laura Bailey and several more. . . Phillippa Jones, Ivan Houston, R. B. Porter, Gloria Bunch, Jessie Arnold, Bob Johnson, Jackie Bunch, Harrison Bailey, Lora Jacques, Betty Benson and many others were at the party Mrs. Grant gave Sat. for Tony Williams from Washington.

P. S. I want to thank Alvin Johnson, Thomas Floyd and Betty Benson for their help. Ha! Ha!

The Charm of You

By NATALIE T. SCURLOCK

You're looking forward to making new friends when you trot off to school in a few weeks, so bring out your charm and dust it off. If you want to make friends and influence people you will be needing it.

Charm is something that you can't see but that you certainly can feel. It's made up of a lot of little things. Charm is the cheapest thing in the world and the most priceless thing to you and to those with whom you come in contact.

Cultivate kindness, good manners, thoughtfulness, and before you know it you are doing just what you want most to do—making and keeping friends.

If you would like to keep that football hero, who dates you for the movies, interested in you, show an interest in his conversation and therefore in his ideas, ideals, and opinions. You will not necessarily have to agree with everything he says or believes, but yau con make him feel that you are interested in and understand his viewpoint. By doing this you will get from him like reactions with regard to your ideas and apinions.

Boisterousness and unbecoming language should be left to those who know no better. Be a lady always. It pays big dividends.

It is not any too easy to overcome self-consciousness but it can be done. Self-consciuosness is the treacherous and deceitful enemy of charm. Any lack of certainty about just what is right, any uncomfortable, ill-at-ease feeling that possesses you at the wrong moment destroys the personal power which is your individuality, your charm. There is a genuine pleasure in knowing that you are looking, feeling, and being your best. Only when uncertainties are removed, and you are able to forget about yourself, can your real personality shine through. Only then are you charming.

Make a point to win as many friends as you can. One never has too many friends. This doesn't mean that they will all share your innermost feelings because that kind of friendship is rare. Concentrate just as hard on winning girl friends as on winning boy friends.

It's not a bad idea to make a friend on the faculty. It helps to have someone to whom you can go for advice. The dean of women usually serves in this capacity but it may be that you will also like to have the counsel and interest of another older person. However, you should not develop the habit of leaning on someone else. Learn to make some decisions for yourself.

COUTURSTAT

By Grace Fisher Atkins

The clothing department started out with a bang for the new semester. Monday evening found a large enrollment for all four clothing classes at Jeff night school. The tailoring class meets one evening each week, Wednesday, from 6:30 to 9:30. Mrs. Nicholson is the instructor, room 133.

Each Monday and Thursday, costume design, or couturstat; Tuesday and Friday evening, dressmaking; Wednesday evening, tailoring. All from 6:30 to 9:30 in room 133.

The costume design class proposes to include millinery and the making of purses. Much ground must be covered within the next 20 weeks. Emphasis must be placed upon promptness. Not one minute can be wasted or misused. The business organization built upon the Couturstat process awaits skill and technical knowledge.

Edward Deason will soon lecture to the class on hair styling and coiffeur. Mr. Deason promises to inform the class of the need for adequate grooming. Basic problems upon hair growth and culture will be studied.

The entire personality is the subject of costume design. The procedure includes pattern drafting, designing the costume, and construction of the costume. Clothing budget is considered upon the average income standards. It is the individual problem to force clothing needs within the adequate budget.

Clothing classes serve one of the most urgent needs of the community. With the high costs of garments at this particular time it is necessary that relief be afforded by clothing instruction.

November 26 (Tuesday evening) has been selected for a fashion performance for the Jefferson Adult Evening school. All classes are working toward that goal. The Thanksgiving season's fashions will be shown at that time. Remember this date.

KINLOCH'S ☆ KORNER

By Y. S.

Dedicated to the memory of my childhood chum, John Kinloch, who died in the struggle to destroy Fascism.

Dear Chum:

In a very short time, the vital issue of France Spain comes up before the United Nations. And it is a simple, clear-cut issue. Fascism.

Despite its importance, however, far too many people are still glumly murmuring that it's none of our business anyway; that we should let them shoot each other up, if they want to; that we have enough to worry about right here, without thinking about Spain.

Those people are way out on a limb, chum. A limb that is dangerously close to the breaking point.

Spain is our business! And this is why—Anything that constitutes a threat to world peace is not only our business, but the business of every person in this world who dreams of freedom and peace.

The time has come, chum, when everyone must recognize certain truths. When we must face facts, and derive from them the correct interpretation of issues, even as 3,000 young men did, over ten years ago. Young men from every section of our nation who, despite an American policy of non-intervention, saw in the Spain of 1936, a threat to world peace. They knew the score, chum. That's why they left their homes, here in America, to fight in Spain. That's why people all over the world who love freedom will remember their contributions in the struggle against fascism.

These young men of the heroic Abraham Lincoln Brigade realized that the fight in Spain was only the beginning of a Fascist plan for world conquest; that the foreign policy of non-intervention was actually assistance to the fascists; that the small group of Spanish Fascists and reactionaries who were defeated in the 1936 election could never have waged a civil war without aid from Germany and Italy.

And those young men were right, chum, because during 1936-39, Hitler and Mussolini sent 60 armored divisions to crush the Spanish Republic and to set up their puppet, Franco, as Fascist Dictator over the Spanish people.

Under Dictator Franco's regime, over two million Spanish Republicans have been slaughtered, and prisons and concentration camps throughout the country filled to capacity. And there are other crimes we must chalk against Franco. He helped kill American troops in World War II; encouraged German scientists to carry on German bomb-research; made Spanish industry totally subservient to the dictates of the Axis war machine; and used Spanish freighters to fuel up German subs.

Yes, chum, Spain is our business!

It's our business because 100 top Nazi scientists—specialists in Atom Bomb research—are working in Spain, under Franco's protection. Again, they are preparing Spain as a base for Fascism. Again, they are planning to make another try at world conquest. And on top of this, Fascist Spain is sheltering 1,200 top Nazi war criminals.

Still don't think it's our business? Well, to bring it right to our own backyard, Franco's agents in South America—Argentina, Chile and Uruguay—are building a Fascist base for future operations in the Western Hemisphere!

That's the score now, chum. And this is how it all started. In 1936, in a fair and open election, the majority of the people of Spain voted for a democratic regime which initiated a program not even as radical as the New Deal in America. In introducing reform programs, the new regime encountered the resistance and hostility of the big landowners, industrialists, bankers, church hierarchy, army officers and foreign corporations holding property and investment interests in Spain.

That was the beginning. These groups, aided by international intrigue, and troops, war materials and airplanes from the Fascist dictators, defeated the Republican government after 32 months of bitter fighting.

With the end of internal fighting, Franco went "all-out" to help the Fascist nations, while on the other hand, members of the Spanish republic fought underground or served in the allied armies in every theater of war.

And today, chum, despite Franco's fascist regime, the trade union movement not only continues a united underground fight against fascism, but is the spearhead of the resistance movement. Despite Franco's repressions, the unions have managed to organize and conduct many successful struggles for wages, living conditions and political rights.

Lowever, the fight is hard and long. That's why Spain's trade union movement has issued a call for assistance to the democratic peoples of the world.

Ten years ago, the young men of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade answered the call for aid through militant action. Today, it's up to us—the young people of America—to work, in whatever way we can, to destroy fescism in Spain. We must demand that our State Department break economic and diplomatic relations with Franco Spain; that the Spanish Republic government in exile, headed by Jose Giral, be recognized as the legal interim government of the Spanish people; that documents held by U. S. Army incriminating Franco as an ally of the Axis powers be turned over to the U. N. Security Council; and that the Franco government stop executing leaders of the Spanish resistance movement.

These are the steps our State Department must take to help crush fascism in Spain!

Your chum,
Yvonne.

335,000 School Kids Return to Classes, Books

School kids throughout Los Angeles returned to their classes this week, despite a lack of books, desks and even new buildings.

As the 335,000 youngsters file back into 407 schools, the Board of Education issued the assurance that every effort is being made to provide full-scale education, with strong emphasis on the three Rs, history and geography for the elementary classes, and on preparation for college or vocations for secondary students.

Of new pupils attending—and 15,000 are going to Los Angeles schools for the first time—some 7,000 will attend elementary classes, while another 1,000 will go to kindergarten and more than 6,500 will enroll in junior colleges, according to Dr. Vierling Kersey, school superintendent.

College Reports Peak Enrollment

GREENSBORO, N. C.—With an anticipated enrollment several hundred in excess of last year's 1,750 students, registration for the Fall quarter got underway at North Carolina Agricultural and Technical college in Greensboro, Tuesday morning.

From all indications it is expected that the enrollment will soar above the 2,500 mark at the end of the registration period.

A veterans' housing project and dormitory are under construction and will be ready for occupancy before the end of this quarter. In addition plans are in progress for the acquisition of the Army's Overseas Replacement Depot in Greensboro, for use by the college to relieve the acute housing and classroom shortage.

World Youth Leaders to Speak At Southern Youth Legislature

"Several of the world's top youth leaders are coming to America to attend the Southern Youth Legislature which meets in Columbia, S. C., Oct. 18-20," said Mrs. Dorothy Burnham, educational director of the SNYC, upon her arrival from Paris, France, this week. Mrs. Burnham is pictured receiving flowers and honors from the youth of France. Shown with Mrs. Burnham are two world-renowned youth leaders, Arnold Meri from the Soviet Union (r), and Ignacio Gallego, Spain (left).

NAACP Questions Opinion Upholding Jimcro in Schools

OAKLAND, Calif.—The legal opinion handed down by the State Department of Education permitting California colleges to discriminate against Negro GIs under the federal veterans training program is being studied this week by attorneys for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored people.

The opinion, stating that the state body will not penalize educational institutions for barring educational opportunities to Negro veterans, was rendered when two East Bay private colleges approved for vets training refused the applications of Negro students, or a veteran.

Prague Schools Kids Send Gifts to U. S.

PRAGUE—Prague school children, wishing to express gratitude to American children who sent parcels through the Red Cross, sent their own packages to the United States to American children. The packages contain Czechoslovak dolls, embroidery, stamp collections and other items.

Anti-Negro Book Withdrawn From New York School

NEW YORK—"The Yearling," best-seller a few years back, which for a long time has been under attack for its Negro-slandering passages, was withdrawn from the leading lists of the summer school at James Monroe high school, the Bronx, after an angry committee from the National Equal Rights League of this city protested.

In announcing withdrawal of the novel, Abraham Bernstein, principal of the school said: "Tomorrow we will substitute another book. We have enough substitutes. We will not penalize any student who has read this book for homework."

City Extending Youth Choruses; Urges Formation of Adult Groups

Although some 14 youth choruses extending from Pacoima to San Pedro are in operation, plans are being made to extend the youth choruses to 15 additional districts in the city so that more teen age boys and girls can participate, the Bureau of Music announced this week.

The formation of adult choruses in various parts of the city is also getting underway, according to J. Arthur Lewis, music co-ordinator.

Adult choruses are designed to do the more serious choral works and will be presented on great festive and civic occasions, such activities to include productions in the Hollywood Bowl and in the Coliseum next year.

Information will be given to any interested group in organizing an adult chorus in their community by calling the Bureau of Music in City Hall.

Seeks to Oust Negro Students From Schools

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — A vicious anti-Negro campaign is being waged in the Chester area here as white parents launch an all-out drive to force Negro children out of the schools.

The day after protesting parents picketed the Dewey-Mann Public school, in an endeavor to bar Negro pupils from admission, KKKs, almost four feet, were seen on the front and side walls of the Franklin Public school.

State police investigations into the KKK, ordered by Gov. Edward Martin, will be concentrated in Philadelphia, where it is believed the Klan efforts for all of Pennsylvania are centered.

SEATTLE — State health officials this week reported that more than 15,000 healthy babies have been born to wives of servicemen eligible for benefits under an emergency maternity and infant program since its inception in 1943.

G. L. K. Smith Speaks Sun. At Poly; AYD Urges Youth To Join Giant Picket Line

American Youth for Democracy this week issued an urgent call to the young people of Los Angeles to join the youth section of a giant picket line to be thrown around Polytechnic high school Sunday, September 22, where Gerald L. K. Smith, America's number 1 fascist, is scheduled to speak.

Youth throughout the city are invited to join AYD members at 1 p.m. Sunday, southwest corner Washington and Hill, to mobilize into an orderly young people's group.

Cognizant of the all-out drive of native fascists against the peace, AYD has demanded the Federal Bureau of Investigation to investigate the activities of the Nationalist Youth League, an organization sponsored by Gerald L. K. Smith.

Don Lohbeck, newly elected national president of NYL, has been touring Southern California and speaking on the same platform with G. K. L. Smith.

AYD accuses the Nationalist Youth League, and Lohbeck, of attempting to spread Fascist doctrines, of inciting race hatred, of attacking the labor unions and of generally working to undermine democracy.

Negro Students Excluded From Four-Day Navy Science Cruise

WASHINGTON, D. C.—In a letter to the Secretary of the Navy, the District of Columbia branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People last Monday protested the omission of colored high school students from the four-day Navy science cruise, Sept. 24 through Oct. 3, for selected high school students which is being sponsored jointly by the Navy, Science Clubs of America, and Science Service.

All selections were made from high schools in divisions 1 to 9 (the white divisions) of the local public schools, and the colored high schools were not invited to participate.

Urging the intervention of Secretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal to secure the inclusion of colored high schools in this project, the letter, signed by George E. C. Hayes, president of the local NAACP and a member of the District of Columbia Board of Education, said:

"We feel that the United States Navy cannot afford to be a party to the systematic exclusion of Negro youths from this highly educational and extremely worthwhile project."

N. Y. City Council Committee Investigates Jimcro in Schools

NEW YORK—The City Council appointed a nine-man committee last Tuesday to investigate the admission practices and policies of all educational institutions within the city.

Headed by Councilman Walter R. Hart, Brooklyn Democrat, the committee will hold public meetings shortly at City Hall to ascertain whether discrimination is being practiced in schools in the admission of students or the employment of members of teaching staffs.

Hart said the board of estimate would be asked to appropriate $15,000 for the work of the committee.

Last January Mayor William O'Dwyer's committee on unity issued a report charging that New York City students, particularly colored, Jews and Catholics, were being discriminated against by private colleges and universities in the city and throughout the United States, and urged the creation of a state university.

Last March Dr. Stephen S. Wise, president of the American Jewish Congress, charged that Columbia University discriminated against students of Jewish, Italian and colored ancestry applying for admission to Columbia's Medical School.

A real hunter handles his rifle with care—and he's always careful, too, with his smokes and campfires.

Gary Schools Open Doors to Negro Students

GARY, Ind. — "Children under the jurisdiction of the Gary public schools shall not be discriminated against in the school districts in which they attend because of race, color, or religion," ruled the Gary board of education.

Thus, in accordance with the ruling, special schools for local Negro children disappeared with the opening of the new 1947 fall term.

The board's new anti-discrimination policy is a radical reversal of current policy that brought about a series of school strikes here by 1,000 white Froebel high school students on Sept. 17, 1945, as a protest against the presence of 800 Negro students at the school.

Off-Campus Co-Eds At Howard U. Get Recreation Center

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The Kelly Miller House, home of the Dean Kelly Miller, just off the campus of Howard University, is being converted into a recreation center for off-the-campus co-eds, it was learned last Wednesday.

Conversion of Dean Miller's residence is only one of a number of moves being made by the university and the dean of women, Miss Susie Elliott, to make university life more attractive to the hundreds of women students forced to live off the campus because of the shortages in dormitory facilities.

With over 700 women students already having applied for admission to Howard for the fall term, Dean Elliott estimates that the university will have to find homes in the city for more than 300 girl students.

To highest bidders will go 400 lots of miscellaneous merchandise—from smoking pipes to cargo nets—offered without priority in a War Assets Administration sale opening September 19 at the U. S. Naval Storehouse in South Tacoma, Washington, according to a WAA announcement.

Reduction in Cost of Air Mail Expected to Increase Volume

The Post Office department reported this week that the demand for Air Mail service has continually increased since its inauguration many years ago, and that with diminishing unit operation costs, due to the greater volume of business, the Congress has seen fit to lower the Air Mail unit rate from 8c to 5c, effective Oct. 1, 1946.

In paying tribute to the government for its operation of the Post Office department, Postmaster Michael D. Fanning pointed out that "while it is true prices in general have been on the increase, it must be remembered that the mail service is non-profit. As the volume grows, unit costs decrease."

When the new policy goes into effect, he added, it is believed that the use of air mail will rise to new heights.

"Use of the new postal insurance is also wise economy—up to $5.00 in value for only 3c," Fanning concluded.

Bowen Memorial Women's Annual Tea Slated Sun.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of Bowen Memorial Methodist church, East 36 and Trinity st., will hold its second annual tea, Sunday, September 22, 4 to 7 p.m. The affair is being held in the church parsonage at 3520 Trinity st.

Arrangements for the tea are being made by the Westside circle, headed by Mrs. Eva Patterson. Others of the Westside circle assisting are: Mesdames Clara Graves, Alva Colescott, Mabel Batiste, Dovie Steward and others.

Mrs. Myra Rhetta, president of the WSCS, announces that the proceeds from this affair will go to the All-Out-of-Debt campaign in which the church is now engaged. A cordial invitation is extended to the public, friends and fellow churchmen to attend and enjoy the refreshments and program.

Great Gospel Ship to Arrive

Thursday evening September 26, 1946 the Great Gospel Ship and its crew of Gospel Radio Singers will dock at Bethel Church of Christ Holiness. Three choirs, namely, the Senior choir of Independent, St. John Baptist and McCoy Baptist Church choirs will be there to blend their voices in exultation and thanksgiving for the successful return of this ship and its crew.

Hundreds have been waiting for the return of this wonderful ship. It has been sailing for three months and it's reported that it is bringing special cargo to Bethel Church of Christ Holiness and its pastor, Bishop Wm. A. Washington.

The crew of Gospel Radio Singers have brought comfort and happiness to thousands in radio land. Now is the chance to see them in action on Thursday nite, 1302 E. Adams Blvd., September 26, 1946, at 8 p. m.

Rev. M. Gipson To Lead Services At St. James Sun.

Rev. M. J. Gipson, pastor of the St. James Baptist church has recently returned from a month's vacation after having visited relatives and friends in Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas, and Tennessee. He stopped off in Atlanta, Georgia and Columbia, South Carolina to attend both National Baptist Conventions; in Washington, D. C. to see his son, who is attending Howard university; continuing into Chicago, Kansas City, Denver, and Idaho. He was accompanied by his wife, who is a national gospel singer.

Rev. Gipson will pastor both services on Sunday, September 22. Mrs. Gipson will render vocal selections. The members and friends of St. James are all urged to be present.

Anti-Hate Program To Dramatize Story Of Rabbi Nussbaum

Paul Henried will be the star performer on the third presentation of "It Is Happening Here," a new series sponsored by the Mobilization for Democracy, Monday, Sept. 23, on KLAC at 7:15 p.m.

The show will dramatize the story of Dr. Max Nussbaum, rabbi of Temple Israel in Hollywood, and a rare Hebrew scroll which Dr. Nussbaum rescued from a burning temple in Berlin only to have it ripped to pieces by anti-Semitic fanatics in Hollywood.

Following the dramatization, Dr. Nussbaum will close the show with a decisive program of action for the listening audience to follow in order to combat hatred and bigotry in this nation and prevent the continuation of such incidents.

The series was planned by the Mobilization for Democracy as a method of reaching hundreds of thousands of Los Angeles citizens with a hard-hitting expose of organized anti-Semitism and pro-fascist activity in this country together with a concrete action program to combat it, according to William Bidner, executive director of the Mobilization.

Produced with the cooperation of the Hollywood Writers Mobilization, the best of Hollywood talent, including top flight writers, actors and producers have offered their services for the production, Bidner said.

DR. C. M. LONG, minister in the Bethesda Baptist church of New Rochelle, New York, will be guest speaker for the great fall revival and membership campaign to be held at Second Baptist church, from Sept. 29 to Oct. 8. Reserve the dates.

Opportunity Baptist Church

The Opportunity Baptist church at 1250 E. 34th st., held high services throughout the entire day last Sunday. The Metropolitan Prayer Band played and many friends and visitors were present. Rev. E. D. Smallwood, pastor, delivered the morning and evening messages.

Preceding the evening services, a tea given by Mrs. Lula Sanders and others in the lovely home of Brazolla Brown, 906 E. 25th st., from 3-7 p. m. Many outstanding and talented artists participated on the program, making a most enjoyable evening. The pastor and church thank all those who, by their combined efforts, support, and splendid co-operation, made the evening worthwhile.

The pastor is still calling for young boys and girls from the ages of 12-18 that are interested in singing, to organize an interdenominational group. This will be a great opportunity to learn how to sing gospel songs with vocal instructions free. Your church denomination does not matter for it will not interfere with your regular church worship. Practices will be held at the church every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday from 4-5 p. m. This group will be directed by E. D. Smallwood and it has a very prosperous future, including the possibility of radio work. Call AD 1-2005 between 8-10 a. m. and leave your name. E. D. Smallwood, minister.

L. A. Federation Of Church Choirs Plan Vesper Hour

The Los Angeles Federation of Church Choirs will holds its annual vesper hour on Sunday, September 22, 2:30 p.m. at the Morning Star Baptist church, 1334 E. 41 st.

Clyde North, 1st vice-president, will take charge of the service due to the illness of President Teresa Johnson.

The public is invited to attend and bring their friends. Rev. Strauther, pastor.

Pasadena Group To Hold Annual Meet Sept. 26

The Scattergood Association of the First Baptist church, Maringo and Holly, Pasadena, invites the public to attend their first annual meeting on September 26. Reports and a program will be preceeded by a dinner to be served at 6:30 p.m.

Their goal has been set at 1,000 members for the year. The public is urged to attend to hear about the new club house. Reservations must be in by September 23rd. These can be made by calling Mae Reese Johnson, SY. 3-4479; Mrs. George Harris, SY. 3-6294; and Mrs. George Holland, SY. 4-5456.

Baptist to Lay Cornerstone

The Metropolitan Baptist church, 4200 Hooper ave., will have its cornerstone laid Sunday, September 22 at 3:30 p.m. under the auspices of the most worshipful, sovereign grand lodge of the state of California and its Jurisdiction, the Prince Hall affiliation.

The craft will assemble at the temple, 1050 E. 50th st. at 2 p.m. All Master Masons are urged to be present. The public is invited to witness the ceremonies. Rev. J. E. Paston and Rev. J. E. Evans, assistant pastor.

Annual Rally Day Program at Morgan

Morgan Chapel Methodist church will hold its annual Rally Day program Sunday, September 22, 11 a.m., at 1480 West Jefferson blvd. The church school will present the pageant, "Forward—Together." Rev. Smiley will install the Superintendents, teachers, and officers of the church school.

Blessed are they that mourn; for they shall be comforted.—Jesus (Matthew 5:4).

Pickets Assail Closing of Child Care Centers

Three child care centers, apparently doomed by a recent action of the Board of Education, were the cause of a demonstration of protesting parent before a meeting of the board Thursday night at Central Junior High school, 451 North Hill st.

The Board has decreed that the centers located at Soto, Castelar and Micheltorena schools must be closed when day school sessions commence "because of lack of facilities."

Over 100 mothers, fathers and children joined a picket line which marched around the school where the board was meeting in closed session. The protesting parents asked that they again be allowed to air their views to the board, but they were advised by acting chairman Maynard Toll that the matter had been thoroughly discussed, and board members saw no reason to take it up any further.

Pickets carried signs declaring: "Board of Ed. Unfair to Working Mothers," "Where Will We Leave Our Children," and "Why Do We Pay Taxes—Just for the Board Members' Salaries."

One mother, Mrs. Rose Laughlin who lives near the Micheltorena school state, "My husband is in the army, having volunteered for another four years. I have three children and must support them on a $28 per week job and what my husband sends me. I think it isn't too much to keep a child care center open for parents in my condition."

Leaders of the parents voted another meeting early this week to decide on subsequent action, which, they said, may take the form of an appeal to the governor.

Southern Baptist Church Is Organized by Rev. Kelly Key

Rev. Kelly Key, who is in Los Angeles from Shreveport, Louisiana, last week organized the Southern Baptist church, 48th and Avalon blvd. They already have a membership of 30 members.

Services are now being held temporarily in the Baptist Temple church of which Rev. J. C. Sweeney is the pastor. The order of services will be at 3 p.m. of each Sunday and the second and fourth Sunday nights.

REV. KELLY KEY

Their slogan is 1,000 members for Christ by the first Sunday in January, 1947. And they are asking that all fellow-Christians pray for them because they desire to do the Lord's Will. They ask that sinners go to them to be saved; back sliders to be reclaimed; new members to unite with them; and Christians to worship with them.

On Sunday, September 29, at 3 p.m. there will be a big rally to be known as the Twenty Mule Team Drive.

They ask that the public join them to hear one of the greatest preachers of our time, Rev. Kelly Key, whose motto is "A spirit filled ministry and a spirit filled church."

The happiest, sweetest, tenderest homes are not those where there has been no sorrow, but those which have been overshadowed with grief, and where Christ's comfort was accepted.—J. R. Miller.

Sunday School Lesson

By REV. IKE EVANS, D.D.

Subject: Jesus And The Law Of The Stranger. Devotional reading, Psalm 146. Motto Text: Matthew 25:40. Lesson Text and Outline, Exodus 22:21-23; Deut. 24:14-15; Matthew 25:34-41.

Introduction

The book of the covenant, opening with the Decalogue, contains the law of the stranger, which was repeated by Moses in his farewell address. Jesus in his sermon on "The Last Things" pictured the judgment scene revealing the king's approval of those who in his name had helped the needy.

Comments

1. Humanity is one of the laws of religion, and obliges us particularly to be tender of those that lie most under disadvantages and discouragements, and to extend our compassionate concern to strangers, and those to whom we are not under obligations of alliance of acquaintance. God's law and his providence are guardians to the widows and fatherless, and if men do not pity them, and will not hear them, God will. It is a great comfort to those who are injured and oppressed by men that they have a God to go to who will do more than give them hearing; and it ought to be a terror to those who are oppressive that they have the cry of the poor against them, which God will hear. Those that are strangers to us are known to God, and he will preserve them.

2. Masters are commanded to be just to their servants. They must not oppress them, by overloading them with work, by giving them undue and unreasonable rebukes, or by withholding from them proper compensation. They must be faithful and punctual in paying them their wages, not only pay it to them in full, without fraud, but pay it on time, without delay.

Comment on Motto Text

Christ espouses his people's cause, and interests himself in their interests, and reckons himself received, and loved, and owned in them. If Christ himself were among us in poverty, how readily would we relieve him? In prison, how frequently would we visit him? We are ready to envy the honor they had, who ministered to him of their substance.

Baha'i Lecture

ONE WORLD—ONE FAITH is the subject to be discussed by Winston G. Evans Sunday, September 22, at 3:00 p.m. at Los Angeles Baha'i Headquarters, 331 South New Hampshire avenue.

Mr. Evans says in part: "No longer is it necessary to argue that our world is one world. The war has accelerated our thinking along these lines and today we find people in every land readily accepting the fact that nations are economically and politically interdependent, that the welfare of the whole means the welfare of the part, and that distress to the part brings distress to the whole. Prime Minister Atlee, for example, recently stated, 'We cannot make a heaven in our country and leave a hell outside.' Over eighty years ago Baha'u'llah, the Founder of the Baha'i Faith, said, 'The earth is one country and mankind its citizens.'

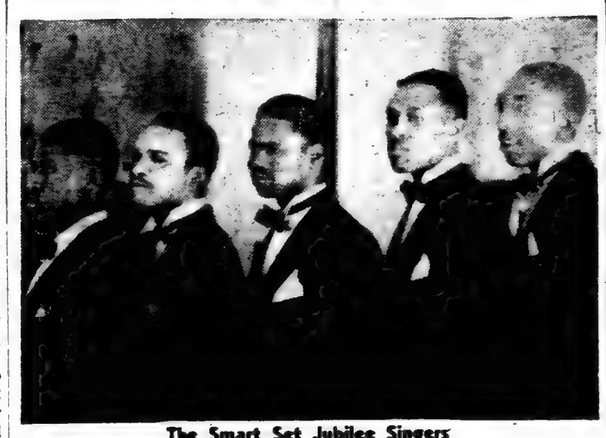
Jubilee Singers Here Sunday

The Smith Jubilee Singers



The Smart Set Jubilee Singers

The Youth League of Second Baptist church will present the famous Smith Jubilee Singers of St. Louis, Mo., and the Smart Set Jubilee Singers of Louisiana in an afternoon of music at 3 o'clock Sunday, September 22, at Second Baptist church, 24th and Griffith.

Winning the reputation of being the coming world's best quartet, the Smith singers are particularly noted for beautiful and unique arrangements in music.

The Smart Set Singers, formerly of Shreveport, La., are one of the most famous quartets of the Ark.-La.-Texas area in the Southwest, and reigned for four years as Louisiana State champions of Jubilee song. With a following of thousands of song lovers, this marks their first appearance since 1942, two of their number having seen service as soldiers in the South Pacific.

Despite the many activities scheduled throughout the city this Sunday, a record crowd is expected to attend this affair.

Ike Adams, Youth League President, urges the church membership and friends to turn out promptly to greet the visitors.

Jurist in Blistering Attack On Nation's Penal System

A blistering attack on the nation's system of penal institutions and procedure for trying and sentencing criminal offenders was voiced this week by Superior Court Judge William R. McKay in an address to the Los Angeles chapter of the National Lawyers Guild at the Hotel Rosslyn.

The veteran Los Angeles jurist termed the present criminal control system a "swinging door with all types of offenders being lumped together, thrown in the same prisons, and then emerging hardened criminals who again and again run afoul of the law.

"The most important thing to remember," the judge said, "is that only ten per cent of the offenders are habitual criminals. To lump them together with the same penalties and into the same institutions with the other 90 per cent, is sheer folly."

Judge McKay called upon the freeing of city and county jails from control by the police. "Under that setup," he declared, "all kinds of things happen in these jails, I am told. And the opportunity certainly exists.

He damned the system of police work that acts only after crimes have been permitted, but does nothing to prevent the crimes. It was revealed by the jurist that crime is increasing two per cent per month locally, and incarcerations are ten times those of a few years ago.

The action of the state legislature in setting up a California Youth Authority and then failing to allocate money to build separate facilities for youthful offenders also drew his ire. "To get results, first you must have intelligent men in the legislature giving thought to the problems, and then intelligent police to enforce the laws," he said.

Judge McKay termed the new Chino minimum security prison as "head and shoulders above any other institution in the United States," but stated its purpose was defeated because judges could not send offenders there directly.

Christian Science Sunday Theme 'Matter'

The Golden Text of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Matter" in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, is from Psalms and reads, "Tremble, thou earth, at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the God of Jacob."

In a Scriptural account Luke relates that Jesus "arose out of the synagogue, and entered into Simon's house. And Simon's wife's mother was taken with a great fever; and they besought him for her. And he stood over her, and rebuked the fever; and it left her: and immediately she arose and ministered unto them. Now when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them."

Mary Baker Eddy says in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures:" "When will it be understood that matter has neither intelligence, life, nor sensation, and that the opposite belief is the prolific source of all suffering! God created all through Mind, and made all perfect and eternal."

Denver Pastor And Wife Are Visitors Here

Everyone is invited to hear this outstanding gospel preacher and a special invitation is extended to all Oklahomans, Rev. F. K. Leath, pastor.

Sorrow has its reward. It never leaves us where it found us. The furnace separates the gold from the dross that the precious metal may be graven with the image of God.—Mary Baker Eddy.

E. W. PERRY

Rev. E. Odom to Be Guest Speaker At Evening Star

Rev. and Mrs. E. J. Odom are the guest in the home of their relatives, 816 E. Jefferson blvd.

Rev. Odom, pastor of the Macedonia Baptist church in Pampa, Texas, will preach Sunday, September 22 at 7:30 p.m. at the Evening Star Baptist church, 1123 E. 34 st. Rev. L. V. Brooks, pastor.

Prominent Church Worker Succumbs

Wallace A. Battle, layman of many years' service to the Episcopal church; head of Okolona Industrial School, Okolona, Mississippi, 1923-27; and field secretary of the American church Institute for Negroes, 1930-40, died on September 6 in Wyndom Center Hospital, Connecticut.

Battle is best known for his work in organizing and developing Okolona school, against tremendous odds, to serve the Negro children in that area. The school's standards and the measure of local support given to it induced the Church Institute for Negroes in 1923 to add it to the schools under Institute auspices, with Dr. Battle as principal.

Due to ill health he was compelled to retire in 1940 to his small farm, presented to him by a friend, at Chaplain, Connecticut. He is survived by his wife, a son, and three married daughters.

The sweetest joys a heart can hold
Grow up between its crosses.

Sweet are the uses of adversity;
Which, like the toad, ugly and venomous,
Wears yet a precious jewel in his head.—Shakespeare.

Catholic Group To Launch FEPC Drive Oct. 8

Launching a vigorous campaign in support of the California Fair Employment Practices Act, initiative measure to be voted on at the November 5 election, the Women's Committee of The Catholic Interracial Council of Los Angeles announced that Reverend George H. Dunne, S. J. will address a luncheon scheduled for October 8 at the Mayfair hotel here.

Mrs. Josephine Brown, Mrs. Stanley Chan, Mrs. Jerome S. Hall, Mrs. Warren Knieriam, Mrs. Daniel G. Marshall, Mrs. N. E. MvCrillis, Doctor Julia T. Metcalf and Mrs. Thomas Workman are in charge of luncheon arrangements.

This year California cotton planters should realize a yield of 431,000 bales from a probable 357,000 acres, approximately 440 pounds more per acre than the average yield in all other cotton states, the agriculture department o fthe Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce said in its August crop report issued today.

FEPC Will Help Build Civic Unity, Buying Power, Prosperity, Says L. A. Democratic County Committee

Act—on the November ballot as Proposition 11—was begun this week, it was announced by Judge Isaac Pacht, chairman of the Southern California Committee for Fair Employment Practices.

Pacht said that endorsements of Proposition 11 already received, including approval from prominent Republicans, the California Democratic party, the Christian Church convention, the State Methodist convention and the state AFL and CIO, had made it one of the most broadly backed measures ever proposed in the state.

FEPC was also endorsed this week by the Los Angeles Democratic county central committee. The committee called on "all truly democratic citizens" to support the SCCFEP in its campaign to win passage of the act.

"Proposition 11, by barring discrimination in employment, will help pave the way for fuller employment, higher pay and purchasing power and a more prosperous state," the committee's resolution, introduced by Secretary Dave Foutz and others, declared.

"Proposition 11 will also help build civic unity and safeguard our state against the evils of race and religious hatred which were the cornerstones of the Axis philosophy and state which we have just defeated in a costly war."

The Fair Employment Practices Act, similar to the Federal FEPC inaugurated by President Roosevelt and the present New York anti-discrimination law, would make it illegal for employers, unions or employment agencies to discriminate against employes solely because of race, religion or nationality.

A five-man commission appointed by the governor would investigate complaints of discrimination an dseek to eliminate discrimination through conciliation. Courts wuold enforce the commission's orders against persistent violators.

Support of a Fair Employment Practices Act has been pledged by numerous civic leaders, including Bartley Crum, James Roosevelt, Dr. E. C. Farnham, Most Rev. John J. Cantwell, Rt. Rev. W. W. Bertrand Stevens, Rollin McNitt, Walter Wanger, Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin, Edward G. Robinson, Judge Lester Roth, Charlotta Bass, editor of The EAGLE, Michael Fanning, John Anson Ford, Leon Washington, Tom Ford and many others.

Headquarters have been opened in the Spring Arcade Building and speakers and literature are available for other organizations, Augustus F. Hawkins, executive director, said.

More than 15,000 "Freedom Bonds" — engraved certificates which certify that individuals and organizations have contributed to the campaign to pass a California FEPC Act—have been issued in Southern California, Hawkins disclosed.

Oppose Opening Of Pool Hall

The people in the vicinity of 55th and So. Central are up in arms over the proposed opening of a pool hall on that corner and Tuesday while in regular session the police commission postponed a motion on the hearing for the issuance of a license for another week.

Those who object to the establishment of a pool hall at 55th and Central feel that this is, more or less, a residential district and such a type of business would be a nuisance, and thereby hangs the objection.

Negro Engineer to Assist Director of Virgin Islds. Project

Commissioner George H. Field, of the bureau of community facilities, Federal Works Agency, yesterday awarded a contract for construction of sanitation, sewage and fire protection facilities in the Virgin Islands to the contracting firm of Mears and Ewing, Miami, on a bid of $953,128. Commissioner Field advised Gov. William H. Hastie that the work could be started immediately.

FWA District Engineer Thomas G. Mooney will supervise construction for the Bureau of Community Facilities.

Charles S. Duke, well-known Negro construction engineer, one of the founders and first president of National Technical Association, will assist Mooney.

According to Commissioner Field, local labor will be utilized to the fullest extent possible on the Virgin Island projects.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — (NNPA) —First-day reports from Birmingham school indicate that enrollment in the colored high school jumped to 3755 compared with 3564 last year. In colored elementary schools the enrollment was 13,362, compared with 13,315 last year, while white elementary school enrollment decreased from 17,602 last year to 16,940 this year.

Roosevelt Denounces Anti-Labor Record of Sen. Wm. F. Knowland

Taking issue with U. S. Senator William F. Knowland and the California Republican leadership over their expressed views on labor and price control, James Roosevelt, chairman of the California Democratic State Central Committee, yesterday urged voters to "look at the record of the junior senator—is it not a pretty one."

"He voted for the Case bill—vetoed by President Truman because it would have sabotaged labor's rights. He voted for a bill requiring unions to undergo a 60-day 'cooling-off period' before striking. Unions only use the strike weapon as a last resort.

"Knowland voted to deny Wagner Act benefits to foremen. This bill lost by a large mapority. He voted to make unions liable to law suits upon an employer's charge of contract violation. He voted against the secondary boycott, one of labor's economic weapons. He voted to forbid the government to improve wages or working conditions in plants seized because of strike situations.

"On every issue affecting the working man, Knowland usually will be found voting with the reactionary forces.

"He voted for the Taft bill to end price control. He was author of a bill which would have permitted landlords to raise rents at least 15 percent. He registered a negative vote against an increase in unemployment insurance benefits.

"Knowland's attack on organized labor is consistent with his views. He made a clever pretense of patting labor on the back—but confined his praise only to the fact that unions recently have held anti-Communist meetings and have declared themselves against the Communist philosophy.

"The oldest — and least effective dodge in the world—is to take refuge in talk about the menace of Communism, and to pose as a defender of the Republic. Instead of praising the workers of the United States for helping to win the war—instead of praising the workers for their forbearance in suffering wage cuts when price controls were removed from the basic necessities of life—Knowland gave labor a left-handed compliment which was a deliberate attack. He had nothing at all to say of labor's great accomplishments."

Roosevelt pointed to the endorsement of the American Federation of Labor, the CIO and other labor organizations for Will Rogers Jr., the Democratic opponent of Knowland for U.S. senator, because of Rogers' progressive record as a congressman before entering the service in defense of his country.

Gives Bottle-Wielding Hubby 'New Chance'

After he allegedly accused his attractive 21 year old wife, Mrs. Georgia Anna Pratt, of stepping out with other men, John Pratt, 22, then hit her over the head with a bottle of bleach.

That is what the victim told police, who rushed to the couple's home at 1352 E. 20th st. to patch up the housewife's lacerated scalp. Mrs. Pratt says she didn't go out with anyone, but has decided not to ask police to arrest her hubbie.

"I'm going to give him one more chance," she told them.

"THIS OUR FATHERS BOUGHT FOR US..."

★ Kipling was speaking of precious human freedom when he wrote, "This our fathers bought for us long and long ago."

But courage and valor are not solely the virtues of brave fighting men in combat. It took no less courage for men like Pasteur, Lister, Koch, and hosts of others to struggle for scientific truth against cries of heresy from the ignorant and the superstitious. Inspired by the example of these great men, your physician battles the same foes today. At his side is the pharmacist, always eager to carry the fight to the enemy.

BOBBY YEAGER TO TRY FRANKIE MOORE AGAIN

LAYIN' IT ON THE LINE

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

A FEW SHORT QUIPS

Buddy Young, fleet-footed Illinois halfback, has been named to start against Pittsburgh in Saturday's game. Other backs will be Julie Rykovich, Russ Steger and Perry Moss . . . Darnell Carter, 134, battled Dario Barron, 136, to a four-round draw in the main pro bout at Whittier arena Monday . . . Eddie Prince, Detroit lightweight, pounded out a 10-round decision over Baby Breese at Ocean Park arena Monday night . . . Tippy Larkin, junior welterweight champ, retained his crown by outboxing Willie Joyce and earning a 12-round decision in Madison Square Garden last Friday night. The bout attracted a crowd of 13,433 fans who poured $60,000 in the till . . . Jack Chase scored an easy 10-round decision over Jimmy Coleman in the main event at Hollywood Legion Stadium last Friday night, using plenty left hooks to the body and rights to the head. In the scheduled 6-round semi-windup, Reecy Davis, 149, scored a technical knockout over Bob Castro in the fifth stanza . . . The Los Angeles Rams pro football team play the Pacific Coast All-Stars in San Diego Sunday, returning here for their Sept. 29 date against the Philadelphia Eagles at the Coliseum. The latter tilt will be a regular National League game.

ON JACKIE ROBINSON

Jackie Robinson, who left his West Coast home for his baseball chores with the Montreal Royals of the International League, with a bat in hand and a prayer in his heart, has more than made good as the first Negro in organized baseball since 1900 to make good. It was announced last Saturday that the Brooklyn Dodger farmhand had compiled a .349 figure by pounding out 155 hits in 444 attempts to become the individual batting champion of 1946 in the International loop. He beat Newark's Bobby Brown by five points to win the title. Great going, Jackie!

MORE BASEBALL

Wrigley Field will be the scent of an exhibition game on the night of Oct. 16 featuring Bob Feller, Cleveland Indian hurler, and 15 major league stars, battling it out on the diamond against a hand-picked team from the Negro American and National leagues. The one and only Satchel Paige will be on this aggregation which will cavort under the name of the Kansas City Royals. Both Feller and Paige will see action on the mound for their respective teams.

DON'T FORGET

In closing this summertime offering we urge you not to forget the coming state welterweight title fight between John Thomas and California Jackie Wilson on Saturday, Sept. 28, at the Olympic for the benefit of West View Hospital, a worthy cause if ever there was one. Tickets are on sale now.

L. A. Dons Bias Suit Stronger

An amended complaint will be filed against the Los Angeles Don football team charging them with discrimination against non-Caucasian football players following the withdrawal of the original action, and a stronger case will be made of the suit, it was announced early this week.

Superior court Judge Henry M. Willis stated that attorney Leonard Richardson, representing a quartet of the four leading Negro sports writers of the city, had taken the first case off the superior court calendar just before it was scheduled for an order-to-show-cause hearing.

The withdrawal meant that the Dons were enabled to open their All-American conference professional football season against the Brooklyn Dodgers Friday night, as per schedule.

Richardson stressed the action constituted no defeat for the plaintiffs, but that he was now ready to file an even stronger action, which, he believes, will force the Dons to cease their alleged discrimination against Negroes.

Wiley College Grid Schedule

September 28 — Philander Smith at Little Rock.
October 5—Arkansas State at Marshall.
October 14 — (night Prairie View at Dallas.
October 28—(night Tuskegee at Shreveport.
November 9 — Langston at Langston.
November 15—(night) Southern at Houston.
November 23—Sam Houston at Marshall.
November 28—Texas College at Tyler.
December 7 — (homecoming) Clark (Atlanta, Ga.) at Marshall.

Rams Return to Training Grind

Over their first home-town hurdle in their recent 16 to 14 victory over the Washington Redskins, Coach Adam Walsh and his still world champion Los Angeles Rams are back at Compton College after having broken training for a full week.

The club's next major objective is the opening of their official 1946 National League season against the Philadelphia Eagles at the Coliseum here on September 29, but closer at hand is the final pre-season game in which the Rams are to face the Pacific Coast League All-Stars in San Diego on Sunday afternoon, September 22.

COSMOPOLITAN GOLF

By JIMMIE SMITH

Tournament golf is again on the upswing for Southern California golfers with Eastern tournaments concluded and the locals, Bill Spiller, Oscar Clisby, Elmo Lincoln and Judson Grant ready to show the golf locally that made them top figures in big city competition.

The Cosmopolitan Golf club tournament committee has announced the holding of the Pacific open on the date of Oct. 4 at the Rio Hondo course.

The event is expected to draw entrants from all parts of the state. Recent visitors to San Francisco, Oakland and Fresno learned of the desire of northeners to compete in Los Angeles festivities.

As usual trophies and medals will be given winners and the Open winner will no doubt be declared the Western champion.

LONDON — Gus Lesnevich, world's light - heavyweight champ, was knocked out in the eighth round by Bruce Woodcock, empire heavyweight titleholder, Tuesday night before 10,700 in Harringay arena.

Chet Brewer's K. C. Royals to Have Stellar Mound Talent

Headliners who performed in the majors and fast minors during the regular season will provide stellar opposition for Chet Brewer's Kansas City Royals and Buzz Mackey's Newark Eagles when they start play in the fastest Winter league in Southern California baseball history. A number of coast league stars will be seen in action against the crack Negro teams at Wrigley Field, at Long Beach and San Diego, and in exhibition play.

The Royals are slated to arrive in Los Angeles on Saturday, Sept. 21, and will scarcely have the train kinks out of their legs when they make their winter debut against the strong Long Beach Rockets at Recreation Park, Long Beach, Sunday, Sept. 22. Mackey's Eagles, whose arrival will be delayed a bit by Major league playoffs, have been named "home" club at San Diego's Lane Field, but also will play at Los Angeles and Long Beach during the season.

Chet Brewer isn't going to be caught without plenty of mound talent this season. In addition to himself, Chet has listed as Royal pitching headliners such chaps as Ace Newberry, Birmingham Black Barons; Gentry Jessup and Bill McCoy of the Chicago American Giants; Dan Bankhead, Memphis Red Sox; John Williams, Indianapolis Clowns.

N.B.A. Ranks John Thomas 5th Among Nation's Lightweights

CLEVELAND—The National Boxing Association in its quarterly ratings released last Thursday ranked John Thomas, Los Angeles lightweight, No. 5 on its list in that division under champion Ike Williams.

Other rankings of Californians found Oakland Billy Smith fifth among the lightheavies; Enrique Bolanos seventh in the lightweight division; Carlos Chavez second in the featherweight ranks under the titleholder, Willie Pep; and Manuel Ortiz still listed as champ of the bantams with Tony Olivera sixth.

Elmer (Violent) Ray, Florida heavyweight, is rated as the next man in line for a chance at Joe Louis' title, after Tami Mauriello, who met Louis Wednesday. Marty Servo is still recognized as the welterweight champion but must give up all claim to it if he fails to meet Ray (Sugar) Robinson by Dec. 1.

'Playboy' Jones Versus Zander

Watson Jones, sometimes described as the playboy of Central avenue, will have to be on his toes Tuesday night, Sept. 24, when he tangles with Bobby Zander in the 10-round main event at the Olympic. Zander came within a whisker of winning the light-heavyweight title of the state from Oakland Billy Smith recently and is a tough ring man in anybody's language.

Jones defeated Tommy Garland in his last Olympic fight and is fighting in good form now. He'll have to be in better than "good" form to defeat Zander, who is a crowd pleaser from way back with his aggressive style.

Yankee Stadium Pigskin Classic

NEW YORK—Neil Scott, president of Neil Scott and Associates, a public relations and promotion firm, announced that his organization is leasing the Yankee Stadium for a Negro "Emancipation Bowl" football game on January 1, 1947.

Ruling on Chase Covenant Case Due This Week

Racial restrictive covenants were lashed by Attorney John McTernan before superior judge Henry M. Willis as that jurist listened to arguments in an order-to-show-cause hearing in which neighbors are attempting to prevent boxer Jack Chase and his wife, "Bertie" of the "Great Gildersleeve" radio program, from occupying their home at 3527 West Adams.

Judge Willis took the case under submission after listening to McTernan's pleas that such restrictions are unconstitutional, and were, at any rate, invalid in this case. The lawyer presented a number of points which he claimed made the Arlington Heights restrictions void.

Chase appeared in court for part of the hearing and stated that he bought the property without the knowledge that it had any such racial restrictions. His wife, whose professional name is Lillian Randolph, said they have not yet been able to take possession, although they purchased the property some time ago. Judge Willis is expected to rule on the injunction action this week.

Say You Saw It in The EAGLE

Revenge Motive In Second Tift

Bobby Yeager, lightweight stablemate of John Thomas, is setting his gunsights in preparation for his second battle against Frankie Moore, the Oakland puncher, who knocked out the local youth in the fourth heat of a bout at the Bay City recently. The two have been re-matched for a 10-round set-to at Hollywood Legion Stadium Friday night and Yeager craves sweet revenge.

Although Thomas receipted partly in the way or retaliation when he gave Moore a thorough going over still more recently at the Olympic, Bobby likes to take care of his own obligations and has trained hard for this Hollywood main event.

A large crowd is expected to watch the two crack lighties in action Friday. Both hit hard and anything is liable to happen. As a matter of record Bobby also had Moore on the canvas in their last battle before the Oakland battler put over the fatal punch.

Matchmaker Charley McDonald has carded several hot prelims to round out the card.

Wiley Presents New Grid Faces

MARSHALL, Texas—The Wiley Wildcats' starting lineup for the coming season is certain to present several new faces when the 1945 national champions take the field against Philander-Smith in their season's opener on Saturday, September 28, at Little Rock. The starters, who last season amassed 357 points to opponents' 19 are all facing a scuffle to hold their positions.

FISHER

Barring injuries in the next week's scrimmage, only two of last year's starters certain of their edition of the are Vernon "Stickhorse" Hicks, great pass - tossing quarterback, and Bill Moses, sensational one - armed lef guard. Even these two might be replaced, Jimmie Moore and Shino Carlisle, Dallas freshman, are giving Hicks a battle for the important signal-calling spot on the T formation. Gaither Fisher is being groomed for the fullback position.

MOSES

ON THE TURF

By Geo. A. Ramsey

HIPODROMO DE TIJUANA — General manager Agustin Silveyra was the host to Lou Costello, radio and movie star, who crowned the winner in the feature attraction known as the "La Independencia" last Sunday. Spring Drift won, beating the favorite Seal Rock. It was a popular victory for the old gray mare as she has alway been a favorite of the Tijuana fans. Her backers received $11.00 for every two they bet.

In the secondary event known as "The Point Loma," Bar Edythe, a recent claim for $900, beat 2 hot choices, Dinkum and Rosie Bee, to the wire by one length to pay $38.00.

A disqualification marred the ninth race when Regan bore out down the stretch carrying the favorite, King's Agent, nearly to the outside fence. The stewart promptly disqualified Regan and gave the race to King's Agent. The King paid $4.40 for two.

The daily-double backers and winners of the combination of Repercussion in the second race and our Rosebud in the third received a nice payoff of $103.00, while the nitecap known as the Quniela rewarded the lucky holders of tickets on Training Camp, The Hot Favorite, and Flashy Miss, $22.40.

Twelve race will again be run this Sunday with two big feature attractions. The main event will be "The Autumn Handicap" at 7 furlongs with an added value of $3,000 and the supporting feature, "The Playfair", at one mile, with an added value of $1,000. Honoring the opening of the latest race track in Portland, the management has added a $1,200 event named "The Portland." Post time will be moved up to noon Sunday, until then keep smiling and get the Hipodromo Habit. So-long, George.

BOXING BRIEFS

BANGOR, Me.—Clint Perry, 160, won a split decision from Frankie Anderson, 161, in 6 rounds here last Wednesday night.

FRED WERMY, 195, won in 4 rounds over Mason Pearl, 216, in the main amateur event at Pasadena arena last Wednesday night.

ACE HURLER—John Williams, ace twirler for the Kansas City Royals. He will be seen in action this week-end in Long Beach when the Royals face the Long Beach Rockets at Recreation Park. Williams was the Royals' leading moundsman last season.

John Thomas Training Hard at Baron Von Stumne's Fight Camp

It was announced Wednesday by Bert Lewis, manager of John Thomas, that the challenger for the state welterweight championship of California is in the training camp of Baron Von Stumne about 38 miles north of Los Angeles, conditioning himself for his title bid against champion California Jackie Wilson at the Olympic on Saturday night, Sept. 28. The bout is being staged for the benefit of West View Hospital and a sell-out house is assured.

Bolanos Gets Another 'Gift'

Enrique Bolanos, 135, Mexican battler, received a "before Xmas" gift Tuesday night at the Olympic when he was awarded a decision over Joey Barnum, 138, after ten hectic rounds which found Joey chasing the elusive Mexican all over the ring throughout the bout and landing effective blows every time Enrique paused to catch a well-earned breath. That was the pattern of the fight and Bolanos, who for some mysterious reason wins every fight if he's on his feet at the end, received another unearned decision.

In the 6-round semi-windup Acey Hayneworth, 171, and Jimmy Martin, 173, fought a technique draw when Martin suffered a cut eye in the second. Carleton Perry, 200, decisioned Jack Glover, 206, and won the Bulova watch in one of the best 4-round prelims.

JOE LOUIS was 1 to 9 to beat Tami Mauriello Wednesday night in New York City.

Hail Angel Bowl Game With Enthusiasm Throughout U.S.

Intercollegiate football among Negro colleges will be played this season with all eyes on the Angel Bowl association's invitations to the two nationally recognized top teams to play in the Angel Bowl game in Los Angeles, December 28.

This was the opinion expressed by John A. Hardee, President, Angel Bowl Association, and Business Manager of the Egyptain Temple No. 5, Shrine Patrol, the Drill Team voted the second best in the nation at the Annual Imperial Council of Shriners held in Philadelphia, August 17-23.

Football fans as well are enthusiastic about the Angel Bowl game, Hardee declared. In New York City, Philadelphia, Washington, D. C., and Atlantic City the classic is receiving high praise. Kansas City, Oklahoma City, Dallas, Marshall and Shreveport are discussing transportation by train, plane, and automobile. With the Angel Bowl and Rose Bowl games a few days apart football fans are saying the two classics are worth the trip.

Pittsburgh Jackie Loses to Filipino

OAKLAND — Star Misamis, stocky little Filipino war hero, outslugged Pittsburgh Jackie Wilson, former National Boxing Association featherweight champion, to score a handy 10-round decision over the latter before a good crowd last Wednesday night.

PHILADELPHIA — Billy Fox, 172, knocked out Johnny Walker, 162½, in the first round at Convention Hall Tuesday night to score his 41st consecutive kayo in as many pro fights.

HERE AND THERE

"The Bat," currently playing on the stage of the Musart theatre isn't getting the support of Sepians that the management had hoped for, this being the first time the play has been done by an all-Negro cast. We urge that you see this play to help support our Negro actors, if for no other reason. A lot of these persons work like trojans for years to attain dramatic parts and it must be a crowning disappointment to exhibit their talent before a slim crowd. Maidie Norman plays the principal role in "The Bat." . . . "On Whitman Avenue," Canada Lee's baby, closed last Saturday on New York's Broadway after a decided slump in box-office receipts . . . According to Ebony mag 28,000,000 feet have stomped at N.Y.'s Savoy ballroom over a period of 20 years. The Savoy is a million dollar industry and is owned by Charles Buchanan, Negro, and Moe Gale, white. 1500 persons from all races attended the ballroom nightly . . . COUNT BASIE may do a tour of South America next winter . . . JIMMIE LUNCEFORD back in 1929 earned a fee of $50 for playing a one-night stand with his 11-piece orchestra in Memphis, Tenn. Next month he will return to Memphis to play a one-nighter for a guarantee of $2000 plus a percentage of the profits . . . BILLY ECKSTINE will record a new tune titled "Lena" dedicated to Lena Horne on the National label soon . . . BUDDY JOHNSON and band will be featured in a new musical film short entitled, "A Record Is Born," depicting the intricate details that go into making a disc . . . HUEY LONG, of the original Ink Spots, a talented guitarist, made his debut last week with his newly organized swing trio at the Three Acres Cocktail Lounge in N. Y. Sonny Thompson is the pianist and John Levy, the bass player, with the new trio . . . FRANKIE QUE, Bill "Bojangles" Robinson's juvenile dancing protege, has been booked for a 12 week tour of theatres . . . "GATEMOUTH" MOORE, blues singer deluxe, has been held over at the Club 45 in the Big Apple . . . MURIEL RAHN, concert soprano, starts a coast-to-coast tour on Nov. 15. She'll hit Los Angeles during her trek . . . WILLIE BRYANT, radio star and emcee, and band will play the Apollo theatre in N. Y. and the Howard theatre in Washington. He's also been booked for a long engagement at the Savoy Ballroom in Gotham.

GOSSIP MART

MAX WILLIAMS, former California EAGLE print shop employee, strolled into the office the other day to renew acquaintances . . . Cute as a mouse beat to its knees, by a tasty bit of cheese — BERNICE JONES, who is one of the prime reasons the Club DeLisa is becoming a successful venture. . . . Weekending at Lake Elsinore, MR. and MRS. AL EVANS, JR., MRS. JOSEPHINE HODGE of Pasadena, and son, Wayne, MARION SMITH, MABLE JOHNSON, and Yours Truly . . . LIONEL HAMPTON really put on a swell party for the boys in blue of the Newton street police station, and the press, out at the Trianon ballroom last weekend. Also coming in for his share of glory was Temple, the Hamptons' scottie. It was his birthday and a big birthday cake was carved by Mrs. Gladys Hampton, wife of the maestro. Lionel, by the way, has broken all existing box-office records during his current stand at the Firestone blvd. nightery . . . AL EVANS, SR., in town looking over the eligible females . . . Radio announcer JOE ADAMS is much in demand for work emceeing different affairs in addition to his regular radio work . . . MAETHILDE KENNER back in town after a pleasant vacation at Lake Elsinore . . . JEAN YOUNG, solid as a rock. She's Gert Gipson's cuz . . . Another sweet one—LORRAINE MACK.

THIS IS ALL

Howls are being heard concerning the high prices at the Joe Louis New York restaurant . . . Eddie Byrd, drummer, and Josh Jackson, tenor sax, have been replaced in Louis Jordan's band . . . THE NICHOLAS BROTHERS have been signed for the new Zanzibar show in N.Y.C.

Joe Adams Over KXLA For New Eastside Spot

Joe Adams, lone Sepia radio announcer and record jockey on the west coast, was awarded the job of publicizing the new ultra swank Club De Lisa over the ether lanes last week. The air plugging job handed Adams, marks a new step forward by this talented young Sepia announcer.

JOE ADAMS

A half hour record playing program has been purchased over station KXLA by Leon King and Mike Thompson, proprietors of the Club De Lisa from 12:00 a.m. until 12:30. Joe Adams jockeys the best records for the program, getting in interesting announcements in between.

New Film Now At Paramount

One of the most fascinating and unusual pictures ever to reach the screen, "The Strange Love of Martha Ivers," starring Barbara Stanwyck, Van Heflin and Lizabeth Scott, starts Thursday, September 19, at the Paramount Hollywood and Downtown theaters.

VAN HEFLIN

Returning to the screen after a three year absence in the Army Air Forces, Van Heflin is seen as a happy-go-lucky guy who finds himself the object of murder attempts and he gives a thrilling portrayal you'll not soon forget.

'The Bat' in 2nd Week at Musart

Maidie Norman, who plays the featured role of Miss Cornelia Van Gorder in "The Bat" at the Musart theatre began her acting career at the age of 9 and made it her principal vocation through High School and College. While attending Columbia University in New York, Miss Norman studied for one year on Dramatic art and production.

"The Bat" is now in its second week at the Musart with a prominent all Negro cast.

Midgets Set to Lower Records

Gilmore Stadium's daredevil thunderbug drivers have set their speed guns on lowering five postwar records when 35 of them roar Thursday night, September 19.

Tipsy drivers remind us of crooked dice—both loaded and sure to get somebody into trouble.

MAIDIE NORMAN is concerned with the mystery of "The Bat," the chiller now playing on the stage of the Musart Theatre.

Eckstine Plays Lincoln Stage

Billy Eckstine, Young America's new singing idol, currently holds forth on the Lincoln theatre stage with a band he has revamped into an outfit that is being hailed by the music critics as the best Billy has ever had and one of the finest in the business.

During his stay in Los Angeles, Billy is slated to wax eight new sides for the National label in two sessions, and the Eckstine band will be highlighted in several of these new platters. To date Billy's record releases have been strictly vocal, with the exception of one, the "Second Balcony Jump", which was turned out earlier this year.

Trumpets, Hobart Dotson, Miles Davis, Joe Stroud and King Kolax; Trombones, Albert Riding, Nat Atkins, Carl Smith and Gerald Valentine; Saxophones, John Dunjee, Robert Williams Gene Ammons, Frank Wess and Martin Van Buren Kelly; Drums, Art Blakey; Piano, Linton Garner, Guitar, Connie Wainwright; String Bass, Bill McMahon; Vocals, Billy Eckstine and Ann Baker, with Billy doubling on trumpet and valve trombone.

PLEASES AUDIENCE—Mattye Jean Johnson, dramatic soprano, who was with the USO "Porgy and Bess" company last season, thrilled a large audience last Friday in her first New York recital. She was presented by Leigh Whipper noted actor. Clarence Jones served as accompanist.

Count Basie Due At Lincoln Oct. 15

Teeing off his annual west coast invasion, Count Basie, the "Jump King of Swing" goes into the Lincoln theatre in Los Angeles for a week's stand on October 15 and heads into northern California to play the week of Oct. 23 at San Francisco's Golden Gate Theater.

The Basie band is slated to remain on the west coast for at least three months and will play an important location spot in addition to theater and ballroom dates from California to the Pacific Northwest. There is also a strong possibility that the Count will make a feature musical picture during his California stay, and he's already been set for a couple of short subjects at Universal and Columbia.

3 Cited by USO for Distinguished Service

NEW YORK — Three Negro women were cited for Certificates of Distinguished Service for four years of faithful and meritorious volunteer work on the USO committee on services to women and girls. Citations were awarded at the final meeting of the committee held at USO national headquarters. Those awarded were Mrs. Edward S. Lewis, wife of the president of the New York Urban League; Dr. Euphenia L. Haynes, Miner Teachers' college, Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Helena Coates of the New York Housing Authorities.

HAVERFORD, Pa.— (NNPA)— Dr. Ira De A. Reid, chairman of the sociology department of Atlanta university, has been appointed visiting professor of sociology at Haverford college for the coming term beginning September 18, Dr. Gilbert F. White, president of Haverford, announced yesterday. Dr. Reid is the first colored person to be named to the Haverford faculty.

Singer Says Unknown Man Assaulted Her

Judy Cadavan, 27-year-old songstress of 250 Fremont ave., told police early this week that an unknown man raped her after she accepted a ride in his car at 3:30 a. m.

She said the man stated he would "take her home" but instead he parked in a dark alley and forced himself upon her. Then, she complained, he stole her watch and drove off. She described him as about 22, of medium height and weight.

JUST DATA BUT WHAT'S THE MATTA WITH DATA?

The press party at the Club Le Lisa last week was rather nice, the food was good, and Mike Thomas spared no expense with the "giggle water" . . . The cool manner in which Jimmy Young emcees the show is nice and incidently at one time, this columnist panned Jimmy Young for his type of numbers but now that I've heard him toy with "Route 66" I'm sorry but "I Surrender" . . . We like everything about the show but the band. They play too LOUD . . . Finally got to see Bettye Martinez in action and she has something quite original and different . . . That frantic music of Lionel Hampton always makes you wanta jit whether you're a bug or not . . . A famed local musician said "The most eloquent lines are neither written or spoken, they're worn" and if you could see shapely Jerry Clark (sis of Libby Clark) in a bathing suit, he said, you'd understand what I mean . . . Take the name of Jarone Johnson, add Doctor in front, mix well and store in your memory because you're gonna be hearing a lot about this capable and modern young doctor. He's great! . . . Herman Hill celebrated another one of those things called "birthdays" . . . Our idea of a happy married couple (if there is such a thing) would be the Wadelys, Harriet and Rudy.

SCANNIN' THE NEWS TICKER TAPE

That cocktail party thrown by Roy (glamore boy) Loggins was a natural. That's what I call throwin' a party . . . Roy was introducing his pretty finance, Yvonne, to friends . . . Chuck Anderson made a crack the other even'g that almost gave him away . . . better be careful Chuck . . . Understand that Hortense Allen has eyes on the coast . . . she's the chick that can do more with her hips than a monkey can do with a whole cage of cocoanuts . . . We like the way that Kay Thomas sings "The Gypsy" at the Club Alabam . . . Harold Lewis says, "Many a woman who can't add can certainly distract, but all women know enough arithmetic to put two and two together and make a scandal of it" . . . We like Cee Pee Johnson's "Tom Tom Boogie" . . . Billy "Mushmouth" Smith is contemplating re-enlisting in the Navy . . . he's not quite satisfied with things here . . . Gee! and just when we thought that the Angel City would take the credit for having one of the best M.C.'s in show business . . . The John Thomas-Jackie Wilson fight on Sept. 28 at the Olympic will undoubtedly be a sell-out . . . a substantial amount from this fight will go to the West View hospital, which couldn't be for a better cause . . . We still say that the best gumbo in town is at Johnny Cornish's "Double V" breakfast club . . . "Lady Day" in town and sorta on the sick list . . . (to the boob down in the front there "Lady Day," is Billy Holliday, of course).

NOTES FROM A NEWSGIRL'S NOTEBOOK

Lillian Green Cumber seems to be doing a bang-up job with Sepia Holly'wd, looks awful good . . . Norma Miller, now in N. Y., the former producer at a local nightery, is in charge of a group of chorines that will go to Europe in a show . . . understand that Margaret "Peter Rabbit" Price and Autrina "Flick" Montgomery will join Norma and journey with the show . . . SUDDEN THAWT: The Bible tells us to love our neighbors and also love our enemies; probably because they are generall the same people" . . . Oodles and OOdles of thanks to New York columnist Ted Yates for rating us with the leading national Sepia columnists of today . . . it makes us feel awful good, especially when we don't even know the fella . . . The "tonsil tickling" Adalaide Williams on "Prisoner of Love" is ultra! . . . The exciting new rhythm styling of Dizzy Gillespie and his band really upset things in Mass., they're wild about him . . . Understand that Bilbo is somewhat ill, sure hope its nothin "trivial" . . . Pretty June Warden is going to GEORGIA on her vacation, (Murder! is there a doctor in the house?) . . . We understand that Billy Berg decided to purchase Shepp's Playhouse completly and he's thinking of opening a second spot . . . So! when it comes to Arthur (pretty boy) Loggins, it's always a mad rush with the women. (Did I hear someone say that he is very well aware of the fact too) . . . The dance act of "Pans and Skillet" proved to be very entertaining . . . Oh! but I do, Oh! but I do, I just love the way that C. T. Webb flashes that pretty smile, it just knocks us right out . . . Lovely June Hilyard cruising down the stem and blushing to remarks that she's lovelier than a "Wayne King" solo . . . Watch the gendarmes pounce on the avenoo chippies. A chippy, in case you're not hep, is she knew you didn't have in the first place" . . . Joe "Smoke Rings" Harris is still talkin' a whole lotta "trash" to us . . . The manner in which that waitress spoke to the very elderly lady in that resturant on the avenue the other day was really a drag, some people have no respect for age at all, unless its bottled . . . Attractive Bettye Quincey is on a diet (only two days out of a week, we boteha) . . . CLOSING THAWT:—Did you hear about the young deb who married an old millionare? . . . on the theory that "she isn't giving up her youth . . . only pawning it."

Donna Reed, co-starred with Jimmy Stewart in Frank Capra's "It's a Wonderful Life," is superstitious regarding the color blue believing that it brings her good luck.

100 Beauties Will Parade Wed. Night

Over one hundred beauties attired in bathing suits will parade before the watchful eyes of expert judges Wednesday night, Sept. 25, at the Shrine Auditorium in the finals of the Golden Gate Beauty pageant and some lucky girl will be selected as "Miss Bronze America."

BEAUTY CONTESTANT—Helen Shann, talented tap dancer, will display her pulchritude in the Golden Gate Beauty Pageant Wednesday night at the Shrine Auditorium. Over 100 girls from all over the state will participate. Miss Shann is sponsored by the Cresbar.

The winner, according to Ted Merriman, pageant director, will receive a bond trophy and a stage contract. Radio, stage and screen stars will select the winner. Among them will be: Dorothy Dandridge, Lillian Randolph, Louise Beavers, Effie Smith, Billy Eckstine, Eddie Green, Slim Gaillard, Ben Blue, Lionel Hampton and others.

The affair is expected to pack the shrine as sun-kissed beauties from all over that state vie for the honor of being crowned "Miss Bronze America."

'Dixie' Warren Act Televised

C. E. (Dixie) Warren, comedy trick cartoonist, one of America's best in this line, was the only Negro performer included in 5 acts presented by the Television Production Studios in Hollywood last week. The other 4 acts were white. The television programs are aired over W6XYZ from Mt. Wilson.

After the show Director Landsberg declared it the best show presented thus far.

Doings at The LINCOLN

The "vibrato" is making his stage debut at the Lincoln! Billy Eckstine, who opened with his orchestra and entertainers on Tuesday, was dubbed "the vibrato" by those who are up in their musical terms: as defined by Webster the word means "a slightly tremulous or pulsating effect for adding warmth and beauty and expressing emotionel intensity."

That maestro Eckstine has all those qualities in his voice is evidenced by the sighs and squeals emanating from the "chicks" attending the Lincoln this week.

The Lincoln gets 'em first: Making his first Los Angeles appearance in over two years, Count Basie will open at ye Central avenue playhouse on October 15.

It's okey fellows to take the girl friend to the Lincoln now without fear of getting in dutch: Gone are the roughnecks, gangs, and dirty-mouthed "comedians." And Mom, the kiddies are safe while attending the matinees!

'Tis Autumn!!!...

And there's no better place to spend it than upstate New York. Witness the fact that such a place as Clove Valley Dude Ranch exists! . . . As a traveler from coast to coast and across both borders I'm accustomed to the grand floor-shows that Mother Nature can put on, coupled with man's own ideas. Thus up here in the mts. where I've spent many a vacation, yours truly has found a new spot. . . . LOST from the world and yet near enough to it to boldly greet each sunrise and precariously tumble into each sunset while the velvet night puts on a show so crammed with stars with the full moon as a spotlight that no press-agent could ever compete with it. With such persons as DaCosta, the owner to put everything at your command, Walter Douglas of Manhattan's own "heatwave" with his infectious humor and Miss Iris Parker, the very personable and lovely hostess on hand, one almost forgets such places as Cafe Society, the "400" Club, Bob's Lounge and such city havens for fun. Yep! I'm in love with the Catskills! 'Tis the only Sepia Ranch in the East!

Studious record-collectors can now get re-issues of JIMMY LUNCEFORD'S famed "Margie" and "4-5-Times" . . . And DIZZY GILLESPIE is no longer the "teacher's pet" since Leeds Music Company for which he wrote a tune is yelling FRAUD all over the place.

C Major Lament!!!...

A certain record critic for a big newspaper for musicians is SO commercial in his choices, methinks the man must have split his eardrums while doing his army stint ! ! ! DUKE ELLINGTON having a duce of a time finding a new valet since the death of RICHARD JONES his former one, affectionately called "Jonesy" ! ! . . . Thus on the pasing of TOMMY DORSEY's former pianist, MILTON GODEN . . . EDDIE WHITFIELD gets with a gala fall dance—Oct. 9. . . . MORE LATER about this! ! !

Early Fall schedule at Harlem's Apollo has COTTIE WILLIAMS, ELLA FITZGELALD and the Vagabonds, currently on tap and GOOD TOO! . . . Then there's WILLIE BRYANT, COZY COLE and SAVANNAH

Philharmonic Program Oct. 8 Will Include Nash Singers

On Tuesday evening, October 8, Philharmonic auditorium in Los Angeles will be the scene of an unique adventure in people's music. Irwin Parnes, rising young impressario, will produce the Coast's first major Folk Song Festival, entitled "I Hear America Singing," featuring a company of 200 performers, supported by a participating audience of 2000.

CHURCHILL booked for Sept. 20 with SON & SONNY . . . CAB CALLOWAY follows on Sept. 27. Watch for SUGAR CHILE ROBINSON there soon afterwards or see JOE GLASER and ask WHY???? . . . COUNT BASIE plays Denver Oct. 4, then to Los Angeles, Oct. 15! !

Few sepia reporters seemed to know that DAVID ROSE featured a musical work based on JAMES WELDON JOHNSON'S "God's Trombones" while NORMEN CORWIN did the libretto and BING CROSBY with a chorus hit the chorale stuff ! ! ! . . . Twas held at the HOLLYWOOD BOWL and a success too . . . it may be a great as the PAUL ROBINSON "America" from what I know about it ! ! !

Prized possessions of Todd Karns, Liberty Films' player featured in "It's a Wonderful Life," are the snap brim hat and polka dot bow tie of his father, famed screen comedian Roscoe Karns.

The choral artistry of four groups, the Luvenia Nash Choir, singing "Ballad for Americans," the Fred Warren Chorus, singing the concert premiere of the Earl Robinson, Carl Sandberg, Norman Corwin folk cantata, "Tower of Babel;" the Ralph Peterson Chorus in the Walt Whitman-Kleinsinger Cantata, "I hear America Singing," with John Shafer, brilliant baritone of the San Francisco Opera, as soloist, and the Kings Men will contribute to an evening of never-to-be-forgotten American music.

Famous folk balladists, Lee Wintner, Sir Lancelot, Earl Robinson, Tex Ritter, Bill Oliver, Bill Wolff, Sonny Vale, Morie Goodson and others, will sing people's songs ranging from "Old Miss Bailey," written during the Revolutionary period, to "Talking Atom Blues," composed within the last few months.

THEATRE SHORTS

Produced and directed by Frank Capra, "It's a Wonderful Life," co-stars Donna Reed with Stewart, and will be released through RKO Radio.

Florida A & M Gets 2nd Million Dollars For Building Fund

TALLAHASSEE—Florida A and M college was given a special grant of over one million dollars here last week for the immediate expansion of the physical plant according to announcements by Dr. William H. Gray, Jr., president of the college.

This action by the State Cabinet, makes over $2,500,000.00 which has been made available to Florida A and M college within less than 10 months for building purposes.

In an unprecendented action a $125,000.00 student union building was provided for in the current appropiation. This marks one of the first times that such a huge sum has been available for a building of this type on a Negro college campus in the south.

Unions Asked To Report on Goods Hoarding

WASHINGTON — CIO international unions this week had been requested to report on the location, quantity and type of goods being hoarded by wholesalers and manufacturers. The request was made by the CIO Cost of Living Committee, in the hope that publicity might force the release of the goods.

The action is based on government statistics that "show a tremendous increase of goods in inventory." Committee Chairman John Thornton said in his appeal that "the hoarding of consumer goods by greedy profiteers is a major factor forcing price increases. If all the goods being made in America's factories were released to the consumer market there would be fewer shortages, less pressure for price increases and less hazard of a coming depression."

stevedore, in a bloody knife fight.

The girl, who admits living with the victim two years ago and later with the alleged killer, slowly told the judge that, "Bill started it. He had a knife. He started it, and Isaac had to kill him."

K. W. Riedel of 103 W. Fourth st., who captured Jackson and held him for police, state both men had knives, and that both drew blood in the five minute battle before Blanton slumped to the sidewalk, dying.

Jackson will be arraigned in superior court later in the month. He is defended by Attorney Gladys Root, colorful criminal attorney, whose excentric style of dress has for many years been a subject of comment in legal circles.

• Police Report

ents in Venice the night of September 7.

Three of these, 17 year old boys, have been placed under $2500 bail each and their trial set for Oct. 7, while the fourth, Richard Sheppard, an adult was called up before the municipal court in West Los Angeles yesterday afternoon (Wednesday) to answer charges lodged against him. No judgment was made up to the time the EAGLE went to press.

Mrs. Oscar Wallace of 678 San Juan st., Venice, has sworn out a complaint to the police that she, her husband, two sons, with two other colored persons were attacked by a mob of about 20 white persons on the evening of Sept. 7.

According to reports, Clifton Alexander, Mrs. Wallace's 13 year old son, was thrown into an auto, beaten up and carried around the streets in the car while white hoodlums called out to pedestrians that they planned to lynch the child.

Reo Alexander, 15, was kicked and beaten by the mob, Eddie Muldrow, 15, of 525 Westminister ave., Venice, was chased into his house by a man who kicked down the door, strode in and retreated only when the boy and his mother confronted him.

Lt. Hentershee told a committee of prominent citizens who called on him that a full report of the kidnaping and beating of the Negro lads was in the hands of the district attorney.

Included in the delegation of 40 citizens who went to the Venice police station to protest the occurence was Rep. Ellis E. Patterson who pointed out that "such acts of violence, in my opinion, can be traced back to Gerald L. K. Smith's presence in this city and his efforts to stir up race hatred."

Dr. Isadore Reese, American Jewish Congress, Attorney Ben Margolis, also of the congress, Isaac Pacht, chairman of the Venice area legislative council and John Bardley, prominent Negro resident of the community, were among other leading delegates of the committee who discussed ways and means Venice residents could co-operate with the police and other agencies to prevent recurrence of such incidents.

THE HYACINTHS

At their last meeting, held at the home of Mrs. Frances Battish, the Hyacinths concluded plans for their Carnival Dance, which came off very successfully on the 7th of September.

Mr. Thomas Hicks was the lucky winner of the first prize, with Mrs. Bea Nobles winning the nylons, Mrs. Mable Brown winning the cake, and Miss Charlotte Strange winning the slab of bacon.

'LET'S GET DOWN TO HOME CASES', DECLARES WALLACE

foreign program which in effect marked out spheres of influence for both Russia and the U. S., with this country recognizing it has no more interest in the political affairs of Eastern Europe than Russia has in the political affairs of Latin America, Western Europe and the U. S.

Domestic Picture

"The cost of peace," Wallace declared, "is to be measured not in dollars but in the hearts and minds of men." Continuing, he said:

"The price of peace—for us and for every nation in the world—is the price of giving up prejudice, hatred, fear and ignorance.

"Let's get down to cases here at home.

"First we have prejudice, hatred, fear and ignorance of certain races. The recent mass lynching in Georgia was not merely the most unwarranted, brutal act of mob violence in the United States in recent years; it was also an illustration of the kind of prejudice that makes war inevitable.

"Hatred breeds hatred. The doctrine of racial superiority produces a desire to get even on the part of its victims. If we are to work for peace in the rest of the world, we here in the United States must eliminate racism from our unions, our business organizations, our educational institutions, and our employment practices. Merit alone must be the measure of men.

"Second, in payment for peace, we must give up prejudice, hatred, fear and ignorance in the economic world. This means working earnestly, day after day, for a large volume of world trade. It means helping undeveloped areas of the world to industrialize themselves with the help of American technical assistance and loans."

Truman Backs Out

In Washington, at his press conference a few hours before the delivery of Wallace's speech, President Truman said he had read and approved the speech in its entirety. Truman has since retracted, however, under the pressure of reactionary forces, stating that he merely approved Wallace's right to speak as he wished. Political observers believe that Wallace, Senator Pepper and other advocates of a return to FDR's foreign and domestic policies will now press for a showdown with Truman on the foreign policies of Secretary of State Byrnes.

Besides denouncing the current wave of lynchings, Wallace attacked Governor Dewey of New York for giving the green light to terrorism by refusing to reopen the case involving the police killing of two Negro veterans in Freeport, Long Island, and attacked Great Britain for helping to crush the people's struggles toward democracy, freedom and independence in China, Greece, Palestine and other places.

Paul Robeson, noted singer and actor, was given an ovation by the huge crowd when he denounced lynching, as was Senator Claude Pepper.

The meeting adopted resolutions calling on President Truman to call a special session of congress to pass legislation on lynching, price control, housing and relief of refugee Jews in Europe and endorsing Senator James M. Mead and former Governor Herbert H. Lehman, respectively candidates for governor and U. S. senator on the Democratic and American Labor party tickets.

POWER OF PRAYER

Not what we desire or pray for do we get, but what we justly earn. Our wishes and prayers are only gratified and answered when they harmonize with our everyday thoughts and actions.

We are not rightly conditioned until we are happy, healthy and enjoy freedom from want; and happiness, health and prosperity are the result of a harmonious adjustment of our inner self with our maker.

Why not discover the hidden powers and possibilities within yourself by sending for your personalized Prof. Herman's new 1946 Horoscope today?

B.H.—Dear Prof. Herman: I read your column each week and find it very interesting. I am writing for some advice concerning a problem of my own. Do you think I will make this business pay?

Answer: Concentrating upon your question, I find that for the last few months your business has been operating in the "red" and you are debating whether to keep it or sell out. Because you are in the appliance business you have found it hard to get this type of goods because they just aren't putting them on the market yet. I advise you to hold on to your business, for eventually things will start coming in that you can sell and you will be glad that you didn't give up.

B.J.—What is wrong with my marriage?

Answer: A careful analysis of your question indicates that you have no confidence in your wife, you doubt her honesty and integrity. This will never make for a happy marriage. Faith, confidence and love are three of the main factors in marriage and they must be observed in order to make a success of it.

C.H.—Will the man I love return?

Answer: Probing into the matter I find that this man intends to remain there for some time. He has found the type of employment he wishes and will in all probability write for you to come there soon.

E.L.M. — Dear Prof. Herman: After reading your splendid advice given to those in distress and unhappy, I wonder if you can't help me find a little peace of mind. I am engaged to a man that is not divorced and wonder if you will answer these questions. Will he get his divorce soon? Will we get married? When will I see him again?

Answer: Due to the limited amount of space I can only answer one question in the column. I suggest you write in for a private reply at your earliest convenience.

J.L.W.—What are his intentions?

Answer: You are wondering if your friend has honorable intentions toward you and what will be the outcome of your friendship. You need not worry, for he is deeply in love with you and given a little more time, will prove this to you.

O.S.—I have a son that drinks heavily, what can I do to help him overcome this habit?

Answer: The nature of your question requires a private reply. I suggest you write in and I shall be more than glad to help you.

W.M.J. — Is he going to leave me?

Answer: My Psycho-Mentalist Crystal reveals the confusion that now exists in your home and you are wondering if your husband intends to leave you. No, I think he is simply disgusted with the way things are going and doesn't seem to know just what to do about the situation. A great deal depends upon how you handle this affair as to whether your marriage will remain intact. I would be glad to advise you further if you will write in for a private reply.

Tan GIs Find Real Equality in Berlin

CHICAGO — "Colored GIs find more equality and genuine friendship in Berlin than in Birmingham or on Broadway," declares a feature article in the October issue of Ebony. The article cites the friendship and equality accorded Negro soldiers by Germans in the heart of race-baiting Nazi Berlin.

Berliners work under the direct supervision of Negro troops, the article states. Frauleins fraternize with the Tan Yanks with the result that many strong romantic attachments have been developed.

"Berliners never personally knew or hated Negroes," the article states. "In meeting Tan GIs for the first time, Germans are finding them likeable, good-natured and quite human, for all Hitler's ravings."

Landlords to Ask Tenants to Sign Rent Raise Plea

A new version of the spider's invitation to the fly will be tried out by Los Angeles landlords this week when they inaugurate a house to house campaign to induce their tenants to sign a petition in support of landlords' request for a 15 percent raise in rentals.

Claiming that their tenants are sympathetic to a "modest" rise, more than 1500 income property owners met at the Embassy auditorium recently to initiate the campaign.

Late News Flashes

CAIRO, Egypt—Exiled Tunisian Nationalists said today Tunisia was virtually under military siege by forces of the French protectorate after the arrest of Nationalist leaders during the clandestine congress of the independence movement in Tunis on Aug. 23.

LONDON—British Communists this week urged pressure on the Labor government to make it grant colonial peoples their independence, withdraw troops from India, Malaya, Indonesia, Palestine, Egypt and Greece, break off relations with Franco Spain and Royalist Greece, adopt a policy of friendship, peace and economic cooperation with the Soviet Union and all new democratic states in Europe.

SAN ARISA VILLAGE

BE YE SPORTSMAN – RANCHER – FARMER–OR ONLY LOVER OF WIDE OPEN SPACES

THIS IS FOR YOU!!

RECREATION

5 acres have been set aside for a recreation center, including a club house, tennis courts and swimming pool. Large barn for horses. Excellent terrain for horse enthusiasts. EQUESTRIANS THIS IS IT. Beautiful paths, acres of level ground plus an abundance of gentle sloping mountains, a breath-taking ride through the Angelus Forrest to the dam and fishing resort. FOR YOU FISHING ENTHUSIASTS a short 15 minute drive to this wonderful resort for boating and trout fishing. Also excellent deer hunting amidst all the glorious beauties of nature.

HEALTH SPOT

San Arisa Village situated high and dry offers a haven to persons suffering from Tuberculosis, asthma, sinus and rheumatism. To live in this glorious village keeping your lungs filled with this fresh uncontaminated dry air will add years of joyous living to your lifespan. Trade your aches and pains today for years of healthy activity. Come out! Rest awhile and soon when you're in the 'pink,' join in the fun.

VEGETATION

This entire village is comprised of level, fertile land adapted to the raising of peaches, figs, pears and all fruits and vegetables grown in Southern California. HORSE ENTHUSIASTS TAKE SPECIAL NOTE: Large sections of San Arisa Village are now planted in alfalfa that yield cuttings every 60 days.

WATER

We have our own water plant, the Shadow Mountain Mutual Water Company. Water piped to every acre. You will own this company as every property owner will hold water stock.

Inasmuch as each tract is sold in 5 acre lots, including five shares of water stock, each owner may sell one, two, three or four acres to personal friends or acquaintances whom you desire as neighbors and transfer to them a share of stock with each acre so sold.

5 acre tracts priced from $2200 to $3250. Many acres facing lovely paved boulevard. Terms: 20% DOWN and Balance payable $25.00 or more per month including interest 6%. EVERY SALE ESCROWED THROUGH BONDED ESCROW COMPANY. Buy your 5 acres and choose your own neighbor, should you wish to resell any portion of your tract. Remember each acre carries a share of water stock.

ACREAGE

$400 is all I want. Big, beautiful, level 5-acre tract on 60 ft. paved Blvd. Main street running through Fontana. All other acreage on the Blvd. selling from $700 to $1000 per acre. My price for these beautiful acres with water stock free, only $400 per acre.

At Fontana on Baseline, a paved Blvd. WITH WATER, LIGHT, GAS AND TELEPHONE. (The same as you would have on Central Ave.) Two big, beautiful acres on a beautiful corner. The total price for these two acres, only $1500.

LAS VEGAS, NEVADA

I have one big 2½ acre tract. Only one. I will sell this 2½ acres at Las Vegas for a total price of $300. Terms $40 cash, bal. $7 per mo. This is an investment. Why not buy this acreage for your boy. It may mean a fortune for him in the next ten years. It is located just two miles out of the city limits of Las Vegas, the wonder city of America.

I am not selling these properties as a Real Estate Broker but as an owner, so I can sell them as cheap as I please.

It is my strongest determination and most earnest desire to respect my profession, my reputation, and myself.

To be honest and fair with my clients as I expect my clients to be honest and fair with me.

To think of BROKERAGE with loyalty and speak of it with praise and art, always a custodian of its good name.

To base my expectation of reward on a solid foundation of service rendered.

To be willing to pay the price of honest effort.

To look upon my work as an opportunity to be seized with joy and made the most of, and not a painful drudgery to be reluctantly endured.

To remember that success lies within myself, IN MY OWN BRAIN, my own ambition, my own courage and determination.

To expect difficulties and force my way through them.

To convert hard experience into rapture for future struggles.

To believe in propositions HEART AND SOUL.

To carry an air of optimism into the presence of possible clients.

To DISPEL ILL TEMPER WITH CHEERFULNESS, kill doubt with strong convictions, and reduce active friction with an agreeable personality.

To make a study of the professional and business sides of BROKERAGE.

To know both sides in every detail from the ground up.

To mix brains with my efforts and use system and method in my work.

To find time to do everything needful by never letting time find me doing nothing.

To make every hour bring me dividends in increased knowledge and healthful recreation.

Finally, to take a good grip on the joy of life.

To play the game like a gentleman.

To fight against nothing so hard as my own weakness and to endeavor to grow as a BROKER and as a MAN with the passage of every day of time.

200 Delegates Launch NNC Branch Here

Post-Conference Rally Hears Call for All-Out Fight by 'Little People'

More than 200 delegates from labor, political, church, youth and civic organizations gathered at the Elks Temple Sunday afternoon in response to a call from the Los Angeles Provisional Committee of the National Negro Congress to elect permanent officers, participate in panel discussions, and pledge support to NNC's membership and fund drive.

Elected to head the new Los Angeles branch of NNC were Mrs. Charlotte A. Bass, president; [illegible] Sonny Morrison and [illegible] vice-presidents; John Samules, executive secretary, Ed Pearl, treasurer, and Dina Williams, recording secretary.

Members elected to the executive board were chosen from the ranks of labor, church, civic, political and youth organizations.

Robeson in Clash With President [illegible] Now to Halt Mob Attacks

By LOUIS LAUTIER

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NNPA)—President Truman and a committee representing the American Crusade to End Lynching last Monday differed "sharply" over the injection of domestic lynchings into international affairs, Paul Robeson who headed the delegation, told reporters.

The issue was raised by Mrs. Harper Sibley, of Atlanta, president of the National Council of Church Women, when she told the President that there was not much difference between mob violence in this country and the Nuernberg war crimes trials.

"The President took sharp exception to that," Robeson said, "and suggested that we should stand behind our country on those issues." He added that Truman said this country would handle the domestic situation without outside interference and without regard to what happens abroad.

Robeson said he remarked that Secretary of State James F. Byrnes had very little moral strength in suggesting to other people that this country stands for democracy.

SLAVE EMPIRE

Acording to Robeson, Truman suggested that the United States and Great Britain were the last refuges of freedom in the world. Robeson said he differed with the President, stating that the British Empire was one of the

Canada Lee Picked as Best Actor For White Role in 'Duchess of Malfi'

BOSTON—"Black face" gave way to "white face" here this week when Canada Lee became the first Negro actor to portray a white character on the professional stage. Lee, who has the longest part in "The Duchess of Malfi," 17th century melodrama starring Elisabeth Bergner, appeared in "white face."

It was believed to be the first time in theatrical history a producer had selected the man he considered the best actor for a role, regardless of color.

The play opened Monday night with an understudy appearing for Lee, who had asked more time to learn his part. Lee took over at yesterday's (Wednesday) matinee.

In asking for more time to master his part, Lee said it was too big a thing for him and his people to jeopardize by a poor performance. He was hired for the part only last week.

"I don't want to mess this up by a poor performance," Lee said. "It can open up vast new fields to the Negro actor, whose parts previously have been limited by color. Most of the time Negroes

Court Outlaws Jimcrow On So. Road; Decision Seen Affecting S. P. Case

Segregation of Negroes on railroad cars was declared illegal this week in an opinion handed down by Justice E. Barrett Prettyman of the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.

Justice Prettyman's decision reversed a District Court ruling in a $25,000 damage suit against the Southern Railway System by Rev. William H. Jernagin, Ralph Matthews and William J. Scott who contended they were forced to leave a Southern train in Lynchburg, Va., by railroad officials and police. The railroad claimed the plaintiffs were riding in a car reserved for white passengers as provided by the laws of Virginia.

Justice Prettyman's decision is expected to have repercussions throughout the nation.

Meantime in Los Angeles, up to the time the EAGLE went to press, the statement promised by the Southern Pacific railroad on its policy of segregation has not been received.

Southern Pacific officials, it was discovered this month, had initiated a policy of segregating Negro passengers leaving Los Angeles for the south in special jimcrow cars.

Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, editor-publisher of The EAGLE, and newly elected president of the local chapter of the National Negro Congress, stated that she will continue to bring pressure on Southern Pacific until a public declaration is made in which the company repudiates its policy of discrimination.

While segregation is being broken down on the railroad, the question of whether bus companies may segregate interstate passengers through company regulations (in disregard of the supreme court decision banning such segregation in pursuance of a state law as an undue burden on commerce) was again projected this week.

A test case was seen in the fining of Mrs. Lottie F. Taylor, 31 year old housewife, of New York City for refusing to obey the order of a bus driver to move to the rear of a Virginia State Lines bus. She was found guilty of disorderly conduct by Trial Justice Harry Carrico in Fairfax (Va.) Trial Court.

James R. Raby, of Alexandria, Va., her attorney, immediately announced he would appeal the decision on the Circuit Court of Fairfax County, Va.

Fight Rages at Bar Conclave Over Race Bias

COLORADO, Calif.—A move to prevent the seating of the Los Angeles Bar Association delegation because of the group's race discrimination policy was blocked yesterday at the State Bar convention when the chairman ruled out of order an amendment to that effect.

Complaint against the Los Angeles association, filed by the San Francisco chapter of the Lawyers' Guild, touched off a fight almost as soon as the convention opened.

The Los Angeles group voted last February, 728 to 604, to ex-

The Home Protective Association, one of the first anti-restrictive covenant groups to be formed in this city, will meet 8 o'clock Friday evening in the assembly room of the California EAGLE, 4071 So. Central ave.

At this meeting, plans will be charted for a series of affairs to be given to raise funds specifically for conducting the anti-restrictive covenant case of the Henry Laws family of 1235 E. 52nd st.

It is believed that the Supreme Court of the State of California will hand down a decision in the celebrated Laws case sometime next month.

Carlton Moss To Broadcast Minority News

A new kind of news program devoted to minority groups in American life will be presented over KFWB beginning Sunday, Sept. 29. The quarter-hour program Carlton Moss Reports will bring listeners news not usually heard elsewhere—adequate and objective coverage on all minority activities.

Newscaster Carlton Moss has had long experience in the field, served as a special advisor to the secretary of war, and wrote the war department film, "The Negro Soldier."

"Carlton Moss Reports," sponsored by Louis Tabak, manufacturers of women's sportswear, will be heard at 1:30 p.m., starting Sunday, Sept. 29, on KFWB.

Tries Intimidate Negro Attorneys In Tenn. Trial

LAWRENCEBURG, Tenn.—State prosecutors are trying to intimidate Negro members of NAACP defense counsel for 25 colored men from Columbia, Tenn., who are being tried here on charges growing out of the raid by police on the Negro community there last February.

Holds Venice Mobster For Superior Court

Nineteen year old Richard Shepard, white, must stand trial in the superior court on charges of kidnaping 13-year-old Clifton Alexander, of Venice, on Sept. 7, was the ruling handed down Wednesday afternoon by Judge Joseph L. Call in Division 33, Municipal Court, Santa Monica.

Shepard, who resides at 527 Realto ave., Venice, was released on $1000 bond, and ordered to appear for trial on October 4. Judge Call rendered his decision after hearing testimony in the case to determine whether or not there was sufficient grounds to bind Shepard over to the superior court.

Some of the other members of the mob of hoodlums who attacked Clifton, his 15 year old brother, Ben, and other Negro children, are to appear before juvenile authorities for their part in the unprovoked hostings and kidnaping.

HENRY WALLACE'S resignation from the office of Secretary of Commerce did not come as a surprise to the people. However, the people have watched the scuttling of the Roosevelt policy with deep concern. They knew that while Wallace remained a member of the President's cabinet, they had a friend in the inner political circles.

Certainly Secretary of State Byrnes is happy over Wallace's resignation. But there can be no doubt that the great majority of the American people are immeasurably concerned.

One comment was: "Now Mr. Wallace can talk all he wants to on any subject without embarrassing the administration or Secretary Byrnes."

TO ASK for Mr. Wallace's resignation, of course was the only face-saving solution to the mess President Truman created when he approved the Wallace speech, but crawfished when Secretary of State Byrnes protested that the speech sabotaged his foreign policy which, on the President's instructions, he was endeavoring to carry out in Paris.

While no doubt the dismissal of Wallace has restored the prestige of the Paris delegation, Mr. Wallace's stand on foreign policy was in opposition to Byrnes "get tough" with Russia policy.

Now, so far as President Truman is concerned, the affair has put him in the light of a weakling.

If he knew the contents of the Wallace speech before it was made, and his friends as well as his foes seem to think that he did, it is impossible to understand why he let the then Secretary of Commerce make it.

IT HAS been said "the truth shall make you free." So fraught with truth are the Wallace statements that the people started to ask questions. And they are still asking: "Why is there so much concern over the affairs of Europe and Asia, and so little over what is happening here at home?"

The soothsayers consider the whole matter most unfortunate. Many seem to think it is better after all to have Wallace out of the affairs of the nation.

Senator Claude Pepper, Harold Ickes, Rollin McNitt, chairman of the Los Angeles County Democratic Central Committee, and others see in Wallace's dismissal from the cabinet a tragedy in every sense of the word.

"I believe that for the United States and Russia to live together in peace is the most important single problem facing the world today."

These words penned by Henry Wallace to President Truman perhaps served as the match that lighted the flame that has caused a world-wide conflagration among the imperialist nations.

HENRY WALLACE is the people's advocate for peace. It is as natural as night following the day for Byrnes, Hoover, Vandenberg, and other war-mongers to condemn Henry Wallace for this. Their greed for gold blinds them against the crying needs of the poor and lowly.

The homeless GI's who roam the streets daily looking for a place to live are unobserved by them. The miserable [illegible] living in alleys and garages are but passing

Policy Racket Payments to Police Aired at Trial of Jones Brothers Executive

CHICAGO — (NNPA) — The policy racket of the Jones brothers — Edward and George — and mysterious payments to police were brought into the larceny trial this week of Miss Alice Mullin, 28, of 4426 South Parkway.

Miss Mullin was on trial before a jury in the criminal court of Judge Elmer J. Schnackenberg. She was accused of taking $1600 from the account of Charles Craig at the currency exchange operated by the Jones brothers' mother at 1334 E. 47th street, where she was employed as manager.

Miss Mullin testified in her own defense and denied taking the money. She asserted that Craig was a policy collector for the Jones brothers and that he had deposited $200,000 in the exchange from July to November of 1945.

Craig had testified that he was a dairy operator and had placed $2100 in his account. He denied he was connected in any way with the Jones brothers policy racket.

Miss Mullin testified that after Craig placed the $200,000 in the exchange she was instructed by Edward Jones not to let anyone count the money in the vault as the brothers did not want anyone to know how much was there.

She testified that Edward was president of the "organization." Just what she meant by "organization" was not explained.

Miss Mullin testified that on one occasion she saw Edward Jones take some money from the safe and that he told her "This is for the officer," indicating a policeman who was sitting on a stool.

On another occasion, she said, she saw George Jones give $200 to a policeman in a squad car parked outside the exchange. She did not identify the policeman, but, on cross examination by Assistant State's Attorney C. Vernon Thompson, said these payments "happened several times."

As we are now living in an eternity, the time to be happy is today.—Grenville Kleiser.

Call Tells Need For Tax Court

Californians will pay nearly a billion dollars in taxes this year under basic tax laws that have not been changed for 42 years.

Assemblyman Harrison W. Call made that observation yesterday in an endorsement of Proposition 5 on the November ballot.

Proposition 5 would establish a new state court of tax appeals.

"Despite the phenomenal increase in state-collected taxes from large and small taxpayers," Call said, "we still operate under antiquated court procedures covering appeals from tax levies.

"Furthermore, state tax administrators now enjoy almost arbitrary power in making tax levies and establishing taxation procedures. The new court would have the power to review the rulings of these state employes engaged in taxing the public and this very fact would act as a salutary curb."

Call pointed out also that the new tax court would cut the time involved in litigation over tax matters which, under present court procedures, require as long as two to three years for adjudication of disputes.

Three justices, all experts in tax matters, would be nominated by the governor, subject to approval by the voters at a general election.

Food Bill Up 33% in Year

WASHINGTON — Proof that the average American family is spending a third more for food than it did last winter is offered by a scientific poll conducted by The Washington Post.

The survey shows the average family is paying $5.15 more for groceries and meat than it did in December, 1945, or about 33 per cent over the previous figure.

Shellfish Warning

Housewives as well as merchants should look for a state certification number when purchasing shellfish in order that they may ascertain that the shellfish are from approved sources, not from beds contaminated with sewage waters.

This warning was issued by Jonathan A. Kirkpatrick, chief of the food and drugs division of the Los Angeles county health department, following the receipt of new regulations from Thomas Parran, surgeon general of the United States Public Health Service.

Rail Union President Urges Convention Abolish Jimcrow

CHICAGO—The 19th convention of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen of America this week had a recommendation from the brotherhood's general president, Felix H. Knight, for the removal of constitutional bars against the admittance of Negro workers in the union.

Knight prosposed "the striking out ofthe word 'white' in the first line of Section six Subordinate Lodge Constitution" which deals with restricting membership to white persons only.

Resolutions also have been submitted by the general executive board and scores of local lodges, calling for striking out a constitutional clause which provides for organization of Negro workers into separate jimcrow lodges and without representation of their own.

Among the resolutions introduced on this matter are two which proposed instead that the jimcrow lodges shall have the right to elect delegates and be represented at all union conventions. If these two resolutions are adopted it would mean direct representation but a continuation of the jimcrow set-up in the union.

These proposals all deal with the discriminatory practices which have been in force in this craft since 1888.

Altogether over 61 resolutions have been introduced by local lodges aimed at amending the constitution to rid the union of the bars of discrimination.

The convention also has before it 124 additional resolutions, including many dealing with such issues as:

Independent political action, unity in industry, world labor ties.

A resolution urges the brotherhood "to declare for joining with all other labor and people's progressive organizations in a movement for independent political action of labor and the common people to defeat our enemies in congress in the 1046 elections."

Council Gives Nod To Wage Increases For City Workers

Despite "economy bloc" opposition, wage increases for approximately 500 city-employed workers were tentatively approved by the city council yesterday.

The councilmen voted, 9-4, to instruct the city attorney to draft the necessary ordinance granting average increases of $20 monthly to the workers.

Most of the workers involved are engineers, architects and other technical specialists employed in the department of public works, city planning department and building and safety departments.

Councilman G. Vernon Bennett led the fight for the increases. The Southern California Engineers and Architects Association asked the pay raise to bring the city wages in line with those in private industry.

Frank E. Cummings, head of the bureau of budget and efficiency, protested the increases and "deplored hasty action."

On the roll call, Cronk, Davies, Henry and Holland voted against the raises. Allen, Bennett, Christenson, Davenport, Hardy, Roden, Timberlake, Warburton and Moore voted for the increase. Absent were Austin and Rasmussen.

It is expected that Mayor Bowron, who has consistently vetoed every wage increase ordinance—except for top brackets—will oppose the present raise.

events to these enemies of the peace who rejoice over the President's lack of fortitude and willingness to face facts.

Henry Wallace knows well the course he is pursuing. He is the people's voice. We say let him speak for you and me and all the laboring people in this nation.

This newspaper has been concerned for a long time over the prospect of a man of character, strength, and ability who could lead the American people out of the wilderness of imperialism, which spells hate, disease, and poverty—into the promised land.

Now in our opinion, there is but one man in the nation who, like Franklin Delano Roosevelt, is willing and ready to sacrifice any selfish desires for fame or fortune to save the people of this atomic age from destruction and perhaps obliteration by a third world war.

It becomes the duty of Democrats, Republicans, Communists, and all political factions and phases to rally behind Henry Wallace for the next head of our war-torn nation.

Gov. Hastie Seen Slated For Supreme Court By Many in Virgin Islands

ST. THOMAS, Virgin Islands—It may be just a move to counteract the effect on American Negro voters of the final break of the Truman administration with the principles of F.D.R. as represented in Truman's ousting of Henry Wallace, but political dopesters here and in Puerto Rico are predicting that within the next two years a Negro will be named to the United States supreme court, and that he will be William H. Hastie, the new governor of these islands.

GOV. WILLIAM H. HASTIE

Those who are making this prediction insist they have pipe lines all the way to Washington, D. C.

They reason that the Truman administration, keenly aware of the growing importance of the Negro vote and of Negro dissatisfaction with the administration, will have to make a dramatic gesture in the direction of Negro recognition. Shortly before the next general election, they believe, a sweeping political gesture will be made to that vote, and that gesture, they feel, will take the form of the supreme court appointment, something Negro and white progressive leaders long have advocated.

Some even claim that it's already in the bag, with Hastie here only as a build-up for the appointment.

They argue further that any attack by the racists on Hastie's mental or legal qualifications is bound to fall flat, point out that his professional rise has been little short of phenomenal for a man of any race.

A Harvard law school graduate of the closs of '30, and with graduate work there in 1932, Hastie has—at the age of 42—these achievements behind him: Assistant solocitor of the department of interior, a term as U. S. district judge in these same islands from 1937 to 1939; two years in the war department as civilian legal aide to the secretary of war; dean of the law school at Howard university. A hearing defect kept him from active military service.

Hastie admits he has heard of the rumors, but declares he isn't packing his bags on the strength of them. During the short time since he has been here as governor he has won the affection of the Negro people here and the respect of the whites.

If the Truman administration is really considering appointing a Negro to the supreme court, it could make no better choice than Governor Hastie whether from the standpoint of his abilities or of the respect and love accorded him by American Negroes because of his unflagging devotion and militancy in the cause of Negro liberation.

Indict Three For Attack On Prisoner

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill.—(NNPA)—Three former Madison county sheriff's deputies were indicted by a grand jury yesterday on charges of assaulting a Negro prisoner they were bringing from Alton, Illinois, to the county jail here Aug. 22.

The men pleaded not guilty at arraignment before Circuit Judge Edward F. Bareis and trial was scheduled for November. They are Delmar Monken of Wood River, Marion Booth of Godfrey, and Vernie Crider of Granite City, Ill.

They resigned a few days after their suspensions.

Mail Carrier Wins Clemency; Placed On Probation by Court

Harrison Durrah, veteran and mail carrier, was granted straight probation on a charge of removing money from the U. S. mails after a fervent plea on his behalf by Attorney Curtis C. Taylor. The case was tried by Federal Judge Beaumont.

Durrah, who lives at 10521 Zamorra ave., came under suspicion of postal inspectors after various sums of money had mysteriously disappeared from mail which passed through his hands. He was arrested on Aug. 14 and charged with three counts of theft. He immediately retained Attorney Taylor, who interceded a plea of nolo contendere and applied for probation.

Taylor pointed to the defendant's impressive war record and the fact that this was his first offense in pleading for probation. Over the objections of the prosecutor the plea was granted after the court sternly admonished Durrah as to his conduct in the future. He was placed on three years probation.

Sen. Shelley Urges Yes Vote On FEPC; Endorsements Grow

Senator John F. Shelley, Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, yesterday urged all Californians to vote "yes" for the Fair Employment Practices Act, on the November ballot as Proposition 11.

Shelley, president of the San Francisco Labor Council (AFL), endorsed Proposition 11 in line with the California State Federation of Labor's convention appeal last June that "all affiliated unions adopt resolutions endorsing Proposition 11" and that they "take steps necessary to insure passage of such legislation."

Other endorsements of the FEPC Act announced today were from the Los Angeles Federation of Teachers, the Torrance Democratic Club, Waitresses and Cafeteria Workers Local 639 and Jewelers' Union Local 23.

"The Democratic party nationally and in California, together with the leading Protestant, Catholic and Jewish groups and both the AFL and CIO, have declared emphatically that race and religious hatred have no place in a democratic and prosperous America," Shelley said. "All these groups are backing a Fair Employment Practices Act.

"Certainly we cannot look forward to a democratic, united nation if the disruptive evils of race and religious hatred are allowed to pit group against group in the manner that under Hitler brought ruin to Europe and death to millions.

"Nor can we have prosperity in California if large numbers of people are kept unemployed, or are continually paid substandard wages. In either case, purchasing power drops and eventually both business and labor, and profits, wages and jobs, will sufffer severely."

Shelley said that FEPC "merely enforces constitutional rights as old as America. It would apply equally to employers, unions and employment agencies, but exempts religious, social, educational, fraternal and non-profit organizations, and employers with fewer than five persons.

"Only those who would use race against race, or religion against religion, for their own economic advantage, can oppose Proposition 11. I urge every voter to cast a "yes" vote for the California Fair Employment Practices Act."

Negroes 'Crucified' Says Aubrey Williams, Hitting Lynch Terror

NEW YORK—(NNPA) — Aubrey Williams, former head of the National Youth Administration and now editor of The Southern Farmer, this week charged "a reign of terror in the South, where the forces of law are being turned against the Negro," is the "worst thing that has happened in the past 0 years."

He said Negroes are crucified not once a day, but several times a day on trains, busses, in stores, wherever they live or seek to work," and that "Federal action to date amounts to practically nothing." Colored people, he added, are being "terrorized by the people who are supposed to protect them."

Williams, who now lives in Montgomery, Alabama, spoke here in the interest of the American Crusade to End Lynching, an organization sponsored by more than 100 persons who, on September 23 — 84 years after Abraham Lincoln signed the Emancipation Proclamation — began "100 days" of protest against mob violence.

"The time has come when the American people have got to give attention to this American front," Williams continued. "We need to use every means at our hands to arouse the moral indignation of the people."

"The answer is not in military government for the South," he said. "I am worried about the intrusion of the army in civilian affairs already — including the business of the atomic bomb. We have got to have law enforcement in the South, but it should be civilian in character."

The problems of colored people are now "a national problem," Dr. Harlow Shapley, director of the Harvard Observatory, said, "with national as well as international implications. Now is the time to ask the candidates for public office their attitude toward this important American business."

Paul Robeson, actor and singer, presided at the conference at 23 West 26th st.

Newsboys, Tired of Run-around, Plan to Strike Times Soon

"The boys are mad and impatient. They are tired of this damned L. A. Times stalling, and if management doesn't get off the dime, well the real action will come from us."

That's the way Bill Axelrod, president of the local newsboys' CIO union, described the current situation between the newsboys and management of the local morning newspaper which has been evading a union agreement with the paper sellers for over three years.

Axelrod declares the present labor crisis was brought about by the Times when the paper proposed slashing the newsboys' commission on sales and also limiting them to selling only the Times. A series of negotiations with Ray Marx, Times negotiator, was broken off by Marx late in August, Axelrod states, and since then he has not been heard from.

Possibility of a strike vote next week looms if Marx does not attempt to resume negotiations. The union is demanding retention of present commissions with slight raises in certain instances, and "hardship benefits" of $2.50 to $5 to workers making less than $30 or $35 per week.

3000 Citizens At Anti-Smith Open Air Rally

With the vigorous remarks of community leaders still ringing in their ears, more than 3000 Los Angeles citizens of all races, creeds and colors who attended an anti-Gerald L. K. Smith demonstration last Sunday today were determined to continue expressing their opposition to Smith's ideas.

The rally, sponsored by the Mobilization for Democracy, was flooded with banners representing scores of civic, labor, veterans and youth organizations.

While Smith spoke at Polytechnic high school directly across the street, anti-Smith pickets marched before the building, paraded up and down before the elderly pro-Smithites waiting to enter the auditorium, then marched across the street to attend the demonstration which was held in an open lot.

Judge Stanley Moffatt from Huntington Park, chairman of the rally, told the audience that "Smith deliberately instigates hatred—which can and does flare into violence—against certain citizens in our community whom Smith happens to dislike because of their race, religion or color." He said Mayor Bowron was doing the community a "great disservice by advocating silent treatment of a fascist."

Philip Connelly, secretary-treasurer of the Los Angeles CIO Council, told the crowd that "the CIO will always fight to stop Smith and other fascist movements." Referring to the hundreds of helmeted police patroling the area for blocks around, Connelly said, "there are more heavily armed police present here than I dare say the mayor would turn out if we were threatened by enemy invasion."

Robert Zakon, president of the Teen-Age division of the American Youth for Democracy, scored the action of the board of education in permitting Smith to speak at Polytechnic high school.

"We students," he said, "are well aware of the danger of such men as Gerald L. K. Smith. It's time those in charge of our schools, as well as a good many parents, woke up to the fact that Smith is a dangerous fanatic who desires the destruction of our American democracy."

Other speakers included Don Wheeldin, adjutant of the Los Angeles post of the Negro and Allied Veterans; Alvin Jackson, Los Angeles county commander of the American Veterans' Committee; Ed Mosk, former major with the Office of Strategic Services in Germany and Congressman Ellis Patterson.

Gen. McNarney Denies Slur on Negro GI's

BERLIN, Germany—In a statement to the press this week, Gen. Joseph T. McNarney flatly denied he ever had said the Negro was a failure as a soldier.

McNarney, clarifying an earlier statement widely quoted by American racists said he had made a statement that leadership qualifications in the Negro soldier were below the required efficiency standard for certain types of combat dut, but that this was due to the Negro's inability to find "in America during the last 100 years" equal opportunity for complete economic and social development.

Referring specifically to a statement on Negro soldier leadership made in a conversation with Truman K. Gibson Jr., former Negro aide in the war department during the latter's official inspection of Negro troops in Italy last year, the American commander in the European theatre said:

"It was intended as a frank admission that the leadership qualities were below the standard required for the efficient performance of certain types of combat duties and an equally frank statement that for some time to come the Negro soldier would need new and wider opportunities in order to develop the standards of leadership required."

McNarney said he reported to the war department on his talk with Gibson after he was informed that the Negro Press had taken sharp exception to his conversation as reported in the United States, in which he was quoted as having said, "The Negro is a failure as a soldier. It will be a hundred years before he can develop to a point where he will be on a parity with (white) Americans."

McNarney denied ever having made any such statement, declared "Very bluntly, this quotation is inaccurate."

Commerce Dept. Calls Conference on Negro Business, Oct. 17-19

WASHINGTON — (NNPA) — Arrangements were completed this week for the housing and entertainment of 200 business men and representatives of national organizations who will participate October 17-19 in the second annual conference on Negro business being sponsored by the commerce department to emphasize the aids which it is able to give the small business man. The conferences were initiated by former commerce secretary Henry Wallace.

Addison N. Scurlock, veteran photographer, was elected chairman of the citizens committee responsible for the housing and entertainment of the visitors to the confernece.

Emmer Martin Lancaster, special adviser to the secretary of commerce on Negro business, announced that more than 100 businesses will be represented in the special exhibit to be displayed in the lobby of the commerce department during the week of the conference.

All sessions of the conference will be held in the commerce department auditorium.

Schwellenbach Denies Aide Said 'Nigger'

WASHINGTON, D.C.—(NNPA) —Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwellenbach yesterday denied that Under Secretary of Labor Keen Johnson had used the word "nigger" in referring to Negroes during his oath of office ceremonines last August 20.

Replying to a letter from Louis Lautier, chief of the NNPA News Service who had written him concerning use of the word at a departmental meeting and the failure of Robert C. Goodwin, US ES director, to see members of the Negro press, Schwellenbach wrote:

"With respects to the reports you have heard about the speech made by the Under Secretary of Labor at a departmental meeting, I would advise you that he did not use the cpithet mentioned in your letter. You may also wish to know that Mr. Johnson has met with a unicn delegation, which raised some question with respect to his remarks by the employes of the department."

Commenting on Goodwin's failure to see the Negro press Schwellenbach said Goodwin had advised him that it is his practice to be equally available to the Negro and white press alike, but that he had not been available at the particular times representatives of the colored press had attempted to see him.

He added that he felt sure that Goodwin's failure to see colored newsmen was not due to any "prejudicial practice."

NNPA representatives have sought an interview with Goodwin, weekly, since last March in an attempt to get him to comment on the discrimination against Negroes being practiced by his agency at the local USES offices. They have asked to see Goodwin at any time agreeable to him but he has not found such a time since last March. He has seen the white press on numerous occasions, however.

SUPPORT FEPC OR YOU CANNOT SUPPORT YOUR FAMILY

The man outside of the "know" has heard a great deal about the Fair Employment Practices Committee which was a war emergency committee, and which enabled him to rise in the role of a worker. Without much opposition he arose from an underpaid menial servant in the Southland to a welder of steel in the roaring factories of the wartime shipyard industries.

The war in its phase of great military battles is now at an end. The wartime emergency of FEPC already has been shelved for keeps by Congress. To be sure he still hears the constant clamor, he knows that Gus Hawkins, his favorite California legislator, introduced such a bill and went to the people when the lawmakers voted it under. But in many instances, he still has his good job, he is still making a big check. He has believed that the employer has learned of the skill and industry of the black worker, and that now there will be no question about his fair opportunity to work. Sometimes, however, he does feel the uncertain ties of the black worker which he believed to have left behind in Texas, Arkansas and Mississippi. Sometimes they whisper where he cannot hear. He feels it all over again, the fear of uncertainty of losing that job and with it the home, the car and that college education for Mary or John. This is why he believes in FEPC theoretically. But the fury of the storm of his fears and economic uncertainties are not great enough as yet to cause any undue alarm; he rides the smooth waters of the treacherous quiet before the storm, asleep, knowing theoretically the danger ahead, but with few visual aids to convince.

VISUAL AIDS TO FEPC

There is much truth to the homely adage, "seeing is believing." There are many of us who cannot grasp the fullness of an idea until something is construed which enables us to see it. Illustrations and imagery are two of the most essential matters if people are to understand fully the nature of things about us. During the past few months our community has been running over with practical illustrations which support the theoretical need for a legislated Fair Employment Practices Committee. Negro readers of the Daily News, had open wide to them a big window which exposed the very nakedness of that need. In large display was an employment ad of the Silverwoods Clothing Store. After listing the opportunities and classifications of workers needed, under the lowest classification, that of stock clerk, was the small word, white; insignificant in itself, but filled with atomic energy as a threat to every minority group, serving notice for the future.

So sure of victory are the enemies of fair employment practimes that they are serving notice through this type of insult, that the war is over and so is fair play with respect to employment. This is not mere theory, these and many other such illustrations are the signs of the avalanche to come. FEPC is not as some think, just a political torch which the politicians light to further their own ends. FEPC is an issue which determines the whole future of the Negro people. We have fled the injustices of the Southland. We have come here in hope of a new birth of freedom and an opportunity to have and know the material fruits of this land. In guarantee of our faith in what can be, and must, our boys have sprinkled their sweat and blood throughout every corner of the global assault on bigotry. They have died in Georgia, Alabama, Texas, Arno(Italy, Normandie, Guadacanal, Saipan and in every hidden spot walked by man. We must fight with our ballot to keep Georgia in Georgia, Texas in Texas, and must be determined that it must never come here.

SUPPORT FEPC OR ELSE

It was Walter Winchell who said regarding the OPA, while it was under surgery at the hands of the cutting fiends of congress: "If you don't support OPA you will not be able to support your family." In the hard way, many of us now know exactly what he meant. With each day we spend more energy trying to figure out how we can make ends meet than we do earning our inadequate salaries. The decline of OPA has put most of us in the red. It is not a very pleasant feeling to go to bed each night with more debt, and to realize that your obligations have run up as though by panic. The weakening of OPA has put us in the red, but if we fail to support Proposition 11, which is in support of FEPC, we will move out of the red into oblivion. Yes, it too can happen here. The fears which we believed to have been left behind by the long silent furrows of an Arkansas tenant farm or the shame and tears of the employer's rebuke, are approaching as ominous shadows from the dark of an uncertain future.

In this hour, if we would be saved, we are workmen together with God, setting in order the things that are wanting. Churchmen everywhere are obligated to support Proposition 11 in the interest of building God's kingdom on earth, and in our time.

—Minister, Bowen Memorial Methodist church.

To Speak on China's Role in Peace, War

The 40th assembly district chapter of the National Citizens Political Action Committee is holding its initial meeting on Monday, October 7, at eight p.m. at the Folk House, 420 North Soto st. An outstanding program has been planned which will include Edward Mosk, executive chairman of NCPAC of Southern California. Irving Fields, attorney and veteran of 23 months in the South Pacific, will give an authoritative talk on China as related to world peace or world war. And the well-known and exciting team of Sonny Vale and Morris Goodson with their brilliant musical interpretations. There will be no admission charge.

E'side Matron Wins Interlocutory Decree

Attractive Mrs. Ruby Booth, popular young society matron of 224 E. Vernon ave., was this week awarded her interlocutory decree of divorce from Raymond Booth, well-known man about town and waiter on the Union Pacific's crack cross-country streamliner.

The decision was made in Dept. 28 of the superior court after Mrs. Booth testified before Judge W. Turney Fox upon a complaint filed by her attorney, Curtis C. Taylor, to a studied course of cruelty inflicted upon her by her husband.

Mrs. Booth identified a property settlement which she said had been signed by both parties, fixing their respective interests in the couple's beautiful four-family building on East Vernon ave., and a considerable sum in cash and bonds. She testified that she was married in Kansas City, Mo., in 1932 and that there were no children to the union.

Report to people who are waiting for telephone service

More than 137,000 telephones have been added in Southern California in the first full year since the war. During the first half of 1946 we added telephones almost twice as fast as ever before.

But Southern California has been growing so fast . . . and new orders for telephones have come in so rapidly . . . that still many people are waiting for service.

Our construction program goes on at a constantly accelerating pace despite material shortages. At many places we must start from the ground up because existing buildings already are crowded with equipment. But throughout Southern California the necessary cable, the switchboards, all of the complicated equipment and varied material required, is being installed as quickly as we can get it.

You can be certain your telephone is on the way. We are doing everything we can to get it to you just as soon as possible.

Thanks for your patience. Your sympathetic understanding is appreciated.

Church Leans Toward Wallace, Says Bishop Walls Deploring Truman Administration 'Blunder'

NEW YORK—The enforced resignation of Henry A. Wallace was deplored and attention drawn to the position of the church as an important factor in coming election campaigns as the sesquicentennial celebration of the African Episcopal Methodist Church drew to a close last night after an all-day festival at Madison Square Garden.

Bishop William J. Walls of Chicago, chairman of the celebration and bishop for New York and New England, said that the Truman Administration had "blundered in permitting a show-down" to develop between the forces of the former secretary of commerce and Secretary of State Byrnes.

The resignation of Wallace, who has consistently championed the rights of the Negro people during his public career, was demanded by Truman several days after Wallace's Madison Square Garden speech assailing Byrnes' "Get Tough With Russia" policy as leading this country to war. Wallace's speech had been approved by Truman before it was delivered.

First as secretary of agriculture, then as vice president and later as secretary of commerce, Wallace favored full participation of Negroes in governmental programs. He specifically advocated federal anti-lynching, anti-poll tax and fair employment practice legislation.

In his Madison Square Garden speech, he condemned race prejudice and the doctrine of racial superiority and referred to the recent mass lynching in Georgia as the kind of prejudice that makes war inevitable.

One of his last acts in his official capacity as secretary of commerce was to protest to Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwellenbach and Wilson A. Wyatt, national housing expediter, against discriminatory practices in those two agencies.

Byrnes, on the other hand, while he was a U. S. senator from South Carolina was antagonistic to the Negro people. He consistently opposed annual appropriations for Howard university and federal anti-lynching legislation.

Bishop Walls denied that the A.M.E. Zion Church would be used for anybody's political football, although individual bishops have the right to make their own choices."

The bishop deserted the Republican party to support the late President Roosevelt in his second campaign and remained a supporter throughout developing a great affection for Henry Wallace.

The position of the Christain churches in the political life of the Negro people "can grow stronger," Bishop Walls has noted on several occasions, and because of Wallace's "devotion to peace" the churches lean toward him, he said.

"I do not consider him a Communist, just a crusader for peace," the bishop declared.

Speakers who brought greetings to the sesquicentennial during its closing hours included Representatives Adam C. Powell of New York and William L. Dawson of Chicago, Democrates; Governor H. Hastie of the Virgin Islands, City Councilman Benjamin J. Davis Jr., and Justice Francis E. Rivers of the city court, New York county branch.

Governor Hastie, who spoke at two sessions of the celebration, said in his first address that the next 20 years would determine "the success or failure of the third attempt towards liberalism that has taken place in the South since the Civil War."

Calls Conference for Oct. 11 to Discuss Election Objectives

"Make your vote count for peace."

That was the appeal issued this week by the 19th Congressional District Coordinating Council in an invitation for organizations throughout the area to form two-man teams as delegates to an emergency conference to be held in the Poppy Trail Villa, 4558½ Whittier blvd., Friday, October 11, at 8 p.m.

Civic and political leaders of the 19th district will head discussions centering around the conference's objectives, which include:

- Securing the broadest possible voter participation in the coming elections.
- Victory for progressive candidates.
- Passage of the Fair Employment Practices Act, proposition No. 11 on the Nov. 5 ballot.

The Coordinating Council, established to facilitate and unify the work of the CIO, Progressive AFL, Railroad Brotherhoods and national citizens' political action committees, urged all-out participation by individuals as well as organizations.

Communities in the 19th congressional district include:

Maywood, Bell, Huntington Park, City Terrace, Boyle Heights, Belvedere, Montebello and East Los Angeles.

The council's headquarters are at 1601 N. Helen dr., Los Angeles, ANgelus 6066.

Happiness is neither within us only, or without us; it is the union of ourselves with God.—Pascal.

Golden State Life Ins. Co. to Open New Branch Office Oct. 1

The Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company will formally open its new southside office at 5427 South Central avenue on October 1.

This new divisional office will serve the firm's policyholders in the area south of Vernon avenue, and is the headquarters for four agency staffs and superintendents totaling more than 40 field representatives. Lonzi L. Jones, district supervisor, heads the new office.

The central district office located at 4259 South Central avenue is headquarters for another division of four staffs and field managers. Los Angeles policyholders north of Vernon avenue and policyholders in Pasadena, Santa Monica, Venice and Bay Cities come under the supervision of this office which is headed by Supervisor Dee Hodge.

Golden State Mutual was organized in 1925 when there were but 39,000 Negroes in California. It is now licensed to do business in Texas and Illinois. Within the past 30 days the increase in volume of business and agency staffs has caused the opening of a second divisional office in Chicago and the moving of the Fort Worth office to larger quarters in that city.

Argentina Holds to 'Master Race' Theory

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NNPA)—The legend of racial superiority is still alive in Argentina, Edward Tomlinson, National Broadcasting Company expert on Latin America, declared here last night.

Summarizing his recent tour of South America in a statement issued to the press, Tomlinson said many Argentines have always looked down on certain of their neighbors who have Indian or African blood in their veins.

"We are a white man's country" has long been an expression in Buenos Aires. Hitler's agents and propagandists played up this idea for their own purposes, of course. In any case it is now a well developed philosophy on the part of the principal advisers of President Juan Domingo Peron, who during the war openly admired the preachings of the master race.

In your planning, specify a CP gas range

Indian summer or just honest-to-goodness hot weather—neither is pleasant in a warm kitchen. That's one good reason you'll enjoy a CP gas range. Ovens are insulated to keep the heat inside—right where it belongs. Yes, and the extra-heavy oven insulation means less heat wasted, more money saved. As for the cake, it comes out evenly browned all over. For your modern gas range gives uniform oven circulation. You'll be a happier home manager, you'll enjoy happier cooking, with the flame-perfect Certified Performance of a CP gas range.

Cleaner kitchen, too! CP gas ranges have smokeless broilers—instantly adjustable top burners to prevent boilovers—easy-to-clean porcelain enamel finish.

Bake, broil—both at once in a CP gas range with separate broiler! No need to wait till potatoes or biscuits are baked before putting the steak in the broiler.

Ever tried a real griddle? Flame heat is spread evenly under the griddle—a built-in feature with many CP gas ranges. What a boon to pancake making!

And remember—Flame perfect gas cookery is the most economical of all modern methods—welcome relief when so many prices are soaring.

Red Cross Seeking 1000 LA Volunteers

Los Angeles women who can give at least one day per week serving in the wards of veterans' and civilian hospitals today are being sought for training to accept these duties in a gigantic volunteer recruitment drive launched by the local Red Cross chapter.

Mrs. Albert Ralps, veteran Red Cross worker and leader, heads the recruitment committee for metropolitan Los Angeles, assisting Mrs. H. B. K. Willis, chairman, volunteer special services for Los Angeles chapter.

"One thousand volunteers are needed to enable Red Cross to carry on its expanding program of service in all veterans' hospitals in its area as well as to operate its growing projects in community channels," Mrs. Ralphs stated.

Basic indoctrination courses open the training period—streamlined and modernized to accelerate the drive for workers—in which women are introduced to Red Cross and given a choice of assignments. Volunteers are needed at once to serve as Gray Ladies, Motor Corps drivers, volunteer Nurse's Aides, Arts and Skills Corps instructors, Canteen Corps workers, in Camp and Hospital Service work, and as Staff Assistance Corps members, it was pointed out.

He also told the President, Robeson said, that the temper of colored people has changed. He elaborated upon this remark by saying he was referring to Negro veterans and that if some protection is not brought to them a national emergency would arise that would call for intervention.

Truman suggested, Robeson said, that that was not the way to approach the problem. Robeson said he replied that it was not his approach but the approach of the Negro people as a whole. He added that it was his opinion that many delegates visiting the President are very polite but "now is not the time for excessive politeness."

According to Robeson, President Truman felt that his record was such that it was known and he said he would fight mob violence in any way he could, but there were political matters which made it very difficult for him to issue a statement denouncing lynching at this time.

The delegation asked Truman to make a formal statement expressing his views on lynching. It also requested him to recommend in his next message to the congress passage of a federal anti-lynching bill and to use his full resources for an educational program to end mob violence.

Robeson said the delegation suggested that the individual states were doing nothing about mob violence and that the Justice Department claims it has inadequate power to apprehend and prosecute lynchers. The delegation suggested, Robeson said, that that department use the power it has and that it be given such additional power as is necessary.

DR. EINSTEIN BACKS PLEA

Asked by reporters whether he was a Communist, Robeson replied, "No," that he was "a violent anti-fascist."

The group delivered to Truman a letter written by Dr. Einstein, in which he said security against lynching "is one of the most urgent tasks of our generation."

Dr. Einstein in his letter said he "wholeheartedly indorses" the aims of the Crusade "in the conviction that the overwhelming majority of the people favor security for all against illegal violence."

"There is always a way to overcome legal obstacles whenever there is an inflexible will at work in the service of so just a cause," Dr. Einstein added.

The committee which discussed mob violence with Truman consisted of the following in addition to Robeson and Mrs. Sibley:

Metz Lochard, editor of The Chicago Defender; Rabbie Irving Miller of the American Jewish Congress; Dr. Max Yergan, president of the National Negro Congress; Aubrey W. Williams, editor and publisher of The Southern Farmer; Dr. Joseph L. Johnson, chairman of the Washington Commiteee of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare and dean of the Howard Medical school; Howard H. Murphy of the Negro Newspaper Publishers Association; William O. Walker, editor of The Cleveland Call and Post; Rev. William H. Jeragin, president of the National Baptist Young People's Union, and Dr. Charlotta Hawkins Brown, president of Palmer Memorial institute.

Delegations from the Crusade also visited the Justice Department and the headquarters of the Democratic and Republican national committee in an effort to work out a program to combat mob violence. An all-day conference was held at the Metropolitan A.M.E. church.

The Crusade selected the 84th anniversary of Lincoln's issuance of the first Emancipation Proclamation to visit the White House and hold a mass meeting at the Lincoln Memorial, hoping that in the 100 days between September 23 and January 1, the 84th anniversary of the emancipation of American slaves to arouse public sentiment against mob violence.

In the afternoon Robeson and Aubrey Williams spoke against mob violence over station WRC and the National Broadcasting System.

ed into two parts, began with a conference held from 1 to 6 p.m. and ended with a mass meeting which started at 7:30 in the evening.

Screen writer John Howard Lawson, in delivering the opening address, related the historical background of the Negro's struggle for freedom, calling attention to the fight white workers are also waging. Lawson also pointed out the important role that NNC must fill in carrying on a militant fight for the liberation of both Negro and white workers.

Highlighting the confab were summaries and resolutions from panel discussions on FEPC, chaired by Miss Adell Young, pinchhitting for Assemblyman Augustus Hawkins; Health and Housing chaired by Frank Wilkerson; and Lynch Terror and Police Brutality, led by Attorney Leo Gallagher.

On the recommendation of the panels, NNC set up permanent committees on FEPC, Health and Housing and Lynch Terror and Police Brutality.

Speaking to a capacity filled house at the evening meeting, Revels Cayton, national executive secretary of NNC, cited incident after incident of lynch terror and police brutality against Negroes all over America.

"An all-out drive is on," he said, "to squeeze Negroes—especially veterans—back into the old pattern of slavery." This, he added, accounts for the reign of violence sweeping the nation.

William Bidner, executive secretary of the Mobilization for Democracy, won a long round of applause when he told of the overwhelming success of the anti-Smith meeting staged Sunday while rabble rouser G.L.K. Smith held his fascist meeting at Polytechnic high school.

Bidner voiced the condemnation of representative citizen groups who rejected Mayor Bowron's plea to "ignore Smith."

"Smith is as much of a threat to this nation as Hitler was to Europe," Bidner declared, "and the only way we can defeat him is by letting him know we are not going to stand idly while he spreads his vicious anti-Negro, anti-Jewish, anti-labor poison.

Phillip Connelly, CIO; Averill Berman, progressive radio commentator; and Mrs. Charlotta Bass, editor-publisher of the California EAGLE, called upon "the little people" of this city to make NNC the fighting organization it must become.

"In building the NNC we are moulding an effective weapon with which to strike back at the forces trying to crush and oppress minority groups," Mrs. Bass declared.

Emphasis was laid on the program NNC must conduct leading to the integration of Negro and other minority groups into labor unions.

clude Negroes from membership. It is the only bar association in the state to adopt such a policy and its delegation of 37 is the largest of any at the convention.

Benjamin Dreyfus of San Francisco charged that race discrimination violates "the public policy of the state, the nation and the United Nations organization."

He pointed out that the State Bar does not discriminate against any race or creed, and that the State Bar is established by California statute, and that, therefore, the delegation from any group which discriminates could not legally be seated. The credentials committee, however, recommended that all delegations be accepted.

Dreyfus then moved an amendment excluding the Los Angeles association. Debate had hardly begun when Edwin Heafey of Oakland, chairman, ruled the amendment out of order on the appeal of a delegate that the convention did not have the power to disapprove the seating of a delegation.

Delegates supporting the exclusion of the Los Angeles group said that the whistle of the steamroller would not blow so loduly tomorrow when the issue comes up again in the form of a resolution.

The delegates, several hundred strong, meet in the Hotel Del Coronado, in a big circular room which is draped with 22 huge American flags.

are relegated to funny parts that make fun of a whole race.

"I hate that. I want to prove it is art that counts. I expect the biggest going-over ever when I open, but I don't mind. This can open up all roads to the Negro actor if he has the ability.

Lee said the special white paste he had secured for make-up is very effective.

"I hope it will be a long step toward becoming Actor Canada Lee, not Canada Lee, Negro actor," he added.

Citizens Lend Support To Strikers

Los Angeles Newspaper Workers, suffering from cuts in real wages ranging from 15 to 40 per cent, require increases of sufficient amount to bring them even with the skyrocketing cost of living. The men and women who are called upon to to report, digest, and interpret the news of the day, make on the average less than semi-skilled craftsmen.

Publishers, however, who have had no ceiling on the price they could charge for adevrtising or for subscriptions, have doubled and trebled their profits.

Hearst Consolidated Publications, owners of the Herald-Express of Los Angeles, showed a net profit in 1940 of $2,800,000. The net profits for this year, 1946, reckoned on the basis of the first six months' reports, will be $16,200,000. This is a take-home pay increase for Hearst of 500 per cent.

Yet 15 days ago William Randolph Hearst locked out the members of the Los Angeles Newspaper Guild when they refused to accept his offer of a 10 per cent wage increase or nothing. He closed the doors of the Herald-Express, and the plant has remained closed ever since, while the Guild members walk the picket line.

Over 1000 men and women with their families are involved in this struggle to attain a decent standard of living. They are fighting to uphold the democratic principle of free collective bargaining and the right of every American to belong to a trade union.

This is the fight of every American citizen. Many citizens of Los Angeles who do not belong to the Newspaper Guild, or for that matter to any Labor Union, recognized this truth and met last Friday evening at the home of Attorney John McTurnan, at Fremont Place, to pledge their support to the Guild in its fight to secure adequate wages from the Hearst Syndicate.

They urge all who wish to assist in this great cause to send any contribution to Maury Maverick and Dan Marshall, co-chairmen, Citizens Committee, 1324 South Figueroa, Los Angeles 15.

The following is a partial list of sponsors for the Citizens Committee to aid locked-out Hearst employees.

Cleveland Honors Leader

The Phyllis Wheatley Association of Cleveland is planning an appreciation dinner November 9 in honor of their leader, Jane Edna Hunter. Miss Hunter has been with the Cleveland Association for thirty-five years, and has become one of the leaders of that great city in the uplift of humanity.

Miss Hunter says, "My deepest interest has centered in building character for our American homes, making better wives, and loving mothers. I have enjoyed each day of these thirty-five years. They have borne fruit in lifting girls to higher standards of noble womanhood."

The California EAGLE congratulates Miss Hunter upon this occasion, and wishes many more years of happy(fruitful services for herself and for the Association she represents.

It is the quiet, unostentatious leadership for the future of our nation that may indeed be tested in the severest of storms. But, thanks to our girls of such organizations, it will stand.

National Negro Congress Sets Sail in Los Angeles

"Build me straight, O worthy Master,
Staunch and strong, a goodly vessel
That will laugh at all disaster
And with wave and whirlwind wrestle."

It was with some such slogan as this that the National Negro Congress set sails and launched out into the deep at an enthusiastic overflow meeting in the Elks Hall 4016 South Central avenue, last Sunday.

The conference was divided into two parts. In the afternoon discussion panels were held on Fair Employment Practices Committee, Housing and Health, Police Brutality, and other subjects vitally important to all minority groups.

In the evening a formal meeting was held in the hall crowded to capacity. William Bidner, executive secretary of the Mobilization for Democracy, one of the principal speakers, aroused a chorus of enthusiastic shouts when he announced that 3000 people had gathered that afternoon at the Polytechnic High School to protest Gerald L. K. Smith's speaking in Los Angeles. This, he said, was done despite Mayor Bowron's plea to let him alone.

The National Negro Congress, it was made clear in all the discussions and talks, makes its appeal to the little people, the people who are so often forgotten even by the professional and business men and women of their own group. It bids all races, all classes, all creeds welcome.

One of its chief determinations is the espousal of organized labor. It urges all persons of whatever group to unite with labor in fighting the KKK, restrictive covenants, police brutality, and all the evils that go to make up fascism and threaten to destroy our peace.

Who Is Fighting It?

The National Political Action Committee is that outstanding organization which has established an educational program for the elimination of political ignorance in all walks of life and among all races and religions within the nation.

It is needless to say other than this, in soliciting your whole-hearted support for the Political Action Committee. — These are those who fight to put it out of existence — the KKK, Jack Tenny, Bilbo Rankin, and all the advocates of imperialism.

On the other hand the following telegram sent to President Truman regarding Henry Wallace's stand on war with Russia, is a sampe of the splendid work being done by the NC-PAC:

PRESIDENT HARRY S. TRUMAN,
THE WHITE HOUSE,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

We are convinced, with Secretary of Commerce Henry Wallace, that "war with Russia is not inevitable" and deplore, with him, the "get tough" policy of Byrnes, Connally and Vandenberg. We were shocked, therefore, to learn that you had repudiated the views which Secretary Wallace voiced first in New York on Thursday, September 12, the more so since you had endorsed them previously.

Mr. Wallace's plea for a "long period of peace and mutual trust among the Big Three" was a continuation of the policy of President Roosevelt which you pledged to follow and which was the mandate of the people in 1944. Denunciation of Secretary Wallace's speech by Connally, Vandenberg and spokesmen for Byrnes domonstrates clearly ho wfar their policy has already led us down the dangerous path to World War III.

We call upon you, Mr. President, to reaffirm your support of the foreign policy of Franklin Delano Roosevelt and to renounce the Byrnes, Vandenberg, Connally war policy.

THREE THOUSAND YEARS AGO THINKING

. . . It is ridiculous to say that the so-called Nordic race is biologically more gifted than other human groups, because one may well ask—how did those endowments express themselves until 300 years ago? For a thousand years at least Nordics had been exposed to the rich heritage of Greece, Rome and Judea with no consequences until the expansion of commerce called for and demanded, more markets and goods to profit from. This in turn stimulated cotton growing, sheep raising and, above all, industrial expansion with its scientific progress. — Mark Graubard, Genetics and the Social Order.

THINGS I SEE

By Marian Inglewood

Palestine seems such a bit of a place to create all the furor it has been doing the past few years. It is only a narrow strip of land on the eastern border of the Mediterranean sea, 265 miles long, in some places 80 miles wide, and in other places only ten miles wide. Not much more than a good honest day's hike 'cross country.

Its area is 10,430 square miles. Los Angeles county has an area of 4067 square miles, so you see this famous little country is just about two and one-half times the size of Los Angeles county. It is about as large as the state of Vermont. Its population is 1,6000,000. Los Angeles city alone boasts a population approaching the 2,000,000 mark. So from the point of view of size, it is rather insignificant isn't it?

Besides, up until a few years ago, it was practically nothing but a desert. It was one of the most poverty-stricken regions of the Middle East. The forests had been cut down. Sanddunes were piled up along the coast. Centuries of neglect had made it a land of pestilential swamps infested with malaria-carrying mosquitoes in some places, and rocky barren wastes in others.

The inhabitants were Arab peasants called fellahin. But they did not own this land, miserable as it was. It belonged to non-resident Arabs called effendis, the wealthy land-owning class. The efflahin could barely extract a living out of the rocky wastes, yet they had to give most of their produce to the effendis. Something like the sharecroppers of the South.

Yet this is the land where Abraham walked. It is the country toward which Moses strained his eyes, the land "flowing with milk and honey," the Promised Land. It is the land where Jesus was born. The land where He taught the dream of all the ages—the establishment of the Kingdom of Heaven upon earth.

This little country is the homeland of the Jewish people. The home for which their hearts have yearned through all the thousands of years of their wanderings, and to which they have been taught they shall some day return.

This hope of the centuries seemed about to be realized following World War I. In 1917 Lord Balfour, then prime minister of England, issued the following declaration: His majesty's government view with favour the establishment in Palestine of a National Home for the Jewish people, and will use their best endeavours to facilitate the achievement of this object.

Great Britain was given the mandate over Palestine by the League of Nations, and under the go-ahead signal of the British government the Jews from all over the world hurried back to their homeland.

They purchased land from the effendis, glad to sell their deserts for a good price. Singing the songs of David, young Jewish pioneers called Halutzin drained the swamps, irrigated the deserts, harnessed the Jordan river which furnished power for modern factories, planted orange groves, and made the desert generally to blossom as the rose. Some of the farms and factories are owned and operated on a communal basis. Others are owned by individuals.

And the Arabs? The fellahin, the peasants, were and are delighted with their Jewish neighbors. They learned from them modern agricultural methods, they attended the free Jewish medical clinics, their children go to the free public schools.

But the effendis, the wealthy land-owning class? Well, you can guess that. No sooner did they see the Jewish immigrants prosper than they raised the cry that in a short while the Jews would own all the Arabian land! There were too many Jews coming to Palestine. This, when the area of Arabian territory comprises 70,114,000 square miles, and the Jewish population in Palestine at present is only 550,000.

But the British government listened to the complaints of the Arabian effendis. In 1939 they forbade any further Jewish immigration. And in the horrors of World War II and of Hilter Naziism, millions of Jews with nowhere to go were massacred, tortured, burned, destroyed.

There are only 100,000 left now. A mere handful. The Los Angeles Coliseum has a seating capacity of that many. Yet they are not permitted to return to Palestine. In prison camps, behind barbed wire enclosures, in an agony of fear they look out on a world of hate. They do not trust the Gentiles. Can you blame them? They want to go back home, where they can be free to live their own lives, in freedom from want and freedom from fear, safe with their own Jewish brothers, with their Arabian neighbors, the fellahin.

That is the Jewish problem. The story of a colossal betrayal of a sacred trust by a Christian nation. A nation that has forsaken the God of Jew and Christian alike, and has given itself to the worship of mammon.

From an Indian's Standpoint

By DALJIT SINGH SADHARIA

CHURCHILL ON EUROPEAN UNITY

Winston Churchill, the former prime-minister of England, and an avowed enemy of the Soviet Union and an advocate of the cult of inferior status for the colored races of the globe, pleaded for the unity of Europe in a brilliant speech at Zurich, Switzerland, and sounded a clarion call to France to take a lead in the organization of the shattered fabric of the framework of European civilization and polity.

The great English orator and statesman can hardly be credited with sincerity and honesty when he makes appeals to European countries for the healing of wounds which two destructive wars in a generation have inflicted upon Europe. It is to be seriously doubted whether this wily fox of British politics and diplomacy is animated by the welfare and security of the Continent and is inspired by the ideas of European rehabilitation and peace. He cares no more about the improvement of the wretched people in the interior of Africa.

His entire career as empire builder and imperialist cries out against his slogans of peace and justice which he blurts out in the public without any sense of shame or decency. His biographers do not fail to note the discrepencies and inconsistencies which he displays in his relations with the alien races and countries. His activities in South Africa, India, and the Near East in the early part of his life bears eloquent testimony to deeds of shame and crime which he practiced to aggrandize the power of England and the British empire. It was he who ignited the flames of the Boer war with the settled and avowed purpose of bringing the entire continent of Africa under the Union Jack. He was more aggressive and jingoistic in his methods and plans to extend the frontiers of the British empire than was Cecil Rhodes who harbored the most sinister and nefarious designs against the liberty and property rights of African races.

Churchill perpetrated bloody crimes on innocent frontier tribes of India 50 years ago, which still are remembered by the people of India. It is he who advocates the suppression of the Indian National Congress and the destruction of Indian leaders who are staking all to free their country from hatred of British imperialism.

Certainly those who are well acquainted with the past career and activities of the English statesman will hardly pay any attention to the pious appeals and fraudulent exhortations for European peace. The entire convocation address is inspired by the dread and hatred of the Soviet Union and by the immense power which the Russian nation now wields in Europe and the world. A virulent and eternal enemy of Russia, to the morrow of his bones, he is torn and consumed with hatred at the rising prestige and glory of the country of Lenin and Stalin. His propaganda for European unity is an open call to western Europeans to close their ranks in face of the rising storm of Soviet power and prestige.

The human mind is certainly not living in the Middle Ages to be deluded and snared by frauds and hypocricies which the pillar of English imperialism proposes to foist upon the minds and hearts of the European people.

W. J. Wheaton Says

The Wallace resignation has caused a furore in political circles. It has given the news writers plenty of copy, and the head politicos jitters. Many predictions are made as to what effect it will have on the coming elections this fall. Of course, the boys who ride the Elephant are jubilant and peanuts are plentiful.

If read carefully the Madison Square Garden speech of Wallace should not prove so alarming, and it is not a plea for peace at any price. It was a sane and logical plea for that which the whole world longs: a world of peace.

There are millions of voters who don't give a whoop for political party labels; they are the voters who will determine the outcome. They will elect such representatives as Frank Havenner and Helen Gahagan Douglass, and others who stand and vote for an anti-poll tax measure; a law to make lynching a federal crime; vote and work for a national full and fair employment. The independent voter don't give a whoop what political label he or she wears as long as they wear the badge of human welfare.

It is better to keep in office the men and women who have shown what they will do, than to change for those who promise what they will do. Big business interests do not want any legislation which tends to lift the standard of the people and likes to label as "Communist" all those who seek the public welfare. Wallace, because he spoke for what he sincerely believes is best for the nation, and the people are the nation, is branded as a Communist. Well ,if seeking the greatest good for the greatest number is communistic, then, we guess, many will be tagged with the badge. There are many who would rather wear that badge than be classed with such creators of our national laws as the Bilbos, Talmadges, Tafts or others who seek to fire the minds of the unthinking with personal hates, and lower the standards of living.

We asked this executive if he was biased as to what kind of personnel he required in his business. In short, would he employ persons of any race or color if they proved efficient? He gave the same old runaround, "It might create friction, and some might walk out." We asked him to call in his employes and tell them that he is hiring a Mr. or Mrs. So-and-So, and state their racial status. Then tell them that whoever wished to quit could have their pay. We offered to bet a hat that there would not be one resignation. The bet was not taken, but the other was taken under advisement. It may produce.

It was pointed out that when the first Negro passed the examination for the position as a motorman on the municipal street railway, there was a near riot among the employes. Whites and Negroes would never work together! Today: It is nothing to see a white motorman and Negro conductor, or vice versa, working in perfect harmony. It is efficiency that counts and the public is pleased. It is only the biased employer who fails to make the test and banish, forever, the ideology of race. That is the test of true democracy. is trying to impress upon the world. The world will have to be satisfied that what is preached is exemplified, and to date we have a very poor example to offer, before our form of democracy is accepted.

It will take more than the "Get Tough" diplomacy as some of our hate breeders demand, to convince the world that democracy as preached and exemplified in the USA is, after all, best for the entire world. Let's get the beam out of our own eye; it may be then that the mote in others may seem atomic. We have got an Augean stable to clean, and we must make it sanitary before it can be pointed out as an example for the world to copy. There must be cleared away such foulness and excrements as racial discrimination and the dastardly crime of lynching. Unless we clean up, there won't be any "World Democracy."

LABOR ON THE MARCH

(Guest Columnist)

P. T. Barnum said the American people like to be fooled. It surely seems so when it comes to the working people and the labor movement.

Listen to this: Henry Ford II recently stated that steady employment for American workers can be attained only through co-operation between labor and management in reducing production costs and in boosting industrial output.

Mr. Ford should qualify his statement in this manner: Steady employment for American workers may be attained by co-operation between labor and management just so long as labor is willing to work on a basis of slave labor. Yes, and watch a steady increase in output, watch prices hike, and wages drop and families starve.

Henry Ford who gives this advice owns oil, land, and factories, automobile industries that not only stretch across this country but also across Europe and Asia. Even his slave operating industries, I believe, penetrate "dark" Africa.

Some highly paid radio commenators and newspaper columnists labor long and hard striving to convince the people that the workers who strike for higher wages are doing so merely because they are being inspired by the Communists.

I wonder if the Communists have the power to inspire them to get hungry and to want food. To want clean homes in which to live and raise their families.

For more than a year we have been deep in the midst of all kinds of strikes and we know who is to blame for them. The fascists in this country were not at all pleased with Germany's defeat are working overtime to gain here what Germany lost in the last war.

They must terrorize the Negro worker, humiliate the Jewish people, and break the backbone of labor, the one dynamic force that is striving to unite all of these elements to the end that peace may be established and we, the people, get on the way towards that one world predicted by Wilkie.

AN APPEAL TO THE NEGRO PEOPLE

We are moving towards the most important political campaign in our history as Americans. Don't allow any race-baiting paleface tell you you are not an American, of the oldest and sturdiest in the land.

There will be white and Negro bosses around telling you why you should keep the millionaire bosses in the saddle. Why? Because the labor agitators they will tell you, are taking orders from Stalin. They seek to destroy our democratic way of life, they say.

And that democratic way of life about which they preach is low wages, especially for you. Discrimination in public eating places, hotels, and at bathing places like Bimini. Do you want to continue that route?

I know that some labor unions are crumbed up with fascists. But, brother, at that it is your only promised land.

Get entrenched in the labor movement and clean out the foes of real Democracy.

Take your tip from labor, not from the politicians neither white nor Negro.

FIGHTING GERMS AT HOME

By E. Macco Williams, M. D.

So many little things affect our lives for good or evil—much more so than we realize.

Take germs. Germs themselves are small, terribly small, so small that we cannot see them with the eye alone but must use powerful miscroscopes to magnify them before they can be seen. Yet these germs do a great deal of harm. They cause many kinds of diseases, diseases which bring suffering and often death.

There are many little things we can do to protect ourselves, to a great extent, against germs. Cleanliness is one safeguard. Soap and water will kill any number of germs. While stronger measures are needed against some microbes, soap and water used freely about the person and in the house will help protect the family.

Since many germs which cause disease enter the body through the mouth, we should be careful that nothing touches the mouth that is not perfectly clean. This means remembering to do all those little things which we know we should do but which we sometimes neglect through carelessness or because we are in a hurry.

We should remember:

In the kitchen. The hands should be washed carefully before preparing meals. Without realizing it, the cook may transmit disease-giving germs to her family through food prepared with hands that are not absolutely clean. It may be necessary to wash the hands several times during the course of getting a meal ready. Germs may be picked up in handling raw foods and in handling utensils which are not absolutely clean, so the hands should be washed again and again.

Fresh vegetables should be carefully washed before being cooked or stored in the regrigerator. Left-over cooked food should be covered and stored in the refrigerator. Food should always be protected from insects. Flies and other insects carry germs and, when they light on food, may contaminate it.

Dishes and cooking utensils should be carefully washed with soapy hot water. The dishes should be scraped before being put in the dishpan and the water should be changed whenever it becomes soiled. Ideally, all dishes should be sterilized in boiling hot water for several minutes. This is essential in a public eating place. In the home, however, this cannot always be done and should not be necessary if the dishes are well scraped then washed in plenty of hot water and soap and rinsed in clear hot water.

When they have been washed and dried with a clean cloth, the dishes should be stored in a clean cabinet or on clean shelves which are protected from dust.

In the dining room. The person who sets the table for meals should be careful not to touch the part of the tableware which is put in the mouth. This means picking up knives by the handle, not the blade and, likewise, forks and spoons by the handle rather than the tines or bowls.

The floor should be swept before the table is set, not after. Dust may carry germs. The dust rasied by sweeping will settle on knives and forks, glasses and plates. Sugar bowls should never be left on the table uncovered. Not only will dust get into the sugar, but flies will be attracted to it, too.

And just as the cook should wash her hands before preparing meals, so should the diners wash theirs before coming to the table.

Of course, every member of the family should have his own towel, which no one else uses. Nor should the same drinking glass be used by two people unless it is washed after the first person has drunk from it.

These are only a few of the things to be remembered in the home to cut down the hazard of germs. Special precautions must be taken if any member of the household is ill. The doctor in charge should be consulted on how to protect the rest of the family from catching the sick person's disease.

Trail Blazers: Martha Malone Williams

By PHYLLIS SCOTT

"She's terrific!" exclaimed Pat O'Hara, Daily News reporter in the press room of the district attorney's office. Martha Malone Williams has an astonishing record as a criminal lawyer, defending very successfully murder cases. The deputy district attorney says that working with her is a pleasure "because she is a lady."

When I talked with Pat O'Hara, who knows the admiration and respect that she wins in the courts, a wonderful feeling swept through me, one of pride and determination. "She's a consummate diplomat and an expert on psychological maneuvers, bringing to the fore emotional motivation for human action. And in so doing, she presents her client as a human being whereby the judge and the court look upon the human side and not merely as a 'case.'

"Soft-spoken, dignified, and human, she makes the court like her. She's very sure — always calm and courteous."

Attorney Williams has the capacity of making you feel at home as soon as she receives you into her office. I went to see her late one afternoon at her office on the fifth floor of the National Title Building at Third and Spring. Her secretary informed me that she had spent most of that "particularly long hot day" in court but she graciously received me and almost immediately I felt as though I had known her for years.

She's a very quiet and modest person. We sat and talked for over 45 minutes about everything under the sun except herself, the real purpose of the interview. Upon questioning why she entered her chosen profession she told me that she has always been interested in law. She has a very sympathetic nature and law has given her the opportunity to contact a large number of people who really need help, not only legally but morally. And not unimportant, she has been able to encourage young people to go ahead.

Martha Williams is a native of Texas. She attended the public schools of Palestine, Texas, and Tuskegee institute, majoring in business administration. In 1936 she came to California. However, it wasn't until 1939 that she enrolled in Southwestern university to study law. At this time she was working as a legal stenographer for Atty. Clarence Jones, and going to school nights.

Because of financial difficulties, she dropped out of school for a semester, took a broker's exam, and went into the real estate business on Wall at Vernon. She maintained this office until graduation from law school.

Upon graduation she had an attractive offer to become associated with an established lawyer at a fixed salary of $250 plus an allowance of her own practice. This offer was turned down to independently set up her own practice.

She wanted a downtown office because she was alone and wanted the convenience of the courts.

One of the most interesting highlights of her career was her difficulty in obtaining a downtown office due to the discriminatory policies of most managements. However, this did not discourage her. Very politely she said that it was too bad that such policies existed and kept looking. She finally obtained a suite of two rooms in the National Title Building, after the manager carefully considered the case, for a Negro had never occupied any office in that building.

Expecting very few clients in the beginning, she proposed to hire a secretary to keep the office open during the day while she worked as a county clerk, and practice law in the evenings. Her office had only been opened a little less than a month when she defended her first client in court. She did not have to take a job as a county clerk.

She is so overwhelmed with clients that she often works until 10 p. m. and is in court as much as two or three times a day. When she leaves court, 10 or 12 people are found waiting in her office.

More interested in helping people work out their problems than in the money that she can make from them, she sometimes is able to help people with their marital ills without divorce action.

One day a woman from Westwood went into the office very upset with a deposit for divorce preceedings. After listening to her story, Martha Williams said, "You don't want a divorce, you want your husband back, don't you?"

She has been successful in getting a lot of favorable verdicts for her clients, 50% of whom are white. Due to the rapid growth of her clientele, it is necessary for her to move into larger offices. Her new location will be in the Ferguson Building, Suite 612-14-16, 307 South Hill st., Los Angeles 14. She may be reached by calling MUtual 6693.

Besides this, she is a leader among Negro women. As Boule chairman and Basileus of Alpha Gamma Omega graduate chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority, she gave the keynote address to the progressive struggles of this great organization.

Martha Malone Williams is a small, attractive woman with a charming, simple manner. She doesn't smoke or drink and seldom attends social functions. Westside rumors have her name linked with Benny Carter, noted bandleader.

"She's a dynamo," continued O'Hara. "You should be proud of her over there; we are up here." We are proud of Martha Malone Williams for she has proven what can be accomplished against discrimination, as a woman and as a Negro. And she has done all this without sacrifice of charm or dignity.

Happiness in this world, when it comes, comes incidentally. Make it the object of pursuit, and it leads us a wild-goose chase, and is never attained.—Nathaniel Hawthorne.

A LAYMAN'S VIEW

By Leon W. Steward

A MESSAGE FROM STRUGGLING INDIA

A few days ago we had the unusual privilege of hearing and conversing with Dr. E. P. Peter, a native of Bangalore in the province of Mysore in Southern India, from which he had just arrived in America to attend the international meeting of the YMCA's Y'Men's Clubs in America at Bradford, Pennsylvania. Dr. Peter was not one of the professional political propagandists from that sorely beset country, so long under the British Lion's heel. He was a typical practicing physician who had only recently learned to share time from his busy experience in youth service through the Y's Men's Club of his home town YMCA. Just as the "Y" in various American towns and cities has led many young business and professional men to do. Yes, indeed, Dr. Peter is just about typical of this group. So our oportunity to get a picture of India's struggle direct from an Indian who was in the very midst of it with eyes open but without any professional connections with the organized patriots or British paid apologists.

"MY BROTHERS"

As Dr. Peter began his address before the 28th St. YMCA, Y'Men's Club, of which William Jones of the Urban League is president, he smiled warmly and said "My Brothers, and I use this term because as I face you I feel that way more than I have felt before any other American represent the color and shades of my own club members in Babgalore." Which gave us the impression that he too, has unwittingly learned to doubt the sincerity of white faces due to the long history of British tenure in his country. Surely are we his brothers. Have we not stood before audiences of white faces to speak with the feeling in our hearts that there were not many "Brothers" in their midst; although we proceeded under the assumption there were some and were so treated during and after the speech was delivered? But have we not addressed audiences of deeper hues with no such feeling even to find we were not too certain at the end that we were all brothers in our way of thinking?

"AS FRIENDS, NOT RULERS"

When asked as to his attitude towards the British he declared that he liked the British as people and as friends but not as rulers. We know just what he means. Gandhi is his patron saint. Nehru is the champion of his cause because he is making great personal sacrifices in his devotion to India's struggle for freedom and a place in the sun. But Jinnah, the Moslem leader, to Dr. Peter, is a selfish frustrated person at the head of a religious setup whose members believe they will be given special credit in their heaven for killing their enemies, whom the Hindu people appear especially to be. Dr. Peter is one of the ten million Christians of India.

Indian Problems

Besides the British domination of the country, and the serious religious conflicts and the wealthy Indian princes whom Dr. Peter said are not quite as wealthy now as before the war—the Indian people suffer some real problems, which the visitor thought might be better handled were the country free to rule itself. In the first place an Indian has only 100 square feet of the needed 3000 square feet of air in which to live. In Bombay each man has 27.58 sq. ft., and in Shalapus only 24.03 of living room. There was in 1941 only one house for every 5.1 people. "God made the world, man made the city, and the devil made the slums" quoted Dr. Peter. One of the most striking ways in which the visitor revealed the unhealthy conditions of India was by the following table:

Years Expected to Live

	Men	Women
Australia	63.48	67.14
USA	60.60	64.30
United Kingdom	60.18	64.10
Germany	59.86	62.81
Japan	46.91	49.63
INDIA	26.91	26.51

In the United States there are 62 infant deaths per 1000 while in India there are 167 per 1000, but at that there are 400 million people in that country, and they are 90 per cent agriculturists. To what extent are these deaths due to British policy?

YMCA AT WORK

The claim of many that the YMCA is one of the most effective missionary movements in the world is well established in such countries as India. Dr. Peter stated that most of the members of his YMCA are non-Christians. As in America cities the Y in India, China, Japan, Poland, is interested in the youth, community health, recreation and social service as well as the Christian religion. To the "Y" a boy is important because he is a boy. It's primary mission in community life is the welfare of youth—even in India. Is not Dr. Peter a living example of this? We are pleased to note that one of our young men was a delegate to the International Y'Men's Conference at Bradford, Penna. We are pleased that our YMCA brought Dr. Peter to the Eastside. We are pleased that in our 28th St. YMCA Dr. Peter found himself at home and found us interested in the things that brought him so many miles to America. Have you ever thought of your YMCA membership card as an evidence of your fellowship in service to the youth of the world?

Why UNAVA Was Born

By GEORGE B. MURPHY, JR. National Adjutant UNAVA

Our country has never before faced as critical a situation as it faces today. The administrative apparatus of government is in the hands of white supremacists.

Spearheading its drive of terror with a lynch wave, reactionary forces are striking desperately at the democratic rights and standards of living of the American people.

The most determined, relentless, persistent and systematic efforts are necessary to defend democracy. Unless the rights of Negroes are preserved and advanced the rights of all are lost.

The Negro veteran returned from the war to find that the security and peace for which he fought are not to be extended to him at home without a struggle. Within the ranks of his people he has become the major target of American reaction. That is logical. He is the most militant.

The Negro veteran is terribly alarmed. He knows that security and peace, not only for himself but for all veterans, can be won only if the progressive elements of America wipe out lynching, terror and Jim-crowism.

He knows that nothing short of a day-to-day struggle in which Negro and white veterans, working in conjunction with organized labor, and all other progressive forces regardless of race, creed, color or political views, can achieve the justice and freedom on which peace and security must rest.

He knows that unless the Negro veteran achieves freedom and justice there can be no achievement of interracial harmony. He is not struggling for interracial harmony as an end in itself. It is not something apart from the realities of life in America. He is struggling for justice and freedom, without which there can be no interracial harmony. But there can be no justice and freedom for the Negro veteran except he engage in a day-to-day struggle.

His is a special fight. His struggle is but one of the many fronts of the battle for democracy, but to him it is the main fight. He has to learn where he can turn for allies in this struggle. He is aware of the fact that he cannot achieve justice unless he fights for justice for all veterans. Yet he cannot ask all veterans to give his special cause priority.

He has therefore had to turn his eyes toward a veterans organization that will put his basic fight to win the freedoms yet to be won, first on the order of the day, not for one day but every day.

That is why the United Negro and Allied Veterans of America was born. No other veterans' organization in America today is placing or can place, the struggle of the Negro veteran for justice—a struggle that is basic in the fight of all veterans to achieve full democracy—as its main fight.

This means that the Negro veteran understands that no other veterans' organization can give him the full measure of help now needed to win his full rights if, in its veterans program, the struggle for the Negro veteran is subordinated to the over-all program of the organization. This is no criticism of the program or tactics of other progressive veterans organizations.

Because the United Negro and Allied Veterans of America has a program of consistent struggle for the rights of Negro veterans as its chief aim, it can meet the need of the Negro veteran in a way that no other veterans organization can. At the same time it is just this fight that gives greater vitality to the programs of other militant vets organizations. That is its great virtue.

That is why the very existence of the UNAVA constitutes a challenge and a boon to every veterans organization in the country today. The existence of UNAVA grows out of the historical necessity to wage a full-scale militant struggle for the rights of Negro veterans at a time in our nation's history when the reactionary forces in America are attempting to utilize the Negro veteran in particular and the Negro people in general as a human testing ground on which to sharpen their weapons in preparation for conducting a broader campaign to wipe out labor's gains, and finally to destroy every vestige of democracy for the whole American people. The struggle for Negro rights is a prelude to the struggle to save the nation.

UNAVA is showing the Negro veteran as no other vets organization could, that if he is to achieve full justice and freedom for himself, he must fight for full justice for labor, for white veterans, for the foreign-born, for women veterans. Only within this framework of struggle can he win the democratic freedoms for himself—freedoms for which he fought in the war against fascism.

UNAVA points to the basic features of the programs of other veterans' organizations and reveals to the Negro veterans of whatever race or creed. That is why UNAVA fights for the rights of women veterans. That is why UNAVA is organizing in the South, and wining white southern veterans to its side.

That is why UNAVA represents to the thousands of unorganized Negro veterans in the South an answer to their desires for organized political action.

That is why UNAVA has within its ranks Negro and white veterans, men and women, members of the merchant marine, representatives of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Veterans Committee, etc.

UNAVA is not competing for memberships with other veterans organizations. If any other veterans organization were carrying forward the struggle for the rights of the Negro veteran in this day-to-day fashion, UNAVA would not need to be in existence at all.

Through the program of UNAVA the Negro veteran and his allies can give greater tempo to the struggle for unity with progressive white men and women, a unity that must be developed and strengthened if we are to win the battle against budding fascism in America that would destroy our will and determination to stop our government's march toward World War III.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor: Last week you had an article in the paper about the people who objected to the establishment of a pool hall at 55th and Central, saying it was a residential district and that type of business would be a nuisance. I wonder if they ever stop to think that the Zombi Cafe that is located in the same block, open from 11:00 p.m. to 6:00 a.m. is a nuisance. It caters mostly to white people. And they are going and coming from the place all hours of the night, using all kinds of language. Their entertainment is so loud you can hear every note played, and every word sung.

Wouldn't you call that a public nuisance? At least the pool hall closes at reasonable hours. But the Zombi is going full swing. Why don't the people do something about that?

A resident of 55th St. and Central.

Mrs. Charlotta Bass
National Negro Congress
4073 S. Central Avenue
Los Angeles, California

Dear Friends:

Greetings and Best Wishes! We are heartily in support of your program, realizing that discrimination against minority groups may well be the first step toward fascism.

We wish to thank you for your fine support of our current campaign against the discriminatory policy of Bimini Baths. All of the people, working together, can defeat discrimination wherever and whenever we find it. May we ask you for your continued support on our picket lines, both Saturday and Sunday, and for your help in a telephone campaign directed at Bimini Baths, protesting their policy. The telephone number at Bimini is EX. 1394. Let them know how you feel about this issue.

Thank you again for your fine help in the past. We have every confidence in the successful future of the National Negro Congress in its fight for equal rights for all people.

Sincerely,
The Interracial Friendship Committee

SELF-ANALYSIS

It is pleasing to human vanity to think otherwise, but our actions are but seeds of our innermost thoughts, and joy and suffering its fruits. Thus we gather in the sweet or bitter fruitage of our own harvest.

We might imagine that our thinking and hidden desires can be kept a secret from our friends and neighbors, but this is not so, as our thoughts crystallize into habit and action.

They who have no lofty aims and ideals in life, fall easy prey to petty worries and fears which lead to unhappiness and failure.

Mrs. E. L. R.—Dear Prof. Herman: I don't have to tell you I enjoy your column in the California EAGLE, because you have heard from me several times. I do believe that a great gift has been endowed upon you, so that you can help others find the light and get a better understanding of life and its many problems. Again I want to say May God Bless You and help you to keep up your good work.

M. E. U.—Will I be successful in getting the place I wish to live in?

Ans.—Probing into the matter I find that you will be fortunate in securing this place you have in mind. But you will have to wait until the people find another place to move before you can occupy the house.

B. A. S.—Will I ever go to college?

Ans.—It appears to me that you will be able to attend college if that is your desire. But just like everything else that is worthwhile, it requires some sacrificing and plenty of time must be spent studying, rather than in shows, etc., as you have been doing. If you have the will, there is always a way.

Mrs. O. D.—Will my luck change?

Ans.—Your Lucky Stars and Guiding Planet indicate your luck showing a marked improvement within the next month. I would be glad to aid you further, if you will write in for a private reply.

Mrs. R. J.—Dear Sir: I read your column every week and find it very helpful. Please help me with this problem. Why do I worry so much?

Ans.—Concentrating upon your problem I find that you are naturally a nervous person and small things have a tendency to upset you. I recommend your consulting a good physician, and resting as much as possible.

Mrs. L. H.—Will we live together again?

Ans.—After giving your question careful thought I find that your husband left you without even giving you a chance to have a talk or explain. You both still care a great deal for each other and there is a possibility of your having a reconciliation. But, you both must learn to keep your business to yourselves, and not discuss it with your families and friends. I am sure you will find that this has been your trouble.

M. L. B.—I am in love with a soldier, but I haven't heard from him for quite a while; does he still love me?
